CATHERSTONE-LEWSTON, Dorset, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Whitchurch Canonieorum, union and division of Bridport, on the east of the river Char: 161 miles from London (coach road 137), 3 from Lyme-Regis, 6 from Axminster.---Sou. West. Rail. through Southampton to Dorchester, thence 20 miles: from Derby, through Rugby, Oxford, Reading, and Southampton, to Dorchester, &c., 250 miles.---Money orders issued at Lyme-Regis: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 9 a.m.: post closes 4 p.m.---The living (the Virgin Mary), a disch<sup>d</sup>. rectory, formerly in the archd<sup>y</sup>. of Dorset, and diocese of Bristol, now in the diocese of Sarum, is valued at £2. 16s. 10½d.: pres. net income, £67: patron, Executors of J. Ross, Esq.: pres. incumbent, Andrew Tucker, 1818: contains 90 acres: 4 houses: pop<sup>n</sup>. in 1841, 36: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £1,153: poor rates in 1837, £8.

CATMERE, Berks, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Compton, union of Wantage: 60 miles from London (coach road 52), 7 from Newbury, 7 from Wantage.---Gt. West. Rail. to Newbury, thence 7 miles: from Derby, through Rugby, Oxford, and Reading, to Newbury, &c., 147 miles.---Money orders issued at Newbury: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 9½ a.m.: post closes 7½ p.m.---The living, a rectory, formerly in the archd<sup>y</sup>. of Berks, and diocese of Salisbury, now in the diocese of Oxford, is valued at £5. 5s. 7½d.: pres. net income, £200: patron, C. Eyre, Esq.: pres. incumbent, Thomas Mitchell, 1848: contains 680 acres: 13 houses: pop<sup>n</sup>. in 1841, 96.

CATON, LANCASTER, a chapelry in the parish of Lancaster, on the river Lune---(which see for access, &c.): 244 miles from London, 4 from Lancaster, 4 from Hornby.---Money orders issued at Lancaster: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 8½ a.m.: post closes 5 p.m.---A school here has a small endowment.---The living is a perpetual curacy in the diocese of Manchester: pres. net income, £100: patron, Vicar of Lancaster: pres. incumbent, Edward Thurtell: contains 8,070 acres: 205 houses: pop<sup>n</sup>. in 1841, 1,310: probable pop<sup>n</sup>. in 1849, 1,507: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £5,293: poor rates in 1837, £550.

CATSFIELD, SUSSEX, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Minfield, rape of Hastings, union of Battle: 78 miles from London (coach road 58), 3 from Battle, 8 from Hailsham.---Brighton and South Coast Rail. to Hastings, thence 3 miles: from Derby, through London, &c., 210 miles.---Money orders issued at Battle: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 8 a.m.: post closes 8 p.m.---The living (St. Lawrence), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup>. of Lewes, and diocese of Chichester, is valued at £7. 9s. 4½d.: pres. net income, £311: patron, Earl of Ashburnham: pres. incumbent, B. Hayley, 1844: contains 2,430 acres: 84 houses: pop<sup>n</sup>. in 1841, 589: probable pop<sup>n</sup>. in 1849, 677: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £1,778: poor rates in 1837, £319.---N., Battle Abbey, the seat of Sir Godfrey Webster---(for which see BATTLE.)

CATTAL, WEST RIDING, YORK, a township in the parish of Hunsingore, on the river Nidd---(which see for access, &c.): 197 miles from London, 4 from Tadcaster, 7 from Knaresborough.---Money orders issued at Tadcaster: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 8½ a.m.: post closes 5 p.m.---Contains 950 acres: 40 houses: pop<sup>n</sup>. in 1841, 193: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £1,299: poor rates in 1837, £62.

CATTERAIL, LANCASTER, a township in the parish of Garstang, situated at the confluence of the West Calder with the river Wyse---(which see for access, &c.): 225 miles from London, 2 from Garstang, 9 from Preston.---Money orders issued at Garstang: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 8 a.m.: post closes 5½ p.m.---The Lancaster Canal runs by the village.---Contains 1,490 acres: 96 houses: pop<sup>n</sup>. in 1841, 1,102: probable pop<sup>n</sup>. in 1849, 1,267: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £2,615: poor rates in 1837, £298.

CATTERHAM, SURREY, a parish in the upper division of the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Tandridge, union of Godstone: 19 miles from London (coach road 16), 5 from Reigate, 6 from Westerham.---Brighton and South Coast Rail. to Stoats West, thence 4 miles: from Derby, through London, &c., 151 miles.---Money orders issued at Reigate: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 4 times each way daily.---The living (St. Lawrence), a disch<sup>d</sup>. rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup>. of Surrey, and diocese of Winchester, is valued at £8. 0s. 1½d.: pres. net income, £255: patron, Rev. J. Legrew: pres. incumbent, James Legrew, 1831: contains 2,610 acres: 78 houses: pop<sup>n</sup>. in 1841, 477: probable pop<sup>n</sup>. in 1849, 548: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £1,868: poor rates in 1837, £262.

CATTERICK, NORTH RIDING, YORK, a parish, partly in the wapentakes of Hang West, Hang East, and East Gilling, union of Richmond, on the river Swale: it includes the townships of East and West Appleton, Brough, Catterick, Colbourne, Killerby, and Tunstall, in the wapentake of Hang East; Bolton-upon-Swale, Ellerton-upon-Swale, Kiplin, Scorton, Uckerby, and Whitwell, in the wapentake of Gilling East; Hipswell, part of Scotton, and Hudswell, in the wapentake of Gilling West: 266 miles from London (coach road 232), 5 from Richmond, 10 from Bedale.---Nor. West. Rail. through Rugby, Derby, and York, to Catterick station: from Derby, through York, &c., 134 miles.---Money orders issued here: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 9 a.m.: post closes 4.10 p.m. and 6 p.m.---The church, built in the reign of Henry V., is a large structure. Besides this, there are three other churches and a chapel of ease in the parish, with various townships annexed to them.---The living (St. Anne), a vicarage in the diocese of Ripon, is valued at £25. 2s. 1d.: pres. net income, £678: patron, the Crown: pres. incumbent, J. Croft, 1840: contains 21,180 acres: 606 houses: pop<sup>n</sup>. in 1841, 2,965: probable pop<sup>n</sup>. in 1849, 3,409: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £28,010: poor rates in 1837, £1,195.---Kiplin Hall is the seat of the Earl of Tyrconnel, whose secondary titles are Viscount Carlingford and Baron Carpenter, in the peerage of Ireland. His lordship is a G.C.H., and succeeded to the title and estates on the death of his brother in 1812. His lordship derives his immediate descent from William Carpenter, Esq. of Homme, who was of the lineage of a very ancient Herefordshire family, and died in the year 1520. From that gentleman was descended the celebrated general, George Lord Carpenter, who, being a younger son, commenced his career early as the page of the Earl of Montague, when on his embassy to the court of France in 1671. On returning the next year, he rode as a private gentleman in the third troop of guards, which was then considered an honourable introduction to military life. From that position Mr. Carpenter was appointed quarter-master to the Earl of Peterborough's regiment of horse, the lieutenant-colonelcy of which he afterwards obtained. In 1693, Colonel Carpenter married Alice, daughter of Viscount Charlemont, and with part of her dowry bought the king's own regiment of dragoons, the command of which he retained until his decease, distinguishing himself at its head at the battle of Almanza, in 1707, at Almenara, in 1710, and on several other occasions. In 1709, he attained the rank of lieutenant-general, and in 1715, forced the rebels, under the Earl of Derwentwater, to surrender at discretion, at Preston, putting an end to the inroad of the old Pretender, and securing the throne of Britain for the present royal family. In 1716, General Carpenter was appointed governor of Minorca, and shortly afterwards commander-in-chief of all the forces in Scotland, and created Baron Carpenter. His grandson, George, the third baron, was elevated to the dignities of Viscount Carlingford, and Earl of Tyrconnel, and of that nobleman the present noble earl is the nephew.—Brough Hall is the seat of Sir William Lawson, Bart., who assumed the name when he inherited the estates of his uncle, the late Sir Henry Lawson, Bart. Sir William derives his descent from James Lawson, Esq. of Cramlington, who was an eminent merchant at Newcastle, in the time of Henry VIII., and whose ancestors had for many generations been seated at Burwell and Alindell, in Northumberland. The grandson of that gentleman, Sir Ralph Lawson, was knighted by James I., and married Elizabeth, sole heiress of Roger Brough, Esq. of Brough Hall, through whom he inherited that property. One of the grandsons of Sir Ralph was killed on the side of Charles I. at the battle of Melton-Mowbray, and another, John Lawson, Esq., a captain of horse, on the side of the king, inherited Brough Hall, but did not long enjoy the possession of it, as the estate was sequestrated, and, in 1653, sold by orders of the parliament, and Captain Lawson was himself condemned to banishment. In consideration of his services and sufferings, Charles II. created him a baronet in 1665. Sir John married Catherine, sister of Charles, first Earl of Carlisle, and from them the present baronet is a lineal descendant.—Oran is the residence of the Hon. J. C. Dundas.

CATTERICK, NORTH RIDING, YORK, a township in that part of the parish of Catterick, which is situated in the wapentake of Hang East—(which see for access, &c.)—At a short distance there is a bridge over the river Swale, and a course on which races are run in Easter week.—Contains 1,570 acres: 142 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 600: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 690: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £5,468: poor rates in 1837, £159.

CATTERLIN, CUMBERLAND, a township in the parish of Newton—(which see for access, &c.): 290 miles from London, 3 from Penrith, 14 from Carlisle.—Money orders issued at Penrith: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 10 a.m.: post closes 3 p.m.—The Petterill river flows through this parish.—Contains 22 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 147: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £1,038: poor rates in 1837, £29.

CATTERTON, YORK, a township in the parish of Tadcaster, and lower division of the ainstey of the city of Ycrk—(which see for access, &c.): 193 miles from London, 3 from Tadcaster, 15 from Pontefract.—Money orders issued at Tadcaster: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8½ a.m.: post closes 5 p.m.—Contains 770 acres: 12 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 58: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £948: poor rates in 1837, £50.

CATTORPE. See CALTHORPE.

CATTISTOCK, DORSET, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Cerne, Totcombe, and Modbury, union of Cerne, Bridport division of the county, on the river Frome: 151 miles from London (coach road 125), 10 from Dorchester, 8 from Beaminster.—Sou. West. Rail. through Southampton to Dorchester, thence 10 miles: from Derby, through Rugby, Oxford, Reading, and Southampton, to Dorchester, &c., 240 miles.—Money orders issued at Dorchester: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 10½ a.m.: post closes 6 p.m.—The living (St. Peter and St. Paul), a rectory, formerly in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Dorset, and diocese of Bristol, now in the diocese of Sarum, is valued at £13. 13s. 9d.: pres. net income, £510: patron, Trustees of Mr. Still: pres. incumbent, Robert Bradley, 1805: contains 2,620 acres: 88 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 549: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 631: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £3,955: poor rates in 1837, £221.—N., Chalmington House is the seat of John Stein, Esq.

CATTO. See LANDMOTH WITH CATTO.

CATTON, DERBY, a township and chapelry in the parish of Croxall, on the eastern bank of the river Trent—(which see for access, &c.): 126 miles from London, 6 from Burton-on-Trent, 8 from Lichfield.—Money orders issued at Burton-on-Trent: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9½ a.m.: post closes 7 p.m.—The living is a curacy to the vicarage of Croxall: contains 6 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 47: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £2,407.

CATTON, NORFOLK, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Taverham, union of St. Faith, east and south of the river Wensum: 128 miles from London (coach road 112), 3 from Norwich, 11 from Aylesham.—Nor. and East. Co<sup>a</sup> Rail. to Norwich, thence 3 miles: from Derby, through Syston and Peterborough to Norwich, &c., 169 miles.—Money orders issued at Norwich: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 5½ p.m.—The living (St. Margaret), a vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Norwich, is valued at £4. 3s. 9d.: pres. net income, £160: patron, Dean and Chapter of Norwich: pres. incumbent, R. Hart, 1836: contains 906 acres: 121 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 650: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 747: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £2,149: poor rates in 1837, £522.—The gentlemen's seats in the parish are numerous.—Cotton Lodge, occupied by George Marsc, Esq., stands in a beautiful and well-wooded park.—Anston House, with its beautiful grounds, is occupied by Mrs. Chitty, widow of Colonel Chitty. The other mansions are those of Robert Chamberlin, Esq.; of O. T. Springfield, Esq. (a beautiful domain); of C. Heath, Esq., J. Wayte, Esq., E. S. Long, Esq., Mrs. Cubitt, Mrs. Master, Rear-Admiral Hawtayne, Mrs. Thomlinson, H. Cooke, Esq., and R. G. P. Minty, Esq. There are also Catton Grove and Catton Lodge, now unoccupied.

CATTON, NORTH RIDING, YORK, a township in the parish of Topcliffe, on the eastern bank of the river Swale—(which see for access, &c.): 229 miles from London, 9 from Thirsk, 4 from Allerton. Money orders issued at Thirsk: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 10½ a.m.: post closes 3 p.m.—Contains 770 acres: 23 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 136: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,236: poor rates in 1837, £48.

CATTON (HIGH), EAST RIDING, YORK, a township in the parish of Low Catton: 206 miles from London, 6 from York, 10 from New Malton—(for access, see following article.) Money orders issued at York: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 9½ a.m.: post closes 4½ p.m.—Contains 1,640 acres: 42 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 185: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,206: poor rates in 1837, £72.

CATTON (LOW), EAST RIDING, YORK, a parish in the Wilton-Beacon division of the wapentake of Harthill, union of Pecklington, on the eastern bank of the river Derwent: it includes the townships of Catton High and Low, Kexby, Stamfordbridge East and West, with Scoreby: 229 miles from London (coach road 205), 8 from York, 13 from New Malton.—Nor. West. Rail. through Rugby, Derby, and York, to Low Catton: from Derby, through York, &c., 97 miles.—Money orders issued at York: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 9½ a.m.: post closes 4½ p.m.—The living (All Saints), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> of the east riding and diocese of York, is valued at £21. 12s. 8½d.: pres. net income, £410: patron, Colonel Wyndham: pres. incumbent, Hon. Fitzroy Stanhope, 1814: contains 8,150 acres: 177 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,078: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,239: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £7,048: poor rates in 1837, £241.—Burtonfield, near Stamford Bridge, is the seat of Charles Albert Darley, Esq.

CATTON, EAST RIDING, YORK, a township in the above parish—(which see for access, &c.)—Contains 2,140 acres: 28 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 204: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,012: poor rates in 1837, £62.

CATTON (NEW), NORWICH, a hamlet in the parish of St. Clement's—(which see for access, &c.)—Pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 2,232: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 2,567.

CATWICK, EAST RIDING, YORK, a parish in the north division of the wapentake of Holderness, union of Skirlaugh: 225 miles from London (coach road 186), 3 from Beverley, 6 from Hornsea.—Nor. and East. Co<sup>r</sup>. Rail. through Peterborough and Hull to Catwick station: from Derby, through Normanton, Hull, &c., 128 miles.—Money orders issued at Beverley: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 10½ a.m.: post closes 2 p.m.—The living (St. Michael), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> of the east riding and diocese of York, is valued at £10. 5s.: pres. net income, £149: patron, Lord Chancellor:

VOL. I.

pres. incumbent, Thomas George Kidd: contains 1,650 acres: 39 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 191: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £3,344: poor rates in 1837, £178.

CATWORTH (GREAT), HUNTINGDON, a parish and township in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Leightonstone, union of St. Neot's, in the above county, but locally situated in, and now annexed to Northamptonshire: 95 miles from London (coach road 70), 4 from Kimbolton, 10 from Huntingdon.—Nor. West. Rail. through Northampton to Thrapston, thence 6 miles: from Derby, through Rugby and Northampton to Thrapstone, &c., 105 miles.—Money orders issued at Kimbolton: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 9 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m.—The living (St. Leonard), a rectory, formerly in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Huntingdon and diocese of Lincoln, now in the diocese of Ely, is valued at £17. 16s. 10½d.: pres. net income, £337: patron, Brazenose College, Oxford: pres. incumbent, R. Latham, 1835: contains 2,090 acres: 81 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 637: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 732: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £2,663: poor rates in 1837, £315.

CAUDERY. See RUDYARD and CAUDERY.

CAULDON, STAFFORD, a parish in the north division of the hun<sup>d</sup> of Totmonslow, union of Cheadle: 158 miles from London (coach road 145), 6 from Ashborne, 7 from Leek.—Nor. West. Rail. through Rugby, Leicester, and Burton, to Uttoxeter, thence 10 miles: from Derby, through Burton, &c., 36 miles.—Money orders issued at Ashborne: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 10 a.m.: post closes 5 p.m.—The living (St. Mary), a perpetual curacy in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Stafford, and diocese of Lichfield and Coventry, is valued at £8. 19s. 8d.: pres. net income, £57: patron, Mrs. J. Wilmot: pres. incumbent, Richard Ward, 1829: contains 1,570 acres: 68 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 326: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 375: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,566: poor rates in 1837, £163.

CAULDWELL, DERBY, a hamlet in the parish of Stapenhill—(which see for access, &c.): 121 miles from London, 4 from Burton-on-Trent, 10 from Lichfield.—Money orders issued at Burton-on-Trent: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 9 a.m.: post closes 7½ p.m.—Contains 31 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 153: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £2,188: poor rates in 1837, £87.

CAULK, DERBY, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Repton and Gresley, union of Ashby-de-la-Zouch—(for access, see Ashby-de-la-Zouch): 120 miles from London, 8 from Derby, 4 from Ashby.—Money orders issued at Derby: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 10 a.m.: post closes 7½ p.m.—The living (St. Giles), a perpetual curacy in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Derby, and diocese of Lichfield and Coventry: pres. net income, £34: patron, Sir George Crewe, Bart.: pres. incumbent, R. Cox, 1845: contains 880 acres: 9 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 55: poor rates in 1837, £793.

CAUNDLE-BISHOP AND CAUNDLE-WAKE, DORSET, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> and union of Sherborne: 157 miles from London (coach road 114), 4 from Sherborne, 10 from Yeovil.—Sou. West. Rail. through Southampton to Dorchester, thence 16 miles: from Derby, through Rugby, Oxford, Reading, and Southampton, to Dorchester, &c., 246 miles.—Money orders issued at Sherborne: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 8½ a.m.: post closes 5 p.m.—The living, a rectory, formerly in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Dorset, diocese of Bristol, now in the diocese of Salisbury, is valued at £11. 10s.: pres. net income, £226: patron, Earl Digby: pres. incumbent, Ralph Lyon, 1841: contains 2,050 acres: 85 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 365: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 419: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £958: poor rates in 1837, £161.

4 c

CAUNDLE-MARSH, Dorset, a parish in the hund<sup>d</sup> and union of Sherborne: 115 miles from London. (For access and postal arrangements, see above.) The living (St. Peter and St. Paul), a rectory in the diocese of Sarum, is valued at £5. 16s. 3d.: pres. net income, £143: patron, Sir H. H. Hoare, Bart.: pres. incumbent, R. Messiter, 1828: contains 770 acres: 13 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 77: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,015: poor rates in 1837, £51.

CAUNDLE-PURSE, Dorset, a parish in the hund<sup>d</sup> and union of Sherborne, Sherborne division of the county: 115 miles from London. (For access and postal arrangements, see above.) The living (St. Peter), a rectory, formerly in the archd<sup>r</sup> of Dorset, diocese of Bristol, now in the diocese of Salisbury, is valued at £7. 8s. 8d.: pres. net income, £160: patron, Sir H. H. Hoare, Bart.: pres. incumbent, R. Messiter, 1829: contains 1,610 acres: 30 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 183: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,493: poor rates in 1837, £117.

CAUNDLE-STOURTON, Dorset, a parish in the hund<sup>d</sup> of Brounshall, union and division of Sturminster: 114 miles from London. (For access and postal arrangements, see above.) The living is a perpetual curacy, formerly in the archd<sup>r</sup> of Dorset, diocese of Bristol, now in the diocese of Salisbury, not in charge: pres. net income, £50: patron, Sir H. H. Hoare, Bart.: pres. incumbent, R. Messiter, 1829: contains 2,680 acres: 69 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 394: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 420: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,973: poor rates in 1837, £135.

CAUNDLE-WAKE. See CAUNDLE-BISHOP AND CAUNDLE-WAKE.

CAUNTON, NOTTINGHAM, a parish in the northern division of the wapentake of Thurgarton, union of Southwell: 154 miles from London (coach road 135), 6 from Newark, 13 from Southwell. Nor. West. Rail. through Rugby and Nottingham to Newark, thence 6 miles: from Derby, through Nottingham, &c., 49 miles. Money orders issued at Newark: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8½ a.m.: post closes 5½ p.m. The living (St. Andrew), a disch<sup>d</sup> vicarage with Bisthorpe, in the diocese of Lincoln, is valued at £4. 2s. 1d.: pres. net income, £171: patron, Bishop of Ripon: pres. incumbent, C. Fletcher, 1838: contains 3,130 acres: 106 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 539: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 620: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £4,473: poor rates in 1837, £259.

CAUSEY-PARK, NORTHUMBERLAND, a township in the parish of Hebburn—(which see for access, &c.): 295 miles from London, 6 from Morpeth, 11 from Alnwick. Money orders issued at Morpeth: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 12½ p.m.: post closes 1 p.m. A branch of the river Coquet flows near it. Contains 18 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 116: poor rates in 1837, £68.

CAVE (NORTH), EAST RIDING, YORK, a parish in the Hunsley-Beacon division of the wapentake of Harthill, union of Howden, excepting South

Cliff, which is in the union of Pocklington, in the vicinity of Market-Weighton Canal: it includes the townships of North Cave, South Cliff, and Drewton and Everthorp: 190 miles from London (coach road 188), 6 from Market-Weighton. Great Northern Rail. through Peterborough to Hull, thence 14 miles: from Derby, through Normanton to Brough station, 101 miles, thence 6 miles. Money orders issued at Howden: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 4 p.m. There are several dissenters' chapels in the parish; and there is a branch of the Yorkshire District Bank, always open. The living (All Saints), a disch<sup>d</sup> vicarage, with the chapelry of South Cliff, in the archd<sup>r</sup> of the east riding and diocese of York, is valued at £10. 7s. 6d.: pres. net income, £247: patrons, H. Burton, Esq., and Sarah Burton: pres. incumbent, John Jarratt, 1830: contains 6,360 acres: 238 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,217: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, same: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £6,295: poor rates in 1837, £517. Holkham Hall is the seat of Henry Burton, Esq.

CAVE (NORTH), EAST RIDING, YORK, a township in the above parish. (For access and postal arrangements, see above.) Contains 3,270 acres: 188 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 859: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 987: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £6,532: poor rates in 1837, £457.

CAVE (SOUTH), EAST RIDING, YORK, an extensive parish, partly within the liberty of St. Peter of York, and partly in the Hunsley-Beacon division of the wapentake of Harthill: it includes the townships of Bromfleet, South Cave, and Faxfleet: 218 miles from London (coach road 193), 10 from Market-Weighton, 10 from Hull. Nor. and East. Co<sup>t</sup> Rail. through Peterborough to Hull, thence 10 miles: from Derby, through Normanton to Hull, &c., 121 miles. Money orders issued at Howden: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 11½ a.m.: post closes 2½ p.m. There are several dissenting chapels here. John Washington, grandfather of the celebrated President and General Washington, was for some time a landowner here, whence he emigrated to America in 1657. The living (All Saints), a disch<sup>d</sup> vicarage in the jurisdiction of the peculiar court of South Cave and Faxfleet, is valued at £8: pres. net income, £160: patron, H. G. Barnard, Esq.: pres. incumbent, E. W. Stillingfleet, 1844: contains 7,480 acres: 246 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,852: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 2,129: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £10,228: poor rates in 1837, £473. White Hart Inn.

CAVE (SOUTH), EAST RIDING, YORK, a small market and post town in the above parish. (For access and postal arrangements, see above.) Petty sessions for the wapentake of Howdenshire are held here. Contains 4,630 acres: 173 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,288: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,481: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £6,268: poor rates in 1837, £293. Market day, Monday. Fairs: Oct. 21, Trinity Monday, for cattle. Fox and Coney Inn.

CAVENDISH, SUFFOLK, a parish in the hund<sup>d</sup> of Babergh, union of Sudbury, bounded on the south by the river Stour: 66 miles from London (coach road 57), 2 from Clare, 7 from Lavenham. Nor. and East. Co<sup>t</sup> Rail. to Chesterford, thence 18 miles: from Derby, through Syston, Peterborough, and Cambridge, to Chesterford, &c., 184 miles. Money orders issued at Clare: London letters delivered 9 a.m.: post closes 4 p.m. This place is supposed to give its name to the ducal family of Cavendish, who settled here very early, being an offshoot of the Gernons of Essex and Norfolk. The living (the Virgin Mary), a rectory, formerly in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Sudbury, and diocese of Norwich, now in the diocese of Ely, is valued at £26: pres. net income, £547: patron, Jesus College, Cambridge: pres. incumbent, Thomas Castley, 1808: contains 3,450 acres: 270 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,353: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,555: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £4,406: poor rates in 1837, £768. Fair, June 11, for cattle.

CAVENHAM, SUFFOLK, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Lackford, union of Mildenhall: 76 miles from London (coach road 74), 4 from Mildenhall, 10 from Newmarket. Nor. and East. Co<sup>r</sup>. Rail. to Newmarket, thence 10 miles: from Derby, through Syston and Peterborough to Newmarket, &c., 156 miles. Money orders issued at Mildenhall: London letters delivered 8 a.m.: post closes 7 p.m. The river Lack is navigable on the north of this parish, where it is crossed by Temple Bridge. The living (St. Andrew), a disch<sup>d</sup> vicarage, formerly in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Sudbury, and diocese of Norwich, now in the diocese of Ely, is valued at £5. 5s. 10d.: pres. net income, £113: patron, Lord Chancellor: pres. incumbent, T. W. Carwardine, 1846: contains 2,630 acres: 51 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 277: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £1,178: poor rates in 1837, £212. Cavenham Hall, the seat of Henry Spencer Waddington, Esq., is a very handsome mansion, placed in a pleasing park.

CAVERSFIELD, OXFORD, a parish, partly in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Ploughley, union of Bicester, but chiefly in the hun<sup>d</sup> and county of Buckingham: it includes part of Market-end township, the returns of which are given with Bicester: 74 miles from London (coach road 55), 2 from Bicester, 9 from Buckingham. Gt. West. Rail. to Oxford, thence 11 miles: from Derby, through Rugby and Banbury to Oxford, &c., 106 miles. Money orders issued at Bicester: London letters delivered 8 a.m.: post closes 7 p.m. The living (St. Lawrence), a vicarage in the diocese of Oxford, is valued at £6: pres. net income, £69: patron, Trustees of the late J. Bullock, Esq.: pres. incumbent, C. Marsham, 1812: contains 1,200 acres: 22 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 178: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £1,477: poor rates in 1837, £191.

CAVERSHAM, OXFORD, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Binfield, union of Henley: 36 miles from London (coach road 40), 1 from Reading, 12 from Wallingford. Gt. West. Rail. to Reading, thence 1 mile: from Derby, through Rugby and Oxford to Reading, &c., 123 miles. Money orders issued at Reading: London letters delivered 7½ a.m.: post closes 9½ p.m. This place gives the title of Viscount to the Earl of Cadogan. The living (St. Peter) is a perpetual curacy in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Oxford, not in charge: pres. net income, £116: patron, Christ Church, Oxford: pres. incumbent, Jos. Bennett, 1843: contains 5,100 acres: 260 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,642: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,888: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £6,919: poor rates in 1837, £504.

CAVERSWALL, STAFFORD, a parish and township in the north division of the hun<sup>d</sup> of Totmonslow, union of Cheadle: it includes the township of Weston-Coyney and Hulme: 165 miles from London (coach road 146), 7 from Newcastle, 3 from Cheadle. Nor. West. Rail. through Rugby, Leicester, and Burton, to Draycote station, thence 7 miles: from Derby, through Burton, &c., 43 miles. Money orders issued at Newcastle-under-Lyne: London letters delivered 9 a.m.: post closes 6½ p.m. A branch of the river Trent flows through this parish. The living (St. Peter), a disch<sup>d</sup> vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Stafford, and diocese of Lichfield and Coventry, is valued at £7. 5s. 3d.: pres. net income, £217: patron, T. H. Parker, Esq.: pres. incumbent, Alex. Goode, 1829: contains 5,380 acres: 202 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,505: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,731: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £2,479: poor rates in 1837, £191.

CAVILL. See PORTINGTON.

CAWKWELD, LINCOLN, a parish in the north division of the wapentake of Gartree, parts of Lindsey, union of Horncastle: 179 miles from London (coach road 142), 6 from Horncastle, 7 from Louth. Nor. and East. Co<sup>r</sup>. Rail. through Peterborough to Louth, thence 7 miles: from Derby, through Lincoln and Boston to Louth, &c., 124 miles. Money orders issued at Horncastle: London letters delivered 10½ a.m.: post closes 2½ p.m. The living (St. Peter), a vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Lincoln, is valued at £4. 8s. 6½d.: pres. net income, £46: patron, Lord Yarborough: pres. incumbent, B. F. Fowler, 1805: contains 540 acres: 4 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 47: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £621: poor rates in 1837, £43.

CAWOOD. See ARKHOLME.

CAWOOD, WEST RIDING, YORK, a parish, formerly a market town, partly in the liberty of St. Peter of York, and partly in the lower division of the wapentake of Barkstone Ash, union of Selby: 216 miles from London (coach road 192), 4 from Selby, 8 from York. Nor. West. Rail. through Rugby and Derby to Selby, thence 4 miles: from Derby, through Normanton to Selby, &c., 84 miles. Money orders issued at Selby: London letters delivered 8½ a.m.: post closes 8½ p.m. The quarter sessions for the liberty of Cawood, Wistow, and Otley, are held here. Cawood was long the residence of the Archbishops of York, having been given by King Athelstane to Wulstan, the fifteenth archbishop, from which time they had a magnificent castle, in which many of the prelates lived and died. It was to this castle that Wolsey retired after his fall, and here he was arrested on a charge of treason by the Earl of Northumberland. At the conclusion of the civil war it was dismantled, and since that time it has been in a state of gradual dilapidation; the principal gateway is almost the only entire part of the fabric. The living (All Saints) is a perpetual curacy in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of York: pres. net income, £120: patron, Prebendary of Wistow: pres. incumbent, G. M. Braune, 1841: contains 2,840 acres: 245 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,108: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,274: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £4,194: poor rates in 1837, £382. Fairs: May 12, September 23, and December 19, for cattle.

CAWSTON, NORFOLK, a parish in the southern division of the hund<sup>d</sup> of Erpingham, union of Aylsham, near a branch of the river Wensum: 139 miles from London (coach road 120), 3 from Reepham, 11 from Norwich.---Nor. and East. Co<sup>d</sup> Rail. through Cambridge and Dereham to Elmham station, thence 8 miles: from Derby, through Syston and Peterborough to Dereham, &c., 158 miles.---Money orders issued at Norwich: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 10½ a.m.: post closes 2 p.m.---The living (St. Agnes), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Norwich, is valued at £15. 13s. 11½d.: pres. net income, £808: patron, Pembroke Hall, Cambridge: pres. incumbent, A. E. L. Bulwer, 1831: contains 4,430 acres: 222 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,130: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,299: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £3,698: poor rates in 1837, £849.---Fairs: February 1, for cattle, and last Wednesday in August.---N., Sall Hall---(for which see SALL.)

CAWTHORNE, WEST RIDING, YORK, a parish in the upper division of the wapentake of Staincross: 188 miles from London (coach road 175), 3 from Barnsley, 11 from Sheffield.---Nor. West. Rail. through Rugby and Derby to Barnsley, thence 3 miles: from Derby, through Sheffield, &c., 56 miles.---Money orders issued at Barnsley: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 8½ p.m.---The Barnsley Canal terminates at Barnbybridge in this parish.---The living (All Saints) was a perpetual curacy to the vicarage of Silkstone, in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of York, but latterly made parochial and independent of Silkstone: pres. net income, £119: patron, J. S. Stanhope, Esq.: pres. incumbent, C. S. Stanhope, 1822: contains 3,440 acres: 293 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,437: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, rather decreased: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £2,556: poor rates in 1837, £532.---Cawthorne Hall.

CAWTHORPE (LITTLE), LINCOLN, a parish in the Marsh division of the hund<sup>d</sup> of Calceworth, parts of Lindsey, union of Louth: 185 miles from London (coach road 145), 3 from Louth, 8 from Alford.---Nor. and East. Co<sup>d</sup> Rail. through Peterborough to Louth, thence 3 miles: from Derby, through Lincoln and Boston to Louth, &c., 120 miles.---Money orders issued at Louth: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 2½ p.m.---The living (St. Helen), a disch<sup>d</sup> vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Lincoln, is valued at £3. 4s. 4½d.: pres. net income, £69: patron, Sequestrated: pres. incumbent, J. D. Waite, 1832: contains 780 acres: 31 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 196: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £236: poor rates in 1837, £120.

CAWTON, NORTH RIDING, YORK, a township in that part of the parish of Gilling which is in the wapentake of Ryedale---(which see for access, &c.): 217 miles from London, 7 from North Malton, 9 from Middleton.---Money orders issued at Malton: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 11 a.m.: post closes 3½ p.m.---Contains 900 acres: 16 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 101: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,015: poor rates in 1837, £35.

CAXTON, CAMBRIDGE, a market town and parish in the hund<sup>d</sup> of Longstow, union of Caxton and Arrington: 68 miles from London (coach road 54), 11 from Cambridge.---Nor. and East. Co<sup>d</sup> Rail. to Cambridge, thence 11 miles: from Derby, through Syston and Peterborough to Cambridge, &c., 137 miles.---Money orders issued here: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 7 a.m.: post closes 8 p.m.---A workhouse for the union of Caxton and Arrington has been erected here by the poor-law commissioners, which is capable of accommodating 160 inmates. The union comprises twenty-six parishes, spread over an area of 77 square miles, with a population of about 9,000 persons.---The living (St. Andrew), a disch<sup>d</sup> vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Ely, is valued at £7. 12s. 4d.: pres. net income, £80: patron, Dean and Canons of Windsor: pres. incumbent, A. T. Russell, 1830: contains 2,000 acres: 67 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 558: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 641: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,461: poor rates in 1837, £257.---Market day, Thursday. Fairs: May 5, and Oct. 12.---Crown Inn, and George Inn.

CAYTHORPE WITH FRIESTON, LINCOLN, a parish in the wapentake of Loveden, parts of Kesteven, union of Newark: 155 miles from London (coach road 119), 11 from Newark, 9 from Sleaford, 10 from Grantham.---Nor. West. Rail. through Rugby, Leicester, Kegworth, and Nottingham, to Newark, thence 11 miles: from Derby, through Nottingham to Newark, &c., 42 miles.---Money orders issued at Grantham: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 10 a.m.: post closes 4½ p.m.---The river Brant flows through the parish.---The living (St. Vincent), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Lincoln, is valued at £20. 11s. 2½d.: pres. net income, £976: patron, G. Hussey Packe, Esq.: pres. incumbent, C. D. Crofts, 1847: contains 4,134 acres: 139 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 821: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 944: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £6,366: poor rates in 1837, £274.---Caythorpe Hall is the residence of G. Hussey Packe, Esq.

CAYTHORPE, NOTTINGHAM, a township in the parish of Lowdham, situated near the river Trent---(which see for access, &c.): 127 miles from London, 7 from Nottingham, 9 from Southwell.---Money orders issued at Nottingham: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 6½ p.m.---Contains 60 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 315: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 362: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £558: poor rates in 1837, £94.

CAYTON, NORTH RIDING, YORK, a parish in the eastern division of the wapentake of Pickering lythe, union of Scarborough: it includes the township of Cayton-Deepdale and Killerby, and Osgodby: 261 miles from London (coach road 214), 3 from Scarborough, 2 from Seamer.---Nor. West. Rail. through Rugby, Derby, and York, to Seamer, thence 2 miles: from Derby, through York, &c., 129 miles.---Money orders issued at Scarborough: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 11 a.m.: post closes 2½ p.m.---The living (St. Leonard) is a curacy annexed to the vicarage of Seamer, in the archd<sup>y</sup> of the north riding and diocese of York, not in charge, and having jointly a pres. net income of £243: patron, W. J. Dennison, Esq.: pres. incumbent, J. R. Inge, 1847: contains 2,430 acres: 107 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 572: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 657: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £3,338: poor rates in 1837, £281.

CAYTON-DEEPPDALE AND KELLERBY, YORK, a joint township in the above parish: 206 miles from London.---(For access and postal arrangements, see above.)---Contains 1,140 acres: 98 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 503: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, £578.

CEFN, FLINT, a township in the parish of Cilcen, North Wales—(which see for access, &c.): 206 miles from London, 4 from Mold, 7 from Denbigh. —Money orders issued at Mold: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 8½ a.m.: post closes 5 p.m. —Contains 58 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 302: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 347.

CEFN-BRYN. See ARTHUR'S STONE.

CEFN-LLYS. See KEVENLEECE.

CEFN-PENNAR. See ABERDARF.

CEIDIO, CAERNARVON, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Dynulsaen, union of Pwllheli, North Wales: 266 miles from London (coach road 251), 5 from Pwllheli, 2 from Nevin. —Nor. West. Rail. through Crewe to Bangor, thence 28 miles: from Derby, through Crewe, &c., 166 miles. —Money orders issued at Pwllheli: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. at noon: post closes 1 p.m. —The living is valued at £5: contains 18 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 138: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £695: poor rates in 1837, £112.

CEIRCHIOG, ANGLESEY, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Llyfion, union of Anglesey, North Wales: 257 miles from London (coach road 280), 10 from Holyhead, 10 from Aberffraw. —Nor. West. Rail. through Crewe, Chester, and Bangor, to Tycross station, thence 3 miles: from Derby, through Crewe, &c., 157 miles: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 10 a.m.: post closes 3 p.m. —The living is a chapelry, not in charge, to the rectory of Llan-beulan, in the diocese of Bangor: contains 39 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 202: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £258: poor rates in 1837, £82.

CEMMAES, ANGLESEY, a township in the parish of Llanbadrig, North Wales, situated near the little harbour of Yrwlfa: 275 miles from London. —(For access and postal arrangements, see above.) —Contains 167 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 909: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,045: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £1,594: poor rates in 1837, £434.

CEMMAES (or CEMMES), MONTGOMERY, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> and union of Machynllaeth, North Wales, on the river Dyfi: it includes the townships of Brynchil and Talolog, and Gwernybwlch: 217 miles from London (coach road 201), 7 from Machynllaeth, 17 from Llanfair. —Nor. West. Rail. through Stafford and Shrewsbury to Newtown, thence 25 miles: from Derby, through Burton, Stafford, &c., 117 miles. —Money orders issued at Machynllaeth: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 4½ p.m.: post closes 9 p.m. —There is an Independent chapel here. —The living is valued at £7: contains 195 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 935: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,075: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £3,022: poor rates in 1837, £545.

CERNE-ABBAS, DORSET, a market town and parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Cerne, Totcombe, and Modbury, union of Cerne—Cerne subdivision of the county: 148 miles from London (coach road 120), 7 from Dorchester. —South West. Rail. through Southampton and Dorchester, thence 7 miles: from Derby, through Rugby, Oxford, Reading, and Southampton, &c., 237 miles. —Money orders issued at Dorchester: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 8 a.m.: post closes 7 p.m. —In 987, the Earl of Cornwall built a noble abbey for Benedictine monks, which was dedicated to St. Mary and St. Peter, of which the gatehouse and a large stone barn are the principal remains; the revenues at the dissolution were valued at £623. 13s. 2d. There is some manufacture of coarse linen, gloves, and parchment; and tanning gives additional employment to the men, and silk-winding to the women; but the principal business is in malting and brewing. The petty sessions for the division are held here. There is an Independent chapel, liable to a rent-charge of £10 a year, which is to be devoted towards apprenticing the children of the poor. A workhouse has been erected here by the poor-law commissioners, which is capable of accommodating 130 persons. The Cerne union comprises twenty parishes, spread over 74 square miles, with a population of about 7,000 persons. —The living (Virgin Mary), a vicarage, formerly in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Dorset, and diocese of Bristol, now in the diocese of Sarum, is valued at £8. 16s.: pres. net income, £81: patron, Lord Rivers: pres. incumbent, T. C. Hughes, 1845: contains 3,010 acres: 218 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,342: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,543: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £3,623: poor rates in 1837, £547. —Market day, Wednesday. Fairs: Mid-Lent Monday; April 28; October 2, pigs.

CERNE (NETHER), DORSET, a parish in the above hun<sup>d</sup> and union: 119 miles from London. —(For access and postal arrangements, see above.) —The living is a perpetual curacy, formerly in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Dorset, and diocese of Bristol, now in the diocese of Sarum: pres. net income, £60: patron, R. B. Sheridan, Esq.: pres. incumbent, M. Vicars, 1843: contains 1,330 acres: 15 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 71: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £616: poor rates in 1847, £9.

CERNE (UPPER), DORSET, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Sherborne, union of Cerne: 122 miles from London. —(For access and postal arrangements, see above.) —The living, a rectory, formerly in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Dorset, and diocese of Bristol, now in the diocese of Salisbury, is valued at £5. 18s. 4d.: pres. net income, £152: patron, William White, Esq.: pres. incumbent, Walter White, 1828: contains 1,050 acres: 14 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 107: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £870: poor rates in 1837, £17. —Upper Cerne House is the seat of W. W. White, Esq., who is the proprietor of the whole parish. The mansion is an ancient structure, formerly connected with the abbey at Cerne.

CERNEY (NORTH), GLOUCESTER, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Rapsgate, union of Cirencester: it includes the tithings of Calmsden and Woodmancote: 99 miles from London (coach road 93), 4 from Cirencester, 8 from Northleach. —Gt. West. Rail. to Cirencester, thence 4 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Bristol to Cirencester, &c., 123 miles. —Money orders issued at Cirencester: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 8 a.m.: post closes 9 p.m. —The living, a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Gloucester and Bristol, is valued at £21. 10s. 7½d.: pres. net income, £654: patron, University College, Oxford: pres. incumbent, T. D. Allen, 1827: contains 4,000 acres: 130 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, £668: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 768: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £4,024: poor rates in 1837, £274.

CERNEY (SOUTH), GLOUCESTER, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Crowthorne and Minety, union of Cirencester, close on the Thames and Severn Canal: 87 miles from London. —(For access and postal arrangements, see above.) —In 1834, a lady, named Edwards, left the residue of her estate as a charity for the relief of the widows and orphans of distressed clergymen in the diocese of Gloucester, and at the annual meeting of the trustees, in 1837, it was resolved to expend half the bequest in erecting a college or asylum for the pensioners. Land was given at South Cerney for the purpose, and the building, called Edwards' College, has a chaste and beautiful appearance. — The living (All Saints), a disch<sup>d</sup>. vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup>. and diocese of Gloucester and Bristol, is valued at £6. 16s. 8d.: pres. net income, £231: patron, Bishop of Gloucester and Bristol: pres. incumbent, R. W. Ford, 1807: contains 3,100 acres: 230 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,077: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,238: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>y</sup>. £6,691: poor rates in 1837, £582.

CERRIGCEINWEN, ANGLESEY, a parish in the hund<sup>d</sup>. of Maltraeth, union of Anglesey, North Wales: 248 miles from London (coach road 261), 2 from Llangefni, 11 from Beaumaris. — Nor. West. Rail. through Crewe, Chester, and Bangor, to Gaerwen station, thence 4 miles: from Derby, through Crewe, &c., 148 miles. — Money orders issued at Llangefni: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 9 a.m.: post closes 3 p.m. — The living (St. Ceinwen), a perpetual curacy, not in charge, annexed to the rectory of Llangestrislus, in the archd<sup>y</sup>. of Anglesey, and diocese of Bangor: contains 86 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 550: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 632: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>y</sup>. £787: poor rates in 1837, £34.

CERRIG-Y-DRUIDION, DENBIGH, a parish in the hund<sup>d</sup>. of Isaled, union of Corwen, North Wales, on a branch of the river Dee: 219 miles from London (coach road 210), 12 from Denbigh. — Nor. West. Rail. through Rugby, Crewe, and Chester, to Wrexham-Regis, thence 28 miles: from Derby, through Crewe, &c., 119 miles. — Money orders issued at Corwen: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 10½ a.m.: post closes 1½ p.m. — The living (St. Mary Magdalene), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup>. and diocese of St. Asaph, is valued at £10. 8s. 1½d.: pres. net income, £500: patron, Bishop of St. Asaph's: pres. incumbent, J. Lloyd, 1841: contains 208 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,039: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,195: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>y</sup>. £4,016: poor rates in 1837, £463. — Fairs: March 18, April 27, August 24, October 20, December 7.

CHACKMORE. See RADCLIFFE, BUCKS.

CHACOMBE, NORTHAMPTON, a parish in the hund<sup>d</sup>. of King's Sutton, union of Banbury, bounded on the west by the river Cherwell: 90 miles from London, 4 from Banbury. — Gt. West. Rail. through Oxford to Banbury, thence 4 miles: from Derby, through Rugby to Banbury, &c., 76 miles. — Money orders issued at Banbury: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 9 a.m.: post closes 5 p.m. — The living (St. Peter), a disch<sup>d</sup>. vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup>. of Northampton, and diocese of Peterborough, is valued at £7. 17s.: pres. net income, £250: patron, Charles W. Martin, Esq.: pres. incumbent, F. W. W. Martin, 1843: contains 1,730 acres: 95 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 488: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 561: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>y</sup>. £3,237: poor rates in 1837, £144.

CHADDERTON, LANCASTER, a chapelry in the parish of Oldham-cum-Prestwich—(which see for access, &c.): 193 miles from London, 5 from Oldham, 7 from Manchester. — Money orders issued at Oldham: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 9½ a.m.: post closes 5 p.m. — The river Irk flows through this parish. — Contains 3,020 acres: 960 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 5,397: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 6,206: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>y</sup>. £7,321: poor rates in 1837, £865.

CHADDESSEN, DERBY, a parish in the hund<sup>d</sup>. of Appletree, union of Shardlow: 134 miles from London (coach road 127), 2 from Derby, 14 from Ashbourn. — Nor. West. Rail. through Rugby to Derby, thence 2 miles: from Derby, by road, 2 miles. — Money orders issued at Derby: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 8½ a.m.: post closes 9 p.m. — A branch of the Derwent flows through the parish. — The living (St. Mary), a perpetual curacy in the archd<sup>y</sup>. of Derby, and diocese of Lichfield and Coventry, is valued at £22: pres. net income, £89: patron, Sir R. Wilmot, Bart.: pres. incumbent, R. C. Wilmot: contains 2,080 acres: 96 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 472: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 542: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>y</sup>. £3,860: poor rates in 1837, £311.

CHADDESLEY-CORBETT, WORCESTER, a parish in the lower division of the hund<sup>d</sup>. of Halfshire, union of Kidderminster: 132 miles from London (coach road 121), 5 from Bromsgrove, 4 from Kidderminster. — Gt. West. Rail. through Oxford and Worcester to Kidderminster, thence 4 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham to Kidderminster, &c., 75 miles. — Money orders issued at Bromsgrove: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 8½ a.m.: post closes 7½ p.m. — There is a Roman Catholic chapel here. — Worsted to some extent is spun in the parish. — The living (St. Cassyon), a vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup>. and diocese of Worcester, is valued at £17. 3s. 4d.: pres. net income, £541: patron, Lord Chancellor: pres. incumbent, G. H. Piercy, 1805: contains 5,780 acres: 278 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,434: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,649: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>y</sup>. £9,083: poor rates in 1837, £570.

CHADDENWICKE. See WOODLANDS AND CHADDENWICKE.

CHADDLEWORTH WITH WOOLLEY, BERKS, a parish in the hund<sup>d</sup>. of Kintbury-Eagle, union of Wantage: 71 miles from London (coach road 60), 6 from East Hleley, 6 from Wantage. — Gt. West. Rail. to Hungerford, thence 10 miles: from Derby, through Rugby, Oxford and Reading, 159 miles. — Money orders issued at Newbury: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 11½ a.m.: post closes 2½ p.m. — The church is a very antique fabric of Norman architecture, with a low tower, nave, and chancel; the porch-entrance is a very curious Saxon arch of great antiquity. The interior contains monuments of the Tipping and Wroughton families. — The living, a disch<sup>d</sup>. vicarage, formerly in the archd<sup>y</sup>. of Berks, and diocese of Salisbury, now in the diocese of Oxford, is valued at £9. 4s. 7d.: pres. net income, £272: patron, Dean and Chapter of Westminster: pres. incumbent, R. Milman, 1840: contains 3,660 acres: 82 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 481: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 553: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>y</sup>. £3,280: poor rates in 1837, £277. — Woolley Park, the seat of Bartholomew Wroughton, Esq., surrounds a handsome mansion on a beautiful slope, which bears off to an extensive domain, well wooded, and stocked with fine deer. — Chaddlesworth House is the residence of Richard Sherwood, Esq.

CHADLINGTON (EAST), OXFORD, a chapelry in the parish of Charlbury, north of the Evenlode river: it includes the tithings of West Chadlington—which see for access, &c.): 73 miles from London, 4 from Chipping-Norton, 8 from Witney. —Money orders issued at Chipping-Norton: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8½ a.m.: post closes 7½ p.m. —The living (St. Mary) is a curacy to the vicarage of Charlbury, not in charge: contains 3,300 acres: 131 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 654: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 752: poor rates in 1837, £194.

CHADSHUNT, WARWICK, a parish in Kineton division of the hun<sup>d</sup> of Kineton, union of Southam: 108 miles from London (coach road 84), 2 from Kineton, 9 from Warwick. —Gt. West. Rail. through Oxford to Fenny Compton, thence 4 miles: from Derby, through Rugby to Banbury, &c., 70 miles. —Money orders issued at Kineton: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 3 p.m. —The living is a perpetual curacy to the vicarage of Bishops-Itchington, in the diocese of Lichfield and Coventry, and a peculiar of the dean and chapter not in charge: contains 1,230 acres: 8 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1831, 36: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,667: poor rates in 1837, £39. —Chadshunt Hill.

CHADWELL, ESSEX, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Barstable, union of Orsett: 28 miles from London (coach road 26), 3 from Grays, 10 from Brentwood. —East. Co<sup>r</sup>. Rail. to Brentwood, thence 10 miles: from Derby, through London, &c., 160 miles. —Money orders issued at Romford: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 10 a.m.: post closes 3 p.m. —The living (St. Mary), a rectory in the archd<sup>r</sup> of Essex, diocese of Rochester, is valued at £17. 13s. 4d.: pres. net income, £427: patron, Rev. J. P. Herringham: pres. incumbent, J. P. Herringham, 1819: contains 1,540 acres: 35 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 236: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £2,676: poor rates in 1837, £138. Tithes commuted in 1839.

CHADWELL, ESSEX, a ward in the parish of Barking, hun<sup>d</sup> of Becontree: 26 miles from London. —Contains 135 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 758: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 871. —(Other returns with the parish.)

CHAFFCOMBE, SOMERSET, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of South Petherton, union of Chard, and east of Church Canal: 177 miles from London (coach road 137), 3 from Ilminster, 1 from Chard. —Gt. West. Rail. through Bristol to Taunton, thence 14 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Bristol to Taunton, &c., 191 miles. —Money orders issued at Ilminster: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 5½ p.m. —The living (St. Michael), a disch<sup>d</sup> rectory in the archd<sup>r</sup> of Taunton, diocese of Bath and Wells, is valued at £9. 10s. 2½d.: pres. net income, £143: patron, Earl Poulett: pres. incumbent, C. W. Penny, 1848: contains 1,160 acres: 50 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 288: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £981: poor rates in 1837, £93. All the tithes were commuted in 1839. —Chaffcombe Hall.

CHAGFORD, DEVON, a parish and stannary town in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Wonford, union of Oakhampton, on the east Teign river: 206 miles from London (coach road 185), 9 from Oakhampton, 12 from Exeter. —Gt. West. Rail. through Bristol to Exeter, thence 12 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Bristol to Exeter, &c., 219 miles. —Money orders issued at Oakhampton: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 10 a.m.: post closes 2½ p.m. —Woollen manufacture, to some extent, has been carried on in the village. The Baptists have a chapel here. —The living (St. Michael), a rectory in the archd<sup>r</sup> and diocese of Exeter, is valued at £39. 0s. 10d.: pres. net income, £539: patron, Mrs. Grace Hames: pres. incumbent, W. Hames, 1827: contains 8,710 acres: 290 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,836: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 2,111: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £5,420: poor rates in 1837, £632.

CHAIGHLEY, LANCASTER. See AIGHTON.

CHAILEY, SUSSEX, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Street, rape of Lewes, union of Chailey: 56 miles from London (coach road 44), 6 from Lewes, 7 from Cuckfield. —Brighton and Sou. Coast Rail. to Lewes, thence 6 miles: from Derby, through London, &c., 188 miles. —Money orders issued at Lewes: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8½ a.m.: post closes 7 p.m. —The living (St. Peter), a rectory in the archd<sup>r</sup> of Lewes, diocese of Chichester, is valued at £9. 4s. 2d.: pres. net income, £505: patrons, Mrs. Hepburn and Mrs. Blencowe: pres. incumbent, T. Trebeck, 1822: contains 6,580 acres: 134 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,091: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,254: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £3,427: poor rates in 1837, £586. —Fair, June 29, for pedlery.

CHALBURY, DORSET, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Badbury, Shaston (East) division of the county of Dorset, union of Wimborne: 121 miles from London (coach road 104), 6 from Wimborne, 6 from Cranbourne. —Sou. West. Rail. through Southampton to Wimborne, thence 6 miles: from Derby, through Rugby, Oxford, Reading, and Southampton, to Wimborne, &c., 209 miles. —Money orders issued at Wimborne: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8½ a.m.: post closes 8 p.m. —Chalbury Hill is a place of interest from the beauty of the views on all sides, which are rich and extensive. —The living, a rectory in the archd<sup>r</sup> of Dorset, formerly in the diocese of Bristol, now in the diocese of Sarum, is valued at £7. 10s. 2½d.: pres. net income, £168: patron, Earl of Pembroke: pres. incumbent, J. M. Harington: contains 1,328 acres: 30 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 152: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,060: poor rates in 1837, £72. Tithes commuted at £187. —N., Horton Park—(for which, see HORTON.) —Uddings House, the property of Edward Greathed, Esq., is now occupied by George Mansell, Esq.

CHALDON, SURREY, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Wallington, union of Reigate: 22 miles from London (coach road 15), 3 from Gatton, 6 from Croydon. —Brighton and South Coast Rail. to Croydon, thence 6 miles: from Derby, through London, &c., 154 miles. —London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> four times each way daily. —The living (St. Peter), a disch<sup>d</sup> rectory in the archd<sup>r</sup> of Surrey, is valued at £7. 10s. 7½d.: pres. net income, £255: patron, James Legrew, Esq.: pres. incumbent, James Legrew, 1836: contains 1,380 acres: 17 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 197: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,630: poor rates in 1837, £79.

CHALDON-BOYS (OR WEST CHALDON), DORSETSHIRE, in the parish of Chaldon-Herring, Wareham division, hun<sup>d</sup> of Winfrith. —The living, the church having become desecrated, was united to the vicarage of Chaldon-Herring in 1446.

CHALDON-HERRING (OR EAST CHALDON), DORSET, a parish in the liberty of Bindon, union of Wareham, Blandford (South) division of the county:

151 miles from London (coach road 121), 10 from Dorchester, 9 from Wareham.—Sou. West. Rail. through Southampton to Dorchester, thence 10 miles: from Derby, through Rugby, Oxford, Reading, and Southampton, to Dorchester, &c., 240 miles.—Money orders issued at Dorchester: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 10½ a.m.: post closes 6 p.m.—The living, a vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Sarum, is valued at £8. 0s. 10d.: pres. net income, £62: patron, Joseph Weld, Esq.: pres. incumbent, James Cree, 1844: contains 3,000 acres: 53 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, £285: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £1,500: poor rates in 1837, £125.

CHALE, HANTS, a parish in West Medina liberty, Isle of Wight division of the county: 110 miles from London (coach road 90), 7 from Newport, 10 from Brading.—Sou. West. Rail. to Gosport, thence 20 miles: from Derby, through Rugby, Oxford, Reading, and Basingstoke, to Gosport, &c., 207 miles.—Money orders issued at Newport: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 10 a.m.: post closes 3 p.m.—Chale is one of the most picturesque spots in the island, the grey old church standing near the verge of a precipice called Blackgang Chine, which hangs over the sea. Far below, under this great natural fortification, there is a small snug cove, which the seamen call Chale Bay, delightful in its aspect, but often fatally dangerous to the shipping along the coast.—The living (St. Andrew), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Winchester, is valued at £14. 3s. 11½d.: pres. net income, £334: patron, Rev. C. Richard: pres. incumbent, A. W. Gother, 1835: contains 1,880 acres: 98 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 610: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £2,913: poor rates in 1837, £408.

CHALFIELD (GREAT), WILTS, a parish in the hund<sup>d</sup> of Bradford, on a branch of the river Avon: it includes Little Chalfield and Cottles extra-parochial liberty: 104 miles from London (coach road 99), 4 from Melksham, 7 from Bath.—Gt. West. Rail. through Chippenham to Melksham, thence 4 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham, Bristol, Chippenham, &c., 156 miles.—Money orders issued at Melksham: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 7½ p.m.—The manor-house, which was most probably erected towards the close of the reign of Henry VI., is a fine specimen of the Tudor style of architecture.—The living (St. Catherine), a disch<sup>d</sup> rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Sarum, is valued at £6: pres. net income, £162: patron, Lady Neale: pres. incumbent, R. Warner, 1809: contains 1,200 acres: 14 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 34: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £2,520: poor rates in 1837, £68.

CHALFONT, BUCKINGHAM, a parish in the hund<sup>d</sup> of Burnham, union of Amersham, west of the Mischbourne stream: 22 miles from London (coach road 23), 3 from Amersham, 4 from Beaconsfield.—Gt. West. Rail. to Uxbridge, thence 6 miles: from Derby, through London, &c., 154 miles.—Money orders issued at Amersham: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8½ a.m.: post closes 6½ p.m.—The Quakers and the Independents have chapels here: and in the cemetery of the former lie the remains of William Penn, the founder of Pennsylvania. Here it was that Milton resided during the great plague of London, and here he finished his great work, the "Paradise Lost," and his "Paradise Regained." His name and arms, carved over the doorway of the house in which he lived, are still in good preservation.—The living (St. Giles), a rectory in the diocese of Oxford, is valued at £19. 9s. 4½d.: pres. net income, £615: patron, Bishop of Lincoln: pres. incumbent, G. T. Pretymann, 1817: contains 3,550 acres: 242 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,228: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,412: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £3,489: poor rates in 1837, £626.—The Vache is the residence of Thomas Newland Allan, Esq., one of the magistrates for the county; the Stone, of Mrs. Jones; Misbourne House, of Anthony Davis, Esq.; Stone Dean, of Caledon George Du Pre, Esq., who is also a justice of the peace; and the Grove, of George Priestley, Esq.—all, as is also the Rectory, tasteful and gentlemanly residences.

CHALFONT (St. Peter), BUCKINGHAM, a parish in the hund<sup>d</sup> of Burnham, union of Amersham: 20 miles from London (coach road 19), 2 from Gerrard's Cross, 4 from Uxbridge.—Gt. West. Rail. to Uxbridge, thence 4 miles: from Derby, through London, &c., 152 miles.—Money orders issued at Gerrard's Cross: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 7½ a.m.: post closes 6½ p.m.—There is a Baptist chapel here.—The living, a vicarage in the diocese of Oxford, is valued at £15. 17s. 1d.: pres. net income, £731: patron, St. John's College, Oxford: pres. incumbent, G. Gleed, 1831: contains 4,930 acres: 275 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,483: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,705: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £5,256: poor rates in 1837, £494.—Fair, September 4, for pedlery.—Of the gentlemen's seats, the principal are Chalfont Park, a noble mansion placed in an extensive domain, the residence of John Nembhard Hibbert, Esq.; Orche Hill, of William Bleunt, Esq.; and Bulstrode Park, the property of the Duke of Somerset, but occupied by Colonel G. Reid. But besides these, there are several handsome residences in the neighbourhood, on an open place called Gerrard's Cross.

CHALFORD, GLOUCESTER, a tithing and chapelry, partly in the parish of Bisley, partly in that of Minchinhampton, intersected by the Stroudwater Canal—(which see for access, &c.): 92 miles from London, 2 from Minchinhampton, 3 from Stroud.—Money orders issued at Chalford: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 7½ a.m.: post closes 5½ p.m.—There is a Baptist chapel here. The village is a delightful place, scattered over the romantic valley which stretches along the banks of the river Frome. Woollen manufactures, which was formerly carried on to a considerable extent in the parish, though much diminished, is still continued here.

CHALFORD. See ASTON ROWANT.

CHALGRAVE, BEDFORD, a parish in the hund<sup>d</sup> of Manshead, union of Woburn: 48 miles from London (coach road 37), 3 from Dunstable, 6 from Woburn.—Nor. West. Rail. to Leighton-Buzzard, thence 7 miles: from Derby, through Rugby to Leighton, &c., 97 miles.—Money orders issued at Dunstable: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m.—The living (All Saints), a disch<sup>d</sup> vicarage, united in 1772 to the rectory of Hockliffe, formerly in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Bedford and diocese of Lincoln, now in the diocese of Ely, and having jointly a pres. net income of £393: patron, Rev. J. S. Neumann: pres. incumbent, J. S. Neumann, 1842: contains 2,130 acres: 110 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 818: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 940: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £3,541: poor rates in 1837, £542.

CHALGROVE, OXFORD, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Ewelme, union of Thame, east of the river Thames: it includes the liberty of Rafford: 73 miles from London (coach road 47), 5 from Tetsworth, 10 from Oxford. —Gt. West. Rail. to Oxford, thence 10 miles: from Derby, through Rugby, Banbury, Oxford, &c., 108 miles. —Money orders issued at Tetsworth: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 8½ a.m.: post closes 7½ p.m. —Chalgrove is a considerable village, memorable for the fall of the steeple of the village church; which, during a tempest of unusual violence, on the 5th January, 1727, fell to the ground; it contained five bells, which were all broken; happily no one was hurt by the accident. But the chief interest of Chalgrove arises from its being the place where the patriot Hampden received his deathwound, during the civil war between Charles and the parliament, in 1643. John Hampden was the descendant of an ancient family in Buckinghamshire, but was born in London in 1594. Being a gentleman of property, he entered parliament soon after he attained maturity, and speedily became distinguished as an advocate of popular rights. In 1636, especially, he forcibly opposed the levying of ship money, and soon as the civil war broke out, took up arms in behalf of the parliament. He exerted himself greatly, and was intrusted with the command of a regiment of foot, under the Earl of Essex. Prince Rupert having broken up the parliamentary quarters in a foray from Oxford, Mr. Hampden and other gentlemen who were officers of the parliamentary army, hastily collected a few men, and pursued him on his return. Without waiting for the arrival of the Earl of Essex, who was hastening to their assistance, they impetuously attacked the prince, who took up a position in a field to the north-east of Chalgrove, but were entirely repulsed. Mr. Hampden being severely wounded by two bullets in the shoulder, shortly after the commencement of the action, was compelled to quit the field, and rode to the house of his wife's father at Watlington, about four miles off, whence he was removed to Thame, where he died, after lingering in great agony for three weeks. —The living (St. Mary), a vicarage with the curacy of Berwick-Salham, in the archd<sup>y</sup>. and diocese of Oxford, is valued at £10. 5s. 5d.: pres. net income, £276: patron, Christ Church, Oxford: pres. incumbent, R. F. Lawrence, 1832: contains 2,120 acres: 133 houses: pop<sup>n</sup>. in 1841, 691: probable pop<sup>n</sup>. in 1849, 795: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £3,641: poor rates in 1837, £527.

CHALK, KENT, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Sharnwell, lathe of Aylesford, union of North Aylesford, bounded on the north by the river Thames, and intersected by the Thames and Medway Canal: 29 miles from London (coach road 25), 3 from Gravesend, 3 from Rochester. —London and Gravesend Rail. to Gravesend, thence 3 miles: from Derby, through London, &c., 161 miles. —Money orders issued at Gravesend: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 8 a.m.: post closes 8 p.m. —There was a manufactory of gun flints here, which were reckoned the best in Europe. —The living (St. Mary), a disch<sup>d</sup>. vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup>. and diocese of Rochester, is valued at £6. 3s. 8d.: pres. net income, £178: patron, Lord Chancellor: pres. incumbent, J. T. Wilgress, 1813: contains 2,040 acres: 62 houses: pop<sup>n</sup>. in 1841, 385: probable pop<sup>n</sup>. in 1849, 443: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £2,862: poor rates in 1837, £185. —Fair, Whit-Monday.

CHALLACOMBE, DEVON, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Sherwill, union of Barnstaple: 209 miles from London (coach road 190), 10 from Barnstaple, 11 from Ilfracombe. —Gt. West. Rail. through Bristol to Tiverton, thence 25 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Bristol to Tiverton, &c., 223 miles. —Money orders issued at Barnstaple: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 11½ a.m.: post closes 1½ p.m. —The river Bray runs through this parish. —The living (Holy Trinity), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup>. of Barnstaple, and diocese of Exeter, is valued at £11. 9s. 2d.: pres. net income, £200: patron, Earl Fortescue: pres. incumbent, J. C. Carwithen, 1848: contains 5,450 acres: 47 houses: pop<sup>n</sup>. in 1841, 305: probable pop<sup>n</sup>. in 1849, 351: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £1,471: poor rates in 1837, £36. Tithes commuted in 1839.

CHALLOCK, KENT, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Felborough, lathe of Scray, union of East Ashford, bounded on the east by the river Stour: 73 miles from London (coach road 49), 3 from Charing, 6 from Ashford. —Sou. East Rail. to Ashford, thence 6 miles: from Derby, through London, &c., 205 miles. —Money orders issued at Maidstone: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 9 a.m.: post closes 4½ p.m. —The living (St. Cosmus and St. Damien) is a curacy annexed to the vicarage of Godmersham, not in charge, in the diocese of Canterbury, and having jointly a pres. net income of £234: patron, Archbishop of Canterbury: pres. incumbent, T. H. Gale, 1846: contains 3,620 acres: 63 houses: pop<sup>n</sup>. in 1841, 429: probable pop<sup>n</sup>. in 1849, 493: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £1,867: poor rates in 1837, £363. —Fair, October 8, for horses, cattle, and pedlery. —St., Eastwell Park, the seat of the Earl of Winchilsea and Nottingham—(for the historical incidents of whose family, see BURLEY-ON-THE-HILL; for an account of the mansion and grounds, see EASTWELL.)

CHALLOW (EAST), BERKS, a chapelry in the parish of Letcomb-Regis, intersected by the Berks and Wilts Canal—(which see for access, &c.): 62 miles from London, 2 from Wantage, 7 from Faringdon. —Money orders issued at Wantage: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 7½ a.m.: post closes 8½ p.m. —The living is a curacy to the vicarage of Letcomb-Regis, not in charge, in the diocese of Oxford, and having jointly a pres. net income of £200: patron, Dean and Chapter of Winchester: pres. incumbent, T. Westcombe, 1826: contains 56 houses: pop<sup>n</sup>. in 1841, 336: probable pop<sup>n</sup>. in 1849, 386: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £3,074: poor rates in 1837, £181.

CHALLOW (WEST), BERKS, a chapelry in the same parish, not in charge—(which see for access, &c.): 62 miles from London. —Contains 38 houses: pop<sup>n</sup>. in 1841, 248: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £934: poor rates in 1837, £103.

CHALTON, HAMTS, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Finch-Dean-Alton, union of Catherington, South-Alton division of the county: it includes the chapelry of Idsworth: 95 miles from London (coach road 59), 4 from Horndean, 5 from Petersfield. —Brighton and South Coast Rail. to Havant, thence 7 miles: from Derby, through London, &c., 227 miles. —Money orders issued at Horndean: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 7½ p.m. —The living (St. Michael), a rectory, with Clanfield rectory and Idsworth curacy, in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Winchester, is valued at £20. 0s. 10d.: pres. net income, £58: patron, King's College, Cambridge: pres. incumbent, J. W. Astley, 1848: contains 3,470 acres: 101 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 659: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 757: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>y</sup>. £752: poor rates in 1837, £669.

CHALVEY. See UPTON.

CHALVINGTON, SUSSEX, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Shiplake, rape of Pevensey, union of West Fife, bounded on the east by the river Cuckmere: 57 miles from London (coach road 57), 5 from Hurstgreen, 7 from Lewes. —Brighton Rail. to Lewes, thence 7 miles: from Derby, through London, &c., 189 miles. —Money orders issued at Hurstgreen: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8½ a.m.: post closes 8½ p.m. —The living (St. Bartholomew), a disch<sup>d</sup> rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Lewes, and diocese of Chichester, is valued at £8: pres. net income, £176: patron, A. E. Fuller, Esq.: pres. incumbent, R. F. Fuller, 1832: contains 1,690 acres: 21 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 192: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>y</sup>. £746: poor rates in 1837, £190.

CHAMBOIS, DURHAM, a township in the parish of Bedlington, situated at the mouth of the river Wansbeck —(which see for access, &c.): 7 miles from Morpeth.

CHAPEL. See PONTISBRIGHT.

CHAPEL-ALLERTON. See ALLERTON-CHAPEL.

CHAPEL-BILLINGE. See BILLINGE-CHAPEL-END.

CHAPEL-BRAMPTON. See BRAMPTON-CHAPEL.

CHAPELBROKE. See ASTERLEY.

CHAPEL-EN-LE-FRITH, DERBY, a market town and parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of High Peak, union of Chapel-en-le-Frith: it includes the townships of Bowden's-Edge, Bradshaw-Edge, and Coombe's-Edge: 188 miles from London (coach road 167), 23 from Sheffield. —Nor. West. Rail. through Rugby and Derby to Bradshaw-Edge, thence 4 miles: from Derby, through Ambergate station to Bradshaw-Edge, &c., 58 miles. —Money orders issued at Buxton: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 11 a.m.: post closes 1½ p.m. —The principal business of the place consists in the manufacture of cotton and paper. Chapel-en-le-Frith is one of the polling-places for North Derbyshire, and petty sessions are held here once a fortnight, and a court baron for the hundred of High Peak every three weeks for the recovery of debts under £5. The poor-law union, of which this place is the centre, comprises sixteen parishes, spread over an area of 106 square miles, with a population of about 11,000 persons.

—The living (St. Thomas à Becket), a perpetual curacy in the diocese of York, is valued at £16. 16s. 8d.: pres. net income, £145: patrons, resident Freeholders: pres. incumbent, George Hall, 1836: contains 13,220 acres: 615 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, £3,199: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, £3,679: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>y</sup>. £10,956: poor rates in 1837, £496.

—Market day, Thursday. Fairs: Thursday before Old Candlemas, March 3 and 29, Thursday before Easter, April 30, Holy Thursday, Thursday in three weeks after, July 7, Thursday after Old Michaelmas, Thursday before Old Martinmas. —Inns: King's Arms, Royal Oak.

CHAPEL-HILL, MONMOUTH, a parish in the upper division of the hun<sup>d</sup> of Ragland, union of Chepstow: 123 miles from London (coach road 133), 4 from Chepstow, 8 from Monmouth. —Gt. West. Rail. to Stonehouse, thence 20 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham, &c., 123 miles. —Money orders issued at Chepstow: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 5 p.m. —The celebrated abbey of Tintern, founded in 1141 by Walter de Clare, stood within the precincts of this parish. (For an account of it, see TINTERN.) —The living (St. Mary), a perpetual curacy in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Llandaff, is valued at £11: pres. net income, £60: patron, Duke of Beaufort: pres. incumbent, C. H. Morgan, 1821: contains 820 acres: 110 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 521: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 599: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>y</sup>. £970: poor rates in 1837, £210.

CHAPEL-SUCKEN, CUMBERLAND, a township in the parish of Millom, bounded on the east by the river Dudden—(which see for access, &c.): 300 miles from London, 11 from Ravenglass, 7 from Bootle. —Money orders issued at Ravenglass: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 10 a.m.: post closes 12 noon. —Contains 49 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 214.—(Other returns with the parish.)

CHAPEL-THORPE, WEST RIDING, YORK, a chapelry in the parish of Great Sandall—(which see for access, &c.): 176 miles from London, 3 from Wakefield, 9 from Pontefract. —Money orders issued at Wakefield: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8½ a.m.: post closes 6 p.m. —The living, a perpetual curacy in the diocese of Ripon, is valued at £21. 19s.: pres. net income, £189: patron, Vicar of Sandall: pres. incumbent, J. H. Micklethwait, 1844: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,482: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,704.

CHAPELWICK, BERKS. See ASHBURY.

CHAPMANSLADE, WILTS, a village in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Westbury: it consists of one long street, the north side of which is a hamlet to the parish of Westbury, and the south side in the parishes of Upton-Scudamore and Corsley.

CHARBOROUGH, DORSET, formerly a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Loosebarrow, Shaston. —A branch of the river Stour flows through the parish. —The living is a rectory, formerly in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Dorset, and diocese of Bristol, now in the diocese of Sarum: patron, Mrs. Drax: pres. incumbent, Charles Sawbridge.

CHARD, SOMERSET, a borough and parish in the east division of the hun<sup>d</sup> of Kingsbury, union of Chard: this parish comprises the market town of Chard, the tithings of Crim-Chard, Old Chard, South Chard, and Tatworth-with-Forton: 178 miles from London (coach road 139), 5 from Ilminster. —Gt. West. Rail. through Bristol to Taunton, thence 15 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Bristol to Taunton, &c., 192 miles. —Money orders issued at Chard: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m. —Chard stands at the southern extremity of the county, on the highest ground between the Bristol and English Channels, so that a stream of water running along the ridge could easily be diverted to fall into either of those two seas. The place is chiefly agricultural; but there has, within these few years, arisen a considerable manufacture of woollen goods, in which more than 600 hands are employed, facility being afforded for the transit of the goods by canal to Taunton. The town consists of two principal streets, which intersect each other, the houses in which are well built and respectable in appearance. At the intersection of the streets stands an ancient Gothic building, formerly a chapel, but which is now used as a town-hall. The Independents and Baptists each have chapels here. The government of the town was formerly vested in a portreeve and two bailiffs, under a charter granted by Edward I., and for some time the borough sent representatives to parliament. The corporation now consists of a mayor, aldermen, and town council. Petty sessions are held here once a month. Chard was the scene of a severe contest in the great civil war, in which the royalists were signally defeated. A workhouse has been erected here by the poor-law commissioners, which is capable of accommodating 300 inmates. The poor-law union comprises 34 parishes, spread over an area of 89 square miles, with a population of about 24,000 persons. On Brown Down, in the neighbourhood of Chard, there are several barrows, vulgarly called Robin Hood's butts, which, the common tradition maintains, formed goals to which Robin Hood and Little John were accustomed to throw their quoits. — The living (St. Mary), a vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Taunton, and diocese of Bath and Wells, is valued at £36. 18s. 9d.: pres. net income, £436: patron, Bishop of Bath and Wells: pres. incumbent, W. B. Whitehead, 1825: contains 5,140 acres: 935 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 5,788: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 6,656: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £13,238: poor rates in 1837, £1,593. — Market days, Thursday and Saturday. Fairs: first Wednesday in May, August, and November. — Bankers: Stuckey's Banking Company—draw on Roberts, Curtis, and Co. — Chard Arms Hotel, and George Inn.

CHARDSTOCK, Dorset, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Beaminster, Forum, and Redhone, union of Axminster, Bridport division of the county: 178 miles from London (coach road 142), 4 from Axminster, 11 from Beaminster. — Gt. West. Rail. through Bristol to Taunton, thence 15 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Bristol to Taunton, &c., 192 miles. — Money orders issued at Axminster: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 4 p.m. — The river Kitbridge flows through the parish. Flax-dressing and woollen manufacture are to some extent carried on here. — The living (St. Andrew), a disch<sup>d</sup>. vicarage, and a peculiar of the Dean of Salisbury, attached to a prebendal stall in Salisbury cathedral, is valued at £14. 2s. 6d.: pres. net income, £450: patron, Bishop of Sarum: pres. incumbent, C. Woodcock, 1834: contains 5,540 acres: 276 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,405: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,616: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £6,287: poor rates in 1837, £884. — Fair, Old Michaelmas day.

CHARFIELD, Gloucester, a parish in the upper division of Grombold's-Ash, union of Thornbury: 115 miles from London (coach road 109), 2

from Wickwar, 5 from Thornbury. — Gt. West. Rail. through Stonehouse to Wickwar, thence 2 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham to Stonehouse, &c., 115 miles. — Money orders issued at Wotton-under-Edge: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 7 a.m.: post closes 4½ p.m. — The living, a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Gloucester and Bristol, is valued at £10. 1s. 3d.: pres. net income, £351: patron, J. Neeld, Esq., M.P.: pres. incumbent, R. P. Jones, 1816: contains 1,430 acres: 97 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 471: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 541: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £2,639: poor rates in 1837, £188. Tithes commuted in 1839.

CHARFORD (North), Hants, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup>. and union of Fordingbridge, New Forest, west division: it includes the tithing of South Charford: 97 miles from London (coach road 91), 3 from Fordingbridge, 6 from Salisbury. — Sou. West. Rail. through Basingstoke to Salisbury, thence 6 miles: from Derby, through Rugby, Oxford, Reading, and Basingstoke, to Salisbury, &c., 189 miles. — Money orders issued at Fordingbridge: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m. — The church is now in ruins. — The living, a curacy in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Winchester, is valued at £5. 18s. 4d.: contains 850 acres: 25 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 116: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £1,759: poor rates in 1837, £141.

CHARFORD (South), Hants, a tithing in the above parish — (which see for access, &c.): 90 miles from London. — Contains 280 acres: 18 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 62: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £929: poor rates in 1837, £55.

CHARING, Kent, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Calehill, lathe of Scray, union of West Ashford: 72 miles from London (coach road 46), 5 from Ashford. — Sou. East. Rail. to Ashford, thence 5 miles: from Derby, through London, &c., 204 miles. — Money orders issued at Ashford: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8½ a.m.: post closes 8½ p.m. — Charing is called in Domesday-book Cheringes: under the Saxons it belonged to Christ Church, Canterbury; but when Lanfranc divided the revenues of that monastery, it was allotted to the archbishops, who had a palace here, of which remains may be traced on the north-west of the churchyard. At the dissolution, Cranmer made over to the king this palace and manor, and all his other estates in this parish. The church contains some ancient monuments, especially of the Derings, who have long been seated at "Wickens," in this parish: several members of the family are now seated in the county. Adjoining the chancel is a small chapel, built in the time of Richard III., as a burial-place, by "Amy Brent," a member of the family which then occupied Wickens: it suffered considerably, together with the whole interior of the church, by fire, in 1590, occasioned, as Weever says, by a peece discharged at a pidgeon. — The living (St. Peter and St. Paul), a vicarage in the diocese of Canterbury, exempt from visitation, is valued at £13: pres. net income, £475: patron, Dean and Chapter of St. Paul's: pres. incumbent, F. B. Tate, 1834: contains 4,060 acres: 193 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,241: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,427: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £5,147: poor rates in 1837, £527. — Fairs, 29th days of April and October, for horses, cattle, and pedlery.

CHARINGWORTH. See EBBINGTON.

CHARLBURY, OXFORD, a parish partly in the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Banbury, and partly in the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Chadlington, union of Chipping Norton: it includes the hamlets of Fawler, Finstock, and Walcot, the chapelries of Chadlington East, and Shorthampton, Chilson, and Pudlicote, and the tithing of Chadlington West: 69 miles from London (coach road 68), 7 from Woodstock, 7 from Witney. — Gt. West. Rail. to Oxford, thence to Charlbury 15 miles: from Derby, through Rugby, Banbury, and Oxford, &c., 108 miles. — Money orders issued here: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 8 a.m.: post closes 8 p.m. — The church contains, among other monuments, some memorials of the Jenkinsons, ancestors of the Earl of Liverpool; and in the parish register is the record of a plague, which began here on the 10th June, 1583, and ended on the 25th November in the same year. Adjoining is Cornbury Park. At the Restoration, the Earl of Clarendon took his title of viscount from this place; the property was afterwards purchased by the Duke of Marlborough, and is now the seat of Lord Churchill. It is a spacious domain, and possesses pleasing scenery. — The living (St. Mary), a vicarage, with the curacies of Shorthampton, Chadlington, and Finstock, in the archd<sup>y</sup>. and diocese of Oxford, is valued at £25. 5s. 10d.: pres. net income, £800: patron, St. John's College, Oxford: pres. incumbent, Thomas Silver, 1828: contains 11,320 acres: pop<sup>n</sup>. in 1841, 2,982: probable pop<sup>n</sup>. in 1849, 3,429: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £10,906: poor rates in 1837, £993. — Market day, Friday. Fairs: January 1, second Friday in Lent, second Friday in May, October 10, September 10.

CHARLCOMBE, SOMERSET, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Hampton and Clavering, locally in the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Bath-Forum, union of Bath: 108 miles from London, 1 from Bath, 11 from Bristol. — Gt. West. Rail. to Bath, thence 1 mile: from Derby, through Birmingham and Bristol to Bath, &c., 144 miles. — Money orders issued at Bath: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 7½ a.m.: post closes 9 p.m. — The living (the Virgin Mary), a disch<sup>d</sup>. rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup>. of Bath, and diocese of Bath and Wells, is valued at £5. 15s. 10d.: pres. net income, £200: patron, Mayor and Corporation of Bath as Trustees: pres. incumbent, James Pears, 1823: contains 570 acres: 17 houses: pop<sup>n</sup>. in 1841, 84: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £1,426: poor rates in 1837, £32.

CHARLCOT, HAMPSHIRE. See WHITCHURCH.

CHARLCOTE, WARWICK, a parish in the Warwick division of the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Kineton, union of Stratford-on-Avon: the river Avon bounds the parish on the west: 116 miles from London (coach road 88), 6 from Kineton, 5 from Warwick. — Gt. West. Rail. through Oxford to Stratford-on-Avon, thence 3 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Worcester to Stratford, &c., 119 miles. — Money orders issued at Kineton: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 10 a.m.: post closes 2 p.m. — The living (St. Leonard), a disch<sup>d</sup>. vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup>. and diocese of Worcester, is valued at £6: pres. net income, £183: patron, George Lucy, Esq.: pres. incumbent, John Lucy, 1823: contains 2,190 acres: 64 houses: pop<sup>n</sup>. in 1841, 267: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £4,600: poor rates in 1837, £173.

CHARLES, DEVON, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Sherwill, union of South Molton on the river Bruy: 207 miles from London (coach road 184), 5 from South Molton, 8 from Barnstaple. — Gt. West. Rail. through Bristol to Tiverton, thence 23 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Bristol to Tiverton, &c., 221 miles. — Money orders issued at South Molton: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 9½ a.m.: post closes 4 p.m. — The living (St. John the Baptist), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup>. of Barnstaple, diocese of Exeter, is valued at £9. 10s.: pres. net income, £390: patron, Rev. R. Blackmore, 1840: contains 710 acres: 62 houses: pop<sup>n</sup>. in 1841, 362: probable pop<sup>n</sup>. in 1849, £416: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £1,369: poor rates in 1837, £91.

CHARLESTOWN, CORNWALL, a seaport in the parish of St. Austell—(which see for access, &c.) — No later than 1790, it contained only nine inhabitants; it is now a thriving port, carrying on an extensive pilchard fishery, and possessing a pier, an outer and inner harbour, defended by a battery of heavy guns. Shipbuilding and the manufacture of cordage are carried on, and an immense quantity of China clay is shipped for the potteries, and it is also extensively used in other manufactures.

CHARLESWORTH, DERBY, a hamlet in the parish of Glossop, bounded on the west by the river Etherow—(which see for access, &c.): 175 miles from London, 4 from Glossop, 8 from Chapel-le-Frith. — Money orders issued at Manchester: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 10 a.m.: post closes 4 p.m. — The living is a perpetual curacy, annexed to the vicarage of Glossop, in the diocese of Lichfield: pres. net income, £150: patron, Crown and Bishop, alternately: pres. incumbent, G. Puroell, 1846: contains 208 houses: pop<sup>n</sup>. in 1841, 1,732: probable pop<sup>n</sup>. in 1849, 1,992.—(Other returns with the parish.)

CHARLETON, DEVON, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Coleridge, union of Kingsbridge, on an estuary: 229 miles from London (coach road 211), 2 from Kingsbridge, 9 from Dartmouth. — Gt. West. Rail. through Bristol to Torquay, thence 10 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Bristol, &c., 243 miles. — Money orders issued at Kingsbridge: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 9½ a.m.: post closes 3½ p.m. — The living (the Virgin Mary), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup>. of Totness, diocese of Exeter, is valued at £31. 8s. 4d.: pres. net income, £522: patron, Mrs. Isaac Twysden: pres. incumbent, T. Twysden, 1842: contains 1,940 acres: 129 houses: pop<sup>n</sup>. in 1841, 703: probable pop<sup>n</sup>. in 1849, 808: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £3,857: poor rates in 1837, £278.

CHARLETON, NORTHAMPTON. See NEWBOTTLE.

CHARLETON (QUEEN), SOMERSET, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup>. and union of Keynsham: 124 miles from London (coach road 114), 2 from Pensford, 6 from Bristol. — Gt. West. Rail. to Bristol, thence 6 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham to Bristol, &c., 138 miles. — Money orders issued at Bristol: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 9 a.m.: post closes 3½ p.m. — The living, a vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup>. of Bath, diocese of Bath and Wells, is valued at £10: pres. net income, £48: patron, Miss Dickenson: pres. incumbent, John Ireland, 1829: contains 1,060 acres: 24 houses: pop<sup>n</sup>. in 1841, 190: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £2,173: poor rates in 1837, £70. — Fair, July 20.

CHARLEY, LEICESTER, an extra-parochial liberty in the western division of the hun<sup>d</sup> of Goscoe—(which see for access, &c.): 115 miles from London, 5 from Loughborough, 5 from Kegworth. Money orders issued at Loughborough: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 10 a.m.: post closes 8½ p.m. Contains 500 acres: 7 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 40: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>: £505: poor rates in 1837, £13.

CHARLEY. See FAREWELL WITH CHARLEY.

CHARLINCHE, SOMERSET, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Cannington, union of Bridgewater, near a branch of the Parrot river: 155 miles from London (coach road 143), 4 from Bridgewater, 9 from Taunton. Gt. West. Rail. through Bristol to Bridgewater, thence 4 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Bristol to Bridgewater, &c., 169 miles. Money orders issued at Bridgewater: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 8 a.m.: post closes 8½ p.m. An old building of the fifteenth or sixteenth century, called Gotherlney House, is now used as a farm-house. The living (the Virgin Mary), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Taunton, and diocese of Bath and Wells, is valued at £9. 15s. 5d: pres. net income, £400: patron, John Starkey, Esq.: pres. incumbent, T. R. Smyth, 1846: contains 1,900 acres: 37 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 215: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>: £1,916: poor rates in 1837, £211.

CHARLTON, BERKS, a hamlet in the parish of Wantage, close upon the Berks and Wilts Canal—(which see for access, &c.): 60 miles from London, 1 from Wantage, 9 from Farringdon. Money orders issued at Wantage: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 7½ a.m.: post closes 8½ p.m. Contains 47 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 252: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>: £2,277: poor rates in 1837, £143.

CHARLTON, GLOUCESTERSHIRE, a tithing in the parish of Henbury—(which see for access, &c.): 117 miles from London, 6 from Bristol, 7 from Thornbury. Money orders issued at Bristol: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 8½ a.m.: post closes 7½ p.m. Contains 1,320 acres: 51 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 329: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 378.

CHARLTON NEAR DOVER, KENT, a parish, partly in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Bewsborough, but chiefly within the liberty of the cinque port of Dover, latho of St. Augustine, union of River: 89 miles from London (coach road 70), 1 from Dover, 6 from Folkstone. Sou. East. Rail. to Dover, thence 1 mile: from Derby, through London, &c., 221 miles. Money orders issued at Dover: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 7½ a.m.: post closes 9 p.m. It is conjectured that Charlton is the "Portus Dubris" of the Romans, anchors and fragments of wrecks having been found at various times. The living (St. Peter and St. Paul), a disch<sup>d</sup> rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Canterbury: pres. net income, £99: patron, Rev. John Monins: pres. incumbent, Charles Martyn, 1845: contains 190 acres: 315 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 2,513: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 2,890: poor rates in 1837, £551.

CHARLTON-NEXT-WOOLWICH, KENT, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Blackheath, latho of Sutton-at-Hone, union of Lewisham, bounded on the north by the river Thames: 7 miles from London Bridge, 1 from Woolwich, 4 from Deptford. London and Gravesend Rail. to Woolwich, thence 1 mile: from Derby, through London, &c., 140 miles. Money orders issued at Woolwich: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. three times each way daily. It lies about half-way between Greenwich and Woolwich, a mile and a half from each, and is a very open, airy spot, lying contiguous to Greenwich Park, Woolwich Common, and Blackheath. Woolwich Common is chiefly in this parish. There is also much ground under cultivation as market gardens. The old manor-house, the residence of the lord of the manor, Sir T. M. Wilson, Bart., stands opposite the church, and was fronted by a row of cypresses, said to be the first planted in England, one of which only remains. It was built by Sir Adam Newton, who was tutor to Prince Henry, the elder brother of Charles I.; but was slightly altered by Sir William Ducie in 1659. It contains some fine decorations and valuable portraits. The ceiling of the saloon is as left by Sir Adam Newton. In the adjoining room is a black marble chimney-piece, so highly polished, that a tale is told of Lord Downes seeing reflected in it a robbery committed—on Shooter's Hill, Plot says, but Lysons says—on Blackheath. There is a fair held upon St. Luke's day, called "Horn Fair," at which formerly a burlesque procession was formed, and passed from Deptford, through Greenwich, to Charlton, each person wearing some ornament of horn on his head; but it became a nuisance, on account of the licentious practices carried on, and was put down by Sir Thomas Spencer Wilson. The origin of the custom is unknown: some suppose that the name of the fair and the practice alluded to arose from the large number of articles made of horn which were here offered for sale: but there is a legend that it originated in a compulsory grant of King John's, made in extenuation of some act of licentiousness when he resided at Eltham. Those whose pursuits or tastes have brought them into much reading of antiquarian traditional lore, find King John to have been a most wonderful man: upon him is fathered every edifice or custom, to which no other original can be found. We, who have such research usque ad nauseam, fall in with him every day of our lives. The living (St. Luke), a rectory in the diocese of London, is valued at £10. 7s. 8½d.: pres. net income, £600: patron, Sir T. M. Wilson, Bart.: pres. incumbent, A. Drummond, 1826: contains 1,250 acres: 403 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 2,655: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 3,053: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>: £5,652: poor rates in 1837, £790. Fair, St. Luke's day.

CHARLTON. See KILMERSON.

CHARLTON. See SINGLETON, SUSSEX.

CHARLTON, WILTS, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> and union of Malmesbury: 93 miles from London (coach road 94), 2 from Malmesbury, 5 from Tetbury. Gt. West. Rail. to Tetbury Road, thence 2 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham to Tetbury Road, &c., 117 miles. Money orders issued at Malmesbury: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 7 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m. The living is a curacy to the vicarage of St. Mary, Westport, in the diocese of Gloucester and Bristol, not in charge: contains 5,940 acres: 98 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 683: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 786: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>: £6,041: poor rates in 1837, £388. Charlton Park.

CHARLTON, WILTS, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Swanborough, union of Pewsey: on the east flows the river Avon: 120 miles from London (coach road 87), 4 from Pewsey, 7 from Devizes. — Gt. West. Rail. through Chippenham to Westbury, thence 10 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham, Bristol, and Chippenham, to Westbury, &c., 161 miles. — Money orders issued at Pewsey: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 5 p.m. — The living (St. Peter), a disch<sup>d</sup> vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Wilts, and diocese of Sarum, is valued at £6. 15s. 7d.: pres. net income, £143: patron, Christ Church, Oxford: pres. incumbent, W. H. Skrine, 1848: contains 1,290 acres: 38 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 201: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £1,926: poor rates in 1837, £121.

CHARLTON, WORCESTER, a hamlet in the parish of Cropthorne—(which see for access, &c.): 104 miles from London, 4 from Pershore, 10 from Tewkesbury. — Money orders issued at Pershore: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 6½ p.m. — Contains 67 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 312: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 359: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £3,225: poor rates in 1837, £151.

CHARLTON-ABBOTS, GLOUCESTER, a parish in the lower division of the hun<sup>d</sup> of Kiftsgate, union of Winchcombe: 126 miles from London (coach road 92), 3 from Winchcombe, 5 from Cheltenham. — Gt. West. Rail. to Cheltenham, thence 5 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham to Cheltenham, &c., 90 miles. — Money orders issued at Cheltenham: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8½ a.m.: post closes 7½ p.m. — The living, a perpetual curacy in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Gloucester and Bristol, is valued at £6: pres. net income, £60: patron, Chamberlain Chamberlain, Esq.: pres. incumbent, J. Tucker, 1831: contains 2,190 acres: 21 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 101: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £949: poor rates in 1837, £48.

CHARLTON (ADAM) (or EAST CHARLTON), SOMERSET, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Somerton, union of Langport: 169 miles from London (coach road 122), 3 from Somerton, 4 from Ilchester. — Gt. West. Rail. through Bristol to Bridgewater, thence 18 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Bristol to Bridgewater, &c., 183 miles. — Money orders issued at Somerton: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 4½ p.m. — The living (St. Peter and St. Paul), a disch<sup>d</sup> vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Wells, and diocese of Bath and Wells, is valued at £6. 17s. 4d.: pres. net income, £137: patron, John Barney, Esq.: pres. incumbent, John Barney, 1840: contains, with Charlton-Mackrel, 3,910 acres: 94 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 472: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 542: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £1,452: poor rates in 1837, £131.

CHARLTON (EAST AND WEST.) See BELLINGHAM, NORTHUMBERLAND.

CHARLTON (KING'S), GLOUCESTER, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> and union of Cheltenham: 123 miles from London (coach road 96), 2 from Cheltenham, 9 from Gloucester. — Gt. West. Rail. to Cheltenham, thence 2 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham to Cheltenham, &c., 87 miles. — Money orders issued at Cheltenham: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 7½ a.m.: post closes 8½ p.m. — The living is a perpetual curacy, with that of Cheltenham, in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Gloucester and Bristol, not in charge: pres. net income, £177: patron, Jesus College, Oxford: pres. incumbent, J. F. S. Gabb, 1834: contains 5,020 acres: 452 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 3,232: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 3,717: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £5,863: poor rates in 1837, £475.

CHARLTON (NORTH), NORTHUMBERLAND, a township in the parish of Ellingham—(which see for access, &c.): 314 miles from London, 6 from Alnwick, 9 from Belford. — Money orders issued at Alnwick: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 1½ p.m.: post closes 6½ p.m. — Contains 43 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 238: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £2,389: poor rates in 1837, £53.—(Other returns with the parish.)

CHARLTON (SOUTH), NORTHUMBERLAND, a township in the parish of Ellingham—(which see for access, &c.): 313 miles from London. — Contains 36 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 188: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £1,712: poor rates in 1837, £31.—(Other returns with the parish.)

CHARLTON-UPON-OTMOOR, OXFORD, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Ploughley, union of Bicester, east of the Roman Road, and bounded on the east and south by the river Ray: it includes the hamlet of Fencot and Muroot: 71 miles from London (coach road 58), 5 from Bicester, 8 from Oxford. — Gt. West. Rail. to Oxford, thence 8 miles: from Derby, through Rugby and Banbury to Oxford, &c., 103 miles. — Money orders issued at Oxford: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9½ a.m.: post closes 4 p.m. — The church is an interesting structure of the 13th or 14th century. The Baptists and Wesleyan Methodists each have chapels here, and there is a Primitive Methodist chapel at Muroot. — The living, a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Oxford, is valued at £21. 9s. 4½d.: patron, Queen's College, Oxford: pres. incumbent, George Riggs, 1846: contains 1,810 acres: 136 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 658: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 756: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £2,892: poor rates in 1837, £112.

CHARLTON-HORETHORNE, SOMERSET, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Horethorne, union of Wincanton: 176 miles from London (coach road 112), 5 from Wincanton, 9 from Ilchester. — Gt. West. Rail. to Bridgewater, thence 25 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Bristol to Bridgewater, &c., 189 miles. — Money orders issued at Wincanton: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9½ a.m.: post closes 3½ p.m. — The living (St. Peter and St. Paul), a disch<sup>d</sup> vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Wells, diocese of Bath and Wells, is valued at £8. 10s. 5d.: pres. net income, £384: patron, Marquis of Anglesea: pres. incumbent, J. F. S. Phabayn, 1845: contains 2,340 acres: 88 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 569: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 654: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £3,524: poor rates in 1837, £340.

CHARLTON-MACKREL, SOMERSET, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Somerton, union of Langport, on the river Carey: 166 miles from London (coach road 122), 3 from Somerton, 4 from Ilchester. — Gt. West. Rail. through Bristol to Bridgewater, thence 15 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Bristol to Bridgewater, &c., 179 miles. — Money orders issued at Somerton: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 4½ p.m. — The living (the Virgin Mary), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Wells, and diocese of Bath and Wells, is valued at £16. 0s. 2½d.: pres. net income, £499: patron, Rev. W. T. P. Brymer: pres. incumbent, W. T. P. Brymer, 1821: contains, with Charlton-Adam, 3,910 acres: 67 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 405: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 466: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £1,539: poor rates in 1837, £170.

CHARLTON-MARSHALL, DORSET, a parish in the hund<sup>d</sup>. of Cogdean, union of Blandford, Shaston (East) division of the county, bounded on the east by the river Stour: 123 miles from London (coach road 101), 2 from Blandford, 1 from Spetisbury. —Sou. West. Rail. through Southampton to Wimborne station, thence 8 miles: from Derby, through Rugby, Oxford, Reading, and Southampton, to Wimborne, &c., 212 miles. —Money orders issued at Blandford: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 7½ a.m.: post closes 7½ p.m. —The living is a curacy, annexed to the rectory of Spetisbury, formerly in the archd<sup>r</sup>. of Dorset, diocese of Bristol, now in the diocese of Sarum, not in charge, having jointly a pres. net income of £517: patron, R. Pryor, Esq.: pres. incumbent, R. V. Pryor, 1841: contains 2,100 acres: 67 houses: pop<sup>n</sup>. in 1841, 395: probable pop<sup>n</sup>. in 1849, 454: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £1,260. —Charlton Hall; N.E., Langton Hall — (for which see LANETON.) —Charlton-Marshall is the seat of S. White White, Esq. His patronymic was Driver, but, in 1835, by royal sign-manual, he assumed the surname and arms of White, and succeeded to the estates of his maternal uncle, S. White, Esq., who died in 1822, aged 62. He was a lineal descendant of Thomas White, Esq., merchant, who, in 1553, represented the borough of Poole in parliament. From him descended Captain Samuel White, who brought the estate of Charlton-Marshall into the family by his marriage with Edith, heir of John Watson, Esq. of Charlton-Marshall, from whom descended Samuel White, Esq., on whose death his nephew succeeded as above.

CHARLTON-MUSGRAVE, SOMERSET, a parish in the hund<sup>d</sup>. of Norton-Ferris, union of Wincanton, on the river Cale: 127 miles from London (coach road 106), 1 from Wincanton, 4 from Bruton. —Gt. West. Rail. through Chippenham to Westbury, thence 17 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Bristol to Westbury, &c., 187 miles. —Money orders issued at Wincanton: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 8½ a.m.: post closes 4½ p.m. —The living (St. Stephen), a rectory in the archd<sup>r</sup>. of Wells, and diocese of Bath and Wells, is valued at £13. 10s.: pres. net income, £463: patron, Rev. Paul Leir: pres. incumbent, Charles M. Leir, 1845: contains 2,180 acres: 75 houses: pop<sup>n</sup>. in 1841, 409: probable pop<sup>n</sup>. in 1849, 470: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £3,371: poor rates in 1837, £190.

CHARLWOOD, SURREY, a parish in the first division of the hund<sup>d</sup>. and union of Reigate: 29 miles from London (coach road 33), 6 from Reigate, 7 from Dorking. —Brighton Rail. to Horley station, thence 4 miles: from Derby, through London, &c., 161 miles. —Money orders issued at Reigate: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 8½ a.m.: post closes 7½ p.m. —The living (St. Nicholas), a rectory in the peculiar jurisdiction of the Archbishop of Canterbury, is valued at £19. 16s. 8d.: pres. net income, £550: patron, Rev. H. Wise: pres. incumbent, Henry Wise, 1805: contains 6,290 acres: 159 houses: pop<sup>n</sup>. in 1841, 1,291: probable pop<sup>n</sup>. in 1849, 1,485: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £5,079: poor rates in 1837, £864. —Charlwood Park.

CHARMINSTER, DORSET, a parish in the hund<sup>d</sup>. of St. George, union and division of Dorchester, on a branch of the river Frome: 143 miles from London (coach road 120), 2 from Dorchester, 15 from Bridport. —Sou. West. Rail. through Southampton to Dorchester, thence 2 miles: from Derby, through Rugby, Oxford, Reading, and Southampton, to Dorchester, &c., 232 miles. —Money orders issued at Dorchester: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 8½ a.m.: post closes 8 p.m. —The living (the Virgin Mary) is a perpetual curacy, with the vicarage of Stratton, in the peculiar jurisdiction of the Dean of Salisbury, not in charge: pres. net income, £137: patron, Rev. G. Pickard: pres. incumbent, Charles Tucker, 1838: contains 4,910 acres: 107 houses: pop<sup>n</sup>. in 1841, 827: probable pop<sup>n</sup>. in 1849, 951: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £5,255: poor rates in 1837, £231.

CHARMOUTH, DORSET, a parish in the hund<sup>d</sup>. of Whitechurch Canonycorum, Bridport division, union of Axminster: 166 miles from London (coach road 141), 6 from Axminster. —Sou. West. Rail. through Southampton to Dorchester, thence 25 miles: from Derby, through Rugby, Oxford, Reading, and Southampton, to Dorchester, &c., 255 miles. —Money orders issued here: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 8 a.m.: post closes 6.10 p.m. —Charmouth derives its name from its situation at the mouth of the river Char; it is an ancient and very interesting village, supposed by Mr. Baxter to be the Carixa of Ravennas. Two considerable battles were fought in its vicinity by the Saxons and the Danes—the former about the year 833, when King Egbert was defeated, and his army obliged to retire with precipitation from the field; but the Danes, fearing a second attack from the obstinacy of the defence, resigned the advantage of their victory, and returned hastily to their ships without plunder. The second of these engagements was fought about seven years later, when the Saxons again suffered a disaster under Ethelwolf; but the Danes, as in the previous case, were again fearful of using their success, and took to their ships. The village is also famous as having been the scene of a very narrow escape of Charles II., after his flight from the field of Worcester. Lord Wilmot, one of his attendants, having stopped to get his horse shod, the suspicions of the blacksmith were aroused by the form of the shoe which he took off. He surmised that the fugitives came from the north, raised an alarm, and the king very narrowly escaped from being taken. A very remarkable phenomenon occurred here, in August 1531, of which Hutchins, in his History of Dorsetshire, says—After very hot weather in that month, followed by sudden rains, the cliffs near Charmouth began to smoke, and soon after to burn with a visible but subtle flame. The same phenomena were observed at intervals, especially after rains, till winter; the flame, however, was not visible by day, except the sun shone, when the cliffs appeared at a distance as if covered with pieces of glass which reflected the rays; at night the flame was visible at a distance, but when the spectator drew near, he could perceive only smoke. On examining the cliffs, a great quantity of martial pyrites was found with marcasites, that yielded nearly a tenth of common sulphur, cornua ammoniac, and other shells and belemnites, all encrusted with pyritical matter. These substances were interspersed in large masses through the earth, which consisted of a dark-coloured loam, impregnated with bitumen to the depth of forty feet. There was also found a dark-coloured substance, like coal cinder, which, being chemically treated, appeared to be a martial vitriol. Charmouth, from its delightful situation, is much frequented as a watering-place. On Christmas Eve, 1839, another remarkable phenomenon occurred here, the new road from Charmouth to Lyme being destroyed by an earthquake. The shock was felt all along the coast between Lyme and Seaton, and at a place called Downlands, a quarter of a mile from the sea, it was perceived that a large portion of ground, on which there were several cottages, orchards, and a coppice, had been separated from the main-land, leaving a huge chasm in a lateral direction, between Sidmouth and Seaton, upwards of four miles long. The convulsions by which this rent was occasioned continued for three days, and a huge rock, fifty feet high, appeared in the sea, off Culverhole, close by. The rocks on the coast did not seem to have been in any way disrupted, but the whole had been bodily separated in a mass from the ground to which it was previously joined. The living (St. Matthew), a disch<sup>d</sup> rectory, formerly in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Dorset, and diocese of Bristol, now in the diocese of Sarum, is valued at £8. 16s. 8d.: pres. net income, £150: patron, certain Trustees: pres. incumbent, E. R. Breton, 1843: contains 790 acres: 119 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 620: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 713: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £1,779: poor rates in 1837, £236.

CHARNDON, BUCKINGHAM, a hamlet in the parish of Twyford—(which see for access, &c.): 51 miles from London, 7 from Buckingham, 13 from Aylesbury. Money orders issued at Buckingham: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 6½ p.m. Contains 1,880 acres: 35 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 190: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £1,335: poor rates in 1837, £114.

CHARNESS, STAFFORD, a township, formerly a chapelry, in the parish of Eccleshall, near the river Sow—(which see for access, &c.): 151 miles from London, 4 from Eccleshall, 9 from Newcastle. Money orders issued at Eccleshall: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 8 p.m. Contains 570 acres: 14 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 98.—(Other returns with the parish.)

CHARNEY, BERKS, a chapelry in the parish of Longworth, north of the river Ock—(which see for access, &c.): 63 miles from London, 4 from Wantage, 7 from Farringdon. Money orders issued at Wantage: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 8 p.m. The living is a chapelry in the parish of Longworth: contains 1,220 acres: 58 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 275: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £2,282: poor rates in 1837, £214.

CHARNHAM-STREET, WILTS, a tithing in the parish of Hungerford—(which see for access, &c.): 65 miles from London, 1 from Hungerford, 7 from Marlborough. Money orders issued at Hungerford: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 7½ a.m.: post closes 7 p.m. Contains 2,490 acres: 68 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 401: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 461.

CHARNOCK-HEATH, LANCASTER, a township in the parish of Standish—(which see for access, &c.): 205 miles from London, 3 from Chorley, 8 from Wigan. Money orders issued at Chorley: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8½ a.m.: post closes 6 p.m.

Contains 1,560 acres: 142 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,062: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,221: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £2,769: poor rates in 1837, £207.

CHARNOCK-RICHARD, LANCASTER, a township in the same parish—(which see for access, &c.): 208 miles from London. Contains 2,070 acres: 120 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 784: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 902: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £3,690: poor rates in 1837, £189.

CHARSFIELD, SUFFOLK, a parish in the hund<sup>l</sup> of Loes: 83 miles from London (coach road 79), 5 from Woodbridge, 10 from Ipswich. East. Co<sup>t</sup> Rail. through Ipswich to Claydon station, thence 10 miles: from Derby, through London, &c., 215 miles. Money orders issued at Woodbridge: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8½ a.m.: post closes 8½ p.m. The church is a neat structure, with a tower, and has lately been repaired. There is a Baptist chapel here. The living (St. Peter), a perpetual curacy in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Suffolk, and diocese of Norwich, is valued at £8: pres. net income, £100: patron, Earl Howe: pres. incumbent, W. B. Bransby, 1833: contains 1,650 acres: 68 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 551: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 633: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £1,903: poor rates in 1837, £325. Tithes commuted in 1839.

CHART AND PITFOLD, SURREY, a tithing in the parish of Frensham—(which see for access, &c.): 40 miles from London, 5 from Farnham, 7 from Godalmin. Money orders issued at Farnham: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8½ a.m.: post closes 6½ p.m. Contains 105 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 883: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,016.—(Other returns with the parish.)

CHART-NEXT-SUTTON-VALENCE, KENT, a parish in the hund<sup>l</sup> of Eyborne, lathe of Aylesford, union of Hollingbourn: 56 miles from London (coach road 38), 4 from Maidstone, 12 from Tunbridge. Sou. East. Rail. to Marden, thence 5 miles: from Derby, through London, &c., 188 miles. Money orders issued at Maidstone: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 8 p.m. The remains of the old castle, supposed to be of Saxon origin, though not extensive, are very picturesque; they are mantled with ivy, and crown the summit of a lofty hill. There is a most extensive view from the high grounds at the back of the village, over the weald of Kent, as far as the Sussex hills. The living (St. Michael), a vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Canterbury, is valued at £8. 12s. 8½d.: patron, Dean and Chapter of Rochester: pres. incumbent, W. A. Vaughan, 1836: contains 2,100 acres: 103 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 604: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 695: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £3,015: poor rates in 1837, £466. On the hill is the seat of Charles Hoar, Esq., and near to it is Prospect House, the seat of John Willes, Esq.—At Sutton-Valence is Ivy Cot, the residence of Sir Alexander Morrison, M.D.—East Sutton Place is the seat of Sir Edmund Filmer, Bart. The family of Filmer was originally seated at Herst, in the parish of Otterden, in the reign of Edward II., where they remained until the time of Elizabeth, when Robert Filmer, Esq., a prothonotary in the Court of Common Pleas, purchased a considerable estate at East Sutton, and settled there. The grandson of that gentleman, Sir Robert Filmer, Knight, was a zealous adherent of Charles I., and had his house plundered no less than ten times during the civil war, for his attachment to the royal cause. His son, Robert Filmer, Esq., was, in 1674, created a baronet, and from him the present baronet is the eighth in descent. Sir Edmund Filmer assumed the title and estates in 1834, on the death of his uncle, the Rev. Sir John Filmer. Sir Edmund has represented the county in parliament ever since the year 1838.—N. is Wierton House, late the seat of Thomas Fairfax Best, Esq., deceased, and now the property of William Moore, Esq., whose grandfather, James Best, Esq. of Park House, was high sheriff of Kent in 1751, and whose father, George Best, Esq. of Chilstone Park, represented Rochester in the House of Commons, in 1790. Mr. Best was formerly an officer in the 1st Foot Guards, a magistrate, and deputy-lieutenant of the county.

CHART (GREAT), KENT, a parish in the hund<sup>d</sup> of Chart and Longbridge, lathe of Scray, union of West Ashford: 69 miles from London (coach road 53), 2 from Ashford, 9 from Tenterden.—Sou. East. Rail. to Ashford, thence 2 miles: from Derby, through London, &c., 201 miles.—Money orders issued at Ashford: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 7½ a.m.: post closes 9 p.m.—The living (the Virgin Mary), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Canterbury, is valued at £25. 6s. 4d.: pres. net income, £668: patron, Archbishop of Canterbury: pres. incumbent, W. R. Lyall: contains 3,190 acres: 120 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 714: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 821: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £3,960: poor rates in 1837, £372. The tithes were commuted in 1839.—Fair, first Monday in April, for horses, cattle, and pedlery.

CHART (LITTLE), KENT, a parish in the hund<sup>d</sup> of Calehill, lathe of Scray, union of West Ashford: 65 miles from London (coach road 54), 2 from Charing, 5 from Ashford.—Sou. East. Rail. to Pluckley station, thence 3 miles: from Derby, through London, &c., 197 miles.—Money orders issued at Maidstone: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8½ a.m.: post closes 5 p.m.—The living (the Virgin Mary), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Canterbury, is valued at £13. 10s. 10d.: pres. net income, £298: patron, Archbishop of Canterbury: pres. incumbent, J. V. Hamilton, 1838: contains 1,590 acres: 48 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 300: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 345: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £2,232: poor rates in 1837, £196.—Cale Hill.

CHARTER-HOUSE ON MENDIP, SOMERSET, a village in the parish and liberty of Witham friary—(which see for access, &c.): 126 miles from London, 8 from Wells, 5 from Axbridge.—Money orders issued at Wells: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 4½ p.m.—Contains 2,410 acres: 17 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 99: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £482: poor rates in 1837, £35.

CHARTER-HOUSE, MIDDLESEX, an extra-parochial liberty in Finsbury division, in the hund<sup>d</sup> of Ossulston, union of Axbridge—(for which, see LONDON.)—Contains 14 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 185.

CHARTERHOUSE-HINTON, SOMERSET, a parish in the hund<sup>d</sup> of Wellow, union of Bath: 112 miles from London (coach road 107), 5 from Bath, 7 from Frome.—Gt. West. Rail. to Bath, thence 5 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and

Bristol to Bath, &c., 148 miles.—Money orders issued at Bath: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8½ a.m.: post closes 8½ p.m.—Contains 2,890 acres: 130 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 792: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 911: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £3,313: poor rates in 1837, £208.

CHARTHAM, KENT, a parish in the hund<sup>d</sup> of Felborough, lathe of Scray, union of Bridge, on the river Stour: it includes Horton chapelry: 84 miles from London (coach road 52), 3 from Canterbury, 8 from Faversham.—Sou. East. Rail. to Canterbury, thence 3 miles: from Derby, through London, &c., 216 miles.—Money orders issued at Canterbury: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 8 p.m.—The village, which is called Certe ham in Domesday-book, is situated on a low spot on the banks of the Stour, which runs through the parish. The manor was given to the priory of Christ Church by Duke Elfrid, in 871, towards clothing the monks, who had a church here at the time of the Domesday survey. In the reign of Edward I. they had a vineyard here; and in that of his successor, they received a confirmation of the liberty of free warren. After the dissolution, it was granted by Henry VIII. to the Dean and Chapter of Canterbury, to whom it still belongs. The seat of the priors is now called the deanery, from having been frequently the country residence of the deans of Canterbury; but from the time of the Commonwealth, it has been generally held by other persons under lease from the chapter; and, about sixty or seventy years ago, the house, which stands on the opposite side of the river, about half a mile from the church, was greatly altered and enlarged. The church is a spacious cruciform structure, with an embattled tower at the west end; it contains a handsome monument, by Rysbrack, to Sir William Young and his lady, with several striking sepulchral brasses. Over Chartham Downs, which skirt the south side of the road from Ashford to Canterbury, there is an immense number of barrows or tumuli, called Danes Bankes, from which several skeletons, both male and female, have at different times been dug, together with trinkets, fibulae, and other ancient remains.—The living, a rectory, in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Canterbury, is valued at £41. 5s. 10d.: pres. net income, £531: patron, Archbishop of Canterbury: pres. incumbent, H. R. Moody, 1822: contains 4,590 acres: 160 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 974: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,120: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £4,582: poor rates in 1837, £539.—Fair, June 29.—Mystole is the seat of the Rev. Sir John Fagg, Bart., who succeeded, at the death of his father in 1822, as seventh baronet. He is lineally descended from Sir John Fagg of Wiston and Mystole, who was created a baronet in 1660, for his loyalty to Charles I. and his endeavours to bring about the Restoration; from him descended Sir Robert, who dying without issue in 1740, his title reverted to his cousin Sir William, whose son, the Rev. Sir John, rector of Chartham, was the father of the present baronet, who succeeded as above.—Chartham Park is the seat of George Leith Rompell, Esq.

CHARTINGTON, NORTHUMBERLAND, a township in the parish of Rothbury: it includes Bankland township—(which see for access, &c.): 3 miles from Rothbury.—Money orders issued at Morpeth:

London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 6 p.m.: post closes 9 p.m. —A branch of the Coquet river flows on the west of the town. —Contains 18 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 66: poor rates in 1837, £38.

CHARTLEY-LODGE, STAFFORD, an extra-parochial liberty in the southern division of the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Pirehill—(which see for access, &c.): 135 miles from London, 6 from Stafford, 6 from Uttoxeter. —Money orders issued at Stafford: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 8½ a.m.: post closes 9 p.m. —At a small distance from Chartley-Lodge, at the top of an artificial hill, stand the ruins of Chartley Castle, built by Richard Blundeville, in 1220, on his return from the Holy Land. Leland, speaking of Chartley Castle, observes—Chartley, the olde castell, is now yn ruine; but olde yerle Randal, as sum say, lay in it when he builded Deu-lenres Abbey. This castel standeth a good fute shot from the building and goodly manor place, that now is ther as the principal house of the Ferrars, and cam to them be similitude by marriage. There is a mightie large parke. On the death of Randle, this castle became the property of William Ferrers, Earl of Derby; and in the reign of Charles II., Robert Devereux, the last earl, dying without issue, the king made Sir Robert Shirley (the husband of the sister of the last earl) Lord Ferrers of Chartley. All that now remains of the castle consists of the ruins of two rounders, and a part of the wall, measuring twelve feet in diameter. The keep was circular, and was about fifty feet in diameter. A wall of brick has been erected on its foundations, and a summer-house built in it, which is now almost in ruins. It now belongs to Earl Ferrers (Washington Sewallis Shirley), Viscount Tamworth, and a baronet. He was born on 3d January, 1822. He is a descendant of Sir Ralph de Shirley, to whom, in the reign of Edward I., was given the control of the counties of Salop and Stafford, and the castle of Shrewsbury. In the same reign, he was sheriff for the counties of Derby and Nottingham. In the reign of Edward II. he was one of the justices for the county of Warwick, and afterwards sat for that county in parliament. He was succeeded by his son, Sir Thomas Shirley, Knt., who also sat for the county of Warwick. He was, it is said, famous in his time for his valour, and for the many services he rendered to the kings of England against the French. Sir Ralph Shirley, one of his descendants, distinguished himself at the battle of Agincourt, and in the subsequent French wars. From him descended George Shirley, Esq., who was made a baronet in 1611; and whose great-grandson, Sir Robert, was committed to the Tower by Cromwell, and there died, not without suspicion of poison. His second son, Sir Robert, on the death of his elder brother, succeeded him; and, in his favour, Charles II. terminated the abeyance of the ancient baronies of Ferrers, of Chartley, Bouchier, and Louvaine, and Sir Robert thus became Lord Ferrers of Chartley, &c. He was afterwards created Viscount Tamworth and Earl Ferrers by Queen Anne. From him descended the present earl, who succeeded as ninth earl, on the death of his grandfather, October 2, 1842; and, in 1844, married Augusta Annabella, daughter of Lord Edward Chichester. —Pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 64.

CHARTRIDGE, BUCKINGHAMSHIRE. See CHESHAM.

CHARWELTON, NORTHAMPTON, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Fawsley, union of Daventry: 97 miles from London (coach road 70), 5 from Daventry, 12 from Banbury. —Gt. West. Rail. through Oxford to Fenny-Compton, thence 6 miles: from Derby, through Rugby to Fenny-Compton, &c., 73 miles. —Money orders issued at Daventry: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 8½ a.m.: post closes 7 p.m. —The living (Holy Trinity), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup>. of Northampton, diocese of Peterborough, is valued at £20. 2s. 11d.: pres. net income, £582: patron, Sir C. Knightley, Bart.: contains 2,770 acres: 50 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 227: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>y</sup>. £3,575: poor rates in 1837, £123.

CHASELEY, WORCESTER, a parish, forming, with the parishes of Eldersfield and Staunton, a separate portion of the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Lower Pershore, union of Tewkesbury, bounded on the east by the river Severn: 127 miles from London (coach road 107), 3 from Tewkesbury, 7 from Upton. —Gt. West. Rail. through Stonehouse to Tewkesbury, thence 3 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham to Tewkesbury, &c., 85 miles. —Money orders issued at Tewkesbury: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 8 a.m.: post closes 7 p.m. —The living (St. John the Baptist), a perpetual curacy to the vicarage of Longdon, in the archd<sup>y</sup>. and diocese of Worcester, is valued at £5. 14s. 7d.: pres. net income, £134: patron, Vicar of Longdon: pres. incumbent, S. J. Paris: contains 1,710 acres: 53 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 364: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 418: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>y</sup>. £2,580: poor rates in 1837, £157.

CHASEWATER, CORNWALL, a hamlet, partly in the parish of St. Kea, but chiefly in the parish of Kenwyn, west division of the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Powder—(which see for access, &c.): 5 miles from Truro. —This is the principal detached village in the parish. There are two Independent and two Baptist chapels here.

CHASTLETON (or CHASTLEDON), OXFORD, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Chadlington, union of Chipping-Norton: 94 miles from London (coach road 82), 5 from Chipping-Norton, 15 from Banbury. —Gt. West. Rail. through Oxford to Stow, thence 8 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Worcester to Stow, &c., 111 miles. —Money orders issued at Chipping-Norton: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 9 a.m.: post closes 7 p.m. —A severe engagement occurred here between Canute and Edmund Ironside, in which the former was defeated. —The living (St. Mary), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup>. and diocese of Oxford, is valued at £9. 0s. 2½d.: pres. net income, £336: patron, Sir R. Westmacott: pres. incumbent, H. Westmacott, 1838: contains 1,640 acres: 42 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 239: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>y</sup>. £3,202: poor rates in 1837, £162.

CHATBURN, LANCASTER, a township in the parish of Whalley, on the southern bank of the river Ribble—(which see for access, &c.): 219 miles from London, 2 from Clitheroe, 11 from Blackburn. —Money orders issued at Clitheroe: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 10 a.m.: post closes 3½ p.m. —The living is a perpetual curacy in the diocese of Manchester: pres. net income, £165: patron, Hulme's Trustees: pres. incumbent, Robert Ingram, 1838: contains 720 acres: 105 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 611: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 703: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £1,584: poor rates in 1837, £187.

CHATHAM, KENT, a market town and parish adjoining, or forming a suburb to the city of Rochester, but chiefly in the hund<sup>d</sup> of Chatham and Gillingham, lathe of Aylesford, union of Medway, on the south-east bank of the Medway, on the north side of Chatham Hill: 32 miles from London, 1 from Rochester. — London and Gravesend Rail. to Rochester, thence 1 mile: from Derby, through London, &c., 164 miles. — Money orders issued here: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 7 a.m. and 2½ p.m.: post closes 11½ a.m. and 9 p.m. — Chatham, or, as it was formerly called, Cete-ham or Cetham, was so named from the Saxon words, Cyte, a cottage, and Ham, a village, and was anciently, before the erection of its docks and fortifications, a small village, containing nothing but cottages. The lord of the manor, at the period of the Conquest, fought upon the side of Harold, and for this reason, William, when he became king, confiscated his estates, and granted them to Crevecoeur, a Norman, whom he had brought with him to England. The building of the dockyard for the royal navy, was begun by Queen Elizabeth on the spot where now stands the ordnance wharf; she also erected Upnor Castle for its defence. It was not removed to the site it now occupies until 1622, when Charles I. made several additions to it, and greatly improved it by erecting large storehouses and new docks, into which ships could float with the tide. During the war in 1667, the vice-admiral of the Dutch, Von Ghent, with seventeen light vessels and eight fire-ships, having taken and entirely dismantled Sheerness, notwithstanding it was bravely defended by Sir Edward Spragge, sailed up the river Medway with six men of war, and five fire-ships, burnt three guard-ships in his progress, and advanced as far as Chatham, but having attacked Upnor Castle, was repulsed with considerable loss by Major Scott, who defended it. Under Charles II., still further improvements were made in the dockyard. Previous to 1760, the arsenal was chiefly defended by guard-ships in the river, by the forts on its banks, of which the principal one was Sheerness (which, since 1667, had been strengthened with additional fortifications, and mounted with heavy ordnance), and by Upnor Castle, and a small fortress, built by Charles I., called Gillingham Castle. In 1758, the spacious fortifications, called the Lines, were constructed, under the provisions of an act of parliament, which was then passed, in order to provide for the perfect security of this arsenal. During the construction of these fortifications, several Roman remains were discovered. The church is a neat structure of brick, situated on a hill near the ordnance office, and contains some elegant monuments. In the fourteenth century, the original edifice was burnt to the ground, and the pope issued a bull, granting an indulgence of one year and forty days to every one who should contribute to the erection of a new one; in 1635, the increasing population, arising from the dock, made it necessary to enlarge it. In 1828, the grave-yard being found to be too small, three acres of land, not far from the church, was given by the board of ordnance for a cemetery. The Baptists, Independents, Wesleyans, and Unitarians have places of worship. The streets are narrow; the older houses are mean in appearance, but several modern buildings have lately been added, by which it has been much improved. In 1772, an act was passed for paving and lighting the town, which greatly improved it. The dockyard is very extensive, being almost a mile in length. It is enclosed on every side, except on that looking to the river, by a high wall, and is defended by strong fortifications, the chief parts of which have recently been erected. The commissioner, and the principal officers of the dockyard, have handsome and commodious residences: the offices in various portions of the yard are well built and conveniently arranged. The warehouses and magazines are numerous and spacious: a vast quantity of stores of all kinds is always kept. These storehouses, one of which is 660 feet in length, contain every requisite for constructing and fitting out the largest ships, all-arranged so carefully, that, if necessary, a first-rate man-of-war could be equipped for sea in a few days. There is a mast-house, 240 feet long and 120 feet wide, in which there are some masts 40 yards high and 3 feet in diameter. The rope-house extends to the length of 1,110 feet, and is 50 feet in width; cables of the largest dimensions are here twisted, some of them being 100 fathoms in length, and 25 inches in circumference. The sail-loft is 210 feet long. The largest anchors are made here, and in the smiths' shop, which contains 40 forges, the iron-work used in ship-building is also manufactured. Saw-mills, at the north-eastern portion of the dock, have been recently erected, under the direction of Mr. Brunel; the sawing-room is 90 feet square, and contains the most complete machinery of every description. To the north of the mills, where the timber is stowed, is a canal, which passes under a tunnel 300 feet long into an elliptic basin 44 feet deep, from which the timber is raised by powerful machinery. On the iron pipes laid down to supply the dockyard with water are fire-plugs, from which, by opening them, a jet d'eau can be made to rise higher than the highest of the neighbouring buildings. There are four capacious wet docks, and a still larger stone dock has been recently built. In these docks are six slips or launches, in which ships of the largest size may be built. The establishment for managing the dockyard is very complete, and, in time of war, employment is usually given here to above 3,000 persons. In 1811, a chapel was erected within the walls for the accommodation of the workmen, their families, and the marines in garrison. The ordnance wharf is situated to the west of the dockyard, between the church and the river, and it is still called the Old Dock. The guns of each ship are here placed in separate tiers, the name of the ship to which they belong, with their weight of metal; and the most orderly arrangement is observed in disposing of the other munitions of war, for which Chatham is a vast arsenal. A building has recently been made for the purpose of grinding paint, and rolling and smelting lead. The fortifications called the Lines extend from above the ordnance wharf, comprising an area of one mile from south to north, and half a mile from west to east, to beyond the northern part of the dock. The church of Chatham, the village of Brompton, the barracks, magazines, &c., are included in these fortifications. Several additions were made to them during the American war, and a strong redoubt was built on the top of an eminence which commands the river. An act was passed in 1782 for the improvement of the fortifications, and they may now be considered as among the strongest and most complete fortifications in England. Pitt and Clarence forts command the upper portion of the river. They are built on the heights above the town. The former is now used as an hospital. The lower or marine barracks, adjacent to the dockyard, consist of a uniform brick edifice built round a quadrangle. The upper barracks, at Brompton, are of brick, convenient and well planned. The new artillery barracks were erected in 1804; they are a fine range of building, containing ample accommodation for 1,200 men. In 1809 the artillery hospital was erected; it is a neat edifice, containing wards for 100 patients. In 1827 a philosophical and literary institution was established for the collection of antiquities, &c. There are two subscription libraries—the United Service and the Marine. Races are held every year on the plain, outside of the Lines; the length of the course is a mile and a furlong. The Rochester and Chatham commercial and mathematical school is managed by a committee, with the assistance of a treasurer, secretary, &c.; it is situated on the Chatham and Maidstone road: its erection cost £1,600, which was paid by 100 shareholders of £15 each, who have the privilege, by paying £7 a share per annum, of sending one boy on each share to receive a classical education. There is a National School, which has a small endowment, but it is principally supported by subscription. Melville, or marine hospital, is a brick and stuccoed building, commenced in 1827, and opened the year after, built for the use of the naval department; it contains accommodation for 340 patients; the façade consists of three pavilions, but the colonnade extends along the whole front, 322 feet in length. There is an hospital for lepers, dedicated to St. Bartholomew, instituted and endowed, in 1078, by Gundulph, bishop of Rochester, of which the chapel only remains. The Dean of Rochester is the governor and patron; there are now four brethren, two of whom officiate as chaplains. In 1592, Sir John Hawkins founded an hospital here for decayed mariners and shipwrights, in which there are twelve pensioners, who have separate houses, a pension of 8s. per week, and a supply of coal; it is under the direction of twenty-six governors, five only of whom are elective. In 1588, a fund, called the "Chatham Chest," was established by Sir Francis Drake and Sir John Hawkins, for the sufferers by the Spanish armada; it is still continued for the relief of sailors who have been disabled in the national service, the sailors of the royal navy each contributing a portion of their pay towards its support. In 1802, the chest was removed to Greenwich, and the management of the funds, formerly vested in the principal naval officers, is now under the direction of the first lord of the admiralty, the comptroller of the navy, and the governor of Greenwich hospital. One portion of Chatham is within the limits of the city of Rochester, and partly within the jurisdiction of the county magistrates; and it is also within the jurisdiction of a court of requests, held at Rochester for the recovery of debts under £5. Chatham was constituted a borough, with the privilege of sending one member to parliament, by the Reform Act. The number of the constituency is about 700. The town gives the title of earl to the Pitt family.—The living (the Virgin Mary) is a perpetual curacy with the curacy of St. John, not in charge, in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Rochester: pres. net income, £961: patron, Dean and Chapter of Rochester: pres. incumbent, Matthew Irving, 1828: contains, with the city of Rochester, 6,156 acres: 2,938 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 21,431: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 24,581: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £23,222: poor rates in 1837, £5,714.—Market day, Saturday. Fairs: May 15 and Oct. 20, for horses, bullocks, &c.. Races in August.—Bankers: Branch of London and County Joint Stock Banking Co.—draw on Head Office, 21 Lombard Street; Day and Nicholson—draw on Glynn, Hallifax, & Co.—Inns: Mitre Tavern, Ship Tavern, and Sun Hotel.

CHATHILL, NORTHUMBERLAND, a township in the parish of Ellingham—(which see for access, &c.): 316 miles from London, 8 from Alnwick, 5 from Belford.—Money orders issued at Alnwick: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 2 p.m.: post closes 6 p.m.—Contains 5 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 18: poor rates in 1837, £9.

CHATLEY, ESSEX, a hamlet in the parish of Great Leighs—(which see for access, &c.): 37 miles from London, 5 from Witham, 6 from Braintree.—Money orders issued at Witham: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8½ a.m.: post closes 4½ p.m.—Contains 1,810 acres: 93 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 564: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 648: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £1,883.

CHATSWORTH, DERBY, an extra-parochial liberty in the hun<sup>d</sup> of High Peak. (See EDENSON WITH CHATSWORTH.)—The seat of the Duke of Devonshire—(for which, see BASLOW.)

CHATTERIS, CAMBRIDGE, a parish in the northern division of the hun<sup>d</sup> of Witchford, Isle of Ely, union of North Witchford: 84 miles from London (coach road 68), 9 from Ely.—Nor. and East. Co<sup>r</sup> Rail. through Cambridge and St. Ives to Chatteris station: from Derby, through Syston, Peterborough, &c., 101 miles.—Money orders issued here: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 9 p.m.—There are three Baptist and one Independent chapel here. Chatteris is a franchise under the Bishop of Ely.—The living (St. Peter and St. Paul), a vicarage in the diocese of Ely, and exempt from visitation, is valued at £10: pres. net income, £1,370: patron, Rev. M. A. Gathercole: pres. incumbent, M. A. Gathercole, 1845: contains 15,090 acres: 763 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 4,813: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 5,535: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £22,234: poor rates in 1837, £2,085.

CHATTERLEY, STAFFORD, a township in the parish of Wolstanton—(which see for access, &c.)—Contains 48 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 374: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 430.

CHATTISHAM, SUFFOLK, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> and incorporation of Samford: 72 miles from London (coach road 66), 4 from Ipswich, 4 from Had-leigh. — East. Co<sup>r</sup>. Rail. to Ipswich, thence 4 miles: from Derby, through London, &c., 204 miles. — Money orders issued at Ipswich: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 9 p.m. — Four or five of the children of this parish are educated at a school at Hintlesham, from the proceeds of a legacy of £200, left by the Rev. Thomas Warren. — The living (All Saints and St. Margaret), a disch<sup>d</sup> vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Suffolk, and diocese of Norwich, is valued at £4. 13s. 4d.: pres. net income, £168: patron, Eton College: pres. incumbent, H. S. Dickenson, 1840: contains 2,480 acres: 28 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 215: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>y</sup> £917: poor rates in 1837, £29. Tithes commuted in 1839.

CHATTON, NORTHUMBERLAND, a large parish in the eastern division of Glendale ward, union of Glendale: 357 miles from London (coach road 521), 5 from Wooler, 14 from Berwick. — Nor. West. Rail. through Rugby, Derby, York, and Newcastle, Lucker station, thence 8 miles: from Derby, through York, &c., 225 miles. — Money orders issued at Belford: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 3½ p.m.: post closes 7 p.m. — The river Till flows through the parish. — The living (Holy Cross), a vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Northumberland, and diocese of Durham, is valued at £12. 16s. ½d.: pres. net income, £189: patron, Duke of Northumberland: pres. incumbent, M. Burrell, 1844: contains 1,630 acres: 285 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,725: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,984: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>y</sup> £14,910: poor rates in 1837, £811. — N.E., New Hall; Fowberry Tower.

CHAURETH. See BROXTON.

CHAWLEY, BERKS, a tithing in the parish of Cumner — (which see for access, &c.): 59 miles from London, 3 from Oxford, 5 from Abingdon. — Money orders issued at Oxford: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 9 p.m. — Contains 17 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 94. — (Other returns with the parish.)

CHAWLEY (or CHAWLEIGH), DEVON, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of North Tawton, union of Crediton: 207 miles from London (coach road 192), 2 from Chumleigh, 8 from Crediton. — Gt. West. Rail. through Bristol and Exeter to Crediton, thence 8 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Bristol to Crediton, &c., 221 miles. — Money orders issued at Chumleigh: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9½ a.m.: post closes 2½ p.m. — The river Dart flows on the south. There are several charitable bequests to this place, the proceeds of the principal one being first applied to the repair of the church, and the surplus being distributed annually among the poor of the parish. — The living (St. James), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Barnstaple, and diocese of Exeter, is valued at £25. 14s. 2d.: pres. net income, £455: patron, Hon. N. Fellowes: pres. incumbent, P. F. Clay, 1821: contains 5,020 acres: 150 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 850: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 977: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>y</sup> £3,854: poor rates in 1837, £375. — Fairs: May 6, and December 11, for cattle: when either of these days fall on Saturday, Sunday, or Monday, the fair is held on the Tuesday.

CHAWTON, HANTS, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> and union of Alton, Alton north division of the county: 51 miles from London (coach road 40), 1 from Alton, 9 from North Alresford. — Sou. West. Rail. through Guildford to Alton, thence 1 mile: from Derby, through London, &c., 183 miles. — Money orders issued at Alton: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 7½ a.m.: post closes 7 p.m. — The village is watered by land springs, called lavants, which occasionally overflow the neighbouring grounds. — The living (St. Nicholas), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Winchester, is valued at £11. 5s. 5d.: pres. net income, £353: patron, Edward Knight, Esq.: pres. incumbent, C. B. Knight, 1837: contains 2,870 acres: 77 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 460: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 529: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>y</sup> £2,366: poor rates in 1837, £261. Tithes commuted in 1839. — Chawton House, a beautiful residence, is the seat of Edward Knight, Esq.; N., Theddton Grange.

CHAYLEY. See CHAILLY.

CHEADLE, CHESTER, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Macclesfield, union of Stockport, on a branch of the river Mersey: this parish includes the townships of Cheadle-Bulkeley, Cheadle-Moseley, Hanforth, and Bosden: 185 miles from London (coach road 172), 7 from Manchester, 2 from Stockport. — Nor. West. Rail. through Rugby to Stockport, thence 2 miles: from Derby, through Burton, &c., 85 miles. — Money orders issued at Manchester: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 10 a.m.: post closes 5 p.m. — Manufactures of cotton and silk are carried on to a considerable extent in this parish. The parochial charities are numerous, and there is, especially, a free school, in which about twenty-five young children are instructed. — The living (the Virgin Mary), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Chester, is valued at £13. 0s. 7½d.: pres. net income, £635: patron, H. D. Broughton: pres. incumbent, C. J. Cummings, 1846: contains 6,470 acres: 1,441 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 10,145: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 11,666: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>y</sup> £18,248: poor rates in 1837, £1,696.

CHEADLE, STAFFORD, a market town and parish in the south division of the hun<sup>d</sup> of Totmonslow, union of Cheadle, on the river Tean, and in the neighbourhood of the river Churnet, and of the Uttoxeter Canal: 163 miles from London (coach road 146), 11 from Newcastle. — Nor. West. Rail. through Rugby, Leicester, and Burton, to Draycot, thence 4 miles: from Derby, through Burton, &c., 41 miles. — Money orders issued here: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 7½ a.m.: post closes 7½ p.m. — The church stands on an artificial eminence, supposed to have been raised for a place of worship by the ancient Britons, which must have been a work of immense labour. The old church was an ancient and very curious edifice, the interior roof consisting of massive wooden arches, embellished with grotesque corbels; and it contained some interesting monuments. But, in 1837, it was taken down, and a new church built on its site, which, though a plain, is a very commodious structure. In connection with the mother church at Cheadle, are the district church of St. Chad's, at Freepay, 1½ miles distant, and the chapel of Oak-moor, 3 miles distant. A free school, established here in 1685, was endowed with £20 a year for teaching six children of this parish, and six of the neighbouring parish of Kingsley. The other charities are numerous. There are an Independent, a Wesleyan New Connexion Methodist, a Primitive Methodist, and a Roman Catholic chapel here. Cheadle poor-law union comprises fifteen parishes, spread over an area of 86 square miles, and has a population of about 15,000 persons. The principal trade of the place consists in the working of copper and brass, but there is a considerable quantity of tape also made here; the neighbourhood abounds with coal, in the working of which a large number of the inhabitants are employed. The ruins of Croxden abbey, founded in 1176 for Cistercian monks, stand about four miles from the town. The living (St. Giles), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Stafford, and diocese of Lichfield and Coventry, is valued at £12. 9s. 2d.: pres. net income, £438: patron, Trinity College, Cambridge: pres. incumbent, Robert Watt, 1847: contains 5,730 acres: 827 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 4,399: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 5,059: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £1,348: poor rates in 1837, £1,070. Market day, Friday. Fairs: Jan. 7, March 25, Holy Thursday, July 4, Aug. 21, Oct. 18. Bankers, Sub-Branch of Manchester and Liverpool District Banking Co.—draw on Smith, Payne, & Co. Inns, Royal Oak, and Wheatsheaf.

CHEADLE-BULKELEY, CHESTER, a township in the parish of Cheadle—(which see for access, &c.): 172 miles from London, 3 from Stockport, 8 from Manchester. Money orders issued at Stockport: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 8½ a.m.: post closes 7 p.m. Contains 2,100 acres: 723 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 5,463: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 6,282: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £8,700: poor rates in 1837, £680.

CHEADLE-MOSELEY, CHESTER, a township in the parish of Cheadle—(which see for access, &c.): 171 miles from London. Contains 2,350 acres: 364 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 2,288: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 2,631: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £5,890: poor rates in 1837, £500.

CHEAM, SURREY, a parish in the second division of the hun<sup>d</sup> of Wallington, union of Epsom: 17 miles from London (coach road 12), 2 from Ewell, 5 from Kingston. Epsom Rail. to Cheam station: from Derby through London, &c., 149 miles. Money orders issued at Epsom: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 8½ a.m.: post closes 7½ p.m. The manor was given by King Athelstan to the monks at Canterbury, with a wish, politely expressed in the Latin deed, that whoever interfered with the grant might be sent to the devil. It is remarkable that, out of six successive rectors of this place, between 1581 and 1662, five became bishops. In the churchyard lie the remains of Lady Lumley, who translated the Iphigenia of Euripides, and some of the works of Isocrates, into English. The living (St. Dunstan), a rectory in the diocese of Winchester, and a peculiar, is valued at £17. 5s. 5d.: pres. net income, £559: patron, St. John's College, Oxford: pres. incumbent, William Bennett, 1813: contains 1,850 acres: 175 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,109: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,275: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £4,805: poor rates in 1837, £549. Cheam House is the seat of Sir Edmund Antrobus, Bart., who is descended from an ancient Cheshire family, seated at Antrobus Hall in that county, a property which was alienated by one of the family in 1460, but recovered, through purchase, by the late Sir Edmund Antrobus, F.R. and S.A., who was created a baronet in 1815. The present baronet succeeded his uncle in the title and estates in 1826.

CHEAPSIDES, EAST RIDING, YORK, an extra-parochial liberty in the wapentake of Howdenshire. (Returns with BLACKTOFT.)

CHEARSLEY, BUCKINGHAM, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Ashendon, union of Aylesbury: 50 miles from London (coach road 52), 3 from Thame, 7 from Aylesbury. Nor. West. Rail. through Cheddington to Aylesbury, thence 6 miles: from Derby, through Rugby and Cheddington to Aylesbury, &c., 108 miles. Money orders issued at Thame: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 8 a.m.: post closes 8½ p.m. This is a retired village, and is, by some authors, supposed to be the Cerdicesleah of the Saxon chronicle, where Cerdic and Cynric defeated the Britons. The living (St. Nicholas), a perpetual curacy in the diocese of Oxford, is valued at £6. 15s.: pres. net income, £68: patron, Miss Grubbe: pres. incumbent, Amos Hayton, 1840: contains 1,130 acres: 47 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 308: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 354: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £1,648: poor rates in 1838, £110.

CHEBSEY, STAFFORD, a parish in the south division of the hun<sup>d</sup> of Pirehill, union of Stone, on the river Sow: 139 miles from London (coach road 145), 2 from Eccleshall, 5 from Stafford. Nor. West. Rail. through Stafford to Norton-Bridge, thence 1 mile: from Derby, through Burton and Stafford to Norton-Bridge, &c., 43 miles. Money orders issued at Eccleshall: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 8½ a.m.: post closes 8½ p.m. In the churchyard stands a lofty pyramidal-shaped stone, resembling those at Draycot and Leek. These stones are generally considered to be shafts having once carried crosses; but Dr. Plot is of opinion, that they are Danish monuments, from their similarity to such erections both in Denmark and England. The living (All Saints), a vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Stafford, diocese of Lichfield, is valued at £5. 7s. 6d.: pres. net income, £211: patron, Dean and Chapter of Lichfield: pres. incumbent, L. Panting, 1838: contains 3,760 acres: 80 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 442: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 508: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £5,834: poor rates in 1837, £124.

CHECKENDON, OXFORD, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Langtree, union of Henley: 50 miles from London (coach road 40), 6 from Henley, 6 from Wallingford. Gt. West. Rail. through Reading to Goring station, thence 5 miles: from Derby, through Rugby, Banbury, and Oxford, to Goring, &c., 120 miles. Money orders issued at Henley: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 8½ a.m.: post closes 6 p.m. This is a small village, situated under the Chiltern hills; and its church is a Norman structure of great antiquity. The living (St. Peter and St. Paul), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Oxford, is valued at £19. 9s. 4½d.: pres. net income, £555: patron, University College, Oxford: pres. incumbent, William Crabtree, 1820: contains 2,800 acres: 68 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 398: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 458: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £2,306: poor rates in 1837, £241. Tithes commuted in 1839.

CHECKLEY WITH WRINEHILL, CHESTER, a township in the parish of Wybunbury—(which see for access, &c.): 162 miles from London, 7 from Nantwich, 8 from Sandbach. Money orders issued at Nantwich: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 9 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m. — Contains 1,630 acres: 40 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 213: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup>. £1,455: poor rates in 1837, £126.

CHECKLEY AND TEAN, STAFFORD, a parish in the southern division of the hun<sup>d</sup> of Totmonslow, union of Cheadle, on the river Tean: it includes the townships of Madeley-Holme, Nether Tean, and Upper Tean: 152 miles from London (coach road 140), 4 from Uttoxeter, 5 from Cheadle. — Nor. West. Rail. through Rugby, Leicester, and Burton, to Uttoxeter, thence 4 miles: from Derby, through Burton, &c., 30 miles. — Money orders issued at Uttoxeter: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 9½ a.m.: post closes 5½ p.m. — In the churchyard are three pyramidal stones, which Gough conjectures to be Danish funeral monuments. The middlemost is the highest, but has no figure attached to it, as have the other two: the figures are rude and unmeaning. The local tradition runs—that they are the effigies of three bishops who fell in a great battle here, fought between the Danes and the English, in which the latter were victorious, though their soldiers were unarmed. Camden takes the trouble to remark, that he could not find any historical record of this event. There is a charitable bequest of £3,000, left in 1810, by John Phillips, and another of £1,000 afterwards by his widow; the interest of it to be applied to the poor of the parish, tape weavers having priority of right to it. There are also one or two other small endowments. — The living (St. Mary and All Saints), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Stafford, and diocese of Lichfield and Coventry, is valued at £20. 2s. 6d.: pres. net income, £576: patron, Rev. W. Hutchinson: pres. incumbent, W. Hutchinson, 1839: contains 5,710 acres: 444 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1831, 2,322: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 2,670: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup>. £8,425: poor rates in 1837, £814. — Fairs, April 10 and Nov. 12, for pedlery.

CHEDBURGH, SUFFOLK, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Risbridge, union of Thingoe: 101 miles from London (coach road 68), 6 from Bury St. Edmund's, 7 from Clare. — East. Co<sup>t</sup>. Rail. to Bury St. Edmund's, thence 6 miles: from Derby, through Syston, Peterborough, and Norwich, to Bury, &c., 166 miles. — Money orders issued at Bury St. Edmund's: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 8½ a.m.: post closes 7½ p.m. — The living (All Saints) is a rectory in the diocese of Ely: patron, Marquis of Bristol: pres. incumbent, George Ingram, 1839: contains 550 acres: 53 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 284: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup>. £645: poor rates in 1837, £62. — Baggondestfield Hall.

CHEDDER, SOMERSET, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Winterstoke, union of Axbridge, at the foot of the Mendip hills: it includes, for ecclesiastical purposes, Nyland: 148 miles from London (coach road 129), 2 from Axbridge, 8 from Wells. — Gt. West. Rail. through Bristol to Weston-super-Mare, thence 10 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Bristol to Weston, &c., 161 miles. — Money orders issued at Wells, Somerset: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 7½ a.m.: post closes 5 p.m. — The parish extends from the middle summit of the Mendip hills, a considerable way into the moors. The village is situated at the foot of the Cheddar cliffs, at the mouth of a deep gorge or ravine, which extends two or three miles. From the hills issue several copious streams of remarkably pure water, which unite and form the river Cheddar, which name is supposed to be derived from Ced, a conspicuous brow or height, and dor, water. This stream is of considerable importance at its very source, for within a few hundred yards it supplies power to several paper-mills, and some grist-mills, after which, it winds over the level ground at the foot of the hills, till it falls into the Axe. In 1839, the proprietor of one of the mills, in clearing away some portion of the side of the hill to enlarge his premises, opened into a series of caverns, until then unknown, which are very remarkable for the beauty of the calcareous incrustations which cover their sides, and of the stalactites and stalagmites on the roofs and floors. The proprietor having taken great pains in the preservation of them, and having made the access to the caverns convenient and easy, it would perhaps be impossible to obtain a view of these striking and beautifully fantastic effects of nature's mysterious operations, equal to that which may be seen here. The poor of this place have the benefit of a rich bequest left by Sarah Comers in 1752, producing, according to the return made to the House of Commons, £181. 11s. 4d. per annum. Every epicure in the kingdom knows the name of Cheddar; for this place has long held the reputation for its cheese, which it still maintains. Camden says of it—that it is famous for the excellent and prodigious great cheeses made there, some of which require more than one man's strength to set them on the table. In olden times, Cheddar had a considerable market; but it has been long discontinued. — The living (St. Andrew), a vicarage and a peculiar of the dean and chapter of Wells, is valued at £23. 16s. 8d.: pres. net income, £203: patron, Dean and Chapter of Wells: pres. incumbent, Richard a'Court Beadon, 1836: contains 6,690 acres: 393 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 2,325: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, same: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup>. £8,434: poor rates in 1837, £397. — Froglands, the residence of T. Gilling, Esq. — The House, the seat of Samuel Birch, Esq.

CHEDDINGTON, BUCKINGHAM, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Cottisloe, union of Leighton-Buzzard: 37 miles from London (coach road 39), 2 from Ivenhoe, 6 from Leighton-Buzzard. — Nor. West. Rail. to Cheddington: from Derby, through Rugby to Cheddington, 95 miles. — Money orders issued at Tring: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 8 a.m.: post closes 5½ p.m. — The living (St. Giles), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Oxford, is valued at £15. 9s. 7d.: pres. net income, £233: patron, Countess of Bridgewater: pres. incumbent, J. Weighell, 1845: contains 1,170 acres: 67 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 439: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 505: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup>. £1,602: poor rates in 1837, £239.

CHEDDLETON (or CHEDLETON), STAFFORD, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Totmonslow, union of Cheadle, intersected by the Caldon Canal: it includes the townships of Basford and Cunsall: 166 miles from London (coach road 150), 3 from Leek, 5 from Cheadle. — Nor. West. Rail. through Rugby, Leicester, and Burton, to Hanley station, thence 6 miles: from Derby, through Burton to Hanley, &c., 46 miles. — Money orders issued at Leek: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 9 a.m.: post closes 5 p.m.

—It is mentioned in Doomsday-book as belonging to William, who held it of Roger de Montgomery, Earl of Arundel, &c., and that it belonged to Wersley in Alstonfield. In the time of William Rufus, it was held by one Sisardus, whose descendant in the fourth generation assumed the name of Sisard of Chettleton, and his descendants retained that name. In the time of King John, William de Chettleton gave the lordship of Cunsell to Philip Draycot. Cunsall is a township in this parish. The manor afterwards passed, by marriage, into the Egerton family. —The living (St. Edward), a perpetual curacy in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Stafford, diocese of Lichfield and Coventry, is valued at £7. 15s. 10d.: pres. net income, £160: patron, Rev. Edward Powys: pres. incumbent, Edward Powys, 1816: contains 9,080 acres: 304 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,824: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 2,098: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £6,778: poor rates in 1837, £556.

CHEDDON-FITZPAINE, SOMERSET, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Taunton and Taunton-Dean, union of Taunton: 166 miles from London (coach road 139), 3 from Taunton, 7 from Bridgewater. —Gt. West. Rail. through Bristol to Taunton, thence 3 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Bristol to Taunton, &c., 180 miles. —Money orders issued at Taunton: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 7½ p.m. —The living, a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Taunton, diocese of Bath and Wells, is valued at £13. 10s. 10d.: pres. net income, £584: patron, Rev. F. Warre: pres. incumbent, Francis Warre, 1800: contains 1,050 acres: 41 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 357: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 410: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £2,227: poor rates in 1837, £173.

CHEDGRAVE, NORFOLK, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Loddon, union of Loddon and Clavering, on the north bank of the small river Thirn, a branch of the river Yare: 142 miles from London (coach road 103), 8 from Beccles, 12 from Norwich. —Nor. and East. Co<sup>r</sup> Rail. through Peterborough and Norwich to Reedham station, thence 4 miles: from Derby, through Syston, Peterborough, Norwich, &c., 182 miles. —Money orders issued at Beccles: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 3½ p.m. —The living (All Saints), a disch<sup>d</sup> rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Norfolk, diocese of Norwich, is valued at £5. 6s. 8d.: pres. net income, £231: patron, Sir W. B. Proctor, Bart.: pres. incumbent, W. H. Beauchamp, 1843: contains 900 acres: 76 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 348: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 400: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,904: poor rates in 1837, £108. —N.E., Langley Park—(for which see LANGLEY.)

CHEDINGTON, DORSET, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Beaminster, Forum, and Redhone, union of Beaminster, Bridport division of the county: 159 miles from London (coach road 132), 4 from Beaminster, 9 from Chard. —Sou. West. Rail. through Southampton to Dorchester, thence 18 miles: from Derby, through Rugby, Oxford, Reading, and Southampton, to Dorchester, &c., 248 miles. —Money orders issued at Beaminster: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8½ a.m.: post closes 4½ p.m. —It stands very high, overlooking the surrounding country. —The living (St. James), a disch<sup>d</sup> rectory, formerly in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Dorset, diocese of Bristol, now in the diocese of Sarum, is valued at £8. 8s. 4d.: pres. net income, £128: patron, William T. Cox, Esq.: pres. incumbent, John C. Cox, 1846: contains 2,690 acres: 31 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 186: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,584: poor rates in 1837, £109. —Chedington Court.

CHEDISTON, SUFFOLK, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> and union of Blything: 111 miles from London (coach road 100), 2 from Halesworth, 9 from Bungay. —East. Co<sup>r</sup> Rail. through Haughley Road station to Palgrave, thence 15 miles: from Derby, through Syston, Peterborough, and Norwich, to Palgrave, &c., 203 miles. —Money orders issued at Halesworth: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m. —The town estate, called Chesten Town Farm, has been in trust since the time of Henry VII., for the repairs of the church, and the payment of other charges incidental to the office of churchwarden. —The living (the Virgin Mary) is a disch<sup>d</sup> vicarage, united with the rectory of Halesworth, and having jointly a pres. net income of £450: patron, Mrs. Jos. Badeley: pres. incumbent, J. C. Badeley, 1839: contains 1,910 acres: 73 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 433: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 498: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £2,421: poor rates in 1837, £360. Tithes commuted in 1839. —Chediston House.

CHEDWORTH, GLOUCESTER, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Rapsgate, union of Northleach: 102 miles from London (coach road 86), 5 from Northleach, 7 from Cirencester. —Gt. West. Rail. to Cirencester, thence 7 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Stonehouse to Cirencester, &c., 119 miles. —Money orders issued at Northleach: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8½ a.m.: post closes 5½ p.m. —On this place was formerly grounded the title of baron on the Howe family; the barony is now extinct. —The living, a vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Bristol, diocese of Gloucester and Bristol, is valued at £7. 8s. 4d.: pres. net income, £302: patron, Queen's College, Oxford: pres. incumbent, Arthur Gibson, 1828: contains 4,890 acres: 223 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 983: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,130: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> 4,727: poor rates in 1837, £449.

CHEDZOY, SOMERSET, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of North Petherton, union of Bridgewater: 154 miles from London (coach road 133), 3 from Bridgewater, 10 from Glastonbury. —Gt. West. Rail. through Bristol to Bridgewater, thence 3 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Bristol to Bridgewater, &c., 168 miles. —Money orders issued at Bridgewater: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 8½ p.m. —The living (St. Mary), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Taunton, diocese of Bath and Wells, is valued at £38. 7s. 11d.: pres. net income, £480: patron, Rev. G. H. Nutting: pres. incumbent, G. H. Nutting, 1847: contains 1,570 acres: 87 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 507: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 583: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £4,761: poor rates in 1837, £330.

CHEESEBURN-GRANGE, NORTHUMBRIA, a township in the parish of Stanfildham—(which see for access, &c.): 284 miles from London, 11 from Newcastle, 11 from Morpeth. —Money orders issued at Newcastle-on-Tyne: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 10 a.m.: post closes 12 p.m. —Before the dissolution, it belonged to Hexham priory: it afterwards passed through the hands of the Swinburne family, to the Widdingtons, from whom it descended, in the female line, to Ralph Riddell, Esq., the grandfather of the present owner, E. Riddell, Esq. Contains 13 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 56: poor rates in 1837, £28. The tithes were commuted in 1839.

CHEETHAM, LANCASTER, a chapelry in the parish of Manchester—(which see for access, &c.): 188 miles from London, 2 from Manchester, 9 from Bolton. Money orders issued at Manchester: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 8½ a.m.: post closes 6½ p.m. Smedley Hall, an ancient mansion here, was the residence of the Chetham family, who long lived here; the last member of it died in 1768. Of this family was Humphrey Chetham, who is mentioned by Fuller among his "Worthies of England." He was a younger son of the owner of the Crumpsal estate, in the parish of Manchester, and, embarking in the cotton trade, made a large fortune. Fuller says, he was a diligent reader of the Scriptures and of the works of sound divines, a respecter of such ministers as he accounted truly godly, upright, sober, discreet, and sincere. He was high sheriff of the county of Lancaster, A.D. 1635, discharging that office with great honour, insomuch that very good gentlemen of birth and estate did wear his cloth at the assize, to testify their unfeigned affection to him, &c. He also tells us, with regard to Mr. Chetham's family, that it is thought, on good grounds, to descend from Sir Jeffrey Chetham of Chetham, a man of much remark in former days, and some old writings, in the hands of worshipful persons not far remote from the place, do evidence as much. Mr. Humphrey Chetham left large property to found an institution for forty boys, to be selected from several of the neighbouring towns (the number is now eighty); and also for the foundation of the fine library and college which adorn Manchester. He further bequeathed £200 to purchase "Godly English Books," to be chained upon desks in the churches of Manchester and Bolton, and the chapels of Turton, Walmesley, and Gorton. His will is dated 16th December, 1651, and his trustees were made a body corporate by charter of Charles II. Contains 1,110 acres: 727 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 6,082: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 6,994: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £8,651: poor rates in 1837, £914.

CHELBOROUGH (EAST), DORSET, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Tollerford, union of Beaminster, Dorchester division of the county: 126 miles from London, 6 from Beaminster, 8 from Sherborne. (For access, see following article.) Money orders issued at Yeovil: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 11 a.m.: post closes 3½ p.m. Within the parish, on a hill, is the site of an ancient castle, which is visible from a great distance. The living, a disch<sup>d</sup> rectory, formerly in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Dorset and diocese of Bristol, now in the diocese of Sarum, is valued at £8: pres. net income, £242: patron, Rev. B. Cooper: pres. incumbent, B. Cooper, 1809: contains 1,450 acres: 13 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 96: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £1,922: poor rates in 1837, £21. Tithes commuted in 1839.

CHELBOROUGH (WEST), DORSET, a parish in the same hun<sup>d</sup>, union, and county: 158 miles from London (coach road 128), 17 from Dorchester, 4 from Beaminster. Sou. West. Rail. through Southampton to Dorchester, thence 17 miles: from

Derby, through Rugby, Oxford, Reading, and Southampton, to Dorchester, &c., 247 miles. Money orders issued at Dorchester: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 9 a.m.: post closes 5½ p.m. The Rev. B. Cooper, the incumbent of East Chelborough, is lord of the manor of both East and West Chelborough. The living, a disch<sup>d</sup> rectory, formerly in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Dorset and diocese of Bristol, now in the diocese of Sarum, is valued at £4. 15s. 7½d.: pres. net income, £88: patron, Lord Rolle and J. Bragge, Esq.: pres. incumbent, Francis Duncan, 1840: contains 590 acres: 12 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 58: poor rates in 1837, £32. Tithes commuted in 1839. E., Melbury House—(for which, see MELBURY STAPLEFORD.)

CHELDON, DEVON, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Witheridge, union of South Molton, on the southern bank of the Dart river: 208 miles from London (coach road 181), 3 from Chumleigh, 9 from Crediton. Gt. West. Rail. through Bristol and Exeter to Crediton, thence 9 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham, Bristol, and Exeter, to Crediton, &c., 222 miles. Money orders issued at Chumleigh: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 10 a.m.: post closes 2 p.m. The living (the Virgin Mary), a disch<sup>d</sup> rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Barnstaple, and diocese of Exeter, is valued at £4. 18s. 6½d.: pres. net income, £114: patron, Hon. N. Fellowes: pres. incumbent, Richard S. Bryan, 1844: contains 1,610 acres: 19 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 90: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £601: poor rates in 1837, £30.

CHELFORD, CHESTER, a chapelry in the parish of Prestbury—(which see for access, &c.): 169 miles from London, 7 from Macclesfield, 4 from Knutsford. Money orders issued at Macclesfield: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 10 a.m.: post closes 5½ p.m. The living, a perpetual curacy in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Chester, is valued at £12. 19s. 11d.: pres. net income, £135: patron, T. Dixon, Esq.: pres. incumbent, G. J. Granville, 1839: contains 290 acres: 32 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 201: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £2,129: poor rates in 1837, £82.

CHELL, STAFFORD, a township in the parish of Wolstanton—(which see for access, &c.): 153 miles from London, 4 from Newcastle, 8 from Leek. Money orders issued at Newcastle-under-Lyne: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 8 a.m.: post closes 7½ p.m. Contains 84 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 602: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 692.—(Other returns with the parish.)

CHELLASTON, DERBY, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Repton and Gresley, union of Shardlow, near the Grand Trunk and Derby Canal: 134 miles from London (coach road 124), 6 from Derby, 9 from Burton. Nor. West. Rail. through Rugby and Leicester to Spondon station, thence 4 miles: from Derby, to Spondon, &c., 7 miles. Money orders issued at Derby: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 9½ a.m.: post closes 8 p.m. The living (St. Peter) is a perpetual curacy in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Derby, and diocese of Lichfield and Coventry: pres. net income, £80: patron, Bishop of Carlisle: pres. incumbent, Joseph Deans, 1830: contains 810 acres: 74 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 461: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 531: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £1,315: poor rates in 1837, £106.

CHELLESWORTH, SUFFOLK, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup>. and union of Cosford, on the river Bret: 74 miles from London (coach road 61), 4 from Hadleigh, 5 from Lavenham. — East. Co<sup>t</sup>. Rail. to Hadleigh, thence 4 miles: from Derby, through London, &c., 206 miles. — Money orders issued at Hadleigh: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 9 a.m.: post closes 7 p.m. — The church is a beautiful structure of about the fourteenth century, and contains a curious monument, supposed to be that of the founder, probably Sir John Howard, who had a moated castle near the church, and large possessions in this neighbourhood. A very valuable fresco painting was discovered here, and restored in 1849, at the expense of Sir Henry, who has also renovated the interior of the edifice. — The living (All Saints), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Sudbury, and diocese of Ely, is valued at £8. 8s. 9d.: pres. net income, £266: patron, the Crown: pres. incumbent, Fred. Calvert, 1831: contains 610 acres: 45 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 284: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £1,319: poor rates in 1837, £85. — The manor formerly belonged to the Howards, and afterwards to the family of Vere. In 1737 it became, by purchase, the property of Robert Pocklington, Esq., who erected Chellesworth Hall, a handsome mansion, now the residence of Sir Henry E. Austin, Knt., who married, in 1843, the widow of the late Sir Robert Pocklington. To this lady the estate and manor now belong.

CHELLINGTON, BEDFORD, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Willey, union of Bedford, bounded on the north and west by the river Ouse: 70 miles from London (coach road 57), 6 from Olney, 7 from Bedford. — Nor. West. Rail. to Bedford, thence 7 miles: from Derby, through Rugby to Bedford, &c., 109 miles. — Money orders issued at Newport-Pagnell: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 9 a.m.: post closes 4½ p.m. — Chellington and Carlton, with which the living is consolidated, are two villages separated only by the road. Carlton church is an old stone building recently repaired. Chellington church is also a stone building, with a tower and spire. The Baptists have a chapel here. — The living (St. Nicholas) is a rectory, united in 1769 to that of Carlton—(which see): contains 610 acres: 25 houses: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £622: poor rates in 1837, £14.

CHELMARSH, SALOP, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Stottesden, union of Bridgenorth, bounded on the east by the river Severn: 142 miles from London (coach road 137), 4 from Bridgenorth, 10 from Market-Wenlock. — Nor. West. Rail. to Wolverhampton, thence 15 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham to Wolverhampton, &c., 71 miles. — Money orders issued at Bridgenorth: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 8½ a.m.: post closes 4½ p.m. — The living (St. Peter), a disch<sup>d</sup>. vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Salop, diocese of Hereford, is valued at £6. 5s. 8d.: pres. net income, £250: patron, Sir J. S. Sebright, Bart.: pres. incumbent, C. W. Blathwayt, 1847: contains 3,190 acres: 87 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 495: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 569: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £3,694: poor rates in 1837, 209. — N., Woodlands House. Chelmarsh House is the seat of John Nichols, Esq.

CHELMERTON, DERBY, a chapelry in the parish of Bakewell—(which see for access, &c.): 158 miles from London, 4 from Tideswell, 5 from Buxton. — Money orders issued at Bakewell: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 11 a.m.: post closes 3 p.m. — The Wesleyans and Presbyterians have places of worship here. — The living, a perpetual curacy to the vicarage of Bakewell, in the diocese of Lichfield and Coventry, is valued at £7. 15s. 4d.: pres. net income, £78: patron, Vicar of Bakewell: pres. incumbent, James Coates, 1815: contains 53 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 238: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £1,773: poor rates in 1837, £102.

CHELMONDISTON, SUFFOLK, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup>. and incorporation of Samford, on the east bank of the river Orwell, near its mouth: 73 miles from London (coach road 68), 5 from Ipswich, 9 from Stratford. — East. Co<sup>t</sup>. Rail. to Ipswich, thence 5 miles: from Derby, through London, &c., 205 miles. — Money orders issued at Ipswich: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 8½ a.m.: post closes 8½ p.m. — The living (St. Andrew), a disch<sup>d</sup>. rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Suffolk, diocese of Norwich, is valued at £8. 10s.: pres. net income, £312: patron, Lord Chancellor: pres. incumbent, Henry Clissold: contains 1,840 acres: 53 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 564: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 648: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £1,639: poor rates in 1837, £141. — N., Woolverstone Park—(for account of which, see WOOLVERSTONE)—is the seat of the Rev. H. D. Berners, lord of the manor of this parish, and also of Woolverstone, which latter is also entirely his property.

CHELMSFORD (anciently CHELMERSFORD), ESSEX, a parish, market and county town, in the hun<sup>d</sup>. and union of Chelmsford: it includes the hamlet of Moulsham, and is well situated near the centre of the county, at the confluence of the rivers Chelmer and Can: 29 miles from London, 8 from Billericay. — East. Co<sup>t</sup>. Rail. to Chelmsford station: from Derby, through London, &c., 161 miles. — Money orders issued here: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 7 a.m. and 1 p.m.: post closes 11.35 a.m. and 10 p.m. — The name of Chelmsford, which is situated not far from the Cesaromagus of the Romans, is derived from an ancient ford on the river Chelmer, near where that river falls into the Can. The Bishops of London had it in their possession under Edward the Confessor, and also at the period of the Norman survey; and it would appear to have been either sometimes, or perhaps permanently, their place of abode, from the names of two buildings, still called Bishop's Hall and Bishop's Mill. It was otherwise an insignificant place, until the time of Henry I., in whose reign, Maurice, Bishop of London, erected a stone bridge over the river Can, and at the same time made Chelmsford the thoroughfare to Suffolk and Norfolk and the eastern portions of the country, by changing the direction of the road, which, before that time, passed through Writtle. Since then the town has gradually improved, and, in the reign of Edward III., it had grown to such importance as to send four representatives to a grand council, held at Westminster. At a very ancient period there was here a convent for Black or Dominican friars. At the dissolution, it had a revenue of £9. 6s. 5d. Thomas Langford, one of its members, was distinguished in that early period of modern literature as the author of a Universal Chronicle from the creation to the age in which he lived. The site of the convent only is now visible. The town is lighted with gas, well paved, and the houses, some of which have gardens extending as far as the edge of the river, are most of them modern erections. A plentiful supply of water is conveyed from a spring about half a mile distant, by means of pipes, into a reservoir, which is covered by an elegant dome, with six columns of the Doric order as its supports. The church is a stately edifice in the modern style of English architecture; the body has been recently rebuilt, the old one having fallen down in 1800, owing to some workmen undermining two of the pillars whilst digging in a vault. The cost of rebuilding was £15,000. It is surmounted by a square embattled tower, crowned with pinnacles, over which is a lofty spire. The archdeacon holds his court in this church, and the wills and records of grants of administration are kept in an office above the south porch. Dr. Plume of Maldon presented a collection of books for the use of the neighbouring clergy, which is deposited in the chancel, in the east of which is a beautiful stained-glass window. An elegant iron bridge was not long since erected over the river Chelmer; and, in 1787, a stone bridge of one arch was constructed over the river Can, in the place of an old bridge, built by Bishop Maurice, to connect the town with the hamlet of Moulsham, which had latterly been found too narrow. The theatre is a commodious building. There are every year assemblies and concerts in the shire-hall. Towards the end of July, races, which last for three days, take place on Galleywood Common, a capital course, about two miles from the town. There is a free grammar-school, which Edward VI. founded and endowed in 1552, in which the classics are taught, with a course of English education. It is under the control of four hereditary trustees, and has an exhibition of £6 per annum to Caius College, Cambridge, in common with the schools at Maldon and Brentwood. In 1782, R. Benyon, Esq., rebuilt the school-house, on the site of that formerly erected by Sir John Tyrrell. In this establishment were educated Philemon Holland, who translated Camden's Britannia; John Dee, a famous mathematician; Sir Walter Mildmay, Bart., who founded Emanuel College, Cambridge; and Dr. Plume, the archdeacon of Rochester. In 1713, a charity school was founded for the education of fifty boys, and, in 1714, a similar one for twenty girls. A national school has lately been erected for 400 children. In 1565, six almshouses were founded by Sir Thomas and Lady Mildmay in the hamlet of Moulsham, which were rebuilt in 1758. In 1520, four almshouses were erected in Baddow Lane, from the sale of a barn given by William Davis, and two others added by the parish. The town is under the jurisdiction of the county magistrates, who hold petty sessions for the division every Tuesday and Friday. The constables and other officers are chosen at a court-leet, held by the lord of the manor, who sometimes also holds a court-baron here. The assizes and sessions for the county are also held here. The shire-hall is an elegant building, with a façade of Portland stone and a rustic basement, upon which are four handsome Ionic pillars, supporting a triangular pediment; appropriate figures of Wisdom, Justice, and Mercy, in basso-relievo, adorn the upper portion of the front. The accommodations provided for the public business are ample, and there is an assembly-room in the upper story, which runs the whole length of the building. Chelmsford is a polling-place for South Essex. The county jail is in Moulsham. The house of correction, which was built in 1806, adjoins the jail; it is exclusively used for female convicts. The new convict jail at Springfield Hill, on the road to Colchester, is an extensive and well-built edifice; it is adapted for the reception of 254 prisoners, 218 of them in separate cells. A bridewell has recently been built for the reception of vagrants, capable of holding 48 prisoners. The Independents, Quakers, and Methodists have places of worship here, and at New-hall there is a Roman Catholic chapel. The trade of Chelmsford is chiefly in corn, the greater portion of which is carried to London. The traffic through the town, in consequence of its position on a great thoroughfare, constitutes also an important element of its prosperity. In 1796, a navigable canal to the river Blackwater, twelve miles distant, was dug, which greatly contributes to the commercial advantages of the place. The living (the Virgin Mary), a rectory in the diocese of Rochester, is valued at £31. 2s. 6d.: pres. net income, £588: patron, Lady St. John Mildmay: pres. incumbent, C. A. St. John Mildmay, 1826: contains 1,750 acres: 987 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 6,789: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 7,807: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>t</sup>. £14,935: poor rates in 1837, £2,701. Market day, Friday. Fairs, May 12, and November 12, for cattle. Bankers: Sparrow & Co.—draw on Barclay, Bevan, & Co.; Branch of London and County Joint Stock Banking Co.—draw on Head Office, 21 Lombard Street. Inns: Black Boy, Saracen's Head, and White Hart.

CHELSEA, MIDDLESEX, a parish in the Kensington division of the hund<sup>d</sup>. of Ossulstone, union of Kensington: 4 miles from London, 2 from Kensington. London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. five times each way daily. Its name was formerly spelt Chelcheth, or Chelchith, which it most probably derived from the two Saxon words Ceol, or Cesol, and Hythe, a harbour. One of the most ancient particulars we know concerning it, is the holding of a synod, in the year 785, by the legates of Pope Adrian, for the purpose of reforming religion in England. From being so pleasantly situated on the Reach of the Thames at its widest point above London bridge, it has always been a favourite spot for the residence of persons of distinction; it was at one time called "the Village of Palaces." At the upper extremity of Cheyne Walk was a palace, which belonged to the bishops of Winchester, which was taken down in 1824, under an act, by which the bishop was enabled to alienate it from his see. There was also a palace here belonging to Queen Elizabeth, and it was occasionally the residence of Sir Robert Walpole. The mansion and grounds of the Earl of Ranelagh, after they had long been the resort of fashion as a public place of amusement, were closed in 1805, and dwelling-houses were erected on the site. In Chelsea is comprehended the old town, consisting of the houses built by the side of the Thames, and the houses which have been erected since 1777, known as Hans Town, so called from

Sir Hans Sloane, formerly lord of the manor. There is a bridge of wood, called Battersea Bridge, over the Thames, leading to Battersea, in Surrey. The houses in Cheyne Walk are well situated, commanding a good view of the river and the scenery of Surrey. At the Upper hand there is a handsome suspension pier, called Cadogan Pier, after Lord Cadogan, who has much property about here. It is the principal landing-place on this part of the Thames, for the numerous steam-boats which ply upon the river. Sloane Street, in the new town, extends nearly a mile in length, and consists of well-built, handsome houses. All the streets are paved, well lighted with gas, and well supplied with water by the Chelsea Water Works Company, incorporated in 1724. The Botanical Gardens were established by the Apothecaries' Company, in 1673, on four acres of ground on the banks of the river, granted for that purpose by Sir Hans Sloane at a quit rent of £5 per annum. They contain hot-houses, green-houses, a library of natural history, and a valuable collection of medicinal plants of almost every kind. A beautiful statue of Sir Hans Sloane, by Rysbrach, stands in the middle of the garden, and there are two fine cedars of Lebanon opposite the river. A demonstrator delivers lectures to students at stated periods. In 1807, a second botanic garden was established near Sloane Street, upwards of six acres in extent, arranged according to the Linnæan system; lectures are also delivered here every May and June. The building of the royal hospital for veteran soldiers, was commenced under James I., and was originally intended by him to be a controversial college, principally for discussing the points at issue between the churches of Rome and England; but he proceeded but ill with it, and it was not finished until the time of William III. It was constructed from a design by Sir Christopher Wren, at a cost of £150,000, of which Sir Stephen Fox, the projector, the grandfather of the Right Hon. C. J. Fox, paid £13,000. It is a large and handsome edifice, with decorations of columns, quoins, and cornices of stone. The buildings consist of a spacious quadrangle, which has a beautiful bronze statue of Charles II. in the middle. In the centre of the northern part, there is a spacious vestibule, surmounted and lighted by a beautiful dome, on one side of which is the large hall, used as a dining-room for the pensioners, and on the other the chapel, a lofty and handsome structure. On the south, the quadrangle is open to the river. The infirmaries and other offices form smaller quadrangles. Open grounds, about thirteen acres in extent, lie before the front towards the north. The in-pensioners are about 500 in number, but the out-pensioners are only limited by the means of the establishment. The expenses are from £700,000 to £800,000. The college contains a place for the reception of wounded soldiers from foreign stations, who are sheltered until there is a vacancy in the royal college—it is called York Hospital. The royal military asylum was founded in 1801, by his Royal Highness the late Duke of York, for the purpose of instructing and maintaining the orphan children of soldiers, and those children whose fathers are absent on foreign stations. It contains 700 boys and 300 girls. When at an age to quit the asylum, the boys, if they themselves consent, enter the army, and the girls are apprenticed. The building is a beautiful structure of brick, with stone decorations. Every Tuesday a petty session for the hundred is held in Chelsea by the county magistrates; and, at the court held for the manor, four head-boroughs, nine constables, and other officers, are chosen. Chelsea, which was formerly but one parish, has been recently divided into two separate parishes. The church of St. Luke's was built in 1824, at a cost of £40,000. It is a splendid edifice, in the ornamented and modern style of English architecture, with a lofty square tower—the west front is magnificent; the east end is adorned with minarets; and the effect produced by the interior is grand and impressive. The church of the parish of Upper Chelsea was built in 1830, at a cost of £5,849. 17s. 4d. It is situated in Sloane Street, and is a handsome building. The old church is of brick, and was rebuilt in the early part of the sixteenth century; it is a small building, now used as a chapel. In it are the monuments of Sir Thomas More, Dr. Edward Chamberlayne, who wrote the "Present State of England," Thomas Shadwell, the poet laureate of William and Mary, Sir Hans Sloane, and some other distinguished persons. There are schools with small endowments, but chiefly supported by the existing generation. There are also a few charity bequests, but not to any amount. The Baptists, Independents, Wesleyan Methodists, and Roman Catholics, all have chapels here. This was the birth-place of John King, A.M., who edited some of the tragedies of Euripides; and of Dr. Thomas Martin, Regius Professor of Botany at Cambridge, and famous for his works on botany. —Contains 780 acres: 4,635 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 40,179: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £126,467: poor rates in 1837, £11,790.

CHELSEFIELD, KENT, a parish in the hund<sup>d</sup> of Ruxley, lathe of Sutton-at-Hone, union of Bromley: 21 miles from London (coach road 17), 7 from Bromley, 10 from Dartford. —London and Brighton Rail. to Croydon, thence 10 miles: from Derby, through London, &c., 153 miles. —London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> four times each way daily. —There is a small endowment for the repairs of the church and for the benefit of the poor; also, six almshouses, and six acres of parish land. —The living (the Virgin Mary), a rectory with the curacy of Farnborough, in the archd<sup>r</sup> and diocese of Canterbury, is valued at £24. 14s. 2d.: pres. net income, £876: patron, All Souls College, Oxford: pres. incumbent, J. E. Tarleton: contains 3,330 acres: 127 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 861: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 990: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £3,174: poor rates in 1837, £477. —N., Lullingston Park, the seat of Sir P. H. Dyke, Bart. —(for which, see LULLINGSTON.)

CHELSHAM, SURREY, a parish in the upper division of the hund<sup>d</sup> of Tandridge, union of Godstone: 18 miles from London (coach road 14), 6 from Croydon, 7 from Westerham. —Brighton Rail. to Stot's Nest, thence 4 miles: from Derby, through London, &c., 150 miles. —London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> four times each way daily. —The living (St. Leonard) is a curacy to the vicarage of Warlingham, and having jointly a pres. net income of £471: patron, A. W. Wigsell, Esq.: pres. incumbent, John Dalton, 1829: contains 47 houses: pop<sup>n</sup>. in 1841, 347: probable pop<sup>n</sup>. in 1849, 300: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>y</sup>. 2,018: poor rates in 1837, £192.—Cheltenham Lodge.

CHEL TENHAM, GLOUCESTER, a market town and parish in the hund<sup>d</sup>. and union of Cheltenham: 121 miles from London (coach road 99), 10 from Gloucester.—Gt. West. Rail. to Cheltenham station: from Derby, through Birmingham to Cheltenham, 85 miles.—Money orders issued here: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 7 a.m. and 3½ p.m.: post closes 7½ a.m. and 9 p.m.—The name of Cheltenham is derived from the small river Chelt, which takes its rise at Dowdeswell, not far from the town, through which it passes, before it flows into the Severn. The manor was the property of Edward the Confessor. Henry de Bohun, Earl of Hereford, held it by a grant in 1199, but gave it to King John, in exchange for other lands. The abbey of Feschamp, in Normandy, next owned it, and it was afterwards given to the nunnery of Sion, in Middlesex; and when the nunnery was dissolved, it again returned to the crown. This place is famous for its mineral springs, to which it owes much of its importance; the oldest known was spoken of in 1716, since which several have been discovered which contain chalybeate aperient salts, principally sulphate of soda, sulphate of magnesia, and oxyde of iron, held in solution by carbonic acid, all in various proportions; they are used in jaundice and other disorders of the liver, also for dyspepsia, and in cases where the debilitating influence of hot climates has been injurious. The old well, or spa, is south of the town. In 1738, Captain Henry Skillicorn built above it a pavilion of brick, with four arches, erected a pump-room, and constructed walks for the visitors. In 1780, there were only thirty lodging-houses here; but since 1788, when George III. with the queen and princesses paid it a visit, Cheltenham has considerably improved, and has become a favourite place of resort for rank and fashion. In the course of the season it is generally visited by upwards of 15,000 persons. The situation of the town is on a large plain, protected on the north and east by the Cotswold hills; there are in it a great number of beautiful streets, the principal one upwards of a mile and a half long; its buildings are elegant and modern; sometimes, however, an older one is seen. The places of worship connected with the establishment are St. Mary's, a perpetual curacy: patrons, certain trustees: incumbent, Rev. Francis Close, 1826: income, about £688. St. John's, a perpetual curacy: patron, Rev. W. Spencer: incumbent, Rev. W. S. Phillips: income, £250. Holy Trinity Chapel: incumbent, Rev. John Browne: income, £305. St. Paul's, a perpetual curacy: patron, the Incumbent of St. Mary's: incumbent, Rev. C. H. Brouby, 1846: income, £150. St. James, a perpetual curacy: patrons, trustees: incumbent, Rev. F. D. Gilby, 1843: income, £250. Christchurch: patrons, trustees: incumbent, Rev. A. Boyd, 1842: income, £400. St. Peter's, a perpetual curacy: patrons, trustees: incumbent, Rev. W. Hodgson, 1841: income, £150. In 1823, the masonic hall was finished. It is a fine building, situated in Portland Street, in the style of a Roman mausoleum, decorated with the insignia of the order of freemasonry. Under the provisions of several acts of parliament, passed for the respective purposes, the town is well paved and lighted, supplied with water, and provided with good sewerage. The church is an ancient edifice, cruciform, with a lofty octagonal spire at the intersection. On the east side of the north transept is a very fine circular window, 15 feet in diameter; there are other works of great beauty, amongst them is an antique altar-piece, presented by the dean and chapter of Gloucester. The church of the Holy Trinity, a beautiful modern edifice, stands in Portland Street; it was partly built by subscription, but completed by Lord Shelburne. The present incumbent erected the church of St. John's in Berkeley Place, at his own cost. In 1831 a new free church was finished; it is of the Grecian Ionic order, and has a portico and tower. In 1839, Christchurch was completed. It stands in the centre of the Lansdowne estate, and, from the loftiness of its tower, is visible from twenty miles' distance. In 1823, Lord Shelburne, at his own expense, erected a fine and commodious market-house, the approach to which is by an arcade from the High Street. The Montpelier spa is situated about half a mile towards the south of the town; the façade of the pump-room, which is a fine large rotunda, is composed of a grand colonnade, surmounted in the centre by a lion couchant; a long room with a veranda adjoins it, and a conservatory is fitted up in another part of the building. Some fine houses have been erected near this spa; and P. Thompson, Esq., has, at his own expense, constructed a new road, to render the access to the town easier. The Imperial spa is an elegant structure of the Grecian order, and is in the same direction as the Montpelier spa, but nearer the town. The façade of the pump-room is a portico of the Ionic style, in imitation of a temple on the banks of the Ilissus at Athens, surmounted in the centre by a colossal statue of Hygieia, the goddess of health. The old spa was enlarged in 1803, by the addition of a new pump-room. The old chalybeate spa was opened in 1802, the Cambray chalybeate spa in 1807, and the Alstone spa in 1809. Pittville is on the north of Cheltenham. Joseph Pitt, Esq., has here planned a splendid new town; the pump-room, commenced on the 4th May, 1825, is a superb building; there are spacious gardens in the front, and a handsome sheet of water, with an elegant bridge at either end, at the foot of the eminence on which it is built. There are here every kind of baths, supplied with every accommodation, first-rate hotels, and elegantly furnished lodging-houses. There are libraries, reading-rooms, and musical repositories, periodical concerts, and assemblies during the season, and every year races on the adjacent hill. There are several good endowments for educating the poor, and numerous charitable institutions and associations, supported by subscriptions, so that those who come here in search of health, do not forget the need of those about them. There is also a savings bank. The town is within the jurisdiction of the county magistrates, who hold a petty session for the division on Tuesdays, Thursdays, and Saturdays. At the court leet of the lord of the manor, a high bailiff and constables are chosen, and commissioners appointed. An act has passed, confirming an ancient manorial custom, that land descends as by common law, but the eldest female inherits solely. In 1814, the new jail near St. George's Square was built. This town is a polling-place for the eastern division of the shire. The chief trade is in malt and various medicinal salts. Cheltenham was constituted a borough by the 2d of William IV., and returns one member to parliament, elected by the £10 householders. The limits of the borough are the same as those of the parish. At the first election, the number of registered voters was 919. The Baptists, the Society of Friends, the followers of the late Countess of Huntingdon, Independents, Wesleyan, and other Methodists, have chapels here. The Baptist chapel has a burial-ground, and a fund of £95 per annum to divide among their own poor. Contains 3,740 acres: 4,013 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 31,411: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £35,637: poor rates in 1837, £4,273. Market day, Thursday. Fairs: second Thursday in April, Holy Thursday, August 5, September 12, December 7, 18. Bankers: Branch of Gloucester Banking Co.—draw on Williams, Deacon, & Co.; Cheltenham and Gloucester Bank—draw on London and Westminster Bank; County of Gloucester Bank—draw on Roberts, Curtis, & Co.; National Provincial Bank of England—draw on London Joint Stock Bank. Hotels: Plough, Lansdown, Royal, Bellevue, George, Imperial, and Queen's.

CHELVESTON (or CHELSTON), NORTHAMPTON, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Higham-Ferrers, union of Thrapston: it includes the hamlet of Caldicot: 85 miles from London (coach road 60), 2 from Higham-Ferrers, 7 from Thrapston. Nor. West Rail. through Northampton to Higham-Ferrers, thence 2 miles: from Derby, through Rugby and Northampton to Higham-Ferrers, &c., 96 miles. Money orders issued at Higham-Ferrers: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 8 a.m.: post closes 9 p.m. Chelveston-with-Caldicot possesses a charity school, endowed with a small estate, producing £24 per annum. There are several other small charities for the benefit of the poor of this place, some of them conjointly with the parish of Raunds. It is a small straggling village, and its inhabitants are exclusively engaged in agriculture. The church, an ordinary stone building, stands quite detached from the village. The living (St. John the Baptist) is a curacy, with Caldicot, to the vicarage of Higham-Ferrers, in the diocese of Peterborough, and having jointly a p<sup>rg</sup>. net income of £365: patron, Earl Fitzwilliam: pres. incumbent, G. Malinn, 1837: contains 1,730 acres: 67 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 372: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 427: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. 1,907: poor rates in 1837, £190.

CHELVEY, SOMERSET, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Hartcliffe with Bedminster, union of Bedminster: 127 miles from London (coach road 128), 8 from Bristol, 9 from Pensford. Gt. West. Rail. to Bristol, thence 8 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham, Bristol, &c., 139 miles. Money orders issued at Bristol: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 9 a.m.: post closes 7 p.m. The living (St. Bridget), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup>. of Bath, and diocese of Bath and Wells, is valued at £4. 9s.

7d.: pres. net income, £142: patron, J. Cooke, Esq.: pres. incumbent, John Matthew, 1831: contains 320 acres: 9 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 54: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £622: poor rates in 1837, £30.

CHELWOOD, SOMERSET, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Keynsham, union of Clutton: 115 miles from London, 2 from Pensford, 8 from Bath. Gt. West. Rail. to Bath, thence 8 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Bristol to Bath, &c., 151 miles. Money orders issued at Bristol: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 9 a.m.: post closes 3½ p.m. The village is situated in a very beautifully wooded hilly country. There is a small Independent chapel endowed. The living (St. Leonard) is a disch<sup>d</sup>. rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup>. of Wells, and diocese of Bath and Wells: pres. net income, £275: patron, Bishop of Bath and Wells: pres. incumbent, Richard Warner: contains 1,130 acres: 42 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 260: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £1,972: poor rates in 1837, £122. N., Houndstreet Park: S., Chelwood House.

CHENEYS (or CHENIES), BUCKINGHAM, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Burnham, union of Amersham: 28 miles from London (coach road 27), 3 from Amersham, 7 from Beaconsfield. Nor. West. Rail. to King's Langley, thence 7 miles: from Derby through Rugby to King's Langley, &c. 118 miles. Money orders issued at Amersham: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 8½ a.m.: post closes 6½ p.m. This is a pretty rural village, situated on the brow of a steep hill, at the foot of which runs the river Chess, one of the numerous mill-streams which intersect Bucks and Herts. The church is a plain structure, but is an object of much interest, for the mausoleum chapel of the Russell family, containing some very interesting monuments of the Bedford family, especially a fine marble mural monument to the Lord William of such deep historic interest, which occupies the west end. There is a recent erection, a very chaste statuary tablet, to the memory of the late Lady Ribblesdale, first wife of Lord John Russell, bearing a sweetly simple emblem, an elegantly-chiselled plucked flower. In niches of the wall are two mutilated stone figures, said to be effigies of two Barons Chonies, who held the manor before it came to the Bedford family. The remains of the old manor-house, their residence, stand near the church; and on the other side of the church is the residence of Lord Wriothsley Russell, the present incumbent, who has effected great improvements in the place, not only in the appearance of the dwellings, but also in the characters of the rising generation of the village, their future occupants. The Bedford almshouses, ten in number, form a highly pleasing and picturesque group of buildings, in the style which prevailed in domestic edifices under the Tudors. The living (St. Michael), a rectory in the diocese of Oxford, is valued at £12. 16s. ½d.: pres. net income, £380: patron, Duke of Bedford: pres. incumbent, Lord W. Russell, 1829: contains 229 acres: 100 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 625: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 719: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £2,400: poor rates in 1837, £414. N. Latimers, the seat of the Hon. Colonel Cavendish.

CHEPSTOW, MONMOUTH, a parish, port, and market town, in the upper division of the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Caldicot, union of Chepstow: 128 miles from London (coach road 135), 12 from Monmouth. — Gt. West. Rail. to Stonehouse, thence 25 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham to Stonehouse, &c., 128 miles. — Money orders issued here: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 6.20 p.m. — The present name of Chepstow is derived from the Saxon words, Chepe, a market, and Stow, a town. There is nothing to indicate that it was, as supposed by some antiquaries, a Roman town. Leland says of it—A great likelihood ys, that wen Cairgent (Cærwent), began to decay, then began Chepstow to florish; it standeth far better as upon Wy, there ebbing and flowing by the rage cumming out of Severn. So that to Chepstow may come greateshippes. In the neighbourhood may be traced several old encampments, which, very probably, the Romans originally occupied. It is called, in Doomsday-book, Castellum de Estrighoiel, which name it took from the Earls of Pembroke, its owners at the Conquest, who were called lords of Striguil, from a castle of that name in the vicinity being their residence. William Fitz-Osborne, Earl of Hereford, possessed it after the Conquest, and it was most probably he who erected the castle. For his good service at the battle of Hastings, William granted him large possessions, and appointed him justiciary of the northern part of the kingdom, and also made him joint marshal of England with Roger de Montgomery. It afterwards fell into the possession of the Earls of Clare, and then belonged successively to the Plantagenets, the Herberts, and the Somersets, to which latter family it now belongs. During the civil war, both parties possessed it by turns, and its occupation was greatly valued by either of them. The town was also defended by strong walls of great extent, of which some remains are still visible. Soon after the Conquest, a priory was founded at Chepstow for Benedictine monks, named Strigule, or Striguil monastery, which was made a cell to the abbey of Corneille, in Normandy. The town is situated partly in a deep hollow, and partly on the rise of a hill, immense perpendicular cliffs rising abruptly from the rapid current of the Wye, which are surmounted by the vast ruins of the castle, wreaths of deep green ivy clambering up the walls, and hanging in long deep festoons down the face of the rock, so that it is sometimes difficult to perceive where the line is drawn which separates the works of man from the production of nature, giving a singularly romantic air to the whole scene, which is often rendered even terrible by the onward rush of the tidal waters of the river, to the height of between forty and fifty feet above the usual level. The castle is principally Norman in its architecture, but presents evidence of many additions during subsequent eras. On the land side it was defended by an unusually large moat, and a wall flanked by two huge bastion towers. The grand entrance, which is on the east, and displays a fine specimen of Norman architecture, is a lofty circular arch between two round towers leading into the first court, in which were the large hall, kitchen, and other apartments, some of which are still inhabited by a family who have a lease of the premises. A gate by the side of a round tower leads into the second court, which is now used as a garden, and another into a third, in which the roofless chapel stands.

At the southern extremity of the third court, also converted into a garden, a winding staircase leads to the battlements, and formerly a communication went from this into the fourth court, which is now entered by a sally-port. But the chief object of interest in the castle in modern times, is a round tower at the south-eastern angle, called Martin's Tower, where Henry Martin, one of the judges of Charles I., was confined for upwards of thirty years. It was for a long time represented that he was confined in a dark dismal dungeon, separated from all intercourse with his kind, and debarred the light of day; and Southey, with his spirit pressed, and full of poetic feeling, wrote—

"For thirty years secluded from mankind,
Here Martin lingered. Often have these walls
Echoed his footsteps, as with even tread
He paced around his prison. Not to him
Did nature's fair varieties exist;
He never saw the sun's delightful beams,
Save when through yon high bars he poured a sad,
A broken splendour —"

The truth appears, that, though kept in close confinement within the castle, Mr. Martin was allowed many indulgences. His prison was in the first story of the tower, and was an apartment of spacious dimensions, occupied by himself and his wife, over which were rooms for his servants. Martin continued a stern republican to his death, firmly convinced of the mischief of that royalty which he had always detested. The present parish church is the chapel once belonging to the monastery, and its architecture is a proof of its great antiquity. It contains a fine monument of Henry, second Earl of Worcester, who died in 1549. The streets of Chepstow are well paved, spacious, and lighted with oil, but the inhabitants are obliged to procure water at a distance of one mile and a half from the town. There is a theatre, a national school, an hospital for thirteen aged persons, and Powis' almshouse for six men and six women. The Baptists, Independents, Wesleyan Methodists, and Roman Catholics, all have chapels here. Within two miles of the town, there is a bridge over the Severn, partly in Monmouth, and partly in Gloucester, with stone piers in Monmouth, but wooden ones in Gloucester. On the banks of the Wye are docks for ship-building. The principal trade is in navy-timber, oak-bark, and iron. Chepstow is under the jurisdiction of the county magistrates, and the petty sessions for the division are held here. — The living (St. Mary), a disch<sup>d</sup> vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Llandaff, is valued at £6. 16s. 8d.: pres. net income, £178: patrons, E. Bevan, Esq., and Mrs. Burr, alternately: pres. incumbent, J. B. Gabriel, 1845: contains 1,020 acres: 685 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 3,366: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 3,870: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £6,280: poor rates in 1837, £784. — Market days, Wednesday and Saturday. On the last Monday in every month, there are markets for horses, cattle, sheep, pigs, and wool. Fairs: Friday in Whitsun-week, Saturday before June 20, August 1, and October 29, for cattle. — Bankers: Bromage, Snead, and Snead—draw on London and Westminster Bank: Branch of Monmouth and Glamorgan Banking Co.—draw on London Joint Stock Bank. — Beaufort Arms, and George Inn.

CHERRILL, WILTS, a chapelry in the parish and hun<sup>d</sup> of Calne—(which see for access, &c.): 85 miles from London, 3 from Calne, 9 from Marlborough. Money orders issued at Calne: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m. post closes 8½ p.m. This village, also called Cherrol, Chiriel, or Kirriel, came to the crown as part of the confiscated possessions of the Earl of Warwick, called the "king-maker," who fell at Barnet on the side of Henry VI. Although Edward IV. confiscated all the estates, Henry VII. gave the life-rent of them to the Countess of Warwick, but retained them in fee. Cherhill has been at different times assigned as part of the revenues of the Prince of Wales, and was part of the lands assigned to Prince Henry, A.D. 1610. In this parish is the white horse, cut in the turf, on the highest ground between London and Bath. It was executed under the direction, and at the expense, of Christopher Allsop, Esq., a physician at Calne, and is visible at twenty or thirty miles' distance. The living (St. James) is a perpetual curacy to the vicarage of Calne, in the diocese of Sarum: pres. net income, £80: patron, Bishop of Sarum: pres. incumbent, George Farley, 1844: contains 2,370 acres: 80 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 422: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 485: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,917: poor rates in 1837, £167.

CHERINGTON, WARWICK, a parish in the Brailes division of the hun<sup>d</sup> of Kington, union of Shipston-on-Stour, south of the river Stour: 94 miles from London (coach road 80), 4 from Shipston, 8 from Chipping-Norton. Gt. West. Rail. through Oxford to Moreton-le-Marsh, thence 6 miles: from Derby, through Worcester to Moreton, &c., 102 miles. Money orders issued at Shipston-on-Stour: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9½ a.m.: post closes 3 p.m. The living (St. John the Baptist), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Worcester, is valued at £11. 10s. 7½d.: pres. net income, £259: patron, Dan. Turner, Esq.: pres. incumbent, P. Turner, 1841: contains 890 acres: 70 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 340: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 391: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,719: poor rates in 1837, £182. Cherington Hall, the seat of William Dickens, Esq.

CHERITON, KENT, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Folkstone, lathe of Shepway, union of Elham, situated in a very pleasing and picturesque neighbourhood: 85 miles from London (coach road 70), 2 from Folkstone, 2 from Hythe. Sou. East. Rail. to Folkstone, thence 2 miles: from Derby, through London, &c., 212 miles. Money orders issued at Folkstone: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 7½ a.m.: post closes 9 p.m. The living (St. Martin), a rectory, consolidated with the vicarage of Newington, in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Canterbury, is valued at £16. 12s. 6d.: pres. net income, £657: patron, Rev. T. Brockman: pres. incumbent, Rev. Robt. Fraser, 1849: contains 1,790 acres: 213 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 340: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 391: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £3,332: poor rates in 1837, 533. Beechborough is the seat of the Rev. Tatton Brockman.

CHERITON, GLAMORGAN, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> and union of Swansea, South Wales, delightfully situated on the river Bury: 203 miles from London (coach road 220), 14 from Swansea, 3 from Llangenydd. Gt. West. Rail. to Stonehouse, thence 100 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham to Stonehouse, &c., 203 miles. Money orders issued at Swansea: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 5½ p.m.: post closes 9 p.m. There is at all times six feet of water on the bar, but the entrance to the harbour is not very safe, from the constant shifting of the sands. The living, a rectory in the diocese of St. David's, is valued at £9. 7s. 3½d.: pres. net income, £150: patron, the Crown: pres. incumbent, W. L. Collins, 1840: contains 45 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 282: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £816: poor rates in 1837, £46.

CHERITON, HANTS, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Fawley, union of Alresford, Fawley division of the county: it includes the tithing of Beaworth: 73 miles from London (coach road 58), 3 from Alresford, 6 from Winchester. Sou. West. Rail. to Winchester, thence 6 miles: from Derby, through Rugby, Oxford, and Reading, to Winchester, &c., 160 miles. Money orders issued at Alresford: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 7½ p.m. The living (St. Michael), a rectory, with the curacies of Kilmestone and Titchbourn, in the peculiar jurisdiction of the incumbent, is valued at £62. 2s. 6d.: pres. net income, £1,192: patron, Bishop of Winchester: pres. incumbent, H. Hubbard, 1826: contains 2,980 acres: 97 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 719: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 827: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £3,484: poor rates in 1837, £223. Cheriton Lodge.

CHERITON-BISHOP'S, DEVON, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Wonford, union of Crediton: 205 miles from London (coach road 186), 6 from Crediton, 11 from Oakhampton. Gt. West. Rail. through Bristol and Exeter to Crediton, thence 6 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham, Bristol, &c., 219 miles. Money orders issued at Crediton: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 5 p.m. The living (the Virgin Mary), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Exeter, is valued at £22. 13s. 4d.: pres. net income, £321: patron, Bishop of Exeter: pres. incumbent, W. Mallock, 1844: contains 5,150 acres: 140 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 848: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 975: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £3,110: poor rates in 1837, £217.

CHERITON (NORTH), SOMERSET, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Horethorne, union of Wincanton: 135 miles from London (coach road 110), 3 from Wincanton, 7 from Bruton. Gt. West. Rail. through Chippenham to Westbury, thence 25 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Bristol to Westbury, &c., 188 miles. Money orders issued at Wincanton: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 4 p.m. The living (St. John the Baptist), a disch<sup>d</sup> rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Wells, and diocese of Bath and Wells, is valued at £8. 12s. 1d.: pres. net income, £200: patron, Rev. T. Gatehouse: pres. incumbent, T. Gatehouse, 1824: contains 1,290 acres: 47 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 290: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £2,662: poor rates in 1837, £210.

CHERITON-FITZPAINE, DEVON, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of West Budleigh, union of Crediton, near a branch of the river Crudy: it includes the tithings of Bradley and Fulford: 170 miles from London, 5 from Crediton, 12 from Chumleigh. (For access and postal arrangements, see CHERITON-BISHOP'S.) There are several endowed charities, amounting together to about £65 per annum. The living, a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Exeter, is valued at £37. 6s. 8d.: pres. net income, £710: patron, Rev. W. H. Arundel: pres. incumbent, W. H. Arundel, 1824: contains 4,770 acres: 188 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,156: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,329: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £5,135: poor rates in 1837, £602.

CHERRINGTON, GLOUCESTER, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Longtree, union of Tetbury: 94 miles from London (coach road 97), 4 from Minchinghampton, 8 from Cirencester. —Gt. West. Rail. through Swindon to Tetbury Road station, thence 3 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Stonehouse to Tetbury Road, &c., 118 miles. —Money orders issued at Tetbury: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8½ a.m.: post closes 4½ p.m. —The living (St. Nicholas), a rectory in the archd<sup>r</sup> of Gloucester, diocese of Gloucester and Bristol, is valued at £13: pres. net income, £176: patron, Rev. W. George: pres. incumbent, W. George, 1841: contains 1,880 acres: 47 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 220: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £2,096: poor rates in 1837, £114. 17s. —W., Gatcombe Park, the seat of David Ricardo, Esq.

CHERRINGTON, SALOP, a township in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Bradford South, and parish of Edmond —(which see for access, &c.): 144 miles from London, 5 from Newport, 9 from Drayton. —Money orders issued at Newport: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 3½ p.m. —Contains 36 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 189: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,527.

CHERRY-BURTON. See BURTON-CHERRY.

CHERRY-HINTON, CAMBRIDGE, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Flendish, union of Chesterton: 61 miles from London (coach road 52), 3 from Cambridge, 6 from Linton. —Nor. and East. Co<sup>r</sup> Rail. to Cambridge, thence 3 miles: from Derby, through Syston and Peterborough to Cambridge, &c., 129 miles. —Money orders issued at Cambridge: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8½ a.m.: post closes 9 p.m. —It derives its name from being formerly celebrated for the number of cherry trees which grew here, and is pleasantly situated at the foot of the Gogmagog hills. In the chalk pits, fossil teeth and the vertebrae of fish have been found. Saffron is cultivated here. The church lands produce £31. 12s. per annum. There is a school founded by a late vicar, the Rev. Bewick Bridge, with an annual income of £35, being the interest of £1,000 stock; the scholars, of whom there are about 100, also pay 1d. per week each. —The living (St. Andrew), a disch<sup>d</sup> vicarage in the archd<sup>r</sup> and diocese of Ely, is valued at £9. 14s. 7d.: pres. net income, £164: patron, Peter-house, Cambridge: pres. incumbent, William Nind, 1838: contains 2,043 acres: 125 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 654: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 752: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £2,876: poor rates in 1837, £406. 18s.

CHERTSEY, SURREY, a market town and parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Godley and Chertsey, union of Chertsey, on the western bank of the Thames: 22 miles from London (coach road 20), 13 from Guildford. —Sou. West. Rail. to Chertsey station: from Derby, through London, &c., 154 miles. —Money orders issued here: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 7 a.m.: post closes 7 p.m. —Chertsey, situated near the banks of the Thames, over which there is a stone bridge of seven arches, connecting it with the county of Middlesex, is a place of considerable antiquity, being traceable high into the Saxon times; its name appearing at that time to have been Coertesya, which gradually became corrupted, as Bede calls it Ceroti insula, whence it is conjectured that the district about here has undergone some of those geological changes of which the evidences are so numerous in England, as Chertsey is now anything but an island. At the early period just spoken of, the town principally derived its consequence from a Benedictine abbey, which was founded here in 666, by Frithwold, governor of Surrey, under Wulphar, king of Mercia, whose original grant is still in existence, and exhibits a curious instance of the intellectual condition of the highest nobility at that time. Modernised, it is as follows:—I beseech those names are annexed to subscribe themselves witness, that I, Frithwold, who am the giver, together with the Abbot Erkenwald, on account of my ignorance of letters, have expressed with the sign of the cross. The abbey was dedicated to St. Peter, but was pillaged and burnt by the Danes. It was rebuilt by King Edgar, who conferred upon it various privileges, and it has indeed been asserted that the superior of Chertsey Abbey had a seat in parliament, as one of the twenty-nine abbots who held of the king per baroniam; but this is very much doubted, as there is reason to believe that, though he held the rank, and had the title of baron, he had no seat. Certainly he was a man of great power and influence, being esteemed, as Salmond says, “as a little prince hereabouts.” It was in the church of this abbey that the body of Henry VI. was first interred without any funeral pomp, and remained there until it was removed by Henry VII., and buried with suitable pomp at Windsor. At the general dissolution, the annual revenues of the abbey amounted to £659, according to Dugdale, or to about £285 more than that, according to Speed. A few fragments of stone walls are all that remain of the edifice, on the site of which an excellent mansion, called the Abbey House, was built by Sir Nicholas Carew, master of the buckhounds to Charles II. That house was erected with the materials of the old abbey, but it was taken down some few years ago, and a barn, in building which the old monastic stones have again been used, occupies its place. The church is a handsome stone building, with an embattled tower, erected upon the site of the old one in 1804. It contains several monuments, and among them a cenotaph to the great statesman and orator, Charles James Fox. A charter for a market was granted by Queen Elizabeth, on condition that the tolls and other profits arising from it and from the Lent fair, should be distributed among the poor. Two bequests of Miss Mary Giles, one producing £23 per annum, and the other the interest of £3,000 consols, were also applied for the benefit of the poor. A fund of about £400 per annum is employed for the instruction of 130 boys, and the same number of girls, 30 each of both sexes being also clothed. The neighbouring parishes of Thorp, Egham, and Chobham, participate in this benefit. There is a Wesleyan chapel here. Petty sessions are held here twice a month, and on Whit-Tuesday a court-leet is held, at which the headborough and other officers are appointed. There are a literary and scientific institution, a savings bank, and two agricultural societies here. The union workhouse can accommodate 180 inmates. The principal trade of the place is in flour, malt, brooms, and sticks. In the street leading south, stands the Perch House, once the residence of the poet Cowley, and the place where he died in 1667, in his 49th year. Over the porch is inscribed--

"Here the last accents flowed from Cowley's tongue."

Abraham Cowley, long eminent as a poet, from the elegance of his versification, but whose fame has of late years greatly declined, from the inanity which it covers, was born in London in 1618. He was the posthumous son of a grocer, but his mother made sufficient interest to get him admitted as a king's scholar at Westminster; and he afterwards evinced considerable poetical talents, publishing a volume entitled "Poetical Blossoms," in his seventeenth year, which procured for him considerable reputation. The next year he was elected a scholar of Trinity College, Cambridge, where he resided until 1643, when he was ejected by the parliamentary commissioners. He was distinguished as a royal partisan, and when the Queen Henrietta Maria left the country, Cowley accompanied her, and was the main agent afterwards in conducting the correspondence between her majesty and the king. In 1656 he returned to England, and soon afterwards published most of his best poems. He was, however, on suspicion, thrown into prison, but was released on the bail of Dr. Scarborough. On the Restoration he was for some time neglected. At length, through the interest of the Duke of Buckingham, he received the lease of a farm at Chertsey, which produced him about £300 a year, to which he retired, but lived only a short time to enjoy his property, dying in 1667. He was buried in Westminster Abbey. St. Anne's Hill, about a mile from the town, is a conical formation, about 240 feet in height, commanding on the east a splendid view of the river and valley of the Thames as far as Richmond, and on every side scenes of the most exquisite beauty; on its southern slope there is a grove-secluded mansion, which was for some time the residence of the great statesman spoken of above, Charles James Fox. Not far from it are the remains of an ancient chapel.---The living (All Saints), a vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Surrey, and diocese of Winchester, is valued at £13. 13s. 4d.: pres. net income, £307: patrons, Haberdashers' Company as Trustees: pres. incumbent, Charles Cotton, 1837: contains 10,020 acres: 896 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 5,347: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 6,149: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>y</sup> £18,022: poor rates in 1837, £2,225. 6s.---Market day, Wednesday. Fairs: First Monday in Lent, May 14, August 6, September 25, horses.---Bankers: La Coste & Son---draw on Masterman, Peters, & Co.: Mangels Brothers---draw on Williams, Deacon, & Co.---Inns: Crown, and Swan.---The mansions and villas of the gentry around Chertsey are numerous; among the principal are Lyne Grove, the seat of the Hon. Capt. George John Cavendish, brother of Lord Waterpark.---Fox Hill is the residence of John Isatt Briscoe, Esq.; Botley's Park, of R. Gosling, Esq.; and Ottershawe Park, of Richard Crawshaye, Esq.

CHESELBORNE, Dorset, a parish in the hund<sup>d</sup> of Whiteway, union of Cerne, Cerne division of the county: 149 miles from London (coach road 111), 9 from Blandford-Forum, 8 from Dorchester.---Sou. West. Rail. through Southampton to Dorchester, thence 8 miles: from Derby, through Rugby, Oxford, Reading, and Southampton, to Dorchester, &c., 238 miles.---Money orders issued at Blandford: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9½ a.m.: post closes 5½ p.m.---The living, a rectory, formerly in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Dorset, diocese of Bristol, now in the diocese of Sarum, is valued at £18. 10s. 5d.: pres. net income, £254: patron, Lord Rivers: pres. incumbent, T. W. Birch, 1822: contains 1,850 acres: 61 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 346: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 398: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>y</sup> £1,795: poor rates in 1837, £243. 10s.

CHESHAM, BUCKINGHAM, a market town and parish in the first division of the hund<sup>d</sup> of Burnham, union of Amersham: it includes the hamlets of Ashley-Green, Billington, Chartridge, and Lattimer: 40 miles from London (coach road 26), 8 from Tring.---Nor. West. Rail. to Tring, thence 8 miles: from Derby, through Rugby to Tring, &c., 108 miles.---Money orders issued here: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 7 a.m.: post closes 7.10 p.m.---The river, which gives its name to the place, rises at two spring heads, one in the Bury Park, which belongs to William Lowndes, Esq., the other in Higham Mead, the property of Mr. Hepburn. It turns several mills in this parish, and flows down the valley between the high and beautifully wooded chalk hills, through Latimers' Park, the domain of the Hon. Colonel Cavendish. The church stands on an elevated spot adjoining the town, and close to it is the Bury House. The market is principally for corn; but the staple of Chesham is straw-plait, which is made to a considerable extent, and which rivals, if it does not surpass, the tuscan. A great quantity of coarse wooden turnery is made here, the lathes employed being of the most primitive description, consisting of a long springy pole overhead, from the end of which a cord passes round the mandril, which holds the bowl or other article in course of manufacture; the lower end of the cord is fastened to the treadle; thus, as the cord works up and down, the lathe has an alternating motion, instead of a continuous twirl in one direction. There are also here two breweries, a tan-yard, and a silk manufactory: a large number of light beech and cherrywood chairs are sent to London. The parish is of very considerable extent, the greater part being high land on the chalk hills which surround the town; the lower parts of which, along the waterside, are very unhealthy. Latimers is a very fine domain, well wooded, and stocked with deer. The house is a large Elizabethian mansion, on the brow of the hill, overlooking the stream flowing through the grounds; and, beyond it, the road runs along the foot of the opposite ridge, which is crowned with a fine beech wood. In the meadows below the park stand the ruins of Flaundon church, which some few years back was desecrated; the Hon. C. Cavendish having built one near the village, from which this is two miles distant. There is also in this parish Woburn Hall, the seat of Benjamin Fuller, Esq. Weedon's almshouses, founded in 1624, are endowed with land in Hundridge hamlet, producing £75 per annum. There are also thirty-five acres of land, of which the rent is distributed among the poor, eight church houses inhabited by the poor, a gift of bibles and catechisms, and other small charitable bequests. The inhabitants are chiefly dissenters, mostly Baptists, who have three chapels here. — The living (the Virgin Mary), a disch<sup>d</sup> vicarage in the diocese of Oxford, is valued at £13. 1s. 5d.: pres. net income, £453: patron, Duke of Bedford: pres. incumbent, A. F. Aylward, 1847: contains 11,880 acres: 1,052 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 5,593: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 6,432: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £15,656: poor rates in 1837, £2,848. 10s. — Market days: Wednesday, for corn; Saturday, for plait, &c. Fairs: April 21, July 22, and September 28. — Bankers: Thomas Butcher and Son—draw on Drewett & Fowler. — Inns: Crown, and George.

CHESHAM-BOIS, BUCKINGHAM, a parish in the first division of the hun<sup>d</sup> of Burnham, union of Amersham: 26 miles from London, 1 from Chesham, 2 from Amersham. — (For access and postal arrangements, see above.) — Money orders issued at Chesham: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 7½ a.m.: post closes 6½ p.m. — A little village on the road from Chesham to London, surrounded by woodland. The church is a pretty little ancient building. The inhabitants have the privilege of sending their sons to Lord Cheyne's charity school at Amersham. — The living (St. Leonard), a rectory in the diocese of Oxford, is valued at £5. 6s. 8d.: pres. net income, £117: patron, Duke of Bedford: pres. incumbent, C. Blackman: contains 810 acres: 33 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, £218: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,186: poor rates in 1837, £46. 2s.

CHESHUNT, HERTFORD, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Hertford, union of Edmonton: it includes Cheshunt-Street, Waltham-Cross, and Woodside: 16 miles from London (coach road 12), 8 from Chipping-Barnet. — Nor. and East. Co<sup>r</sup> Rail. to Cheshunt station: from Derby, through London, &c., 148 miles. — Money orders issued at Waltham-Cross: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 7½ a.m.: post closes 7 p.m. — Cheshunt is an extensive and pleasant village, extending principally along both sides of the high road, but having many respectable detached dwellings out of the main street, with their gardens and shrubberies about them. In Domesday-book it is called Cestrehunt,—an appellation which, from its position with respect to London, the remains of an ancient camp in a field to the west of the village, and a military way leading from that to the great road of Ermine Street, induced Salmon to fix upon this place as the Duroilitum of Antoninus; but Mr. Gough questions this opinion, and suggests that Durnford or Turnford, a little village at the north-end of Cheshunt, by Cheshunt Wash, was the true site of Duroilitum. Whether that be so or not, certainly Salmon's opinion is countenanced by the fact, that several Roman coins of the Emperors Hadrian, Claudius, and Constantine, which were exhibited to the Society of Antiquaries by Dr. Stukeley and Mr. Sawyer in 1724, have been discovered here. The parish of Cheshunt comprises not less than five manors, the principal of them, from which the others have branched off since the Domesday survey, was given by William the Conqueror to his nephew Earl Alan, surnamed the Red, who commanded the rear of his army at the battle of Hastings, and was rewarded with the earldom of Richmond, and the whole of Richmondshire, to which this manor was an appanage. It descended through various hands, some royal, some private, being at different periods divided, until at the present day there are, as stated above, five manors in the parish, the property of different gentlemen. Cheshunt-Paramount belongs to Sir George William Prescott, Bart.; Theobald's, to Thomas A. Russell, Esq.; St. Andrew-de-la-Motte, to Charles Mayo, Esq.; Rectory, to Samuel Dendy, Esq., and Beaumont-Perriers to Matthew Munt, Esq. The church of Cheshunt, which is a handsome fabric, was built in the time of Henry VI. by Nicholas Dixon, who was for thirty years rector of the parish, and who lies buried in the chancel. It contains several fine monumental brasses. Near the church is the house, the demesne of which was called Cheshunt Park, which was originally the property and occasional residence of Cardinal Wolsey, and afterwards the dwelling of Richard Cromwell, who, for a short time after the death of his father, swayed the sceptre of the realm as Lord Protector. After his abdication, he was allowed to retire quietly abroad, where he remained till the year 1680. On his return, he took up his residence at Cheshunt, under the name of Clark, and appears still to have retained something of the authoritative deportment to which he had been partially bred, and had for a little while used. His acquaintances fell in with his humour, and seldom contradicted him in his fancies. Among others, was one of reverting to his past greatness. On one occasion, a new associate, of the name of Windus, was introduced to the circle, and, after dinner, the wine having for some time circulated freely, Richard, all at once, snatched up his glass and the candle, and all the rest, but the new comer, knowing to what this was a prelude, followed his example. He led them up a back narrow staircase to a place little better than a closet, at the top of the house, and dragging an old brown chest out of a corner into the middle of the room, sat astride upon it, and drank to the "Prosperity of Old England!" Each of the guests did the same, without remark, until at last it came to the turn of Mr. Windus, when Richard exclaimed, "Sit light upon that chest, sir, for it contains the lives and fortunes of all England." The visitor naturally, with an astonished air, looked for an explanation, when his host, opening the box, showed to him an immense number of musty documents, which he assured him were what he had represented. The explanation was, that immediately after Richard succeeded his father in the protectorate, addresses from all parts of England poured in upon him, assuring him of affection and attachment, stating that he was their country's salvation, and placing their lives and fortunes at his disposal. When his fall came, not a hand was stretched out to help him, and, when he left Whitehall, he took all these addresses with him, carefully preserved them abroad, and brought them back with him to England, and thus showed them to his friends with ridicule and laughter.

The house is now the property of some of his female descendants. There is a chapel and college at Cheshunt, instituted by the Countess of Huntingdon, which is now a portion of the university of London; the principal is the Rev. Dr. Harris, and the education provided is of the first class. There are almshouses for ten widows at Turner's Hill. Petty sessions are held every fortnight at the Green Dragon Inn, in Churchgate. The living (the Virgin Mary), a vicarage in the diocese of Rochester, is valued at £26: pres. net income, £401: patron, Marquis of Salisbury: pres. incumbent, M. M. Preston, 1826: contains 8,430 acres: 956 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 5,402: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 6,212: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup> £22,204: poor rates in 1837, £2,242. 19s.

CHESLYN-HAY, STAFFORD, a township in the parish of Cannock—(which see for access, &c.)—Contains 117 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 774: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 890: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup> £1,146: poor rates in 1837, £139. 13s.

CHESSINGTON, SURREY, a parish in the second division of the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Cophthorne, union of Epsom: 18 miles from London (coach road 13), 3 from Ewell, 3 from Epsom. Sou. West. Rail. to Esber station, thence 3 miles: from Derby, through London, &c., 150 miles. Money orders issued at Epsom: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 9 a.m.: post closes 7 p.m. The living is a curacy to the vicarage of Malden, in the diocese of Winchester, and having jointly a pres. net income of £417: patron, Merton College, Oxford: pres. incumbent, G. Trevelyan, 1834: contains 1,230 acres: 35 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 226: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup> £1,368: poor rates in 1837, £131. 8s. Tithes commuted in 1839.

CHESTER, CHESHIRE, a city and county of itself, locally situated in the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Broxton: 183 miles from London, 16 from Liverpool. Nor. West. Rail. through to Chester station, 178 miles: from Derby, through Burton and Crewe, &c., 78 miles. Money orders issued here: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 7 a.m. and 5½ p.m.: post closes 3½ p.m. and 8 p.m. The name of Chester, or West Chester, as it was formerly called, to distinguish it among the many places which have the name Chester, with some addition, is undoubtedly the Latin Castrum, which is found affixed in different forms to so many names, sometimes as Chester, at others, Cais-tor, and Caster. The Romans called it Deva, or Devana, from the sweep of the river on which it is placed. The monk Ranulph affirms that it was of British origin, but this is not clear: it certainly was a Roman military station in the time of Agricola, for when he made his expedition into Scotland, this was the head-quarters of the 20th legion. Chester is situated on a rocky eminence on the north bank of the Dee: it is walled round, the walls being two miles in circumference and of great thickness, so that, at the narrowest part, two persons can walk abreast; they form a delightful promenade, affording fine views of the estuary of the Dee and the opposite mountains of Wales. The four principal streets form a cross, pointing to the cardinal points of the compass, each terminating in an arched gate. The streets are cut down in the solid rock several feet, which gives the city a remarkable character. The lower stories of the houses opening into the street are warehouses, and the shops are on the first floor, a balustraded balcony running the whole length each side of the way across the entrances of the cross streets; these are called rows, and are used by the foot-passengers, who are never seen in the street, except to cross over, for which purpose there are flights of steps at convenient distances. Pennant considers these rows to have had their origin in the Roman construction, he says—They appear to me to have been the same with the ancient vestibules, and to have been a form of building preserved from the time that the city was possessed by the Romans. They were the places where dependents waited for the coming out of the patrons. Plautus, in his Mostella, thus describes them:—

"Vide n' vestibulum ante odes et ambulacrum ejus modi."

The shops below them were the cryptæ and apothecæ, magazines for the various necessities of the owners of the houses. The place abounds in Roman antiquities, which our limits will not permit us to particularize. When the 20th legion was withdrawn to Bath, Chester was left in the keeping of the Roman colonists, who had intermarried with the Britons, till the year 607, when Ethelfrith, the Saxon, pillaged it, and left it to the Britons, who, it appears, retained it till it was wrested from them by Egbert, about the year 828. Towards the close of that century, the Danes, having suffered a severe defeat by Alfred the Great, pushed across to the west of England, and seized on Chester before he could overtake them: however, he got possession of it the next year. It was repaired by Ethelfreda, the renowned daughter of Alfred, and wife of Ethelred, Earl of Mercia, who was a woman of superior mind and Amazonian prowess: the most splendid actions of her brother Edward were the fruits of her talent. On the birth of her first child she separated from her husband, being deterred by the pangs and dangers of parturition from hazarding its recurrence, observing that it was beneath the daughter of a king to pursue any pleasure attended with so much inconvenience. She afterwards performed such prodigies of valour, that the titles Lady, or Queen, were deemed inadequate, and she was styled Lord, or King. In 973, King Edgar made the port a station for the Saxon navy. It subsequently fell into the hands of Canute, being part of the Mercian dominions ceded to him by Edmund Ironsides. It afterwards reverted to the Earls of Mercia, who possessed it till the Conquest, when it was given to Hugh Lupus by the Conqueror in person, who visited Chester within three years of his landing in England. From Doomsday-book, it appears there were 431 houses taxable, and 56 belonging to the Bishop: and it had a guild mercatory, equivalent to a corporation, and a chief magistrate, called præsitus regis or provost. Lucian, the monk, who lived about this time, speaks of its having a very considerable trade. He says—The beautiful river on the south side serves as an harbour for ships from Gascoigne, Spain, Ireland, and Germany; who, by the guidance of Christ, and the industry and prudence of the merchants, supply and refresh the heart of the city with abundance of goods: so that, through the various consolations of divine favour, we have wine in profusion from the plentiful vintages of those countries. At the close of the twelfth century, Giraldus, who accompanied the Archbishop Baldwin when preaching a crusade, gives the following notice:—that Constance, Countess of Chester, kept a herd of milch hinds, made cheeses of their milk, and presented three to the Archbishop. And that he saw here an animal, a compound of an ox and a stag; a woman born without arms, who could sew as well with her feet as others with their fingers; and, finally, that he heard of a litter of whelps got by a monkey." Very important observations, truly! Chester was the head-quarters of the military operations carried on against Wales. Llewelyn ravaged the neighbourhood, and destroyed everything up to the walls. Two years afterwards, Henry III. summoned his nobility here to revenge himself on Llewelyn, and it was here Llewelyn was summoned to do homage to Edward I. in 1275; but refusing, the war was begun which ended in his destruction. During the wars of the Roses, it was twice visited by the heroic Margaret. In 1506, again in 1517, and again in 1604, Chester was ravaged by the pestilence. We are compelled to pass on in our narrative to the time when England again saw her sons waging civil war. The bishop and his son, Orlando Bridgman, who was afterwards knighted and made keeper of the seals, induced the inhabitants to defend it on behalf of the king. On the 20th June, 1643, the Parliamentarians, under Sir W. Brereton, attacked it unsuccessfully. A few months afterwards he again summoned the governor, Sir Abraham Shipman, who replied, that he was not to be intimidated by words, and that Sir William must win it to wear it. At one time the king was here in person, but left immediately after the battle on Rowton-heath, which is two miles east of the city. It ultimately surrendered, after a most gallant defence of twenty weeks. Chester was one of the five bishoprics of the Mercian kingdom; but, about the year 785, it was incorporated with Lichfield. Shortly after the Conquest, one bishop of Lichfield made Chester the episcopal seat, and made the church of St. John his cathedral; but his successor returned to Lichfield, and Chester remained without a bishop till after the suppression of the monasteries: it was one of the six sees then formed, and the church of the dissolved abbey of St. Werburgh was converted into the cathedral. Tanner considers all the accounts of this abbey in early times, to be fictions of later writers. The first tolerably probable account of it is, that it was ruined, in common with the city, by the Danes in the time of Alfred, and restored by Ethelfleda in the time of Athelstane, as above mentioned. After the Conquest it flourished under the Earl of Chester, and at the dissolution its revenues were valued at £1,073. 17s. 7d. Various remains of the buildings are standing; among others, the vast room in which is held the school founded by Henry VIII., which was the refectory. The bishop's palace was erected in 1753, on the ancient residence of the abbots. Although the cathedral, a spacious, irregular, and heavy pile, was formed out of the church of the old abbey, very little of it was the old church of the abbey, for most of the present structure was built in the time of Henrys VII. and VIII., "all the la-hours of the Saxons, and most of those of its re-founder, Hugh Lupus, are lost." The bishop's throne stands on a stone base, of a rectangular form, richly ornamented with Gothic sculptures: round the top are arranged a number of little images, designed to represent the kings and saints of the Mercian kingdom. They were much mutilated by the misguided zeal of the puritans; and in restoring them, about a century ago, a very curious effect has been produced, by the workman (artist?) employed not being a physiognomist—the female figures have male faces, and vice versa. This is generally called St. Werburgh's shrine; but Pennant considers it only the base on which the shrine was placed. The chapter-house, a beautiful building, stands in the east cloister: in it were deposited the remains of all the Earls of Chester of the Norman line, except one drowned at sea. In 1724, the remains of the first earl, Hugh Lupus, were dug up; they were wrapped in leather, in a stone coffin; at the head was a stone shaped like a T, with his cognizance, a wolf's head, on it. Willis quotes an old manuscript epitaph of him:—

"Although my corps it lies in grave,
And that my flesh consumed be,
My picture here now, that you have,
An Earle somtyme of this city:
Hugh Lupe by name,
Sunn of the Duke of Brittainne,
Of Chivalrie then being flower,
And sister's sonne to William Conquerour,
To the honour of God I did edifie
The foundation of this monastery.
The ninth year of this my foundation
God changed my life to his heavenly mansion,
In the year of our Lord being gone,
A thousand one hundred and one,
I changed this life verily,
The xvii date of July.

Till the middle of the last century, the Duttons of Chester had an hereditary right over the minstrels, or, in modern matter-of-fact phraseology, the vagrants of the county. They received a toll of every meretrix, "officium suum exercente," which was recognised in all vagrants acts passed even up to the time of George II. It originated in a service rendered by Ralph Dutton, son-in-law to Roger de Lacy, constable of Chester under Hugh Lupus, who, with all the "vagrants" collected at the feast of St. Werburgh, marched to the relief of the earl when hard pressed by the Welsh; for which service he was invested "magisterium omnium locatorum et meretricum totius, Cestreshire." This patronage of minstrels and strollers will account for Chester being celebrated for the performance of mysteries, or religious plays, which were originally performed in Latin, in the early part of the fourteenth century. They are mentioned in a proclamation of the clerk of the "Pentice," temp. Henry VIII., Harl. MSS. 2013. Pennant mentions the performance of one of them by the twenty-five companies in 1600, the poetry and language being altered to suit the time. On this occasion the drapiers enacted the creation. Adam and Eve appeared literally naked, and were not ashamed, till after the fall, when they proposed, according to the stage directions, to make themselves subligacula a foliis quibus tegamus pudenda, and made their appearance with aprons of fig-leaves. The place of performance was the church. (Proh pudor!) The castle, which is within the walls, on the south-west side of the city, seems to have been rebuilt by the Normans, and to occupy more space than the Saxon structure. The greater part of the old buildings were taken down some years ago, to make room for the county gaol, law courts, barracks, &c., which were built under the directions of Mr. Harrison. The gaol is one of the most complete in the kingdom: the armoury is very extensive. The diocese of Chester comprehends the counties of Chester and Lancashire, and part of those of Cumberland, Westmoreland, Denbigh, and Flint. The rectory of Waverton is annexed to the see, and a prebend in Durham Cathedral is held in commendam. The corporation consists of a dean and six prebendaries; there are also six minor canons; besides the castle and the liberties of the cathedral, which are extra-parochial, there are eleven parishes within the city. In the patronage of the Bishop are St. Bridget, a rectory, income, £75; St. Martin's, a rectory, £80; St. Michael, a curacy, £84; St. Olave's, a curacy, £89; St. Peter's, a disch<sup>d</sup> curacy, £120. The Marquis of Westminster is patron of St. John the Baptist, a vicarage, income, £237; and St. Mary-on-the-Hill, £406. The mayor and corporation have the patronage of St. John the Little, a curacy, income, £164. St. Oswald, a disch<sup>d</sup> vicarage, is in the gift of the Dean and Chapter, income, £245. The church of St. Thomas is in ruins; and the presentation to the Holy Trinity, a disch<sup>d</sup> rectory, income, £310, is in the hands of the Earl of Derby. The endowed charities of Chester are very numerous. We must not load our pages by copying the "Charity Commission" report: suffice it to say, that the facts revealed in that report are very discreditable to the members of the corporation in time past. It was found that, of the charities under the control of the corporation, no separate account had been kept; but that they were all carried into the general corporation funds, out of which certain small sums were annually paid, "regulated in some instances by the rent which the property produced when it first came into their possession, and in other instances, arbitrarily fixed at a considerably less amount. In many cases, both land and houses had been granted in perpetuity, subject to fee-farm rents bearing no just proportion to their real value; and, in such instances, the grants were almost always made to members of the corporate body; and, again, many of these rents had been sold at twenty or twenty-five years' purchase, for the purpose of raising sums of money to discharge the city debts." These endowed charities amounted, at the time of the report, 1836, to £2,000 and upwards per annum. The infirmary is supported at an expense of £3,000 per annum. In the Marquis of Westminster's school, 400 to 450 boys and girls are educated. The Presbyterian chapel, in Crook Street, has endowed charities amounting to £150 per annum; and the various denominations of dissenters have places of worship here, and schools. Chester has been governed under various charters given at different times, the earliest of them by Earl Ranulph, in the beginning of the 13th century; but under the Reform Act and Municipal Corporation Act, it returns two members to parliament, which is the same as it did before. The boundaries of the borough remain the same as formerly, except that they have been in one place extended, to include part of the township of Great Boughton. It is divided into five wards, and its income is about £6,000 a year. It has had granted a commission of the peace, and a court of quarter sessions, presided over by a recorder. There is also a "pentice court," held four times a year, for the recovery of debts, and for other purposes twice a-week. The rise of Liverpool, and the bad state of the navigation of the Dee, has made the port of Chester of small importance. It has a trade with Ireland. There are good markets, well attended, for the local supply of necessaries. Chester being an important station on the North-Western Railway, and the point where the Holyhead Railway branches off with the Irish traffic, it cannot fail to be greatly benefited by the passing of such a stream of communication as will be drawn through it by the completion of the connection between Chester and Holyhead, when the Britannia Bridge is finished. (We have given plates of that wonderful engineering work, and the great station at Chester.)—Contains 3,016 acres; 4,096 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 23,115: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 26,565: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £55,960: poor rates in 1837, £7,732. 4s. 1½d.—Market days, Wednesday and Saturday. Fairs: last Thursday in February, April 25, July 5, September 5, October 10, November 28.—Bankers: Dixon & Wardell—draw on Jones, Loyd, & Co.: Williams & Co.—draw on Robarts, Curtin, & Co.: North and South Wales Bank—draw on London and Westminster.—Inns: Albion Hotel: Feather's Hotel: Royal Hotel.

CHESTER (LITTLE), DERBY, a township in the parish of St. Alkmund—(which see for access, &c.): 128 miles from London, 2 from Derby, 12 from Alfreton.—Money orders issued at Derby: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8½ a.m.: post closes 9 p.m.—Contains 46 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 364: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 415: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £974: poor rates in 1837, £39. 18s.—(Other returns with the parish.)

CHESTERBLADE, SOMERSET, a chapelry in the parish of Evercreech, and (though locally in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Whitestone) hun<sup>d</sup> of Wells-Forum—(which see for access, &c.): 114 miles from London, 2 from Shepton Mallet, 8 from Frome.—Money orders issued at Shepton Mallet: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 7½ a.m.: post closes 7 p.m.—The living is a chapelry to the vicarage of Evercreech.

CHESTERFIELD, DERBY, a parish and market town in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Scarsdale, union of Chesterfield, on the side of a hill: it includes the hamlets of Calow, Newbold, Dunston, and Pilaley, the townships of Hasland, Temple Normanton, Tupton, and Walton, and the chapelry of Brimington: 156 miles from London (coach road 150), 23 from Derby.—Nor. West. Rail. through Rugby and Derby to Chesterfield station: from Derby, through Ambergate to Chesterfield, 24 miles.—Money orders issued here: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m. and 5½ p.m.: post closes 8 and 9½ p.m.—Chesterfield is a large town on the west side of the river Rother, near the middle of the Scarsdale hundred. Its Saxon name was Cæster; and it is supposed by the Rev. Mr. Pegge to have been originally a Roman station, on the road from Derby to York. He says:—As to the site of Chesterfield, it lies so under the Castle Hill, at Tupton, or Tupton, that when it became a place of note, it would rationally be called the field of Chester or Castle. At the time of the Norman survey, it was called Cesterfield, and is noticed only as a bailiwick to Newbold, which is now a small hamlet north of the parish. William Rufus built a church here, and gave it to Lincoln Cathedral. King John incorporated it, gave it an annual fair and two weekly markets, and granted it to William de Briwere, or Bruere. It has since then passed through several hands, and it is now in the possession of the Duke of Devonshire. In 1266, a battle was fought here between Henry, the nephew of Henry III., and Robert de Ferrers, Earl of Derby. The latter was completely defeated; and, after endeavouring to escape by concealing himself in the church, was taken prisoner, and sent in irons to Windsor, where he was confined for three years, and afterwards deprived of his titles and estates. During the civil wars, a battle was fought here, in which the Earl of Newcastle entirely routed some of the parliamentary troops. The streets are well lighted with gas, and well paved. The houses are irregularly built; they are constructed of brick, with stone roofs, and are plentifully supplied with water, brought from Holme, two miles west of the town, by pipes. Here is a spacious cruciform church. The spire is 230 feet in height, covered with lead, twisted in so curious a manner, that, if viewed from any direction, it appears to lean considerably on one side. In the chancel are two large altar tombs, and several inscriptions, to the memory of the family of the Foljambes, who are buried here. Trinity church was completed in 1838. It is at the north-west part of the town. There is a canal running to the Trent, 46 miles long, passing beneath two tunnels, one nearly three quarters of a mile in length. There is a free grammar-school, founded in the reign of Elizabeth, and is endowed with £100 yearly. It is now managed by trustees. There are 80 boys, 40 of them free. In the Victoria schools (so named from the visit of her Majesty, in 1843, to Chesterfield and Chatsworth house,) founded and supported by the vicar, 150 boys and girls are educated, 50 of each sex being also clothed. There are, besides the above, National schools, a British school for boys, a school of Industry for girls, and an Infant school, all supported with munificence. The union workhouse, opened in January, 1840, contains accommodation for 300 paupers, besides the master's house. There are also a theatre, subscription library, dispensary, and assembly-rooms at the Castle Inn. The town-hall overlooks the market-place. A new council-house was erected in 1849. There are numerous almshouses and charitable bequests for the benefit of the poor, and several ancient religious establishments formerly existed here. The Roman Catholics, and the different denominations of dissenters, have chapels in this parish. The principal trades are in lace and broad net manufacture. There are two large manufactories of the latter, also three mills for silk, cotton, and merino, and various other manufactories. In the neighbourhood are some ironstone and coal mines, and foundries, in which upwards of 300 men are employed. The management of the local affairs is vested in a mayor, 4 aldermen, and 12 councillors, who hold a petty session for the division, at the town-hall, every other Saturday. It is a polling-place for the northern division of the county under a recent act. The Stanhopes derive their title of earl from Chesterfield.---The living (All Saints), a vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Derby, and diocese of Lichfield, is valued at £15. 0s. 2½d.: pres. net income, £204: patrons, Bishop of Lichfield: pres. incumbent, Thomas Hill, 1822: contains 13,160 acres: 2,177 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 11,231: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £39,621: poor rates in 1837, £3,220. 10s.---Market day, Saturday. Fairs: Jan. 27, Feb. 28, first Saturday in April, May 4, July 5, Sept. 25, and Nov. 25. Races in autumn.---Bankers: Chesterfield and North Derbyshire Banking Company—draw on Smith, Payne, & Co.; Crampton, Newton, & Co.—draw on Smith, Payne, & Co.; Robinson and Brodhurst—draw on Glyn, Halifax, & Co.---Angel Inn, and Commercial Hotel.

CHESTERFIELD, DERBY, a township in the above parish—(which see for access, &c.)---Contains 1,208 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 6,618: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 7,610: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £17,488: poor rates in 1838, £1,820. 19s.

CHESTERFORD (GREAT), (anciently CAMBORICUM), ESSEX, a parish in the hund<sup>l</sup> of Uttlesford, union of Saffron Walden: 47½ miles from London (coach road 47), 4 from Saffron Walden, 2 from Linton.---Nor. and East. Co<sup>r</sup>. Rail. to Chesterford station: from Derby, through Syston, Peterborough, and Cambridge, to Chesterford, 136 miles.---Money orders issued at Saffron Walden: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 8½ a.m.: post closes 6 p.m.---The village is pleasantly situated on the eastern bank of the river Granta, which, in this part of its course, divides Essex from Cambridgeshire, and is generally called the Cam. Chesterford was unquestionably a Roman station, as is shown by the remains which have at different times been discovered here, as well as also from the bounds of an encampment, which, till within a very late period, might be completely traced, and portions of which are still visible in various places. Its name, however, has been much contested among the antiquaries. Horsley calls it the Isiani, a station which Salmon refers to Colchester, while Dr. Stukeley and Baxter consider it to be the Camboricum of Antoninus, an opinion in which Mr. Gough coincides. In the reign of Edward the Confessor, the manor was the property of Earl Edgar, but at the time of the Domesday survey it belonged to the king, and had the privileges of a royal demesne. It was afterwards in the possession of several noble families. At the dissolution, Henry VIII. bestowed it upon Lord Chancellor Audley, from whose family it passed to the present Lord Braybrooke. The church is an ancient and interesting structure, and had formerly a chantry attached to it. In the certificate of the chantry lands the place is called a great towne and populous, having in yt the number of 500 houseling people and more. Great Chesterford is the junction station of the Newmarket branch of the Northern and Eastern Counties Railway.---The living (All Saints), a disch<sup>d</sup>. vicarage, with the rectory of Little Chesterford, in the diocese of Rochester, is valued at £10: pres. net income, £427: patron, Marquis of Bristol: pres. incumbent, Lord C. A. Hervey, 1839: contains 3,030 acres: 186 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 917: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,054: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £2,362: poor rates in 1837, £554. 18s. —Fair, July 5, for horses.

CHESTERFORD (LITTLE), ESSEX, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Uttlesford, union of Saffron Walden: 45 miles from London. —(For access and postal arrangements, see above.) —The living is a rectory annexed to the vicarage of Great Chesterford: contains 1,260 acres: 46 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 229: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £1,777: poor rates in 1837, £144.

CHESTER-LE-STREET, DURHAM, a parish, partly in the middle division of Chester ward, and partly in the north division of Easington ward, union of Chester-le-Street: it includes the townships of Beamish Edmonale, Harraton, Hedley, Kibblesworth, Lambton, Lumley Great, Lumley Little, Pelton, Plawsworth, Ravensworth, Urpeth, Ouston, and Waldrige, and the chapelries of Birtley, Lints-green, Chester-le-Street, and Lamesley: 293 miles from London (coach road 265), 6 from Durham. —Nor. West. Rail. through Rugby, Derby, York, and Durham, to Pensher station, thence 3 miles: from Derby, through York, &c., 161 miles. —(For the livings in this parish, see the chapelries of Chester-le-Street and Lamesley): contains 31,260 acres: 2,824 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 16,359: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 18,812: poor rates in 1838, £3,717. 2s. —S. E., Lumley Castle—(for which, see LITTLE LUMLEY.)

CHESTER-LE-STREET, DURHAM, a chapelry in the above parish—(which see for access, &c.): 293 miles from London (coach road 265), 6 from Durham. —Money orders issued at Durham: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 9½ a.m.: post closes 7 p.m. —The Saxon name of Chester-le-Street was Cun-ceastre or Cuneagestre, and Camden supposes that it was on the Roman military way to Newcastle, and was the Condercum of the Romans, but nothing has been found which is any proof of that assertion. It is situated in a pleasant valley, west of the river Wear. It became the episcopal see of Durham about 883, when Eardulph, the bishop, removed hither the remains of St. Cuthbert from Crake-Minster, and erected a church to receive them. Elgeric, fourth bishop of Durham, rebuilt the church on a more magnificent scale. The bishop transferred the large amount of treasure which was discovered during the work, to Peterborough monastery, in which he had been a monk. In 995, the see was removed to Durham, and this church continued parochial, until Bishop Antony Beck, in 1286, made it collegiate, establishing a dean, seven prebendaries, five chaplains, three deacons, and other members. It continued thus until the dissolution, when its revenue was £77. 12s. 8d. The present church is a handsome structure of stone, with a nave, side aisles, and a tower, which has a square basement, but is octagonal above the roof, and is surmounted by a fine spire, 156 feet in height, one of the most handsome in the north of England. The interior is in good preservation, and in the north aisle is an interesting arrangement of fourteen altar tombs, with effigies of the ancestors of the noble family of Lumley of Lumley Castle, from the Conquest to the time of Queen Elizabeth. In 1771, the village of Chester-le-Street was much injured by an inundation of the Wear, by which much property was destroyed. In 1821, a bridge was built over the river, which is navigable up to this part. The Bishop of Durham, as lord of the manor, holds a court-leet here twice every year for the recovery of small debts; and a coroner, specially chosen, holds the petty sessions for Chester ward every other Thursday. By a recent act, this is a polling-place for the northern division of the county. Nails, ropes, and tiles, are extensively manufactured here, and there is a large quantity of coal in the neighbourhood. Independents and Primitive Wesleyan Methodists have chapels here. In 1718, Mrs. Tewart bequeathed £6 for the teaching of twelve children, also £3 for apprenticing poor children, and £5. 5s., which, with £20 per annum, paid by the Earl of Durham (some portion as a donation, and some as the supposed interest of charities which his grandfather, Gen. Lambton, held in trust), is yearly divided among the poor, in bread. This parish has also a share of about £16. 16s. in the Longstock estate under Harry Smith's charity. —The living (Virgin Mary and St. Cuthbert) is a perpetual curacy, not in charge, in the archd<sup>y</sup>. and diocese of Durham: pres. net income, £377: patrons, H. Jolliffe, Esq., and Lady Byron, alternately: pres. incumbent, T. H. Ripley, 1828: contains 2,940 acres: 323 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 2,599: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 2,989: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £7,455: poor rates in 1838, £529. 10s. —Not far from Chester-le-Street stands Lambton Castle, formerly known as Harraton Hall, once the seat of the D'Arcys, and now the residence of the Earl of Durham. The castle, built by Bononi, is a modern structure. It contains a spacious library, with a handsome gallery running round it, in which, besides a good collection of works by some of the best authors, are a few family paintings, and amongst the latter is a beautiful full-size portrait of the late Gen. John Lambton, by Sir Joshua Reynolds. Attached to the castle there are extensive pleasure grounds, with a beautiful hanging wood on the southern bank of the Wear. There is a tradition extant, that one of the Lambtons, by means of a coat of razors, destroyed an immense worm or serpent, which here infested the river, and there is a mutilated statue, or effigy, still pointed out to corroborate the story, and there is also an eminence in the vicinity, called Worm-hill, but no real proof of the truth of the story is anywhere to be seen. George Frederick D'Arcy Lambton, Viscount Lambton, and Baron Durham, of the city of Durham, and of Lambton Castle, on the death of his father in 1840, succeeded him as second Earl of Durham: The following passage concerning the noble family of Lambton, occurs in Surtees' History of the county of Durham. No earlier owners of Lambton are on record, than the ancient and honourable family which still bears the local name. The regular pedigree can only be traced from the twelfth century, many of the family records being destroyed in the civil wars; but the previous residence of the family is well proved by attestations of charters and incidental evidence, from a period very nearly approaching the Norman Conquest. Robert de Lambton, feudal lord of Lambton Castle, died in 1350, and from him lineally descended, the twelfth in succession, William Lambton, Esq., colonel of in- fantry under Charles I., who was knighted in 1614, and whose son, William, was killed in the king's service. From him was descended John Lambton, Esq., major-general in the army, colonel of the 68th foot, who sat for Durham in six parliaments; and from him descended John George Lambton, Esq. of Lambton, born in 1792, who represented the county of Durham, and in 1828 was created a peer as Baron Durham, and elevated to the viscounty of Lambton and earldom of Durham in 1833. His lordship was ambassador to St. Petersburg, lord privy seal from 1830 to 1833, and afterwards governor-general of British North America. He was G.C.B., knight of the foreign orders of St. Andrew, St. Alexander Newsky, St. Anne, and the White Eagle of Russia, Leopold of Belgium, and the Saviour of Greece; a privy councillor, and high steward of Hull. In 1812, his lordship married Miss Harriet Cholmondeley, the issue of which marriage is the present earl, who succeeded as is stated above.

CHESTERS (EAST OF LITTLE), (anciently VINDOLANA), NORTHUMBERLAND, in the parish of Haltwhistle, in the west division of Tyndale ward: 14 miles from Hexham.

CHESTERS (WEST OF GREAT), (anciently ÆSICA), NORTHUMBERLAND, in the parish of Haltwhistle, west division of Tyndale ward: 17 miles from Hexham.

CHESTERTON, CAMBRIDGE, a parish in the hund<sup>d</sup> and union of Chesterton, on the river Cam: 59 miles from London (coach road 52), 1 from Cambridge, 10 from St. Ives. —Nor. and East. Co<sup>d</sup> Rail. to Cambridge, thence 1 mile: from Derby, through Syston and Peterborough to Cambridge, &c., 127 miles. —Money orders issued at Cambridge: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 9 p.m. —The church is a spacious edifice. The Baptists have a place of worship here. The union workhouse, erected by the parliamentary commissioners, is capable of accommodating 300 inmates. There was formerly a nunnery in the village; the remains of the chapel have been converted into a dairy. The Chesterton poor-law union comprises 38 parishes. —The living (St. Andrew), a vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Ely, is valued at £10. 12s. 3d.: pres. net income, £206: patron, Trinity College, Cambridge: pres. incumbent, E. A. Smedley, 1836: contains 3,080 acres: 238 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,617: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,859: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £2,694: poor rates in 1838, £491. 18s.

CHESTERTON, HUNTINGDON, a parish in the hund<sup>d</sup> of Norman-Cross, union of Peterborough, bounded on the south by the river Nen: 108 miles from London (coach road 82), 5 from Stilton, 5 from Peterborough. —Nor. and East. Co<sup>d</sup> Rail. to Peterborough, thence 5 miles: from Derby, through Syston and Stamford to Peterborough, &c., 88 miles. —Money orders issued at Stilton: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9½ a.m.: post closes 7 p.m. —The living (St. Michael), a rectory, formerly in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Huntingdon, and diocese of Lincoln, now in the diocese of Ely, is valued at £17. 3s. 4d.: pres. net income, £430: patron, Marquis of Huntley: pres. incumbent, Lord G. Gordon, 1819: contains 1,440 acres: 21 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 129: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £2,331: poor rates in 1838, £39. 8s.

VOL. I.

CHESTERTON, OXFORD, a parish in the hund<sup>d</sup> of Ploughley, union of Bicester, on a branch of the river Ray: 73 miles from London (coach road 56), 2 from Bicester, 8 from Woodstock. —Gt. West. Rail. to Oxford, thence 10 miles: from Derby, through Rugby to Oxford, &c., 105 miles. —Money orders issued at Bicester: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 7 p.m. —The living (St. Mary), a disch<sup>d</sup> vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Oxford, is valued at £7. 8s. 9d.: pres. net income, £200: patron, New College, Oxford: contains 2,850 acres: 83 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 393: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 452: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £3,104: poor rates in 1838, £206. 10s.

CHESTERTON, STAFFORD, a township in the parish of Wolstanton—(which see for access, &c.): 152 miles from London, 2 from Newcastle, 2 from Burslem. —Money orders issued at Newcastle-under-Lyne: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 7½ a.m.: post closes 8 p.m. —Contains 196 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,207: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,368. —(Other returns with the parish.)

CHESTERTON, WARWICK, a parish in Warwick division, hund<sup>d</sup> of Kington, union of Southam, on a branch of the river Avon: 100 miles from London (coach road 83), 5 from Kington, 7 from Warwick. —Gt. West. Rail. through Oxford to Southam, thence 5 miles: from Derby, through Rugby to Southam, &c., 68 miles. —Money orders issued at Kington: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 10½ a.m.: post closes 1½ p.m. —The living (St. Giles), a perpetual curacy in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Coventry and diocese of Lichfield, is valued at £8: pres. net income, £82: patron, Lord Willoughby de Broke: pres. incumbent, Charles Palmer, 1843: contains 2,968 acres: 39 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 192: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £4,876: poor rates in 1838, £299. 8d.

CHESWARDINE, SALOP, a parish in Drayton division of the hund<sup>d</sup> of Bradford (North), union of Market-Drayton: 149 miles from London (coach road, 147), 7 from Newport, 4 from Drayton. —Nor. West. Rail. through Stafford to Norton Bridge, thence 10 miles: from Derby, through Burton and Lichfield to Norton Bridge, &c., 54 miles. —Money orders issued at Newport: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9½ a.m.: post closes 3 p.m. —The living (St. Swithin), a discharged vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Stafford, and diocese of Lichfield and Coventry, is valued at £5. 6s. 8d.: pres. net income, £245: patron, Egerton W. Harding: pres. incumbent, J. H. Bromby, 1821: contains 6,070 acres: 189 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,015: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,167: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £7,167: poor rates in 1838, £348. 4s.

CHESWICK, DURHAM, a small village in the parish of Kyoce, in the above county, though locally in Northumberland—(which see for access, &c.): 332 miles from London, 5 from Berwick, 12 from Coldstream. —Money orders issued at Berwick: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post close 5½ p.m.

CHETNOLE, DORSET, a chapelry in the parish of Yetminster—(which see for access, &c.): 124 miles from London, 7 from Sherborne, 9 from Beaminster. —Money orders issued at Sherborne: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9½ a.m.: post closes 4 p.m. —The living is a curacy to the vicarage of Yetminster, in the diocese of Sarum, and having jointly a pres. net income of £277: patron, Bishop of Sarum: pres. incumbent, B. Cooper, 1807: contains 1,340 acres: 37 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 222: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup>: £1,758: poor rates in 1838, £144. 1s.

4 N

CHETTISHAM, CAMBRIDGE, a chapelry in the parish of St. Mary, city of Ely—(which see for access, &c.): 69 miles from London, 2 from Ely, 2 from Littleport. Money orders issued at Ely: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 7½ a.m.: post closes 8½ p.m. The living is a curacy not in charge: pres. net income, £79: patron, Dean and Chapter of Ely: pres. incumbent, G. Millers, 1800: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 90.

CHETTLE, DORSET, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Monckton-up-Wimborne, Shaston division, union of Wimborne and Cranborne: 125 miles from London (coach road 99), 7 from Blandford, 6 from Cranbourne. Sou. West. Rail. through Southampton to Wimborne, thence 10 miles: from Derby, through Rugby, Oxford, Reading, and Southampton, to Wimborne, &c., 214 miles. Money orders issued at Blandford: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m. There are two barrows in the neighbourhood. The living (the Virgin Mary), a disch<sup>d</sup> rectory, formerly in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Dorset, and diocese of Bristol, now in the diocese of Salisbury, is valued at £8. 2s. 9d.: pres. net income, £180: patron, H. Chambers, Esq.: pres. incumbent, E. R. Prother, 1846: contains 1,510 acres: 31 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 122: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup>: £945: poor rates in 1838, £45. 13s. S.W., Eastbury Park.

CHETTON, SALOP, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Stottesden, union of Bridgenorth: it includes the chapelry of Loughton: 145 miles from London (coach road 143), 4 from Bridgenorth, 7 from Market-Wenlock. Nor. West. Rail. to Wolverhampton, thence 18 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham to Wolverhampton, &c., 74 miles. Money orders issued at Bridgenorth: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8½ a.m.: post closes 4½ p.m. The living (St. Giles), a rectory, consolidated with the curacy of Loughton and the rectory of Deuxhill and Glazeley, in the diocese of Hereford, is valued at £11: pres. net income, £772: patron, T. W. W. Browne, Esq.: pres. incumbent, William Vickers, 1813: contains 7,140 acres: 119 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 693: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 797: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup>: £1,708: poor rates in 1838, £340. 9s.

CHETWOOD (or CHETWODE), BUCKINGHAM, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> and union of Buckingham: 63 miles from London (coach road 59), 5 from Buckingham, 8 from Winslow. Nor. West. Rail. to Bletchley, thence 16 miles: from Derby, through Rugby to Bletchley, &c., 101 miles. Money orders issued at Buckingham: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 6½ p.m. There was formerly a priory here of Augustine monks, which was dissolved in 1460, on account of its poverty, and annexed to the abbey of Nutley. There was also a hermitage here, dedicated to St. Stephen and St. Lawrence, founded by one of the Chetwode family, the representative of which claims suit and service by prescriptive right over this place and the neighbouring townships and hamlets of Barton, Tingewick, Preston, Cowley, Hillesden, Gawcot, Lenborough, and Buck Prebend-end, and accordingly requires the constables of all these places, which are said to be included in the limits of the ancient forest, of a thousand acres, called Rockwood, to be sworn at the court which he holds here at Easter. Sir John Chetwode, Bart., is the present lord of the manor. The church was made parochial in 1480, and has been remarkable for some beautiful specimens of painted glass in its eastern windows, but part of them having been stolen, the remainder were removed to the window of the south chancel. The living (St. Mary and St. Nicholas) is a perpetual curacy, not in charge, in the diocese of Oxford, returned with Burton-Hartshorne: contains 1,200 acres: 23 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 197: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup>: £1,424: poor rates in 1838, £31. 7s.

CHETWYND, SALOP, a parish in Newport, south part of the hun<sup>d</sup> of Bradford, union of Newport: 146 miles from London (coach road 141), 2 from Newport, 9 from Drayton. Nor. West. Rail. through Stafford to Newport, thence 2 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham, Lichfield, Stafford, &c., 51 miles. Money orders issued at Newport: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 4½ p.m. The living (St. Michael), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Salop, diocese of Lichfield and Coventry, is valued at £10. 16s. 3d.: pres. net income, £505: patron, B. Borough, Esq.: pres. incumbent, Thomas Whateley, 1837: contains 3,330 acres: 133 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 740: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 851: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup>: £5,095: poor rates in 1838, £220. 4s.

CHETWYND-ASHTON, SALOP, a township in the parish of Edgmond: 144 miles from London. (For access and postal arrangements, see above.) Contains 57 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 385: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 443: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup>: £4,486: poor rates in 1838, £52. 13s.

CHEVELEY, CAMBRIDGE, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Cheveley, union of Newmarket: 68 miles from London (coach road 62), 2 from Newmarket, 12 from Cambridge. Nor. and East. Co<sup>o</sup> Rail. through Chesterford to Newmarket, thence 2 miles: from Derby, through Syston and Peterborough to Newmarket, &c., 138 miles. Money orders issued at Newmarket: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 7½ a.m.: post closes 9 p.m. A free grammar-school was endowed here, in 1588, by John Rave, which, including an augmentation by Lord Dover, has now an income of £80 a year. The living (the Virgin Mary), a rectory, formerly in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Sudbury, diocese of Norwich, now in the diocese of Ely, is valued at £16. 8s. 1½d.: pres. net income, £522: pres. incumbent, James T. Bennett, 1832: contains 2,489 acres: 109 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 645: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 741: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup>: £2,386: poor rates in 1838, £410. 17s. Tithes commuted in 1839. Cheveley Park, a seat of the Duke of Rutland.

CHEVELEY, BERKS, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Faircross, union of Newbury: it includes the chapelries of Leckhamstead and Winterbourne, and the tithings of Oare, Courage, and Snelsmore: 58 miles from London, 5 from Newbury, 10 from Hungerford. Gt. West. Rail. to Newbury, thence 5 miles: from Derby, through Rugby, Oxford, and Reading, to Newbury, &c., 144 miles. Money orders issued at Newbury: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8½ a.m.: post closes 8½ p.m. There is an endowed school here, besides several minor charities.

—The living, a vicarage, with the curacies of Lockhampstead, Oare, and Winterbourne, formerly in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Berks, diocese of Salisbury, now in the diocese of Oxford, is valued at £26. 11s. 3d.: pres. net income, £1,460: patron, T. T. Wasey, Esq., and another, alternately: pres. incumbent, J. E. Robinson, 1837: contains 9,410 acres: 391 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,930: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 2,226: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £10,917: poor rates in 1838, £1,268. 6s. Tithes commuted in 1839.

CHEVENING, KENT, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Codsheath, lathe of Sutton-at-Hone, union of Seven Oaks: 38 miles from London (coach road 21), 3 from Seven Oaks, 9 from Bromley. —Sou. East. Rail. to Edenbridge station, thence 6 miles: from Derby, through London, &c., 170 miles. —Money orders issued at Seven Oaks: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 6½ p.m. —There are several charities in this parish, the principal of which are a bequest of £48 a year by the Countess of Stanhope, for apprenticing poor children; and two of £100 each by Mrs. Strode, the first for the same object as the Countess's, and the second for setting up poor girls in trade. It was at his seat in this place that the late Earl Stanhope displayed his mechanical genius, especially in perfecting that press which so materially promoted the progress of the noble art of printing. —The living (St. Botolph), a rectory in the diocese of Canterbury, and a peculiar, is valued at £21. 6s. 8d.: pres. net income, £607: patron, Archbishop of Canterbury: pres. incumbent, John Austen, 1813: contains 3,550 acres: 156 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,003: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,153: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £4,178: poor rates in 1838, £361. 19s. —Chevening Park is the seat of Frederick Perkins, Esq.

CHEVERELL (GREAT), WILTS, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Swanborough, union of Devizes: 118 miles from London (coach road 91), 4 from Devizes, 8 from Westbury. —Gt. West. Rail. to Westbury, thence 8 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Bristol to Westbury, &c., 178 miles. —Money orders issued at Devizes: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 7½ a.m.: post closes 9½ p.m. —The living (St. Peter), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Sarum, is valued at £16: pres. net income, £353: patron, Rev. R. M. Atkinson: pres. incumbent, R. M. Atkinson, 1841: contains 1,840 acres: 113 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 557: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 640: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £2,893: poor rates in 1838, £390. 7s. —S.E., Earl Stoke Park—(for which, see EARL STOKES.)

CHEVERELL (LITTLE), WILTS, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Swanborough, union of Devizes: 118 miles from London (coach road 92), 1 from East Lavington, 5 from Devizes. —Gt. West. Rail. to Westbury, thence 8 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Bristol to Westbury, &c., 178 miles. —Money orders issued at Devizes: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 7½ p.m. —The living (St. Peter), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Salisbury, is valued at £11. 7s. 3½d.: pres. net income, £405: patron, Earl of Radnor: pres. incumbent, J. R. Fishlake, 1823: contains 1,930 acres: 55 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 295: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,659: poor rates in 1838, £121. 10s.

CHEVETT, WEST RIDING, YORK, a township in the parish of Royston—(which see for access,

&c.): 175 miles from London, 3 from Barnsley, 11 from Huddersfield. —Money orders issued at Barnsley: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 6½ p.m. —Contains 850 acres: 5 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 52: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,505: poor rates in 1837, £43.

CHEVINGTON, SUFFOLK, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> and union of Thingoe: 101 miles from London (coach road 66), 6 from Bury-St.-Edmund's, 9 from Newmarket. —East. Co<sup>r</sup> Rail. to Bury St. Edmund's, thence 6 miles: from Derby, through Syston and Peterborough to Newmarket, &c., 145 miles. —Money orders issued at Bury St. Edmund's: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8½ a.m.: post closes 7½ p.m. —The parochial charities produce about £20 a year. —The living (All Saints), a rectory, formerly in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Sudbury, and diocese of Norwich, now in the diocese of Ely, is valued at £16. 3s. 9d.: pres. net income, £396: patron, Rev. J. White: pres. incumbent, John White, 1819: contains 2,240 acres: 100 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 624: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 718: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £2,681: poor rates in 1837, £552. 14. —N.E., Ickworth Hall is the seat of the Marquis of Bristol—(for which, see ICKWORTH.)

CHEVINGTON, (EAST), NORTHUMBERLAND, a chapelry in the parish of Warkworth—(which see for access, &c.): 298 miles from London, 6 from Alnwick, 10 from Morpeth. —Money orders issued at Alnwick: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 1½ p.m.: post closes at noon. —The living is a curacy to the vicarage of Warkworth, not in charge: contains 37 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 189: poor rates in 1838, £81. 8s.

CHEVINGTON (WEST), NORTHUMBERLAND, a township in the parish of Warkworth—(which see for access, &c.): 296 miles from London. —Contains 22 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 67: poor rates in 1837, £47. 15s.

CHEW-MAGNA (or BISHOP-CHEW), SOMERSET, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Chew and Chewton, union of Clutton, on a branch of the Avon: it includes the tithings of Bishops-Sutton, Knowle, Knighton-Sutton, North-Elm, and Stow: 125 miles from London (coach road 121), 7 from Bristol, 10 from Axbridge. —Gt. West. Rail. to Bristol, thence 7 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham to Bristol, &c., 138 miles. —Money orders issued at Bristol: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 7 p.m. —It was called Chew-Magna, from being larger than any other place of the same name, and sometimes Bishop's Chew, from being the property of the Bishop of Wells. The church is a massive building, with a tower at the west end, surmounted by an open balustrade. It contains some monuments of interest, particularly of Sir John Lee and his lady; the former of gigantic size, and having his legs crossed, to show that he had served in the holy land. In the south aisle there is the effigy of Sir John Hautvil in armour, cut out of one solid piece of Irish oak; the figure is in a peculiar but not unpleasing position. He was remarkable for his great strength, and it is said that Edward I., having requested to see some proofs of his prowess, the knight undertook to convey three of the stoutest men in England to the top of Norton Tower, in a neighbouring parish. He took one under each arm, and one in his teeth. He accomplished his purpose, but the two in his arms making some resistance, were squeezed to death; the one in his teeth escaped harmless. This place was formerly a borough, and had an extensive woollen manufactory. — The living (St. Andrew), a vicarage, with the curacy of Dundry annexed, in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Bath, and diocese of Bath and Wells, is valued at £30. 13s. 4d.: pres. net income, £634: patron, the Bishop, and others, in turn: pres. incumbent, E. A. Ommanney, 1841: contains 4,490 acres: 329 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 2,096: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 2,410: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £70,070: poor rates in 1838, £1,070. 4s.

CHEWSTOKE, SOMERSET, a parish in the same hun<sup>d</sup>, union of Clutton: 122 miles from London, 4 from Pensford, 9 from Axbridge. — (For access and postal arrangements, see above.) — A free school was established here by subscription in 1718, the income of which is now about £90 a year; the boys, besides being taught, are supplied with books. A girl's school is also supported out of the income. The other parochial charities produce about £33 a year. — The living (St. Andrew), a disch<sup>d</sup> rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Bath, and diocese of Bath and Wells, is valued at £7. 3s. 4d.: pres. net income, £305: patron, Rev. W. P. Wait: pres. incumbent, Wm. P. Wait, 1819: contains 1,910 acres: 133 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 825: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 949: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £3,691: poor rates in 1838, £253. 3s.

CHEWTON-MENDIP, SOMERSET, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Chewton, union of Wells, among the Mendip hills: 120 miles from London (coach road 123), 6 from Wells, 6 from Pensford. — Gt. West. Rail. to Bath, thence 13 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Bristol to Bath, &c., 153 miles. — Money orders issued at Wells: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8½ a.m.: post closes 5 p.m. — About the year 1745, part of the common was enclosed, and set apart for the support of a day school, the rent of which is now about £20 a year: and in 1759, Mr. John Dory bequeathed £100 for the support of a girl's charity school; the income is now about £10. 10s. a year; the girls are taught to read, write, and knit stockings. Lead ore and caliminaris have been found near the village. — The living (St. Mary Magdalene), a disch<sup>d</sup> vicarage, with the chapels of Emborrow, Farrington, Gournay, Paulton, and Stone Easton, in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Wells, and diocese of Bath and Wells, is valued at £29. 11s. 8d.: pres. net income, £420: patron, W. Kingsmill, Esq.: pres. incumbent, W. J. Groves, 1846: contains 7,020 acres: 278 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,216: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,398: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £6,124: poor rates in 1838, £464. 5s. — The Priory.

CHICH. See OBYTH-ST.-CHICK.

CHICHELEY, BUCKINGHAM, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Newport, union of Newport-Pagnel, on a branch of the river Ouse: 60 miles from London (coach road 53), 3 from Newport-Pagnel, 4 from Olney. — Nor. West. Rail. to Wolverton, thence 7 miles: from Derby, through Rugby to Wolverton, &c., 85 miles. — Money orders issued at Newport-Pagnel: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 8 p.m. — The living (St. Lawrence), a vicarage in the diocese of Oxford, is valued at £8: pres. net income, £66: patron, Charles Chester, Esq.: pres. incumbent, S. T. Townsend, 1830: contains 1,620 acres: 43 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 256: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £1,993: poor rates in 1838, £123. 7s. — Chicheley House is the seat of the Rev. Anthony Chicheley.

CHICHESTER, SUSSEX, a city and county of itself, locally situated in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Box and Stockbridge, rape of Chichester, western division of the county: 79 miles from London (coach road 62), 9 from Arundel. — Brighton and South Coast Rail. to Chichester station: from Derby, through London, &c. 211 miles. — Money orders issued here: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 7 a.m. and 2 p.m.: post closes 8½ p.m. and 9½ a.m. — According to the earliest authentic account of Chichester, it was most probably in existence prior to the Roman invasion, and was the capital of the Regni. Horsley asserts that it was the Regnum of the Itinerary, which is not unlikely. That it was most certainly a considerable station of the Romans, is evident from the inscriptions, coins, and other remains that have been discovered here, which gives it the latter portion of its name; the former it derives from Cissa, the son of Ella, who, in the fifth century, took it from the Britons and rebuilt it. In the time of Egbert it was an important and flourishing city, but it afterwards greatly decreased, owing, in a great measure, to the incursions of the Danes. Milton, speaking of the valour and patriotism of the inhabitants in the time of Alfred, says — The Danes returning by sea from the siege of Exeter, and, in their way, landing on the coast of Sussex, the men of Chichester sallied out, and slew of them many hundreds, taking also some of their ships. In the reign of the Conqueror, the episcopal see was transferred from Selsea to this city, and Hugh de Montgomery held it, together with Arundel, by a grant from William, and took from it his title of earl. It then regained much of its former importance, and has gradually improved until the present time; the only drawback being the siege which it sustained under Charles I., with whom, notwithstanding he had levied on it the sum of £77. 7s. 8d., as ship-money, it sided in the civil war. It was besieged by the parliamentary forces under Sir William Waller, who met with a most obstinate resistance, but at length compelled it to surrender. The town consists of four principal streets, which meet at right angles in the centre of the town, and are named from the four cardinal points of the compass. This is a mark of Roman construction, and is similarly applicable to Chester and other places. In the centre is a most beautiful octagonal cross, in the decorated style of English architecture. Chichester is still surrounded by a stone wall, supposed to have been erected by the Romans. The streets are paved, and lighted with gas, and the houses are plentifully supplied with water. The town is situated on a small eminence, with the stream of the Lavant flowing round its base. The cathedral, the principal structure in the city, is dedicated to the Holy Trinity. Stigand, chaplain of the Conqueror, was the first bishop of Chichester, but although Hugh de Montgomery granted him the whole south-west corner of the city to build a church or palace for himself and his successors, yet at his death the work was not even commenced. In the time of Henry I., Ralph, the then bishop, commenced it, and it was completed in 1108, but was burnt down in May, 1114. Ralph rebuilt it, and completed the second before his death, in 1123. It is said that the whole city was destroyed by fire in 1187; but it may be gathered from Hovenden, and other chroniclers, that this fire only destroyed the roof and injured the interior of the cathedral. The walls within are covered with a thin case of stone, with supports of pillars of Petworth marble, in the style of the thirteenth century. Jeffrid, the second of the name, was the bishop at the time of the fire, and repaired the cathedral. It was still further repaired, and other buildings added, by Bishop Aquila and Bishop Poore. The window in the west transept was inserted by Bishop Langton, and, in elegant tracery and just proportions, is equal to any other work of the kind in England, and is truly called by Bishop Shurborne, magnam et sumptuosam fenestram. It was glazed with painted glass, which was destroyed in the civil war. Bishop Langton also erected the chapter-house. Edward I., in 1293, appointed him Lord Chancellor; and in 1310 he was chosen to be one of those near the person of Edward II., to advise on the government of the kingdom. He died in 1337, and is buried under the great window in the south transept. Some remains of the rich ornaments of his tomb may still be seen. William de Sancto Leofardo, Langton's predecessor, built the lady chapel. It is a handsome structure, containing book-cases, in which are numerous works of great value. An extensive vault, the property of the ducal family of Richmond, is beneath it. Over the entrance is the inscription "Domus ultima," on which the late Rev. Mr. Clarke, one of the prebendaries, wrote—

"Did he who thus inscribed this wall
Not read or not believe St. Paul?
Who says there is—where'er it stands—
Another house not made with hands.
Or may we gather from these words,
That house is not a 'House of Lords?'"

Near this tomb are several others of imposing appearance. The fittings-up of the choir are magnificent. On the north of the transept are paintings of all the kings of England from the Conquest to George I.; on the south is a line of paintings of the bishops, but some years back a picture restorer (?), in "doing them up," painted all the faces from one pattern. There are many other tombs and sepulchral stones, from which the brass was stripped during the civil war. In the nave is the tomb of the unfortunate poet William Collins, who was born at Chichester. He came to London in 1744, and suffered greatly from poverty. His uncle, Colonel Martin, at his death, left him a legacy of £2,000, which somewhat relieved his sufferings, but he died in 1756, after lingering for a few months in a state of mental alienation. Some of his odes are the most beautiful in the English language, but when first written were entirely unnoticed. His monument, by Flaxman, was erected by public subscription, and consists of a figure of the poet, in a reclining attitude, just recovering from one of those fits of frenzy to which he was subject, with one of his poems neglected on the ground. Beneath it are the following lines:—

"Ye who the merits of the dead revere,
Who hold misfortune sacred, genius dear,
Regard this tomb, where Collins, hapless name!
Solicits kindness with a double claim.
Though nature gave him, and though science taught
The fire of fancy and the reach of thought,
Severely doomed to penury's extreme,
He past in madd'ning pain life's feverish dream;
While rays of genius only served to show
The thick'ning horror, and exalt his woe.
Ye walls that echoed to his frantic moan,
Guard the due record of this grateful stone;
Strangers to him, enamoured of his lays,
This fond memorial of his talents raise;
For this the ashes of a bard require,
Who touched the tenderest notes of pity's lyre,
Who joined pure faith to strong poetic pow'rs,
Who in reviving reason's lucid hours,
Sought on one book his troubled mind to rest,
And rightly deemed the book of God the best."

William Chillingworth, a celebrated divine, who flourished in the 17th century, and was a champion of the Church of England against that of Rome, is buried in the cloisters. The parliamentary forces took him prisoner at Arundel, and brought him to Chichester, where he died, in the episcopal palace. The following is his epitaph:—

"Virtuti sacrum.
Spe certissima resurrectionis,
Hic reducem expectat animam,
GULIELMUS CHILLINGWORTH,
A.M.
Oxonii natus et educatus,
Collegii Sanctus Trinitatis;
Socius, Decus et Gloria;
Omni literarum genere celeberrimus;
Ecclesie Anglicanae adversarius Romanam
Propugnator invictissimus;
Ecclesie Salisburyensis Cancellarius dignissimus.
Sepultus Januarii mense, A.D. 1643,
Sub hoc marmore requiescit,
Nec sentit damna sepulcri."

The north transept is dedicated to Saint Peter, and is used as a parish church. The stone spire is 297 feet high. It was built about the middle of the 13th century. In 1721 it was struck by lightning, and a number of stones fell, but without doing any harm. The damage was soon repaired. The length of the cathedral, from east to west, together with the lady chapel, is 410 feet, the transepts from north to south 227, are in the shape of a quadrangle. There are six parish churches within the city—St. Peter the Great, sometimes called the sub-deanery, within the cathedral, St. Peter the Less, St. Olaves, St. Martin's, St. Andrew's, and All Saints. The bishop's palace was repaired in 1725, when some Roman coins of Nero and Domitian, and a Roman pavement, were discovered. It contains a handsome chapel, built in the thirteenth century, and also gardens. There is here a guildhall, once a chapel, council-room, assembly-rooms, market-house, theatre, custom-house, union workhouse, infirmary, barracks, and every building generally met with in a populous city. There are several benevolent institutions in Chichester; also a grammar-school, a free school, two charity schools, St. Mary's hospital for indigent persons, and a bequest of £635 per annum, left by Mr. John Hardman, in 1772, to ease the inhabitants in their poor rates for ever. The inhabitants of the city are incorporated by a charter of James II. Since the time of Edward I., it has returned two members to parliament. By several acts of parliament recently passed, the non-resident freemen, except within seven miles, have been disfranchised, and the franchise has been extended to the £10 householders of a district incorporated with the borough, which now comprises 604 acres. The city is divided into ten wards. The mayor, the late mayor, and three of the senior aldermen annually chosen, are justices of the peace, and exercise exclusive jurisdiction for the city and liberties, except the Close, which is under the jurisdiction of the county magistrates. The corporation hold quarter sessions for the city and liberties. A court of record, at which the mayor presides, for the recovery of debts, is held every Monday. This town is a polling-place, and principal place of election for the western division of Sussex. Chichester was the birth-place of William Juxon, born in 1582. He was educated at the Merchant-Tailors' School, and St. John's College, Oxford. In 1633, through the influence of his patron, Laud, he was made Bishop of Hereford; in the same year he was also Bishop of London, and in 1635, lord high treasurer of England, which office he held for six years, when he resigned it. He followed the king to imprisonment, and afterwards to the scaffold, when Charles presented him with his diamond George, telling him to forward it to his son. The parliament imprisoned him, because he would not tell them his conversation with the king. He was soon released, and at the Restoration was raised to the see of Canterbury, and died in 1663. The Pelham family derive their title of earl from Chichester. Contains 1,680 acres: 1,514 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 8,512: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 9,789: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £22,015: poor rates in 1837, £35,890. 8s. Market days, Wednesday and Saturday. Every Wednesday fortnight, a market is held for black cattle, sheep, &c. Fairs, Old Michaelmas day, and Sloe fair, 10 days after. Bankers: Dendy, Cowper, & Co.—draw on Masterman, Peters, & Co; Branch of London and County Joint Stock Banking Co.—draw on Head Office, 21 Lombard Street. Inns: Anchor, Fleece, Globe, and Dolphin Hotel.

CHICKEREL (West), Dorset, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Collifordtree, union of Weymouth, Dorchester division of the county: it includes the chapelry of Herringstone: 149 miles from London (coach road 125), 4 from Weymouth, 8 from Dorchester. Sou. West. Rail. through Southampton to Dorchester, thence 8 miles: from Derby, through Rugby, Oxford, Reading, and Southampton, to Dorchester, &c., 138 miles. Money orders issued at Weymouth: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 6½ p.m. The living, a rectory, formerly in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Dorset, and diocese of Bristol, now in the diocese of Sarum, is valued at £8. 16s. 0½d.: pres. net income, £320: patrons, Duke of Cleveland, and Dowager Countess of Sandwich: pres. incumbent, Wm. Marshall, 1830: contains 1,780 acres: 99 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 531: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 611: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £2,126: poor rates in 1838, £110. 10s.

CHICKLADE, Wilts, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Dunworth, union of Tisbury: 122 miles from London (coach road 96), 1 from Hindon, 7 from Warminster. Gt. West. Rail. to Westbury, thence 12 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Bristol to Westbury, &c., 182 miles. Money orders issued at Warminster: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m. The living (All Saints), a disch<sup>d</sup> rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Sarum, is valued at £7. 5s. 3d.: pres. net income, £230: patron, Marquis of Bath: pres. incumbent, John C. Faber, 1839: contains 1,000 acres: 24 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 109: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,092: poor rates in 1838, £102. 4s.

CHICKNEY, Essex, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> and union of Dunmow: 41 miles from London (coach road 38), 3 from Thaxted, 7 from South Walden. Nor. and East. Co<sup>t</sup> Rail. to Elsenham station, thence 3 miles: from Derby, through London to Elsenham, &c., 173 miles. Money orders issued at Dunmow: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 10 a.m.: post closes 2½ p.m. The living (the Virgin Mary), a rectory in the diocese of Rochester, is valued at £10: pres. net income, £164: patron, Mrs. Cranmer: pres. incumbent, H. Howard, 1843: contains 680 acres: 8 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 59: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £773: poor rates in 1838, £95. 8s.

CHICKSANDS-PRIORY, Bedford, an extra-parochial liberty in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Clifton, on the river Ivel: 64 miles from London (coach road 42), 6 from Amptill, 2 from Shefford. Nor. West. Rail. to Bletchley, thence 17 miles: from Derby, through Rugby to Bletchley, &c., 102 miles. Money orders issued at Amptill: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m. Pain du Beauchamp, about the year 1150, founded a priory here, of which the two quadrangles and cloisters are yet entire, and have been converted into a modern mansion, which is now the residence of Sir John Osborne, Bart.—Sir John Osborne, Bart., of Chicksands-Priory, born in 1772, married in 1809 to Frederica Louisa, daughter of the late Sir Chas. Danvers, Bart., lineally descended from Peter Osborne, Esq., son of Richard Osborne, of Tyld Hall, in the reign of Edward VI., to whom he was privy purse, had a grant of the office of treasurer's remembrancer to himself and his heirs, and from him descended Sir Peter Osborne, Knight, lord treasurer's remembrancer, and twenty-eight years governor of the island and castles of Guernsey, under James I. and Charles I., from whom descended Henry Osborne, admiral of the white, and Sir Danvers Osborne, M.P. for the county of Bedford, from whom descended Sir George Osborne, father of the present baronet, who was a general officer in the army, and groom of the bedchamber to George III. Contains 10 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 60.

CHICKWARD (PEMBER'S-OAK, AND LILWALL), Hereford, a township in the parish of Kingston, (which see for access, &c.): 157 miles from London, 3 from Presteign, 20 from Hereford. Money orders issued at Presteign: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 11½ a.m.: post closes noon. Contains 82 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 380: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 437.—(Other returns with the parish.)

CHIDDEN. See HAMBLEDON.

CHIDDINGFOLD, Surrey, a parish in the second division of the hun<sup>d</sup> of Godalming, union of Hambledon: 43 miles from London (coach road 38), 3 from Haslemere, 7 from Godalmin. Sou. West. Rail. through Guildford to Godalming, thence 7 miles: from Derby, through London, &c., 175 miles. Money orders issued at Haslemere: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m. The living (Virgin Mary), a rectory, with Haslemere curacy, in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Surrey, diocese of Winchester, is valued at £26. 6s. 7d.:

pres. net income, £522: patron, Bishop of Winchester: pres. incumbent, James L. Hesse, 1838: contains 5,590 acres: 201 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,135: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,305: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £3,929: poor rates in 1837, £700.

CHIDDINGLY (or CHITTINGLEIGH) SUSSEX, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Shiplake, rape of Pevensey, union of Hailsham: 58 miles from London (coach road 53), 5 from Hailsham, 8 from Lewes. — Brighton Rail. to Lewes, thence 8 miles: from Derby, through London, &c., 190 miles. — Money orders issued at Hurst-Green: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 8½ a.m.: post closes 6 p.m. — The parochial charities produce about £6 a year. — The living, a disch<sup>d</sup>. vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup>. of Lewes, and diocese of Chichester, is valued at £8: pres. net income, £158: patron, Earl Amherst: pres. incumbent, James H. Vidal, 1847: contains 5,200 acres: 133 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 930: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,070: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £2,344: poor rates in 1838, £672. 7s.

CHIDDINGSTONE, KENT, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Somerden, union of Seven Oaks, lathe of Sutton-at-Hone, near the source of the Medway: 35 miles from London (coach road 29), 3 from Edenbridge, 6 from Tunbridge. — Sou. East. Rail. to Edenbridge station, thence 3 miles: from Derby, through London, &c., 167 miles. — Money orders issued at Edenbridge: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 11½ a.m.: post closes 2 p.m. — The living (Virgin Mary), a rectory in the diocese of Canterbury, a peculiar, is valued at £28. 9s. 4d.: pres. net income, £650: patron, Archbishop of Canterbury: pres. incumbent, A. C. Payler, 1836: contains 3,200 acres: 189 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,405: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,616: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £4,264: poor rates in 1838, £1,180. 16s. — Chiddingstone is the seat of Henry Streatfield, Esq., a descendant of Robert Streatfield of Chiddingstone, from whom descended Henry Streatfield, Esq. of Chiddingstone, who, in 1679, rebuilt High Street House, the ancient seat of the Streatfields. His descendant, Henry Streatfield, Esq., was high sheriff for Kent in 1792. He died in 1829, and was succeeded by his son, the present Henry Streatfield, Esq., who is a magistrate and deputy-lieutenant for the county of Kent. — Highfield Park.

CHIDEOCK, DORSET, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Whitchurch-Canonicorum, union of Bridport, Bridport division of the county: 159 miles from London (coach road 137), 2 from Bridport, 7 from Axminster. — Sou. West. Rail. through Southampton to Dorchester, thence 18 miles: from Derby, through Rugby, Oxford, Reading, and Southampton, to Dorchester, &c., 248 miles. — Money orders issued at Bridport: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 7½ a.m.: post closes 6 p.m. — The living (St. Giles) is a curacy to the vicarage of Whitchurch Canonicorum, formerly in the archd<sup>y</sup>. of Dorset, and diocese of Bristol, now in the diocese of Sarum, and having jointly a pres. net income of £739: patron, Bishop of Bath and Wells: pres. incumbent, Wm. Palmer, 1846: contains 2,240 acres: 136 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 826: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 950: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £4,188: poor rates in 1838, £341.

CHIDHAM, SUSSEX, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Bosham, rape of Chichester, union of Westbourne: 84 miles from London (coach road 67), 5 from Chichester, 13 from Petersfield. — Brighton and South Coast Rail. to Chichester, thence 5 miles: from Derby, through London, &c., 216 miles. — Money orders issued at Chichester: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 8½ a.m.: post closes 7 p.m. — The living, a disch<sup>d</sup>. vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup>. and diocese of Chichester, is valued at £10. 19s. 2d.: pres. net income, £114: patron, Rev. H. Smith: pres. incumbent, Henry Smith, 1846: contains 1,200 acres: 40 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 325: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 374: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £1,850: poor rates in 1838, £151. 11s.

CHIDLOW, CHESTER, a township in the parish of Malpas—(which see for access, &c.): 169 miles from London, 6 from Malpas, 16 from Chester. — Money orders issued at Chester: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 9 a.m.: post closes 3½ p.m. — Contains 1,400 acres: 2 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 12: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £219.

CHIEVELEY. See CHEVELEY.

CHIGNAL (St. JAMES and St. MARY), ESSEX, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup>. and union of Chelmsford, on the river Chelmer: 32 miles from London (coach road 31), 3 from Chelmsford, 7 from Dunmow. — East. Co<sup>t</sup>. Rail. to Chelmsford, thence 3 miles: from Derby, through London, &c., 164 miles. — Money orders issued at Chelmsford: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 8 a.m.: post closes 9 p.m. — The living, a rectory, united with that of Mashbury, in the diocese of Rochester, is valued at £10. 14s. 7d.: pres. net income, £430: patron, Rev. J. G. Milne: pres. incumbent, J. G. Milne, 1836: contains 930 acres: 43 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 252: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £1,111: poor rates in 1838, £121. 4s.

CHIGNAL-SMEALY, ESSEX, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup>. and union of Chelmsford: 30 miles from London. — (For access and postal arrangements, see above.) — The parochial charities produce about £4 a year. — The living (St. Nicholas), a disch<sup>d</sup>. rectory in the diocese of Rochester, is valued at £5. 6s. 8d.: pres. net income, £120: patrons, F. Austin and James Cook, Esqrs., alternately: pres. incumbent, J. T. Lawton, jun., 1838: contains 1,050 acres: 10 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 94: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £349: poor rates in 1838, £133. 15s.

CHIGWELL, ESSEX, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Ongar, union of Epping, bounded on the west by the river Roding: 13 miles from London (coach road 10), 6 from Ilford, 7 from Epping. — East. Co<sup>t</sup>. Rail. to Ilford, thence 6 miles: from Derby, through London, &c., 145 miles. — Money orders issued here: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 8 a.m.: post closes 8 p.m. — A neat district church was erected in 1847, at Buckhurst Hill in this parish, near Woodford. There is an Independent chapel here. In 1629, two schools were erected here by Archbishop Harsnet, in which the youth of this and the adjoining parishes might be taught Latin and Greek, besides the ordinary branches of education. The income is now about £340 a year, besides the interest of three exchequer bills of £100 each. The minor parochial charities produce, from various sources, about £66 a year, besides the interest of £132 in the consols, and a rent charge of £4 for an almshouse. — The living (St. Mary), a vicarage in the diocese of Rochester, is valued at £60: pres. net income, £520: patron, Vicar of CHILBOLTON, HANTS, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Buddlesgate, union of Andover, Fawley division of the county: 66 miles from London (coach road 63), 4 from Stockbridge, 8 from Winchester. —Sou. West. Rail. to Andover Road station, thence 8 miles: from Derby, through Rugby, Oxford, and Reading, to Andover Road, &c., 155 miles. —Money orders issued at Stockbridge: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 7½ a.m.: post closes 6½ p.m. —The living (St. Mary), a rectory in the diocese of Winchester, a peculiar, is valued at £26. 9s. 4½d.: pres. net income, £430: patron, Bishop of Winchester: pres. incumbent, A. L. Lambert, 1848: contains 2,830 acres: 64 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 359: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 412: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £2,309: poor rates in 1838, £142. 7s.

Chigwell: pres. incumbent, John Smith, 1848: contains 5,360 acres: 324 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 2,057: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 2,365: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £13,807: poor rates in 1837, £644.

CHILCOMBE, HANTS, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Fawley, union of Winchester, Fawley division of the county: 69 miles from London (coach road 64), 2 from Winchester, 10 from Romsey. —Sou. West. Rail. to Winchester, thence 2 miles: from Derby, through Rugby, Oxford, and Reading, to Winchester, &c., 158 miles. —Money orders issued at Winchester: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 8 a.m.: post closes 8 p.m. —The living, a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup>. and diocese of Winchester, is valued at £8. 6s. 8d.: pres. net income, £167: patron, Bishop of Winchester: pres. incumbent, James Hodges, 1826: contains 2,390 acres: 36 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 269: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £1,908: poor rates in 1837, £169. 6s.

CHILCOMBE, Dorset, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Uggescombe, union of Bridport, Dorchester division of the county: 152 miles from London (coach road 129), 5 from Bridport, 8 from Beaminster. —Sou. West. Rail. through Southampton to Dorchester, thence 11 miles: from Derby, through Rugby, Oxford, Reading, and Southampton, to Dorchester, &c., 241 miles. —Money orders issued at Bridport: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 11 a.m.: post closes 6½ p.m. —The living, a disch<sup>d</sup>. rectory, formerly in the archd<sup>y</sup>. of Dorset, diocese of Bristol, now in the diocese of Salisbury, is valued at £4. 11s. 8d.: pres. net income, £53: patron, Devises of Rev. E. Foyle: pres. incumbent, D. Clemiston, 1833: contains 860 acres: 6 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 53: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £479.

CHILCOMPTON, SOMERSET, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Chewton, union of Clutton: 117 miles from London (coach road 113), 6 from Shepton-Mallet, 8 from Wells. —Gt. West. Rail. to Bath, thence 10 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Bristol to Bath, &c., 151 miles. —Money orders issued at Bath: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 9 a.m.: post closes 5 p.m. —In 1681, Mr. Henry Werreit laid out £100 in the four per cent. stocks, the interest of which is applied in apprenticing the poor children of this parish. There is also a benefaction of £32. 7s. 6d., the interest of which is given to the poor. —The living (St. John the Baptist) is a perpetual curacy, and one of seven peculiars belonging to the Dean of Wells: pres. net income, £129: patron, H. S. W. Tooker, Esq.: pres. incumbent, F. T. Attree, 1846: contains 1,140 acres: 96 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 618: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 710: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £2,097: poor rates in 1838, £190. 7s.

CHILCOTE, DERBY, a chapelry in the parish of Burton-upon-Trent—(which see for access, &c.): 122 miles from London, 8 from Tamworth, 10 from Lichfield. —Money orders issued at Tamworth: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 10 a.m.: post closes 8 p.m. —The living is a curacy annexed to the rectory of Clifton-Campville, in the diocese of Lichfield and Coventry: contains 1,300 acres: 38 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 162: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £2,209: poor rates in 1837, £42. 18s.

CHILDERDITCH, ESSEX, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Chafford, union of Billericay: 21 miles from London (coach road 18), 3 from Brentwood, 6 from Romford. —East. Co<sup>r</sup>. Rail. to Brentford, thence 3 miles: from Derby, through London, &c., 153 miles. —Money orders issued at Brentwood: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 9 a.m.: post closes 7 p.m. —The living (All Saints and St. Faith), a vicarage in the diocese of Rochester, is valued at £8: pres. net income, £160: patron, Lord Petre: pres. incumbent, J. H. Lewis, 1840: contains 900 acres: 38 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 247: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £1,965: poor rates in 1838, £101. 5s. All the tithes were commuted in 1839. —N., Thorndon Hall.

CHILDERLEY, CAMBRIDGE, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Chesterton, union of Chesterton: 63 miles from London (coach road 56), 6 from Cambridge, 6 from St. Ives. —Nor. and East. Co<sup>r</sup>. Rail. to Cambridge, thence 6 miles: from Derby, through Syston and Peterborough to Cambridge, &c., 132 miles. —Money orders issued at Cambridge: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 9 a.m.: post closes 5 p.m. —The church is desecrated. —The living (St. Mary), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup>. and diocese of Ely, is valued at £6. 9s. 2d.: pres. net income, £20: patron, N. Calvert, Esq.: pres. incumbent, N. R. Calvert, 1832: contains 1,050 acres: 17 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 54: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £1,080: poor rates in 1838, £23. 7s.

CHILDER-THORNTON. See THORSTON-CHILDER.

CHILD-OKEFORD, Dorset, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Redlane, union of Sturminster, Sherborne division of the county: 130 miles from London (coach road 105), 6 from Blandford, 6 from Shaftesbury. —Sou. West. Rail. through Southampton to Wimborne, thence 15 miles: from Derby, through Rugby, Oxford, Reading, and Southampton, to Wimborne, &c., 219 miles. —Money orders issued at Blandford: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 9 a.m.: post closes 5 p.m. —The living, a rectory, formerly in the archd<sup>y</sup>. of Dorset, and diocese of Bristol, now in the diocese of Sarum, is valued at £7: pres. net income, £316: patron, Rev. C. E. North: pres. incumbent, C. E. North, 1815: contains 2,100 acres: 125 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 648: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 745: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £2,765: poor rates in 1838, £370. 14s. Tithes commuted in 1839. —S.W., Ranstone Hall—(for which, see IWERNE COURTNEY.)

CHILDREY, BERKS, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup>. and union of Wantage, close on the Berks and Wilts Canal: 62 miles from London, 2 from Wantage, 10 from Highworth. —Gt. West. Rail. to the Wantage Road station, thence 2 miles: from Derby, through Rugby, Oxford, and Didcot, to Wantage Road station, &c., 114 miles. Money orders issued at Wantage: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 4 p.m. There is an allotment of land for the benefit of the poor of the parish, which, with other benefactions, produces about £19 a year. The living (St. Mary), a rectory, formerly in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Berks, and diocese of Salisbury, now in the diocese of Oxford, is valued at £33. 14s. 7d.: pres. net income, £604: patron, Corpus Christi College, Oxford: pres. incumbent, S. Whittingham, 1840: contains 2,850 acres: 108 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 546: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 628: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £3,036: poor rates in 1838, £409. 14s. Tithes commuted in 1772.

CHILDS-ERCALE, SALOP, a parish in the Drayton division of the hun<sup>d</sup> of Bradford North, union of Market-Drayton, east of the river Tern: 151 miles from London (coach road 146), 7 from Newport, 7 from Drayton. Nor. West. Rail. through Stafford to Newport, thence 7 miles: from Derby, through Burton to Stafford, &c., 62 miles. Money orders issued at Market-Drayton, being the post town: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9½ a.m.: post closes 3 p.m. The living, a perpetual curacy in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Salop, in the diocese of Lichfield, is valued at £30: pres. net income, £69: patron, Richard Corbet, Esq.: pres. incumbent, B. E. Johnson, 1844: contains 85 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 471: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £5,116: poor rates in 1838, £188. 2s. Tithes commuted in 1839. Childs-Ercale Hall, belonging to Richard Corbet, Esq., occupied as a farm-house.

CHILDS-WICKHAM, GLOUCESTER, a parish in the lower division of the hun<sup>d</sup> of Kiftsgate, union of Evesham: 100 miles from London (coach road 97), 4 from Chipping-Camden, 4 from Evesham. Gt. West. Rail. through Oxford to Chipping-Camden, thence 4 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Worcester to Chipping-Camden, &c., 97 miles. Money orders issued at Broadway: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 4 p.m. The living, a disch<sup>d</sup> vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Gloucester, diocese of Gloucester and Bristol, is valued at £7. 16s. 10d.: pres. net income, £105: patron, Rev. T. Marsden: pres. incumbent, T. Marsden, 1843: contains 2,040 acres: 91 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 469: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 539: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £2,289: poor rates in 1837, £148. 18s. The tithes were commuted in 1763.

CHILDWALL, LANCASTER, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> and union of West Derby: it includes the townships of Allerton, Childwall, Halewood, Speke, Little Woolton, and Much Woolton, and the chapels of Garston, Hale, and Wavertree: 199 miles from London (coach road 195), 5 from Liverpool, 4 from Prescott. Nor. West. Rail. through Crewe and Warrington to Broad Green station, thence 2 miles: from Derby, through Burton and Crewe, &c., 99 miles. Money orders issued at Liverpool: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m. The living (All Saints), a vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Chester, is valued at £5. 11s. 8d.: pres. net income, £456: patron, Bishop of Chester: pres. incumbent, Aug. Campbell, 1824: contains 14,580 acres: 1,260 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 10,714: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 12,321:

ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £42,920: poor rates in 1838, £1,142. 2s. Childwall Hall.

CHILDWALL, LANCASTER, a township in the above parish—(which see for access and postal arrangements.) Contains 880 acres: 23 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 182: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 209: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £2,336: poor rates in 1838, £133. 14s. Childwall Hall is a seat of the Marquis of Salisbury, for whose family history and genealogy, see Hatfield House, his principal residence.

CHILFROOM, DORSET, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Tollerford, union of Dorchester, Dorchester division of the county, on the river Frome: 150 miles from London (coach road 126), 9 from Dorchester, 8 from Beaminster. Sou. West. Rail. through Southampton to Dorchester, thence 9 miles: from Derby, through Rugby, Oxford, Reading, and Southampton, to Dorchester, &c., 239 miles. Money orders issued at Dorchester: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 11 a.m.: post closes 2 p.m. The children of this parish have a right of admission to a free school at Toller Porcorum. A number of Bibles are distributed occasionally to the poor of this parish, in compliance with the wills of John Hall, Bishop of Gloucester, and Dr. Sloper. The living (Holy Trinity), a rectory, formerly in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Dorset, diocese of Bristol, is valued at £5: pres. net income, £180: patrons, Sir G. Rampfylde, and W. Fryer, Esq.: pres. incumbent, Wm. C. Frith, 1824: contains 970 acres: 20 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 128: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £741: poor rates in 1838, £64. 5s.

CHILHAM, KENT, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Felborough, lathe of Scray, union of East Ashford, west of the river Stour: 87 miles from London (coach road 50), 6 from Canterbury, 5 from Faversham. Sou. East. Rail. to Canterbury, thence 6 miles: from Derby, through London, &c., 219 miles. Money orders issued at Canterbury: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m. The church is cruciform, with an embattled tower, and contains a splendid mausoleum of the Colebrooke family. Chilham was anciently a market town, and there is still an annual cattle fair on the 8th of November. The castle is a very ancient fabric, now a venerable mass of ruins mantled with ivy. The village is very pleasantly situated on the road from Canterbury to Ashford, having the church and vicarage to the north, and the castle and park of Chilham on the south, just opposite to which there is a delightful view over the whole of the vale of Ashford. This place was in early times the scene of many sanguinary contests, and seems to have been made an important station by the Romans, as an immense number of the relics of that people have been discovered here. The old English kings kept possession of the fortress, and made it a place of great strength, and Withred, king of Kent, towards the close of the seventh century, for some time resided here. There is a curious custom at Chilham, observed on 1st May, when two young men and two maidens, between the ages of sixteen and twenty-four, run a tye at Old Wives Lees, and the young man and maiden who get first to the goal, receive £10 under the will, dated in 1638, of Sir Dudley Digges. The living (St. Mary), a vicarage, with the curacy of Moldash, in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Canterbury, is valued at £13. 6s. 8d.: pres. net. income, £698: patron, J. B. Wildman, Esq.: pres. incumbent, Rd. O. Tylden, 1809: contains 4,230 acres: 190 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,165: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,339: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £6,951: poor rates in 1838, £476. 3s.

CHILHAMTON. See NEWTON (South).

CHILLAND. See MARTTROWORTHY.

CHILLENDEEN, KENT, a parish in the hund<sup>d</sup> and union of Eastry, lathe of St. Augustine: 89 miles from London (coach road 68), 4 from Wingham, 8 from Canterbury.---Sou. East. Rail. to Canterbury, thence 8 miles: from Derby, through London, &c., 221 miles.---Money orders issued at Wingham: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m.---The living (All Saints), a disch<sup>d</sup> rectory in the archd<sup>r</sup> and diocese of Canterbury, is valued at £5: pres. net income, £130: patron, Lord Chancellor: pres. incumbent, John Hallowell, 1844: contains 180 acres: 28 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 137: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup>, with Knowlton, £809: poor rates in 1838, £19. 5s.---N., Goodstone Hall, the seat of Sir Brook William Bridges, Bart.---(for which see GOODSTONE.)---S., St. Alban's Hall---(for which see ST. ALBAN'S.)---E., Knowlton Park, the residence of G. H. D'Aeth, Esq.---(for which see KNOWLTON.)

CHILLESFORD, SUFFOLK, a parish in the hund<sup>d</sup> and union of Plomesgate, at an estuary near Oxford Raven: 83 miles from London, 3 from Oxford, 7 from Woodford.---East. Co<sup>r</sup> Rail. to Ipswich, thence 15 miles: from Derby, through London, &c., 215 miles.---Money orders issued at Oxford: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m.---The living (St. Peter), a disch<sup>d</sup> rectory in the archd<sup>r</sup> of Suffolk, diocese of Norwich, is valued at £5. 3s. 4d.: pres. net income, £295: patron, Rev. J. Dewing: pres. incumbent, J. Dewing, 1838: contains 1,420 acres: 16 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 220: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,514: poor rates in 1838, £96. 1s. Tithes commuted in 1839.

CHILLINGHAM (anciently CHEVELINGHAM), NORTHUMBERLAND, a small parish in the eastern division of Glendale ward, union of Glendale, on the river Till: it comprehends the townships of Chillingham, Hibburn and Newton: 363 miles from London (coach road 317), 5 from Wooler, 7 from Belford.---Nor. West. Rail. through Rugby, Derby, York, and Newcastle, to Lucker station, thence 5 miles: from Derby, through York, &c., 221 miles.---Money orders issued at Belford: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 3½ p.m.: post closes 4 p.m.---The living (St. Peter), a vicarage in the archd<sup>r</sup> of Northumberland, diocese of Durham, is valued at £4: pres. net income, £340: patron, Bishop of Durham: pres. incumbent, Luke Yarker, 1833: contains 4,980 acres: 82 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 459: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 527: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £4,978: poor rates in 1837, £206. 17s.---Chillingham Castle is the residence of the Earl of Tankerville, who inherited it from the noble family of Grey, barons of Wark. It is a large square structure, four stories high in the wings, and three in the centre, rebuilt in the reign of Elizabeth. The castle is nobly furnished, and contains several very fine portraits. The park is extensive and varied, and contains a large herd of deer, and a herd of wild cattle, the only one in England, the breed of which is distinguished as the "White Scottish bison." They are, says Pennant, in his northern tour, of a middle size, have very long legs, and the cows are fine horned; the orbits of the eyes and the tips of the noses are black, but the bulls have lost the names attributed to them by Boethius. They are very shy, wild, swift, and savage, but in severe winters sometimes venture to visit the outhouses in search of food. The Earl of Tankerville derives his descent from Richard Bennet, Esq., whose brother, Sir Thomas, was sheriff of London, and lord mayor in 1603. The grandson of Mr. Bennet, Sir John Bennet, Knt., LL.D., was a distinguished member of parliament in the time of Elizabeth, and was put into commission during her reign, with Lord Keeper Egerton and Lord Treasurer Buckhurst, for the suppression of heresy. He was afterwards chancellor to Anne, queen consort of James I., and held, besides, other distinguished appointments. The grandson of that gentleman was raised to the peerage by the title of Baron Ossulton, and was advanced to the dignity of the earldom of Tankerville, on the decease of his father-in-law in 1714. From that nobleman the present noble earl is the fifth in descent. His lordship succeeded to the title and estates in 1822. Several members of the family, in different generations, distinguished themselves in the various branches of the public service.

CHILLINGHAM, NORTHUMBERLAND, a township in the above parish.

CHILLINGTON, SOMERSET, a parish in the southern division of the hund<sup>d</sup> of Petherton, union of Chard: 178 miles from London (coach road 135), 4 from Crewkerne, 3 from Ilminster.---Gt. West. Rail. through Bristol to Taunton, thence 15 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Bristol to Taunton, &c., 192 miles.---Money orders issued at Crewkerne: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m.---The living (St. James), a perpetual curacy in the archd<sup>r</sup> of Taunton, and diocese of Bath and Wells, is valued at £15: pres. net income, £60: patron, Earl Powlett: pres. incumbent, W. J. Russell, 1832: contains 890 acres: 63 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 321: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 369: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,500: poor rates in 1838, £107. 2s. Tithes commuted in 1839.---E., Hinton Park---(for which, see HINTON ST. GEORGE.)

CHILLINGTON. See BARWOOD.

CHILMARK, WILTS, a parish in the hund<sup>d</sup> of Dunworth, union of Tisbury: it includes the tithing of Ridge: 109 miles from London (coach road 93), 4 from Hindon, 8 from Wilton.---Sou. West. Rail. through Basingstoke to Salisbury, thence 13 miles: from Derby, through Rugby, Oxford, Reading, and Basingstoke, to Southampton, &c., 196 miles.---Money orders issued at Wilton: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 5 p.m.---The living (St. Margaret), a rectory in the archd<sup>r</sup> and diocese of Salisbury, is valued at £19. 13s. 4d.: pres. net income, £426: patron, Earl of Pembroke: pres. incumbent, Charles Tower, 1843: contains 3,210 acres: 107 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 593: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 682: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £2,035: poor rates in 1837, £308. 10s.---Fair, July 30, for cattle, sheep, horses, swine, and cheese.---W., Fonthill Park.

CHILSON, OXFORDSHIRE, a chapelry in the parish of Charlbury, on the river Evenlode: it includes Shorthampton and Padlicote—(which see for access, &c.): 76 miles from London, 5 from Chipping-Norton, 10 from Woodstock.—Money orders issued at Chipping-Norton: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 7 p.m.—Contains 1,010 acres: 44 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 287: poor rates in 1838, £208. 6s.

CHILSWELL, BERKS, a liberty in the parish of Cumnor—(which see for access, &c.): 56 miles from London, 4 from Oxford, 5 from Abingdon.—Money orders issued at Oxford: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m.—Contains 1 house: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 12.—(Other returns with the parish.)

CHILSWORTH, OXFORDSHIRE, a hamlet in the parish of Great Milton, on the river Thame—(which see for access, &c.): 51 miles from London, 3 from Tetworth, 9 from Oxford.—Money orders issued at Tetworth: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 8 p.m.—Contains 1,100 acres: 15 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 93: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £2,647: poor rates in 1838, £107. 15s.

CHILTERN-ALL-SAINTS, WILTS, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Heytesbury, union of Warminster: 118 miles from London (coach road 96), 5 from Warminster, 8 from Westbury.—Gt. West. Rail. through Chippenham to Westbury, thence 8 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Bristol to Westbury, &c., 178 miles.—Money orders issued at Warminster: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 4½ p.m.—The living (All Saints), a disch<sup>d</sup> vicarage, united with that of Chiltern-St. Mary, in the archd<sup>r</sup> and diocese of Salisbury, is valued at £7. 0s. 10d.: pres. net income, £325: patron, the Bishop, and Dean and Chapter of Salisbury, alternately: contains 4,500 acres: 79 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 408: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 463: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £4,657: poor rates in 1837, £216.

CHILTERN-ST. MARY, WILTS, a parish in the same hun<sup>d</sup> and union, on a branch of the Wiley river: 95 miles from London.—(For access and postal arrangements, see above.)—The living (St. Mary) is a curacy, united to the vicarage of Chiltern-All-Saints: contains 2,150 acres: 33 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 180: poor rates in 1838, £113. 19s.

CHILTHORNE-DOMER, SOMERSET, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Stone, union of Yeovil: 171 miles from London (coach road 122), 3 from Ilchester, 3 from Yeovil.—Gt. West. Rail. through Bristol to Bridgewater, thence 20 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Bristol to Bridgewater, &c., 185 miles.—Money orders issued at Ilchester: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m.—The living (St. Mary), a vicarage in the archd<sup>r</sup> of Wells, diocese of Bath and Wells, is valued at £5. 7s. 1d.: pres. net income, £235: patron, Rev. J. Baily: pres. incumbent, W. B. Leach: contains 1,190 acres: 44 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 291: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £2,772: poor rates in 1838, £146. 5s.

CHILTINGTON (EAST), SUSSEX, a chapelry in the parish of Westmeston, on a branch of the river Ouse: 54 miles from London (coach road 46), 4 from Lewes, 11 from Steyning.—Brighton Rail. to Lewes, thence 4 miles: from Derby, through London, &c., 186 miles.—Money orders issued at Lewes: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m.—The living is a curacy to the rectory of Westmeston, in the diocese of Chichester, and having jointly a pres. net income of £326: patron, Trustees of B. Chapman, Esq.: pres. incumbent, B. Chapman, 1829: contains 35 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 271: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,645: poor rates in 1838, £58. 15s.

CHILTINGTON (WEST), SUSSEX, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of West-Easwirth, rape of Arundel, union of Thakeham: 47 miles from London (coach road 38), 9 from Petworth, 7 from Steyning.—Brighton Rail. to Horsham, thence 10 miles: from Derby, through London, &c., 179 miles.—Money orders issued at Petworth: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m.—The living, a rectory in the archd<sup>r</sup> and diocese of Chichester, is valued at £12. 16s. 10½d.: pres. net income, £491: patron, Earl of Abergavenny: pres. incumbent, William Barlee, 1830: contains 3,690 acres: 102 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 747: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 859: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,331: poor rates in 1838, £465. 3s. Tithes commuted in 1839.

CHILTON, BERKS, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Compton, union of Wantage: 57 miles from London (coach road 54), 3 from Ilsley, 8 from Abingdon.—Gt. West. Rail. to Didcot, thence 4 miles: from Derby, through Rugby and Oxford to Didcot, &c., 109 miles.—Money orders issued at Ilsley: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m.—The living (All Saints), a rectory, formerly in the archd<sup>r</sup> of Berks, and diocese of Salisbury, now in the diocese of Oxford, is valued at £13. 8s. 4d.: pres. net income, £400: patron, Hancage, Esq.: pres. incumbent, Chas. Gaisford, 1803: contains 1,500 acres: 50 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 309: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 355: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,357: poor rates in 1837, £227. 17s.

CHILTON WITH EASINGTON, BUCKINGHAM, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Ashendon, union of Thame: 53 miles from London (coach road 48), 4 from Thame, 8 from Aylesbury.—Nor. West. Rail. to Aylesbury, thence 10 miles: from Derby, through Rugby and Cheddington to Aylesbury, &c., 113 miles.—Money orders issued at Thame: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m.—In 1639, Sir George Croke founded an almshouse at Studley, in Oxford, and endowed it with a rent-charge of £90, chiefly for the behoof of the poor of Chilton and Studley. Besides this, Almond's benefaction to the poor produced, in 1833, £37. 10s. There are other charities, amounting to £2. 15s.; also, five tenements for the occupation of poor families. Chilton is the birth-place of Sir George Croke, who, in the reign of Charles I., opposed the levying of ship-money without authority of parliament. He was descended from the ancient family of Le Blount, who, during the wars of the Roses, concealed themselves under the name of Croke, and on the accession of Henry VII. still retained that name. Sir George was for many years lord chief justice of the King's Bench, previous to the civil war, and filled that office with the greatest integrity. He died in 1641. The church contains some ornamental monuments of the Blount or Croke family. Easington is a large hamlet of this parish. Chilton House was once the seat of the Carters.—The living (St. Mary), a perpetual curacy in the diocese of Oxford, is valued at £10. 8s.: pres. net income, £67: patron, C. S. Ricketts, Esq.: pres. incumbent, G. Chetwode, 1829: contains 2,080 acres: 70 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 364: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 418: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £3,633: poor rates in 1838, £383. 11s. — Chilton Hall is the seat of Sir Thomas Digby Aubrey, Bart., also of Llantrythid, Glamorganshire. In the time of Elizabeth, Vincent, Windsor herald, compiled a pedigree of the Aubrey family, which commences thus—Saint Aubrey, of the blood royal of France, came into England with William the Conqueror, anno 1066, as the Chronicles of All Souls' College testify, which are there to be seen tied to a chain of iron. Sir Reginald Aubrey was the son of him who came over with the Conqueror, and assisted Bernard de Newmarch to subjugate Wales, for which he acquired the lands of Abercynfigg and Slough. From him was lineally descended William Aubrey, LL.D., regius professor of law at Oxford, one of the council for the marches of Wales, and one of the masters of requests to Queen Elizabeth. His younger son, Sir Thomas Aubrey, by marriage, acquired the estate of Llantrythid. His son, Sir John Aubrey, who succeeded him, was created a baronet in 1660. From him descended Sir John Aubrey, D.C.L., who represented the county of Buckingham in parliament, and afterwards sat for various boroughs. In 1782, he was appointed a lord of the Admiralty, and a lord of the Treasury in 1783, which latter office he resigned in 1789. At the time of his death, in March, 1826, he was the father of the House of Commons; and although he married twice, he died without issue, and was succeeded by his nephew, the present baronet, in 1826.

CHILTON, SUFFOLK, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Babergh, union of Sudbury, bounded on the west by the river Stour: 76 miles from London (coach road 56), 2 from Sudbury, 9 from Hadleigh. — East. Co<sup>r</sup>. Rail. to Hadleigh, thence 6 miles: from Derby, through London, &c., 208 miles. — Money orders issued at Sudbury: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m. — The living, a disch<sup>d</sup> rectory, formerly in the archd<sup>r</sup> of Sudbury, and diocese of Norwich, now in the diocese of Ely, is valued at £5. 6s. 5½d.: pres. net income, £208: patron, W. H. Wyndham, Esq.: pres. incumbent, W. C. Freeland, 1838: contains 1,090 acres: 23 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 98: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> with Great Waldingfield: poor rates in 1838, £130. Tithes commuted in 1839. — Chilton Lodge is the seat of Thomas Fenn Addison, Esq., a colonel in the army, who, in 1821, succeeded his father, John Addison, Esq. of Sudbury, banker, who died in August, 1821.

CHILTON, DURHAM, a township in the parish of Merrington—(which see for access, &c.): 250 miles from London, 9 from Durham, 10 from Stockton. — Money orders issued at Durham: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 11 a.m.: post closes 4 p.m. — Contains 2,350 acres: 31 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 189: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,871: poor rates in 1838, £48. 17s.

CHILTON-CANTILO, SOMERSET, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Houndsborough, Berwick, and Coker, though locally situated in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Horethorne, union of Yeovil, on the river Yeo: it includes the chapelry of Nether-Adber: 170 miles from London (coach road 123), 3 from Ilchester, 6 from Sher-bourne. — Gt. West. Rail. through Bristol to Bridgewater, thence 20 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Bristol to Bridgewater, &c., 185 miles. — Money orders issued at Ilchester: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 5 p.m. — The living (St. James), a disch<sup>d</sup> rectory in the archd<sup>r</sup> of Wells, and diocese of Bath and Wells, is valued at £9. 11s. 5½d.: pres. net income, £260: patron, — Goodford, Esq.: pres. incumbent, M. J. G. Hawtrey, 1848: contains 540 acres: 16 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 134: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,888. — Chilton-Cantilo is the seat of Henry Goodford, Esq., a descendant of Samuel Goodford, Esq., whose grandson, John Old Goodford, Esq. of Yeovil, was sheriff of Somerset, and was succeeded by his son, John Goodford, Esq. of Chilton-Cantilo, a magistrate and deputy-lieutenant for Somerset, and high sheriff in 1816, who died in 1835, and was succeeded by the present Henry Goodford, Esq.

CHILTON-FOLIAT, WILTS, a parish, partly in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Kintbury-Eagle, county of Berks, but chiefly in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Kinwardstone, union of Hungerford, in the above county, on the river Kennet: it includes the tithing of Leverton: 63 miles from London (coach road 66), 2 from Hungerford, 8 from Marlborough. — Gt. West. Rail. to Hungerford, thence 2 miles: from Derby, through Rugby, Oxford, and Reading, to Hungerford, &c., 149 miles. — Money orders issued at Hungerford: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 7 a.m.: post closes 7 p.m. — The living (St. Mary), a rectory in the archd<sup>r</sup> of Wilts, and diocese of Sarum, is valued at £14. 8s. 9d.: pres. net income, £994: patron, E. W. L. Popham: pres. incumbent, J. L. Popham, 1835: contains 3,740 acres: 136 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 727: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 836: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £3,379: poor rates in 1838, £516. 10s. Tithes commuted in 1809. — Chilton Lodge; 8 E., Erington House; 8., Littlecot Park.

CHILTON-TRINITY, SOMERSET, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of North Petherton, union of Bridgewater, near the mouth of the Parrot river: anciently this parish was a hun<sup>d</sup> of itself: it is divided into the manors of East Chilton, West Chilton, or Chilton-Trivet, Idstoke-Inverne, and Hunstile: 152 miles from London (coach road 138), 1 from Bridgewater, 10 from Taunton. — Gt. West. Rail. through Bristol to Bridgewater, thence 1 mile: from Derby, through Birmingham and Bristol to Bridgewater, &c., 166 miles. — Money orders issued at Bridgewater: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m. — The living (the Holy Trinity) is a perpetual curacy, united with the vicarage of Bridgewater: pres. net income, £150: patron, Vicar of Bridgewater: pres. incumbent, J. De la Hooke, 1845: contains 1,250 acres: 7 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 74: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £3,835: poor rates in 1838, £51. 15s. Tithes, exclusive of the hamlets of Idstoke and Beer, commuted in 1839.

CHILTON-UPON-POLDEN, SOMERSET, a hamlet in the parish of Moorlinch—(which see for access, &c.): 135 miles from London, 5 from Bridgewater, 10 from Somerton. — Money orders issued at Bridgewater: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m. — The living is a perpetual curacy in the archd<sup>r</sup> of Wells, and diocese of Bath and Wells: pres. net income, £120: patron, Rev. R. J. Luscombe: pres. incumbent, R. J.

Luscombe, jun., 1847: contains 1,790 acres: 65 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 425: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 489: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup>: £3,314: poor rates in 1838, £120. 1s. Tithes commuted in 1839.

CHILVERS-COTON, WARWICK, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Hemlingford, Atherstone division, union of Nuneaton, intersected by the Coventry Canal: Chilvers-Coton includes the hamlets of Grift and Ardbury: 97 miles from London (coach road 105), 1 from Nuneaton, 8 from Coventry. — Nor. West. Rail. to Nuneaton, thence 1 mile: from Derby, through Burton and Tamworth to Nuneaton, &c., 111 miles. — Money orders issued at Nuneaton: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m. — There was at one time an Augustine monastery here, dedicated to the Virgin Mary, which, at the dissolution, was valued at £122. 8s. 6d. In 1538, it was granted to Charles Braudon, Duke of Suffolk, and in the reign of Elizabeth it was sold to Sir Edmund Anderson, who demolished the building, and, with the materials, erected Ardbury Hall, the splendid seat of the Newdegate family. Chilvers-Coton is now a ribbon-weaving parish, connected with the county and city of Coventry, but the extent of the manufacture cannot well be ascertained, as the returns of the place are mixed up with those of Coventry and Nuneaton. The free school and other charities, chiefly the contributions of the Newdegate family, now realise upwards of £250 a year, which are spent in liberal distributions of clothes and money among the poor, and in the education of their children. The other charities produce about £11 a year. The schools for the poor are numerous. — The living (All Saints), a disch<sup>d</sup> vicarage, formerly in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Coventry, and diocese of Lichfield and Coventry, now in the diocese of Worcester, is valued at £7. 4s.: pres. net income, £106: patron, Lord Chancellor: pres. incumbent, Henry Hake, 1844: contains 3,750 acres: 523 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 2,508: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 2,884: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup>: £6,020: poor rates in 1838, £1,038. 4s. The tithes were commuted in 1764. — Chilvers Coton is the seat of Henry Richard Harpur, Esq.

CHILWELL, NOTTINGHAMSHIRE, a hamlet in the parish of Attenborough—(which see for access, &c.): 126 miles from London, 5 from Nottingham, 16 from Mansfield. — Money orders issued at Nottingham: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9½ a.m.: post closes 5 p.m. — Contains 1,930 acres: 184 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 772: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 887: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup>: £3,523: poor rates in 1837, £364. 10s. — Chilwell Hall is the seat of Thomas Broughton Charlton, Esq. The Charltons of Chilwell are supposed to be a younger branch of the Charltons of Apley Castle, Salop. In the fifteenth century they resided in St. Austin's parish, Watling Street, London. Early in the sixteenth century they were in Sandiacre, county of Derby; and the earliest direct ancestor who can well be traced, is Thomas Charlton, Esq. of Sandiacre, from whom descended Thomas Charlton, Esq., high sheriff of Notts in 1666. His descendant, William Charlton, Esq. of Chilwell, was high sheriff of Notts in 1824, and died in 1831, and was succeeded by his son, the present Thomas Broughton Charlton, Esq. of Chilwell, who was born 15th August, 1815; he is a magistrate for Nottinghamshire.

CHILWORTH, HANTS, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Mansbridge, union of South Stoneham, Fawley division of the county: 77 miles from London (coach road 71), 4 from Romsey, 8 from Winchester. — Sou. West. Rail. to Bishopstoke, thence 3 miles: from Derby, through Rugby, Oxford, and Reading, to Bishopstoke, &c., 164 miles. — Money orders issued at Romsey: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m. — The church, erected at the sole expense of John Fleming, Esq., is a handsome Gothic structure of stone and blue brick, with a stone tower, and pretty octagonal spire, jetted with slate. The chancel window is adorned with four full-sized figures of the evangelists, in stained glass. — The living is a perpetual curacy in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Winchester: pres. net income, £53: patron, John Fleming, Esq.: pres. incumbent, James Davies, 1839: contains 1,400 acres: 21 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 177: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup>: £556: poor rates in 1838, £66. 1s. — Chilworth House is the seat of Sir Edward Butler; S. E., Stoneham Park, the seat of John Fleming, Esq.—(for which, see NORTH STONEHAM.)

CHILWORTH, SURREY, a chapelry, extra-parochial and extra-judicial, in the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Blackheath, north of the river Wey—(which see for access, &c.): 32 miles from London, 3 from Guildford, 8 from Dorking. — Money orders issued at Guildford: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m. — The living (St. Martha) is a donative curacy in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Surrey, and diocese of Winchester: pres. net income, £25: patron, W. Tinkler, Esq.: pres. incumbent, W. S. Cole, 1824: contains 930 acres: 37 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 193: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup>: £1,490: poor rates in 1838, £153. 16s.

CHIMNELL. See HOLLYHURST.

CHIMNEY, OXFORD, a hamlet in the parish of Bampton—(which see for access, &c.): 66 miles from London, 6 from Witney, 10 from Burford. — Money orders issued at Witney: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9½ a.m.: post closes 5 p.m. — Contains 620 acres: 7 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 36: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup>: £884.

CHINEHAM, HANTS, a tithing in the parish of Monk's-Sherborne—(which see for access, &c.): 46 miles from London, 2 from Basingstoke, 8 from Overton. — Money orders issued at Basingstoke: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m. — Contains 520 acres: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 19.

CHINGFORD, ESSEX, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Waltham, union of Epping: 10 miles from London (coach road 9), 4 from Woodford. — Nor. and East. Co<sup>r</sup>. Rail. to Marsh Lane station, thence 1 mile: from Derby, through London, &c., 142 miles. — London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> three times each way daily. — The name of this place was anciently written Congeford, meaning King's-ford, from a ford over the Lea, which bounds the parish on the west. From the earliest times there have been two manors in this parish. One belonged to the church of St. Paul before the Conquest; it was surrendered to Henry VIII. in 1544. Edward VI. made a grant of it, but it again reverted to the crown; and, in 1553, was granted by Mary to Susan, widow of Thomas Tongue, clarenceux king of arms; it now belongs to Mr. Hodson. The other manor, Chingford Comitis, was, at Domesday survey, held by Orgar the Thane, under Robert Gernon; it was surrendered to Henry VIII., and was granted by Mary, together with the other manor, and is now in the possession of the Rev. R. B. Heathcote. These two manors were granted by letters patent enrolled in the Court of Exchequer, and have attached to them part of Epping Forest, which is the cause of so much controversy with the crown and the neighbourhood. The grant conveys, besides the right of free-warren, the land, ground, and soil, together with the woods, underwoods, and trees, as fully, freely, and entirely, and in as ample a manner, as the said manors came, or ought to have come, and on our hands now are or ought to be. Portions of the waste have been enclosed, under grants from the manor, and the crown claims forest right over the reclaimed as well as over the waste land. In Chingford is an old farm-house, called Pumphall, a hunting-lodge of King James I., at which he was residing when he visited Sir Thos. Boothby, and made the event memorable by knight-ing the sirloin of beef.---The living (All Saints), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Essex, and diocese of London, is valued at £14. 5s. 5d.: pres. net income, £538: patron and pres. incumbent, R. B. Heathcote, 1829: contains 3,000 acres: 194 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 971: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,116: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £6,426: poor rates in 1838, £408. 15s.---Great Friday Hall, Rev. R. B. Heathcote; the Mount, Captain Hamilton, R.N.; White Hall, J. Dean, Esq.

CHINLEY-BUGSWORTH, and BROWNSIDE, DEXBY, a chapelry in the parish of Glossop---(which see for access, &c.): 170 miles from London, 7 from Glossop, 3 from Chapel-le-Frith.---Money orders issued at Glossop: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 10 a.m.: post closes 5 p.m.---There is an Independent chapel here, which anciently belonged to William Bagshawe, an eminent nonconformist divine, who was called "the Apostle of the Peak."---Contains 189 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 996: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,145: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £3,838: poor rates in 1838, £267. 5s.---(Other returns with the parish.)

CHINNOCK (EAST), SOMERSET, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Houndsborough, Berwick, and Coker, union of Yeovil: 182 miles from London (coach road 124), 3 from Yeovil, 7 from Ilchester.---Gt. West. Rail. through Bristol to Taunton, thence 19 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Bristol to Taunton, &c., 196 miles.---Money orders issued at Yeovil: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 9 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m.---The living (St. Mary), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Wells, and diocese of Bath and Wells, is valued at £6. 7s. 8½d.: pres. net income, £140: patron, Lord Chancellor: pres. incumbent, C. S. Coxwell, 1840: contains 2,090 acres: 121 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 735: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 845: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £2,810: poor rates in 1837, £243. 15s.

CHINNOCK (MIDDLE), SOMERSET, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Houndsborough, Berwick, and Coker, union of Yeovil, on the Parrot river: 181 miles from London (coach road 125), 4 from Crewkerne, 5 from Yeovil.---Gt. West. Rail. through Bristol to Taunton, thence 18 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Bristol to Taunton, &c., 195 miles.---Money orders issued at Crewkerne: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 9 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m.---The benefactions here principally consist of lands, which produce about £30 a year, part of which is spent in the support of a free school, and the remainder in the relief of the poor.---The living (St. Margaret), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Wells, and diocese of Bath and Wells, is valued at £7. 9s 7d.: pres. net income, £189: patron, Earl of Ilchester: pres. incumbent, F. P. Voules, 1841: contains 280 acres: 26 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 222: poor rates in 1838, £72. 10s.

CHINNOCK (WEST), SOMERSET, a parish in the same hun<sup>d</sup>, union of Yeovil: 126 miles from London.---(For access and postal arrangements, see above.)---The living (St. Mary), a curacy to the rectory of Chisleborough, not in charge: contains 600 acres: 92 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 561: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 645: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £2,466: poor rates in 1838, £184. 4s. Tithes commuted in 1839.

CHINNOR, OXFORDSHIRE, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Lewknor, union of Wycombe: it includes the liberty of Henton: 38 miles from London (coach road 42), 5 from Tetworth, 8 from Thame.---Gt. West. Rail. to High Wycombe, thence 10 miles: from Derby, through Rugby and Oxford to Abingdon Road station, 102, thence 15 miles.---Money orders issued at Tetworth: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 9 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m.---The living (St. Andrew), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Oxford, is valued at £26. 0s. 5d.: pres. net income, £509: patron, Sir J. Musgrave, Bart.: pres. incumbent, W. A. Musgrave, 1816: contains 2,760 acres: 239 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,561: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,795: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £2,277: poor rates in 1838, £860.

CHIPCHASE. See GUNNERTON.

CHIPPENHAM, CAMBRIDGE, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Staploe, union of Newmarket: 62 miles from London (coach road 56), 5 from Newmarket, 5 from Cambridge.---Nor. and East. Co<sup>r</sup>. Rail. to Cambridge, thence 5 miles: from Derby, through Syston and Peterborough to Cambridge, &c., 131 miles.---Money orders issued at Newmarket: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 9 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m.---Lord Oxford endowed a school here with £20 a year. The annual aggregate of several other charities is about £25 a year.---The living (St. Margaret), a disch<sup>d</sup>. vicarage in the diocese of Ely, is valued at £11. 12s. 6d.: pres. net income, £240: patron, John Thorp, Esq.: pres. incumbent, Aug. James Thorp: contains 4,500 acres: 125 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 666: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 766: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £3,547: poor rates in 1838, £441. 3s.

CHIPPENHAM, BUCKINGHAM, a liberty in the parish and hun<sup>d</sup> of Burnham: it forms part of the ancient demesnes of the crown: 24 miles from London, 2 from Eton, 3 from Maidenhead.---Money orders issued at Eton: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 9 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m.

CHIPPENHAM, WILTS, a parish, borough, and market town, in the hun<sup>d</sup> and union of Chippenham, situated on the south bank of the Avon, on the great road from London to Bath: it includes the tithings of Allington, Tytherton, Stanley, and Nethermore: 94 miles from London (coach road 93), 13 from Bath.---Gt. West. Rail. to Chippenham station: from Derby, through Birmingham, Bristol, and Bath, to Chippenham, 157 miles. — Money orders issued here: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 7 a.m. and 2½ p.m.: post closes 8.40 a.m. and 10 p.m. — Chippenham, the name of which is derived from the Saxon word Cyppanham, a market-place, is a town of great antiquity, and in the time of the Saxons appears to have been of some importance, as, by the most ancient writers, it is always styled Villa Regia, and most probably some of the West Saxon monarchs had a residence here. It is certain that, in 853, King Ethelwulf remained here some time after making an excursion against the Welsh, for all the ancient authors assert that this was the place where he celebrated the marriage of his daughter Athelswitha, with Buthred, king of Mercia. During the concealment of Alfred in the forest of Selwood, Chippenham was the head-quarters of the Danes. On quitting it they marched to Ethandune, where they learned that Alfred, having left his concealment, was preparing to attack them. On their defeat, they again returned to Chippenham, where Alfred and Guthrum, their monarch, negotiated a treaty; and we are told, that after they had been baptized at Aubre, the Danes left this town for Cirencester. On the death of Alfred, that monarch bequeathed the lordship and palace of the town to his daughter Elfrida. There is no record of how long the palace existed after this time; but we find, in the Doomsday-book, that the lordship was held by Edward the Confessor, and after the Conquest it remained in the possession of the crown. In the reign of Richard II. it was the property of the Hungerfords; and after passing through several hands, in the reign of Henry VII., it again passed to the Hungerfords. In the reign of Charles I., £30 was levied upon Chippenham as ship-money. The church is a large building of great antiquity, and, from the various styles of architecture, erected at different times, some part of it evidently as early as the twelfth century: it contains several curious and interesting monuments. Within the parish, at Tytherton-Lucas, there is a chapel of ease. The town is situated on the declivity of a hill, on the south bank of the Avon, which is very wide at this place, and over which is a beautiful stone bridge of twenty-two arches, ornamented with balustrades; for the repairing of which, and of a stone causeway, nearly three miles long, from Chippenham Cliff to Wick Hill, Maud Heath, in 1474, bequeathed an estate amounting to about £8 per annum. The principal street is half a mile in length, but there are some smaller ones; and, in 1834, the town was much improved under the provisions of an act for lighting, watching, cleansing, and paving it. There is a tolerable supply of water from the river. There are numerous charities of the annual value of £200; also, free, British, and national schools, the two latter for the education of poor children. Chippenham was incorporated by the municipal corporations act. It is a borough, by a charter obtained from Mary; but first returned two members to parliament in the reign of Edward I. The local government is vested in a mayor, four aldermen, and twelve councillors. The petty sessions for the division are held here; also, a court of requests for the recovery of debts under 40s., by commissioners, whose jurisdiction extends over the hundreds of Chippenham, Calne, North Damerham, and the liberty of Corsham. It is held on the Tuesday in every sixth week. There is a literary institution, town-hall, and market-house. The Baptists, Independents, and Wesleyan Methodists, have chapels here. There are a few grist-mills and tanneries, and the town is connected by a short branch with the Wilts and Berks Canal. In the parish are two chalybeate springs, formerly much frequented; one of them is now sometimes used, but the other is closed up. — The living (St. Andrew), a disch<sup>d</sup>. vicarage, with the curacy of Tytherton, in the diocese of Gloucester and Bristol, is valued at £18. 19s. 4d.: pres. net income, £284: patron, Dean and Chapter of Christ Church, Oxford: pres. incumbent, Lewis Purbrick, 1837: contains 9,100 acres: 765 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 5,438: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 6,254: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>y</sup>. £20,143: poor rates in 1838, £1,098. 7s. Tithes commuted in 1839. — Market day, Saturday. Fairs: May 17, June 22, Oct. 29, and Dec. 11, for horses, cattle, and sheep. — Bankers: North Wilts Banking Co.—draw on Drewett & Fowler; Branch of Wilts and Dorset Banking Co.—draw on Williams, Deacon, & Co. — Angel Inn.

CHIPPING, LANCASTER, a parish in the lower division of the hund<sup>d</sup>. of Blackburn, union of Clitheroe, on a branch of the river Hodder: it includes the townships of Chipping, and Thoraley with Wheatley: 221 miles from London (coach road 226), 15 from Preston, 14 from Lancaster. — Nor. West. Rail. through Crewe and Preston to Thoraley, thence 3 miles: from Derby, through Crewe, &c., 121 miles. — Money orders issued at Preston: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 11 a.m.: post closes 7 p.m. — Cotton manufacture is, to a certain extent, carried on within the parish. A free school was endowed here in 1683, by Mr. John Drabin, who bequeathed certain properties for that purpose, apprenticing scholars, and other objects of a benevolent nature; the income derived from the estate is now about £60 a year. There is another estate, the annual rents of which are devoted to the apprenticing of poor children, the income of which averages £61 a year. Besides these, the parochial charities amount in the whole to about £84 per annum. — The living (St. Bartholomew), a disch<sup>d</sup>. vicarage in the diocese of Manchester, is valued at £36. 13s. 4d.: pres. net income, £120: patron, Bishop of Chester: pres. incumbent, E. Wilkinson, 1816: contains 8,990 acres: 311 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,675: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,926: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>y</sup>. £6,885: poor rates in 1837, £523. 13s. Tithes commuted in 1839. — Fairs, April 2, and August 24.

CHIPPING, LANCASTER, a township in the above parish—(which see for access, &c.) — Contains 6,010 acres: 224 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,534: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,764: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>y</sup>. 4,449: poor rates in 1838, £378. 3s.

CHIPPINGHURST, OXFORDSHIRE, a hamlet in the parish of Cuddesden—(which see for access, &c.): 51 miles from London, 5 from Abingdon, 6 from Oxford. — Money orders issued at Abingdon: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 9 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m. — Contains 140 acres: 4 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 18: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>y</sup>. £896: poor rates in 1838, £36. 1s.

CHIPPING-NORTON. See NORTON-CHIPPING.

CHIPPING-ONGAR. See ONGAR-CHIPPING.
CHIPPING-SODBURY. See SODBURY-CHIPPING.

CHIPPING-WARDEN, NORTHAMPTON, a parish in the hund<sup>d</sup> of Chipping-Warden, union of Banbury: 92 miles from London (coach road 76), 6 from Banbury, 4 from Byfield.---Gt. West. Rail. through Oxford to Banbury, thence 6 miles: from Derby, through Rugby to Banbury, &c., 78 miles.---Money orders issued at Banbury: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m.---The parochial charities produce about £75 a year, devoted, in the first instance, to the repair or preservation of the church bells, and in the second, to the relief of the poor. There is a Wesleyan chapel here.---The living, a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Northampton, and diocese of Peterborough, is valued at £26.10s.: pres. net income, £277: patron, Right Hon. Lady S. North: pres. incumbent, E. G. Walford, 1832: contains 2,240 acres: 103 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 545: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 626: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £2,762: poor rates in 1838, £379.8s.---Chipping-Warden Hall, now a farm-house, was formerly the residence of the Lady North.

CHIPPING-WYCOMBE. See WYCOMBE-CHIPPING.

CHIPSTABLE, SOMERSET, a parish in the hund<sup>d</sup> of Williton and Free-Manners, union of Wellington: 178 miles from London (coach road 155), 3 from Wiveliscombe, 8 from Dulverton.---Gt. West. Rail. through Bristol to Wellington, thence 8 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Bristol to Wellington, &c., 192 miles.---Money orders issued at Wiveliscombe: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 5 p.m.---The living (All Saints), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Somerset, and diocese of Bath and Wells, is valued at £11.1s. 8d.: pres. net income, £340: patron, Rev. S. Richards: pres. incumbent, S. S. Richards, 1800: contains 2,420 acres: 68 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 389: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 447: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £2,125: poor rates in 1838, £184.19s.

CHIPSTEAD, SURREY, a parish in the second division of the hund<sup>d</sup> and union of Reigate: 17 miles from London (coach road 15), 2 from Gattön, 6 from Croydon.---Brighton Rail. to Stot's Nest, thence 3 miles: from Derby, through London, &c., 149 miles.---Money orders issued at Gattön: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m.---The church is supposed to have been built before the Conquest. There are several parochial charities, the most important of which is that of Mrs. Mary Stephen, for the instruction and apprenticing of poor children, the income of which is about £70 a year. The other benefactions produce about £14 a year.---The living (St. Margaret), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Surrey, and diocese of Winchester, is valued at £17.13s. 11½d.: pres. net income, £267: patron, Col. Hylton Joliffe: pres. incumbent, Peter Aubertin, 1808: contains 2,490 acres: 65 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 666: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 763: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £2,079: poor rates in 1838, £123.---Pirbright House is the seat of John Pape, Esq.; Shabden Park, of Mrs. Agnes Little; and Hooley Cottage, of Henry Butler, Esq.

CHIRBURY, SALOP, a parish in the hund<sup>d</sup> of Chirbury: 190 miles from London (coach road 170), 3

from Montgomery, 7 from Welchpool.---Nor. West. Rail. through Stafford and Shrewsbury to Welchpool, thence 7 miles: from Derby, through Burton, Stafford, &c., 100 miles.---Money orders issued at Welchpool: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m.---The village is very agreeably situated in a fine and fertile vale, on the borders of Montgomeryshire. It had formerly a castle, which was said to have been built by Ethelfleda, queen of the Mercians, and its ancient consequence is evident from its having given its name to the hundred. Its principal architectural attractions are the remains of an Augustine priory, the nave of whose chapel, divested of the choir and transept, both of which have been destroyed, now forms the parish church. The only remains of the other conventual buildings are some walls, and a handsome pointed arch on the north side of the church. The tithes of the parish were given by Queen Elizabeth to the grammar-school at Shrewsbury, which had been endowed by her brother, Edward VI. But Chirbury is chiefly noted as having given his title to that noble gentleman and gallant soldier, but most mistaken man, Lord Edward Herbert, whose fame rang through all the courts in Europe. Edward Lord Chirbury was born in Montgomery Castle in 1581, and was sent, when only twelve years of age, to University College, Oxford; was made a knight of the bath soon after the accession of James I.; and shortly afterwards travelled on the continent, where his elegant manners and accomplishments attracted the greatest notice. During his stay abroad, in the years 1610 and 1614, he served with great distinction in the Netherlands, being as eminent for his romantic bravery in the field, as for his suavity in the courtly circle. He was twice ambassador in France, and on his return was raised to the Irish peerage, and afterwards created an English baron; upon the breaking out of the civil war, he sided with the parliamentarians, but left their cause in 1648. Lord Herbert was the author of several ingenious and learned works, the principal of which was a treatise, entitled De Veritate, written to show the sufficiency of natural objects to make man duly acquainted with God, and, according to his deductions, the consequent uselessness of scriptural revelation.---The living (St. Michael), a vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Salop, and diocese of Hereford, is valued at £9.6s. 8d.: pres. net income, £179: patron, Trustees of Shrewsbury school: pres. incumbent, J. Wilding, 1840: contains 11,880 acres: 296 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,591: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,832: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £9,182: poor rates in 1838, £844.18s.

CHIRDON, NORTHUMBERLAND, a township in the parish of Gaystead---(which see for access, &c.): 303 miles from London, 6 from Bellingham, 18 from Hexham.---Money orders issued at Bellingham: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 12 noon: post closes 2 p.m.---Contains 11 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 60: poor rates in 1838, £48.7s.

CHIRK, DENBIGH, a parish in the hund<sup>d</sup> of Chirk: 198 miles from London (coach road 185), 8 from Wrexham.---Nor. West. Rail. through Crewe and Chester to Wrexham-Regis, thence 8 miles: from Derby, through Burton and Crewe, &c., 98 miles.---Money orders issued here: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 10 a.m.: post closes 5 p.m.---The great Holyhead Road and the Ellesmere Canal pass through the parish. Chirk is a large village, placed on the brow of a limestone hill, in the midst of coal and lime works, and other business concerns, which give an aspect of considerable activity to the place. The churchyard is distinguished by seven aged yew trees, which throw their sombre shades over the grave mounds with a singular solemnity. But Chirk is principally noted for the castellated mansion in its vicinity, which has long been the residence of the Myddleton family, and now is the seat of Robert Myddleton Biddulph, Esq. The church contains monuments to several members of the family, the chief of which is one to Sir Thomas Myddleton, who was a distinguished leader on the parliamentary side during the civil war. The castle stands in the line of Offa's dyke, which runs about a mile from the village, and was erected on the site of a more ancient fortress, called Castell Grogen; but the present structure is one of great antiquity, having been erected during the reign of Edward I. by Roger Mortimer, to whom the king had granted the united lordship of Chirk and Nantendwy. After passing through the hands of several owners, it became the property of Lord St. John, who sold it to Sir Thomas Myddleton, afterwards lord mayor of London, in whose family it still remains. In the time of Charles I., Sir Thomas having declared himself most decidedly in behalf of the parliament, the king ordered Colonel Ellice to take possession of the castle, and to pay his men with the proceeds of the valuables which it contained. Sir Thomas was nearly sixty years of age when he took the field, and immediately on entering upon active service, was appointed sergeant-major-general to the forces: he performed several brilliant exploits, and received the thanks of the house; but his name, nevertheless, appears in the list of secluded members, who were obliged to enter into a recognizance of £20,000, not to occasion the smallest molestation to the government. In 1569, having, in consort with Sir George Booth, declared too precipitately in favour of the return of Charles II. to the throne, the trees in his park were cut down, and the timber sold. His castle was besieged and taken by General Lambert, by whose troops one part of it was demolished, and great injury committed to another. He died in 1666, at an advanced age, having survived his son, who had been created a baronet at the Restoration. Leland thus notices the place—There is, on a small hille, a mightie large and stronge castel, with dyvers towers, alate well repayred by Syr Wylliam Standeley, the yerle of Darby's brother. The Sir William Stanley spoken of, was the Sir William who, by his exertions at the battle of Bosworth, aided in placing Henry VII. on the throne, and who was ignominiously executed, and his property seized, by his ungrateful master. The castle is square built, enclosing a quadrangle a hundred and sixty feet long by one hundred wide; each of the angles is defended by a massive bastion tower. In the interior there are several fine apartments, elegantly furnished, and some good pictures. Notwithstanding its height, the castle has a heavy appearance, but commands some most extensive and beautiful views, stretching, it is said, into as many as seventeen counties. Its present proprietor, Robert Myddleton Biddulph, Esq., is descended from the celebrated soldier spoken of above. From these gentlemen the estate came in direct succession to Richard Myddleton, Esq., who died in 1796, leaving his property to his sisters and coheirs, of whom the eldest, Charlotte Myddleton, in 1801, married Robert Biddulph of Ledbury, Esq., who assumed the additional name and arms of Myddleton. The present proprietor of Chirk is her eldest son. Mr. Biddulph is lord-lieutenant and custos rotulorum of Denbighshire, and colonel of the county militia.---The living, a disch<sup>d</sup>. vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup>. and diocese of St. Asaph, is valued at £6. 11s. 5½d.: pres. net income, £466: patron, Bishop of St. Asaph: pres. incumbent, George Robson, 1804: contains 268 houses: pop<sup>n</sup>. in 1841, 1,611: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,853: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £7,346: poor rates in 1838, £354. 5s.

CHIRTON, NORTHUMBERLAND, a township in the parish of Tynemouth, on the northern bank of the Tyne: 281 miles from London, 1 from North Shields, 7 from Newcastle.---(For access, &c., see NORTH SHIELDS.)---Money orders issued at North Shields: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 10 a.m.: post closes 4 p.m.---Contains 636 houses: pop<sup>n</sup>. in 1841, 4,360: probable pop<sup>n</sup>. in 1849, 5,014: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £6,865: poor rates in 1838, £804. 19s.

CHISELHAMPTON, OXFORD, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Dorchester, union of Abingdon, on the river Thames: 60 miles from London (coach road 53), 7 from Oxford, 9 from Thame.---Gt. West. Rail. to Abingdon Road station, thence 4 miles: from Derby, through Rugby and Oxford to Abingdon Road, &c., 106 miles.---Money orders issued at Oxford: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 10 a.m.: post closes 5 p.m.---The living (St. Mary) is a perpetual curacy in the diocese of Oxford, a peculiar of Dorchester, not in charge: pres. net income, £135: patron, C. Peers, Esq.: pres. incumbent, W. P. Perry, 1840: contains 1,210 acres: 16 houses: pop<sup>n</sup>. in 1841, 153: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £1,725: poor rates in 1838, £127. 14s.---Chiselhampton Lodge, the seat of Charles Peers, Esq., is a handsome mansion of red brick, with stone pilasters and pediment, surrounded by about twenty acres of pleasure ground. Mr. Peers derives his descent from Sir Charles Peers, Knight, grandson of William Peers, Esq., of Montgomeryshire, who, having filled the office of British consul at Malaga for seven years, returned to London, and was elected an alderman; and having served the office of sheriff in 1707, attained the mayoralty in 1715. For his exertions in repressing the riots which took place during that turbulent year, the government offered him a baronetcy, which he declined; but he was made a commissioner of customs, and became an East India director. Of that gentleman, the present proprietor of Chiselhampton is great-grandson. Mr. Peers, who is a D.C.L., is a barrister-at-law, recorder of Henley-on-Thames, a magistrate and deputy-lieutenant of Oxfordshire.

CHISELHURST, KENT, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Buxley, lathe of Sutton-at-Hone: 13 miles from London (coach road 11), 3 from Bromley, 8 from Dartford.---Sou. East. Rail. to Forest Hill, thence 8 miles: from Derby, through London, &c., 145 miles.---Money orders issued at Bromley: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. three times each way daily.---The church is a remarkably fine structure, and contains a monument to Sir Philip Sydney. The benefactions, both for educational purposes and for the relief of the poor, are exceedingly numerous, and amount, in the aggregate, to a considerable sum per annum.---The living (St. Nicholas), a rectory in the diocese of Canterbury, is valued at £16. 3s. 6½d.: pres. net income, £487: patron, Bishop of Rochester: pres. incumbent, F. H. Murray, 1846: contains 4,050 acres: 300 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,792: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 2,061: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £6,784: poor rates in 1838, £513. 17s. ---Fair, Wednesday after Whit-Sunday, for pleasure.---Camden Place, now the property of the Marquis Camden, was for some years the residence of the celebrated antiquary Camden, who here composed his annals of Elizabeth, died here, and whose body was carried hence with great solemnity to his place of interment in Westminster Abbey. William Camden received his early education at Christ's Hospital, and subsequently studied at Oxford, where he took his degree of bachelor of arts. After filling the offices of second and chief master of Westminster School, his great antiquarian attainments procured him the position of Clarendon King at Arms, upon which he retired to Camden. In addition to his great work, the 'Britannia,' he wrote the annals spoken of above, a Greek grammar, and several other works. He died in 1623. In Camden Park may be seen the celebrated piece of architecture, which is commonly called the lantern of Demosthenes, or choragic monument of Lysicrates.---Frognales, an elegant seat, is the residence of Viscount Sydney. His lordship is descended from the Hon. Thomas Townsend, second son of Charles, second Viscount Townsend, who, early in the last century, sat for the University of Cambridge, was one of the tellers of the exchequer, and was esteemed one of the most finished and elegant scholars of the day. His eldest son, Thomas Townsend, Esq., having twice filled the office of Secretary of State for the Home Department, was elevated to the peerage, in 1783, by the title of Baron Sydney of Chiselmhurst, and six years afterwards received the additional dignity of Viscount Sydney of St. Leonard's, and of that nobleman the present peer is the grandson. His lordship succeeded to the title and estates in 1831.---Pheasant Grove is the seat of Lord Wynford, who is the son of the late eminent chief justice of the Common Pleas, and who was raised to the peerage for his services on the bench. His present lordship succeeded to the title and estates in 1845.---The Right Hon. Sir Herbert Jenner Fust, dean of the Arches and judge of the Prerogative Court, has also a seat here.---W. 1 m., Sundridge Park. S., Starling's House.

CHISENBURY. See NETHER-AVOX.

CHISHALL (GREAT), ESSEX, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Uttlesford, union of Royston: 52 miles from London (coach road 42), 5 from Royston, 6 from Saffron Walden.---Nor. and East. Co<sup>r</sup>. Rail. to Audley End station, thence 8 miles: from Derby, through Syston, Peterborough, and Cambridge to Audley End, &c., 148 miles.---Money orders issued at Royston: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 10 a.m.: post closes 5 p.m.---The living (St. Swithun), a discharged vicarage in the diocese of Rochester, is valued at £10: pres. net income, £173: patron, J. Wilkes, Esq.: pres. incumbent, H. H. Hastie: contains 1,410 acres: 44 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 466: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 535: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £2,180: poor rates in 1838, £201. 7s.

CHISHALL (LITTLE), ESSEX: 41 miles from London.---(For access and postal arrangements, see above.)---The living (St. Nicholas) is a rectory annexed to that of Heydon.---Contains 1,420 acres: 16 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 96: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £919.

CHISLEBOROUGH, SOMERSET, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Houndsborough, Barwick, and Colker, union of Yeovil, bounded on the west by the Barret river: 181 miles from London (coach road 129), 4 from Crewkerne, 7 from Ilchester.---Gt. West. Rail. through Bristol to Taunton, thence 18 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Bristol, &c., 195 miles.---Money orders issued at Crewkerne: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 10½ a.m.: post closes 5½ p.m.---The living (St. Peter and St. Paul), a rectory, with the curacy of West Chinnock, in the archd<sup>y</sup>. of Wells, and diocese of Bath and Wells, is valued at £14. 5s. 7½d.: pres. net income, £449: patron, Earl of Egremont: pres. incumbent, G. B. Garrow, 1841: contains 93 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 540: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 621: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £1,530: poor rates in 1838, £168. Tithes commuted in 1829.---Fair, the last Thursday in October, for cattle of all sorts, cheese, hops, and pigs.

CHISLEDON, WILTS, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Kingsbridge, union of Highworth and Swindon: 80 miles from London, 3 from Swindon, 7 from Highworth.---Gt. West. Rail. to Swindon, thence 3 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Stonehouse to Swindon, &c., 132 miles.---Money orders issued at Swindon: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 9 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m.---The living (Holy Cross), a disch<sup>d</sup>. vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup>. of Wilts, and diocese of Salisbury, is valued at £8. 8s. 9d.: pres. net. income, £173: patron, T. Calley, Esq.: pres. incumbent, Edward Meyrick, 1847: contains 5,710 acres: 210 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,176: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,352: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £5,681: poor rates in 1838, £499. 7s. Tithes commuted in 1779.

CHISLET, KENT, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Blean-gate, lathe of St. Augustine, union of Blean, on a branch of the river Stour: 91 miles from London (coach road 62), 7 from Canterbury, 9 from Margate.---Sou. East. Rail. through Canterbury to Grove Ferry station, thence 3 miles: from Derby, through London, &c., 223 miles.---Money orders issued at Canterbury: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 10 a.m.: post closes 5 p.m.---There is a school here endowed with land by the archbishop, which produces £40 a year. Taylor's charity for the general benefit of the poor, produces £80 per annum.---The living (St. Mary), a vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup>. and diocese of Canterbury, is valued at £29. 19s. 9½d.: pres. net income, £231: patron, Archbishop of Canterbury: pres. incumbent, J. Hordern, 1841: contains 5,180 acres: 204 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,097: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,161: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £8,401: poor rates in 1838, £505. 2s.

CHISWICK, MIDDLESEX, a parish in the Kensington division of the hun<sup>d</sup> of Ossulston, union of Brentford: this parish comprises the hamlets of Stamford Brook, Strandon-on-the-Green, Little Sutton, and Turnham Green: 8 miles from London, 3 from Brentford. — Money orders issued here: three posts each way daily. — Chiswick is beautifully situated on the northern bank of the river Thames, and contains many splendid mansions, the seats of several of the nobility and gentry. The parochial district, containing nearly 1,200 acres of land, comprehends two manors, held by the church of St. Paul's, from a very remote time, although in the Domesday-book no notice is taken of them. About 1727, Viscount Falconberg assigned the lease of the manor of Sutton (sometimes called the Dean's, as it peculiarly belongs to him) to Richard, Earl of Burlington, at whose death the lease was renewed to William, fourth Duke of Devonshire, in whose family it remains to this day. The second manor is the corps of one of the prebends of St. Paul's; but Gabriel Goodman, prebendary of Chiswick, in 1570, granted a lease of it to certain persons for 99 years, if within two years they should convey it to the church at Westminster; and the dean and chapter of Westminster still hold the manor of the prebendary, under a lease for three lives. There are here spacious gardens, the property of the Horticultural Society of London, which was incorporated by a charter in 1808, for the improvement of every branch of horticulture. The society possesses a collection of drawings of the best specimens of fruits and ornamental plants, also models of fruits in wax; and the members have the privilege of admittance to a library of horticultural works. In the churchyard there are several old tombs, also a monument to the memory of Hogarth the painter. This place was the residence of Barbara, Duchess of Cleveland, the celebrated favourite of Charles II.; also of Sir Stephen Fox, grandfather of the great statesman Charles James Fox, the ancestor of the present Lord Holland; and of Allen, Lord Bathurst, famous for his patronage of literary men. — The living (St. Nicholas), a vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Middlesex, and diocese of London, is valued at £9. 18s. 4d: pres. net income, £601: patron, Dean and Chapter of St. Paul's: pres. incumbent, T. F. Bowerbank, 1811: contains 1,120 acres: 876 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 5,811: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 6,683: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £16,419: poor rates in 1838, £1,537. 12s. — In the vicinity is Chiswick House, a seat of his Grace the Duke of Devonshire. It is an elegant villa, built near the site of an ancient mansion once belonging to Robert Carr, Earl of Somerset, and the place which witnessed the death of his vicious countess. The famous Earl of Burlington designed and constructed it after a plan which was principally taken from the Capra Villa, near Vicenza. A finely-proportioned octagonal dome surmounts the centre compartment; two flights of steps, each with a double approach, forming the entrance. Six fluted Corinthian columns support the portico, which is richly embellished. A statue of Palladio stands on one side of the double flight of steps, and on the other a statue of Inigo Jones. The back front is neat, but unadorned. The interior contains a beautiful collection of paintings, principally collected by the Earl of Burlington. Attached to the house are gardens laid out in the Italian style, with statues, vases, and all kinds of sculpture, and embellished by wood and water. Amongst their ornamental buildings is a gate built by Inigo Jones at Chelsea, on the premises formerly occupied by Sir Thomas More, which Sir Hans Sloane, in 1736, presented to Lord Burlington. Some of the statues in the gardens are very ancient. There is also a flower-garden, a handsome conservatory, with forcing-houses 300 feet long. A small park, stocked with deer, adjoins the pleasure-grounds. It was in Chiswick House that the great statesman, the Right Hon. Charles James Fox, died, in September 1806; in 1827, the celebrated orator, the Right Hon. George Canning, also died here. In 1814, the Emperor Alexander of Russia and the King of Prussia were entertained here by the Duke of Devonshire. — Grove Terrace is the seat of Charles Mellor, Esq., son of the late Charles Mellor, Esq. of Frith Hall, Leicestershire.

CHISWORTH. See LUDWORTH AND CHISWORTH.

CHITHURST, SUSSEX, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Dumpford, rape of Chichester, union of Midhurst, on the river Rother: 54 miles from London (coach road 49), 3 from Midhurst, 7 from Petersfield. — Sou. West. Rail. to Godalming, thence 18 miles: from Derby, through London, &c., 186 miles. — Money orders issued at Midhurst: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m. — By the new boundaries act, this parish is included in the borough of Midhurst. — The living is a curacy to the rectory of Iping: contains 1,100 acres: 27 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 232: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £678: poor rates in 1838, £44. 16s.

CHITTLEHAMPTON, DEVON, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of South Molton, union of South Molton: 209 miles from London (coach road 188), 5 from South Molton, 7 from Barnstaple. — Gt. West. Rail. through Bristol to Tiverton, thence 25 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Bristol to Tiverton, &c., 213 miles. — The church lands are the only charitable benefactions of the parish. There is a Baptist chapel here. — The living (St. Urith), a vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Barnstaple, diocese of Exeter, is valued at £34. 18s. 11½d.: pres. net income, £413: patron, Heirs of Lord Rolle: pres. incumbent, R. H. Chichester, 1841: contains 5,700 acres: 373 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,893: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 2,177: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £6,208: poor rates in 1838, £893. 18s.

CHITTOE, WILTS, a tithing in the parish of Cannings-Bishops—(which see for access, &c.): 84 miles from London, 5 from Devizes, 5 from Chippenham. — Money orders issued at Devizes: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9½ a.m.: post closes 5½ p.m. — The living is a perpetual curacy in the diocese of Sarum: pres. net income, £45: patron, Bishop of Sarum: pres. incumbent, M. Brown, 1846: contains 880 acres: 51 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 217: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £968: poor rates in 1838, £136.

CHIVELSTONE, DEVON, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Coleridge, union of Kingsbridge, near Start Bay: 237 miles from London (coach road 213), 5 from Kingsbridge, 10 from Dartmouth. — Gt.

West. Rail. through Bristol and Exeter to Totness, thence 14 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham, Bristol, and Exeter, to Totness, &c., 251 miles.---Money orders issued at Kingsbridge: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 10½ a.m.: post closes 4½ p.m.---The Independents have a chapel here.---The living (St. Sylvester) is a curacy to the vicarage of Stokenham: contains 2,720 acres: 114 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 591: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 680: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £2,586: poor rates in 1837, £399. 11s.

CHIVINGTON (EAST). See CHEVINGTON (EAST).
CHIVINGTON (WEST). See CHEVINGTON (WEST).

CHOBHAM, SURREY, a parish in the first division of the hund<sup>d</sup> of Godley, union of Chertsey: 29 miles from London (coach road 26), 4 from Bagshot, 11 from Guildford.---Sou. West. Rail. to Woking, thence 4 miles: from Derby, through London, &c., 161 miles.---Money orders issued at Bagshot: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 9 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m.---The river Mole nearly encircles the village of Chobham. At Chobham Park are the remains of an ancient mansion, where Archbishop Heath died. The parish is studded with the seats and villas of the gentry of the neighbourhood.---The living (St. Lawrence), a vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Surrey, diocese of Winchester, is valued at £10. 2s. 1d.: pres. net income, £148: patron, J. Thornton, Esq.: pres. incumbent, James Jerram, 1834: contains 9,470 acres: 349 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,989: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 2,287: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £6,598.---N. 1 m., Chobham Place, the residence of Montague Henry Turnbull, Esq.; Chobham House, of Rev. James Jerram; Grove House, of William Keeton, Esq.; Parkhurst, of Richard Collyer, Esq.; and Westcroft House, of Thomas Fielder, Esq.

CHOCKNELL, WORCESTER, a hamlet in the parish of Leigh, formerly a parish of itself; but the church is now in ruins, and the living united with the rectory of Leigh.

CHOLDERTON, WILTS, a parish in the hund<sup>d</sup> and union of Amesbury: 107 miles from London (coach road 72), 5 from Amesbury, 9 from Salisbury.---Sou. West. Rail. through Bishopstoke to Salisbury, thence 11 miles: from Derby, through Rugby, Oxford, Reading, and Bishopstoke, to Salisbury, &c., 194 miles.---Money orders issued at Marlborough: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 8 a.m.: post closes 5½ p.m.---The produce of Cracherode's charity, about £12 per annum, is expended in teaching twelve children, a residue being left, which is distributed among the poor.---The living (St. Nicholas), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Sarum, is valued at £11. 0s. 7½d.: pres. net income, £225: patron, Oriel College, Oxford: pres. incumbent, James Fraser, 1847: contains 1,390 acres: 35 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 170: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £1,041: poor rates in 1838, £94. 4s.---Cholderton Lodge is the residence of the Rev. Wadham Knatchbull.

CHOLDERTON. See AMPFORD.

CHOLESBURY. See CHOULESBURY.

CHOLLERTON, NORTHUMBERLAND, a parish in the north-east division of Tindale ward, union of Hexham, bounded on the west by the river Tyne: this parish comprises the townships of Barrasford, Broomehope and Bateland, Chollerton, Colwell and Swinburn, Gunnerton and Chipchase: 336 miles from London (coach road 291), 6 from Hexham, 11 from Bellingham.---Nor. West. Rail. through Rugby, Derby, York, and Gateshead, to Hexham, thence 6 miles: from Derby, through York, &c., 204 miles.---Money orders issued at Hexham: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 11 a.m.: post closes 4 p.m.---The strong fortresses of Swinburn and Chipchase castles, now modernised into ordinary habitations, are within the limits of the parish.---The living (St. Giles), a vicarage with Chipchase curacy, in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Northumberland, diocese of Durham, is valued at £6. 14s. 4½d.: pres. net income, £361: patron, Rev. C. Bird: pres. incumbent, Christopher Bird, 1821: contains 16,020 acres: 227 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,129: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,298: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £13,873: poor rates in 1837, £598. 5s.---The chief residences are Swinburne Castle, now modernised into a handsome hall, and Chipchaer Castle, having undergone a similar transformation. The former is the property of Thomas Riddell, Esq., and is occupied by Thomas Cookson, Esq. The latter is the property and in the occupation of Ralph William Grey, Esq. Chipchaer chapel stands in the park, and is a private chapel without endowment.

CHOLMONDELEY, CHESHIRE, a township in the parish of Malpas, hund<sup>d</sup> of Broxton---(which see for access, &c.): 166 miles from London, 4 from Malpas, 7 from Nantwich.---Money orders issued at Malpas: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 9 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m.---Contains 2,480 acres: 50 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 260: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £2,507: poor rates in 1838, £132. 2s. Tithes commuted in 1839.---Cholmondeley Castle, the seat of the Marquis of Cholmondeley, is a venerable structure, moated round; but when erected, we have no sufficient data to decide. In 1643 it was garrisoned by the royalists, and was several times taken and retaken during the civil war, ultimately falling, of course, into the hands of the triumphant party. At the time of the Domesday survey, Cholmondeley formed part of the lordship of Calmunderleigh, and was in the possession of Robert, son of Hugh, Baron of Malpas. Philip, one of the family, having seated himself at Egerton, left the surname of Egerton to his descendants, whence have arisen the numerous eminent families of that name in Cheshire. Robert, the second son of William de Balward, settled at Cholmondeley, and assumed his surname therefrom. From him was descended Sir Hugh Cholmondeley, a distinguished military commander in the time of Henry VIII. Sir Hugh was five times high sheriff of Cheshire, and for some time one of the only two deputy lieutenants of the county. His grandson, Robert Cholmondeley, Esq., was created a baronet in 1611, and advanced in 1628 to the dignity of an Irish peerage, and in the 21st year of Charles I. was enrolled among the barons of England, by the title of Lord Cholmondeley of Nantwich. In the following year he was advanced to the earldom of Leinster, but dying without issue, his titles became extinct, and his estates passed to his nephew, Robert Cholmondeley, Esq., who was created Viscount Cholmondeley of Kells. His son Hugh, the second viscount, having greatly assisted in forwarding the Revolution, was, shortly after the accession of William and Mary, invested with an English peerage by the title of Lord Cholmondeley of Nantwich, with remainder to his brother George, and advanced in 1706 to the dignities of Viscount Malpas and Earl of Cholmondeley, with a similar reversion. He was succeeded in 1724 by his brother George, the second earl, who had distinguished himself in the command of the horse grenadier guards, under William, at the battle of the Boyne, and who had been elevated to the Irish peerage as Baron Newburgh, and was afterwards advanced to an English peerage, under a similar title. The second son of this nobleman, Brigadier-General the Hon. James Cholmondeley, married Lady Penelope Barry, daughter of the fourth Earl of Barrymore, by which marriage the mansion-house and estates of Rocksavage came into the Cholmondeley family. His great-grandson, George James, the fourth earl, was, in 1815, advanced to the dignities of Earl of Rocksavage and Marquis of Cholmondeley, was made a knight of the garter, lord steward of the household, and chamberlain of Chester. His lordship was succeeded in the title and estates, in 1827, by the present marquis, who, through his mother the late marchioness, a daughter of the Duke of Ancaster, inherited the joint hereditary great chamberlainship of England.

CHOLMONDSTONE, CHESTER, a township in the parish of Acton: 174 miles from London.—(For access and postal arrangements, see above.)—Contains 1,470 acres: 32 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 206: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,842: poor rates in 1838, £115. 1s.

CHOLSEY, BERKS, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Reading, locally situate in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Moreton, union of Wallingford: 47 miles from London (coach road 45), 2 from Wallingford, 9 from Abingdon.—Gt. West. Rail. to Goring station, thence 3 miles: from Derby, through Rugby, Oxford, and Reading, to Goring, &c., 131 miles.—Money orders issued at Wallingford: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 7½ a.m.: post closes 7 p.m.—The parochial charities produce about £2. 14s. per annum, besides an accumulated sum of £20, to be distributed, at the end of the fourth year of accumulation, at the doors of the church. Here was one of the three old monasteries referred to in Henry I.'s foundation charter of the Abbey of Reading, as having been long since destroyed.—The living (St. Mary), a vicarage, formerly in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Berks, diocese of Salisbury, now in the diocese of Oxford, is valued at £18. 9s. 9d.: pres. net income, £360: patron, Lord Chancellor: pres. incumbent, H. W. Lloyd, 1837: contains 3,086 acres: 194 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,191: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,200: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £6,344: poor rates in 1838, £1,000.

CHOPPINGTON. See BEDLINGTON.

CHOPWELL, DURHAM, a township in the parish of Ryton, north of the river Derwent—(which see for access, &c.): 270 miles from London, 4 from Woodside, 11½ from Gateshead.—Money orders issued at Woodside: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 10 a.m.: post closes 5 p.m.—Contains 3,150 acres: 51 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 320: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 368: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £3,286: poor rates in 1837, £105. 11s.

CHORLEY, CHESTER, a township in the parish of Wilmslow—(which see for access, &c.): 172 miles from London, 6 from Macclesfield, 6 from Knutsford.—Money orders issued at Macclesfield: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 10 a.m.: post closes 5 p.m.—Contains 770 acres: 86 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 561: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 645: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £2,218: poor rates in 1838, £110. 14s.

CHORLEY, CHESTER, a township in the parish of Wrenbury—(which see for access, &c.): 5 miles from Nantwich.—Contains 1,280 acres: 28 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 183: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,383: poor rates in 1838, £65. 14s.

CHORLEY, LANCASTER, a parish and market town in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Leyland, union of Chorley: it is intersected by the Leeds and Liverpool Canal: 218 miles from London (coach road 208), 8 from Wigan.—Nor. West. Rail. through Crewe and Manchester to Chorley station: from Derby, through Burton, Crewe, &c., 118 miles.—Money orders issued here: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 7½ a.m.: post closes 7½ p.m.—Chorley derives its name from the river Chor, on which it is situated, about a mile from where it flows into the Yarrow, and either from ley, the Saxon word for field, or the family of Ley, its ancient proprietors. The town is pleasantly situated on an eminence, and although Leyland describes it as a wonderful poore, or rather no market town, it has lately been fast rising into importance. The town is lighted with gas, and is well supplied with water, which can be raised to the roofs of the highest buildings. Chorley has some beautiful scenery round it, and in the neighbourhood are several elegant mansions. Coal, slate, ashler, and millstone are found in large quantities in the neighbourhood. There are also mines of lead-ore and alum-shale. The church is an ancient edifice, with a beautiful entrance in the Norman style on the south side. It formerly possessed a relic brought from Normandy by Sir Rowland Stanley, said to be the head of its tutelary saint. In 1825, St. George's Church was completed at an expense of nearly £12,000, defrayed by the parliamentary commissioners. It is a large handsome edifice, with a square embattled tower, containing 2,012 sittings, 1,590 of which are free. The principal business of the place consists in the manufacture of cotton; but there are also large printing and bleaching establishments on the banks of the neighbouring streams. The Lancaster Canal, and the Leeds and Liverpool Canal, pass near the town. The Independents, Wesleyan Methodists, Unitarians, and Roman Catholics, have chapels here. There is a grammar-school, beside other educational establishments. An almshouse for six aged persons was endowed, in 1682, by Hugh Cooper. The county magistrates hold a petty sessions here for the division every five weeks. In 1802, James Hollinshead, Esq., at his own expense, erected a market-house, which is a neat stone edifice, with an area beneath it, in which the market is held. In the upper part is a large room in which the petty sessions are held, and a smaller one for the transaction of parochial business.—The living (St. Lawrence), a rectory in the diocese of Manchester, is valued at £23. 6s.: pres. net income, £1,022: patron, Rev. J. S. Master: pres. incumbent, J. S. Master, 1846: contains 3,110 acres:

1,564 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 13,139: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £16,771: poor rates in 1838, £1,752. 10s. Fairs: March 26; May 5, cattle; October 21, horses; September 4, 5, 6. Inns: Gillbrand Arms, Royal Oak, Red Lion.

CHORLTON, CHESTER, a township in the parish of Malpas—(which see for access, &c.): 167 miles from London, 2 from Malpas, 8 from Whitchurch. Money orders issued at Malpas: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m. Contains 610 acres: 26 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 150: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £773: poor rates in 1838, £79. 17s.

CHORLTON, CHESTER, a township in the parish of Backford, intersected by the Dee and Mersey Canal—(which see for access, &c.): 187 miles from London, 4 from Chester, 8 from Overton. Money orders issued at Chester: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 10 a.m.: post closes 5 p.m. Contains 580 acres: 16 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 85: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,045: poor rates in 1838, £78. 19s.

CHORLTON, CHESTER, a township in the parish of Wybunbury—(which see for access, &c.): 164 miles from London, 5 from Nantwich, 7 from Sandbach. Money orders issued at Nantwich: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 10 a.m.: post closes 5 p.m. Contains 700 acres: 20 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 141: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £726: poor rates in 1838, £64. 17s.

CHORLTON-WITH-HARDY, LANCASTER, a chapelry in the parish of Manchester, bounded on the south-west by the river Mersey: 191 miles from London (coach road 182), 4 from Manchester, 6 from Stockport. Nor. West. Rail. through Crewe to Manchester, thence 4 miles: from Derby, through Crewe, &c., 91 miles. Money orders issued at Manchester: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 10 a.m.: post closes 5 p.m. There are a Wesleyan Methodist and an Independent chapel here. The living is a perpetual curacy in the diocese of Manchester: pres. net income, £103: patron, Manchester Collegiate Church: pres. incumbent, W. Birley, 1843: contains 1,400 acres: 123 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 632: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 727: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £2,945: poor rates in 1838, £341. 14s.

CHORLTON-ROW, LANCASTER, a township in the parish of Manchester—(which see for access, &c.): 184 miles from London, 2 from Manchester, 4 from Stockport. Money orders issued at Manchester: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9½ a.m.: post closes 5½ p.m. The living is a perpetual curacy in the diocese of Chester: pres. net income, £107: patron, Rev. Dr. Burton: pres. incumbent, C. Burton, 1820: contains 700 acres: 39½ houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 28,336: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £66,445: poor rates in 1838, £1,948. 4s.

CHORLTON, STAFFORD, a chapelry in the parish of Eccleshall—(which see for access, &c.): 143 miles from London, 5 from Eccleshall, 6 from New-castle. Money orders issued at Eccleshall: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9½ a.m.: post closes 5 p.m. The living (St. Lawrence) is a perpetual curacy to the vicarage of Eccleshall, in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Stafford, and diocese of Lichfield: pres. net income, £71: patron, Bishop of Lichfield: pres. incumbent, W. P. Jones: contains 37 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 265: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup>, with Chorlton Hill, £2,301.

CHORLTON-HILL, STAFFORD, a township in the parish of Eccleshall: 148 miles from London—

(for access and postal arrangements, see above.) Contains 1,660 acres: 23 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 100.

CHOSELL (or CHOMLEY). See RINGSTAD (GREAT), NORFOLK.

CHOULESBURY, BUCKINGHAM, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Cottesloe, union of Aylesbury: 31 miles from London (coach road 30), 4 from Chesham, 3 from Tring. Nor. West. Rail. to Tring, thence 3 miles: from Derby, through Rugby to Tring, &c., 107 miles. Money orders issued at Tring: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m. and 1 p.m.: post closes 8 p.m. The incumbent, the Rev. H. P. Jeston, has most kindly furnished us with the following succinct and lucid account of this place, which is a remarkable case in support of the value of the allotment system, and cannot fail to be interesting to all who take concern about the condition of the poor:—"In 1705, Joseph Neale, Esq., of Gray's Inn, by an indenture, conveyed the advowson (a perpetual curacy) and right of patronage to certain trustees, and endowed the living with a lectureship, payable out of an estate of 104 acres, situate at Cublington, Bucks. The net value of the living is £50, that of the lectureship £120. For several years previous to 1832, the living was quite valueless, on account of the excessive poor rates, which in that year exceeding 30s. in the pound, forced all the land in the parish out of cultivation, and the poor for many months were supported by rates-in-aid. In 1833 the allotment system was tried, and has been in operation in the parish ever since. It has completely succeeded in restoring property to its just value, and in redeeming the parish from its degraded state of pauperism, there not having been, since the commencement of the system, a single instance of an able-bodied man asking parochial relief for any member of his family: the poor rates for 1839 were only 2s. in the pound. There is in the parish a very extensive circular intrenchment, the fosse of which, in some places, is still twenty feet deep. It is supposed to be the site of an ancient British village, subsequently used by the Romans as a military position." The living (St. Lawrence) is a perpetual curacy in the diocese of Oxford: pres. net income, £120: patron, certain Trustees: pres. incumbent, H. P. Jeston, 1830: contains 170 acres: 24 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 124: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £220: poor rates in 1838, £44. 14s. Brasier's End, the seat of Captain J. B. Parkinson, late of her Majesty's 68th Regiment of Light Infantry.

CHOWBENT. See ATHERTON.

CHOWLEY, CHESTER, a township in the parish of Coddington—(which see for access, &c.): 174 miles from London, 9 from Chester, 5 from Malpas. Money orders issued at Chester: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 10½ a.m.: post closes 4 p.m. Contains 580 acres: 12 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 77: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £808: poor rates in 1838, £44. 17s.

CHRISHALL, ESSEX, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Uttlesford, union of Saffron Walden: 49 miles from London (coach road 39), 6 from Saffron Walden, 7 from Quendon. Nor. and East. Co<sup>t</sup> Rail. to Audley End station, thence 5 miles: from Derby, through Syston, Peterborough, and Cambridge, to Audley, &c., 144 miles. Money orders issued here: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9½ a.m.: post closes

6 p.m.—The parochial charities produce about £6 a year.—The living (Holy Trinity), a discharged vicarage in the diocese of Rochester, is valued at £19: pres. net income, £200: patron, Bishop of London: pres. incumbent, Godfrey Everth: contains 2,690 acres: 74 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 521: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 599: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £2,845: poor rates in 1838, £132. 3s.

CHRIST-CHURCH, MOXMOUTH, a parish in the lower division of the hund<sup>d</sup> of Caldicott, union of Newport, south of the river Usk: it includes the hamlet of Caerton-ultra-Pontem: 138 miles from London (coach road 147), 2 from Newport, 12 from Cardiff.—Gt. West. Rail. to Stonehouse, thence 35 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham to Stonehouse, &c., 138 miles.—Money orders issued at Newport: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m.—The living (Holy Trinity), a disch<sup>d</sup> vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Llandaff, is valued at £13. 4s. 2d.: patron, Eton College: pres. incumbent, Thomas Pope, 1839: contains 5,320 acres: 182 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,310: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,506: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £7,724: poor rates in 1838, £407. 17s.—Fair, November 29, for cattle.

CHRIST-CHURCH, NEWGATE STREET, MIDDLESEX, a parish in the city of London, within the walls, on the northern bank of the Thames—(for which, see LONDON).—Pres. net income, £537: patrons, Dean and Chapter of Westm. and Bartholomew's Hospital, alternately: pres. incumbent, M. Gibbs; 1841: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 2,446: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 2,812.

CHRIST-CHURCH, SPITALFIELDS, MIDDLESEX, a parish in the hund<sup>d</sup> of Ossulston, Tower division, union of Whitechapel, on the northern bank of the Thames—(for which, see LONDON).—The living is a rectory not in charge, in the diocese of London, exempt from visitation: pres. net income, £445: patron, Brasenose College, Oxford: pres. incumbent, William Stone, 1829: contains 70 acres: 2,271 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 20,436: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 23,501: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £29,938.

CHRIST-CHURCH, TWYNNHAM, HANTS, a parish, market town, and, with the chapelry of Holdenhurst, a borough in the hund<sup>d</sup> and union of Christ-church, west division of the county: it includes the tithings of Bare with Hinton, Hern with Palley, Hord with Tuckton, and Wington with Burton: 115 miles from London (coach road 98), 10 from Lymington.—Sou. West. Rail. through Southampton to Ringwood, &c., 9 miles: from Derby, through Rugby, Oxford, Reading, and Southampton, to Ringwood, &c., 204 miles.—Money orders issued here: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 7 a.m.: post closes 9 p.m.—Christ-church was called by the Saxons Twynnam-bourne, or Tuton-æa, in consequence of its situation between two rivers, the Avon and the Stour, but received its modern appellation from the church and priory built here, dedicated to our Saviour. Various discoveries have at different times been made, tending to show that this town, if not of British, was most probably of Roman origin, although the earliest historical document relating to it occurs in the Saxon Chronicles, which mention that Ethelwold occupied it during his revolt against his cousin-german, Edward the Elder. It is spoken of in

Doomsday-book as a borough and royal manor, under the appellation of Thwinam, containing twenty-one messuages, and paying an annual tax of sixteenpence. It has passed through several hands (amongst them the famous Margaret, Countess of Salisbury, beheaded by Henry VIII. in her 70th year), and it now belongs to the Right Hon. George Rose, who obtained it by purchase in 1790. The church is a large cruciform building, with a fine embattled tower at the west end, built in the fifteenth century by the Montacutes, Earls of Salisbury. The piers and arches of the nave are bold and simple. The roof, which is very old, is of wood. At the end of the south-western aisle is a neat chapel. The altar has a curious and interesting carving of the genealogy of Christ. The under sides of the benches of the ancient stalls in the chancel, exhibit a singular series of grotesque satirical carvings. In the north part is a beautiful but much-injured sepulchral chapel, built by Margaret, Countess of Salisbury. The length of the church is 311 feet; the height of tower 120 feet. According to a monkish legend connected with the history of the church, the building of it was expedited by the assistance of heaven, a supernumerary workman being always observed during the hours of labour, though at the times of refreshment and receiving wages, only the stated number appeared. By his aid, everything prospered till the fabric was nearly finished, when, on raising a large beam to a particular situation where it was intended to be fixed, it was found to be too short: no remedy appearing, the embarrassed workmen retired to their dwellings. On returning to the church the ensuing morning, they discovered that the beam had been placed in its right position, and was now extended a foot longer than was requisite. Speechless with surprise, the additional workman recurred to their thoughts, and on recovering their tongues, they agreed that no other than Our Saviour could have thus assisted them; and on this account, concludes the story, was the edifice dedicated to Christ. The MIRACULOUS BEAM is still pointed out by the finger of credulity. There are scarcely any remains of the castle now visible; the ruins of the keep or citadel, and of a large ancient stone building, probably the state-apartment, being all that now exist. The priory, originally dedicated to the Holy Trinity, was founded at a very remote period. At the dissolution, its income was estimated at £544. 6s., and it was granted by Henry for the parish church: John Draper, its last abbot, was allowed a pension of £138. 6s. 6d. When it was dissolved, there was only one book found in the library—the Leges aliquot Regum Saxonice, a version of a few Saxon laws. Christ-church is situated on the borders of the New Forest, between the Avon and the Stour, whose streams meet a short distance below it, and fall into the sea at Christ-church bay, forming a harbour which is accessible only to small ships at high water, and which serves twice in every tide, in consequence of its situation with respect to the Isle of Wight. The town is partly lighted and watched, well supplied with water, but indifferently paved. The rivers are royalties, the property of the Right Hon. Sir G. H. Rose, G.C.H. There are two breweries, and two manufactories for watch fusee chains. A mayor, recorder, and free burgesses, assisted by a town-clerk, manage the local concerns of the town, which is, however, entirely within the jurisdiction of the county magistrates. The borough, previous to the Reform Bill, returned two members to parliament, but since then one only has been elected. The electoral district contains about 5,332 acres. The constituency numbers about 206 voters. Courts leet and baron are held here. Several remains of intrenchments may be traced at Catherine's Hill, about a mile and a half north of Christ-church, where there is also an exploratory camp, with some mounds and barrows scattered round it. The Independents and Roman Catholics have chapels here. There is a free grammar-school and a Lancasterian school, and several charitable bequests for the relief of the poor.---The living, a vicarage with Holdenhurst curacy, in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Winchester, is valued at £16: pres. net income, £164: patron, Dean and Chapter of Winchester: pres. incumbent, W. F. Burrows, 1830: contains 24,640 acres: 1,108 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 5,994: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 6,893: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £2,876: poor rates in 1838, £2,541. 2s. Tithes commuted in 1802.---Market day, Monday. Fairs: Trinity-Thursday, and October 17, for horses and sheep.---Bankers: Branch of Wilts and Dorset Banking Co.—draw on London and Westminster Bank.---Inns: George, and King's Arms.---Sandhills, an elegant residence, is the seat of the Right Hon. Sir George Rose, G.C.H., who is lord of the manor. This gentleman was the eldest son of the late Right Hon. George Rose, clerk of the parliaments, was first returned to parliament as member for Southampton in 1794, and was shortly afterwards appointed secretary of legation at the court of Berlin. In 1813, he went as envoy-extraordinary to Munich, and afterwards to Berlin. In 1818 he was elected member for Christ-church, and eventually succeeded his father as clerk of the parliaments. Sir George is a magistrate and deputy-lieutenant for Hampshire.

CHRIST-CHURCH, SURREY, a parish, partly in the east half-hun<sup>d</sup> of Brixton, and partly in the borough of Southwark, union of St. Saviour—(for which, see LONDON.)---The living is a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Surrey, and diocese of Winchester: pres. net income, £350: patron, Trustees of Mr. Marshall's charities: pres. incumbent, vacant: acreage with Southwark: contains 1,869 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 14,616: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £56,960: poor rates in 1838, £4,805. 15s. Tithes commuted in 1839.

CHRISTS-HOSPITAL, MIDDLESEX.

CHRISTIAN-MALFORD, WILTS, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of North Damerham, union of Chippenham, near the Wilts and Berks Canal: it includes the hamlet of Avon: 99 miles from London (coach road 90), 5 from Chippenham, 6 from Malmesbury.---Gt. West. Rail. to Chippenham, thence 5 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Bristol to Chippenham, &c., 162 miles.---Money orders issued at Chippenham: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 10 a.m.: post closes 4½ p.m.---The church is a very ancient structure.---The living (All Saints), a rectory with the hamlet of Avon, in the diocese of Gloucester and Bristol, is valued at £27: pres. net income, £672: patron, Bishop of Bath and Wells: pres. incumbent, R. V. Law, 1835: contains 2,810 acres: 138 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,179: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 930: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £7,007: poor rates in 1838, £350. 5s.

CHRISTIONYDD KENRICK, CORDE CHRISTIONYDD, AND DYNHYLLLE UCHA, DENBIGH, a township in the parish of Ruabon—(which see for access, &c.): 186 miles from London, 6 from Llangollen, 6 from Wrexham.---Money orders issued at Llangollen: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 10 a.m.: post closes 5 p.m.---Contains 697 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 4,554: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 5,237.

CHRISTLETON, CHESTER, a parish in the lower division of the hun<sup>d</sup> of Broxton, union of Great Boughton: this parish includes the townships of Christleton, Cotton-Abbots, Cotton-Edmunds, Littleton, Rowton and Church-Lawton: 181 miles from London (coach road 180), 3 from Chester, 7 from Tarporley.---Nor. West. Rail. through Crewe to Chester, thence 3 miles: from Derby, through Burton, Crewe, &c., 81 miles.---Money orders issued at Chester: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9½ a.m.: post closes 5½ p.m.---There is a school here with a small endowment, through which ten boys and ten girls are educated.---The living (St. James), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Chester, is valued at £39. 5s.: pres. net income, £827: patron, Lady Champneys: pres. incumbent, T. Lloyd, 1843: contains 3,070 acres: 171 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 875: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,006: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £10,236: poor rates in 1838, £391. 14s.

CHRISTLETON, CHESTER, a township in the above parish—(which see for access, &c.)---Contains 1,480 acres: 126 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 728: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 837: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £4,280: poor rates in 1838, £229. 12s.

CHRISTON, SOMERSET, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Winterstoke, union of Axbridge: 141 miles from London (coach road 135), 4 from Axbridge, 16 from Bristol.---Gt. West. Rail. through Bristol to Weston-super-Mare, thence 4 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Bristol to Weston, &c., 155 miles.---Money orders issued at Axbridge: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9½ a.m.: post closes 5½ p.m.---The living, a disch<sup>d</sup> rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Wells, and diocese of Bath and Wells, is valued at £6. 1s. 8d.: pres. net income, £99: patrons, Sir J. Smythe, Bart., and M. Gore, Esq.: pres. incumbent, Sept. Pope, 1842: contains 350 acres: 15 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 91: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £636: poor rates in 1838, £42. 14s. Tithes commuted in 1829.

CHRISTOW, DEVON, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Wonford, union of St. Thomas, on the river Teign: 202 miles from London (coach road 179), 4 from Chudleigh, 8 from Exeter.---Gt. West. Rail. through Bristol to Exeter, thence 8 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Bristol to Exeter, &c., 216 miles.---Money orders issued at Chudleigh: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9½ a.m.: post closes 5½ p.m.---The living (St. James), a disch<sup>d</sup> vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Exeter, is valued at £8. 6s. 8d.: pres. net income, £157: patron, Viscount Exmouth: pres. incumbent, W. Woolcombe, 1831: contains 3,680 acres: 100 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 624: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 718: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £2,915: poor rates in 1838, £304. 18s.

CHRIST'S COLLEGE, BRECON, an extra-parochial division, entirely surrounded by the borough of Brecon—(which see for access, &c.): 172 miles from London, 14 from Bualth.—Money orders issued at Brecon: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9½ a.m.: post closes 6 p.m.—Contains 18 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 104: poor rates in 1837, £37. 2s.

CHUDLEIGH, DEVON, a parish and market town in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Axminster, union of Newton-Abbot: 220 miles from London (coach road 182), 12 from Exeter.—Gt. West. Rail. through Bristol and Exeter to Newton-Abbot, thence 6 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Bristol, &c., 234 miles.—Money orders issued here: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 5 p.m.—Chudleigh, or as it was anciently called Chidleighe, was once the residence of the bishops of Exeter, who formerly possessed a magnificent palace here, some remains of which still exist. In 1309, Bishop Stapleton procured for it the grant of a weekly market and fair. During the civil war, the army of Gen. Fairfax was quartered here. In 1807, a large portion of the town was consumed by fire, and property destroyed to the estimated value of £60,000. It is situated on an eminence near the eastern bank of the river Teign, and chiefly consists of one principal street. The houses are neat modern erections, with an indifferent supply of water. The scenery in the environs consists chiefly of woodland scenery, which is very extensive and beautifully varied. In the neighbourhood there are large quarries of marble and limestone, which give employment to many of the inhabitants. The Independents and Roman Catholics have chapels in the parish. There is a free grammar-school here, with a small endowment. About half a mile from the town is Chudleigh Rock, which, says Mr. Polwhele, is one of the most striking inland rocks in this island. It exhibits a bold, broad, almost perpendicular front, if seen from the west, and has the appearance of a solid mass of marble; when viewed from the south-east, a hollow becomes apparent, with an impetuous stream rushing over the rude stones that impede its course, and forming in one part a romantic waterfall, wherein the stream—

"In loud confusion o'er the broken steep,
Abruptly pours and dashes down the deep,
From crag to crag the rumbling waters bound,
And foam, and fret, and whirl their eddies round
The rugged bed of huge mis-shapen stones;
Beneath the rude tumultuous torrent groans,
Whilst aged oaks, by wanton nature bred,
O'er the deep gloom their thick luxuriance spread."

Mr. Warner says, in speaking of the immense masses of limestone which form the Chudleigh rock, that nature, who ornaments with incomparable taste, has relieved the flat, broad face of these prodigious elevations with mountain plants, scattering them down the steep; or making amends for their absence, by throwing an elegant drapery of ivy over the parts where she has denied her trees. There are beautiful views from the highest part of the rock, the scenery being composed of fine hanging woods. Chudleigh is famous for its cider; and an orchard near the town, of only three acres in extent, is reported to have yielded as many apples in one season as were necessary to make eighty hogsheads. Chudleigh gives the title of baron to the Clifford family.—The living (St. Martin), a vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Exeter, is valued at £21: pres. net income, £505: patron, Trustees for Inhabitants: pres. incumbent, W. H. Polk, 1841: contains 6,230 acres: 413 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 2,415: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 2,777: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £8,988: poor rates in 1838, £1,011. 9s.—Market day, Saturday. Fairs: Easter-Tuesday, third Tuesday in June, Sept. 21.—Clifford Arms Hotel.

CHUMLEIGH, DEVON, a parish and market town in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Wetheridge, union of South Molton, on the river Dart: 203 miles from London (coach road 194), 21 from Exeter.—Gt. West. Rail. through Bristol to Tiverton, thence 19 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Bristol to Tiverton, &c., 217 miles.—Money orders issued at Chumleigh: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 3.10 p.m.—The manor of Chumleigh, or as it was formerly called Chimleigh, was at one time part of the inheritance of the Courtenays, earls of Devon, one of whom, John de Courtenay, in the reign of Henry III., obtained for it the grant of a weekly market. In the reign of Henry VIII. it was granted to the Earl of Bedford, and it afterwards became the property of the widow of Lord Grey. During the civil war, a skirmish was fought here in 1645. The town is situated on an eminence on the bank of the river Taw. In 1803, the greater part of it was consumed by fire. The houses are low, with thatch coverings, except a few modern erections, which are well built. The church is a large ancient edifice, which was much injured by lightning in 1797. It has a square embattled tower, and in the interior contains an ancient richly-carved oaken screen. In the church are five prebends, endowed with glebe and part of the tithes of the parish, namely, Brookland, Dones, Lower Heyne, and Penela. There were formerly seven prebends, concerning which Risdon says—This place is remarkable for the seven prebends some tyme there; the manner how they were will hardly persuade credit. One inhabitant of this towne (for so the tale runneth) being a poore man, had many children, and thought himselfe too much blest in that kinde; wherefore, to avoid the charge that was likely to grow that way, he absented himselfe seven years from his wife; when returning, and accompanying her as before, she was within one yeare after delivered of seven male children at one byrth, which made the poore man think himselfe utterly undone, and thereby despairing, put them into a baskett, and hasteth to the river with intent to drowne them; but Divine Providence following him, occasioned the Lady of the Land coming at that instant in this way, to demand him what he carryed in his baskett, who replied, that he had whelpes, which she desired to see, proposing to choose one of them, who, upon sight, discovering they were children, compelled him to acquaint her with the circumstance; whom, when she had sharply rebuked for such his inhumanity, forthwith commanded them to be taken from him and put to nurse, then to schole; and consequently being come to man's estate, provided a prebendship for every of them in this parishe; but these eliemozinary acts of hers are almost vanished, together with a free school there founded by the cha- ritable bounty of the Earl of Bedford. This town had once a large trade in wool-combing, which has now declined. The Independents and Wesleyan Methodists have chapels here. There is a small charity school, endowed by Mrs. Pyncombe, for the instruction of twelve children of each sex. A court leet and baron is held annually by the lord of the manor, at which a portreeve (a nominal office) and other officers are appointed.---The living (St. Mary Magdalene), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Barnstaple, and diocese of Exeter, is valued at £20. 18s. 1½d.: pres. net income, £415: patron, Rev. G. Hole: pres. incumbent, George Hole, 1823: contains 8,650 acres: 304 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,647: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,894: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup> £6,247: poor rates in 1837, £759. 5s.---Market day, Friday. Fairs: Wednesday in Easter week; last Wednesday in July.---King's Arms Inn, Lamb Inn.

CHUNAT, DERBY, a township in the parish of Glossop---(which see for access, &c.): 175 miles from London, 8 from Chapel-le-Frith, 4 from Hayfield.---Money orders issued at Chapel-le-Frith: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m.---Contains 19 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 111.---(Other returns with the parish.)

CHURCH-ASTON, SALOP, a chapelry in the parish of Edgmond---(which see for access, &c.): 138 miles from London, 1 from Newport, 7 from Wellington.---Money orders issued at Newport: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m.---The living is a curacy to the rectory of Edgmond: contains 87 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 512: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 589: poor rates in 1837, £39. 4s.

CHURCHAM, GLOUCESTER, a parish, partly in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Westbury, and partly in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Dudstone and King's Barton, union of Westbury-on-Severn, north of the river Severn: it includes the hamlets of Over-Higham and Linton: 115 miles from London (coach road 110), 3 from Gloucester, 8 from Painswick.---Gt. West. Rail. through Stonehouse to Gloucester, thence 3 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham to Gloucester, &c., 94 miles.---Money orders issued at Gloucester: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9½ a.m.: post closes 5½ p.m.---The living (St. Andrew), a vicarage, with the curacy of Bulley, in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Gloucester, and diocese of Gloucester and Bristol, is valued at £20. 5s.: pres. net income, £386: patron, Dean and Chapter of Gloucester: pres. incumbent, G. C. Hall, 1837: contains 4,100 acres: 171 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 870: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,000: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup> £5,252: poor rates in 1838, £152. 14s. The tithes were commuted in 1802.

CHURCH-BRAMPTON. See BRAMPTON-CHURCH.

CHURCH-BROUGHTON AND SAPPERTON. See BROUGHTON-CHURCH AND SAPPERTON.

CHURCH-CONISTONE, LANCASTER, a chapelry in the parish of Ulverstone: 266 miles from London (coach road 267), 12 from Ulverstone, 4 from Hawkshead.---Nor. West. Rail. through Crewe and Lancaster to Bowness, thence 8 miles: from Derby, through Burton, Crewe, &c., 166 miles.---Money orders issued at Ulverstone: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 11 a.m.: post closes 4 p.m.---The living is a perpetual curacy in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Richmond, and diocese of Chester: pres. net income, £117: patron, T. R. G. Braddyll: pres. incumbent, T. Tolming, 1840: contains 7,210 acres: 101 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,148: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,320: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup> £1,314: poor rates in 1838, £196. 19s.

CHURCH-DOWN, GLOUCESTER, a parish in the upper division of the hun<sup>d</sup> of Dudstone and King's Barton, and union of Gloucester: it includes the hamlet of Hucklecot: 115 miles from London (coach road 104), 3 from Gloucester, 5 from Cheltenham.---Gt. West. Rail. through Stonehouse to Gloucester, thence 3 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham to Stonehouse, &c., 94 miles.---Money orders issued at Gloucester: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m.---The village is pleasantly situated in an extensive vale, but the church is built on an elliptical eminence, 2,500 feet in height, and which is upwards of four miles in circumference at its base. There is a school here, endowed in 1784 with £25 a year, by H. Window, Esq., and there are four almshouses for poor widows, each of which has an endowment of £4 per annum. Church-Down was the birthplace of the learned John Harmer, who was the son of Dr. John Harmer, warden of Winchester, and was born in 1594. He was educated at Winchester School and Magdalene College, Oxford, and soon after the close of his collegiate course, became head-master of St. Alban's School, from which he removed in 1650 to become Greek professor at Oxford. In 1659 he was presented to the rectory of Ewhurst, in Hampshire, but was deprived of that and of his professorship at the Restoration. His principal publications were "Lexicon Etymologicum," "Praxis Grammaticæ," and "Janua Linguarum." He wrote Latin and Greek panegyrics on Oliver Cromwell, Richard his son, and on Charles II. He died in 1670.---The living (St. Bartholomew), a curacy in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Gloucester, and diocese of Gloucester and Bristol, is valued at £80: pres. net income, £88: patron, Dean and Chapter of Bristol: pres. incumbent, Robert Smith, 1826: contains 4,070 acres: 199 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 999: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,149: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup> £3,287: poor rates in 1837, £331. 6s.

CHURCH-EATON, STAFFORD, a parish in the west division of the hun<sup>d</sup> of Cuttlestone, union of Penkridge, near the Birmingham and Liverpool Canal: 143 miles from London (coach road 133), 6 from Penkridge, 6 from Newport.---Nor. West. Rail. through Birmingham to Penkridge, thence 6 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham to Penkridge, &c., 71 miles.---Money orders issued at Penkridge: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9½ a.m.: post closes 5½ p.m.---The living, a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Stafford, and diocese of Lichfield, is valued at £14. 19s. 9½d.: pres. net income, £976: patron, Earl Talbot: pres. incumbent, Hon. A. C. Talbot, 1829: contains 4,930 acres: 162 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 743: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 854: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup> £5,796: poor rates in 1838, £329. 3s.

CHURCH-END, BUCKINGHAM, a township in the parish of Shenley---(which see for access, &c.)---Contains 1,510 acres: 54 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 227: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup> £2,463.

CHURCH-ENSTONE. See ENSTONE CHURCH.

CHURCHENFORD, Devon, a hamlet in the parish of Church-Staunton—(which see for access, &c.)—Fairs: Jan. 25, and last Friday in March, for horses; and last Friday in April, for bullocks.

CHURCHFIELD. See OUNDLE.

CHURCH-GRESLEY, Derby, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Repton and Gresley, union of Burton-upon-Trent: it includes the townships of Drake-low and Linton, and the hamlets of Castle-Gresley, Swadlincote, Oakthorpe, and Donisthorpe: 131 miles from London (coach road 120), 4 from Ashby-de-la-Zouch, 6 from Derby.—Nor. West. Rail. through Rugby, Leicester, and Ashby-de-la-Zouch, to Church-Gresley station: from Derby, through Burton to Gresley, 15 miles.—Money orders issued at Ashby-de-la-Zouch: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m.—The living, a perpetual curacy in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Lich<sup>tr</sup> field, is valued at £6: pres. net income, £108: patron, Rev. Dr. Lloyd: pres. incumbent, G. Wood Lloyd, 1793: contains 6,700 acres: 484 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 2,764: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 3,178: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £8,470: poor rates in 1838, £390. 1s.

CHURCH-HONEYBOURN WITH PODON, Worcester, a parish in the upper division of the hun<sup>d</sup> of Blackenhurst, union of Evesham: 110 miles from London (coach road 94), 5 from Evesham, 10 from Worcester.—Gt. West. Rail. through Oxford to Evesham, thence 5 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Worcester to Evesham, &c., 89 miles.—Money orders issued at Evesham: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8½ a.m.: post closes 4 p.m.—The living, a vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Worcester, is valued at £6. 4s. 4½d.: pres. net income, £190: patrons, G. Allies, Esq., and ——— Stapleton, Esq.: pres. incumbent, W. B. Bonaker, 1817: contains 1,290 acres: 25 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 119: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £1,287: poor rates in 1838, £49. 1s.

CHURCH-HULME, Chester, a chapelry in the parish of Sandbach—(which see for access, &c.): 166 miles from London, 5 from Sandbach, 7 from Knutsford.—Money orders issued at Sandbach: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8½ a.m.: post closes 6½ p.m.—The living, a perpetual curacy in the diocese of Chester, is valued at £23. 3s.: pres. net income, £120: patron, Vicar of Sandbach: pres. incumbent, John Kendall, 1847: contains 760 acres: 78 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,008: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,159: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £1,611: poor rates in 1838, £201. 2s.

CHURCHILL, Oxford, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Chadlington, union of Chipping-Norton: 85 miles from London (coach road 77), 3 from Chipping-Norton, 8 from Burford.—Gt. West. Rail. through Oxford to Bledington, thence 2 miles: from Derby, through Rugby and Oxford, &c., 117 miles.—Money orders issued at Chipping-Norton: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8½ a.m.: post closes 7½ p.m.—This parish is principally remarkable from having been the birth-place of Warren Hastings, whose father was the incumbent of the parish. He was born in 1733, educated at Westminster, and, at the age of seventeen, went out to India as a writer in the service of the East India Company. There he applied his leisure hours to the study of the Oriental languages. After a residence of fourteen years in Bengal, he returned to England, but went out again in 1769, as the second in council at Madras, where he remained about two years, and then removed to the presidency at Calcutta. It was just then a very critical period for our Indian empire; there had been a revolt of the native tribes, and a great defection of our allies, which the power of our principal opponent, Hyder Ally, had of late vastly increased. During this emergency, the governor-general had to depend entirely on his own exertions, and, by an energetic use of his powers, succeeded not only in saving British India, but in humbling the position of the native princes, and in greatly enhancing the influence of the British sway. Notwithstanding his exertions, Mr. Hastings became the victim of a party attack in England, whither he once more returned in 1786, and was shortly afterwards accused of having governed arbitrarily and tyrannically, of having extorted immense sums of money, and of having exercised every species of oppression. Long debates ensued upon the subject in the House of Commons; and at length, chiefly through the consenting vote of Mr. Pitt, an impeachment for high crimes and misdemeanours was brought against him by order of the house. The trial lasted through the whole of the session, at the close of which Mr. Pitt again waved the right of a prime minister to protect his followers, and consented to a vote of the house for continuing the exercise of the impeachment from session to session. The trial lasted nine years, and at length terminated in the virtual acquittal of Mr. Hastings, who was sentenced to pay only the costs of the prosecution, £71,080, besides those, of course, of his own defence. This nearly ruined him, but he received a partial indemnification from the East India Company, who granted him a pension of £4,000 a year. He retired into private life, but existed to see all his plans with respect to India carried into effect, and died in 1818. Mr. Hastings was an elegant scholar, and the author of several works respecting the country with which he had been so long connected.—The living (All Saints), a disch<sup>d</sup> vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Oxford, is valued at £7. 16s. 4½d.: pres. net income, £177: patron, J. H. Langston, Esq.: pres. incumbent, C. Barter: contains 2,850 acres: 127 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 651: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 748: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £4,869: poor rates in 1838, £261. 13s.

CHURCHILL, Somerset, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Winterstoke, union of Axbridge: 138 miles from London (coach road 126), 4 from Axbridge, 12 from Bristol.—Gt. West. Rail. through Bristol to Banwell station, thence 4 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Bristol to Banwell, &c., 152 miles.—Money orders issued at Wells, Somerset: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 4½ p.m.—The living (St. John the Baptist) is a perpetual curacy in the diocese of Bath and Wells: pres. net income, £98: patron, Dean and Chapter of Bristol: pres. incumbent, W. J. B. Archer, 1840: contains 2,430 acres: 184 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 970: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,115: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £4,264: poor rates in 1838, £398. 3s.

CHURCHILL, Worcester, a parish in the lower division of the hun<sup>d</sup> of Halfshire, union of Kidderminster: 134 miles from London (coach road 127), 3 from Stourbridge, 3 from Kidderminster.—Gt.

West. Rail. through Oxford and Worcester to Kidderminster, thence 3 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham to Kidderminster, &c., 74 miles. Money orders issued at Stourbridge: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m. The living (St. James), a disch<sup>d</sup> rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Worcester, is valued at £5. 6s. 8d.: pres. net income, £255: patron, Rev. J. Turner: pres. incumbent, R. P. Turner, 1841: contains 950 acres: 28 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 164: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £1,142: poor rates in 1838, £44. 16s. Tithes commuted in 1811.

CHURCHILL, WORCESTER, a parish in the lower division of the hun<sup>d</sup> of Oswaldslow, union of Pershore: 122 miles from London (coach road 110), 4 from Worcester, 7 from Droitwich. Gt. West. Rail. through Oxford to Worcester, thence 4 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham to Worcester, &c., 75 miles. Money orders issued at Worcester: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 6½ p.m. The living (St. Michael), a disch<sup>d</sup> rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Worcester, is valued at £13. 6s. 8d.: pres. net income, £167: patron, Robert Berkeley, Esq.: pres. incumbent, George Dineley, 1844: contains 1,000 acres: 19 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 115: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £1,083: poor rates in 1837, £70. 6s. Tithes commuted in 1839.

CHURCH-KNOWLE, DORSET, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Hasilor, union of Wareham and Purbeck, Blandford division of the county: 131 miles from London (coach road 117), 1 from Corfe Castle, 5 from Wareham. Sou. West. Rail. through Southampton to Wareham, thence 5 miles: from Derby, through Rugby, Oxford, Reading, and Southampton, to Wareham, &c., 220 miles. Money orders issued at Corfe Castle: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m. The living, a disch<sup>d</sup> rectory, formerly in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Dorset, and diocese of Bristol, now in the diocese of Sarum, is valued at £17. 17s. 6d.: pres. net income, £285: patron, Lieut.-Colonel Mansel: pres. incumbent, C. Onslow, 1841: contains 2,500 acres: 86 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 463: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 532: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £512: poor rates in 1838, £306. 16s.

CHURCH-LANGTON, LEICESTER, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Gartree, union of Market-Harborough, on the river Welland: it includes the township of Langton (East), and the chapelries of Langton (West), Langton-Thorp, and Langton-Tur: 101 miles from London (coach road 87), 4 from Market-Harborough, 11 from Leicester. Nor. West. Rail. through Rugby to Market-Harborough, thence 4 miles: from Derby, through Rugby, &c., 69 miles. Money orders issued at Market-Harborough: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 10 a.m.: post closes 5 p.m. The living, a rectory, with the curacies of Langton-Thorp and Langton-Tur, formerly in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Leicester, and diocese of Lincoln, now in the diocese of Peterborough, is valued at £48. 13s. 4d.: pres. net income, £989: patron, Rev. W. Hanbury: pres. incumbent, T. Hanbury, 1848: contains 4,280 acres: 210 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 869: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 999: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £9,739: poor rates in 1838, £841. 4s.

CHURCH-LAWTON, CHESTER, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Northwich, union of Congleton: 174 miles from London (coach road 156), 6 from Newcastle.

Nor. West. Rail. through Rugby and Burton-on-Trent to Wedgewood, thence 3 miles: from Derby, through Burton, &c., 51 miles. Money orders issued here: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m. The living, a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Chester, is valued at £9. 2s. 7d.: pres. net income, £360: patron, C. B. Lawton, Esq.: pres. incumbent, V. Tipping, 1839: contains 1,540 acres: 98 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 622: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £2,754: poor rates in 1838, £259. 13s. Tithes commuted in 1839.

CHURCH-LENCH, WORCESTER, a parish, partly in the lower division of Blackenburst hun<sup>d</sup>, and partly in the upper division of Halfshire hun<sup>d</sup>, union of Evesham: 111 miles from London, 6 from Pershore, 6 from Evesham. Gt. West. Rail. through Oxford to Evesham, thence 6 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Worcester to Evesham, &c., 90 miles. Money orders issued at Pershore: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8½ a.m.: post closes 6 p.m. The living, a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Worcester, is valued at £19. 11s. 10½d.: pres. net income, £180: patron, Lord Chancellor: pres. incumbent, M. Amphlett, 1844: contains 2,600 acres: 78 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 393: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, same: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £2,354: poor rates in 1837, £187.

CHURCH-OAKLEY, HANTS, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Chuteley, union of Basingstoke: 52 miles from London (coach road 49), 4 from Basingstoke, 6 from Kingsclere. Sou. West. Rail. to Basingstoke, thence 4 miles: from Derby, through Rugby, Oxford, and Reading, to Basingstoke, &c., 139 miles. Money orders issued at Basingstoke: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m. The living, a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Winchester, is valued at £11. 13s. 11½d.: pres. net income, £311: patron, Queen's College, Oxford: pres. incumbent, M. Harrison, 1832: contains 1,640 acres: 52 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 335: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 385: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £1,411: poor rates in 1838, £129. 8s.

CHURCH-OVER, WARWICK, a parish in the Rugby division of the hun<sup>d</sup> of Knightlow, union of Rugby: 86 miles from London (coach road 87), 4 from Rugby, 11 from Coventry. Nor. West. Rail. to Rugby, thence 4 miles: from Derby, through Leicester to Rugby, &c., 54 miles. Money orders issued at Rugby: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 5 p.m. There is an Independent chapel here. The parochial charities produce about £24 a year. The living (Holy Trinity), a rectory, formerly in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Coventry, and diocese of Lichfield and Coventry, now in the diocese of Worcester, is valued at £15: pres. net income, £270: patron, Henry Grimes, Esq.: pres. incumbent, T. C. H. Chamberlain, 1819: contains 1,440 acres: 56 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 339: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 386: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £3,273: poor rates in 1838, £146. 19s.

CHURCH-SPEEN, BERKS, a tithing in the parish of Speen—(which see for access, &c.): 57 miles from London, 1 from Newbury, 8 from Hungerford. Money orders issued at Newbury: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m. Pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 224.—(Other returns with the parish.)

CHURCH-STAUTON, DEVON, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Hemycok, union of Taunton: 170 miles from London (coach road 146), 10 from Honiton, 6 from Wellington.---Gt. West. Rail. through Bristol to Taunton, thence 7 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Bristol to Taunton, &c., 197 miles.---Money orders issued at Honiton: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m.---The living (St. Paul), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup>. and diocese of Exeter, is valued at £26. 5s. 6d.: pres. net income, £421: patron, Rev. R. P. Clarke: pres. incumbent, H. Edwards, jun., 1846: contains 4,980 acres: 176 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,086: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,249: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup> £3,677: poor rates in 1837, £443. 9s. Tithes commuted in 1799.

CHURCH-STOKE, MONTGOMERY, a parish, partly in the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Chirbury, county of Salop, but mostly in the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Cawrse, in the above county, North Wales: it includes the townships of Weston-Madoc, and Brompton with Kiston: 184 miles from London (coach road 161), 21 from Shrewsbury, 3 from Montgomery.---Nor. West. Rail. through Stafford to Shrewsbury, thence 21 miles: from Derby, through Burton and Stafford to Shrewsbury, &c., 84 miles.---Money orders issued at Shrewsbury: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 4 p.m.---The living, a perpetual curacy in the archd<sup>y</sup>. of Salop, and diocese of Hereford, is valued at £10: pres. net income, £250: patron, Earl of Powis: pres. incumbent, R. M. White, 1846: contains 74 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,527: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,756: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup> £6,395: poor rates in 1838, £610. 1s.

CHURCH-STOWE, DEVON, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Stanborough, union of Kingsbridge: 234 miles from London (coach road 206), 2 from Kingsbridge, 10 from Dartmouth.---Gt. West. Rail. through Bristol and Exeter to Totness, thence 10 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham, Bristol, and Exeter, to Totness, &c., 247 miles.---Money orders issued at Kingsbridge: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m.---The living (St. Mary), a disch<sup>d</sup>. vicarage with Kingsbridge, in the archd<sup>y</sup>. of Totness, and diocese of Exeter, is valued at £16. 16s. 11d.: pres. net income, £200: patron, Lord Chancellor: pres. incumbent, R. Luney, 1843: contains 1,640 acres: 57 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 542: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 623: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup> £3,331: poor rates in 1838, £203. 16s. Tithes commuted in 1839.

CHURCH-STRETTON. See STRETTON-CHURCH.

CHURCH-TOWN, LANCASHIRE, a chapelry in the parish of Whalley, intersected by the Leeds and Liverpool Canal—(which see for access, &c.): 216 miles from London, 16 from Garstang, 4 from Blackburn.---Money orders issued at Garstang: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 11½ a.m.: post closes 2 p.m.---Calico-printing to a considerable extent is carried on in this township.---The living, a vicarage in the diocese of Manchester, is valued at £12. 17s. 8d.: pres. net income, £282: patron, Rev. James Pedder: pres. incumbent, James Pedder, 1835: contains 620 acres: 176 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,545: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,776: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup> £995: poor rates in 1837, £345.

CHURSTON-FERRERS, DEVON, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Haytor, union of Totness, near Torbay:

230 miles from London (coach road 201), 2 from Brixham, 6 from Totness.---Gt. West. Rail. through Bristol and Exeter to Totness, thence 6 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham, Bristol, and Exeter, to Totness, &c., 243 miles.---Money orders issued at Brixham: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m.---The parochial charities produce about £5. 10s. per annum.---The living is a curacy to the vicarage of Brixham: contains 2,380 acres: 140 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 772: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 887: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup> £4,400: poor rates in 1838, £306. 15s.

CHURTON-BY-ALDFORD, CHESTER, a township in the parish of Aldford—(which see for access, &c.): 179 miles from London, 4 from Chester, 6 from Tarporley.---Money orders issued at Chester: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m.---Contains 760 acres: 44 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 254: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup> £232: poor rates in 1838, £36. 13s.

CHURTON-BY-FARNDON, CHESTER, a township in the parish of Farnon, bounded on the east by the river Dee—(which see for access, &c.): 172 miles from London.---Contains 450 acres: 25 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 132: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup> £348: poor rates in 1838, £29. 1s. Tithes commuted in 1839.

CHURTON, WILTSHIRE, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Swanborough, union of Devizes: it includes the tithing of Conock: 113 miles from London (coach road 89), 5 from Devizes, 4 from Market-Lavington.---Gt. West. Rail. through Chippenham to Melksham, thence 13 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Bristol to Melksham, &c., 167 miles.---Money orders issued at Devizes: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m.---The living (St. John the Baptist), a disch<sup>d</sup>. vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup>. and diocese of Sarum, is valued at £11. 0s. 5d.: pres. net income, £168: patron, Lord Chancellor: pres. incumbent, Ed. Vincent, 1827: contains 2,040 acres: 77 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 428: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 492: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup> £1,939: poor rates in 1838, £253. 10s.---S., Conock Manor-house.

CHURWELL, WEST RIDING, YORK, a township in the parish of Batley, west of the river Aire—(which see for access, &c.): 190 miles from London, 4 from Leeds, 6 from Wakefield.---Money orders issued at Leeds: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m.---Contains 540 acres: 196 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,198: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,378: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup> £1,378: poor rates in 1838, £217. 6s.

CHUTE, WILTSHIRE, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Kinwardstone, union of Andover: it includes the extra-parochial liberty of Cadley: 72 miles from London (coach road 71), 7 from Andover, 11 from Amesbury.---Gt. West. Rail. to Hungerford station, thence 10 miles: from Derby, through Rugby, Oxford, and Reading, to Hungerford station, 154 miles.---Money orders issued at Andover: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 10½ a.m.: post closes 5 p.m.---The village is very pleasantly situated on the summit of a hill bordering on the neighbouring county, and is chiefly noted for its forest, and the extensive and fine domain of Conholt Park, the seat of the Right Hon. Henry Pierrepont, a brother of Earl Manvers. There is a Roman causeway passing through the parish, a very fine specimen of the Roman road which extended from Winchester to Cirencester. There is also a Roman encampment, about half a mile from the causeway, called Hayden Hill. The church was almost rebuilt about thirty years since, by General and Lady Medows, former possessors of Conholt Park. — The living (St. Nicholas), a vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Wilts and diocese of Sarum, and a peculiar of the dean and chapter, is valued at £11: pres. net income, £244: patron, Bishop of Sarum: pres. incumbent, S. Cosway, 1838: contains 3,220 acres: 75 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 525: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 604: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup> £2,903: poor rates in 1838, £298. 9s.

CHUTE-FOREST, WILTS, an extra-parochial district in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Kirtwardstone: 66 miles from London. — (For access and postal arrangements, see above.) — Contains 1,930 acres: 17 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 135: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup> £1,705: poor rates in 1838, £245. 8s.

CILCEN (CILCEN, or KIL-KEN), FLINT, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Coleshill, union of Holywell, North Wales, at the foot of Moel-Famma, in the Vale of Clwyd, west of the river Allen: 194 miles from London (coach road 208), 4 from Mold, 4 from Holywell. — Nor. West. Rail. through Crewe and Chester to Flint, thence 4 miles: from Derby, through Crewe, &c., 94 miles. — Money orders issued at Mold: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 9½ a.m.: post closes 5½ p.m. — The living, a vicarage in the diocese of St. Asaph, is valued at £23. 0s. 7d.: pres. net income, £300: patron, Bishop of St. Asaph: contains 215 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,267: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,457: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup> £3,416: poor rates in 1838, £329. 16s.

CILCENIN (or KIL-KENIN), CARDIGAN, a parish in the lower division of the hun<sup>d</sup> of Ilar, union of Aberayron, South Wales, on the river Teifi: 228 miles from London (coach road 230), 23 from Lampeter, 5 from Newcastle. — Gt. West. Rail. through Oxford to Worcester, thence 110 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham to Worcester, &c., 181 miles. — Money orders issued at Lampeter: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 8 a.m.: post closes 9 p.m. — The village is famous in Welsh history, as having been the scene of a desperate engagement between Maelgwynne and his nephews, Rhys and Owen, who attacked his camp in the night. — The living, a vicarage in the diocese of St. David's, is valued at £5: pres. net income, £25: patron, Bishop of St. David's: pres. incumbent, T. Evans, 1841: contains 161 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 647: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 744: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup> £417: poor rates in 1838, £179. 7s.

CILIAERON. See KILLYARON.

CILMARGH AND ISHGOED, CARMARTHEN, a hamlet in the parish of Llandeveylog—(which see for access, &c.): 228 miles from London, 6 from Carmarthen, 3 from Kidwelly. — Money orders issued at Carmarthen: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 11 a.m.: post closes 4 p.m. — Contains 27 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 160.—(Other returns with the parish.)

CIL-RHEDDYN. See KIL-RHEDDYN.

CIL-Y-BEBILL. See KIL-Y-BEBILL.

CIL-Y-MAENLLWYD. See KIL-Y-MAENLLWYD.

CINDERFORD, GLOUCESTER, a district in Dean Forest. There are large iron-works here.

CIPPENHAM. See CHIPPENHAM.

CIRCOURT. See GOOSEY and CIRCOURT.

CIRENCESTER (colloquially CIRE-CESTER), GLOUCESTERSHIRE, a borough, market town, and parish, in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Crowthorne and Minety, union of Cirencester, on the western bank of the Churn: 95 miles from London (coach road 89), 36 from Bristol. — Gt. West. Rail. to Cirencester station: from Derby, through Birmingham and Stonehouse to Cirencester, 119 miles. — Money orders issued here: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 7 a.m. and 2½ p.m.: post closes 8 a.m. and 10 p.m. — Cirencester appears to have been a town of importance from a very remote period. Previous to the time of the Romans it was a British city, called Caer-Cori, a contraction of Caer-Corin, the town being situated on the river Corin, now Churn. The Romans made it a military station, and called it Corinium. It was also the capital of the Dobuni until 577, when the Saxon chronicle asserts that the West Saxons, Cuthwin and Ceawhin, took it from them. After this, it was, according to Hollinshed, again possessed by the Britons, who, he says, were driven out by a stratagem of Gurmond or Gurmondas, a Danish chieftain, in the following manner:—Gurmonde took Cirencestre, and destroyed it in a most cruell manner, by a policie of warre, in binding to the feet of sparrows, which his people had caught, certain clewes of thread, or matches, finely wrought, and tempered ready to take fire, so that the sparrows being suffered to go out of hand, flew into the towne, to lodge themselves within their nestes, which they had made in stackes of corne, or eaves of houses, so that the towne was thereby set on fire. In 1020, Canute held a great council here, when, says the Saxon chronicle, Alderman Ethelward was outlawed, and Edwy, king of the Churls. The first notice we have of the existence of Cirencester Castle, occurs in the reign of Stephen, when it was garrisoned by Robert, Earl of Gloucester, half-brother to the empress Maud; but, in 1142, Stephen took it by surprise, and burnt it. It was rebuilt, and again held in opposition to the king, but surrendered to him by William de la Dive, constable to the Earl of Leicester. In the time of Henry III. it was garrisoned by the barons, but the king recovered it, and issued his warrant for its entire demolition. In the reign of Henry IV., the dukes of Aumerle, Surrey, and Exeter, the earls of Gloucester and Salisbury, and their adherents, entered into a conspiracy to assassinate the king during a tournament at Oxford, and to restore Richard II.; but the conspirators, being informed of the discovery of their plot, assembled an army, and retired to Cirencester. They (the noblemen), says Hollinshed, came to Cirencestre in the dark of the night, and took up their lodgings. The inhabitants, suspecting the matter as the truth was, they tooke thereupon counsaile together, and got them to armour, and stopped all the entries and out-gates of the inne where these new guests were lodged; insomuch, that when they, about midnight, secretly attempted to have come forth, and gone their waies, the townemen, with bow and arrowe, were ready to stay them and keep them in. The lordes perceiving the danger, got them to their armour and weapons, and did their best by force to repulse the townsmen; but after they had fought from midnight till three of the clocks of the evenings of the next day, they yielded themselves to the townsmen, beseeching them to have their lives saved, till they might come into the presence of the king . . . . But they brought them forth of the abbey, where they had them in their hands, and yn the twilight of the eveninge stroke off their heads. In reward for this, the king granted several privileges to the inhabitants of Cirencester. In the time of Charles I., Cirencester sided with the parliament, and attacked Lord Chandos, the lord-lieutenant of the county, whilst he was executing the commission of array ordered by the king. But in 1642, Prince Rupert besieged the town, and took it after a hard struggle. When the Prince of Orange landed in 1688, the inhabitants declared for James II., and the first blood shed in this revolution was spilt here. This town is in a pleasant situation, and contains four large and some smaller streets; but it was formerly much larger than it is now, the remains of the walls enclosing an area of two miles. The houses, most of them of stone, are well built, and the town is lighted, well supplied with water, and partly paved. The Thames and Severn Canal has a branch up to the town. The church, dedicated to St. John, is a most magnificent edifice, built in the fifteenth century; in it are several curious monuments, and rich sepulchral brasses. On the exterior of the church there is a curious range of sculptured figures of minstrels, and also of the characters in an old Mystery. Cirencester formerly possessed a rich abbey, founded in 1117 by Henry I., and dedicated to St. Mary and St. John; but when Henry VIII. granted the site and buildings of the abbey to Roger Bassinge, Esq., he commanded all the buildings within the abbey precincts to be pulled down and carried away, so that all that now remains of the structure are the almonry, the spital gate, and a large barn. Queen Elizabeth granted the site of the abbey, with all its appendages, to Dr. Richard Master, in consideration of the sum of £590. 16s. 3d., from whom the present proprietor, Thomas Master, Esq., who has twice sat for the county, is lineally descended. The seat of this gentleman, occupying the site of the former monastic edifices, is called the Abbey. There are the remains of an amphitheatre in a field called the Querns, west of the town, near the Roman wall, and a Roman tumulus was discovered at Grismond's tower, a circular hill now used by Lord Bathurst as an ice-house. Several other remains besides these have at various times been found. There are here chapels for Baptists, the Society of Friends, Independents, Wesleyan Methodists, and Unitarians. There is a free grammar-school here, a blue-coat school, and a yellow-coat school, supported by funds amounting altogether to about £870 per annum. There are three hospitals, St. John's, St. Lawrence's, and St. Thomas's; also an almshouse, besides smaller charities. Some peculiar knives for curriers are made here; there is also much business done in brewing, and there is a carpet manufactory. Races take place annually near the town. Henry IV. granted a charter, constituting Cirencester a separate hundred, of the same extent as the borough, and the privileges of which are still in existence. The borough is within the jurisdiction of the county magistrates, by whom petty sessions are here held. In 1571, Elizabeth granted it the privilege of sending two burgesses to parliament. The present constituency is about 600 in number. Cirencester is a polling-place for the eastern division of the county. This town is the birth-place of Richard of Cirencester, who compiled the famous Itinerary, of which that part relating to England has been published by Dr. Stukeley. The manor of Cirencester was formerly a demesne of the crown, but changed hands frequently, and is now in the possession of Earl Bathurst, whose seat, Oakley Park, is situated a small distance to the west of the town, from which it is screened by a wall lined with perennial trees. It is a spacious and extremely commodious mansion, built in the last century on the French plan, with a large hall in the centre, and rooms en suite, like Petworth, in Sussex, erected about the same time by Charles, Duke of Somerset. The mansion is superbly furnished, and is especially distinguished by the vast number of superior portraits, many of them historical, by Sir Peter Lely, Sir Godfrey Kneller, and other eminent artists. One of the most pleasing of them is of Allan, Earl Bathurst, in his robes of state, soon after he was raised to the peerage in 1711, together with those of his associates in genius and in literary and political pursuits—Bolingbroke, Prior, Atterbury, and Pope. Kneller, who was the artist, had given to Pope delineations, in chiaro scuro, of the Apollo Belvidere, the Venus de Medici, and the Farnese Hercules, and was complimented in return with the following verse, abounding in Italian conceits:—

"What God, what genius did the pencil move,
When Kneller painted these—
'Twas Friendship, warm as Phœbus, kind as love,
And strong as Hercules."

These pictures were bequeathed by the poet to his noble friend Earl Bathurst, and are still preserved at Oakley. Of the foreign masters, there are few examples here; but one by Rubens, and another by Rosa de Tivoli, are very forcible paintings. The park and grounds owe their origin to the nobleman just spoken of. The grounds are extensive and imposing, consisting of a series of linear terraces, flanked by plantations of shrubs and evergreens; and connected with them, at the distance of two miles on the road to Stroudwater, the woodland stretches out, forming a magnificent object from the park. The family of Bathurst was originally seated at a place called Bathurst, in Sussex, not far from Battle Abbey, but were despoiled of their possessions there during the wars of the Roses. The earliest member of the family of which we have any record was Lawrence Bathurst, who was seated at Cranebrooke, in Kent, in the time of Henry VI., and from him was lineally descended Allan Bathurst, Esq., whose father, Sir Benjamin Bathurst, had been cofferer to Queen Anne. Mr. Bathurst was a member of the House of Commons, and was in 1711 elevated to the peerage by the title of Baron Bathurst of Battlesden, in the county of Bedford, and was created Earl Bathurst in 1772. His lordship lived to the long period of ninety-one years, and was succeeded by his eldest surviving son, Henry, who had himself been elevated to the peerage by the title of Baron Apsley, on entering upon the dignity of Lord High Chancellor. Of that nobleman the present earl, who is D.C.L., is the grandson, and succeeded to the title in 1834. — The living (St. John the Evangelist) is a vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Bristol, and diocese of Gloucester and Bristol: pres. net income, £443: patron, Bishop of Gloucester and Bristol: pres. incumbent, W. F. Powell, 1839: contains 5,900 acres: 1,079 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 6,014: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 6,916: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £7,421: poor rates in 1838, £938. — Market days, Monday and Friday. Fairs: Easter-Tuesday, cattle, pigs; Nov. 6, horses, cattle; first Monday in August, September, and October. — Bankers: County of Gloucester Bank—draw on Barnett, Hoare, & Co.; Branch of Gloucestershire Banking Co.—draw on Masterman, Peters, & Co. — Inns: King's Head, Ram. — Cirencester is the seat of William Cripps, Esq.

CLACK, WILTSHIRE, a hamlet in the parish of Lineham, close on the Wilts and Berks Canal—(which see for access, &c.): 88 miles from London, 5 from Chippenham, 8 from Malmesbury. — Money orders issued at Chippenham: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9½ a.m.: post closes 5 p.m. — Fairs: April 5, October 10.

CLACTON (Great), ESSEX, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> and union of Tendring: 65 miles from London (coach road 64), 14 from Colchester, 12 from Harwich. — East. Co<sup>t</sup> Rail. to Colchester, thence 14 miles: from Derby, through London, &c., 197 miles. — Money orders issued at Colchester: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 10½ a.m.: post closes 6½ p.m. — The parochial charities produce about £5. 10s. a year. — The living (St. John the Baptist), a disch<sup>d</sup> vicarage, with Little Holland, donative, in the diocese of Rochester, is valued at £10: pres. net income, £240: patron, F. Nassau, Esq.: pres. incumbent, H. G. N. Bishop, 1845: contains 4,170 acres: 223 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,296: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,490: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £6,918: poor rates in 1838, £401. — Fair: June 29, for toys.

CLACTON (Little), ESSEX, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> and union of Tendring: 62 miles from London. — (For access and postal arrangements, see above.) — The living (St. James), a vicarage in the diocese of Rochester, is valued at £6. 13s. 4d.: pres. net income, £115: patron, F. Nassau, Esq.: pres. incumbent, John L. Kirby, 1832: contains 3,110 acres: 78 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 547: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 629: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £4,772: poor rates in 1838, £195. — Fair: July 25, for toys.

CLAIFE, LANCASTER, a township in the parish of Hawkeshead, bounded on the east by Eastwaite water, and on the west by Winandermere, which is here a quarter of a mile broad, and over which there is a ferry—(which see for access, &c.): 265 miles from London, 12 from Ulverston, 2 from Hawkeshead. — Money orders issued at Ulverston: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 10 a.m.: post closes 7 p.m. — There is an endowed school here. — Contains 5,310 acres: 76 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 541: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 622: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £1,972: poor rates in 1838, £122. 4s.

CLAINES, WORCESTERSHIRE, a parish in the lower division of the hun<sup>d</sup> of Oswaldslow, union of Droitwich, east of the river Severn, and near the Worcester and Birmingham Canal: it includes the tithing of Whiston: 120 miles from London (coach road 113), 2 from Worcester, 4 from Droitwich. — Gt. West. Rail. through Oxford to Worcester, thence 2 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham to Worcester, &c. 73 miles. — Money orders issued at Worcester: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m. — The parliamentary commissioners have erected a new Gothic church here, at an expense of £3,345. 10s. 8d., which contains 1,005 sittings. In this parish is the nunnery of Whitstone, now the handsome mansion of White Ladies, to which Charles II. retired after the battle of Worcester. Here is also the island of Bevery, formed by the Beverbon or Barbon, which flows through the parish. In this island the citizens of Worcester have twice taken refuge: once in the time of Hardicanute, in 1041, and once during a dreadful pestilence, in 1637. The hamlet is situated in the midst of the most picturesque scenery. Part of this parish extends to the city of Worcester, and is united to it by the new boundary act. There are charities here to the amount of £38. 10s. 2d. for the relief of the poor. — The living (St. John the Baptist) is a perpetual curacy, with St. George's, exempt from visitation, in the diocese of Worcester: pres. net income, £180: patron, Sir O. Wakeman: pres. incumbent, J. Palmer, 1840: it contains 4,600 acres, 1,066 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 6,395: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 7,354: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £15,594: poor rates in 1838, £1,108. 13s.

CLANABOROUGH, DEVON, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of North Tawton with Winkley, union of Crediton: 205 miles from London (coach road 190), 5 from Crediton, 13 from Hatherleigh. — Gt. West. Rail. through Bristol and Exeter to Crediton, thence 5 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham, Bristol, Exeter, &c., 219 miles. — Money orders issued at Crediton: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9½ a.m.: post closes 6 p.m. — The living (St. Petrock), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Barnstaple, and diocese of Exeter, is valued at £5. 17s. 3½d.: pres. net income, £156: patron, Lord Chancellor: pres. incumbent, Peter Glubb, 1827: contains 1,780 acres: 9 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 69: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £980: poor rates in 1838, £56. 9s.

CLANDON (East), SURREY, a parish in the second division of the hun<sup>d</sup> of Woking, union of Guildford: 35 miles from London (coach road 26), 4 from Guildford, 8 from Dorking. — Sou. West. Rail. to Guildford, thence 4 miles: from Derby, through London, &c., 167 miles. — Money orders issued at Guildford: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 9 p.m. — The living, a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Surrey, and diocese of Winchester, is valued at £10. 6s. 10½d.: pres. net income, £152: patron, Earl of Lovelace: pres. incumbent, E. John Ward, 1832: contains 1,430 acres: 40 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 293: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £1,203: poor rates in 1838, £108. 3s.

CLANDON (West), SURREY, a parish in the second division of the hun<sup>d</sup> of Woking, union of Guildford: 27 miles from London. — (For access and postal arrangements, see above.) — The living, a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Surrey, and diocese of Winchester, is valued at £13. 10s.: pres. net income, £136: patron, Earl of Onslow: pres. incumbent, William H. Cole, 1822: contains 990 acres: 75 houses: pop<sup>n</sup>. in 1841, 407: probable pop<sup>n</sup>. in 1849, 468: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £1,729: poor rates in 1838, £173. 14s. Tithes commuted in 1839.

CLANFIELD, OXFORD, a parish in the hund<sup>d</sup>. of Bampton, union of Witney: 78 miles from London (coach road 71), 5 from Lechlade, 7 from Witney. —Gt. West. Rail. to Oxford, thence 15 miles: from Derby, through Rugby and Banbury to Oxford, &c., 110 miles. —Money orders issued at Lechlade: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 8½ a.m.: post closes 6½ p.m. —The living (St. Stephen), a discharged vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup>. and diocese of Oxford, is valued at £7. 6s. 5½d.: pres. net income, £90: patrons, J. H. Elliott and H. Bennett, Esqrs.: pres. incumbent, J. P. Penson, 1836: contains 1,640 acres: 114 houses: pop<sup>n</sup>. in 1841, 584: probable pop<sup>n</sup>. in 1849, 672: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £2,357.

CLANFIELD, HANTS, a parish in the hund<sup>d</sup>. of Finch-Dean, union of Catherington, Alton (South) division of the county: 95 miles from London (coach road 60), 5 from Petersfield, 4 from Hambledon. —Brighton and South Coast Rail. to Havant, thence 7 miles: from Derby, through London, &c., 227 miles. —Money orders issued at Petersfield: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 8½ a.m.: post closes 7 p.m. —The living (St. James) is a rectory united with that of Chalton: contains 2,280 acres: 38 houses: pop<sup>n</sup>. in 1841, 239: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £697: poor rates in 1838, £159. 18s.

CLAPCOTA, BERKS, a liberty in the parish of All-Hallows. —Contains 1,000 acres: 6 houses: pop<sup>n</sup>. in 1841, 43. —(Other returns with the parish.)

CLAPHAM, BEDFORD, a parish in the hund<sup>d</sup>. of Stodden, union of Bedford, on the northern bank of the river Ouse: 65 miles from London (coach road 52), 2 from Bedford, 11 from St. Neot's. —Nor. West. Rail. through Bletchley to Bedford, thence 2 miles: from Derby, through Rugby and Bletchley to Bedford, &c., 104 miles. —Money orders issued at Bedford: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 8½ a.m.: post closes 9 p.m. —Clapham was formerly a chapelry of Oakley. —The living (St. Thomas à Becket), a disch<sup>d</sup>. vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup>. of Bedford, now in the diocese of Ely, is valued at £5. 13s. 4d.: pres. net income, £270: patron, the Hon. and Rev. Lord John Thynne: pres. incumbent, James Donne, 1843: contains 1,490 acres: 65 houses: pop<sup>n</sup>. in 1841, 370: probable pop<sup>n</sup>. in 1849, 425: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £2,009: poor rates in 1838, £60. 1s. —Woodlands is the seat of John Thomas Dawson, Esq.

CLAPHAM, SURREY, a parish and village in the hund<sup>d</sup>. of Brixton, union of Wandsworth and Clapham: 4 miles from London. —Money orders issued here: post 4 times each way daily. —This place has long been considered one of the handsomest and most respectable in the suburbs of London; the road from which has, on both sides, fine large houses, with gardens in front, extending for a considerable distance, and leading to the common, which comprises about 200 acres, and has lately been much improved. It has, on every side, elegant mansions and villas. On the east is a handsome crescent, opposite which is a range of buildings called the Grove, the area being beautifully laid out in shrubberies, and planted with evergreens. That part situated towards Brixton has been greatly improved by the construction of new roads, the erection of a new church and several villas, and is now called Clapham New Park. The parish is comprised within the boundaries of the new police establishment. It is well lighted with gas, and there is an ample supply of water, partly from the South Lambeth Water Works, and partly from a spring on the side of the common leading to Wandsworth, and from which nearly twenty families derive support by carrying the water of it to the houses of the inhabitants. The church, on the north of the common, formerly belonging to the priory at Merton, was built in 1775. It is a neat brick building, ornamented with stone, with a dome, turret, and a stone portico, extending the whole length of the western façade. The interior is very simple. No one is interred in the church. On the right-hand side of the road leading to the common, stands St. John's church, a fine edifice, with a noble Ionic portico at the east end, surmounted by a pediment. It is a district church, separated, for ecclesiastical purposes, from the mother church of the parish. The old parish church, an ancient Gothic structure, was pulled down, with the exception of the north aisle, when the new church was built. That, again, was also taken down, and a chapel of ease, which is surrounded by the burial-ground, was erected on its site in 1815, at a cost of £5,000. A proprietary Episcopal chapel, dedicated to St. James, has also been erected at Clapham New Park, and is a small building, with a square embattled tower, crowned with pinnacles. There is a subscription library here, which has a good collection of works, and is well supported. The trade merely consists in supplying the requisites for the families resident in the vicinity. Clapham is under the jurisdiction of the county magistrates, by whom a petty session is held every Saturday, at the office of their clerk. There is an acting coroner for the district, chosen at the court for the duchy of Lancaster, part of the parish being within the jurisdiction of that court. A select vestry manages the parochial affairs. The Independents have two chapels, and Baptists and Roman Catholics one each, here. There is a parochial school, which was rebuilt in 1781, and enlarged in 1809, at which upwards of 200 children are instructed. —The living (Holy Trinity) is a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup>. of Surrey, and diocese of Winchester: pres. net income, £1,275: patron, H. A. Bowyer, Esq.: pres. incumbent, W. Bowyer, 1847: contains 1,070 acres, 1,589 houses: pop<sup>n</sup>. in 1841, 12,106: probable pop<sup>n</sup>. in 1849, 13,922: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £29,223: poor rates in 1838, £5,247. 13s.

CLAPHAM, SUSSEX, a parish in the hund<sup>d</sup>. of Brightford, rape of Bramber: 65 miles from London (coach road 56), 5 from Arundel, 10 from Steyning. —Brighton and Sou. Coast Rail. to Goring, thence 2½ miles: from Derby, through London, &c., 191 miles. —Money orders issued at Arundel: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 9 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m. —The living, a disch<sup>d</sup>. rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup>. and diocese of Chichester, is valued at £14: pres. net income, £314: patron, Duke of Norfolk: pres. incumbent, W. Nourse, 1821: contains 1,794 acres:

39 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 262: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,381: poor rates in 1837, £171. 7s.

CLAPHAM, WEST RIDING, YORK, a parish in the western division of the wapentake of Staincliffe and Ewcross, union of Settle: it includes the townships of Austwick, Clapham-with-Newby, and Lawkland: 251 miles from London (coach road 239), 6 from Settle, 2 from Austwick.---Nor. West. Rail. through Rugby, Derby, and Leeds, to Clapham station, thence 1 mile.---Money orders issued at Settle: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 4½ p.m.---The parochial charities produce about £60 a year.---The living, a disch<sup>d</sup> vicarage in the archd<sup>r</sup> of Richmond, and formerly in the diocese of Chester, now in the diocese of Ripon, is valued at £5. 17s. 1d.: pres. net income, £150: patron, Bishop of Chester: pres. incumbent, J. Marriner, 1841: contains 24,340 acres: 389 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,853: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,551: poor rates in 1838, £788. 9s.---Fair, Thursday preceding October 2, for sheep.---Ingleborough is the seat of J. W. Fairer, Esq., and Lawkland Hall of T. Ingleby, Esq.

CLAPHAM-WITH-NEWBY, WEST RIDING, YORK, a township in the above parish.---(For access and postal arrangements, see above.)---Contains 14,720 acres: 188 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 890: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 800: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £6,286: poor rates in 1838, £328. 15s.

CLAPTON. See CROYDON-WITH-CLAPTON.

CLAPTON, GLOUCESTER, a parish in the lower division of the hun<sup>d</sup> of Slaughter, union of Stow-on-the-Wold: 92 miles from London (coach road 85), 4 from Northleach, 15 from Cheltenham.---Gt. West. Rail. through Oxford to Bledington, thence 6 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Worcester to Bledington, &c., 109 miles.---Money orders issued at Northleach: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m.---The living (St. James) is a curacy annexed to Bourton-on-the-Water: contains 700 acres: 26 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 117: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,172: poor rates in 1838, £91. 4s.

CLAPTON, NORTHAMPTON, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Navisford, union of Thrapston: 91 miles from London (coach road 76), 4 from Thrapston, 12 from Kettering.---Nor. West. Rail. through Roade and Northampton to Thrapston, thence 4 miles: from Derby, through Weedon and Northampton to Thrapston, &c., 105 miles.---Money orders issued at Thrapston: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m.---The church formerly had a tower, the handsomest in the county, which was used as a sea-mark on the Lincolnshire coast, but it was struck by lightning, and the ruins of it pulled down. The interior of the church has lately been renovated, through the exertions of the rector. The manor-house, the residence of Jonathan Rogers, Esq., was once an extensive mansion, one wing of which only now remains.---The living (St. Peter), a rectory in the archd<sup>r</sup> of Northampton, diocese of Peterborough, is valued at £17. 3s. 9d.: pres. net income, £154: patrons, G. & W. G. Shedden, Esqrs.: pres. incumbent, E. C. Shedden, 1845: contains 1,900 acres: 17 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 119: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £2,501: poor rates in 1838, £98. 12s. Tithes commuted in 1839.

CLAPTON. See MAPERTON.

CLAPTON, SOMERSET, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Portbury, union of Bedminster: 124 miles from London, 6 from Bristol, 12 from Axbridge.---Gt. West. Rail. to Bristol, thence 6 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham to Bristol, &c., 137 miles.---Money orders issued at Bristol: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 10 a.m.: post closes 5 p.m.---The living (St. Michael), a disch<sup>d</sup> rectory in the archd<sup>r</sup> of Bath, and diocese of Bath and Wells, is valued at £10. 9s. 2d.: pres. net income, £200: patron, J. A. Gordon, Esq.: pres. incumbent, W. H. Colston, 1811: contains 980 acres: 27 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 148: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,213: poor rates in 1838, £65. 8s.

CLAPTON, SOMERSET, a tithing in the parish of Midsummer-Norton---(which see for access, &c.): 133 miles from London, 2 from Crewkerne, 7 from Ilminster.---Money orders issued at Crewkerne: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8½ a.m.: post closes 3½ p.m.---Pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 140.

CLARBESTON, PEMBROKE, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Dungleddy, union of Narberth, South Wales: 226 miles from London (coach road 253), 6 from Haverfordwest, 10 from Newport.---Gt. West. Rail. to Stonehouse, thence 123 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham to Stonehouse, &c., 226 miles.---Money orders issued at Haverfordwest: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 11 a.m.: post closes 4 p.m.---There is a school situated on an eminence, which is exactly in the centre of the hundred.---The living, a perpetual curacy, not in charge, in the archd<sup>r</sup> and diocese of St. David's, is valued at £5. 10s.: pres. net income, £60: patron, Executors of the late J. Phillips, Esq.: pres. incumbent, James Thomas, 1840: contains 33 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 244: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £583: poor rates in 1838, £76. 6s. Tithes commuted in 1839.

CLARE, SUFFOLK, a parish and market town in the hun<sup>d</sup> and union of Risbridge, on the northern bank of the river Stour: 65 miles from London (coach road 56), 8 from Sudbury.---Nor. and East. Co<sup>t</sup> Rail. to Chesterford, thence 18 miles: from Derby, through Syston and Peterborough to Cambridge, &c., 154 miles.---Money orders issued here: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8½ a.m.: post closes 4½ p.m.---Clare is a place of great antiquity; and during the Saxon heptarchy, at which time the castle was most probably built, it was of great importance, owing to its situation on the frontier of the kingdom of East Anglia. After the Conquest, it belonged to the famous Richard Strongbow, whose estates devolved to his uncle Richard, who was created Earl of Cläre. Edward IV. revived the honour of Clare or Clarence, which had lain dormant for some time, in favour of his next brother George, whom he created Duke of Clarence, and who, it is generally believed, was drowned in a butt of malmsey in the Tower; and the title was afterwards revived by King George III., who conferred the dukedom of Clarence on his late Majesty King William IV. A few ruins are all that now remain of this castle, which was once not inferior in strength or grandeur to any of the feudal mansions in the kingdom. The site of the fortifications comprises an area of thirty acres, the whole were surrounded by a deep fosse. On the summit of a steep mount, a hundred feet high.

stand the ruins of the keep, a circular flint building, strongly cemented with mortar. The town is situated on the Stour, which separates it from Essex. Most of the houses are very unpretending in appearance, and though the streets are spacious, they are neither paved nor lighted. The church is an ancient and beautiful structure of stately appearance, having a square tower with buttresses, and containing an antique stone font, and a monument of Edmund, son of Roger Mortimer, Earl of March. To the south-west of the town stand the remains of Clare Priory, founded by Richard de Clare, Earl of Gloucester, in 1248; they are now a private residence. In the church belonging to the Priory was buried Joan of Acre, daughter of Edward I. by Queen Eleanor, born in the Holy Land, at Ptolemais, now known as Acre. In the chancel was also buried, in 1368, Lionel, Duke of Clarence, who, after the death of his first wife, married Violenta, daughter of John Galeazzo, Duke of Milan. His marriage was celebrated at Milan, and Stow thus describes the entertainments on the occasion:—In the month of April, Lionel, duke of Clarence, with a chosen company of English nobility, went towards Mellaines, there to marry Violenta, the daughter of Galeacius, the second of that name, Duke of Milan, at whose arrival such abundance of treasure was, in a most bounteous manner, spent in making most sumptuous feasts, setting forth stately sights, and honouring with rare gifts above two hundred Englishmen who accompanied his son-in-law, as it seemed to surpass the greatness of the most wealthy princes. . . . . Such was the sumptuousness of this banquet, that the meats or fragments which were brought from the table would have sufficiently served ten thousand men. The Baptists and Independents have places of worship here. There is a Sunday school, and there are many charitable bequests for the relief of the poor. The county magistrates hold petty sessions here for the division. The courts-baron of Erbury, and Stoke with Chilton, and a court for the duchy of Lancaster, are also held here. A monastery for Augustine monks is supposed to have been founded here in 1248. To the north-west of the town are the remains of a Roman encampment.—The living (St. Peter and St. Paul), a disch<sup>d</sup> vicarage, formerly in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Sudbury, and diocese of Norwich, now in the diocese of Ely, is valued at £4. 18s. 9d.: pres. net income, £195: patron, Duchy of Lancaster: pres. incumbent, G. Wightman, 1833: contains 3,410 acres: 326 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,700: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,955: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £3,417: poor rates in 1838, £687. 15s. —Market day: Friday. Fairs: Easter-Tuesday, July 26.—Bankers: Oakes, Bevan, & Co.—draw on Barclay, Bevan, & Co.—Inns: Half Moon, and One Bell.—Clare is the seat of John Ruggles Brise, Esq., a descendant of Thomas Ruggles, Esq. of Clare, who, on the death of his cousin John, in 1776, inherited the estate of Spains Hall, in Essex. He died in 1813, and was succeeded by his son, the present John Ruggles Brise, Esq., who, on the demise of Samuel Brise, Esq. of Clare, in Suffolk, inherited the possessions of his grandmother's family, and assumed the additional surname and arms of Brise, and in 1829 was appointed high sheriff of the county of Suffolk. He is a barrister of the Inner Temple, and a magistrate and deputy-lieutenant for Suffolk and Essex.—The Priory is the residence of Colonel Baker; Penslow Hall, of Mrs. C. Matthew; and Chilton Hall, of Mrs. A. C. Torrett.

CLAREBOROUGH (or CLAYBOROUGH), NOTTINGHAM, a parish in the Northcley division of the wapentake of Bassetlaw, union of East Retford, intersected by the Chesterfield Canal: 185 miles from London (coach road 147), 3 from East Retford, 6 from Gainsborough. —Nor. and East. Co<sup>r</sup>. Rail. through Peterborough and Lincoln to Clareborough station: from Derby, through Nottingham and Lincoln to Clareborough, &c., 66 miles. —Money orders issued at East Retford: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m. —The church is an old Gothic building, lately renovated. St. Saviour's is a chapel of ease, lately erected, in the hamlet of Moorgate, the minister deriving his support from the pew rents. The parochial charities produce about £10 a year. —The living (St. John the Baptist), a disch<sup>d</sup> vicarage, with St. Saviour, formerly in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Nottingham and diocese of York, now in the province of Canterbury and diocese of Lincoln, is valued at £9. 15s. 4d.: pres. net income, £331: patron, Simeon's Trustees: pres. incumbent, C. Hodge, 1844: contains 3,870 acres: 477 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 2,207: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 2,538: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £6,505: poor rates in 1838, £463. 12s.

CLARENDON-PARK, WITTS, an extra-parochial liberty in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Alderbury, (which see for access, &c.): 83 miles from London, 3 from Salisbury, 4 from Old Sarum. —Money orders issued at Salisbury: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m. —Clarendon, about two miles south-east of Salisbury, was originally a royal forest, and was a place of sport for many of the early English monarchs. Near the north-western extremity of it was formerly a palace, which is traditionally said to have been erected by King John; but its origin is unknown; and its form, extent, and architectural peculiarities, are alike unascertained and unknown. No mention of it occurs in history till about a century subsequent to the Norman conquest, when it appears to have been of great magnitude and importance, and King Henry II. frequently made it his court residence. In 1164, that monarch held a council here, in which those laws respecting the limits of the ecclesiastical authority were passed, still called "The Constitution of Clarendon." (See ALDERBURY.) The substance of these sixteen enactments, intended to check the growing despotism of the clergy, and assert the supremacy of the civil power, is given in Hume's History of England, vol. ii. p. 32—34. Richard I., as well as his predecessor, occasionally made Clarendon a place of residence. King John also is supposed to have been much attached to this place. In the time of Henry III., Clarendon seems to have attained the zenith of its glory. Its buildings were much enlarged and improved by that monarch, who, besides, held his court oftener, and with greater splendour, here than any of his predecessors. Edward II. summoned a parliament to meet here in 1317; but the dissensions which then prevailed between the king and his barons prevented its assembling. During this prince's reign, Clarendon seems to have been disforested; at least it was then for the first time called the park, instead of the forest of Clarendon. In 1357, when the plague raged violently in the metropolis, and in most of the principal towns in England, Edward III. and his two royal prisoners, the kings of France and Scotland, passed the summer months at this palace. Clarendon palace is now completely in ruins. This once magnificent pile occupied an eminence, overlooking a narrow vale on its north-western side, and seems, from the extent of its present remains, to have covered a large space. A large fosse and vallum surrounded the palace, and enclosed an extent of sixty or seventy acres. On the inside of the ditch may still be traced the foundations of a strong wall. In the original grant of this domain by King Charles II. to the Duke of Albemarle, the superficial contents of the whole park are estimated at 4,300 acres, and are valued at £1,000 per annum. At present, nearly one-third of the whole demesne is appropriated as woodland. Contains 4,160 acres: 24 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 183: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £3,522: poor rates in 1838, £223. 11s. About a mile from the ruins of the palace stands Clarendon Lodge, the seat of Sir F. Bathurst, Bart. It is a commodious modern edifice, surrounded by extensive pleasure grounds. The woods are very abundant, and near one end is an expansive lake, whence issues a small river.

CLARETON. See ALLERTON-MAULEVERER.

CLAREWOOD, NORTHUMBERLAND, a township in the parish of Corbridge—(which see for access, &c.): 280 miles from London, 4 from Hexham, 16 from Newcastle. Money orders issued at Hexham: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 5 p.m. Contains 11 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 55: poor rates in 1838, £7. 12s.

CLASE (HIGHER), GLAMORGANSHIRE, a hamlet in the parish of Llangevellaach—(which see for access, &c.): 205 miles from London, 5 from Swansea, 8 from Neath. Money orders issued at Swansea: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 3½ p.m.: post closes 9 p.m. Contains 101 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, of Higher and Lower, 5,924: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 6,813: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £2,065.

CLASE (LOWER), GLAMORGANSHIRE, a township in the same parish—(which see for access, &c.) Contains 849 houses: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £13,447: poor rates in 1838, including Higher Clase, £1,002. 10s.

CLASEMONT, GLAMORGAN, a district in the above township and parish, including the village of Morriston—(which see for access, &c.): 203 miles from London. There are numerous collieries and copper works here, which are chiefly the property of Sir John Morris. (Returns with the village, township, and parish.) Clasemont House, the seat of Sir John Morris, Bart., stands on an elevated site, about a mile and a half from Wych-tree Bridge, on the road from Neath to Glamorgan. The house, in its appearance, is inferior to none in the county, commanding an extensive view to the eastward, and, with its elegant grounds, forming a striking object in the landscape. The father of Sir John Morris, who derives his descent from Robert Morris, Esq. of Bishop's Castle and Cleobury Mortimer, in the county of Salop, was created a baronet in 1806, and was succeeded in the title and estates, in 1819, by the present baronet, who married Lucy Juliana, youngest daughter of Viscount Torrington.

CLATFORD, WILTSHIRE, a hamlet in the parish of Pershute, Selkley—(which see for access, &c.): 75 miles from London, 1 from Marlborough, 8 from Swindon. Money orders issued at Marlborough: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m.

CLATFORD-GOODWORTH (or GOODWORTH-CLATFORD), HANTS, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Wherwell, union of Andover, Andover division of the county, intersected by the Andover Canal: 68 miles from London (coach road 65), 2 from Andover, 5 from Stockbridge. Sou. West. Rail. to Andover Road station, thence 10 miles: from Derby, through Rugby, Oxford, and Reading, to Andover Road, &c., 155 miles. Money orders issued at Andover: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 8 p.m. The living (St. Peter), a disch<sup>d</sup> vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Winchester, is valued at £10: pres. net income, £180: patron, W. Iremonger, Esq.: pres. incumbent, T. Lascelles Iremonger, 1839: contains 3,390 acres: 90 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 413: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 475: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,793: poor rates in 1838, £340. 7s.

CLATFORD (UPPER), HANTS, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> and union of Andover: 64 miles from London. (For access and postal arrangements, see above.) There is a school here, supported by the rector. The Andover Canal crosses the parish. The living (All Saints), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Winchester, is valued at £22: pres. net income, £480: patron, Rev. E. Frowd: pres. incumbent, Edward Frowd, 1830: contains 2,131 acres: 103 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 613: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 705: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £2,586: poor rates in 1838, £278. 16s. Redrice House is the seat of the Rev. Thomas Best.

CLATTERCOTT, OXFORD, an extra-parochial liberty in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Banbury—(which see for access, &c.)—intersected by the Oxford Canal: 77 miles from London, 6 from Banbury, 5 from Dray. Money orders issued at Banbury: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9½ a.m.: post closes 4½ p.m. Contains 670 acres: 1 house: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 15: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £550: poor rates in 1838, £16. 17s.

CLATWORTHY, SOMERSET, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Williton and Freemanners, union of Williton: 180 miles from London (coach road 156), 3 from Wiveliscombe, 10 from Wellington. Gt. West. Rail. through Bristol to Wellington, thence 10 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Bristol to Wellington, &c., 194 miles. Money orders issued at Wiveliscombe: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m. The living (St. Mary), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Taunton, and diocese of Bath and Wells, is valued at £13. 10s. 5d.: pres. net income, £380: patron, G. H. Carew, Esq.: pres. incumbent, William Bernard, 1810: contains 4,000 acres: 49 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 309: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, same: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £2,664: poor rates in 1838, £207. 2s.

CLAUDD-MADDOG, BRECON, a hamlet in the parish of Llan-wrtydd—(which see for access, &c.): 186 miles from London, 12 from Builth, 11 from Llandovery. Money orders issued at Builth: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 5 p.m.: post closes 4½ p.m.

Contains 55 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 341: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 392: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £706.

CLAUGHTON-WITH-GRANGE, CHESTER, a township in the parish of Bidston—(which see for access, &c.): 212 miles from London, 6 from Liverpool, 9 from Great Neston. Money orders issued at Liverpool: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 10 a.m.: post closes 5 p.m. Contains 700 acres: 37 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 240: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £666: poor rates in 1838, £27.

CLAUGHTON, LANCASTER, a township in the parish of Garstang—(which see for access, &c.): 228 miles from London, 2 from Garstang, 7 from Preston. Money orders issued at Garstang: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 5½ p.m. There is a dissenters' chapel here. Contains 3,300 acres: 139 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,068: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,228: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £2,209: poor rates in 1837, £221. 18s. Claughton Hall is the seat of Thomas Brockholes Fitzherbert, Esq., who inherited the estate under the settlement of James Hesketh Brockholes, Esq., who, like his two predecessors, died without issue, having derived his descent from Roger Brockholes, who was living in the time of Edward II. The family appears to have been settled here since the time of Henry VII.

CLAUGHTON, LANCASTER, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Lonsdale, south of the Sands, east of the river Lune: 222 miles from London (coach road 243), 7 from Lancaster, 2 from Garstang. Nor. West. Rail. through Crewe and Preston to Garstang, thence 2 miles: from Derby, through Crewe, &c., 122 miles. Money orders issued at Lancaster: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 10 a.m.: post closes 5 p.m. The living (St. Chad), a rectory in the diocese of Manchester, is valued at £9. 13s. 10d.: pres. net income, £150: patron, Trustees of the late T. Fenwick, Esq.: pres. incumbent, John Reid, 1844: contains 1,530 acres: 18 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 118: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,551: poor rates in 1838, £57. 10s.

CLAVERDON, WARWICK, a parish in Henley division of the hun<sup>d</sup> of Barlichway, union of Stratford-on-Avon: it includes the hamlets of Langley and Norton-Lindsey: 111 miles from London (coach road 98), 4 from Henley-in-Arden, 5 from Warwick. Nor. West. Rail. through Coventry to Leamington, thence 8 miles: from Derby, through Rugby and Coventry to Leamington, &c., 79 miles. Money orders issued at Warwick: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 4 p.m. The Birmingham and Stratford Canal runs through the parish. The living (St. Michael), a disch<sup>d</sup> vicarage, with the curacy of Norton-Lindsey, in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Worcester, is valued at £5. 12s. 1d.: pres. net income, £265: patron, Archdeacon of Worcester: pres. incumbent, A. A. Onslow, 1842: contains 4,147 acres: 134 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 734: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 844: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £4,468: poor rates in 1838, £299. 6s. Claverdon Cottage is the seat of Darwin Galton, Esq.

CLAVERDON (or CLAVERTON), SOMERSET, a parish in the liberty of Hampton and Claverton, union of Bath: 108 miles from London (coach road 107), 2 from Bath, 14 from Bristol. Gt. West. Rail. to Bath, thence 2 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Bristol to Bath, &c., 145 miles.

Money orders issued at Bath: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m. The living, a disch<sup>d</sup> rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Bath and Wells, is valued at £10. 6s. 10½d.: pres. net income, £215: patron, G. Vivian, Esq.: pres. incumbent, D. Davies, 1847: contains 1,180 acres: 28 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 177: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,626: poor rates in 1838, £73. 10s. Tithes commuted in 1839.

CLAVERING, ESSEX, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Clavering, union of Saffron Walden, on the river Stort: 41 miles from London (coach road 98), 4 from Bishop's Stortford, 7 from Saffron Walden.

Nor. and East. Co<sup>t</sup> Rail. to Elsenham station, thence 3 miles: from Derby, through Syston, Peterborough, and Cambridge, to Elsenham, &c., 148 miles. Money orders issued at Bishop's Stortford: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 7½ p.m. There is an Independent chapel here. The parochial charities produce about £18 a year—£10 of which is applied to the apprenticing of children; the remainder is given among the poor, together with a barrel of red herrings, distributed annually in the church, four to each married couple, two to each widow and widower, and one to each child. The living (St. Mary and St. Clement), a vicarage, with the curacy of Langley, in the diocese of Rochester, is valued at £22. 13s. 1½d.: pres. net income, £491: patron, Governor of Christ's Hospital: pres. incumbent, G. J. Brookes, 1834: contains 1,680 acres: 215 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,172: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,347: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £6,204: poor rates in 1838, £620. 7s.

CLAVERLEY, SALOP, a parish in Hales-Owen division of the hun<sup>d</sup> of Brimstree, union of Bridgenorth: 136 miles from London (coach road 139), 9 from Wolverhampton, 3 from Bridgenorth. Nor. West. Rail. through Birmingham to Wolverhampton, thence 9 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham to Wolverhampton, &c., 66 miles. Money orders issued at Wolverhampton: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9½ a.m.: post closes 6 p.m. The parochial charities, exclusive of the revenue of the free school, which is united with the national school, and has an endowment of £25 a year, amount to £51. 17s. 9d.—£10 of which is paid to the parson, and the remainder is distributed in doles to the poor. The living (All Saints) is a perpetual curacy, a peculiar not in charge, in the diocese of Lichfield: pres. net income, £300: patron, T. Whitmore, Esq.: pres. incumbent, G. H. B. Gabert, 1829: contains 7,530 acres: 329 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,669: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,919: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £11,603: poor rates in 1838, £529. 2s. Tithes commuted in 1839.

CLAWRPLWYF, MONMOUTH, a hamlet in the parish of Mynyddyslwyn—(which see for access, &c.) Contains 5,870 acres: 336 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 2,055: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 2,363.

CLAWTON, DEVON, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Black Torrington, union of Holsworthy, on the river Claw: 134 miles from London (coach road 217), 4 from Holsworthy, 8 from Launceston. Gt. West. Rail. through Bristol and Exeter to Crediton, thence 35 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Bristol to Crediton, &c., 147 miles. Money orders issued at Holsworthy: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 10 a.m.: post closes 5 p.m.---The parochial charities produce about £1. 8s. per annum.---The living, a perpetual curacy in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Totness, and diocese of Exeter, is valued at £20: pres. net income, £75: patron, Rev. T. Melhuish: pres. incumbent, T. Melhuish, 1823: contains 5,950 acres: 86 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 639: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 735: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £2,005: poor rates in 1838, £159. 12s.

CLAXBY, LINCOLN, a parish in the Wold division of the hun<sup>d</sup> of Calceworth, parts of Lindsey, union of Spilsby: 164 miles from London (coach road 137), 3 from Alford, 12 from Horncastle.---Nor. and East. Co<sup>a</sup> Rail. through Peterborough and Boston to Alford, thence 3 miles: from Derby, through Lincoln and Boston to Alford, &c., 109 miles.---Money orders issued at Alford: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9½ a.m.: post closes 6 p.m.---The living (St. Andrew) is a disch<sup>d</sup> vicarage in the diocese of Lincoln, annexed to the rectory of Wells, and having jointly a pres. net income of £372: patron, B. Dashwood: pres. incumbent, William Dodson, 1812: contains 590 acres: 12 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 132: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £839: poor rates in 1838, £54. 12s.

CLAXBY, LINCOLN, a parish in the north division of the wapentake of Walsheoft, parts of Lindsey, union of Caistor: 187 miles from London (coach road 152), 3 from Market-Raisan, 6 from Caistor.---Nor. and East. Co<sup>a</sup> Rail. to Ulceby, thence 1 mile: from Derby, through Nottingham and Lincoln, &c., 68 miles.---Money orders issued at Market-Raisan: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 10 a.m.: post closes 3 p.m.---The living (St. Mary), a disch<sup>d</sup> rectory, annexed in 1740 to that of Normanby-upon-the-Wolds, is valued at £8. 10s. 10d.: pres. net income, £844: patron, R. Atkinson, Esq.: pres. incumbent, R. Atkinson, 1820: contains 1,980 acres: 39 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 220: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £2,839: poor rates in 1838, £488. 3s.

CLAXBY-PLUCKACRE, LINCOLN, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Hill, parts of Lindsey, union of Horncastle: 156 miles from London (coach road 134), 5 from Horncastle, 6 from Spilsby.---Nor. and East. Co<sup>a</sup> Rail. through Peterborough to Tattershall, thence 8 miles: from Derby, through Nottingham and Lincoln to Tattershall, &c., 77 miles.---Money orders issued at Horncastle: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m.---The living (St. Andrew), a disch<sup>d</sup> rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Lincoln, is valued at £6. 10s. 10d.: pres. net income, £70: patron, Hon. H. Dymoke: pres. incumbent, J. B. Tyrwhitt, 1837: contains 690 acres: 4 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 29: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,250.

CLAXTON, DURHAM, a township in the parish of Greatham---(which see for access, &c.): 253 miles from London, 7 from Stockton-on-Tees.---Money orders issued at Stockton-on-Tees: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> at noon: post closes 4½ p.m.---Contains 610 acres: 6 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 52: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £822: poor rates in 1838, £47. 8s.

CLAXTON, NORFOLK, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Loddon, union of Loddon and Clavering: 124 miles from London (coach road 113), 7 from Norwich, 12 from Yarmouth.---East. Co<sup>a</sup> Rail. through Norwich to Buckenham, thence 2 miles: from Derby, through Syston, Peterborough, and Norwich, to Buckenham, &c.: 176 miles.---Money orders issued at Norwich: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 10 a.m.: post closes 5 p.m.---The parochial charities produce about £9. 6s. per annum.---The living (St. Andrew) is a vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Norfolk and diocese of Norwich: pres. net income, £60: patron, Sir C. Rich, Bart.: pres. incumbent, John Gilbert, 1838: contains 1,040 acres: 36 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 200: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £908: poor rates in 1838, £91. 14s.

CLAXTON (or LONG CLAWSON), LEICESTER, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Framland, union of Melton-Mowbray: 288 miles from London (coach road 111), 6 from Melton-Mowbray, 9 from Bottesford.---Nor. West. Rail. through Rugby and Syston to Melton-Mowbray, thence 6 miles: from Derby, through Syston to Melton, &c., 51 miles.---Money orders issued at Melton-Mowbray: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m.---Two schools here are supported by the rent of an estate lying at Frisby-on-the-Wreak, which yields £62 a year. The other benefactions amount to about £8 per annum.---The living (St. Remigius), a disch<sup>d</sup> vicarage, formerly in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Leicester, diocese of Lincoln, now in the diocese of Peterborough, is valued at £9. 10s. 2d.: pres. net income, £105: patron, T. Mitchell, Esq.: pres. incumbent, T. Mitchell, 1848: contains 3,450 acres: 157 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 838: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 964: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £5,190: poor rates in 1838, £471. 11s. Tithes commuted in 1779.

CLAXTON-ON-THE-MOOR, NORTH RIDING, YORK, a township in the parish of Bossall---(which see for access, &c.): 219 miles from London, 9 from York, 9 from North Malton.---Money orders issued at York: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 11 a.m.: post closes 4 p.m.---Contains 880 acres: 31 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 168: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,068: poor rates in 1838, £57. 12s.

CLAYBOROUGH. See CLAREBOROUGH.

CLAYBROOKE, LEICESTER, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Guthlaxton, union of Lutterworth: it includes the townships of Great Claybrooke, Little Claybrooke, Little Wigston and Wilfale, the liberty of Bittesby, and the hamlet of Ullesthorpe: 92 miles from London (coach road 94), 5 from Lutterworth, 4 from Hinckley.---Nor. West. Rail. to Ullesthorpe, thence 2 miles: from Derby, through Leicester to Ullesthorpe, &c., 44 miles.---Money orders issued at Lutterworth: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9½ a.m.: post closes 5½ p.m.---There is a school here, endowed with about £60 a year; the other charities produce about £42 a year.---The living (St. Peter), a vicarage, with Wibtoft and Wigton chapelries, in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Leicester, and formerly in the diocese of Lincoln, now in the diocese of Peterborough, is valued at £30. 10s. 5d.: pres. net income, £451: patron, the Crown: pres. incumbent, R. H. Johnson, 1816: contains 4,370 acres: 246 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,319: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,517: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £7,732: poor rates in 1838, £480. 2s.

CLAYBROOKE (GREAT), LEICESTER, a chapelry in the above parish---(which see for access, &c.): 94 miles from London.---Rent, arising from lands belonging to the poor, amounting to about £30 a year, is distributed amongst them every six months. Other benefactions produce £11. 13s. 4d., £5 of which are annually bestowed upon the hamlets of Great and Little Claybrooke.--- Contains 93 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 519: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 597: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £3,082: poor rates in 1838, £197. 2s.

CLAYBROOKE (LITTLE), LEICESTER, a township in the above parish—(which see for access, &c.): 93 miles from London.--- Contains 15 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 104: poor rates in 1838, £52. 11s.

CLAYDON, SUFFOLK, a parish in the hund<sup>d</sup> and union of Bosmere and Claydon: 72 miles from London, 4 from Ipswich, 4 from Needham.--- East. Co<sup>t</sup> Rail. to Ipswich, thence 4 miles: from Derby, through London, &c., 203 miles.--- Money orders issued at Ipswich: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 8 p.m.--- The living (St. Peter), a rectory, annexed to that of Akenham, in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Suffolk, and diocese of Norwich, is valued at £10: pres. net income, £150: patron, Rev. G. Drury: pres. incumbent, George Drury, 1846: contains 1,000 acres: 105 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 418: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 550: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,653: poor rates in 1838, £139. 4s.

CLAYDON, OXFORD, a chapelry in the parish of Cropredy—(which see for access, &c.)—close on the Oxford Canal: 65 miles from London, 5 from Woodstock, 6 from Oxford.--- Money orders issued at Woodstock: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8½ a.m.: post closes 8½ p.m.--- The living is a curacy to the vicarage of Cropredy: contains 1,160 acres: 61 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 337: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 388: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £2,016: poor rates in 1838, £111. 19s.

CLAYDON (EAST), BUCKINGHAM, a parish in the hund<sup>d</sup> of Ashendon, union of Winslow: it includes Bottle Claydon: 57 miles from London (coach road 49), 2 from Winslow, 6 from Buckingham.--- Nor. West. Rail. to Bletchley, thence 10 miles: from Derby, through Rugby to Bletchley, &c., 95 miles.--- Money orders issued at Winslow: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 7½ a.m.: post closes 6 p.m.--- The living (St. Mary) is a disch<sup>d</sup> vicarage, annexed to that of Claydon-Steeple: contains 2,160 acres: 71 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 378: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 434: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £3,705: poor rates in 1838, £352. 17s.

CLAYDON (MIDDLE), BUCKINGHAM, a parish in the hund<sup>d</sup> of Ashendon, union of Buckingham: 53 miles from London, 4 from Winslow.--- (For access and postal arrangements, see above.)--- There are six almshouses here, endowed with an improvable annual rent of £15. 12s. There are also other funds for the benefit of the poor of the three Claydons, and for apprenticing their children.--- The living (All Saints), a rectory in the same archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese, is valued at £13: pres. net income, £540: patron, Sir H. Verney, Bart.: pres. incumbent, W. R. Freemantle, 1841: contains 2,850 acres: 22 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 127: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £4,127: poor rates in 1838, £114. 11s.--- Claydon-Middle, according to Brown Willis, has been the seat of the noble family of Verney for eleven generations. They purchased the manor in the time of Henry VI., and in the reign of Henry VII. commenced erecting a spacious mansion-house, which has since become one of the most celebrated in the county. Ralph, Earl Verney, represented Bucks in several parliaments. There is in the church a monument to Sir Edward Verney, standard-bearer to King Charles I., who was killed at Edgehill.—Claydon House is the seat of Sir H. Verney, Bart., late M.P. for Buckingham, late captain in the 1st or Grenadier Guards, and who succeeded as second baronet, on the death of his father, General Sir Harry Calvert, on 3d September, 1826. Sir Henry is lineally descended from Francis Calvert, Esq. of Aldbury Hall, Hertford, from whom descended Harry Calvert, Esq., lieutenant-general in the army, and grand cross of the Bath and of the Guelphic order, and was made a baronet on December 3, 1818, and whose son, the present baronet, succeeded as above.

CLAYDON-STEEPLE (or STEEPLE-CLAYDON), BUCKINGHAM, a parish in the hund<sup>d</sup> and union of Buckingham: 54 miles from London.--- (For access and postal arrangements, see above.)--- The living (St. Michael), a vicarage, with that of East Claydon, in the diocese of Oxford, is valued at £13. 3s. 9d.: pres. net income, £300: patron, Sir H. Verney, Bart.: pres. incumbent, W. R. Freemantle, 1841: contains 3,270 acres: 176 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 849: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 991: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £4,976: poor rates in 1838, £521. 4s.

CLAYHANGER, DEVON, a parish in the hund<sup>d</sup> of Bampton, union of Tiverton: 178 miles from London (coach road 137), 5 from Wiveliscombe, 9 from Tiverton.--- Gt. West. Rail. through Bristol to Wellington, thence 8 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Bristol to Wellington, &c., 192 miles.--- Money orders issued at Wiveliscombe: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m.--- The living (St. Peter), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Exeter, is valued at £15. 17s. 3½d.: pres. net income, £278: patron, Rev. W. M. Harrison: pres. incumbent, W. M. Harrison, 1818: contains 2,320 acres: 50 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 294: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,750: poor rates in 1838, £151. 16s.

CLAYHEDON (or CLEHDON), DEVON, a parish in the hund<sup>d</sup> of Hemyock, union of Wellington, south of the Black-Down Hills: 175 miles from London (coach road 152), 12 from Collumpton, 10 from Honiton.--- Gt. West. Rail. through Bristol to Wellington, thence 5 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Bristol to Wellington, &c., 189 miles.--- Money orders issued at Collumpton: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m.--- The parochial charities produce £7. 15s. per annum.--- The living (St. Andrew), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Exeter, is valued at £38. 5s.: pres. net income, £508: patron, G. Burnaud, Esq.: pres. incumbent, H. T. Tucker, 1848: contains 4,530 acres: 141 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 849: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 976: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £3,445: poor rates in 1838, £560. 14s.

CLAYLANE, DARTMOUTH, a township in the parish of North Wingfield—(which see for access, &c.): 145 miles from London, 5 from Chesterfield, 6 from Skegby.--- Money orders issued at Chesterfield: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 10 a.m.: post closes 5 p.m.--- Contains 109 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,478: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,699: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,415: poor rates in 1838, £138. 5s.

CLAYPOLE, LINCOLN, a parish in the wapentake of Lovedeh, parts of Kesteven, union of Newark, on the Watham river: 152 miles from London (coach road 120), 5 from Newark, 16 from Lincoln.---Nor. West Rail. through Rugby and Nottingham to Newark, thence 5 miles: from Derby, through Nottingham to Newark, &c., 38 miles.---Money orders issued at Newark: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 9½ a.m.: post closes 5½ p.m.---The church is an ancient edifice, with a tower surmounted by a spire. There is a chapel here for the Wesleyan Methodists.---The living (St. Peter), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup>. and diocese of Lincoln, in two medieties, is valued, the north at £16. 8s. 4d., and the south at £15. 15s.: pres. net income, £389 and £348: patron, J. P. Plumptre, Esq., M.P.: pres. incumbent, H. W. Plumptre, 1842: contains 3,370 acres: 115 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 663: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 762: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>y</sup>. £4,323: poor rates in 1838, £121. 3s. Tithes commuted in 1769.

CLAYTHORPE, LINCOLN, a chapelry in the parish of Belleau---(which see for access, &c.): 137 miles from London, 3 from Alford, 10 from Louth.---Money orders issued at Alford: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 11 a.m.: post closes 3 p.m.---Contains 220 acres: 8 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 69: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>y</sup>. £1,253: poor rates in 1838, £29. 16s. Tithes commuted.

CLAYTON, STAFFORDSHIRE, a liberty in the parish of Stoke-upon-Trent---(which see for access, &c.): 148 miles from London, 2 from Newcastle, 10 from Cheadle.---Money orders issued at Newcastle: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 9 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m.---Contains 33 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 155.---(Other returns with the parish.)---Clayton Hall is the seat of John Ayshford Wise, Esq., who is a deputy-lieutenant and a magistrate for the counties of Devon and Stafford. Mr. Wise is descended from William Wise or Gwiss, who resided in Cornwall before the period of the Norman Conquest. Sir Thomas Wise, one of his descendants, was created a knight of the Bath on the coronation of James I. He was soon after sheriff of Devonshire. In 1620 he sat in parliament for Beer-Alston. He built the seats of Sydenham House and Mount Wise. His grandson, Sir Edward Wise, was member of the parliament which restored Charles II. He sat for Oakhampton. From him descended Ayshford Wise, Esq. of Totness, Parva, a magistrate and deputy-lieutenant, who represented Totness in parliament for many years. His son, now of Clayton Hall, succeeded him.

CLAYTON, SUSSEX, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Buttinghill, rape of Lewes, union of Cuckfield: 40 miles from London (coach road 45), 2 from Hurst-Pierpont, 7 from Steyning.---Brighton Rail. to Haywards Heath station, thence 2 miles: from Derby, through London, &c., 172 miles.---Money orders issued at Hurst-Pierpont: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 9 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m.---The living (St. John the Baptist), a rectory, with the curacy of Keymer, in the archd<sup>y</sup>. of Lewes, and diocese of Chichester, is valued at £21. 0s. 10d.: patron, Brasenose College, Oxford: pres. incumbent, J. Garbett, jun., 1835: contains 1,870 acres: 60 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 747: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 859: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>y</sup>. £1,974: poor rates in 1838, £307. 12s.---Fairs: July 5, and Sept. 26, for cattle and sheep.

CLAYTON. See SOUTH STAINLEY WITH CLAYTON.

CLAYTON, WEST RIDING, YORK, a township in the parish of Bradford---(which see for access, &c.): 194 miles from London, 3 from Bradford, 5 from Halifax.---Money orders issued at Bradford: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 10 a.m.: post closes 2½ p.m.---A chapel has lately been built here. Woollen manufacture is carried on to a very considerable extent in the township. A church, intended to accommodate 800 persons, is in the course of erection on land given for the site by John Hirst, Esq., the ecclesiastical commissioners furnishing the greater part of the funds for the building. The Methodists and Baptists have each a large chapel here. There are large stone quarries in the neighbourhood.---The living is a perpetual curacy in the diocese of Ripon: pres. net income, £100: patron, Vicar of Bradford: pres. incumbent, F. Earle, 1848: contains 1,718 acres: 1,168 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 4,347: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 4,999: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>y</sup>. £5,792: poor rates in 1837, £603. 8s.

CLAYTON WITH FRICKLEY, WEST RIDING, YORK, a parish in the northern division of the wapentake of Strathforth and Tickhill, union of Doncaster---(for access, &c., see WEST CLAYTON): 168 miles from London, 8 from Barnsley, 11 from Wakefield.---Money orders issued at Barnsley: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 9 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m.---The living, a curacy with Frickley, in the archd<sup>y</sup>. and diocese of York, is valued at £17. 3s. 10d., and having jointly a pres. net income of £73: patron, S. A. Ward, Esq.: pres. incumbent, C. E. Armstrong, 1832: contains 1,640 acres: 65 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 316: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 363: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>y</sup>. £2,390: poor rates in 1838, £108. 6s.

CLAYTON-LE-DALE, LANCASTER, a township in the parish of Blackburn---(which see for access, &c.)---east of the river Ribble: 215 miles from London, 4 from Blackburn, 10 from Preston.---Money orders issued at Blackburn: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 8½ a.m.: post closes 5½ p.m.---There is a school here, endowed with £9. 10s., for the instruction of five boys in Latin and English.---Contains 950 acres: 84 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 511: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 588: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>y</sup>. £2,436: poor rates in 1838, £261. 6s.---Clayton Hall is the seat of John Lomax, Esq., a descendant of Richard Lomax, Esq. of Pilsworth, owner of a freehold estate at Burnshawe Tower, in the vale of Todmorden, which was possessed by the family at a very remote period. The present John Lomax, Esq., was born 9th August, 1801, and succeeded his father, the late Richard Grimshaw Lomax, Esq., in January, 1837. He is a magistrate of the county.

CLAYTON-LE-MOORS, LANCASTER, a township in the parish of Whalley, intersected by the Leeds and Liverpool Canal---(which see for access, &c.): 213 miles from London, 8 from Burnley.---Money orders issued at Accrington: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 9½ a.m.: post closes 6 p.m.---There is a Roman Catholic chapel here.---The living is a perpetual curacy in the diocese of Manchester: pres. net income, £120: patron, Trustees: pres. incumbent, Joseph Wood, 1840: contains 950 acres: 377 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 2,602: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 2,992: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,999: poor rates in 1838, £350.

CLAYTON (WEST), WEST RIDING, YORK, a township in the parish of High Hoyland: 193 miles from London (coach road 167), 7 from Barnsley, 8 from Rotherham. Nor. West. Rail. through Rugby and Derby to Notton station, thence 6 miles: from Derby, through Sheffield to Notton, &c., 62 miles. Money orders issued at Barnsley: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 10½ a.m.: post closes 4½ p.m. Stuffs and fancy goods are manufactured to a considerable extent here. The Baptists and Independents have places of worship here. Contains 1,080 acres: 183 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,440: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,656: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,972: poor rates in 1838, £128. 3s. Tithes commuted in 1799-1800. Clayton Park.

CLAYTON-LE-WOODS, LANCASTER, a township in the parish of Leyland—(which see for access, &c.): 210 miles from London, 4 from Chorley, 6 from Preston. Money orders issued at Chorley: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8½ a.m.: post closes 6 p.m. There is a school here, endowed with £9 a year. Contains 1,370 acres: 158 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 795: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 914: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £2,943: poor rates in 1838, £234. 10s.

CLAYWORTH, NOTTINGHAM, a parish in the North-Clay division of the wapentake of Bassetlaw, union of East Retford, intersected by the Chesterfield Canal: it includes the township of Wyeston: 199 miles from London (coach road 146), 5 from East Retford, 6 from Bawtry. Nor. and East. Co<sup>r</sup> Rail. through Peterborough, Lincoln, and Retford, to Runskill station, thence 3 miles: from Derby, through Nottingham, Newark, and Retford, &c., 61 miles. Money orders issued at East Retford: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 10 a.m.: post closes 5 p.m. The Wesleyan Methodists have a chapel here. There is a charity school in this parish, endowed with about 32½ acres of land, the rent of which is at the disposal of the rector for that purpose, who is sole trustee. There are other charities, amounting annually to £10. 18s. The living (St. Peter), a rectory, formerly in the archd<sup>r</sup> of Nottingham, and diocese of York, now in the diocese of Lincoln, is valued at £26. 10s. 10d.: pres. net income, £604: patron, Bishop of Lincoln: pres. incumbent, T. H. Shepherd, 1810: contains 3,190 acres: 126 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 631: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, same: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £4,821: poor rates in 1838, £252.

CLEADON (or CLEVELDON). See WHITBURN, DURHAM.

CLEARWELL, GLOUCESTERSHIRE, a tithing in the parish of Newland—(which see for access, &c.): 125 miles from London, 5 from Monmouth, 7 from Chepstow. Money orders issued at Monmouth: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 10 a.m.: post closes 4 p.m. Contains 135 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 674: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 775.—(Other returns with the parish.)

CLEASBY, NORTH RIDING, YORK, a parish in the wapentake of Gilling-East, union of Darlington, on the river Tees: 267 miles from London (coach road 242), 2 from Darlington, 8 from Richmond. Nor. West. Rail. through Rugby, Derby, and York, to Darlington, thence 2 miles: from Derby, through York, &c., 135 miles. Money orders issued at Darlington: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 10 a.m.: post closes 5 p.m. This place is situated on the river Tees. The church is a low narrow edifice, rebuilt by Dr. John Robinson, Bishop of London, and one of the plenipotentiaries at the treaty of Utrecht, who also rebuilt the parsonage-house, and founded and endowed a school for six poor boys, to which the dean and chapter of Ripon are visitors. The annual amount of charities is £10. 15s. 2d. The living is a perpetual curacy, formerly in the archd<sup>r</sup> of Richmond, and diocese of Chester, now in the diocese of Ripon: pres. net income, £188: patron, Dean and Chapter of Ripon: pres. incumbent, J. Jameson, 1826: contains 33 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 188: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,246: poor rates in 1838, £59. 2s.

CLEATHAM, LINCOLN, a township in the parish of Manton—(which see for access, &c.): 148 miles from London, 1 from Kirtton, 12 from Caistor. Money orders issued at Boston: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 10½ a.m.: post closes 2½ p.m. Contains 1,210 acres: 11 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 99: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,560: poor rates in 1837, £76. 19s.

CLEATHAM, DURHAM, a township, partly in the parish of Gainsford, and partly in the parish of Staindrop—(which see for access, &c.): 244 miles from London, 4 from Barnard Castle, 13 from Darlington. Money orders issued at Darlington: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 10 a.m.: post closes 5 p.m. Contains 1,010 acres: 24 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 95: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £876: poor rates in 1837, £35. 16s.

CLEATOR (or KEKELL-TERR), CUMBERLAND, a parish in Allerdale ward, above Derwent, union of Whitehaven: 343 miles from London (coach road 294), 2 from Egremont, 3 from Whitehaven. Nor. West. Rail. through Crewe, Lancaster, and Carlisle, to Whitehaven, thence 3 miles: from Derby, through Burton, Crewe, &c., 243 miles. Money orders issued at Egremont: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 10 a.m.: post closes 5 p.m. There was once a manor-house here, said to have been burned down, in 1315, by a party of Scots, under James Douglas. The village is large, and contains some good houses. Within the parish is found coal, limestone, and iron ore; much of the lime is burnt and sent to Scotland. There are two forges, in which spades and other edge-tools are manufactured. There is a large establishment for spinning hamp and tow, making thread, &c. At Cogarth, iron ore of a superior description is found; it is five fathoms beneath the surface; and there is a vein of solid ore from 24 to 25 feet thick. In 1790, and for some years subsequent, 20,000 tons of ore were shipped every year from Whitehaven to Hull and the Carron works. The produce has much decreased of late years. In 1838, a flax-mill here employed 188 hands. There are two daily schools. The inhabitants claim a right of common on the adjoining mountain of Dent. There was formerly a Roman causeway passing through the parish from Egremont to Papcastle, but there are now few traces of it. The living (St. Leonard), a perpetual curacy in the diocese of Chester, is valued at £6. 12s.: pres. net income, £77: patron, T. R. G. Braddyll: pres. incumbent, W. Hadfield: contains 3,000 acres: 85 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 766: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 877: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £2,246: poor rates in 1837, £173. 16s.

CLECKHEATON, WEST RIDING, YORK, a chapelry in the parish of Birstal, wapentake of Morley: 5½ miles from Bradford. This village is pleasantly situated in a fertile valley, with well-wooded acclivities on either side. It has been lately much improved, and several handsome villas have been erected in the neighbourhood. The chapel is called Whitechapel. Another one was erected in 1832, at an expense of £2,387. 8s. The Independents and Wesleyans have meeting-houses in the township. The manufactures are worsted, coarse woollen goods, and machinery for carding and spinning. There is a national school for 400 children, erected in 1834: a class-room and two houses for teachers, erected in 1847. £200 of the expense, estimated at £600, was defrayed by the Lords of the Treasury. A small Roman tower formerly stood here, but there is now no trace of it remaining. The living is a perpetual curacy in the archd<sup>r</sup> and diocese of York: pres. net income, £125: patron, Miss F. M. R. Currer: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 3,317: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 3,500.

CLEE, LINCOLN, a parish in the wapentake of Bradley-Haverstoe, parts of Lindsey, union of Caistor: it includes the township of Cleethorpe: 188 miles from London (coach road 167), 2 from Grimsby, 12 from Caistor. Nor. and East. Co<sup>r</sup> Rail. through Peterborough and Boston to Grimsby, thence 2 miles: from Derby, through Nottingham, Lincoln, and Croxton, to Grimsby, &c., 101 miles. Money orders issued at Grimsby: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 7 p.m. The church contains some fine Norman piers and arches, and has an ancient circular font. The old custom of strewing the church with mown grass on Trinity Sunday is still preserved, in consequence of a bequest left for that purpose. There are here many of the circular fountains called "blow wells," deep circular pits, with a continual stream of pure water flowing from them. They are vulgarly believed to be unfathomable. The living (the Holy Trinity) is a disch<sup>d</sup> vicarage in the archd<sup>r</sup> and diocese of Lincoln: pres. net income, £93: patron, Bishop of Lincoln: pres. incumbent, C. Wildbore, 1815: contains 3,580 acres: 144 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,002: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,152: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,514: poor rates in 1838, £78. 1s.

CLEE (St. MARGARET'S), SALOP, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Munslow, union of Ludlow: 164 miles from London (coach road 146), 8 from Ludlow, 8 from Church-Stretton. Gt. West. Rail. through Oxford and Worcester to Stourbridge, thence 23 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Kidderminster to Stourbridge, &c., 102 miles. Money orders issued at Ludlow: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m. There is a Roman Catholic chapel here. The living (St. Margaret), a perpetual curacy in the archd<sup>r</sup> of Salop, and diocese of Hereford, is valued at £2. 8s. 4d.: pres. net income, £172: patron, Mrs. F. Thurstby: pres. incumbent, Jos. Cordett, 1823: contains 1,530 acres: 59 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 269: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £685: poor rates in 1838, £65. 5s.

CLEER (St.) CORNWALL, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of West, union of Liskeard: 261 miles from London (coach road 225), 3 from Liskeard, 12 from Newport. Gt. West. Rail. through Bristol and Exeter to Plymouth, thence 17 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham, Bristol, and Exeter, to Plymouth, &c., 275 miles. Money orders issued at Liskeard: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 10 a.m.: post closes 5 p.m. The church is a fine large edifice. The parish contains much granite, locally called moor-stone, and porphery. There are also several mines. There is here a consecrated fountain, with a stone cross near it; also three Druidical circles adjacent, called the Hurlers, and a large pile of rocks upon a slender base, called the Cheese Wring; "Trethery Stone," i.e. "the House of Death." In the neighbourhood is a cromlech, larger than that of Mona. The river Flowey flows through the parish. The living, a vicarage in the archd<sup>r</sup> of Cornwall, diocese of Exeter, is valued at £19. 6s. 8d.: pres. net income, £245: patron, Lord Chancellor: pres. incumbent, J. R. P. Berkeley, 1844: contains 11,260 acres: 167 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,412: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,800: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £5,448: poor rates in 1838, £489. 11s. Treworrey, formerly the seat of the Connock family, is now the residence of William Marshall, Esq.—Rosecraddock, the seat of the Rev. Geo. Pole Norris, who married Mary Anne, the sister of W. Marshall of Treworrey, Esq.

CLEETHORPE, LINCOLN, a township in the parish of Clee—which see for access, &c.): 166 miles from London, 2 from Great Grimsby, 16 from Louth. Money orders issued at Grimsby: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m. There is a fishing hamlet at the mouth of the Humber, in summer much frequented for sea-bathing. The town has been of late added to and improved. The Wesleyan Methodists have a chapel here. Contains 113 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 778: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 894: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £747: poor rates in 1838, £139. 13s.

CLEEVE-BISHOP'S (or BISHOP'S-CLEEVE), GLOUCESTER, a parish, which forms the hun<sup>d</sup> of Cleeve, union of Winchcombe: it includes the township of Bishop's-Cleeve, and the hamlets of Gotherington, Stoke-Orchard, Southam, Brockhampton and Woodmancot: 112 miles from London (coach road 99), 3 from Cheltenham, 6 from Tewkesbury. Gt. West. Rail. through Stonehouse to Cheltenham, thence 3 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham to Cheltenham, &c., 100 miles. Money orders issued at Cheltenham: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 5 p.m. The name of this place is derived from the Saxon Cliv, a steep ascent, and from its having belonged to the bishops of Worcester, who used to reside in what is now the rectory house. The church is a noble Norman edifice; the spire fell down in 1696, and in 1700 the present tower was erected. There is a chapel of ease at Stoke-Orchard in this parish. The surrounding scenery is very picturesque, having the Malvern hills at the back of the valley, and Cleeve-cliff rising to a perpendicular height of 630 feet. On the ridge of Cleeve-Clouds are traces of ancient military fortifications. There are some saline springs within the parish. The living (St. Michael), a rectory with the curacy of Stoke-Orchard, in the diocese of Gloucester and Bristol, exempt from visitation, is valued at £34. 6s. 8d.: pres. net income, £1,574: patron, Rev. W. L. Townsend: pres. incumbent, W. L. Townsend, 1830: contains 8,150 acres: 340 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,944: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 2,235: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £9,416: poor rates in 1838, £468. 8s. — Southarm House (which see) is the seat of the Earl of Ellenborough.

CLEEVE-BISHOP<sup>s</sup>, GLOUCESTER, a township in the above parish—(which see for access, &c.) —Contains 122 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 632: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 727: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £2,083: poor rates in 1838, £185. 11s.

CLEEVE (OLD), SOMERSET, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Williton and Freemanners, union of Williton, western division: 169 miles from London (coach road 158), 3 from Dunster, 5 from Minehead. —Gt. West. Rail. through Bristol to Bridgewater, thence 18 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Bristol to Bridgewater, &c., 183 miles. —Money orders issued at Dunster: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 9½ a.m.: post closes 6 p.m. —The Wesleyan Methodists have a chapel here. The parochial charities produce about £18 a year. The parish adjoins the Bristol Channel, and is full of lofty craggy cliffs, abounding with alabaster. Much kelp is gathered on the sea beach, and the town has lately been frequented by sea-bathers. A Cistercian abbey was founded here in 1188, by William de Romare, Earl of Lincoln, the revenue of which, at the dissolution, was £155. 9s. 5d. Extensive ruins of it still exist. Some portion of it is converted to a private residence, called Cleeve Abbey. —The living, a disch<sup>d</sup>. vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup>. of Taunton, and diocese of Bath and Wells, is valued at £7: pres. net income, £466: patron, Rev. W. Newton: pres. incumbent, John Boyse, 1848: contains 4,340 acres: 264 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,351: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,553: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £6,385: poor rates in 1838, £584. 6s.

CLEEVE-CHAPEL (or CHAPEL-CLEEVE), SOMERSET, a hamlet in the parish of Old-Cleeve—(which see for access, &c.) —There was once a chapel here, dedicated to the Blessed Virgin, which was much resorted to by pilgrims. Some of the ruins still remain.

CLEEVE-PRIOR, WORCESTER, a parish in the upper division of the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Oswaldslow, union of Evesham, east of the river Avon: 110 miles from London (coach road 97), 5 from Evesham, 7 from Alcester. —Gt. West. Rail. through Oxford to Evesham, thence 5 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Worcester to Evesham, &c., 89 miles. —Money orders issued at Evesham: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 10 a.m.: post closes 4½ p.m. —This village is situated on an eminence, but the ground surrounding it is flat, and sometimes subject to floods, being on the bank of the Avon. The parish contains blue limestone, and some quarries of valuable paving stone. In 1812, several gold and silver Roman coins were found here. —The living (St. Andrew), a vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup>. and diocese of Worcester, is valued at £8: pres. net income, £156: patron, Dean and Chapter of Worcester: pres. incumbent, R. D. Stillingfleet, 1812: contains 1,580 acres: 77 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 366: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 421: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £1,909: poor rates in 1838, £253. 3s. Tithes commuted in 1775.

CLEGGYRUG (or CLYGGYRUG), ANGLESEA, a township in the parish of Llanbadrig—(which see for access, &c.): 276 miles from London, 1 from Holyhead. —Money orders issued at Holyhead: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 11 a.m.: post closes 4 p.m. —Contains 88 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 386: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 444: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £1,336.

CLEMENTS (ST.), CORNWALL, a parish in the west division of the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Powder, union of Truro, in which borough part of it is included: 299 miles from London (coach road 257), 1 from Truro, 7 from St. Michael. —Gt. West. Rail. through Bristol and Exeter to Plymouth, thence 55 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Bristol, &c., 313 miles. —Money orders issued at Truro: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 9½ a.m.: post closes 6 p.m. —The parochial charities produce about £8 annually. The parish is intersected by the river Val. In 1646, Charles I. took refuge at Pwlhelli, once a castle, and the seat of the ancestors of the historian of Cornwall. There are some mineral springs here. —The living, a vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup>. of Cornwall, and diocese of Exeter, is valued at £9: pres. net income, £390: patron, Lord Chancellor: pres. incumbent, C. M. Gibson, 1839: contains 3,520 acres: 566 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 3,436: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 3,951: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £7,029: poor rates in 1837, £611. 15s.

CLEMENTS (ST.), OXFORD, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Bullington, union of Headington: it includes part of Magdalene bridge within its boundaries: 64 miles from London (coach road 57), 1 from Oxford. —Gt. West. Rail. to Oxford, thence 1 mile: from Derby, through Rugby to Oxford, &c., 96 miles. —Money orders issued at Oxford: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 9 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m. —A new church has been built by subscription in this parish, and is situated near the margin of the Cherwell. Between it and the Magdalene bridge (built over the Cherwell), a spacious and elegant set of baths has also been erected by subscription. There is an hospital here, for the residence and support of poor persons, founded by the Rev. William Stone in 1685. There are almshouses and bequests, amounting to about £400, for the relief of the poor. In 1126, Henry I. founded here an hospital for infirm lepers, which Edward III. granted to Oriel College. The remains of it are now used for stabling and a cow-house. Here were the relics of various saints, to which numerous pilgrims resorted. A branch of one of the principal Roman ways runs through this parish. —The living is a rectory in the diocese of Oxford: pres. net income, £120: patron, Lord Chancellor: pres. incumbent, J. W. Hughes, 1831: contains 580 acres: 366 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,769: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 2,034: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £1,352: poor rates in 1838, £402. 9s.

CLENCH-WARTON, NORFOLK, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Freebridge-Marsh-Land, union of Wisbeach: 124 miles from London (coach road 98), 2 from Lynn Regis, 10 from Wisbeach. —Nor. and East. Co<sup>a</sup>. Rail. through Ely to Lynn, thence 2 miles: from Derby, through Syston, Peterborough, and Wisbeach, to Lynn, &c., 117 miles. —Money orders issued at Lynn: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 8 a.m.: post closes 5½ p.m.—The living (St. Margaret), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Norwich, is valued at £14. 6s. 8d.: pres. net income, £337: patron, Mrs. Goldfrap: proca. incumbent, T. T. Upwood, 1839: contains 3,010 acres: 53 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 597: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 687: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £4,827: poor rates in 1838, £425.

CLENNELL (or CLENHILL), NORTHUMBERLAND, a township in the parish of Allenton—(which see for access, &c.): 310 miles from London, 7 from Rothbury, 14 from Alnwick.—Money orders issued at Morpeth: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 7 p.m.: post closes 8 p.m.—Contains 4 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 18: poor rates in 1838, £2. 4s.

CLENT, STAFFORD, a parish, formerly in the south division of the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Seisdon, union of Bromsgrove, in the above county, but included in Worcestershire, to which county it is now annexed: 144 miles from London (coach road 120), 3 from Stourbridge, 6 from Kidderminster.—Gt. West. Rail. through Oxford and Worcester to Stourbridge, thence 3 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Kidderminster to Stourbridge, &c., 82 miles.—Money orders issued at Stourbridge: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 9½ a.m.: post closes 5 p.m.—The church lands produce a rent of about £67 a year; Maris and Cole's charity about £35, and the other parochial benefactions about £8 a year.—The living (St. Leonard), a vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Worcester, with the perpetual curacy of Rowley Regis annexed, is valued at £8. 16s. 5½d.: pres. net income, £417: patron, Lord Chancellor: pres. incumbent, Ad. Hopkins, 1824: contains 2,520 acres: 188 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 918: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,055: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £4,337: poor rates in 1838, £336. 10s.

CLEOBURY-MORTIMER, SALOP, a parish and market town in the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Stottesden, union of Cleobury-Mortimer, on the river Rea: 144 miles from London (coach road 137), 6 from Bewdley, 13 from Ludlow.—Gt. West. Rail. through Oxford to Kidderminster, thence 11 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham to Kidderminster, &c., 82 miles.—Money orders issued at Bewdley: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 8½ a.m.: post closes 4 p.m.—In the time of Leland, this place was only a poor village, but it has since then considerably increased. Its name is derived from its having been formerly the property of the family of Mortimer. It is situated on the river Rea, and consists of one large street. The church is a neat Gothic structure, formerly belonging to one of the mitred abbeys. A strong castle once existed here, erected by Hugh de Montgomery, but it was entirely destroyed during the wars between Henry III. and the barons. The Wesleyan Methodists and Roman Catholics have chapels not far from the town. Sir S. W. Childe, a master in Chancery, founded and richly endowed the principal free school in 1714, bequeathing it £3,500 for its use. It has now an annual revenue, produced from the founder's and some other benefactions, of £472. There are 110 scholars, 15 boys and 9 girls clothed, and 2 boys apprenticed. The heir of the founder is visitor to, and has the management of, the school. There are other small charities in this parish. Limestone, coal, and iron-ore are found in the Clee-hills, in the neighbourhood. The poor-law commissioners have erected a workhouse here for the union. The Cleobury-Mortimer poor-law union comprises 17 parishes, extending over an area of 88 square miles, with a population of about 9,000. This is the birth-place of Robert Langland or John Malverne, who wrote the "Visions of Pierce Plowman," a severe satire on the clergy of the fourteenth century.—The living (St. Mary), a vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Salop, and diocese of Hereford, is valued at £13: pres. net income, £448: patron, W. L. Childe, Esq.: pres. incumbent, Edward Childe, 1846: contains 7,670 acres: 336 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,730: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,990: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £8,210: poor rates in 1838, £690. 16s.—Market day, Wednesday. Fairs: April 21; Trinity Monday; and October 27.

CLEOBURY (NORTH), SALOP, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Stottesden, union of Bridgenorth: 161 miles from London (coach road 144), 8 from Bridgenorth, 8 from Market Wenlock.—Gt. West. Rail. through Oxford and Worcester to Stourbridge, thence 20 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Kidderminster to Stourbridge, &c., 99 miles.—Money orders issued at Bridgenorth: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 10 a.m.: post closes 4½ p.m.—The living (St. Peter), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Salop, and diocese of Hereford, is valued at £5. 12s. 3d.: pres. net income, £180: patron, Rev. J. B. Webb: pres. incumbent, John B. Webb, 1848: contains 1,710 acres: 34 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 176: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £727: poor rates in 1838, £63. 8s.

CLERKENWELL, MIDDLESEX, a large district or out-parish of the city of London, Finsbury division of the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Ossulston—(for which, see LONDON.)—The living is a perpetual curacy in the diocese of London: pres. net income, £50: patron, the Inhabitants: pres. incumbent, W. E. L. Faulkner, 1839: contains 320 acres: 6,015 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 56,756: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 65,156: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £149,361: poor rates in 1838, £15,766.

CLEATHER (St.), CORNWALL, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Lesnewth, union of Camelford, on the river Inny: 262 miles from London (coach road 221), 9 from Launceston, 10 from Bodmin.—Gt. West. Rail. through Bristol and Exeter to Plymouth, thence 18 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham, Bristol, and Exeter, to Plymouth, &c., 276 miles.—Money orders issued at Launceston: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 11½ a.m.: post closes 12½ p.m.—The living, a disch<sup>d</sup>. vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Cornwall, and diocese of Exeter, is valued at £6. 11s. 10½d.: pres. net income, £165: patrons, J. Carpenter and T. J. Phillips: pres. incumbent, H. J. Morshead, 1837: contains 3,540 acres: 29 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 221: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £1,998: poor rates in 1837, £138. 14s.

CLETTERWOOD, MONTGOMERY, a township in the parish of Buttington, South Wales—(which see for access, &c.): 173 miles from London, 3 from Welchpool, 8 from Montgomery.—Money orders issued at Welchpool: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 11 a.m.: post closes 1 p.m.—Contains 42 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 275: poor rates in 1838, £177. 14s.

CLEVEDON, SOMERSET, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup>.

of Portbury, union of Badminton, on the coast of the Severn, a few miles south-west of the mouth of the Avon: 184 miles from London (coach road 141), 12 from Bristol, 10 from Axbridge. —Gt. West. Rail. through Bristol to Clevedon station: from Derby, through Birmingham and Bristol to Clevedon, 147 miles. —Money orders issued at Bristol: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 11 a.m.: post closes 4 p.m. —Clevedon is so called from its situation at the extremity of a clive, or cliff, and in a dun, or valley, declining towards the Bristol Channel. The church is situated on a rock overhanging the shore. The mansion-house is situated to the south of the village. It is a fine old structure. The surrounding scenery is wildly 'scared with craggy rocks, intermixed with fine herbage.' There are pathways along the edge of the cliffs, commanding beautiful views of the Bristol Channel. Clevedon is now comparatively celebrated as a bathing-place, and has the advantage over Weston of more picturesque scenery, although it does not possess a sandy beach. The air is mild, and it is altogether suited as a residence for invalids. In 1824, the annual amount expended in charities was £21. 10s. Sir Charles Wake, of Clevedon, is descended from Baldwin Lord Wake, founder of the abbey of Brun. From him descended Sir Thomas Wake, who fought with the Black Prince at the battle of Najara, and from him, Sir Thomas Wake, Knt., M.P., gentleman of the bed-chamber, and member of the privy council to Edward IV. He was a very great landed proprietor, and hence was called the 'Great Wake.' His descendant, Baldwin Wake, was created a baronet in 1621. His son, Sir John, succeeded him, and mortgaged his estate to raise a troop of horse for Charles I. From him descended the present Sir Charles Wake, born in 1791, who succeeded his father, as tenth baronet, on 21st August, 1815. —The living (St. Andrew), a disch<sup>d</sup>. vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Bath, and diocese of Bath and Wells, is valued at £15. 14s. 4d.: pres. net income, £420: patron, Bishop of Gloucester and Bristol: pres. incumbent, W. N. Pedder, 1830: contains 2,970 acres: 197 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,748: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 2,010: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>y</sup> £6,145: poor rates in 1838, £224. 12s.

CLEVEDON-MILTON (or MILTON-CLEVEDON), SOMERSET, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Bruton, union of Shepton-Mallet: 125 miles from London, 3 from Bruton. —Gt. West. Rail. through Chippenham to Westbury, thence 15 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham, Bristol, and Chippenham, to Westbury, &c., 185 miles. —Money orders issued at Bruton: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 9½ a.m.: post closes 5½ p.m. —The living (St. James), a disch<sup>d</sup>. vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Wilts, and diocese of Bath and Wells, is valued at £6. 13s. 4d.: pres. net income, £263: patron, Earl of Ilchester: pres. incumbent, T. Selwyn, 1811: contains 1,320 acres: 45 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 213: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>y</sup> £1,702: poor rates in 1838, £45.

CLEVELAND-PORT, NORTH RIDING, YORK, a hamlet in the parish of Ormesby. —There is an independent chapel here. This district, called Cleveland, or Cliffland, is partly surrounded by the Tees and the German ocean, and was formerly called Cargo Fleet, and through it most of the produce of Cleveland is shipped and sent coastwise to London, Newcastle, and other markets. The business done is considerable, amounting, it is said, to as much as £1,000 a day. The name of the district is derived either from its high cliffs, or from its strong clay soil, which almost justifies the old doggerel,

"Cleveland in the clay,
Brings in two soles,
And carries one away."

Thomas Wentworth, fourth baron of Cleveland, was created Earl Cleveland in 1626, but he died without male issue, and the title became extinct, until Charles II. revived it in favour of his mistress, Villiers, whom he created Duchess of Cleveland. The dukedom became extinct in 1774, and remained so until revived in 1833 in favour of William, Marquis of Cleveland.

CLEVELEY, OXFORD, a hamlet in the parish of Enstone Church—(which see for access, &c.): 73 miles from London, 1 from Neat Enstone, 7 from Woodstock. —Money orders issued at Enstone: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 7½ a.m.: post closes 8½ p.m. —Contains 46 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 198. —(Other returns with the parish.)

CLEVELEY, LANCASTER, a township, part of it in the parish of Cockerham, and part of it in the parish of Garstang—(which see for access, &c.): 233 miles from London, 4 from Garstang, 7 from Lancaster. —Money orders issued at Garstang: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 8 a.m.: post closes 5 p.m. —Contains 530 acres: 26 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 124: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>y</sup> £691: poor rates in 1837, £93. 17s.

CLEVERTON. See LEA and CLEVERTON.

CLEWER, BERKS, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Ripplesmere, union of Windsor, on the southern bank of the Thames: 22 miles from London (coach road 24), 1 from Windsor, 6 from Maidenhead. —Gt. West. Rail. through Slough to Windsor, thence 1 mile: from Derby, through London, &c., 154 miles. —Money orders issued at Windsor: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 7½ a.m.: post closes 9 p.m. —There is a Roman Catholic chapel here. —The living (St. Andrew), a rectory, formerly in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Berks, and diocese of Salisbury, now in the diocese of Oxford, is valued at £14. 1s. ¾d.: pres. net income, £460: patron, Eton College: pres. incumbent, T. T. Carter, 1844: contains 1,490 acres: 541 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 3,975: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 4,550: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>y</sup> £4,872: poor rates in 1838, £1,268. 3s. The tithes are commuted. —Fair, May 29.

CLEY. See COCKLEY-CLEY.

CLEY, NEAR THE SEA, NORFOLK, a parish, market town, and seaport in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Holt, union of Erpingham, on the river Glaven: 151 miles from London, 5 from Holt, 8 from Wells. —Nor. and East. Co<sup>r</sup>. Rail. through Peterborough and Dereham to Fakenham, thence 12 miles: from Derby, through Syston, Peterborough, and Dereham, to Fakenham, &c., 171 miles. —Money orders issued at Holt: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 8½ a.m.: post closes 2½ p.m. —Cley, near the Sea, is a small seaport, and never appears to have been of much importance, the only circumstance for which it is distinguished being the following:—In 1406, James, son of Robert Bruce, King of Scotland, and heir apparent to the crown, whilst on a voyage to France, was forced on this coast, and detained by the bad weather; and Camden says—the seamen of the place made a present of him to King Henry IV. The king being told by the Earl of Orkney, the prince's protector, that he was going to France to be educated, My brother of Scotland, he said, might as well have sent him to me, for I can speak French. The prince and earl were confined in the Tower for seventeen years, and released in the third year of the reign of Henry VI., when the prince immediately ascended the Scottish throne. The town is situated on the river Glaven, about one mile from the beach. The lord of the manor is John W. Tomlinson, Esq., who has a neat mansion on an eminence overlooking the town. The Wesleyan and Primitive Methodists have each places of worship here. The workhouse is now divided into tenements for poor families. Fifty-two acres of land were allotted to the poor in the enclosure of 1812. The port has jurisdiction for thirty miles along the coast. The harbour is narrow and shallow, but joins the Blakeney channel in its course to the sea. The construction of a pier-harbour on the beach is contemplated, so as to form a refuge for vessels passing this part of the coast. The custom-house for Blakeney, Cley, and Cromer, and other small fishing towns, is situated here. About 27,000 quarters of corn, and 10,000 sacks of flour, are annually exported, and large quantities of coals are yearly imported. About seventy vessels are registered as belonging to this port, besides upwards of 300 fishing vessels, within the limits of its jurisdiction. Most of the latter, however, are at Cromer, and other small fishing places. A great part of this parish consists of salt-marsh. The living (St. John), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Norwich, is valued at £22. 13s. 4d.: pres. net income, £338: patron, J. W. Tomlinson: pres. incumbent, Charles Codd, 1820: contains 1,980 acres: 189 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 828: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 952: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £1,846: poor rates in 1837, £420. 3s. Fair: last Friday and Saturday in July, for toys, &c.

CLEYGATE, SURREY, a manor in the parish of Thames-Ditton—(which see for access, &c.)—Contains 120 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 814: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 936.—(Other returns with the parish.)

CLIBURN, WERTMORELAND, a parish in West ward, union of West ward, on the Lyvennet river: 279 miles from London (coach road 277), 6 from Penrith, 7 from Appleby.—Nor. West. Rail. through Crewe and Lancaster to Clifton station, thence 3 miles: from Derby, through Crewe, &c., 179 miles.—Money orders issued at Penrith: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 11 a.m.: post closes 4 p.m.—The living (St. Cuthbert), a disch<sup>d</sup> rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Carlisle, is valued at £9. 1s. 5½d.: pres. net income, £188: patron, Bishop of Carlisle: pres. incumbent, W. Jackson, 1840: contains 1,360 acres: 45 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 251: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £2,117: poor rates in 1838, £69. 9s. Tithes commuted in 1806.

CLIDDESSEN, HANTS, a parish in the upper half-hund<sup>d</sup> of Basingstoke, union of Basingstoke: 50 miles from London (coach road 48), 2 from Basingstoke, 9 from Kingsclere.—Sou. West.

Rail. to Basingstoke, thence 2 miles: from Derby, through Rugby, Oxford, and Reading, to Basingstoke, &c., 137 miles.—Money orders issued at Basingstoke: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 9 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m.—The living, a rectory in the diocese of Winchester, consolidated with the rectory of Farleigh Wallop, is valued at £10. 16s. 3d.: pres. net income, £685: patron, Earl of Portsmouth: pres. incumbent, J. W. Bryan, 1840: contains 2,150 acres: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 306: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 352.—Hackwood Park is the seat of Lord Bolton. The park is very extensive, boldly irregular, and partakes of the beautiful character of the neighbouring chalk downs. The scenery is consequently very picturesque, and the views are broken by large plantations of fine oak, ash, and beech trees, and thorns of extraordinary growth and luxuriance, the soil being particularly congenial to the beech-tree, which rises to a great height, with boles of immense girth, and large spreading branches; and planted, as this noble tree is, in large patches in several parts of the park, the whole assumes at a distance the appearance of a forest. The mansion is situated toward the western boundary of the park, and is encompassed by about a hundred acres of pleasure-grounds, disposed into lawn, terraces, shrubberies, and a noble wood, in which there are some of the finest forest trees in the whole domain. Over many of these the ivy has been suffered to grow, until it has overtopped the highest twigs, and hangs in graceful festoons among the lower branches, giving to the whole an air of singular gracefulness and beauty, which, even in winter, tends greatly to animate and enliven the scene. The pleasure-grounds are supposed to have been cut out in the wood which communicated by avenues with old Basing House, at one time appropriated to the sport of hawking, thence called Hawking Wood, corrupted into Hackwood. The park is stocked with a fine herd of about 300 deer. The mansion was originally a hunting-lodge, built for Queen Elizabeth, and used as a place of assembly before the sport, and as a banqueting place afterwards; the lodge now forms the central part of the building. The mansion is superbly furnished, and contains many admirable portraits. Lord Bolton derives his descent from Charles Paulett or Powlett, fifth Duke of Bolton. His father, the late baron, having filled several distinguished offices in the service of the state, was elevated to the peerage, in 1797, as Baron Bolton of Bolton in Yorkshire, in which title he was succeeded in 1807 by the present peer.

CLIEVELOAD, WORCESTER, a hamlet in the parish of Powick—(which see for access, &c.): 3 miles from Worcester.—Money orders issued at Worcester: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 9 a.m.: post closes 5 p.m.—The chapel has long been in ruins. The living is valued at £1. 17s. 1d.: contains 6 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 31.—(Other returns with the parish.)

CLIFF (SOUTH), EAST RIDING, YORK, a township in the parish of North Cave: 190 miles from London, 2 from North Cave.—(For access and postal arrangements, see above.)—Contains 1,700 acres: 22 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 136: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £965: poor rates in 1838, £14. 10s.

CLIFF (NORTH), EAST RIDING, YORK, a township in the parish of Sancton—(which see for access, &c.): 190 miles from London, 3 from Market-Weighton, 16 from York. Money orders issued at Market-Weighton: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 10½ a.m.: post closes 2 p.m. Contains 1,480 acres: 11 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 74: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup>. £728: poor rates in 1838, £19s. 8s.

CLIFFE WITH LUND, EAST RIDING, YORK, a township in the parish of Hemingborough—(which see for access, &c.): 185 miles from London, 4 from Selby, 11 from York. Money orders issued at Selby: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 9½ a.m.: post closes 5 p.m. Contains 2,280 acres: 94 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 540: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 621: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup>. £2,760: poor rates in 1838, £106. 12s.

CLIFFE, KENT, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Shamwell, lathe of Aylesford, union of North Aylesford, south of the river Thames: 36 miles from London (coach road 29), 5 from Rochester, 7 from Chatham. Gravesend Rail. to Rochester, thence 5 miles: from Derby, through London, &c., 168 miles. Money orders issued at Rochester: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 9 a.m.: post closes 5½ p.m. This place was once a market town, and a fair is still held, on the 29th of October, for cheese, home-spun linen, and turner's ware. There is a Roman Catholic chapel here. Cliffe was the birth-place of William Law, the author of the "Serious Call;" but more noted as the translator of the works of that extraordinary mystic and rosicrucian, Jacob Boehme, or Behme, with whose doctrines he became strongly tinged, and, after the study of whose works, he wrote "The Spirit of Prayer," "The Spirit of Love," and "The way to Divine Knowledge;" works which are much admired at the present day by many of the Society of Friends. He died in 1761. The living (St. Helen), a rectory in the diocese of Rochester, a peculiar, is valued at £50: pres. net income, £1,297: patron, Archbishop of Canterbury: pres. incumbent, James Croft, 1818: contains 5,400 acres: 163 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 842: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 968: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup>. £5,894: poor rates in 1837, £782. 19s. Tithes commuted.

CLIFFE (West), KENT, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Bewsborough, lathe of St. Augustine, union of Dover: 90 miles from London (coach road 72), 2 from Dover, 9 from Folkstone. Sou. East. Rail. to Dover, thence 2 miles: from Derby, through London, &c., 222 miles. Money orders issued at Dover: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 9 a.m.: post closes 5½ p.m. The living (St. Peter) is a dioc<sup>n</sup> vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Canterbury: pres. net income, £34: patron, Dean and Chapter of Canterbury: contains 1,090 acres: 10 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 116: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup>. £1,024: poor rates in 1838, £83.

CLIFFE, NORTH RIDING, YORK, a township in the parish of Manfield—(which see for access, &c.): 6 miles from Darlington. Money orders issued at Darlington: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 10 a.m.: post closes 5 p.m. Contains 970 acres: 12 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 54: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup>. £460: poor rates in 1837, £7. 12s.

CLIFFE (or St. THOMAS-AT-CLIFFE), SUSSEX, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Ringmer, union of Lewes: 51 miles from London (coach road 50), 1 from Lewes, 10 from Hailsham. Brighton Rail. to Lewes, thence 1 milc: from Derby, through London, &c., 183 miles. Money orders issued at Lewes: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 9 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m. The living, a rectory in the diocese of Chichester, is valued at £5. 12s. 6d.: pres. net income, £130: patron, Archbishop of Canterbury: pres. incumbent, J. C. Russell, 1841: contains 229 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,545: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,776: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup>. £2,241: poor rates in 1838, £606. 3s.

CLIFFE-REGIS (or KING'S CLIFFE), NORTHAMPTON, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Willybrook, union of Oundle, on a branch of the river Nen: 110 miles from London (coach road 85), 6 from Wansford, 12 from Peterborough. Nor. West. Rail. through Roade and Northampton to Wansford, thence 6 miles: from Derby, through Leicester, Weedon, and Northampton, to Wansford, &c., 121 miles. Money orders issued at Wansford: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 8 a.m.: post closes 7½ p.m. The living (All Saints), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Northampton, and diocese of Peterborough, is valued at £13. 16s. 3d.: pres. net income, £525: patron, Earl of Westmoreland: pres. incumbent, H. K. Bonney, 1810: contains 4,460 acres: 229 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,278: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,469: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup>. £3,486: poor rates in 1838, £368. 13s. S. W., Blatherwycke Park—(for which see BLATHERWYCKE.)

CLIFFE-PYPARD (or CLEEVE-PEPPER), WILTS, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Kingsbridge, union of Cricklade and Wootton-Basset: 85 miles from London (coach road 84), 4 from Wootton-Basset, 8 from Swindon. Gt. West. Rail. to Swindon, thence 8 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Stonehouse to Swindon, &c., 137 miles. Money orders issued at Wootton-Basset: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 9 a.m.: post closes 8 p.m. The living (St. Peter), a vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Wilts, and diocese of Sarum, is valued at £9: pres. net income, £500: patron, H. N. Goddard: pres. incumbent, G. A. Goddard, 1839: contains 3,960 acres: 155 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 933: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, same: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup>. £6,356: poor rates in 1838, £719. 6s. Cliffe-Pypard is the seat of Horatio Nelson Goddard, Esq.

CLIFFORD, WEST RIDING, YORK, a township in the parish of Bramham, south of the river Warfe—(which see for access, &c.): 195 miles from London, 3 from Wetherby, 3 from Tadcaster. Money orders issued at Wetherby: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 8½ a.m.: post closes 4 p.m. Contains 1,500 acres: 219 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,566: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,801: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup>. £2,616: poor rates in 1838, £198. 13s.

CLIFFORD, HEREFORD, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Huntington, union of Hay, south-east of the river Wye: it includes part of the township of Vowmine: 160 miles from London (coach road 156), 3 from Hay, 11 from Weobly. Gt. West. Rail. through Oxford to Worcester, thence 42 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham to Worcester, &c., 113 miles. Money orders issued at Hay: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 9 a.m.: post closes 5½ p.m. The children of this parish have a right to attend the free school at Dorstone. A benefaction, left in 1722, now producing £360 per annum, has been apportioned by the Court of Chancery among the poor of this place, and of Peterchurch. The other parochial charities produce about £12. 11s. a year. There are still some remains of the ancient baronial residence upon a bold height which overlooks the Wye. There was formerly a cell of Cluniac monks here, subordinate to the priory at Lewes. — The living (St. Mary), a disch<sup>d</sup> vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Hereford, is valued at £4. 10s.: pres. net income, £300: patron, Rev. J. Trumper: pres. incumbent, John Trumper, 1818: contains 6,920 acres: 164 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 892: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,026: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £9,720: poor rates in 1838, £361. 9s. — Clifford Castle is the seat of the Hon. Edward Southwell Russel.

CLIFFORD-CHAMBERS, GLOUCESTER, a parish, locally situated in the upper division of the hun<sup>d</sup> of Kiftsgate, but included in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Tewkesbury, union of Stratford-on-Avon: 105 miles from London (coach road 98), 2 from Stratford-on-Avon, 10 from Evesham. — Gt. West. Rail. through Oxford and Moreton-le-Marsh to Stratford-on-Avon, thence 2 miles: from Derby, through Rugby to Southam, 63, thence 18 miles. — Money orders issued at Stratford-on-Avon: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m. — The living (St. Helen), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Gloucester, and diocese of Gloucester and Bristol, is valued at £18. 15s. 7½d.: pres. net income, £172: patron, Rev. T. G. Tyndall: pres. incumbent, F. Annesley, 1845: contains 1,530 acres: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 309: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 355: poor rates in 1838, £163. 2s. Tithes commuted in 1779.

CLIFTON, BEDFORD, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Clifton, union of Biggleswade, west of the river Ivel: 44 miles from London (coach road 42), 4 from Biggleswade, 2 from Shefford. — Gt. Nor. Rail. to Biggleswade, thence 4 miles: from Derby, through Rugby to Bedford, 113, thence 10 miles. — Money orders issued at Biggleswade: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m. — The living (All Saints), a rectory, formerly in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Bedford, and diocese of Lincoln, now in the diocese of Ely, is valued at £20. 2s. 11d.: pres. net income, £439: patron, Rev. D. J. Olivier: pres. incumbent, D. J. Olivier, 1827: contains 1,420 acres: 135 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 865: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 994: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £2,417: poor rates in 1838, £324. 16s. Tithes commuted 2d William IV. c. 4. — Clifton Lodge is the seat of Henry Palmer, Esq.

CLIFTON (or ROCK SAVAGE), CHESTER, a township in the parish of Runcorn, north of the river Weaver—(which see for access, &c.): 184 miles from London, 8 from Warrington, 10 from Northwich. — Money orders issued at Warrington: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9½ a.m.: post closes 5½ p.m. — Contains 640 acres: 2 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 74: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £1,243: poor rates in 1838, £72. 16s.

CLIFTON WITH CAMPTON, DERBY, a township in the parish of Ashbourne, bounded on the west by the river Dove—(which see for access, &c.): 137 miles from London, 2 from Ashbourne, 14 from Derby. — Money orders issued at Ashbourne: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m.

— Contains 1,120 acres: 179 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 839: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 965: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £2,932: poor rates in 1838, £257. 10s.

CLIFTON, GLOUCESTER, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Barton-Regis, union of Clifton, north of the river Avon: 119 miles from London (coach road 120), 1 from Bristol, 12 from Marshfield. — Gt. West. Rail. to Bristol, thence 1 mile: from Derby, through Birmingham to Bristol, &c., 132 miles. — Money orders issued at Bristol: London letters delivered 9 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m. — Clifton is supposed by some to have been in existence before the Roman invasion, as a British town, called Caeroder, or the city of the chasm; and its present appellation is derived from its beautiful and romantic situation on the declivity and on the summit of a precipitous cliff, which appears to have been separated from a chain of rocks on the Somersetshire coast, by some convulsion of nature. The course of the river Avon passes through this natural chasm, separating the counties of Gloucester and Somerset, and rising at spring-tides to the height of 46 feet. The lower part of the town, called the Hot Wells, was much celebrated for its hot springs, first noticed by William of Worcester in 1480, and which had become very celebrated in 1632. The church of Clifton is a spacious edifice, built in 1822; and at the Hot Wells is a church, recently erected, dedicated to the Holy Trinity, also a private Episcopal chapel. The town, properly called Clifton, stands on the south-western brow of the hill, and now contains numerous splendid edifices of Bath stone, all recent erections. There is here a well, issuing from the rock at a lower elevation, into a well 320 feet deep, sunk in the solid rock in 1772, from which 30,000 gallons of water are daily raised, and, being elevated to an additional height of 120 feet, supply most of the houses on the hill. Adjoining the water-works are baths, a pump-room, reading-room, and public library. On the summit of St. Vincent's Rock, so called from its being formerly the site of a chapel dedicated to St. Vincent, a splendid view is obtained of the extensive downs and cliffs, and the opposite shore, with the Leigh woods. There is also an observatory, formerly a snuff-mill, but altered by Mr. West, which commands an extensive prospect, with a distant view of the Bristol Channel and Welsh mountains. On this rock there has also been commenced a suspension bridge across the Avon, designed by Mr. Brunel. Many of the rocks are continually being blasted, as they consist of hard limestone, and are used for the roads in every part of the kingdom within reach by water carriage. Large quantities are also burnt for lime, which is much superior to other kinds. The Wesleyan Methodists, Roman Catholics, and those in connection with the Countess of Huntingdon's followers, have chapels here. The Clifton Ark is a floating chapel for seamen. The part of the parish between Rownham Ferry and Limekiln Dock is within the jurisdiction of the city of Bristol; the remainder is within the jurisdiction of the Barton-Regis division of the county of Gloucester. Debts, from £2 to any amount under that, for which arrest on mesne process may issue, is within the jurisdiction of the Bristol court of requests. The freeholders have been disfranchised for the county of Gloucester, and are entitled, together with the £10 householders, to vote for the representation of Bristol, although they are chargeable to the county rate, and liable to serve on juries in the county of Gloucester. This is the birth-place of Ann Yearsly, who, though only a milk-woman, was possessed of great poetical talent. She died at Melksham, in Wilts, in 1806. The late Sir Humphrey Davy began the world at this place as assistant to Dr. Beddoes; and Mrs. Hannah More here passed the last days of her life. Several Roman and Saxon remains have been found here, from some of which it would appear probable that it was anciently the Roman station Abone. The living (St. Andrew), a perpetual curacy in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Bristol, and diocese of Gloucester and Bristol, is valued at £6: pres. net income £782: patron, Simeon's Trustees: pres. incumbent, John Hensman, 1847: contains 910 acres: 1,605 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 14,117: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 16,303: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £4,535: poor rates in 1837, £6,426. Races, April. Clifton is the seat of Cann de Wilton, Esq. This gentleman is in the possession of some ancient deeds relating to the lordships of Lanquian, Lanbrythyan, and Landough, held by his ancestors under the names of De Wintonia, De Wincestria, and Wylcolyna aut Wylklyn, dated from 1327 to 1750. Robert de Wintonia or Wincestria, came to Glamorgan with Robert Fitzhamon, and was lord of the manor of Lanquian, near Cowbridge, where he built a castle, the ruins of which are still visible. The valley beneath it is still called Pant Wilkyn (Wilkyn's vale). His grandson, the Rev. Thomas Wilkyn, was rector of Porthkerry and St. Mary church, and was succeeded by his son, the Rev. Roger Wilkins, A.M., rector of St. Mary church, and was succeeded by his son, the Rev. Thomas Wilkins, LL.B., rector of Llanmaes and St. Mary church, and prebendary of Llandaff. His grandson was Cann Wilkins, Esq. (whose eldest son Thomas assumed the surname and arms of Morgan, was magistrate for Somersetshire, and high sheriff of that county in 1787), who was succeeded by his youngest son, the Rev. George Wilkins, rector of St. Michael's, Bristol, who, at his death, was succeeded by the present Cann de Wilton, Esq., who, together with the rest of the family, in 1839, assumed, by sign-manual, their ancient surname of De Winton. He is a magistrate and deputy-lieutenant of the counties of Glamorgan and Somerset.

CLIFTON WITH SALWICK, LANCASTER, a township in the parish of Kirkham, at the mouth of the river Ribble—(which see for access, &c.): 222 miles from London, 4 from Preston, 10 from Garstang. Money orders issued at Preston: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m. Contains 3,010 acres: 78 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 538: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 619: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £5,874: poor rates in 1838, £324. 3s. Tithes commuted in 1839.

CLIFTON, LANCASTER, a township in the parish of Eccles, close on the Bury and Bolton Canal—(which see for access, &c.): 184 miles from London, 5 from Manchester, 7 from Bolton. Money orders issued at Manchester: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 10 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m. Contains 820 acres: 193 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,360: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,564: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £2,952:

VOL. I.

poor rates in 1838, £269. 7s. Clifton and Lytham Hall are the seats of Thomas Clifton, Esq. It is impossible to ascertain the exact time when the first ancestor seated himself at Clifton; but it is most probable that either Roger de Poictore, or Hervens, the great grantees of the crown, granted some of their immense possessions to their officers and followers, and that one of them seating himself at Clifton, according to the custom of the period, took his patronymic of Clifton from his residence. The first ancestor of whom there is any record is William de Clifton, who held ten caracutes of land in the hundred of Amounderness in 1257. From him descended Sir Thomas Clifton, who was created a baronet in 1662. In 1689 he was accused of treason, together with some other Catholic gentlemen of rank, but all of them were acquitted. His descendant, John Clifton, Esq. of Clifton, Westley, and Lytham, died in 1832, and was succeeded by his son, the present Thomas Clifton, Esq., who served, during the war, in the 14th regiment of Dragoons, under the Duke of Wellington, in Portugal and Spain. He is a magistrate and deputy-lieutenant for the county of Lancaster.

CLIFTON WITH GLAPTON, NOTTINGHAM, a parish in the north division of the wapentake of Rushcliffe, union of Basford, on the eastern bank of the river Trent: 134 miles from London (coach road 123), 4 from Nottingham, 16 from Mansfield. Nor. West. Rail. through Rugby to Nottingham, thence 4 miles: from Derby, through Nottingham, &c., 21 miles. Money orders issued at Nottingham: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 7½ p.m. The living (St. Mary), a rectory, formerly in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Nottingham, and diocese of York, now in the diocese of Lincoln, is valued at £21. 6s. 10½d.: pres. net income, £500: patron, Sir J. Clifton, Bart.: pres. incumbent, E. P. Denniss, 1845: contains 1,980 acres: 82 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 419: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 428: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £2,723: poor rates in 1837, £95. 19s. Clifton Hall is the seat of Sir Juckes Granville Clifton Juckes, Bart., which has beautiful gardens, and one of the finest avenues in the kingdom, called Clifton Grove. The surname of the very ancient family of Clifton is derived from the hamlet of Cliffe-ton, or Clifton, which, temp. Edward I., was purchased from John de Soleni by Sir Gervase de Clifton, Knt., sheriff of the counties of Nottingham and Derby in 1279, and seven subsequent years; and in 1286, and the six subsequent years, was sheriff of Yorkshire. His descendant, Sir Gervase Clifton, Knt., was of great authority in peace and war, but so affable as to be styled "Gentle Sir Gervase," which title was given him by Queen Elizabeth. His grandson, Gervase Clifton, Esq., was made a knight of the Bath at the coronation of James I., and created a baronet 22d May, 1611. He married no less than seven times. His descendant, Sir Robert, seventh baronet, dying unmarried in 1837, was succeeded by his brother, the present baronet, who assumed the surname of Juckes.

CLIFTON, OXFORD, a township in the parish of Deddington—(which see for access, &c.): 70 miles from London, 1 from Deddington, 6 from Banbury. Money orders issued at Deddington: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 7½ a.m.: post closes 7 p.m.—Contains 670 acres: 54 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 277.

4a

CLIFTON, WESTMORELAND, a parish in West ward, union of West ward: 276 miles from London (coach road 266), 3 from Penrith, 10 from Appleby. —Nor. West Rail. through Crewe and Lancaster to Clifton station: from Derby, through Burton and Crewe, &c., 176 miles. —Money orders issued at Penrith: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 10 a.m.: post closes 3 p.m.—The living (St. Cuthbert), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Carlisle, is valued at £8. 3s. 4d.: pres. net income, £150: patron, Bishop of Carlisle: pres. incumbent, J. Wood, 1847: contains 1,520 acres: 54 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 288: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £2,672: poor rates in 1838, £110. 6s. Tithes commuted in 1811. —Clifton Hall is the seat of William Wybergh, Esq., whose family has been in possession of the Clifton estate, in unbroken male descent, since the reign of Edward III. The first ancestor was William de Wybergh, of St. Bees, who, by his marriage with Eleanor, daughter and heiress of Gilbert de Engayne, of Clifton Hall, Westmoreland, acquired that manor and lands, which had been granted to Sir Gilbert de Engayne, by Sir Hugh de Morville, in the time of Henry II. From Sir William descended Thomas Wybergh, Esq. of Clifton Hall, who suffered greatly in the parliamentary war, and was one of those whose estates were ordered to be sold by Cromwell's parliament in 1652. The manor of Clifton was mortgaged to Sir John Lowther, and never redeemed, although the hall and demesne are still the property of the Wyberghs. His son, Thomas Wybergh, who succeeded him, was taken prisoner in 1715 by the insurgents, and exchanged for Allen Ascough, Esq. His son, Thomas Wybergh, succeeded him, during whose life the insurgents, in December, 1745, plundered Clifton Hall, and this family was supposed to have suffered more than any in the country. The grandson of that gentleman, Thomas Wybergh, Esq. of Clifton Hall, who succeeded his father in 1753, died in 1827, and was succeeded by his son, the present William Wybergh, Esq. He is in the commission of the peace for the counties of Cumberland and Westmoreland. It would appear that the hall was built by the Engaynes, as in the time of Cromwell their arms were visible on various parts of the building. It is a turreted and embasoured edifice; the chapel is entirely in ruins, and the whole of the building, now used as a farmhouse, has fallen into a dilapidated condition since the Wyberghs discontinued their residence in it.

CLIFTON, NORTH RIDING, YORK, a township, partly in the parish of St. Michael-le-Belfrey, and partly in the parish of St. Olave Mary-Gate, on the river Ouse—(which see for access, &c.): 191 miles from London, 1 from York, 11 from Selby. —Money orders issued at York: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8½ a.m.: post closes 5½ p.m.—Contains 148 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,242: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,428: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £5,238: poor rates in 1838, £234. 7s.

CLIFTON WITH NORWOOD, WEST RIDING, YORK, a township in the parish of Fewston—(which see for access, &c.): 211 miles from London, 6 from Otley, 8 from Skipton. —Money orders issued at Otley: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 11

a.m.: post closes 3 p.m.—Contains 3,510 acres: 83 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 387: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 445: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,956: poor rates in 1838, £235. 13s.—Clifton House is the seat of the Rev. Danson Richardson Currer. His patronymic is Roundell, but in 1801, upon the demise of his brother, assumed the surname of Currer only, according to the testamentary injunction of his maternal grand-uncle, John Currer, Esq. of Kildwick Hall. Mr. Currer was born on the 3d of April, 1784. He is a master of arts of Christ Church, Oxford, a magistrate of the three ridings of York, a deputy-lieutenant for the east and west ridings, and a commissioner of assessed taxes for the north and west ridings.

CLIFTON. See NEWHALL-WITH-CLIFTON.

CLIFTON-CUM-HARTSHEAD, WEST RIDING, YORK, a township in the parish of Dewsbury—(which see for access, &c.): 189 miles from London, 6 from Huddersfield, 7 from Leeds. —Money orders issued at Huddersfield: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 10½ a.m.: post closes 4½ p.m.—Contains 2,820 acres: 455 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 2,675: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 3,076: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £3,987: poor rates in 1838, £412. 1s.

CLIFTON-UPON-DUNSMOOR, WARWICK, a parish in the Rugby division of the hund<sup>of</sup> of Knightlow, union of Rugby, south of the river Avon, and close on the Oxford Canal: it includes the hamlet of Newton-Biggln: 84 miles from London (coach road 85), 2 from Rugby, 14 from Coventry. —Nor. West. Rail. to Rugby, thence 2 miles: from Derby, through Rugby, &c., 52 miles. —Money orders issued at Rugby: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 7½ a.m.: post closes 9 p.m.—The parochial charities produce about £50 a year. This parish was the birth-place of the historian Carte, who died here in 1764. —The living (St. Mary), a disch<sup>d</sup> vicarage, with the curacy of Brownsover, formerly in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Coventry, and diocese of Kichfield and Coventry, now in the diocese of Worcester, is valued at £8. 1s. 8d.: pres. net income, £119: patron, Earl of Bradford: pres. incumbent, J. H. C. Moor, 1831: contains 4,030 acres: 130 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 609: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 700: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £4,677: poor rates in 1838, £287. 10s.

CLIFTON (GREAT), CUMBERLAND, a township in the parish of Workington, on the southern bank of the Derwent—(which see for access, &c.): 302 miles from London, 3 from Workington, 6 from Cockermouth. —Money orders issued at Workington: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9½ a.m.: post closes 4½ p.m.—Contains 67 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 378: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 434: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £657: poor rates in 1838, £42. 8s. The tithes, with Little Clifton, were commuted in 1814.

CLIFTON (LITTLE), CUMBERLAND, a township in the parish of Workington, on a branch of the Derwent—(which see for access, &c.): 302 miles from London. —Contains 45 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 281: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £803: poor rates in 1838, £64. 8s.

CLIFTON (NORTH), NOTTINGHAM, a parish in the north division of the wapentake of Newark, union of Newark: it includes the township of South Clifton, and the hamlets of Harby and Spalford: 159 miles from London (coach road 140), 12 from Newark, 9 from East Retford.---Nor. West. Rail. through Rugby, Nottingham, and Newark, to Collingham, thence 7 miles: from Derby, through Nottingham, &c., 45 miles.---Money orders issued at Newark: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 10 a.m.: post closes 4 p.m.---The church lands produce about £13 a year, the other parochial charities about £17, part of which, £10. 10s., is applied to the education of children. There is a ferry here over the Trent, free to the parishioners, except that the ferryman and his dog are entitled to dine every Christmas at the vicarage, on roast beef and plum-pudding.---The living (St. George), a disch<sup>d</sup> vicarage, with the curacy of Harby, formerly in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Nottingham, and diocese of York, now in the diocese of Lincoln, is valued at £7. 6s.: pres. net income, £176: patron, Prebendary of Clifton: pres. incumbent, F. P. Hodges, 1832: contains 5,050 acres: 168 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,056: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,214: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £3,900: poor rates in 1838, £174. 5s.

CLIFTON (South), NOTTINGHAM, a township in the parish of North Clifton.---(For access and postal arrangements, see above.)---Contains 70 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 332: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 382: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £1,373: poor rates in 1838, £84. 4s.

CLIFTON-UPON-TEAME, WORCESTER, a parish in the upper division of the hun<sup>d</sup> of Doddingtree, union of Martley: 128 miles from London (coach road 121), 10 from Worcester, 9 from Tenbury.---Gt. West. Rail. through Oxford to Worcester, thence 10 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham to Worcester, &c., 82 miles.---Money orders issued at Worcester: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 10½ a.m.: post closes 3 p.m.---The parochial charities produce about £27 a year.---The living (St. Kenelm), a disch<sup>d</sup> vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Salop, and diocese of Hereford, is valued at £6. 19s. 2d.: pres. net income, £172: patron, Sir T. E. Winnington, bart.: pres. incumbent, G. Prothero, 1845: contains 3,310 acres: 87 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 512: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 589: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £3,605: poor rates in 1838, £240. 6s.

CLIFTON-UPON-URE, NORTH RIDING, YORK, a township in the parish of Thornton-Watlas---(which see for access, &c.): 224 miles from London, 5 from Bedale, 4 from Middleham.---Money orders issued at Bedale: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 10½ a.m.: post closes 2½ p.m.---Contains 720 acres: 6 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 39: poor rates in 1838, £33. 2s.

CLIFTON-CAMPVILLE, STAFFORD, a parish in the north division of the hun<sup>d</sup> of Offlow, union of Tamworth, south of the river Meese: it includes the township of Haunton, and the chapelry of Harleston: 137 miles from London (coach road 139), 7 from Tamworth, 5 from Stafford.---Nor. West. Rail. to Stafford, thence 5 miles: from Derby, through Burton, &c., 47 miles.---Money orders issued at Tamworth: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 8 p.m.---The church has one of the finest spires of any parish church in England.---The living (St. Andrew), a rectory, with the curacies of Chilcote and Harleston, in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Stafford, and diocese of Lichfield, is valued at £30: pres. net income, £1,287: patron, H. J. Pye, Esq.: pres. incumbent, Robert Taylor, 1824: contains

4,170 acres: 155 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 921: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,059: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £8,136: poor rates in 1838, £305. 19s.

CLIFTON DARTMOUTH HARDNESS. See DARTMOUTH.

CLIFTON-HAMDEN, OXFORD, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Dorchester, union of Abingdon, bounded on the south by the river Thames: 71 miles from London (coach road 53), 3 from Abingdon, 8 from Oxford.---Gt. West. Rail. to Oxford, thence 8 miles: from Derby, through Rugby and Banbury to Oxford, &c., 103 miles.---Money orders issued at Abingdon: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 9 p.m.---The living (St. Michael) is a perpetual curacy, and a peculiar, in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Oxford: pres. net income, £187: patron, H. H. Gibbs, Esq.: pres. incumbent, J. Gibbs, 1830: contains 1,030 acres: 80 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 297: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £1,348: poor rates in 1838, £174. 16s.

CLIFTON-MAYBANK, DORSETSHIRE, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Yetminster, union of Sherborne, Sherborne division of the county: 156 miles from London (coach road 120), 5 from Sherborne, 2 from Yeovil.---Sou. West. Rail. through Southampton to Dorchester, thence 15 miles: from Derby, through Rugby, Oxford, Reading, and Southampton, to Dorchester, &c., 245 miles.---Money orders issued at Sherborne: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 4½ p.m.---The living (All Saints) is a rectory united to the vicarage of Bradford-Abbas: contains 770 acres: 10 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 70: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £2,030: poor rates in 1838, £111. 6s.

CLIFTON-REYNES, BUCKINGHAM, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Newport, union of Newport-Pagnel, bounded on the north and west by the river Ouse: 63 miles from London (coach road 54), 1 from Olney, 11 from Woburn.---Nor. West. Rail. to Wolverton, thence 10 miles: from Derby, through Rugby to Wolverton, &c., 89 miles.---Money orders issued at Newport-Pagnel: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 5½ p.m.---The parochial charities produce about £12 a year.---The living (St. Mary), a rectory in the diocese of Oxford, is valued at £13. 6s. 10½d.: pres. net income, £270: patron, Rev. H. A. Small: pres. incumbent, H. A. Small, 1832: contains 1,120 acres: 48 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 213: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £1,872: poor rates in 1838, £133. 12s. Tithes commuted in 1822.

CLIMPING, SUSSEX, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Avisford, west of the river Arun, and near the Arundel and Portsmouth Canal: 73 miles from London (coach road 58), 3 from Arundel, 8 from Chichester.---Brighton and South Coast Rail. to Arundel station, thence 1½ miles: from Derby, through London, &c., 205 miles.---Money orders issued at Arundel: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m.---The living, a vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Chichester, is valued at £9. 11s. ½d.: pres. net income, £280: patron, Bishop of Chichester: pres. incumbent, O. Marden, 1833: contains 2,060 acres: 47 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 279: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £2,890: poor rates in 1838, £104. 8s.

CLINCH. See PAWDOX, CLINCH, and HARTSIDE.
CLINT, WEST RIDING, YORK, a township in the parish of Ripley, north of the river Nidd—(which see for access, &c.): 207 miles from London, 5 from Knaresborough, 6 from Ripon. Money orders issued at Knaresborough: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 11½ a.m.: post closes 2½ p.m. Contains 1,750 acres: 87 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 393: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 452: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £2,121: poor rates in 1838, £157. 17s.

CLIPPESBY, NORFOLK, a parish in the west division of Flegg, union of East and West Flegg, bounded on the west by the river Bure: 126 miles from London (coach road 122), 3 from Acle, 12 from Norwich. East. Co<sup>r</sup>. Rail. to Norwich, thence 12 miles: from Derby, through Syston and Peterborough to Norwich, &c., 178 miles. Money orders issued at Norwich: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 9 a.m.: post closes 1½ p.m. The living (St. Peter), a disch<sup>d</sup>. rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup>. and diocese of Norwich, is valued at £6. 13s. 4d.: pres. net income, £250: patron, H. Muskett, Esq.: pres. incumbent, H. J. Muskett, 1847: contains 1,300 acres: 11 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 123: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £1,196: poor rates in 1838, £57. 3s. Tithes commuted in 1839.

CLIPSHAM (or KELPISHAM), RUTLAND, a parish in the soke of Oakham, union of Stamford: 123 miles from London (coach road 98), 9 from Stamford, 3 from Greetham. Nor. and East. Co<sup>r</sup>. Rail. through Peterborough to Stamford, thence 9 miles: from Derby, through Syston to Stamford, &c., 78 miles. Money orders issued at Stamford: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 9½ a.m.: post closes 4 p.m. The living (St. Mary), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup>. of Northampton, and diocese of Peterborough, is valued at £10. 0s. 5d.: pres. net income, £210: patron, Coheiresses of Mrs. Snow: pres. incumbent, John West, 1846: contains 1,570 acres: 41 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 206: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £1,818: poor rates in 1838, £97. 5s.

CLIPSTON, NORTHAMPTON, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Rothwell, union of Market-Harborough: 101 miles from London (coach road 79), 4 from Market-Harborough, 7 from Rothwell. Nor. West. Rail. through Rugby to Market-Harborough, thence 4 miles: from Derby, through Rugby, &c., 69 miles. Money orders issued at Market-Harborough: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 9 a.m.: post closes 5½ p.m. A free grammar-school was founded and endowed here, in 1667, by Sir George Buswell: it is open to the male children of six parishes, and a lending library is attached to it for the benefit of the parishioners. There are also almshouses for ten men and one woman, founded also by Sir Geo. Buswell, and endowed with a yearly stipend of £15. 12s. each, beside clothes, coals, &c. The other parochial charities produce about £16 a year. The living (All Saints), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup>. of Northampton, and diocese of Peterborough, in three portions, two of which are rated at £11. 12s. 8½d., and the third at £6: pres. net income, £334: patron, Christ's College, Cambridge: pres. incumbent, Thomas Walker: contains 2,800 acres: 165 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 859: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 987: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £4,867: poor rates in 1837, £541.

CLIPSTONE, NOTTINGHAM, a township in the parish of Edwinston, on the river Maun—(which see for access, &c.): 140 miles from London, 3

from Ollerton, 5 from Mansfield. Money orders issued at Ollerton: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 9½ a.m.: post closes 4 p.m. Contains 47 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 286: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £764: poor rates in 1838, £51. 1s.

CLIPSTONE, NOTTINGHAM, a township in the parish of Plumtree—(which see for access, &c.): 118 miles from London, 6 from Nottingham, 6 from Hingham. Money orders issued at Nottingham: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 8½ a.m.: post closes 7 p.m. Contains 1,850 acres: 14 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 86: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £945: poor rates in 1838, £27. 17s. Tithes commuted in 1805.

CLIST-BROAD. See BROAD-CLIST.

CLIST (St. GEORGE), DEVON, a parish in the eastern division of the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Budleigh, union of St. Thomas: 199 miles from London (coach road 172), 1 from Topsham, 5 from Exeter. Gt. West. Rail. through Bristol to Exeter, thence 5 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Bristol to Exeter, &c., 213 miles. Money orders issued at Topsham: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 7½ a.m.: post closes 3½ p.m. There is a free school here, endowed in 1704, by Mrs. Seward, with lands at Woodbury and Otter-St. Mary, which produce £38. 4s. per annum. The other parochial benefactions yield about £10. 10s. a year. The living (St. George), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup>. and diocese of Exeter, is valued at £17. 16s. 8d.: pres. net income, £348: patron, Rev. W. R. Ellicombe: pres. incumbent, W. R. Ellicombe, 1810: contains 860 acres: 66 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 370: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 425: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £3,507: poor rates in 1838, £299. 11s.

CLIST-HONITON, DEVON, a parish in the eastern division of the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Budleigh, union of St. Thomas: 198 miles from London (coach road 173), 4 from Exeter, 9 from Sidmouth. Gt. West. Rail. through Bristol to Exeter, thence 4 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Bristol to Exeter, &c., 212 miles. Money orders issued at Exeter: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 9½ a.m.: post closes 5½ p.m. A school here has a small endowment. The living is a perpetual curacy, a peculiar in the archd<sup>y</sup>. and diocese of Exeter: pres. net income, £125: patron, Dean and Chapter of Exeter: pres. incumbent, W. W. Bagnall, 1822: contains 1,410 acres: 68 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 467: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 537: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £3,666: poor rates in 1838, £263. 18s. Tithes commuted in 1839.

CLIST (St. LAWRENCE), DEVON, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Cliston, union of St. Thomas: 166 miles from London, 5 from Collumpton, 9 from Honiton. (For access and postal arrangements, see above.) The parochial charities produce about £4. 10s. per annum. The living (St. Lawrence), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup>. and diocese of Exeter, is valued at £9. 4s. 4½d.: pres. net income, £299: patron, Trustees of Hele's Charity, Exeter: pres. incumbent, C. E. Walkey, 1804: contains 1,180 acres: 37 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 168: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £1,730: poor rates in 1838, £79. 18s.

CLIST (St. MARY), DEVON, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup>. of East Budleigh, union of St. Thomas: 171 miles from London, 1 from Topsham, 5 from Exeter. (For access and postal arrangements, see CLIST (St. GEORGE).) The parochial charities produce about £8. 15s. a year.—The living (St. Mary), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Exeter, is valued at £5. 1s. 3d.: pres. net income, £190: patron, Rev. T. Strong: pres. incumbent, Edmund Strong, 1841: contains 580 acres: 29 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 197: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £1,556: poor rates in 1838, £96.

CLIST-SACKVILLE (or BISHOP'S-CLIST), DEVON, a tithing in the parishes of Farrington and Sowton: 172 miles from London, 2 from Topsham.—(For access, &c., see above.)

CLITHEROE, LANCASTER, a borough, market town, and parochial chapelry, in the parish of Whalley, union of Clitheroe, on the eastern bank of the river Ribble, at the foot of Pendlehill: 225 miles from London (coach road 217), 10 from Blackburn.—Nor. West. Rail. through Crewe and Bolton to Clitheroe station: from Derby, through Crewe, &c., 125 miles.—Money orders issued at Clitheroe: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9.10 a.m.: post closes 4.20 p.m.—Clitherhou, the ancient name of this place, is derived from the British Cled-dor, the hill or rock by the waters, and hou, the Saxon for hill. At a very remote period it was elevated to the dignity of an honour, which extends over several parishes, and includes 28 manors, and was long part of the possessions of the Plantagenet family; but, when Richard II. was deposed, it merged to the crown. During the wars of the Roses, Henry VI. once sought here a temporary refuge from his enemies; and Leland thus relates the way in which he was taken:—In A.D. 1464, King Henry was taken in Clitherwoode by side Bungerly hiping stones in Lancastershyre, by Tho. Talbot, summe and heir to Sir Edmund Talbot, his cousin, of Colebry, which deceived him, being at his dyner in Wadyngton Haul, and brought him to London, with his legges bounde to the sterropes. At the Restoration, Charles II. bestowed the honour upon General Monk and his heirs; it is now divided between his Grace the Duke of Buccleuch and Lord Montagu. The castle was founded, according to the best authorities, in 1179, by Robert de Lacy. In the parliamentary war, this fortress was one of the last that yielded to the parliament, and was dismantled in 1649 by their order. The keep and a square tower are all that now remain of it. The site, and a portion of the grounds formerly belonging to it, are extra-parochial, and commonly called the castle parish. A modern castellated building has recently been erected within its precincts. The town is situated on an eminence. The streets are macadamized, the drainage is good, and the houses, most of them shops, well supplied with water. In the vicinity there is an almost inexhaustible bed of limestone; and at Pimlico, situated to the north of the town, ten kilns are kept burning forty weeks in the year, producing, on an average, 4,000 windles, or 28,000 strikes, weekly. In the town and its environs there are several large cotton manufactories and print works, which have so flourished that the population has considerably increased. The whole of the church, except the tower and east window, has recently been rebuilt. The former edifice was of great antiquity, dedicated to St. Mary Magdalene. In the neighbourhood of the town are three hills, in allusion to which the children of the peasantry in this district, and the adjoining one of Yorkshire, very often repeat this distich:—

"Pendlehill and Pennygent, and Little Ingleborough, Are three such hills as you'll not find by seeking England thorough."

Or, sometimes, the following:—

"Ingleborough, Pendlehill, and Pennygent, Are the highest hills between Scotland and Trent."

Yet none of them are so high as the neighbouring height of Wharfedale. Clitheroe is a borough by prescription; its first charter, dated in the time of Henry de Lacy, was confirmed by Edward I. and several succeeding sovereigns. The borough formerly returned two members to parliament, but has been deprived of one by the Reform Act. The Independents, Methodists, and Roman Catholics, have chapels here. There is a free grammar-school, founded and richly endowed, in 1554, by Philip and Mary. The head-master has a salary of £200, with a handsome residence rent-free. The second master has £100 per annum, and both receive gratuities at Shrove-tide.—The living is valued at £22. 12s.: contains 2,410 acres: 888 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 6,765: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 7,779: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £5,359: poor rates in 1838, £947. 15s.—Market day, Tuesday. Fairs: March 24, 25; August 2; Thursday and Friday before fourth Sunday after September 29, and December 7, 8, horses and cattle.—Bankers: Alcock, Birkbecks, & Co.—draw on Barnard, Dimsdale, and Co.—Inns: Brownlow Arms, Rose and Crown, Swan.

CLIVE (or CLEAVE), CHESTER, a township in the parish of Middlewich—(which see for access, &c.): 165 miles from London, 2 from Middlewich, 8 from Tarporley.—Money orders issued at Middlewich: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 7½ a.m.: post closes 7 p.m.—Contains 1,130 acres: 20 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 117: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £593: poor rates in 1838, £75. 4s.

CLIVE, SALOP, a chapelry in the parish of St. Mary—(which see for access, &c.): 160 miles from London, 7 from Shrewsbury, 3 from Wem.—Money orders issued at Shrewsbury: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 10 a.m.: post closes 4 p.m.—Clive was the birth-place of William Wycherley, the dramatist, who was born in 1640. He studied law for a profession, but, having a taste for poetry, he early produced a play, called "Love in a Wood," which procured for him the favour of the Duchess of Cleveland, mistress of Charles II., and of the profligate Duke of Buckingham. He afterwards lost the king's favour by marrying the Countess of Drogheda, a rich, young, and beautiful widow; and though she left him all her possessions, his title was disputed, and he became so embarrassed by law proceedings, that he remained seven years in prison. He was at last released by James II., who gave him a pension of £200 a year. He was author of several plays, all disfigured by the grossest sensuality. He died in 1715.—The living, a perpetual curacy in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Salop, and diocese of Lichfield, is valued at £14. 14s. 8d.: pres. net income, £66: patron, Trustees: pres. incumbent, W. Jeudwine, 1844: contains 1,370 acres: 62 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 273: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £1,980: poor rates in 1838, £121. 6s.—In the chapelry is Sansaw House (Sans eau, from the waterless nature of the country), the property of Robert Gardner, of Leighton House, Salop, Esq., and residence of Lady Edwardes.

CLIVIGER (or CLIVENGER), LANCASTER, a chapelry in the parish of Whalley—(which see for access, &c.): 208 miles from London, 3 from Burnley, 8 from Haslingden.—Money orders issued at Burnley: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 10½ a.m.: post closes 3 p.m.—Contains 6,160 acres: 289 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,395: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,604: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £5,110: poor rates in 1838, £638. 4s. Tithes commuted in 1839.

CLIXBY, LINCOLN, a parish in the south division of the wapentake of Yarborough, parts of Lindsey, union of Caistor: 196 miles from London (coach road 158), 2 from Caistor, 18 from Burton.—Nor. and East. Co<sup>r</sup>. Rail. through Peterborough and Lincoln to North Kenny station, thence 3 miles: from Derby, through Lincoln and North Kenny, &c., 76 miles.—Money orders issued at Caistor: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 9 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m.—Contains 2,020 acres: 6 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 45: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £1,256. The tithes were commuted in 1811.

CLOATBY, WILTS, a tithing in the parish of Hankerton—(which see for access, &c.): 4 miles from Malmesbury.—Contains 20 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 77.—(Other returns with the parish.)

CLOCAENOG, DENBIGH, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> and union of Ruthin, on a branch of the river Clwydd: 211 miles from London (coach road 204), 4 from Ruthin, 9 from Denbigh.—Nor. West. Rail. through Crewe and Chester to Holywell, thence 17 miles: from Derby, through Burton and Crewe, &c., 111 miles.—Money orders issued at Ruthin: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 10 a.m.: post closes 3 p.m.—The parochial charities produce about £51 a year.—The living, a rectory in the diocese of Bangor, is valued at £12: pres. net income, £292: patron, Bishop of Bangor: pres. incumbent, Thomas Hughes, 1846: contains 84 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 451: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 450: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £2,261: poor rates in 1838, £3,722. 2s.

CLODOCK, HEREFORD, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Ewyas-Lacy, union of Dore: this parish includes the townships of Craswell, Lower and Upper, and Newton, and the chapelries of Llanveynoch and Longtown: 150 miles from London (coach road 142), 17 from Abergavenny, 14 from Hereford.—Gt. West. Rail. through Stonehouse to Gloucester, thence 38 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Gloucester, &c., 162 miles.—Money orders issued at Abergavenny: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 9½ a.m.: post closes 3 p.m.—The parochial charities produce about £40 a year, which are distributed among the poor of the several townships.—The living (St. Cleodocus) is a vicarage not in charge, in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Brecon, and diocese of St. David's: pres. net income, £222: patron, W. Wilkins, Esq.: pres. incumbent, Charles Probert: contains 18,250 acres: 364 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,762: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, £2,026: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £8,570: poor rates in 1838, £560. 3s.

CLOFOCK, CUMBERLAND, an extra-parochial liberty adjacent to Workington, in Allerdale ward—(which see for access, &c.): 306 miles from London, 1 from Workington, 9 from Whitehaven.

—Money orders issued at Workington: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 9 a.m.: post closes 5 p.m.

CLOFORD, SOMERSET, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> and union of Frome: 120 miles from London (coach road 107), 4 from Frome, 14 from Bath.—Gt. West. Rail. to Westbury, thence 10 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Bristol to Westbury, &c., 180 miles.—Money orders issued at Frome: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 9 a.m.: post closes 5½ p.m.—The parochial charities produce £46. 2s., which are distributed among newly-married women.—The living (St. Mary), a disch<sup>d</sup>. vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Wells, and diocese of Bath and Wells, is valued at £7. 17s. 6d.: pres. net income, £74: patron, T. Horner, Esq.: pres. incumbent, T. Williams, 1801: contains 2,080 acres: 58 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 258: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £2,012: poor rates in 1838, £193. 16s.

CLOPHILL, BEDFORD, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Flitt, union of Ampthill: 42 miles from London, 1½ from Silsoe, 8½ from Bedford, 3½ from Ampthill, 3½ from Shefford.—Nor. West. Rail. through Marston and Bletchley, 56 miles: from Derby, through Bletchley, Rugby, &c., to Marston, 95 miles.—Money orders issued at Ampthill: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 8½ a.m.: post closes 5 p.m.—The river Ivel flows by the south of the village. The old church, dedicated to St. Mary, being at a great distance from the village, it was determined, in 1847, to erect a new church in a field just opposite the rectory. The first stone was laid July 17, 1848, and the church was consecrated July 10, 1849. The tower and nave of the old church are still left standing as a sanctuary in which to read the burial service, as no new ground was consecrated for funerals. The church estate produces £16 per annum, which is applied entirely to the fabric of the church, repairs, &c. The charities are as follow:—Dearmun's gift of £4 per annum, now increased to five times that sum, of which upwards of £20 is given to poor men in cash. The poor's land, which, besides affording £6 yearly to a Sunday schoolmaster, affords also calico and stockings, to the amount of £26, to the poor. The common rights let at £18 per annum, which is distributed every year in coals. Mention is made of an ancient charter of a monastery once in existence here, but no remains of it are now to found. There is also a singular elevation called Castle Hill, supposed to be the site of the castle of the counts of Alvin, who resided in this district.—The living (St. Mary), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Bedford, formerly in the diocese of Lincoln, now in the diocese of Ely, is valued at £12: pres. net income, £422: patron, Earl de Grey: pres. incumbent, J. Mandham, 1844: contains 2,140 acres: 193 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,066: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,166: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £1,453: poor rates in 1838, £209. 5s. The tithes were commuted in 1808, at which time also the parish was enclosed. The principal proprietor is the Earl de Grey. Captain Montague, Berks, possesses one large farm.

CLOPTON, SUFFOLK, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Carleford, union of Woodbridge: 79 miles from London (coach road 77), 4 from Woodbridge, 8 from Ipswich.—East. Co<sup>r</sup>. Rail. to Claydon station, thence 6 miles: from Derby, through London, &c., 211 miles.---Money orders issued at Woodbridge: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 9 p.m.---The public benefactions produce £34. 5s. per annum, which is applied to parochial purposes.---The living (St. Mary), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Suffolk, diocese of Norwich, is valued at £16. 13s. 4d.: pres. net income, £720: patron, Mrs. Elizabeth Taylor: pres. incumbent, G. W. Taylor, 1848: contains 1,480 acres: 52 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 889: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 447: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £3,310: poor rates in 1837, £540. 13s.

CLOSOWORTH, SOMERSET, a parish in the hund<sup>l</sup> of Houndsborough, Barwick, and Coker, union of Yeovil: 156 miles from London (coach road 124), 4 from Yeovil, 7 from Sherborne.---Sou. West. Rail. through Southampton to Dorchester, thence 15 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Bristol to Bridgewater, 165, thence 25 miles.---Money orders issued at Yeovil: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 10 a.m.: post closes 4½ p.m.---The living (All Saints), a disch<sup>d</sup> rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Wells, and diocese of Bath and Wells, is valued at £6. 8s. 11½d.: pres. net income, £220: patron, Lord Portman: pres. incumbent, Edward Bower, 1828: contains 1,030 acres: 34 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 164: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £1,327: poor rates in 1838, £25. 3s.

CLOTHALL (formerly CLEYHULL), HERTFORD, a parish in the hund<sup>l</sup> of Odsey, union of Hitchin: 41 miles from London (coach road 35), 3 from Baldock, 8 from Royston.---Gt. Nor. Rail. to Baldock, thence 3 miles: from Derby, through London, &c., 173 miles.---Money orders issued at Baldock: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 8½ p.m.---There was formerly a free chapel or hospital here, dedicated to St. Mary Magdalene. The parochial charities produce £6. 6s. a year.---The living (St. Mary), a rectory in the diocese of Rochester, is valued at £16. 0s. 7½d.: pres. net income, £601: patron, Marquis of Salisbury: pres. incumbent, James Ellice, 1816: contains 3,520 acres: 79 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 495: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £2,609: poor rates in 1838, £204.

CLOTHERHOLME, WEST RIDING, YORK, a township in the parish of Ripon---(which see for access, &c.): 215 miles from London, 3 from Ripon, 4 from Masham.---Money orders issued at Ripon: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9½ a.m.: post closes 8 p.m.---Contains 830 acres: 2 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 10: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £525.

CLOTTON-HOOFIELD, CHESTER, a township in the parish of Tarvin---(which see for access, &c.): 175 miles from London, 2 from Tarporley, 8 from Chester.---Money orders issued at Tarporley: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 7½ a.m.: post closes 7½ p.m.---Contains 1,550 acres: 76 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 417: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 479: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £1,550: poor rates in 1838, £113. 5s.

CLOVELLY (or CLAVELLY), DEVON, a parish in the hund<sup>l</sup> of Hartland, union of Bideford, north of Torridge river: 229 miles from London (coach road 222), 10 from Bideford, 5 from Hartland.---Gt. West. Rail. through Bristol to Tiverton, thence 45 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Bristol to Tiverton, &c., 243 miles.---Money orders issued at Bideford: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 1 p.m.: post closes noon.---The harbour of Clovelly and Hartland are, according to Watkins, in his History of Bideford, appended to that port. "The former place," he says, "is very curious, and deserves observation. It is built on the side of a steep rock, to which the houses seem joined, like pigeon huts, against a wall. At the bottom there is a small pier. The place is famous for the best herrings in the channel." There is an ancient British encampment on a lofty height here, called Clovelly Dyke.---The living (All Saints), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Barnstaple, and diocese of Exeter, is valued at £19. 11s. 5½d.: pres. net income, £244: patron, Sir J. H. Williams: pres. incumbent, L. H. Drake, 1836: contains 4,200 acres: 190 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 950: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,092: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £2,245: poor rates in 1838, £290. 6s.---Tithes commuted in 1839.---Clovelly Court is the seat of Sir James Williams, Bart. He is descended from Richard Hammett, Esq. of Kennerland Clovelly, whose son and successor, James Hammett, Esq., inherited the property of his great uncle, Zachary Hamlyn, Esq. of Clovelly Court, and was created a baronet in 1795. He was succeeded by his son Sir James, who assumed the surname of Williams in 1798. He died in 1829, and was succeeded by the present Sir James, as third baronet. Clovelly Court is a neat building, erected on the site of an older mansion that was burnt down some years ago. There are extensive views from the house and grounds.

CLOWHOUSE (or CLOSEHOUSE). See Houghton and Closehouse.

CLOWN, DERBY, a parish in the hund<sup>l</sup> of Scarsdale, union of Worksop: 164 miles from London (coach road 150), 8 from Chesterfield, 4 from Bolsover.---Nor. West. Rail. through Rugby, Derby, and Chesterfield, to Staveley station, thence 4 miles: from Derby, through Chesterfield, &c., 32 miles.---Money orders issued at Chesterfield: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 10 a.m.: post closes 7½ p.m.---The parochial charities produce about £10 a year.---The living (St. John the Baptist), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Derby, and diocese of Lichfield, is valued at £7. 0s. 10d.: pres. net income, £311: patron, Lord Chancellor: pres. incumbent, O. W. Whiter, 1834: contains 1,860 acres: 134 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 677: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 700: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £1,659: poor rates in 1837, £107.---Tithes commuted in 1839.---Southgate House is the residence of J. B. Bowdon, Esq.

CLUN, SALOP, a parish, borough, and market-town, in the hund<sup>l</sup> of Purslow, union of Clun, southern division of the county: the parish is very extensive: it includes the townships of Clun, Edoclift, Hobendrid, and Newcastle, besides ten other townships: Clun is the most populous township in the parish: 168 miles from London (coach road 154), 14 from Ludlow, 7 from Knighton.---Gt. West. Rail. through Oxford and Worcester to Kidderminster, thence 35 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham to Kidderminster, &c., 106 miles.---Money orders issued at Ludlow: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 1½ p.m.: post closes 11½ a.m.---Clun derives its name from the river Colun or Clun, which rises in the forest of the same name, six miles to the west, and after dividing the town into two parts, pursues its course, in an easterly direction, towards Ludlow. In the reign of Stephen, or (Camden says) in that of Henry III., Fitz-Alan, afterwards Earl of Arundel, erected a castle here, on an eminence near the river, the proprietor of which, in former times, possessed the power of life and death over his tenantry. Owen Glendwyr, in his rebellion against Henry IV., destroyed it. The ruins, which still exist, serve in some measure to indicate the ancient form of the castle. Under Henry VIII., this parish was annexed to the newly-made county of Montgomery, from which it was afterwards separated, and joined to that of Salop. The town is beautifully situated on an eminence, with other and higher hills around it. It consists chiefly of a long street on the northern bank of the river. The houses are irregularly built, most of them of ragstone, with thatched roofs, although some of them are of more modern erection: they are well supplied with water. Over the river is a bridge of five arches, leading to that portion of the town in which the church is situated. The church, which was once dependent on Wenlock priory, is a very ancient edifice, chiefly in the Norman, but in some parts in the Saxon, style of architecture. The interior contains a fine old font, and many curious and interesting monuments. The original oak-ceiling is still preserved in the north aisle. The Wesleyan Methodists have a chapel here. The Rev. Mr. Swainston, the vicar, has built a charity-school for twenty poor girls; and he also partly supports a charity-school for boys. In 1614, Henry Howard, Earl of Northampton, founded Clun Hospital, dedicated to the Holy Trinity, and richly endowed it with tithes in various parishes, producing a revenue of £1,000 per annum. Clun was once a lordship in the marches, and the lord marchers first incorporated it by a charter, afterwards confirmed by Thomas, Earl of Arundel, in the reign of Edward II., when its prescriptive right was admitted. As all the records of the lord marchers had been destroyed, its being an incorporated borough was proved by parole evidence. Two bailiffs and thirty burgesses, assisted by subordinate officers, manage the local concerns of the place. There is a hundred court held every three weeks for the recovery of debts under 40s. The town-hall is a modern erection of stone, with arches for its supports, and containing one large upper room for the holding of the courts, with an area for the use of the market beneath it, in which there is a small prison for malefactors. Within a quarter of a mile of the town, in a north-westerly direction, is a single intrenchment, which, it is said, was raised by Owen Glendwyr to shelter his troops whilst attacking the castle; and at a short distance to the south is Walls Castle, from which it was battered. In the vicinity are the camps of the Roman general Ostorius, and the British hero Caractacus; the fortification of the latter is one of the most curious and interesting in the country, and is in a good state of preservation, owing to the care bestowed upon it by the Earl of Powis. Clun gives the title of baron to the Duke of Norfolk. The living (St. George), a vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Salop, and diocese of Hereford, is valued at £13. 10s. 5d.: pres. net income, £680: patron, Earl of Powis: pres. incumbent, T. J. Hogg, sen., 1840: contains 22,600 acres: 404 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 2,077: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 2,388: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup> £11,723: poor rates in 1838, £1,180. 16s. Market day, Tuesday. Fairs: May 11, Whit-Tuesday, Sept. 23, and Nov. 22.

CLUN, SALOP, a township in the above parish. (For access and postal arrangements, see above.) Contains 204 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,070: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,230.

CLUNBURY, SALOP, a parish in the hund<sup>d</sup> of Purslow, union of Clun, on the river Clun: 151 miles from London, 10 from Ludlow, 6 from Bishop's-Castle. (For access and postal arrangements, see above.) The living (St. Swithin) is a perpetual curacy in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Salop, and diocese of Hereford: pres. net income, £120: patron, Earl of Powis: pres. incumbent, C. Swainston, 1805: contains 7,870 acres: 198 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 994: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,143: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup> £4,926: poor rates in 1838, £542. 16s.

CLUNGUNFORD, SALOP, a parish in the hund<sup>d</sup> of Purslow, union of Clun: 148 miles from London, 8 from Ludlow, 7 from Knighton. (For access and postal arrangements, see above.) There is a school here, endowed for the benefit of the children of Clungunford and Broom. The other benefactions produce about £8 a year. The proceeds are appropriated to parochial purposes. The living (St. Cuthbert), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Salop, and diocese of Hereford, is valued at £16: pres. net income, £530: patron, Rev. John Locke: pres. incumbent, John Rocks, 1814: contains 3,710 acres: 91 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 568: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 653: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup> £4,002: poor rates in 1838, £283. 7s.

CLUNN. See CLUN.

CLUNTON. See CLUNBURY.

CLUTTON, CHESTER, a township in the parish of Farnham—(which see for access, &c.): 169 miles from London, 9 from Chester, 9 from Tarporley. Money orders issued at Chester: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 9½ a.m.: post closes 5½ p.m. Contains 590 acres: 18 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 110: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup> £780: poor rates in 1838, £53. 4s.

CLUTTON, SOMERSET, a parish in the hund<sup>d</sup> of Clun, union of Clutton: 120 miles from London (coach road 115), 3 from Pensford, 12 from Frome. Gt. West. Rail. to Keynsham station, thence 7 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Bristol to Keynsham, &c., 142 miles. Money orders issued at Bristol: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 9½ a.m.: post closes 3 p.m. There is an independent chapel here. The church lands produce about £37 a year; the other benefactions £21. 10s., of which £10. 8s. is devoted to the endowment of a school. The collieries in the neighbourhood are very extensive, and chiefly afford employment to the inhabitants. A union workhouse has been erected here, capable of accommodating 300 persons. The Clutton poor-law union comprises 29 parishes, spread over an area of 71 square miles, with a population of about 22,500 persons. The annual expenditure is something more than £8,000. The living (St. Augustine), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Bath, and diocese of Bath and Wells, is valued at £9. 4s. 2d.: pres. net income, £340: patron, Earl of Warwick: pres. incumbent, T. B. Johnston, 1815: contains 2,120 acres: 260 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,434: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,649: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup> £3,888: poor rates in 1838, £691. 8s.

CLYDEY, PEMBROKE, a parish in the hund. of Kilgerran, union of Newcastle-in-Emlyn: 227 miles from London (coach road 237), 6 from Newcastle-in-Emlyn, 10 from Cardigan.---Gt. West. Rail. through Stonehouse to Gloucester, thence 115 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham to Gloucester, &c., 209 miles.---Money orders issued at Carmarthen: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 7½ a.m.: post closes 8½ p.m.---The living, a vicarage in the diocese of St. David's, is valued at £6: pres. net income, £101: patron, Bishop of St. David's: pres. incumbent, D. T. Thomas, 1827: contains 284 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,269: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,459: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £2,462: poor rates in 1838, £301. 19s.

CLYNAMMON, CARMARTHEN, a hamlet in the parish of Llandilo-fawr---(which see for access, &c.): 201 miles from London: 7 from Llangadog, 15 from Carmarthen.---Money orders issued at Llangadog: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 2 p.m.: post closes 10 a.m.---Contains 50 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 302: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 347.---(Other returns with the parish.)

CLYNE, GLAMORGAN, a hamlet in the parish of Lantwit-Lower---(which see for access, &c.): 197 miles from London, 1 from Neath, 4 from Swansea.---Money orders issued at Neath: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 2 p.m.: post closes 10½ a.m.---Contains 21 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 153: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £672: poor rates in 1838, £61. 6s.

CLYNOG, CARNARVON, a parish in the hund. of Uwch-Gorfa, union of Carnarvon: 255 miles from London (coach road 245), 9 from Carnarvon, 10 from Nevin.---Nor. West. Rail. through Crewe and Chester to Bangor, thence 17 miles: from Derby, through Crewe, &c., 155 miles.---Money orders issued at Carnarvon: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 11 a.m.: post closes 2½ p.m.---The church is said to have been founded in 616 by St. Beuno, with a monastery, of which no traces now remain. Near the church are the ruins of a chapel and a consecrated well, both of them dedicated to St. Beuno, the patron saint. The Independents and Calvinistic Methodists have places of worship here. The romantic wildness of the scenery around has made Clynog a favourite resort for visitors.---The living, a vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Bangor, is valued at £6: pres. net income, £158: patron, Bishop of Bangor: pres. incumbent, R. Williams, 1848: contains 345 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,789: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 2,057: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £4,503: poor rates in 1838, £848. 15s.

CLYRO, RADNOR, a parish in the hund. of Painscastle, union of Hay, South Wales, bounded on the south and east by the river Wye: 164 miles from London (coach road 158), 2 from Hay, 9 from Kingston.---Gt. West. Rail. through Oxford to Worcester, thence 45 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham to Worcester, &c., 116 miles.---Money orders issued at Hay: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 10 a.m.: post closes 1½ p.m.---A monastery was founded here at an early period, and the ruins of a castle still remain. The sessions for the hundred are held here. There is a mineral spring here, which is said to be very efficacious in cases of ophthalmia.---The living, a vicarage in the diocese of St. David's, is valued at £6: pres. net income, £270: patron, Bishop of St. David's: pres.

VOL. I.

incumbent, R. L. Venables, 1847: contains 139 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 786: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 904: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £3,757: poor rates in 1838, £358. 7s. Tithes commuted in 1839.

CLYRO-BETTWS. See BETTWS-CLYRO.

CLYST. See BROADCLIST.

CLYST-HYDON, DEVON, a parish in the hund. of Cliston, union of St. Thomas: 188 miles from London (coach road 170), 4 from Collumpton, 9 from Exeter.---Gt. West. Rail. through Bristol to Hele station, thence 3 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Bristol to Hele, &c., 207 miles.---Money orders issued at Collumpton: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 4 p.m.---There is a school here, endowed with £17 a year. Other parochial charities produce about £18 per annum.---The living (St. Andrew), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Exeter, is valued at £20. 0s. 7½d.: pres. net income, £440: patron, Mrs. Huyshe: pres. incumbent, John Huyshe, 1831: contains 1,726 acres: 53 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 325: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 374: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £2,952: poor rates in 1838, £170. 14s.

CLYTHA, MONMOUTH, a hamlet in the parish of Lanarth, east of the river Usk---(which see for access, &c.): 142 miles from London, 5 from Abergavenny, 10 from Monmouth.---Money orders issued at Abergavenny: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 3½ p.m.---The living is a curacy to the vicarage of Lanarth: contains 1,660 acres: 62 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 336: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 385: poor rates in 1838, £221. 18s.

COAL-ASTON (or COLD-ASTON), DERBY, a township in the parish of Dronfield---(which see for access, &c.): 158 miles from London, 5 from Sheffield, 7 from Chesterfield.---Money orders issued at Sheffield: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m.---Contains 64 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 352: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 404: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,455: poor rates in 1838, £84. 14s.

COALBROOK. See COLEBROOK.

COALEY, GLOUCESTER, a parish in the upper division of the hund. of Berkeley, union of Dursley: the Gloucestershire and Berkeley Canal passes through the parish: 115 miles from London, 3 from Dursley.---Gt. West. Rail. through Stonehouse to Gloucester station, thence 3 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Stonehouse to Cheltenham, &c., 93 miles.---Money orders issued at Dursley: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 5 p.m.---The parochial charities produce about £34 a year.---The living (St. Bartholomew), a disch<sup>d</sup> vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Gloucester, and diocese of Gloucester and Bristol, is valued at £8. 2s. 2d.: pres. net income, £300: patron, Lord Chancellor: pres. incumbent, C. R. Fanshawe, 1835: contains 2,460 acres: 226 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 979: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, same: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £4,735: poor rates in 1838, £435. 11s.

COANWOOD (EAST), NORTHUMBERLAND, a township in the parish of Haltwhistle---(which see for access, &c.): 286 miles from London, 3 from Haltwhistle, 16 from Hexham.---Money orders issued at Carlisle: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 1½ p.m.: post closes 11½ a.m.---Contains 29 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 139: poor rates in 1838, £15. 11s.

COASTAMoor, DURHAM, a township in the parish of Heighington—(which see for access, &c.): 6 miles from Darlington.—Money orders issued at Darlington: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 10 a.m.: post closes 4 p.m.—Contains 510 acres: 2 houses: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup>: £255: poor rates in 1838, £1. 14s.

4 T

COATS. See CAREY.

COAT-YARDS (or COAL-YARDS), NORTHUMBERLAND, a township, chapelry of Nether-Witton—(which see for access, &c.): 310 miles from London, 11 from Morpeth, 7 from Rothbury.—Money orders issued at Morpeth: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 1½ p.m.: post closes noon.—Contains 3 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 20.—(Other returns with the parish.)

COATES, GLOUCESTER, a parish in the hund<sup>d</sup> of Crowthorne and Minety, union of Cirencester, close on the Thames and Severn Canal: 99 miles from London (coach road 93), 4 from Cirencester, 5 from Stroud.—Gt. West. Rail. to Cirencester, thence 4 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Stonehouse to Cirencester, &c., 123 miles.—Money orders issued at Cirencester: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 9 p.m.—The church accommodation has lately been much increased.—The living (St. Matthew), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Bristol, and diocese of Gloucester and Bristol, is valued at £9. 6s. 8d.: pres. net income, £369: patron, Rev. Wm. Dewe: pres. incumbent, T. C. Gibb, 1848: contains 2,330 acres: 60 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 373: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 428: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup>: £2,256: poor rates in 1838, £138. The tithes were commuted in 1792.

COATES, LEICESTER, a township in the parish of Prestwold, on the river Soar—(which see for access, &c.): 111 miles from London, 2 from Loughborough, 13 from Leicester.—Money orders issued at Loughborough: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 9 p.m.—Contains 530 acres: 16 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 75: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup>: £1,743: poor rates in 1838, £69. 16s.

COATES, LINCOLN, a parish in the western division of the wapentake of Aslaoce, parts of Lindsey, union of Gainsborough: 177 miles from London (coach road 144), 9 from Lincoln, 10 from Newark.—Nor. and East. Co<sup>a</sup> Rail. through Peterborough to Lincoln, thence 9 miles: from Derby, through Nottingham, Lincoln, &c., 58 miles.—Money orders issued at Lincoln: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9½ a.m.: post closes 4½ p.m.—The living (St. Edith), a disch<sup>d</sup> vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Stow, and diocese of Lincoln, is valued at £3. 16s. 8d.: pres. net income, £50: patron, Sir J. Ramsden, Bart.: pres. incumbent, F. Peel, 1832: contains 950 acres: 6 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 47: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup>: £1,033: poor rates in 1838, £11. 1s.

COATES, SUSSEX, a parish in the hund<sup>d</sup> of Bury, rape of Arundel, on the river Rother: 77 miles from London (coach road 51), 3 from Petworth, 7 from Arundel.—Brighton and South Coast Rail. to Arundel, thence 7 miles: from Derby, through London, &c., 209 miles.—Money orders issued at Petworth: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m.—The living is a curacy annexed to the rectory of Burton: contains 510 acres: 11 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 67: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup>: £319: poor rates in 1838, £35. 17s.

COATES, WEST RIDING, YORK, a township in the parish of Barnoldwich, near the Leeds and Liverpool Canal—(which see for access, &c.): 222 miles from London, 5 from Clitheroe, 9 from Skipton.—Money orders issued at Clitheroe: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 11 a.m.: post closes 2½ p.m.—Contains 700 acres: 20 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 101: poor rates in 1838, £75. 12s.

COATES (GREAT), LINCOLN, a parish in the wapentake of Bradley Haverstoe, parts of Lindsey, union of Caister: 189 miles from London (coach road 170), 3 from Great Grimsby, 9 from Caister.—Nor. and East. Co<sup>a</sup> Rail. through Peterborough, Boston, and Grimsby, to Great Coates station: from Derby, through Nottingham, Lincoln, and Glandford-Brigg, to Great Coates, 124 miles.—Money orders issued at Grimsby: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9½ a.m.: post closes 5½ p.m.—The living (St. Nicholas), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Lincoln, is valued at £11. 10s. 10d.: pres. net income, £580: patron, Sir R. Sutton, Bart.: pres. incumbent, H. Houson, 1822: contains 2,200 acres: 44 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 245: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup>: £4,130. Tithes commuted in 1839.

COATES (LITTLE), LINCOLN, a parish in the wapentake of Bradley Haverstoe, parts of Lindsey, union of Caister: 169 miles from London.—(For access and postal arrangements, see above.)—The living (St. Michael), a disch<sup>d</sup> vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Lincoln, is valued at £4. 18s. 4d.: pres. net income, £120: patron, Trinity College, Cambridge: pres. incumbent, R. Blenkinson, 1843: contains 1,060 acres: 12 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 40: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup>: £1,386: poor rates in 1838, £43. 15s.

COATES (NORTH), LINCOLN, a parish in the wapentake of Bradley Haverstoe, parts of Lindsey, union of Caister: 182 miles from London (coach road 158), 10 from Louth, 15 from Caister.—Nor. and East. Co<sup>a</sup> Rail. through Peterborough and Louth to North Thoresby, thence 3 miles: from Derby, through Syston, Peterborough, Boston, and Louth, &c., 127 miles.—Money orders issued at Louth: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 12 noon: post closes 2 p.m.—The living (St. Nicholas), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Lincoln, is valued at £10. 10s. 10d.: pres. net income, £382: patron, Duchy of Lancaster: pres. incumbent, R. B. Plumptre, 1818: contains 2,420 acres: 40 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, £225: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup>: £2,233.

COATHAM (EAST), NORTH RIDING, YORK, a hamlet in the parish of Kirkleatham, near the mouth of the Tees—(which see for access, &c.)

COATHAM-MUNDEVILLE, DURHAM, a township in the parish of Houghton-le-Skerne ward, on the river Skerne—(which see for access, &c.): 245 miles from London, 4 from Darlington, 11 from Stockton.—Money orders issued at Darlington: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9½ a.m.: post closes 3½ p.m.—Contains 1,500 acres: 31 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 138: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup>: £1,275: poor rates in 1838, £94. 13s.

COATON, NORTHAMPTON, a hamlet in the parish of Ravensthorpe—(which see for access, &c.): 9 miles from Northampton.—Money orders issued at Northampton: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9½ a.m.: post closes 7½ p.m.—Contains 860 acres: 24 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 128: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup>: £914: poor rates in 1838, £48.

COATON CLAY (or CLAY COATON), NORTHAMPTON, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Guilsborough, union of Rugby, on a branch of the river Avon: 88 miles from London (coach road 81), 10 from Daventry, 3 from Crick. — Nor. West. Rail. to Rugby, thence 6 miles: from Derby, through Leicester to Rugby, &c., 56 miles. — Money orders issued at Daventry: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9½ a.m.: post closes 6 p.m. — There is a right of common here, over twenty-five acres of land at low rents. The other parochial benefactions produce about £5. 10s. a year. — The living (St. Andrew), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Northampton, and diocese of Peterborough, is valued at £10: pres. net income, £339: patron, Rev. T. Smith: pres. incumbent, Thomas Smith, 1798: contains 1,380 acres: 23 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 107: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,696: poor rates in 1838, £44. 4s.

COBHAM, KENT, a parish in the upper half hun<sup>d</sup> of Shamwell, lathe of Aylesford, union of North Aylesford: 29 miles from London (coach road 25), 4 from Gravesend, 4 from Rochester. — Gravesend Rail. to Gravesend, thence 4 miles: from Derby, through London, &c., 161 miles. — Money orders issued at Gravesend: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 8 p.m. — The church is singularly rich in monumental brasses of very elaborate execution, commemorative of the several members of the Cobham family. The College, as it is called here, was founded in 1598, by the executors of Sir William Brooke, Lord Cobham, for the maintenance of twenty poor people of this and other parishes. The income of the institution is about £220 a year. The other parochial charities produce about £4. 7s. a year. — The living (St. Mary Magdalene) is a vicarage not in charge, in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Rochester: pres. net income, £94: patron, Earl of Darnley: pres. incumbent, John Stokes, 1814: contains 2,800 acres: 127 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 758: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 871: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £2,531: poor rates in 1838, £315. 15s. — Fair, August 2. — Cobham Hall is now the seat of the Earl of Darnley, but was formerly, from the reign of King John to that of James I., the head of the barony of the illustrious race of Cobham, the last of the ancient nobility of Kent. William, a Norman soldier, surnamed Quatre-Mer, or knight of the four seas, granted the manors of Cobham and Shorne to Henry de Cobham, one of the Recognitores Magnæ Assizæ, or Justices of the Great Assize, in the first year of the reign of King John. His descendants, under successive reigns, filled the highest and most honourable offices in the state. The male line becoming afterwards extinct, Joan, the grand-daughter and heiress of John de Cobham, the third and last baron, was the source of the honour: she married in succession five husbands, the fourth was Sir John Oldcastle, Knt., who assumed the title of Lord Cobham in right of his wife; and who, in consequence of his adherence to the opinions of the Lollards, was burnt alive in the reign of Henry V., as the chief person of that sect. Henry, a descendant of Joan, engaging in a conspiracy with Sir Walter Raleigh, Lord Grey of Wilton, and others, against the Cecils, was imprisoned in the Tower, and as all his property was confiscated, he was reduced to such poverty, that, says Weldon, he had starved had not a trencher-man, sometime his servant at court, relieved him with scraps. The hall is built in the form of a half H. There are octagonal towers at the extremities of the side wings, which, with the centre and a sunk wall in front, enclose an ornamented quadrangular lawn. The centre was built according to a design by Inigo Jones. It was renovated by the late Earl of Darnley. The interior of the north wing has been completely repaired; it contains a picture gallery, 134 feet in length. In the south wing are numerous fine paintings. The park includes 1,800 acres, and is almost seven miles in circumference. It is beautifully diversified, and well wooded, containing a great number of oaks, and an avenue of lime trees. At the south of the park, on an eminence, is a large mausoleum for the interment of members of the family, built according to an injunction in the will of the last earl. The owner of Cobham, Viscount Darnley of Athboy, and Baron Clifton of Rathmore, county Meath, in the peerage of Ireland: Baron Clifton, of Lighton Bromswold, in the peerage of England, hereditary high steward of Gravesend and Milton, is descended from John Bligh, citizen of London, who was employed as agent of the adventurers for the estates forfeited in the civil war of 1641, and arrived in Ireland in the time of Cromwell, and became an adventurer himself. He sat for Athboy in the first parliament after the Restoration. His son was M.P. for Meath; and his grandson, John Bligh, Esq., also sat in parliament. He married the daughter of the Earl of Clarendon, and in September, 1721, was raised to the peerage of Ireland by the title of Baron Clifton of Rathmore. In March, 1722-3, he was made Viscount Darnley, and in June, 1725, Earl of Darnley. His son, Edward, who succeeded him, on the death of his mother, inherited the English barony of Clifton. From him descended John, the fifth earl, lord-lieutenant of the county of Meath, who, on his death in 1835, was succeeded by the present earl. — Wood-House is the seat of John Braithwaite, Esq.

COBHAM, SURREY, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Elmbridge, union of Epsom, on the river Mole: 22 miles from London (coach road 19), 6 from Epsom. — Sou. West. Rail. to Epsom, thence 6 miles: from Derby, through London, &c., 154 miles. — Money orders issued here: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 7 a.m. and 1 noon: post closes 10½ a.m. and 7½ p.m. — The church is an ancient structure, in a mixed style of early and decorated architecture. On the north side of it, there is a handsome tomb to the memory of Harvey Combe, Esq. There were formerly some extensive iron-works here, worked by the river Mole, but the place is now only used for carding woollen rags. The Mole is well stocked with pike, carp, trout, and other fish, and its banks are consequently much resorted to by anglers. — The living (St. Andrew), a disch<sup>d</sup> vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Surrey, and diocese of Winchester, is valued at £9. 17s. 11d.: pres. net income, £150: patron, Rev. C. Weston: pres. incumbent, W. James, 1823: contains 5,240 acres: 266 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,617: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,859: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £7,094: poor rates in 1838, £1,067. 12s. — Fairs: 17th of March and 11th of December, for horses and sheep. — About half a mile distant is Cobham Park, a handsome mansion built by Lord Ligonier, on the plan of an Italian villa. It is now the seat of Harvey Combe, Esq. In its neighbourhood there are several very gentlemanly residences, the principal of which is Hatchford House, a seat of the Earl of Ellesmere; Pains Hill, of Mrs. Cooper; and Cobham Lodge, the residence of Miss Molesworth.

COBLEY. See TATNAL AND COBLEY.

COBRIDGE, STAFFORD, a rather extensive hamlet, partly in the parish of Burslem, and partly in the parish of Stoke-upon-Trent, and near the Trent and Mersey Canal: 148 miles from London (coach road 152), 2½ from Newcastle, 1 from Burslem. Nor. West. Rail. through Rugby, Leicester, and Burton-upon-Trent, to Newcastle-under-Lyne, thence 2 miles: from Derby, through Burton, &c., 42 miles. Money orders issued at Newcastle-under-Lyne: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 7½ a.m.: post closes 8 p.m. This village has been raised into consideration by extensive collieries, and a vast increase in it of the manufacture of china and earthenware, and it is indeed now almost a part of Burslem. The living (Christ Church) is a perpetual curacy in the diocese of Lichfield: pres. net income, £100: patron, Rector of Burslem: pres. incumbent, W. D. Lamb, 1846: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 2,363: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 2,700.—(The returns have not been separately made)

COCKAYNE-HATLEY (or HATLEY-PORT), BEDFORD, a parish in the hund<sup>d</sup> and union of Biggleswade: 46 miles from London (coach road 50), 6 from Biggleswade, 2 from Potton. Gt. Nor. Rail. to Biggleswade, thence 6 miles: from Derby, through Rugby to Bedford, 102, thence 12 miles. Money orders issued at Biggleswade: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8¼ a.m.: post closes 7½ a.m. The living, a rectory, formerly in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Bedford, and diocese of Lincoln, now in the diocese of Ely, is valued at £8: pres. net income, £157: patron, Rev. H. C. Cust: pres. incumbent, Hon. H. C. Cust, 1806: contains 1,460 acres: 20 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 99: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £1,330: poor rates in 1838, £63. 18s. Tithes commuted in 1839.

COCKEN, DURHAM, a township in the parish of Houghton-le-Spring, bounded on the south and the west by the river Wear—(which see for access, &c.): 263 miles from London, 4 from Durham, 11 from Newcastle. Money orders issued at Durham: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 3 p.m. At Cocken Hall, the property of the Earl of Durham, and which is almost surrounded by water, a nunnery of the order of St. Teresa was established about the beginning of the present century by several nuns, who immigrated from Aire, near Antwerp. The community consists of sixteen choir nuns. Their walks and plantations are singularly wild and romantic, extending along deep dells, bounded by lofty precipices, which rise abruptly from the banks of the river. The building of the convent is an ancient and picturesque structure, having just opposite to it the ruins of Finshall Abbey. Contains 380 acres: 11 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 65: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £684: poor rates in 1838, £17. Cocken Hall is the seat of William Standish Standish, Esq. The hall is built on an eminence surrounded on the east by deep dells, and on the other three sides by the river Wear, but flowing through a rocky channel. There are, in some places perpendicular cliffs 100 feet high, and the ground in other places declines gradually to the margin of the stream. A beautiful view of the ruins of Finchley Priory, from the terrace formed at the bottom of the cliff. The southern portions were formerly planted with vine and various other fruit trees.—(For the family history and genealogy of the present proprietor, see DIXBURY, Lancashire.)

COCKER (THE), CUMBERLAND, a river.

COCKERHAM, LANCASTER, a parish in the hund<sup>d</sup> of Lonsdale, south of the sands, union of Lancaster, close on the Lancaster Canal: it includes the township of Cockerham, and the chapelry of Ellel: 224 miles from London (coach road 234), 6 from Lancaster, 5 from Garstang. Nor. West. Rail. through Crewe and Preston to Garstang, thence 5 miles: from Derby, through Crewe, &c., 124 miles. Money orders issued at Lancaster: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8¼ a.m.: post closes 4½ p.m. There is an Independent chapel here, and a school endowed with about £25 a year, and there is also a charity school in Ellel. The living (St. Michael), a disch<sup>d</sup> vicarage in the diocese of Manchester, is valued at £10. 16. 8d.: pres. net income, £655: patron, Lord of the Manor: pres. incumbent, John Dodson, 1835: contains 10,420 acres: 480 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 3,230: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 3,714: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £16,649: poor rates in 1838, £939. Tithes commuted in 1825. Fair, Easter-Monday. Cockerham is the seat of R. Berthon Preston, Esq. This family was seated at Preston Richard, Westmoreland, in the time of King Henry II., and also possessed the adjacent manor of Preston Patrick. The estates continued in this family from the time of King Henry II. to that of Edward III., for a space of upwards of two hundred years; when, the male line failing, the estate of Preston Patrick passed to Sir John de Preston, a Judge of the Common Pleas, and brother of Richard de Preston, the last male heir. In the reign of Charles I., John Preston, Esq., his descendant, at his own expense, raised a regiment for that monarch, and was created a baronet in 1664. The title expired in 1710, with the third baronet. A junior branch of the family afterwards settled at Cockerham, founded by John Preston, of Preston Hall, from whom descended Robert Preston, Esq. of Fir Grove, who died in 1833, and was succeeded by his grandson, the present Robert Berthon Preston, Esq.

COCKERHAM, LANCASTER, a township in the above parish.—(For access and postal arrangements, see above.) Contains 4,860 acres: 131 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 663: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 762: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £8,501.

COCKERINGTON (NORTH), or St. MARY'S, LINCOLN, a parish in the Wold division of the hund<sup>d</sup> of Louth Eske, parts of Lindsey, union of Louth: 176 miles from London (coach road 152), 4 from Louth, 10 from Alford. Nor. and East. Co<sup>t</sup> Rail. through Peterborough to Louth, thence 4 miles: from Derby, through Nottingham, Lincoln, and Boston, to Louth, &c., 121 miles. Money orders issued at Louth: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 11 a.m.: post closes 2½ p.m. The living (St. Leonard), a perpetual curacy, with Alvingham: contains 2,030 acres: 48 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841,

227: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £2,310: poor rates in 1838, £118. 2s.

COCKERINGTON (SOUTH), or St. LEONARD'S, LINCOLN, a parish in the Wold division of the hund<sup>d</sup>. of Louth Eske, parts of Lindsey, union of Louth: 151 miles from London, 3 from Louth, 14 from Horncastle—(for access and postal arrangements, see above.)—From Sir Adrian Scrope, Knt., of this place, was descended Adrian Scrope, Esq., who was a warm adherent of Charles II. during the civil war, and who was wounded and left for dead on the field of Edgehill, but was recovered through the skill and attention of Dr. William Harvey, the discoverer of the circulation of the blood. At the coronation of Charles II., after the Restoration, Mr. Scrope was made a Knight of the Bath. To his the fate of a relative and namesake was a sad contrast. The other, Mr. Adrian Scrope, after finishing his education as a fellow-commoner at Hart Hall, Cambridge, embraced the cause of the parliament, and speedily attained the colonelcy of a regiment of horse, and afterwards signed the warrant for beheading the king, for which, in October, 1660, he suffered capital execution. Scrope, the celebrated satirist and poet, was a descendant of the loyalist Scrope.—The living (St. Mary), a disch<sup>d</sup>. vicarage in the archd<sup>r</sup>. and diocese of Lincoln, is valued at £5. 1s. 5½d.: pres. net income, £163: patron, Bishop of Lincoln: pres. incumbent, G. T. Holland, 1846: contains 1,430 acres: 42 houses: pop<sup>n</sup>. in 1841, 246: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £2,896: poor rates in 1838, £115.—Tithes were commuted in 1765.

COCKERMOUTH, CUMBERLAND, a parliamentary borough, market town, and parochial chapelry, in the parish of Brigham, union of Cockermouth: 340 miles from London (coach road 306), 12 from Whitehaven.—Nor. West. Rail. through Crewe, Lancaster, and Carlisle, to Cockermouth station: from Derby, through Crewe, &c., 240 miles.—Money orders issued here: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 9.20 a.m. and 11½ a.m.: post closes 12.55 p.m. and 5½ p.m.—Cockermouth derives its name from its situation at the mouth of the river Cocker, which here falls into the Derwent. William de Meschines, soon after the Conquest, assigned the barony, now called the Honour of Cockermouth, to Waldeof, lord of Allerdale, son of the Earl of Northumberland. It was once in the possession of Piers Gavestone, but after changing hands several times, it now belongs to the Earl of Egremont. Mary Queen of Scots, on her road from Workington to Carlisle, after her escape from the castle of Dunbar, remained here for some time, and was entertained by the Fletchers at Hutton Hall with great hospitality. During the parliamentary war, the castle was besieged in August, 1648, by 500 Cumberland royalists; but Cromwell soon despatched Lieut.-Colonel Ashton from Lancashire, who relieved it. The castle is situated on a precipitous eminence to the north of the town, opposite to where the two rivers meet. It was once extremely strong and very extensive. Some portions of it are still habitable. The town is pleasantly situated in a narrow valley, surrounded with beautiful scenery of hill, dale, wood, and water. On the northern side flows the Derwent, over which there is a handsome stone bridge of two arches. Along the bank of the river there is an agreeable promenade, extending for a mile, and terminated at one end by lofty well-wooded cliffs, and at the other by the ruins of the castle, and the bowling-green. The streets are well lighted; but all of them, except the High Street, indifferently paved. The houses are of stone, roofed with blue slate, and are well supplied with water. Cockermouth, within the last few years, has been considerably improved. In 1711, the old church, built in the reign of Edward III., was, with the exception of the tower, destroyed, and the present one substituted: it was dedicated to All Saints. There is a small subscription library, and a parochial library here, which contains 500 volumes. The Society of Friends, the Independents, and Wesleyan Methodists, have chapels here. There is a free grammar-school, founded in 1676, a charity school, and a free school for girls. There is a dispensary, and also four friendly societies, and a savings bank. There are extensive coal mines in the vicinity. The chief officer of the town is a bailiff, chosen annually at Christmas, at a court-leet for the manor, but he has no local authority, the borough being under the jurisdiction of the county magistrates, by whom a petty session is held every Monday. From the time of Edward I. to that of Charles I., Cockermouth returned no members to parliament; but the privilege was then restored, and has been exercised ever since. It is the principal place of election, and the polling-place for the eastern division of Cumberland. The Moot Hall has been recently rebuilt on a commodious plan. The honour of Cockermouth gives the title of baron to the family of Wyndham, Earls of Egremont.—The living (All Saints), a perpetual curacy in the archd<sup>r</sup>. of Richmond, and diocese of Chester, is valued at £34. 13s. 4d.: pres. net income, £132: patron, Earl of Lonsdale: pres. incumbent, Edward Fawcett, 1809: contains 2,680 acres: 967 houses: pop<sup>n</sup>. in 1841, 4,940: probable pop<sup>n</sup>. in 1849, 5,681: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £5,454: poor rates in 1838, £853. 15s. Tithes commuted in 1813.—Market days, Monday and Saturday. Fairs: Monday before Easter—Monday, cattle; first and third Wednesday in May; Oct. 10, horses; Feb. 18.—Bankers: Branch of Carlisle City and District Bank—draw on Glyn, Halifax, & Co.; Branch of Cumberland Union Banking Co.—draw on Barclay, Bevan, & Co.—Globe Inn and Sun Hotel.

COCKERSAND ABBEY, LANCASTER, an extra-parochial liberty in the hund<sup>d</sup>. of Lonsdale.

COCKERTON, DURHAM, a township in the parish of Darlington, on a branch of the river Skerne—(which see for access, &c.): 260 miles from London, 1 from Durham, 12 from Wolsingham.—Money orders issued at Durham: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 10½ a.m.: post closes 3½ p.m.—Contains 1,580 acres: 96 houses: pop<sup>n</sup>. in 1841, 482: probable pop<sup>n</sup>. in 1849, 554: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £2,986: poor rates in 1838, £243. 17s.

COCKFIELD, DURHAM, a parish in the southwest division of Darlington ward, union of Teesdale, south of the river Gaunless: 284 miles from London (coach road 255), 7 from Barnard Castle, 14 from Darlington.—Nor. West. Rail. through Rugby, Derby, York, and Darlington, to Bishop's Auckland, thence 5 miles: from Derby, through

York, &c., 152 miles. Money orders issued at Darlington: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 1 p.m.: post closes 12½ p.m. The living, a disch<sup>d</sup> rectory, with the vicarage of Staindrop, in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Durham, is valued at £9. 18s.: pres. net income, £354: patron, Duke of Cleveland: pres. incumbent, H. C. Lipscomb, 1846: contains 1,720 acres: 155 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,187: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,365: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £1,770: poor rates in 1838, £111. 10s. S., Raby Park, the seat of the Duke of Cleveland—(for which see SHOLTON.)

COCKFIELD, SUFFOLK, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Babergh, union of Cosford: 101 miles from London (coach road 65), 12 from Sudbury, 7 from Bury St. Edmund's. East. Co<sup>r</sup> Rail. to Bury St. Edmund's, thence 7 miles: from Derby, through Syston, Peterborough, and Norwich, to Bury, &c., 208 miles. Money orders issued at Sudbury: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 10½ a.m.: post closes 3½ p.m. The parochial charities produce about £8. 18s. a year. The living (St. Peter), a rectory, formerly in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Sudbury, and diocese of Norwich, now in the diocese of Ely, is valued at £30: pres. net income, £635: patron, St. John's College, Cambridge: pres. incumbent, R. Jeffreys, 1841: contains 3,470 acres: 207 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 951: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,093: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £4,086: poor rates in 1838, £401. 15s.

COCKING, SUSSEX, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Easebourne, rape of Chichester, union of Midhurst: 86 miles from London (coach road 52), 8 from Chichester, 7 from Petworth. Brighton and South Coast Rail. to Chichester, thence 8 miles: from Derby, through London, &c., 218 miles. Money orders issued at Chichester: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 6½ p.m. The living, a vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Chichester, is valued at £13. 6s. 8d.: pres. net income, £250: patron, Bishop of Chichester: pres. incumbent, T. Valentine, 1823: contains 2,370 acres: 59 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 464: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 533: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £1,749: poor rates in 1838, £256. 4s.

COCKINGTON, DEVON, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Haytor, union of Newton-Abbot: 222 miles from London (coach road 193), 2 from Torquay, 8 from Dartmouth. Gt. West. Rail. through Bristol and Exeter to Torquay, thence 2 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham, Bristol, &c., 236 miles. Money orders issued at Torquay: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 5½ p.m. The parochial charities produce about £41. 6s. per annum, consisting chiefly of an endowment for almshouses inhabited by six poor people. The living is a perpetual curacy in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Totness, and diocese of Exeter, annexed to that of Tor-Mohun, and having jointly a pres. net income of about £400: patron, C. Mallock, Esq.: pres. incumbent, J. H. Harris, D.D., 1848: contains 1,560 acres: 46 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 203: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £2,109: poor rates in 1838, £127. Cockington Court is the seat of C. H. Mallock, Esq.—Pilmuir, in the parish of Tor-Mohun, is the seat of Lord Sinclair.—Torre Abbey is the seat of R. S. Cary, Esq.

COCKLAW, NORTHUMBERLAND, a township in the parish of St. John-Lee—(which see for access,

&c.): 286 miles from London, 1 from Hexham. Money orders issued at Hexham: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 7½ a.m.: post closes 5½ p.m. There are still some remains of Cocklaw tower, a castle of the Erringtons. Contains 33 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 172: poor rates in 1838, £127. 5s. Tithes commuted in 1839.

COCKLE-PARK, NORTHUMBERLAND, a township in the parish of Hebburn—(which see for access, &c.): 292 miles from London, 3 from Morpeth, 11 from Rothbury. Money orders issued at Morpeth: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> at noon: post closes 1½ p.m. Cockle-Park Tower, now a handsome farm residence, was once a stronghold of the Bertrams. Contains 15 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 63: poor rates in 1838, £69. 5s.

COCKLEY-CLEY, NORFOLK, a parish in the southern division of the hun<sup>d</sup> of Greenhoe, union of Swaffham: 135 miles from London, 4 from Swaffham. Nor. and East. Co<sup>r</sup> Rail. through Lynn to Swaffham, thence 4 miles: from Derby, through Syston and Peterborough to Lynn, &c., 141 miles. Money orders issued at Swaffham: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m. There was formerly a church here, dedicated to St. Peter, but it was burnt down in the reign of Elizabeth; and a chapel, which was dedicated to St. Mary, and afterwards fitted up as a rectory-house, has now been converted into a cottage. Sir Cloudesley Shovel, the celebrated admiral, is said to have run away from his apprenticeship to a shoemaker in this parish. The parochial charities produce about £16 a year. The living (All Saints), a disch<sup>d</sup> rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Norfolk, and diocese of Norwich, is valued at £8. 17s. 1d.: pres. net income, £180: patron, J. R. Buckworth, Esq.: pres. incumbent, Robert Rolfe, 1819: contains 4,370 acres: 43 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 244: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £1,253: poor rates in 1838, £52. 9s.

COCKSHUT, SALOP, a chapelry in the parish of Ellesmere—(which see for access, &c.): 174 miles from London, 4 from Ellesmere, 9 from Oswestry. Money orders issued at Ellesmere: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 10 a.m.: post closes 4 p.m. The living is a perpetual curacy, annexed to the vicarage of Ellesmere: pres. net income, £86: patron, Vicar of Ellesmere: pres. incumbent, S. H. Burrows, 1840: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 34.

COCKTHORPE, NORFOLK, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of North Greenhoe, union of Walsingham: 147 miles from London (coach road 122), 4 from Clay, 5 from Wells. Nor. and East. Co<sup>r</sup> Rail. through Ely to Fakenham, thence 8 miles: from Derby, through Syston, Peterborough, and Dereham, to Fakenham, &c., 167 miles. Money orders issued at Holt: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 1½ p.m.: post closes 12½ p.m. This was the birth-place of Admirals Sir Cloudesley Shovel, Sir John Narborough, and Sir Christopher Mynnes. Sir Cloudesley was born in 1674, and served as a lieutenant in the navy under Sir John Narborough, who sent him with a requisition to the Dey of Tripoli, who treated it with contempt. On his return, he pointed out to the admiral the practicability of destroying the shipping in the harbour, which, receiving permission, he accomplished without the loss of a single man. For this he was raised to the command of a ship, and served with great distinction for a series of years in different parts of the world, sharing in the victories of Malaga and La Hogue. While in command of the Channel fleet, in 1705, he sailed for England; but, on the 22d of October, fell by mistake on the Scilly rocks, when his ship and crew were totally lost. The body of Sir Cloudealey was found by some fishermen, who buried it; but it was afterwards disinterred, carried to London, and buried in Westminster Abbey.---The living (All Saints), a rectory, united with the rectories of Blakeney and Little Langham, with the perpetual curacy of Glandford, in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Norwich, is valued at £5: pres. net income, £506: patron, Lord Calthorpe: pres. incumbent, Joseph Cotterill, 1824: contains 530 acres: 7 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 42: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £582: poor rates in 1838, £72. 10s.

COCKTHORPE, OXFORD, a chapelry in the parish of Ducklington, west of the river Windrush---(which see for access, &c.): 63 miles from London, 3 from Witney, 9 from Burford.---Money orders issued at Witney: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 8 p.m.---The living is a curacy to the rectory of Ducklington, in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Oxford, not in charge.

CODDENHAM, SUFFOLK, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> and union of Bosmere and Claydon: 76 miles from London (coach road 74), 4 from Needham, 7 from Debenham.---East. Co<sup>t</sup> Rail. to Claydon station, thence 3 miles: from Derby, through London, &c., 208 miles.---Money orders issued at Needham: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 5 p.m.---This is a large and beautiful village. The church is a fine Gothic structure, which contains several fine monuments. The Independents have a small chapel here.---The living (St. Mary), a vicarage, with the curacy of Crowfield, in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Suffolk, and diocese of Norwich, is valued at £12. 0s. 5d.: pres. net income, £1,009: patron, Rev. J. Longe: pres. incumbent, Robert Longe, 1834: contains 2,731 acres: 213 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 924: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,100: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £3,768: poor rates in 1848, £476. Tithes commuted in 1839.---Fair, October 2.---Coddenham Hall, an elegant residence, is the seat of Charles Crowe, Esq.---The handsome Red House, on rising ground, with a broad expanse of pasture-glebe before it, and commanding lovely prospects of undulating ground, well wooded, is the vicarage and residence of the Rev. Robert Longe.

CODDINGTON, CHESTER, a parish in the higher division of the hun<sup>d</sup> of Broxton, union of Great Boughton: 186 miles from London (coach road 169), 8 from Chester, 8 from Tarporley.---Nor. West. Rail. through Crewe to Chester, thence 8 miles: from Derby, through Crewe, &c., 86 miles.---Money orders issued at Chester: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m.---The living (St. Mary), a disch<sup>d</sup> rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Chester, is valued at £5. 4s. 2d.: pres. net income, £262: patron, Dean and Chapter of Chester: pres. incumbent, T. Boydell, 1840: contains 2,640 acres: 49 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 324: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 373: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £4,528: poor rates in 1838, £242. 16s.---Coddington is the seat of the Rev. Richard Massie, rector of Ecclestone. Some derive the descent of this family from a younger son of Sir John Massie of Tatton; and others from Hamon, son of Sir John Massie of Puddington. Hugh Massie, the first ancestor, settled at Coddington through his marriage with Agnes, daughter and heiress of Sir Nicholas Bold of Coddington. His third son, William Massie, Esq., in the reign of Henry VI., purchased the manors of Coddington and Bechinde from Sir Philip Boteler. From him descended John Massie, Esq. of Coddington, whose fifth son, Edward, was one of the most distinguished generals in the civil wars under Charles I. From John Massie descended Thomas Massie, Esq. of Coddington, who died in 1802, and was succeeded by his son, the present Rev. Richard Massie.

CODDINGTON, CHESTER, a township in the above parish.---(For access and postal arrangements, see above.)---Contains 1,220 acres: 14 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 140: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £2,542: poor rates in 1838, £117. 15s.

CODDINGTON, HEREFORD, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Radlow, union of Ledbury: 131 miles from London (coach road 123), 3 from Ledbury, 10 from Bromyard.---Gt. West. Rail. through Oxford to Worcester, thence 13 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham to Worcester, &c., 84 miles.---Money orders issued at Ledbury: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m.---The living (All Saints), a disch<sup>d</sup> rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Hereford, is valued at £4. 18s. 4d.: pres. net income, £170: patron, Bishop of Hereford: contains 1,510 acres: 34 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 158: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,143: poor rates in 1837, £65.

CODDINGTON, NOTTINGHAM, a parish in the south division of the wapentake of Newark, union of Newark: 149 miles from London (coach road 126), 2 Newark, 6 from Southwell.---Nor. West. Rail. through Rugby and Nottingham to Newark, thence 2 miles: from Derby, through Nottingham to Newark, &c., 35 miles.---Money orders issued at Newark: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 7½ a.m.: post closes 6½ p.m.---There is a school here, with a small endowment out of Birche's charity, which not long since had an income of £140 a year. The other charities produce about £3 per annum.---The living (All Saints), a curacy annexed to the vicarage of East Stoke: contains 1,850 acres: 95 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 436: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 501: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £2,595: poor rates in 1838, £181. 9s. Tithes commuted in 1760.

CODFORD, WILTS, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Heytesbury, union of Warminster, on the southern bank of the river Wiley: 110 miles from London (coach road 95), 4 from Heytesbury, 8 from Warminster.---Sou. West. Rail. to Salisbury, thence 14 miles: from Derby, through Rugby, Oxford, Reading, and Bishopstoke, to Salisbury, &c., 203 miles.---Money orders issued at Heytesbury: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 5½ p.m.---The living (St. Mary), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Sarum, is valued at £18: pres. net income, £306: patron, St. John's College, Oxford: pres. incumbent, G. M. Webster, 1816: contains 1,540 acres: 40 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 338: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 389: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £2,705: poor rates in 1838, £201.

CODFORD, WILTS, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Heytesbury, union of Warminster: 96 miles from London. (For access and postal arrangements, see above.)—The living (St. Peter), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Sarum, is valued at £17. 15s.: pres. net income, £380: patron, Pembroke College, Oxford: pres. incumbent, H. Wightwick, 1841: contains 1,770 acres: 60 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 394: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 453: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £890: poor rates in 1838, £339. 7s.

CODICOTE, HERTFORD, a parish in the hund<sup>d</sup> of Cashio, or liberty of St. Albans, though locally situated in the hund<sup>d</sup> of Broadwater, union of Hitchin: 25 miles from London (coach road 28), 2 from Welwyn, 7 from Hatfield. Gt. Nor. Rail. to Welwyn, thence 2 miles: from Derby, through London, &c., 157 miles. Money orders issued at Welwyn: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8½ a.m.: post closes 8½ p.m.—The living (St. Giles), a disch<sup>d</sup> vicarage in the diocese of Rochester, is valued at £7. 5s. 10d.: pres. net income, £149: patron, Bishop of Ely: pres. incumbent, T. H. Sharpe, 1848: contains 2,580 acres: 156 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 906: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,042: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £3,048: poor rates in 1837, £281.

CODNOR-WITH-LOSCOE, DERBYSHIRE, a township in the parish of Heanor, near the Erwash Canal—(which see for access, &c.): 135 miles from London, 9 from Derby, 4 from Alfreton. Money orders issued at Derby: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 10½ a.m.: post closes 7 p.m.—The living is a perpetual curacy in the diocese of Lichfield: pres. net income, £150: patron, Crown and Bishop alternately: pres. incumbent H. Middleton, 1845: contains 267 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 2,007: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 2,308: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £2,682.

CODNOR-CASTLE, AND PARK-LIBERTY, DERBY, an extra-parochial liberty in the hund<sup>d</sup> of Morleston and Litchurch—(which see for access, &c.): 136 miles from London. Contains 1,320 acres: 108 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 815: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 937: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> 1,764: poor rates in 1838, £206. 12s.—Codnor Castle is the property of Charles Legh Hoskins Master, Esq., also of Barrow Green House, Surrey. This castle, in the reign of Henry III., was the principal seat of Richard de Grey. In 1712, when it came into the possession of the Masters, it was partly in ruins. It has been, since that time, almost destroyed. It is situated on an elevation. The family that now possess it is a branch of the ancient Kentish family of Master. The present proprietor is descended from John Master, Esq. of East Langdon, Kent, from whom descended Sir Streynsham Master, Knight, governor of Fort St. George, in the East Indies, and who, in 1712, was high sheriff of Derbyshire, and who purchased Codnor Castle in 1692, whose descendant now holds the property.

CODRINGTON. See WAPLEY-WITH-CODRINGTON.

CODSALL, STAFFORD, a parish in the south division of the hund<sup>d</sup> of Seisdon, union of Seisdon, in the vicinity of the Birmingham and Liverpool Canal: it includes the township of Oaken: 132 miles from London (coach road 127), 5 from Wolverhampton, 8 from Penkridge. Nor. West. Rail. through Birmingham to Wolverhampton, thence 5 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham, &c., 55 miles. Money orders issued at Wolver-hampton: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8½ a.m.: post closes 7 p.m.—There is a school here with a small endowment. The parochial charities produce about £58 a year.—The living (St. Nicholas) is a perpetual curacy in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Stafford, and diocese of Lichfield: pres. net income, £146: patron, Lord Wrottesley: pres. incumbent, Arthur Trower, 1847: contains 2,580 acres: 215 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,096: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,260: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £2,717: poor rates in 1838, £271. 13s.

COEDANA, ANGLESEY, a parish in the hund<sup>d</sup> of Twrcelyn, union of Anglesey, North Wales: 254 miles from London (coach road 265), 2 from Llanerchymed, 5 from Llanallgo. Nor. West. Rail. through Crewe, Chester, and Bangor, to Garwens station, thence 10 miles: from Derby, through Crewe, &c., 154 miles. Money orders issued at Bangor: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 3 p.m.—The living is a chapelry to the rectory of Llanellian: contains 59 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 275: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £864: poor rates in 1838, £155. 3s.

COEDCANLASS, PEMBROKE, a parish in the hund<sup>d</sup> and union of Narbeth, South Wales, on an estuary of the Bristol Channel: 228 miles from London (coach road 261), 6 from Haverfordwest, 5 from Pembroke. Gt. West. Rail. to Stonehouse, thence 125 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham to Stonehouse, &c., 228 miles. Money orders issued at Haverfordwest: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8½ a.m.: post closes 8½ p.m.—The living, a donative curacy, a sinecure in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of St. David's: pres. net income, £20: patron, Sir John Owen: pres. incumbent, W. D. Phillips, 1830: contains 29 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 245: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £626: poor rates in 1838, £41. 17s.

COED-CHRISTIONYDD. See CHRISTIONYDD.

COED-DHU-CHURCH (or COYCHURCH), GLAMORGAN, a parish in the hund<sup>d</sup> of Newcastle, union of Bridgend and Cowbridge, South Wales. It includes the hamlets of Coychurch, Higher and Lower, and Pencoyd, and the chapelry of Peterstone-on-the-Hill: 168 miles from London (coach road 179), 2 from Bridgend, 6 from Cowbridge. Gt. West. Rail. to Weston-super-Mare, thence 30 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Bristol to Weston, &c., 182 miles. Money orders issued at Bridgend: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 11½ a.m.: post closes 1 p.m.—There is a school here with a small endowment. The other charities consist of the interest of £1,000 in the funds, which is equally divided among the poor of the three hamlets. The mountain of Coer-Caradoc is in this parish.—The living, a rectory, with the curacy of Peterstone, in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Llandaff, is valued at £28. 1s. 8d.: pres. net income, £446: patron, Earl of Dunraven: pres. incumbent, John Harding, 1812: contains 221 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,254: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,442: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £5,262: poor rates in 1838, £429. 3s.

COED-FRANK, GLAMORGAN, a hamlet in the parish of Cadoxton—(which see for access, &c.): 196 miles from London, 1 from Neath. Money orders issued at Neath: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 2 p.m.: post closes 10½ a.m.—Contains 154 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,126: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,295: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £454: poor rates in 1838, £385. 2s.

COEDGLASSION (or COIDGLASSION), RADNOR, a hamlet in the parish of Nantmel—(which see for access, &c.): 171 miles from London, 5 from Rhayadry, 12 from North Radnor. Money orders issued at Rhayadry: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 1½ p.m.: post closes 11 a.m.—Contains 37 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 237.

COEDKERNEW, MOWMOUTH, a parish in the upper division of the hun<sup>d</sup> of Wentloog, union of Newport: 149 miles from London (coach road 151), 4 from Newport, 6 from Cardiff.—Gt. West. Rail. through Bristol to Clvedon, thence across the channel, 15 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Bristol to Clevedon, &c., 163 miles. Money orders issued at Newport: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 3½ p.m.—The living (All Saints) is a curacy joined with the vicarage of St. Brides-Wentloog: contains 710 acres: 27 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 149: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £903: poor rates in 1838, £110. 5s.

COED-Y-CUMAR, BRECON, a hamlet in the parish of Vainor—(which see for access, &c.): 169 miles from London, 2 from Merthyr-Tydvil, 12 from Brecon. Money orders issued at Merthyr-Tydvil: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 11 a.m.: post closes 1 p.m.—Contains 328 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,905: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 2,191: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,700.

COETON-ARTHUR. See ARTHUR'S-STONE.

COFFINSWELL, DEVON, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of HAYTON, union of Newton-Abbot: 131 miles from London (coach road 188), 5 from Abbots-Newton, 8 from Totness.—Gt. West. Rail. through Bristol and Exeter to Totness: from Derby, through Birmingham, Bristol, and Exeter, to Totness, &c., 145 miles. Money orders issued at Newton-Abbot: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 5 p.m.—The living (St. Bartholomew), a curacy to the vicarage of St. Mary's Church: contains 1,010 acres: 54 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 215: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,825: poor rates in 1838, £113. 17s.

COGAN (or COGGAN), GLAMORGAN, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Dinas-Powis, union of Cardiff, South Wales: 152 miles from London (coach road 166), 6 from Cardiff, 6 from Llandaff.—Gt. West. Rail. through Bristol to Weston-super-Mare, thence across to Penarth, &c., 13 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Bristol to Weston, &c., 166 miles. Money orders issued at Cardiff: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 10½ a.m.: post closes 1½ p.m.—The living is a rectory annexed to that of Leek-with.—Contains 2 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 28: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £368: poor rates in 1838, £21. 7s.

COGENHOE (or COCKHOE), NORTHAMPTON, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Wymersley, union of Hardingstone, south of the river Nen: 72 miles from London (coach road 61), 5 from Northampton, 6 from Wellingborough.—Nor. West. Rail. to Northampton, thence 5 miles: from Derby, through Weedon to Northampton, &c., 84 miles. Money orders issued at Northampton: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8½ a.m.: post closes 8½ p.m.—The living (St. Peter), a rectory in the arch<sup>d</sup> of Northampton, and diocese of Peterborough, is valued at £17: pres. net income, £245: patron, Rev. R. E. Watkin: pres. incumbent, Edward Watkin, 1812: contains 960 acres: 46 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 322: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 370: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,462: poor rates in 1838, £178. 16s. The tithes were commuted under acts 7 and 8 Geo. IV. c. 34.

COGGES, OXFORD, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Wooton, union of Witney: it includes the township of Wilcote: 73 miles from London (coach road 64), 1 from Witney, 10 from Oxford.—Gt. West. Rail. to Oxford, thence 10 miles: from Derby, through Rugby to Oxford, &c., 105 miles. Money orders issued at Witney: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8½ a.m.: post closes 8½ p.m.—There was formerly here an alien priory of black monks to the abbey of the Holy Trinity, at Fiscamp, in Normandy. There are two schools here, with an endowment of £6 a year. The parochial charities, which are intercommunicative with those of Witney, produce about £97 a year.—The living (St. Mary) is a perpetual curacy not in charge, in the arch<sup>d</sup> and diocese of Oxford: pres. net income, £64: patron, Eton College: pres. incumbent, H. Gregory: contains 2,090 acres: 138 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 825: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 949: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £3,657: poor rates in 1838, £246. 1s. The tithes were commuted in 1787.

COGGESHALL (GREAT), ESSEX, a market town and parish in the Witham division of the hun<sup>d</sup> of Lexden, union of Witham: 45 miles from London (coach road 44), 3 from Kelvedon, 9 from Colchester.—East. Co<sup>t</sup> Rail. to Kelvedon station, thence 3 miles: from Derby, through London, &c., 177 miles. Money orders issued at Kelvedon: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 7 a.m.: post closes 8½ p.m.—By some antiquaries, this place is supposed to have been the Roman station Ad Ansom, but others think it more probable that it was the Canonium of Antoninus, with the distance of which place from Cesaromagus it exactly corresponds. Several remains, tending to support the latter assertion, have been found here. Colo, a Saxon, held this lordship in the time of Edward the Confessor, and at the Norman survey it belonged to Eustace, Earl of Boulogne, whose heiress, Maud, conveyed it to the crown by her union with Stephen, then Earl of Blois, but afterwards king of England. The present town probably arose chiefly from the establishment of an abbey here by Stephen and his queen, in the year 1142, who richly endowed it, and dedicated it to the Virgin Mary. King John granted it several privileges, and Henry III. invested the community with the privilege to hold a weekly market, and an eight days' annual fair. Some chantries were afterwards founded here. Its revenue at the dissolution was valued at £298. 8s. Henry VIII. granted the manor to Sir Thomas Seymour, the brother of the Duke of Somerset. Since then it has been divided, and has belonged to various families. Only a small part of the abbey is now in existence: it is occupied as a farm-house. Near it is an ancient bridge of three arches, built by King Stephen over a canal, cut to convey water from the river to the monastery, which has lately been repaired. The town is situated near the river Blackwater, and contains several narrow streets well lighted and supplied with water, but indifferently paved. The principal trade at present is in silk-weaving, but it had formerly a large trade in the manufacture of baize and serge, which has, however, considerably decreased. The church is a large handsome edifice, with a square tower. Coggeshall comprised the parishes of Great and Little Coggeshall, which are now consolidated. In the latter were two churches erected by the monks, one for their own use, which is entirely destroyed, and the other a parochial church, the remains of which are now made into a barn. The Baptists, the Society of Friends, the Independents, and Wesleyan Methodists, have chapels here. In 1636, Sir Robert Hitcham, Knt., founded a school, and endowed it with £30 per annum, in which 30 or 40 boys are educated, and an apprentice fee of £10 is given to each on leaving the school. Of the fund, about £50 per annum is paid to Levington, and £9 to Nacton, the rest being divided amongst the poor. There are six unendowed almshouses, and various bequests for the relief of the poor: amongst them is one given by Thomas Pycocke, Esq., in 1580, called wood-money, amounting to £70 per annum. The living (St. Peter), a vicarage in the diocese of Rochester, is valued at £11. 3s. 4d.: pres. net income, £215: patron, Captain Du Cane: pres. incumbent, W. J. Dampier, 1841: contains 2,770 acres: 624 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 3,408: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 3,919: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £5,430: poor rates in 1838, £1,228. 17s. Market day: Thursday. Fairs: Whit-Tuesday, cattle. Bankers: Sparrow & Co.—draw on Barclay, Bevan, & Co.; Branch of London and County Joint Stock Banking Company—draw on Head Office, 21 Lombard Street. Inns: Chapel, King's Arms, and White Hart.

COGGESHALL (LITTLE), ESSEX, a hamlet in the above parish, on the opposite side of the river, and in the hun<sup>d</sup>. and union of Witham: 43 miles from London, 1 from Great Coggeshall. (For access and postal arrangements, see above.) Contains 830 acres: 84 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 443: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 509: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,878: poor rates in 1838, £186. 1s.

COGSHELL, CHESTER, a township in the parish of Great Budworth, north of the river Weaver—(which see for access, &c.): 177 miles from London, 3 from Northwich, 6 from Warrington. Money orders issued at Northwich: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 7½ p.m. Contains 520 acres: 18 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 108: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,951: poor rates in 1838, £95. 15s.

COKER (EAST), SOMERSET, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Houndsborough, Barwick and Coker, union of Yeovil: 159 miles from London (coach road 123), 3 from Yeovil, 7 from Ilchester. Sou. West. Rail. through Southampton to Dorchester, thence 18 miles: from Derby, through Rugby, Oxford, Reading, and Southampton, to Dorchester, &c., 248 miles. Money orders issued at Yeovil: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 10 a.m.: post closes 4½ p.m. This was the birth-place of Dampier, the navigator, who was born about 1652, and became a mariner at an early age. During many years he had great variety of experience at sea, the history and results of which he published in a work called 'Voyages round the World,' which, for accuracy and professional knowledge, possesses great merit. He died, it is believed, in the year 1712. The living (St. Michael), a vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Wells, and diocese of Bath and Wells, is valued at £12. 6s. 3d.:

pres. net income, £212: patron, Dean and Chapter of Exeter: pres. incumbent, R. Hayshe, 1825: contains 2,140 acres: 235 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,334: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,534: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £4,353: poor rates in 1838, £431. 11s. Coker Court is the seat of William Hawker Helyar, Esq., who has another residence, called Sedgehill House, in Wiltshire. Mr. Helyar's family originally resided in Devonshire, where one William Helyar sat in parliament for Melcombe-Regis, in the reigns of Richard II. and Henry IV. William Helyar, archdeacon of Barnstaple, in the diocese of Exeter, and canon-residentary of the cathedral in 1616, purchased the manor of East Coker, with the advowson of the parish of Hardington Mandeville, from Sir Robert Phelps. He was succeeded by his grandson, William Helyar, Esq. of East Coker, who, in the civil wars, raised a body of horse for King Charles I. at his own expense, and was afterwards obliged to compound for his lands by a fine of £1,522. His son, William Helyar, Esq., was high sheriff for Somerset in 1701, and M.P. for the same county in 1714. From him descended the present proprietor, who is a magistrate for the counties of Somerset, Wilts, and Devon, and who was, in 1829, high sheriff of Somerset. He died in 1841, and was succeeded by his son, the present William Hawker Helyar, Esq.

COKER (WEST), SOMERSET, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Houndsborough, Barwick and Coker, union of Yeovil: 123 miles from London. (For access and postal arrangements, see above.) There is an almshouse here, endowed with £13 a year; the other parochial charities produce about £4 a year. The living (St. Martin), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Wells, and diocese of Bath and Wells: is valued at £12. 19s. 7d.: pres. net income, £430: patron, R. Raven, Esq.: pres. incumbent, Charles Penny, 1846: contains 1,100 acres: 195 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,046: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,203: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £4,046: poor rates in 1837, £500.

COKER (NORTH). See EAST COKER.

COLAN, CORNWALL, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Pyder, union of St. Columb-Major: 280 miles from London (coach road 255), 4 from St. Columb, 4 from St. Michael. Gt. West. Rail. through Bristol and Exeter to Plymouth, thence 40 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Bristol, &c., 299 miles. Money orders issued at St. Columb: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 3 p.m.: post closes 9 p.m. The living (St. Colan), a disch<sup>d</sup> vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Cornwall, and diocese of Exeter, is valued at £6. 13s. 4d.: pres. net income, £163: patron, Bishop of Exeter: pres. incumbent, John Creser, 1837: contains 1,790 acres: 40 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 217: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,685: poor rates in 1838, £668. 8s.

COLBOURNE, NORTH RIDING, YORK, a township in the parish of Catterick—(which see for access, &c.): 228 miles from London, 3 from Richmond, 5 from Badale. Money orders issued at Richmond: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 10 a.m.: post closes 3 p.m. Contains 1,240 acres: 32 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 142: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £5,468: poor rates in 1838, £9. 8s.

COLBY, NORFOLK, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of South Erpingham, union of Aylsham, west of the river

Bure: 131 miles from London (coach road 121), 3 from Aylsham, 7 from Cromer. — East. Coun. Rail. to Norwich, thence 17 miles: from Derby, through Syston and Peterborough to Norwich, &c., 183 miles. — Money orders issued at Aylsham: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 10 a.m.: post closes 4 p.m. — The church is a neat edifice; the east window contains some handsome specimens of ancient stained glass, selected by the rector, who also purchased the altar-piece, which represents Moses and Aaron. The font is beautifully carved with figures, which represent the evangelists. — The living (St. Giles), a disch<sup>d</sup> rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Norwich, is valued at £8. 15s. 10d.: pres. net income, £271: patron, Lord Suffield: pres. incumbent, G. Coleby, 1843: contains 1,000 acres: 64 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 346: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 398: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £923: poor rates in 1838, £100. 8s. Tithes commuted in 1839. — Colby Hall.

COLBY, WESTMORELAND, a township in the parish of St. Lawrence, borough of Appleby, south of the river Eden—(which see for access, &c.): 270 miles from London, 1 from Appleby, 12 from Penrith. — Money orders issued at Penrith: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 11½ a.m.: post closes 1½ p.m. — Contains 32 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 156.

COLCHESTER, ESSEX, a borough and market town, having separate jurisdiction locally, in the Colchester division of the hun<sup>d</sup> of Lexden, union of Colchester: 51 miles from London (coach road 50), 22 miles from Chelmsford. — East. Co<sup>t</sup> Rail. to Colchester station: from Derby, through London, &c., 183 miles. — Money orders issued at Colchester: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 7 a.m. and 2 p.m.: post closes 10 p.m. and 10½ a.m. — Colchester, according to all accounts, is a city of the most remote antiquity, having been in existence prior to the Roman invasion, when it was called by the British Cæsar Colan. The Romans named it Camulodunum. In the reign of Claudius, the Romans renewed war with Britain, establishing a colony at Camelodunum, which was for many years the scene of strife, and sometimes in possession of the Romans, and sometimes of the Britons. By tradition, it is stated that Coël, a British prince, about the middle of the third century, assumed independence, and took possession of the colony, whence it would seem to derive its name, Coël castrum, or Chester. Constantius Chlorus immediately commenced a siege of the place, which had continued for three years, when, having seen Helena, Coël's daughter, who is described as being very beautiful, he immediately made peace with Coël, on condition of receiving Helena in marriage. This was agreed to, and the tradition further asserts, that Constantine the Great was the fruit of their union, and that he was born at Colchester. Necham thus notices the circumstance:—

"From Colchester there rose a star,
The rays whereof gave glorious light
Throughout the world in climates far,
Great Constantine, Rome's emperor bright."

The Danes established themselves in this neighbourhood after their defeat by Alfred, and this city was their stronghold, from which, on his death, they recommenced their course of destruction and plunder; but, in 921, Edward the Elder, taking the town by assault, put the Danes to the sword, repaired the walls, and re-peopled it with west Saxons. When the Domesday-book was compiled, Colchester was a considerable town. When the naval armament was raised to blockade Calais, this town contributed five ships and 170 seamen. When the attempt was made to raise Lady Jane Grey to the throne, the inhabitants of Colchester so zealously supported Mary, that soon after her accession she visited the town. Soon after the accession of Elizabeth, several Flemings settled at Colchester, and at last increased so considerably, that the bailiffs and aldermen issued a command that no stranger should, for the future, be permitted to reside in the precincts of the town unless with their special consent. During the civil war, the inhabitants of Colchester took part with the parliament; but, in 1648, an army of royalists, under George Goring, Earl of Norwich, took possession of Colchester, where they were closely blockaded by the parliamentary forces, under Fairfax, for the space of eleven weeks, when they were forced to surrender from want of provisions, and Sir Charles Lucas and Sir George Lisle, who had assisted to defend it, were shot under the castle walls. In this siege, the town was of course much injured, and the fortifications were entirely dismantled. The town of Colchester is situated on the summit and northern acclivity of a fine eminence, rising from the river Colne, which flows on the north and east sides of it, and over which three bridges have been erected. The streets are large, and in the High Street are several good houses. The town is lighted with gas, well paved, and well supplied with water. Within the walls are the parishes of All Saints, St. James, St. Martin, St. Mary-at-the-Walls, St. Nicholas, St. Peter, St. Runwald, and the Holy Trinity; and without the walls, the parishes of St. Botolph, St. Giles, St. Leonard, or the Hythe, and St. Mary Magdalene. The church of All Saints was erected in 1309, near the east gate of the monastery of Grey Friars, by Robert Fitz-Walter. The church of St. James was built before the time of Edward II., and has a fine altar-piece. The church of St. Martin's was much damaged during the siege of the town in 1648. The most ancient church is that of St. Peter's, which was built before the Conquest, and is mentioned in the Domesday-book as the only church in Colchester. Besides these, are several other large churches. Colchester Castle was, in ancient times, a possession of the crown. It is situated on an eminence to the north of the High Street, and commands a fine view of the winding valley to the north and east. The outer walls are perfect, and are extremely thick. Norden asserts that it was erected by Edward the Elder. The castle is extra-parochial, and exempt from the jurisdiction of the borough officers. There are some ruins of St. John's Abbey, built by Eudo Dapifer in 1097, still remaining: it was destroyed in the parliamentary war, as was also St. Botolph's Priory. The woollen manufacture was carried on as early as the time of Edward III. There is a large silk manufactory, and an oyster fishery in the Colne, which yields employment to many persons. Vessels of 200 tons burden can sail up the river as far as the Hythe, where there is a quay and custom-house. There is a commodious market-place on the north of the High Street. The Corn Exchange, a recent erection, supported on columns, is a fine building, the upper part of which is occupied as offices by the Essex and Suffolk Insurance Society. In 1189, Richard I. incorporated the borough, and conferred many valuable privileges on the inhabitants, which were confirmed by succeeding sovereigns. Since the time of Edward I., Colchester has returned two members to parliament. Quarter sessions are held by the corporation for the borough and liberties, extending over 16 parishes. The petty sessions for the division are held here every Saturday. The Moot-hall was built by Eudo Dapifer, steward to Henry I., and consists of the hall and exchequer chamber, in which the records are kept; above is the council chamber, for the business of the corporation; beneath is the town gaol. Colchester is a polling-place for East Essex. The Baptists, Independents, the Society of Friends, Wesleyan Methodists, and Unitarians, have chapels here. There is a free grammar-school, with an income of £117 per annum, with three scholarships for boys in St. John's College, Cambridge, and four in Pembroke College, Cambridge. There is a national central school here, with 460 children, 148 of them clothed. There are almshouses for 18 poor people, also for 14 aged widows, and several others for poor persons, beside several charitable bequests for the poor. In 1820, the Essex and Colchester General Hospital was completed. It is a neat building of white brick, on the south side of the London Road. Colchester was the birth-place of William Gilbert, principal physician to Elizabeth and to James I., who wrote a work, called De Magnete, on the qualities of the loadstone; and also of the late Right Hon. Charles Abbot, speaker of the House of Commons, who was raised to the peerage, in 1817, by the title of Baron Colchester, which his son now enjoys. — Contains 11,770 acres: 3,216 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 17,790: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 20,320: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £42,137: poor rates in 1838, £9,738. 5s. — Market days: Wednesday and Saturday. Fairs: July 5, July 23, October 10. — Bankers: Mills & Co.—draw on Hankeys & Co.; Round, Green, & Co.—draw on Barnett, Hoares, & Co. — Inns: George, King's Arms, Red Lion.

COLD-ASHBY. See ASHBY-COLD.

COLD-ASHTON. See ASHTON-COLD.

COLD-DUNGHILL, SUFFOLK, an extra-parochial district, adjoining the parishes of St. Clement and St. Margaret, borough of Ipswich—(which see for access, &c.)

COLD-HIGHAM (or LITTLE HIGHAM), NORTHAMPTON, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> and union of Towcester: 67 miles from London (coach road 64), 4 from Towcester, 8 from Northampton. — Nor. West. Rail. to Blisworth, thence 4 miles: from Derby, through Rugby to Blisworth, &c., 73 miles. — Money orders issued at Towcester: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 7½ p.m. — The living, a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Northampton, and diocese of Peterborough, is valued at £10: pres. net income, £467: patron, Earl of Pomfret: pres. incumbent, W. H. Clarke, 1817: contains 1,660 acres: 66 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 388: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 446: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £2,495: poor rates in 1838, £229. 18s. Tithes commuted in 1812.

COLDMEERE, STAFFORD, a township in the parish of Eccleshall—(which see for access, &c.): 148 miles from London, 7 from Stafford, 9 from Drayton. — Money orders issued at Stafford: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 8½ p.m. — Contains 1,470 acres: 7 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 56. — (Other returns with the parish.)

COLD-NORTON, ESSEX, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Dengie, union of Maldon: 39 miles from London (coach road 37), 5 from Maldon, 10 from Chelmsford. — East. Co<sup>t</sup> Rail. to Chelmsford, thence 10 miles: from Derby, through London, &c., 171 miles. — Money orders issued at Maldon: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 5½ p.m. — The living, a rectory in the diocese of Rochester, is valued at £16. 13s. 4d.: pres. net income, £328: patron, Charter-House, London: pres. incumbent, William Holland, 1824: contains 1,570 acres: 42 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 264: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £2,101: poor rates in 1838, £77. 15s. Tithes commuted in 1839.

COLD-OVERTON, LEICESTER, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Framland, union of Oakham: 132 miles from London (coach road 94), 4 from Oakham, 7 from Melton-Mowbray. — Nor. and East. Co<sup>t</sup> Rail. through Peterborough to Oakham, thence 4 miles: from Derby, through Syston to Oakham, &c., 60 miles. — Money orders issued at Oakham: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9½ a.m.: post closes 3½ p.m. — The living, a rectory, formerly in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Leicester, and diocese of Lincoln, now in the diocese of Peterborough, is valued at £19. 12s. 3½d.: pres. net income, £288: patron, E. B. Hartopp, Esq.: pres. incumbent, Samuel Hartopp, 1788: contains 2,320 acres: 22 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 118: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £2,225: poor rates in 1838, £80. 18s.

COLDRED, KENT, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Bewsborough, lathe of St. Augustine, union of Dover: 92 miles from London (coach road 65), 4 from Dover, 10 from Canterbury. — Sou. East. Rail. to Dover, thence 4 miles: from Derby, through London, &c., 224 miles. — Money orders issued at Dover: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 9 p.m. — The living (St. Pancras) is a vicarage united with that of Sibbertswold: contains 1,630 acres: 17 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 157: poor rates in 1838, £161. 13s.

COLDRIDGE. See COLERIDGE.

COLDSBORNE (or COLESBORNE), GLOUCESTER, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Rapsgate, union of Cirencester: 103 miles from London (coach road 91), 8 from Cirencester, 7 from Cheltenham. — Gt. West. Rail. to Cirencester, thence 8 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham to Cheltenham, 87, thence 7 miles. — Money orders issued at Cirencester: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 8 p.m. — The living, a disch<sup>d</sup> rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Gloucester, and diocese of Gloucester and Bristol, is valued at £5. 6s. 10½d.: pres. net income, £127: patron, H. Elwes, Esq.: pres. incumbent, F. W. Hohler, 1838: contains 2,120 acres: 51 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 256: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £2,837: poor rates in 1838, £56. 17s. — Coldsborne Park.

COLD-WALTHAM, SUSSEX, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Bury, rape of Arundel, union of Thakeham, bounded on the south by the river Arun: 78 miles from London (coach road 52), 5 from Petworth, 14 from Chichester. — Brighton and Sou. Coast Rail. to Arundel station, thence 8 miles: from Derby, through London, &c., 210 miles. — Money orders issued at Petworth: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8½ a.m.: post closes 5½ p.m. — The Roman road from Chichester to London runs through the parish. — The living is a perpetual curacy, in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Sussex, and diocese of Chichester: pres. net income, £56: patron, Bishop of Chichester: pres. incumbent, J. M. Sandham, 1848: contains 1,230 acres: 55 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, £460: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 529: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £744: poor rates in 1838, £154. 5s.

COLDWELL, NORTHUMBERLAND, a township in the parish of Kirkwhelpington — (which see for access, &c.): 3 miles from Kirkwhelpington. — Money orders issued at Newcastle-on-Tyne: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 3 p.m.: post closes 5½ p.m. — Pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 8. Tithes commuted in 1839. — (Other returns with the parish.)

COLE. See PITCOMBE.

COLE AND WEST PARK, WILTS, a tithing in the parish of Malmesbury — (which see for access, &c.): 94 miles from London, 2 from Malmesbury, 6 from Tetbury. — Money orders issued at Malmesbury: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 7½ a.m.: post closes 6 p.m. — Contains 5 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 40. — (Other returns with the parish.)

COLEBROOKE (or COLEBROOK), DEVON, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> and union of Crediton, north of the river Yew: 204 miles from London (coach road 182), 4 from Crediton, 11 from Chumleigh. — Gt. West. Rail. through Bristol and Exeter to Crediton, thence 4 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham, Bristol, &c., 218 miles. — Money orders issued at Crediton: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8½ a.m.: post closes 5½ p.m. — There are the ruins of no less than five chapels in this parish, viz.: Coplestone, Land's-hend, Horwell, Hooke, and Wolmatone. — The living (St. Mary), a vicarage in the peculiar jurisdiction and diocese of Exeter, is valued at £20: pres. net income, £200: patron, Dean and Chapter of Exeter: pres. incumbent, T. Drosier, 1848: contains 4,200 acres: 168 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 878: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,009: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £4,477: poor rates in 1838, £414. 11s.

COLEBROOKE-DALE, SALOP, a hamlet in the parish of Broseley, on the northern bank of the Severn — (which see for access, &c.): 2 miles from Broseley. — Money orders issued at Ironbridge: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8½ a.m.: post closes 4½ p.m. — It is celebrated for its iron-bridge erected over the Severn, about a mile from Madeley-Market, for the vast mineral deposits of the dale, and the immense iron-works which have been constructed and carried on here, the business of which is among the largest in England. The bridge is an elegant structure, with one arch, 40 feet high and 100 feet span; it was cast at the neighbouring works. The first idea of making railroads, or rather of tramways, with iron, was first adopted at these works, thus developing the germ of that vast display of human enterprise, which has almost annihilated distance within our coasts, and wrought changes in man's social condition, no where paralleled in the world's experience. The works, with their forges, mills, steam-engines, and all their immense machinery, the flaming furnaces and smoking lime-kilns, altogether form a terrible and sublime spectacle. Colebrooke-dale is a winding glen, situated between two large, lofty hills. The coal district around it extends to the length of eight miles, and is about two miles broad. It is on the east side of the Wrekin, and runs parallel with it from north-east to south-west. The foundation of the coal and its accompanying strata is dye-earth and basalt, the former on the east, and the latter on the west side. The dye-earth is a grey, dry clay, and at Tickwood, near Colebrooke-dale, is in some places 100 yards thick. The basalt varies from the lighter kind, called wacke, to true basalt. This area is about 400 feet above the level of the Severn at Madeley, about a mile from Colebrooke, or 500 feet above the level of the sea. There are also layers of argillaceous carbonate of iron, which rank next in importance to the beds of coal. This valuable ore is generally found in flattened nodules, which constitute regular seams, and are distinguished by the names of penny-stone, the chance-stone, the ball-stone, the ragged robins, &c. Near the top of the series, in some parts of the district, is a bed of fresh-water limestone. Colebrooke-dale has long been famous for the petroleum, or tar spring, issuing from a thick bed of sandstone in the upper part of the coal measures; it once produced more than a hogshead a day, but now does not yield more than a few gallons a week. A discovery of another spring has, however, been made, and petroleum is often found, also, in working the coal. In working the furnaces, a great quantity of titanium is frequently produced. It is sometimes found in beautiful crystals, but chiefly in amorphous masses of the size of a marble, occasionally cemented by a small portion of iron. Many curious and interesting fossils are found in the coal measures, consisting of remains, not only of terrestrial plants and fresh-water shells, but also of marine testacea and other animals. Mr. Prestwich accounts for the phenomena, by supposing that the coal measures were accumulated in an estuary, sometimes subjected to considerable freshes from a large river.

COLEBY, LINCOLN, a parish in the upper division of the wapentake of Boothby-Graffo: parts of Kesteven, union of Lincoln: the river Brant flows by the parish: 175 miles from London (coach road 126), 7 from Lincoln, 11 from Skeaford. — Nor. and East. Co<sup>t</sup> Rail. through Peterborough to Lincoln, thence 7 miles: from Derby, through Nottingham to Lincoln, &c., 56 miles. — Money orders issued at Lincoln: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 5 p.m. — The living (All Saints), a disch<sup>d</sup> vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Lincoln, is valued at £6. 12s. 1d.: pres. net income, £126: patron, Oriel College, Oxford: pres. incumbent, T. T. Penrose, 1824: contains 2,600 acres: 79 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 427: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, same: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £3,921: poor rates in 1838, £120. 4s. The tithes were commuted in 1789. — Coleby Hall, the property of Sir Charles Tempest, Bart., is occupied by Charles Mainwaring, Esq.

COLEDALE (or PORTINGSKALE), CUMBERLAND, a township in the parish of Crosthwaite, west of the Derwent water: 3 miles from Keswick. (For access and postal arrangements, see BRAITHWAITE.) Money orders issued at Keswick: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 1 p.m.: post closes noon. Contains 50 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 262: poor rates in 1838, £159. 3s.

COLEFORD, GLOUCESTER, a chapelry and market town in the parish of Newland, bounded on the west by the river Wye—(which see for access, &c.): 124 miles of London, 5 from Monmouth. Money orders issued at Coleford: London letters delivered 9½ a.m.: post closes 5.40 p.m. There is a Baptist chapel here. This place obtained the grant of a market from James I. During the civil war, previous to the siege of Gloucester, a skirmish took place here between a party of royalists, under the command of Lord Herbert, and the parliamentary forces, under Colonel Barrow, in which Sir Richard Lawdy, major-general of South Wales, and several officers, were killed, and the market-house was destroyed. During the same war, the ancient chapel was destroyed. The market-house was rebuilt in 1679, Charles II. giving £50 towards defraying the expenses. The chapel was rebuilt in the reign of Queen Anne, who contributed £300 towards it. The town is pleasantly situated on the verge of the county, adjoining Monmouthshire. It consists chiefly of one large street, in which is the market-place. Most of the houses are neat and well built. In the neighbourhood there is some very picturesque scenery, and there are several handsome villas. Many of the inhabitants are employed in agriculture, but most of them are engaged in the large coal and iron-works in the vicinity. The church, which was again rebuilt in 1820, is dedicated to St. John. There is a chapel for Particular Baptists, and also for the Wesleyan Methodists, and the Independents have also chapels here. A petty session is held at the Angel Inn by the county magistrates, for a portion of the Forest division. Coleford is a polling-place for West Gloucestershire. Traces of Claud Offa, or King Offa's Dyke, are still visible in some parts of the town. The living, a perpetual curacy in the diocese of Gloucester and Bristol, is valued at £15: pres. net income, £150: patron, Bishop of Gloucester and Bristol: pres. incumbent, J. Lawson Sisson, D.D., 1843: contains 422 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 2,208: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 3,000. Market day, Friday. Fairs: June 20, and Dec. 5, the former chiefly for wool. Inns: Angel, White Hart, and King's Head.

COLEFORD. See KILMERSDON.

COLEMORE (or COLEMERE), HANTS, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Barton Stacey, union of Petersfield, Andover division of the county: 55 miles from London (coach road 49), 6 from Alton, 6 from Petersfield. Sou. West. Rail. through Guildford to Alton, thence 6 miles: from Derby, through London, &c., 187 miles. Money orders issued at Alton: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8½ a.m.: post closes 6 p.m. The living, a rectory with the curacy of Prior's Dean, in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Winchester, is valued at £22. 9s. 4½d.: pres. net income, £550: patron, Rev. B. Bourne: pres. incumbent, J. B. Bourne, 1839: contains 1,270 acres: 13 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 144: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £934: poor rates in 1838, £122. 13s.

COLE-ORTON, LEICESTER, a parish in the west division of the hun<sup>d</sup> of Goscote, union of Ashby-de-la-Zouch: 125 miles from London (coach road 116), 3 from Ashby-de-la-Zouch, 3 from Ravenstone. Nor. West. Rail. through Rugby and Leicester to Ashby, thence 3 miles: from Derby, through Burton to Ashby, &c., 23 miles. Money orders issued at Ashby-de-la-Zouch: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m. Cole-Orton, formerly written Overdone, is a large parish, beautifully situated, having on one side the picturesque scenery of Charnwood forest, and on the other the country beyond Ashby-de-la-Zouch. The village stands at the extremity of the forest, the spire of the church tapering above the foliage, in admirable keeping with the beautiful mansion of the late Sir George Beaumont. Wordsworth often frequented the surrounding scenery, and has described the greater part of it in several of his poems. The place has been long famous for its coal mines, whence it appears to have derived its prefix of Cole or Coal. We are told that, in the reign of Henry VIII., these coal mines did burn for many years together, and could not be quenched until that sulphurous and brimstone matter (whereupon it wrought) was utterly exhausted and consumed. The church is a handsome edifice, with a square embattled tower, surmounted by a lofty spire. The altar-piece is ornamented with a fine painting, presented by the late Sir George Beaumont, who also embellished the south-east window with richly-stained glass brought from Rouen. It contains many interesting monuments to different members of the Beaumont family. In 1701, Thomas Lord Viscount Beaumont bequeathed a rent-charge of £90 for the erection of a school-house, and an hospital for six aged widows. The school is conducted on the national plan. Another of the national schools here is endowed with a portion of the great tithes of Swannington; the benefaction also supports six poor widows under the same roof as the school, and finds them in coals and part of their clothing. The poor women of this parish have also an interest in Ravenstone hospital. The other charities consist of £71 for apprenticing poor children, and £4 distributed among the necessitous inhabitants. The living (St. Mary), a rectory, formerly in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Leicester, and diocese of Lincoln, now in the diocese of Peterborough, is valued at £70. 6s. ½d.: pres. net income, £267: patron, Sir G. H. Beaumont, Bart.: pres. incumbent, F. Merewether, 1815: contains 1,750 acres: 152 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 601: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 691: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £4,856: poor rates in 1838, £479. 3s.

COLERIDGE, DEVON, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of North Tawton with Winkley, union of Crediton, west of the river Taw: 209 miles from London (coach road 192), 9 from Crediton, 9 from Hatherleigh. Gt. West. Rail. through Bristol and Exeter to Crediton, thence 9 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Bristol, &c., 223 miles. Money orders issued at Crediton: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 10 a.m.: post closes 4 p.m. The living (St. Mary), a disch<sup>d</sup> vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Barnstaple, and diocese of Exeter, is valued at £7. 8s. 9d.: pres. net income, £142: patron, Bishop of Exeter: pres. incumbent, J. S. Townshend, 1844: contains 2,190 acres: 109 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 677: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 778: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £2,022: poor rates in 1838, £290. 18s.

COLERNE, WILTS, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> and union of Chippenham: 104 miles from London (coach road 100), 9 from Chippenham, 7 from Bath. —Gt. West. Rail. to Box station, thence 2 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Bristol to Box, &c., 149 miles. —Money orders issued at Chippenham: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 8 p.m. —There is an Independent chapel here. The charities produce £32 a year, beside 24 acres of land, which are allotted to the poor. —The living (St. John the Baptist), a disch<sup>d</sup> vicarage in the diocese of Gloucester and Bristol, is valued at £9. 16s.: pres. net income, £92: patron, Warden of New College, Oxford: pres. incumbent, Gil. Heathcote, 1846: contains 3,620 acres: 244 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,209: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,200: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £5,100. 19s.: poor rates in 1848, £823. 3s.

COLESHILL, BUCKINGHAM, a hamlet, partly in the parish of Amersham, county of Hertford, and partly in the parish of Beaconsfield, in the above county—(which see for access, &c.): 24 miles from London, 4 from Windsor, 12 from Amersham. —Money orders issued at Windsor: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 9 p.m. —This place is situated on an eminence considerably above the level of the surrounding country. Its name is derived from its being so near to the river Cole, and from its elevated situation. It is famous for the extent and variety of the views in every direction, as it commands a prospect over six counties, with beautifully diversified scenery. To the north, the seat of the late Earl of Bridgewater may be seen with a telescope; and to the east, south, and southwest, are views of Bushey Heath, Harrow, Hampstead, St. Paul's (London), Norkhouse House, near Epsom, the seat of Lord Arden, the Surrey hills, St. George's hills, Pain's hill, Windsor Castle, Ascot race-course, the Hogsback hill, near Farnham, Bagshot Heath, and the country towards Reading. Besides this, the refraction of light on the sea at Portsmouth is frequently visible. The church, situated in the parish of Amersham, is a handsome structure, extremely ancient, with a tower; it is dedicated to Saint Mary. It is in the Gothic style of architecture, and contains some elegant monuments to the Drake and other families. There is a splendid window of painted glass in the chancel, representing the twelve apostles and evangelists. The manor-house is built on the site of a splendid seat, called Ould Stock, or Stock Place, once belonging to the family of Bohun, Earl of Hereford, Essex, and Northampton, and high constable of England. The manor at last came into the possession of the Wallers, and the poet Edmund was born here, and sat for the borough of Amersham in three parliaments. A large oak, 35 feet in girth, near the manor-house, is still called Waller's oak, under the shade of which, it is said, the poet wrote most of his poems. —Contains 2,810 acres: 101 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 571: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 656: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £1,983: poor rates in 1838, £266. 10s. —Shardloes is the seat of Thomas Tyrwhitt Drake, Esq., who was high sheriff of the county in 1836, and for many years represented Amersham in parliament. [For account of the mansion, see AMERSHAM.] Mr. Drake derives his immediate descent from Richard Drake, Esq. of Ash, one of the equerries of Queen Elizabeth, who married Ursula, daughter of Sir William Stafford, Knt., and whose son, Francis Drake, Esq. of Esher, married Joan, daughter of William Tothill, Esq. of Shardloes. The son of that gentleman, Sir William Drake, was created a baronet in 1641, but, dying unmarried, the title became extinct, and the estates passed to his nephew, Sir William Drake, Knt., who for some time sat in the House of Commons for the borough of Agmondesham, and who was succeeded in his seat for the borough by his son, grandson, and great-grandson. The son of this last-named gentleman, who, like his father, was an LL.D., in compliance with the will of Sir John de la Fountain Tyrwhitt, Bart., assumed the name of Tyrwhitt, but on inheriting the family estates, at the death of his father, resumed in addition his original name. Mr. Tyrwhitt Drake died in 1810, and was succeeded by the present proprietor of Shardloes, who is a magistrate and deputy-lieutenant of the county of Bucks. Mr. Drake's other seats are Stainfield Hall in Lincolnshire, and St. Donat's Castle in Glamorganshire. —Little Shardloes is the seat of Colonel William Tyrwhitt Drake; Beel House is the seat of John Higham, Esq., and Woodside Cottage is the residence of Miss Oldham.

COLESHILL, BERKS, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Shrivensham, union of Farringdon, bounded on the west by the river Cole: 70 miles from London (coach road 75), 4 from Farringdon, 4 from Lechdale. —Gt. West. Rail. to Farringdon Road station, thence 6 miles: from Derby, through Rugby, Oxford, and Didcot, to Farringdon Road, &c., 132 miles. —Money orders issued at Farringdon: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 8 p.m. —The living (All Saints), a vicarage, formerly in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Berks, and diocese of Salisbury, now in the diocese of Oxford, is valued at £17. 11s. 8d.: pres. net income, £311: patron, Earl of Radnor: pres. incumbent, E. Bouverie, 1808: contains 62 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 386: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 444: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £2,690: poor rates in 1838, £228. 10s. —Near the village is Coleshill House, the seat of Lord Viscount Folkestone, the eldest son of the Earl of Radnor. This is a perfect and unaltered specimen of the style of Inigo Jones, who erected it in 1650. It contains a few good paintings.

COLESHILL, FLINT, a township in the parish of Holywell—(which see for access, &c.)

COLESHILL, WARWICK, a parish and market town in Birmingham division of the hun<sup>d</sup> of Hemlingford, union of Meriden: 108 miles from London (coach road 103), 17 from Warwick. —Nor. West. Rail. through Rugby and Hampton to Coleshill: from Derby, through Tamworth to Coleshill, 35 miles. —Money orders issued here: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 7½ a.m.: post closes 7½ p.m. —This place derives its name from the circumstance of its being built on an ascent, at the foot of which flows the river Cole, over which there is a neat brick bridge of three arches. This was one of the towns called ancient demesne, as it was one of the possessions of Edward the Confessor and the Conqueror, but it afterwards passed to the Clinton family. At a very remote period a castle stood here, which is supposed by Dugdale to have been situated in a field on the north side of the town, called Grimeshill Field; for there, on the right hand of the road leading towards Lichfield, have been dug up certain foundations of buildings, accidentally discovered; among which was a Roman copper coin of Trajan the emperor. The lordship afterwards passed by marriage to the Mountfort family, and when, in the reign of Henry VII., Sir Simon Mountfort was hanged at Tyburn for sending a sum of money to Perkin Warbeck, the manor was granted to Simon Digby, deputy constable of the Tower; and in the reign of James I., Robert, Lord Digby, one of his descendants, obtained for it a charter for a weekly market on Wednesday, and two yearly fairs. It consists chiefly of one long street, with a smaller one diverging from its centre towards the church, thus affording ample space for the market-place, which has a portico of brick. Most of the houses are well-built, and there are many handsome modern erections. The town is well supplied with water from springs, and from the rivers Cole and Blyth. The church is a handsome spacious structure of ancient date, with a lofty octagonal spire rising from a square tower. It contains an ancient Norman font, and several highly interesting and curious monuments, most of them commemorative of the Digby family. A petty session is sometimes held here for the division, by the county magistrates. The lord of the manor holds a court in October, when two constables, two headboroughs, two clerks of the market, and two pinners are appointed. An annual visitation is held by the bishop in August, and also a court of probate every quarter. Colleshill is a polling-place and the place of election for North Warwickshire. The Wesleyan Methodists have a chapel here. In the reign of James I., Lord Digby here founded a grammar-school, and richly endowed it. In 1694, Simon, Lord Digby, founded a charity school, and endowed it with £500, for poor girls, besides several other benefactions. The living (St. Peter and St. Paul), a vicarage, formerly in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Coventry, diocese of Lichfield and Coventry, now in the diocese of Worcester, is valued at £10. 16s. 8<sup>d</sup>.: pres. net income, £718: patron, Earl Digby: pres. incumbent, J. D. Wingfield, 1848: contains 6,200 acres: 380 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 2,172: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 2,497: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £8,533: poor rates in 1838, £512. 2s. Tithes commuted in 1779. Market day: Wednesday. Fairs: Monday before Shrove-Tuesday, May 6, first Monday in January, July, and October. Bankers: Branch of Coventry Union Banking Company—draw on Glyn, Halifax, & Co. Inn: Coach and Horses, and Swan Hotel. About a mile east of the town is Maxstoke Castle, the seat of Wm. Dilke, Esq., whose ancestor, Sir Thomas Dilke, purchased it of Sir Thomas Egerton, keeper of the great seal, in the reign of Elizabeth. It is a fine old edifice, in a good state of preservation. About a mile and a half to the south-east of the castle, are the ruins of Maxstoke Priory, the conventual buildings of which are now used as farm-houses. Colleshill Park stands to the west of the town, but the mansion no longer exists. It was formerly the seat of the Digby family, created Earls of Bristol by James I. This was the birth-place of John, the first earl, the celebrated diplomatist. The title became extinct on the death of John, the third earl, in 1698. The present Earl Digby derives his title of viscount from Colleshill.

COLEY, WEST RIDING, YORK, a chapelry in the parish of Halifax—(which see for access, &c.)—The living, a perpetual curacy in the diocese of Ripon, is valued at £13. 12s. 2d.: pres. net income, £150: patron, Vicar of Halifax: pres. incumbent, W. H. Wawn, 1847.

COLFRYN, MONTGOMERY, a township in the parish of Llanantffraid—(which see for access, &c.): 183 miles from London, 8 from Welchpool, 5 from Llanfyllin. Money orders issued at Welchpool: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> at noon: post closes at noon. Contains 27 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 182.—(Other returns with the parish.)

COLKIRK, NORFOLK, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Launditch, union of Mitford and Launditch: 141 miles from London (coach road 107), 2 from Fakenham, 8 from Castle Acre. Nor. and East. Co<sup>t</sup>. Rail. through Ely and Dereham to Fakenham, thence 2 miles: from Derby, through Syston, Peterborough, and Lynn, to Fakenham, &c., 168 miles. Money orders issued at Fakenham: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 4 p.m. The parochial charities produce about £50 a year, the proceeds of which are chiefly used for the benefit of the poor. The living (St. Mary), a disch<sup>d</sup>. rectory, united with that of Stibbard, in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Norwich, is valued at £10: pres. net income, £788: patron, Marquis of Towns- send: pres. incumbent, R. Tatham, 1816: contains 1,310 acres: 45 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 462: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 531: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>y</sup> £1,208: poor rates in 1838, £82. 2s.

COLLIERLY (including DIPTON AND PONTOR), DURHAM, a township in the parish of Lanchester, near a branch of the river Derwent—(which see for access, &c.): 270 miles from London, 11 from Durham, 16 from Sunderland. Money orders issued at Durham: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 12<sup>h</sup> p.m.: post closes 1 p.m. Contains 1,710 acres: 117 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 853: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 983: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>y</sup> £8,917: poor rates in 1838, £117. 3s.

COLLINGBOURNE-KINGSTON, WILTS, a parish, comprising Collingbourne-Sutton and Collingbourne-Vallance, in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Kinwardstone, union of Pewsey: 73 miles from London, 4 from Ludgershall, 3 from East Everly. Gt. West. Rail. to Hungerford, thence 12 miles: from Derby, through Rugby, Oxford, and Reading, to Hungerford, &c., 167 miles. Money orders issued at Andover: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> at noon: post closes 3 p.m. The parochial charities produce about £3. 16s. a year. This was the birth-place of the Rev. John Norris, celebrated both as a philosopher and a divine. The living (St. Mary), a vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Wilts, and diocese of Sarum, is valued at £15. 7s. 3<sup>d</sup>.: pres. net income, £261: patron, Dean and Chapter of Winchester: pres. incumbent, C. H. Poore, —The living, a rectory and royal peculiar in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Wilts, and diocese of Sarum, is valued at £16. 6s. 8d.: pres. net income, £585: patron, Marquis of Ailesbury: pres. incumbent, Henry Wilson, 1821: contains 3,381 acres: 96 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 518: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, same: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup> £2,843: poor rates in 1838, £261. 1s.

1839: contains 7,160 acres: 157 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 933: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,073: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup> £6,065: poor rates in 1837, £597. 16s. Fair: December 11, for horses, cows, and sheep.

COLLINGBOURN-DUCIS, WILTS, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Elstub and Everly, union of Pewsey: 73 miles from London, 6 from Great Bedwin. (For access and postal arrangements, see above.)

COLLINGHAM, WEST RIDING, YORK, a parish in the lower division of the wapentake of Skyrack, on the southern bank of the river Wharfe: 222 miles from London (coach road 198), 2 from Wetherby, 6 from Tadcaster. Nor. West. Rail. through Rugby, Derby, and Tadcaster, to Wetherby, thence 2 miles: from Derby, through Normanton to Wetherby, &c., 90 miles. Money orders issued at Wetherby: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 4½ p.m. There is a school here, endowed with £34 a year by Lady E. Hastings, beside several minor charities. The living (St. Oswald), a disch<sup>d</sup> vicarage, formerly in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of York, now in the diocese of Ripon, is valued at £3. 11s. 5½d.: pres. net income, £414: patron, Rev. Charles Wheler Bielly: pres. incumbent, B. Eamonsen, 1839: contains 2,200 acres: 71 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 357: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 410: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup> £1,373: poor rates in 1838, £140. 3s. Tithes commuted in 1814. N.E. 1 m., Wetherby Grange—(for which, see WETHERBY.)

COLLINGHAM (NORTH), NOTTINGHAM, a parish in the north division of the wapentake of Newark, on a branch of the river Trent: 152 miles from London (coach road 130), 6 from Newark, 8 from Southwell. Nor. West. Rail. through Rugby, Nottingham, and Newark, to Collingham station: from Derby, through Nottingham, &c., 39 miles. Money orders issued at Newark: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8½ a.m.: post closes 5 p.m. The parochial charities produce £23. 6s. per annum. There is a school here, supported by an endowment of £39 a year. The living (All Saints), a disch<sup>d</sup> vicarage, formerly in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Nottingham, and diocese of York, now in the diocese of Lincoln, is valued at £8. 14s.: pres. net income, £92: patron, Dean and Chapter of Peterborough: pres. incumbent, C. Lesiter, 1802: contains 1,820 acres: 180 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 911: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,048: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup> £4,015: poor rates in 1838, £203. 1s. The tithes were commuted in 1790.

COLLINGHAM (SOUTH), NOTTINGHAM, a parish in the north division of the wapentake of Newark, union of Newark: 130 miles from London. (For access and postal arrangements, see above.) There is a Wesleyan chapel here. The parochial charities produce about £17 a year. The living (St. John the Baptist), a rectory, formerly in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Nottingham, and diocese of York, now in the diocese of Lincoln, is valued at £14. 1s. 10½d.: pres. net income, £418: patron, Bishop of Peterborough: pres. incumbent,

VOL. I.

J. Mayor, 1813: contains 3,220 acres: 164 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 723: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 829: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup> £3,440: poor rates in 1838, £261. 15s.

COLLINGTON, HEREFORD, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Broxash, union of Bromyard: 133 miles from London (coach road 129), 4 from Bromyard, 11 from Leominster. Gt. West. Rail. through Oxford to Worcester, thence 15 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham to Worcester, &c., 86 miles. Money orders issued at Bromyard: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 4 p.m. The charities produce £6 per annum. The living (All Saints), a disch<sup>d</sup> rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Hereford, is valued at £2. 18s. 10d.: pres. net income, £168: patron, W. Childe, Esq.: pres. incumbent, John Williams, 1842: contains 1,120 acres: 33 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 160: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup> £1,314: poor rates in 1837, £85. 10s.

COLLINGTON, NORTHAMPTON, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Wymersley, union of Hardingston: 70 miles from London (coach road 64), 3 from Northampton, 10 from Daventry. Nor. West. Rail. through Blisworth to Northampton, thence 3 miles: from Derby, through Weedon to Northampton, &c., 82 miles. Money orders issued at Northampton: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 9 p.m. The living (St. Columbus), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Northampton, and diocese of Peterborough, is valued at £16. 10s. 5d.: pres. net income, £331: patron, Rev. B. Hill: pres. incumbent, Benjamin Hill, 1820: contains 1,190 acres: 44 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 232: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup> £1,248: poor rates in 1838, £108. 1s. The tithes were commuted in 1779.

COLLUMPTON (or CULOMBTON), DEVON, a market town and parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Hayridge, union of Tiverton, on the river Colme: 181 miles from London (coach road 160), 10 from Exeter. Gt. West. Rail. through Bristol to Collumpton station: from Derby, through Birmingham and Bristol to Collumpton, 195 miles. Money orders issued at Collumpton: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 7 a.m.: post closes 8.7 p.m. The name of this place is derived from its situation on the river Colme or Columb; it was a royal demesne in the time of the Heptarchy. At a remote period, a royal collegiate church was founded here by one of the Saxon kings, which William the Conqueror annexed to Battle Abbey, in Sussex. In 1278, a market was granted to the inhabitants by Edward I., which his successor confirmed, and also granted an annual fair. The town is pleasantly situated in a valley, surrounded by an expanse of level country, and chiefly consists of one principal street, indifferently paved. Most of the houses are well built, and are amply supplied with water; in the neighbourhood of the town there are several pleasant walks. Woollen cloth, kerseymere, and serge, are manufactured here to some extent, giving employment to several hundred persons. The church is a large elegant building, with a lofty square tower. The aisle on the south side was built, in 1528, by Mr. John Lane, who is buried here. On the outside of the aisle, running round the whole, and each word cut on detached stones, is the following inscription, a curious illustration of popish times:—In honour of God and his blessed mother Mary: remember the soule of John Lane, Wapentaki Custos, Lanarius, and the soule of Thomasine his wife, to have in memory with all other their children and friends of your own charity, which were founders of this chapple, and here lie in sepulture, the year of our Lord one thousand five hundred and six and twenty. God of his grace on both their souls to have mercy, and finally bring them to the eternal glory: amen for charity. A petty session for the division is held every month by the county magistrates. The parishioners annually appoint six constables—three for the town, and three for the rest of the parish. Collumpton is a polling-place for the northern division of the county. The Baptists, Bryanites, the Society of Friends, Independents, Wesleyan Methodists, and Unitarians, have chapels here. There is a fund for apprenticing poor children, and a bequest for distributing clothing to poor aged men. There are other benefactions for the relief of the poor, amounting altogether to £100 per annum. There are the remains of an old chapel at Langford-Barton, in this parish. The living (St. Andrew), a vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Exeter, is valued at £47. 4s. 2d.: pres. net income, £400: patron, R. B. De Beauvoir: pres. incumbent, Wm. Sykes, 1834: contains 5,790 acres: 787 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, £3,909: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 4,495: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £11,872: poor rates in 1838, £1,888. 2s. Market day, Saturday. Fairs: first Wednesday in May and November, cattle. Bankers: Branch of Devon and Cornwall Banking Co.—draw on Barclay, Bevan, & Co. Inns: Half Moon, White Hart.

4 x

COLLY-WESTON, NORTHAMPTON, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Wilbybrook, union of Stamford: 120 miles from London (coach road 90), 4 from Stamford, 11 from Market-Deeping. Nor. and East. Co<sup>r</sup> Rail. through Peterborough to Stamford, thence 4 miles: from Derby, through Syston to Stamford, &c., 71 miles. Money orders issued at Stamford: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 5½ p.m. There are several extensive slate quarries in this parish. The living (St. Andrew), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Northampton, and diocese of Peterborough, is valued at £12. 9s. 7d.: pres. net income, £252: patron, Lord Chancellor: pres. incumbent, W. Mansfield, 1812: contains 1,690 acres: 82 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 434: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 499: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £1,015: poor rates in 1838, £108. 10s. Tithes commuted in 1839.

COLMWORTH, BEDFORD, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Barford, union of Bedford, on a branch of the river Ouse: 70 miles from London (coach road 57), 5 from St. Neot's, 7 from Bedford. Nor. West. Rail. to Bedford, thence 7 miles: from Derby, through Rugby to Bedford, &c., 109 miles. Money orders issued at St. Neot's: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8½ a.m.: post closes 6½ p.m. The living (St. Denis), a rectory, formerly in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Bedford, and diocese of Lincoln, now in the diocese of Ely, is valued at £18: pres. net income, £179: patron, Rev. R. W. Gery: pres. incumbent, R. W. Gery, 1830: contains 2,310 acres: 91 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 575: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 661: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £1,548: poor rates in 1838, £115. 10s. Tithes commuted under 4 and 5 Wm. IV. c. 13.

COLN (or COLD-ST.-ALDWYN'S), GLOUCESTER, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Brightwell's-barrow, union of Northleach, on the river Colne: 104 miles from London (coach road 81), 3 from Fairford, 9 from Cirencester. Gt. West. Rail. through Swindon to Cirencester, thence 9 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Stonehouse to Cirencester, &c., 125 miles. Money orders issued at Fairford: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m. The amount annually expended in charities in 1828, was £13. 10s. The living (St. John the Baptist), a disch<sup>d</sup> vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Bristol, and diocese of Gloucester and Bristol, is valued at £8. 19s. 4½d.: pres. net income, £103: patron, Dean and Chapter of Gloucester: contains 3,420 acres: 95 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 428: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 492: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £2,915: poor rates in 1838, £261. 13s. Tithes commuted in 1769.

COLNBROOK, BUCKS, a chapelry, and formerly a market town, partly in the parish of Stanwell, county of Middlesex, and partly in the parishes of Horton, Iver, and Langley-Marsh, in the above county—(which see for access, &c.): 17 miles from London, 8 from Uxbridge. Money orders issued at Slough: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 6½ p.m. This town is situated upon the small river Colne, four branches or streams of which intersect it, and across each of which is a small bridge: as it is a place of great antiquity, Camden supposes that it was the Pontes of Antoninus. There is a Baptist chapel here, established in 1708. The Episcopal chapel in the town has been demolished, and its place is supplied by an elegant village church, on the confines of Richen's Park, in the parish of Langley. In 1543, the town was incorporated by the style of bailiff and burgesses, and this charter was renewed in 1632. The lectureship is a donative in the diocese of Oxford: pres. net income, £103: patron, Pembroke College, Oxford: pres. incumbent, C. Mackenzie, 1834: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,050: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,207.

COLN-ROGERS, GLOUCESTER, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Bradley, union of Northleach: 102 miles from London (coach road 86), 4 from Northleach, 7 from Cirencester. Gt. West. Rail. through Swindon to Cirencester, thence 7 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Stonehouse to Cirencester, &c., 123 miles. Money orders issued at Northleach: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m. The living (St. Andrew), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Bristol, and diocese of Gloucester and Bristol, is valued at £7. 0s. 5d.: pres. net income, £225: patron, Dean and Chapter of Gloucester: pres. incumbent, H. B. Forster, 1841: contains 1,480 acres: 27 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 137: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £1,321: poor rates in 1838, £48. 4s. Tithes commuted in 1839.

COLN-ST.-DENIS, GLOUCESTER, a parish in the upper division of the hun<sup>d</sup> of Deorhurst, union of Northwich, on the river Colne: 103 miles from London (coach road 84), 3 from Northleach, 7 from Fairford. Gt. West. Rail. through Swindon to Cirencester, thence 8 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Stonehouse to Cirencester, &c., 124 miles. Money orders issued at Northleach: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m. The living (St. Denis), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Bristol, and diocese of Gloucester and Bristol, is valued at £9. 19s. 4½d.: pres. net income, £450: patron, Pembroke College, Oxford: pres. incumbent, William Price, 1809: contains 2,430 acres: 37 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 200: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,457: poor rates in 1838, £118. 7s. Tithes commuted in 1797.

COLNE, HUNTINGDON, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Huntingstone, union of St. Ives: 81 miles from London (coach road 63), 4 from St. Ives, 2 from Somersham.---Nor. and East. Co<sup>t</sup>. Rail. through Cambridge to Somersham, thence 2 miles: from Derby, through Syston and Peterborough to Somersham, &c., 106 miles.---Money orders issued at St. Ives: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m.---The annual rents of the town's lands in 1830 were £12; church lands, £13. 10s.---The living (St. Helen) is a curacy annexed to the rectory of Somersham: contains 1,980 acres: 102 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 544: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 625: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £4,628: poor rates in 1838, £325. 18s.

COLNE, LANCASTER, a chapelry and market town in the parish of Whalley, on the northern bank of the river Calder, or Colne Water: 218 miles from London, 10 from Clitheroe.---Money orders issued here: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9½ a.m.: post closes 5½ p.m.---Colne is considered by Mr. Whitaker, the historian of Manchester, to be unquestionably the Colnio of the anonymous Ravennas, and was probably never abandoned entirely in the long and obscure period of Saxon history. Ecclesia de Calna is expressly mentioned in the charter of Hugh de la Val, which was probably not sixty years posterior to the Conquest; and as it was a chapel dependent upon Whalley, the silence of Domesday-book, with respect to it, by no means disproves its existence at an earlier period. Here was one of the four manor-houses of the Lacies, from which several of the charters are dated, now, in the mutability of all human things, degraded into the work-house of the town. There is a Roman encampment situated on Castor Cliff, an eminence about a mile south of the town, which, by Dr. Whitaker, is considered only as the castra estiva of the primary station, which he considered was on the low grounds beneath the town, near the bank of Colne Water. Several Roman coins have been found here at various times. The town seems to have risen into importance at the same time as Lancaster, Manchester, and other towns in the country, in the year 79, not long after its conquest by Agricola. Its name was derived either from the Roman Colunio, or from the Saxon culne, coal, of which there is a great quantity in the neighbourhood. It is situated on an elevation between the river Calder and the Leeds and Liverpool Canal; the streets are paved, lighted with gas, and the houses well supplied with water, conveyed in pipes from a spring about two miles distant. The chapel, dedicated to St. Bartholomew, is a spacious edifice, most probably built soon after the Conquest. Hugh de Val, in the reign of Henry I., gave it to the priory of Pontefract. It was partly rebuilt in the reign of Henry VIII. In 1815, one of the columns by which it was supported giving way, the building had to be partially repaired. It contains a finely-carved curious old screen. The manufacture of wool was formerly extensively carried on in this town, as also the manufacture of shalloons, calimancoes, and tammies, for the sale of which a hall was erected in 1775. It is a commodious stone building, containing two rooms, now used for the sale of general merchandise at the annual fairs. The chief articles of manufacture at present is that of cotton and muslin de laine, much of which is made here. The Leeds and Liverpool Canal, at its highest level, passes through a tunnel a mile in length, not far from the town. There is a well-conducted subscription library. The county magistrates have jurisdiction, and hold a petty session every alternate Wednesday, within the town; and the lord of the manor holds a copyhold court-baron here twice a year, viz. Easter and Michaelmas. The Baptists, Independents, Wesleyan Methodists, and Inghamites, have chapels here. There is a grammar-school, in which Dr. Tillotson, Archbishop of Canterbury, is said to have received the rudiments of his education. There is also a school at which twenty tenants of the Emmot estate receive gratuitous instruction. There are also two national schools, and an infant school connected with the church.---The living, a perpetual curacy to the vicarage of Whalley, in the diocese of Manchester, is valued at £30. 16s. 2d.: pres. net income, £179: patron, Hulme's Trustees: pres. incumbent, J. Henderson, 1821: contains 8,050 acres: 1,601 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 8,615: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 9,815: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £8,552: poor rates in 1838, £2,601.---Market day, Wednesday. Fairs: March 7, May 13, Oct. 11, Dec. 21, for cattle; last Wednesday in every month.---Bankers: Alcocks, Birkbecks, & Co.—draw on Barnard, Dimsdale, & Co.

COLNE-EARLS (or GREAT), ESSEX, a parish in the Witham division of the hun<sup>d</sup> of Lexden, union of Halstead: 51 miles from London (coach road 45), 4 from Halstead, 4 from Coggeshall.---East. Co<sup>t</sup>. Rail. to Mark's Tey station, thence 5 miles: from Derby, through London, &c., 183 miles.---Money orders issued at Halstead: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m.---There is a Baptist chapel here, instituted in 1786, and a school endowed with £188, which is paid to the master for instructing thirty-five poor children of the parish. The income of other charities, distributed by the churchwardens to the poor in 1837, was £38. In the reign of Henry I., Albericus, or Aubrey de Vere, erected a priory here for black monks, which, at the dissolution, had an annual revenue of £156. 12s. 4d., and was granted to John, Earl of Oxford, in 1536.---The living (St. Andrew), a vicarage in the diocese of Rochester, is valued at £8. 10s. 10d.: pres. net income, £494: patron, H. H. Carwardine: pres. incumbent, R. Watkinson, 1829: contains 2,910 acres: 270 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,385: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,570: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £4,272: poor rates in 1838, £639. 3s.---Fair, March 25, for cattle and toys.

COLNE-ENGAIN (or LITTLE), ESSEX, a parish in the Witham division of the hun<sup>d</sup> of Lexden, union of Halstead: 46 miles from London.---(For access and postal arrangements, see above.)---In 1837, the annual income of the charities was £4, besides about an acre of ground, occupied by the sexton of the parish for the time being.---The living (St. Andrew), a rectory in the diocese of Rochester, is valued at £13. 17s. 6d.: pres. net income, £680: patron, Christ's Hospital: pres. incumbent, J. Greenwood, 1827: contains 2,020 acres: 87 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 685: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 775: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £2,711: poor rates in 1838, £550. 8s.

COLNE-WAKE, ESSEX, a parish in the Witham division of the hun<sup>d</sup> of Lexden, union of Lexden and Winstree, on the river Colne: 49 miles from London, 5 from Halstead, 8 from Colchester. (For access and postal arrangements, see above.)

The sum of £17 is annually expended in calico to the poor. The living (All Saints), is a rectory in the diocese of Rochester: pres. net income, £458: patron, Earl of Verulam: pres. incumbent, Hon. F. S. Grimston, 1847: contains 1,430 acres: 85 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 444: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 494: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £2,651: poor rates in 1837, £450.

COLNE-WHITE, ESSEX, a parish in the Witham division of the hun<sup>d</sup> of Lexden, union of Halstead: 49 miles from London. (For access and postal arrangements, see above.) The charities in 1837 amounted to £3 per annum, carried to the poor's rate of the parish. The living (All Saints), a perpetual curacy in the diocese of Rochester, is valued at £30: pres. net income, £130: patron, Rev. W. E. Hume: pres. incumbent, W. E. Hume: contains 1,730 acres: 72 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 419: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, £482: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,983: poor rates in 1838, £244. 19s.

COLNEY, NORFOLK, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Humbleyard, union of Henstead, on the southern bank of the river Yare: 117 miles from London (coach road 107), 3 from Norwich, 5 from Hereford. East. Co<sup>r</sup> Rail. to Norwich, thence 3 miles: from Derby, through Syston and Peterborough to Norwich, &c., 169 miles. Money orders issued at Norwich: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 8½ p.m. The living (St. Andrew), a disch<sup>d</sup> rectory in the archd<sup>r</sup> of Norfolk, and diocese of Norwich, is valued at £6. 13s. 4d.: pres. net income, £199: patron, J. Postle, Esq.: pres. incumbent, E. Postle, 1823: contains 750 acres: 17 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 110: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,020: poor rates in 1838, £46. 8s. Tithes commuted in 1839-40.

COLSTERWORTH, LINCOLN, a parish in the soke of Grantham, union of Grantham: 128 miles from London (coach road 103), 13 from Stamford, 8 from Grantham. Nor. and East. Co<sup>r</sup> Rail. through Peterborough to Stamford, thence 12 miles: from Derby, through Nottingham to Grantham, &c., 44 miles. Money orders issued here: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 7½ a.m.: post closes 5½ p.m. In 1824, E. Turnor, Esq., here founded and endowed a day and Sunday school. In 1838, a worsted-mill here gave employment to nine persons. The living (St. John the Baptist), a rectory in the archd<sup>r</sup> and diocese of Lincoln, is valued at £14. 10s.: pres. net income, £800: patron, Prebendary of Southwell: pres. incumbent, W. S. Mirehouse, 1825: contains 3,000 acres: 192 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,017: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,170: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £2,309: poor rates in 1838, £267. 15s.

COLSTON-BASSET, NOTTINGHAM, a parish in the south division of the wapentake of Bingham, union of Bingham, on the river Smithe: 142 miles from London (coach road 121), 9 from Nottingham, 4 from Bingham. Nor. West. Rail. through Rugby and Nottingham to Bingham, thence 4 miles: from Derby, through Nottingham, &c., 25 miles. Money orders issued at Nottingham: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9½ a.m.: post closes 6 p.m. The living (St. Mary), a vicarage, formerly in the archd<sup>r</sup> of Nottingham, and diocese of York, now in the diocese of Lincoln, is valued at £8. 7s. 6d.: pres. net income, £270: patron, Lord Chancellor: pres. incumbent, J. Brooke, 1800: contains 2,530 acres: 59 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 403: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 463: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £2,333: poor rates in 1838, £166. 10s.

COLTISHALL, NORFOLK, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of South Erpingham, union of Aylsham, on the river Bure: 121 miles from London (coach road 116), 7 from Norwich, 6 from Aylsham. East. Co<sup>r</sup> Rail. to Norwich, thence 7 miles: from Derby, through Syston and Peterborough to Norwich, &c., 173 miles. Money orders issued at Norwich: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 10 a.m.: post closes 4½ p.m. There is a school here, endowed with £20. 16s. per annum. The other charities produce about £10 a year. The village is delightfully situated, with several handsome villas in the neighbourhood. Henry VII., in 1231, granted a charter to the town, which conferred several advantages on the inhabitants. The living (St. John the Baptist), a rectory in the archd<sup>r</sup> and diocese of Norwich, is valued at £7. 2s. 6d.: pres. net income, £299: patron, King's College, Cambridge: pres. incumbent, Joseph Thackeray, 1846: contains 1,060 acres: 177 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 897: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,032: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £2,518: poor rates in 1838, £457. 10s. Fair, Whitunday. The Manor-House is the seat of Robert Palmer Kemp, Esq.

COLTON, NORFOLK, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> and union of Forehoe, on the river Bure: 121 miles from London (coach road 105), 10 from Norwich, 5 from Wymondham. Nor. and East. Co<sup>r</sup> Rail. to Wymondham, thence 5 miles: from Derby, through Syston and Peterborough to Wymondham, &c., 161 miles. Money orders issued at Norwich: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 5 p.m. The living (St. Andrew), a rectory in the archd<sup>r</sup> of Norfolk, and diocese of Norwich, is valued at £6. 9s. 9½d.: pres. net income, £348: patron, Lord Chancellor: pres. incumbent, H. Girdlestone, 1815: contains 1,020 acres: 56 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 282: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,383: poor rates in 1838, £130. 4s.

COLTON, STAFFORD, a parish in the south division of the hun<sup>d</sup> of Pirehill, union of Lichfield, north of the river Trent: 126 miles from London (coach road 131), 2 from Rugeley, 8 from Stafford. Nor. West. Rail. through Rugby and Tamworth to Rugeley, thence 2 miles: from Derby, through Tamworth, &c., 42 miles. Money orders issued at Rugeley: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m. There is a Sunday school, endowed with about £50 per annum. The other charities produce about £15. 7s. a year, beside a piece of land occupied by the parish clerk. The living (St. Mary), a rectory in the archd<sup>r</sup> of Stafford, and diocese of Lichfield, is valued at £5: pres. net income, £461: patron, Rev. C. S. Landor: pres. incumbent, C. S. Landor, 1810: contains 3,870 acres: 121 houses: pop<sup>a</sup> in 1841, 672: probable pop<sup>a</sup> in 1849, 772: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £5,564: poor rates in 1838, £203. 16s.

COLTON, YORK, a township in the parish of Bolton-Percy, in the ainsty of the city of York—(which see for access, &c.): 184 miles from London, 6 from York, 4 from Tadcaster.—Money orders issued at York: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 10 a.m.: post closes 4½ p.m.—Contains 1,150 acres: 32 houses: pop<sup>a</sup> in 1841, 142: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,630.

COLUMB (St. MAJOR), CORNWALL, a market town and parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Pyder, union of Columb St. Major: 284 miles from London (coach road 251), 10 from Bodmin.—Gt. West. Rail. through Bristol and Exeter to Plymouth, thence 40 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Bristol, &c., 298 miles.—Money orders issued here: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 7½ a.m. and 2 p.m.: post closes 9½ a.m.—The county magistrates hold petty sessions here for the hun<sup>d</sup>, where all pleas of debt not exceeding 40s. are decided. Formerly there was a college of black monks here, the buildings of which were destroyed by fire in 1701. The poor-law commissioners have erected a workhouse here, with accommodation for 150 persons. The Columb St. Major poor-law union comprises sixteen parishes, extending over an area of 116 square miles, and a population of about 15,000 persons.—The living (St. Columba) is a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Cornwall, and diocese of Exeter: pres. net income, £1,515: patron, E. Walker, Esq.: pres. incumbent, S. E. Walker, 1841: contains 11,680 acres: 531 houses: pop<sup>a</sup> in 1841, 3,146: probable pop<sup>a</sup> in 1849, 3,618: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £10,581: poor rates in 1837, £902.—Market days: Thursday and Saturday. Fairs: First Thursday after Mid-lent Sunday, Nov. 12.—Bankers: Hawkey, Nicholls, & Co.—draw on Masterman, Peters, & Co.—Commercial Inn, and Red Lion Hotel.

COLUMB (St. MINOR), CORNWALL, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Pyder, union of St. Columb Major—(which see for access, &c.): 256 miles from London, 5 from St. Columb Major, 10 from Truro.—Money orders issued at St. Columb Major: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 3½ p.m.: post closes 9 p.m.—There is a daily school here, endowed with £8 per annum, and open to the parish of Crantock. £2 per annum are annually expended in other charities.—The living (St. Columb) is a perpetual curacy in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Cornwall, and diocese of Exeter: pres. net. income, £117: patron, Sir J. B. Y. Buller: pres. incumbent, N. F. Chudleigh, 1843: contains 5,520 acres: 284 houses: pop<sup>a</sup> in 1841, 1,681: probable pop<sup>a</sup> in 1849, 1,935: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £6,238: poor rates in 1838, £426. 7s.—Fair, July 9.

COLUPTON. See COLUPTON.

COLVESTON, NORFOLK, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Grimshoe, union of Swaffham, north of the river Wissey, or Stoke: 94 miles from London (coach road 84), 6 from Stoke-Ferry, 8 from Watton.—Nor. and East. Co<sup>t</sup> Rail. through Ely to Brandon, thence 6 miles: from Derby, through Syston, Peterborough, and Ely, to Brandon, 12, thence 6 miles.—Money orders issued at Stoke-Ferry: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9½ a.m.: post closes 5½ p.m.—The living (St. Mary) is a disch<sup>d</sup> rectory, united with the vicarage of Dedlington, church demolished: contains 1,100 acres: 5 houses: pop<sup>a</sup> in 1841, 42: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £609: poor rates in 1838, £24. 15s.

COLWALL, HEREFORD, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Radlow, union of Ledbury, near the Malvern hills: 133 miles from London (coach road 122), 4 from Ledbury, 16 from Hereford.—Gt. West. Rail. through Oxford and Worcester to Defford, thence 12 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Worcester to Defford, &c., 87 miles.—Money orders issued at Ledbury: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 5 p.m.—The living (St. James), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Hereford, is valued at £20. 6s. 8d.: pres. net income, £540: patron, Bishop of Hereford: pres. incumbent, F. Custance, 1840: contains 3,800 acres: 161 houses: pop<sup>a</sup> in 1841, 940: probable pop<sup>a</sup> in 1849, 1,081: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £4,591: poor rates in 1838, £217. 10s.—S. W., Hopend Park.

COLWELL AND SWINBURN, NORTHUMBERLAND, a township in the parish of Chollerton, east of the river Tyne—(which see for access, &c.): 292 miles from London: 7 from Hexham, 7 from Corbridge.—Money orders issued at Hexham: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 4 p.m.—Contains 73 houses: pop<sup>a</sup> in 1841, 393: probable pop<sup>a</sup> in 1849, 452.—(Other returns with the parish.)

COLWICH, STAFFORD, a parish in the south division of the hun<sup>d</sup> of Firehill, union of Stafford, on the river Trent, and intersected by the Grand Trunk Canal: 127 miles from London (coach road 133), 3 from Rugeley, 6 from Stafford.—Nor. West. Rail. through Rugby and Tamworth to Colwich station: from Derby, through Tamworth, &c., 43 miles.—Money orders issued at Rugeley: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m.—In speaking of this village, Pennant says—It is perfect in its beauties, and spreads at once every charm that can captivate the eye. The charities amount to £78. 15s., principally distributed amongst the poor in bread, alms, &c. Colwich is the birth-place of the celebrated naval commander, George Lord Anson, who was born here, at his father's seat, in 1697. He entered the navy when very young, and was made a post-captain in 1724. Being sent to South Carolina station, he bought ground and erected a town there, called after his name. In 1739, he was appointed commodore of an expedition against the Spanish settlements in the Pacific, and, the year after, sailed from Portsmouth with five men-of-war, a sloop, and two victuallers. In 1741, he doubled Cape Horn, with the loss of two of his ships; and in the following June arrived off Juan Fernandez, with his fleet reduced to two ships and two tenders. In September he quitted that place, took some prizes, burnt Paita, and continued on the American coast till May, 1742, when, with only his own ship, the Centurion, left, he crossed the Southern Ocean for China, and, after remaining there for several months, returned in search of the Spanish galleon, which he fell in with, and took after a smart action. He sold his prize in China, sailed for England, and, on June 15th, 1714, arrived at Spithead, after passing, in a fog, through the midst of the French fleet, then cruising in the channel. He commanded the channel fleet in 1747, and took six French men-of-war who were conveying a large fleet to the East and West Indies. Two of the prizes were called the Invincible and the Glory, and the captain of the former, on giving up his sword to the admiral, said,—Sir, you have conquered the Invincible, and Glory follows you. He was created a peer, and afterwards vice-admiral of England. He died at Moor Park, Hertfordshire, in 1762. The living (St. Michael), a disch<sup>d</sup>. vicarage, with Fradswell curacy, in the diocese of Lichfield, a peculiar, is valued at £6. 0s. 5d.: pres. net income, £514: patron, Bishop of Lichfield: pres. incumbent, G. Hodson, 1828: contains 8,800 acres: 374 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 2,024: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 2,328: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup> £13,147: poor rates in 1838, £815. 9s.

COLWICK, NOTTINGHAM, a parish in the southern division of the wapentake of Thurgarton, union of Basford: 132 miles from London (coach road 126), 2 from Nottingham, 15 from Mansfield. Nor. West. Rail. through Rugby to Nottingham, thence 2 miles: from Derby, through Nottingham, &c., 18 miles. Money orders issued at Nottingham: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 9 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m. The living (St. John the Baptist) is a rectory, formerly in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Nottingham, and diocese of York, now in the diocese of Lincoln: pres. net income, £220: patron, J. Musters, Esq.: pres. incumbent, W. M. Musters, 1840: contains 1,010 acres: 22 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 109: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup> £4,360: poor rates in 1838, £35. 18s. Colwick Hall is the seat of John Musters, Esq., and stands on a flat, having in front the beautiful river Trent, with the spacious plains on its southern bank, and at the back some finely-wooded hills. It is about three miles from Nottingham, on the north bank of the river, and with the steep rock in its rear, with abrupt precipices and overhanging woods, and the village church embosomed in foliage, is, altogether, a most beautiful scene. The park is small, but contains many fine rural combinations, and is stocked with deer. There are also spacious pleasure grounds and ornamental plantations. The house consists of an elegantly-raised centre, supported on four Ionic pillars, with two wings of one lofty story, with entablature resting on square pilasters, the effect of the whole lightened by an elegant balustraded parapet. Mr. Musters is a descendant of Sir John Musters, Knt., who derived his lineage from the ancient family of Musters, in Yorkshire, and became possessed of Colwick, formerly the property of the noble family of Byron. From him descended Mundy Musters, Esq. of Colwick, high sheriff of Notts in 1753, who was succeeded by his son, John Musters, Esq. of Colwick, high sheriff in 1777. The present proprietor of Colwick is a magistrate and deputy-lieutenant of the county, and in August, 1805, married Mary, daughter and heiress of William Chaworth, Esq. of Annesley, Notts. She was the Mary Chaworth of Lord Byron's poetry, and was the sole representative of the ancient family of Chaworth of Annesley: the disappointment of the poet's boyish passion is believed to have had a great effect on the character of his after life.

"Herself the solitary action left
Of a time-honoured race."

She died in February, 1832. Mr. Musters, on his marriage, assumed the surname of Chaworth, but afterwards, on his father's death, resumed his own name of Musters.

COLWINSTON, GLAMORGAN, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Ogmore, union of Bridgend and Cowbridge, South Wales: 166 miles from London (coach road 176), 4 from Cowbridge, 14 from Llandaff. Gt. West. Rail. through Bristol to Weston-super-Mare, thence across the channel to Penarth, and thence 18 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Bristol to Weston, &c., 179 miles. Money orders issued at Cowbridge: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 9½ a.m.: post closes 5 p.m. There is an area of about 60 acres in the neighbourhood of the village, called the "Golden Mile," covered with coarse heathy herbage, which is open to all the parishioners. The living is a disch<sup>d</sup>. vicarage in the diocese of Llandaff: pres. net income, £121: patron, Miss Thomas: pres. incumbent, R. Bassett, 1843: contains 63 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 287: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup> £2,258: poor rates in 1838, £157. 13s. Tithes commuted in 1839.

COLYFORD, DEVON, a hamlet in the parish of Colyton—(which see for access, &c.): 149 miles from London, 1 from Colyton, 10 from Honiton. Money orders issued at Axminster: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 9½ a.m.: post closes 2½ p.m. Fair: March 1, cattle.

COLYTON (or CULLETON), DEVON, a market town and parish in the above hun<sup>d</sup>, union of Axminster, on the banks of the Coly, near its confluence with the river Axe: 204 miles from London (coach road 149), 5 from Axminster. Gt. West. Rail. through Bristol to Hele station, thence 19 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Bristol to Hele, &c., 218 miles. Money orders issued at Axminster: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 9 a.m.: post closes 3½ p.m. This town is built of flint. This small town is of great antiquity, and is called by Risdon, a borough of reputation. The government is vested in a portreeve, annually appointed at the lord's court of a small district called the borough. The petty sessions are held here. The parish lands of Colyton, a gift of Henry VIII., produce about £230 a year; £30 of which are appropriated to the endowment of a free school, most of the remainder being distributed to the poor not receiving parochial relief. The other benefactions produce about £16 per annum. There is a place of worship here for the Presbyterians. The living (St. Andrew), a vicarage, with the curacies of Monckton and Shute, in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Exeter, is valued at £40. 10s. 10d.: pres. net income, £403: patron, Dean and Chapter of Exeter: pres. incumbent, F. Barnes, 1807: contains 5,430 acres: 436 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 2,451: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 2,818: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup> £12,909: poor rates in 1838, £1,157. 1s. Market day: Thursday. Fairs: first Wednesday in May, and November 30. Dolphin Inn, and Commercial Hotel.

COLYTON (or COLATOR-BAWLEIGH), DEVON, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of East Budleigh, union of St. Thomas, on the river Otter: 204 miles from London (coach road 163), 3 from Sidmouth, 10 from Exeter. Gt. West. Rail. through Bristol to Exeter, thence 10 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Bristol to Exeter, &c., 218 miles. Money orders issued at Sidmouth: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 5 p.m.---The Independents have a place of worship here; the parochial charities amount to £6. 18s. a year.---The living (St. John the Baptist), a vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Exeter, is valued at £16. 4s. 9½d.: pres. net income, £401: patron, Dean of Exeter: pres. incumbent, Noel Lowe, 1844: contains 1,190 acres: 160 houses: pop<sup>a</sup> in 1841, 841: probable pop<sup>a</sup> in 1849, 967: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £4,321: poor rates in 1838, £383. 11s.

COMBE. See WESSINGTON AND COMBE.

COMBE, HANTS, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Pastrow, union of Hungerford, Kingsclere division of the county: 66 miles from London (coach road 64), 8 from Newbury, 5 from Hungerford.---Gt. West. Rail. to Hungerford, thence 5 miles: from Derby, through Rugby, Oxford, and Reading, to Hungerford, &c., 161 miles.---Money orders issued at Newbury: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m.---The living (St. Swithin), a disch<sup>d</sup> vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Winchester, is valued at £6. 13s. 4d.: pres. net income, £107: patron, Dean and Canons of Windsor: pres. incumbent, W. H. Wood, 1834: contains 2,190 acres: 26 houses: pop<sup>a</sup> in 1841, 203: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,283: poor rates in 1838, £26. 13s.

COMBE-BISSET. See COOMBE-BISSET.

COMBE-ENGLISH. See ENGLISH-COMBE.

COMBE-FIELDS (or COMBE ABBEY), WARWICK, an extra-parochial liberty in the Kirby division of the hun<sup>d</sup> of Knightlow, union of Rugby, in the vicinity of the Oxford Canal: 89 miles from London (coach road 90), 7 from Rugby, 5 from Coventry.---Nor. West. Rail. to Rugby, thence 7 miles: from Derby, to Rugby, &c., 57 miles.---Money orders issued at Rugby: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m.---Contains 4,210 acres: 35 houses: pop<sup>a</sup> in 1841, 195: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £7,210: poor rates in 1838, £131. 1s.---Combe Abbey is the seat of the Earl of Craven. This noble mansion is erected on the site of a religious establishment of the Cistercian order, founded in the reign of King Stephen, in 1150, by Richard de Camvill, and which was the first settlement in Warwick of monks of that order. At the dissolution its annual revenue was £302. 15s. 3d. Edward VI. granted the property to John, Earl of Warwick. It then passed through various hands, and at last came into the possession of the family of Craven, in which it still continues. This seat derives its name from the British word Cwm, or the Saxon Combe, or Cumbe, signifying a low and hollow place; but it is surrounded by pleasing scenery, and the park, comprising 500 acres, is beautifully ornamented and diversified with wood and water. Lord Harrington built a great portion of the present edifice, which is erected in the form of the half of the Roman H. There are the remains of two cloisters of the old building still in existence, which are in a good state of preservation. The different noble owners of this mansion have considerably added to it, and on the west an additional pile has been raised, said to be from a design by Inigo Jones. This mansion contains beautiful ranges of apartments and rooms of noble proportions, the walls being hung with the most valuable and interesting paintings, comprising a great number of portraits of the Stuart family. William

Lord Craven was the most devoted of the many champions produced by the beauty and misfortunes of Elizabeth of Bohemia, the eldest daughter of James I., who married Frederic, the elector-palatine, crowned King of Bohemia by the revolted states when they attempted to shake off the yoke of Ferdinand II. By the battle of Prague, Frederic lost his crown, was deprived of everything, and entered Holland a fugitive and a beggar. Many English cavaliers fruitlessly endeavoured to reinstate him, partly instigated by admiration of his queen, who, when she afterwards resided in England, was supposed to have privately married Lord William Craven, to whom she bequeathed her collection of pictures. The present noble proprietor derives his lineage from the ancient family of that name, which at a very early period was seated at Appletree, Wick, in the county of York. Sir William Craven, Knt., was an alderman of London, and lord mayor in 1611; and his son, the above-mentioned William Craven, having distinguished himself abroad as a military officer, was knighted on 4th March, 1626, and eight days afterwards was elevated to the peerage as Baron Craven of Hamsted-Marshall in Berkshire. He was afterwards elevated to the dignities of Viscount Craven of Uffington, and Earl Craven of Yorkshire. His lordship died unmarried in 1697, when the earldom and viscounty expired; but the barony of Craven of Hamsted-Marshall devolved, according to the limitation that the earl had obtained. William, the seventh baron, was, on 13th June, 1801, created Viscount Uffington, Berkshire, and Earl Craven. His lordship was a major-general in the army, and lord-lieutenant of the county of Berks. He died in 1825, when he was succeeded by his eldest son, the present nobleman, who is recorder of Coventry, and high-steward of Newbury.

COMBE-FLOREY, SOMERSET, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> and union of Taunton: 170 miles from London (coach road 149), 5 from Wiveliscombe, 7 from Taunton.---Gt. West. Rail. through Bristol to Taunton, thence 7 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Bristol to Taunton, &c., 184 miles.---Money orders issued at Wiveliscombe: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9½ a.m.: post closes 5 p.m.---£5. 4s. is the amount annually expended in charities in this parish.---The living (St. Peter), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Bath, and diocese of Bath and Wells, is valued at £11s. 13s. 9d.: pres. net income, £263: patron, Lord Chancellor: pres. incumbent, T. P. Lethbridge, 1845: contains 1,500 acres: 59 houses: pop<sup>a</sup> in 1841, 304: probable pop<sup>a</sup> in 1849, 349: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £2,658: poor rates in 1838, £116. 5s.

COMBE-HAY, SOMERSET, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Wellow, union of Bath, intersected by the Bath Canal: 109 miles from London (coach road 110), 3 from Bath, 8 from Frome.---Gt. West. Rail. to Bath, thence 3 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Bristol to Bath, &c., 141 miles.---Money orders issued at Bath: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 5 p.m.---The charities in this parish amount to £6. 13s. 11d. per annum.---The living, a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Bath, and diocese of Bath and Wells, is valued at £9 12s. 3½d.: pres. net income, £307: patron, Hon. H. H. Tracey: pres. incumbent, Frederick Gar-diner, 1806: contains 1,180 acres: 46 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 239: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,438: poor rates in 1838, £128. 14s. Tithes commuted in 1839.

COMBE-HILL. See HEALY and COMB-HILL.

COMBE-KEYNES. See COOMBE-KEYNES.

COMBE-LONG, OXFORD, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Wootton, union of Woodstock, on the river Evenlode: 73 miles from London (coach road 68), 3 from Woodstock, 6 from Witney. —Gt. West. Rail. through Oxford to Combe-Long: from Derby, through Rugby and Oxford, &c., 105 miles. —Money orders issued at Woodstock: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m. —The living (St. Lawrence) is a perpetual curacy in the archd<sup>r</sup>. and diocese of Oxford: pres. net income, £90: patron, Lincoln College, Oxford: pres. incumbent, Washbourne West, 1847: contains 1,450 acres: 120 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 605: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 696: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,768: poor rates in 1838, £142. 19s. Tithes commuted in 1839.

COMBE-ST.-NICHOLAS, SOMERSET, a parish in the east division of the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Kingsbury, union of Chard: this parish is divided into the tithings of Betham, Clayhanger, Ham, and Wadford, and it has two hamlets, Sticklepath and Watton, the last of which was formerly a celebrated nunnery: 182 miles from London (coach road 140), 2 from Chard, 5 from Ilminster. —Gt. West. Rail. through Bristol to Wellington, thence 12 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Bristol to Wellington, &c., 196 miles. —Money orders issued at Chard: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m. —The church is a spacious and handsome edifice, with a peal of bells, and a square embattled tower. Sixty or seventy of the meritorious poor of the parish are relieved by a revenue of £159. 10s., arising out of one-third of the lands of Roch forest, disforested by Charles II., partly for his own benefit and partly for that of the public. The other charities here amount to £1 per annum. —The living, a vicarage, a peculiar of the Dean and Chapter of Wells, is valued at £15. 4s. 4d.: pres. net income, £440: patron, Bishop of Bath and Wells: pres. incumbent, Frederick L. Moysey, 1840: contains 4,100 acres: 226 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,293: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,487: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £5,860: poor rates in 1838, £382. 19s. —Fairs: June 19, and first Wednesday after December 10.

COMBERBACH, CHESTER, a township in the parish of Great Budworth—(which see for access, &c.): 178 miles from London, 4 from Northwich, 7 from Warrington. —Money orders issued at Northwich: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 7½ p.m. —Contains 320 acres: 53 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 303: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 348: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £740: poor rates in 1838, £33. 1s.

COMBERMERE, CHESHIRE, a township in the parish of Acton—(which see for access, &c.): 163 miles from London, 2 from Nantwich, 8 from Tarporley. —Money orders issued at Nantwich: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9½ a.m.: post closes 6 p.m. —This place gives the title of baron to Lord Combermere, whose seat, Combermere Abbey, is the ornament of the surrounding district. It is situated near the banks of the deep water named Cumber Mere, and was originally founded in 1133, by Hugh Malbane, Lord of Nantwich, for Cistercian monks, and endowed with a yearly revenue of nearly £230. In the reign of Henry VIII. it was granted to Sir George Cotton, in whose family it still remains. The present seat was erected out of the remains of the old abbey. Lord Combermere traces his descent from J. de Coton, of Coton, Salop, seated there before the Roman conquest. Sir George, spoken of above, was vice-chamberlain of the household to Prince Edward, and a member of the privy council. From him descended Sir Robert Cotton, of Combermere, who was knighted at the Restoration, and created a baronet 29th March, 1677. He sat in parliament for the county of Chester for nearly forty years. His grandson, Sir Robert Salusbury Cotton, sat for the city of Chester. He married Elizabeth, eldest daughter of the Earl of Dysart, but dying without issue, his brother, Sir Lynch Salusbury, M.P., succeeded to the title. His grandson, Sir Stapleton Stapleton Cotton, Viscount and Baron Combermere, of Combermere, county of Chester, and a baronet, G.C.B., G.C.H., G.T.S., and K.S.F., governor of Sheerness, a general officer in the army, and colonel of the 1st Life Guards. He commenced his military life in 1791, and performed so many brilliant services, that at the conclusion of the war, in 1814, he was raised to the peerage as Baron Combermere, and created a viscount. In 1817, his lordship was appointed governor of Barbadoes, and commander of the forces in the West Indies, and afterwards commander-in-chief in India, which was his last military appointment.

COMBERTON, CAMBRIDGE, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Wetherby, union of Chesterton, north of Bourn Brook: 61 miles from London (coach road 47), 4 from Cambridge, 9 from St. Ives. —Nor. and East. Co<sup>r</sup>. Rail. to Cambridge, thence 4 miles: from Derby, through Syston and Peterborough to Cambridge, &c., 130 miles. —Money orders issued at Cambridge: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m. —About £25 per annum is expended in charities. —The living (St. Mary), a disch<sup>d</sup>. vicarage in the archd<sup>r</sup>. and diocese of Ely, is valued at £6. 18s. 11d.: pres. net income, £153: patron, Jesus College, Cambridge: pres. incumbent, James Fendall, 1833: contains 1,804 acres: 53 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 520: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 598: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,001: poor rates in 1838, £257. 11s. The tithes were commuted in 1839.

COMBERTON (GREAT), WORCESTER, a parish in the upper division of the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Pershore, union of Pershore, east of the river Avon: 125 miles from London (coach road 109), 4 from Pershore, 6 from Evesham. —Gt. West. Rail. through Oxford and Worcester to Eckington station, thence 3 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Worcester, &c., 78 miles. —Money orders issued at Pershore: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 5 p.m. —£22. 10s. per annum is the amount of the parochial charities. —The living (St. Michael), a disch<sup>d</sup>. rectory in the archd<sup>r</sup>. and diocese of Worcester, is valued at £10: pres. net income, £254: patron, Rev. C. H. Parker: pres. incumbent, C. H. Parker, 1826: contains 960 acres: 50 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 215: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,277: poor rates in 1838, £92. 18s. The tithes were commuted in 1818.

COMBERTON (LITTLE), WORCESTER, a parish in the upper division of the hund<sup>d</sup> of Pershore, union of Pershore: 104 miles from London, 2 from Pershore, 7 from Tewkesbury. (For access and postal arrangements, see above.) The charities amount to £1. 11s. 6d. per annum. The living, a disch<sup>d</sup> rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Worcester, is valued at £9. 0s. 2d.: pres. net income, £258: patron, Rev. Wm. Parker: pres. incumbent, Wm. Parker, 1826: contains 770 acres: 46 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 229: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,344. Tithes commuted in 1803.

COMBINTINHEAD (or COMBE-IN-TEIGN-HEAD), DEVON, a parish which, with Hacombe Stokintinhead and Shaldon-Green, forms a detached portion of the hund<sup>d</sup> of Wonford, union of Newton-Abbot, at the mouth of the Teign: 217 miles from London (coach road 186), 3 from Abbot's-Newton, 9 from Ashburton. Gt. West. Rail. through Bristol and Exeter to Abbot's-Newton, thence 3 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Bristol, &c., 231 miles. Money orders issued at Abbot's-Newton: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9½ a.m.: post closes 5 p.m. £3. 7s. is annually expended in charities. There is also an almshouse. The living, a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Exeter, is valued at £32. 2s. 8½d.: pres. net income, £324: patron, J. W. Harding and W. Long, Esqrs.: pres. incumbent, John Wrey, 1840: contains 2,000 acres: 98 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 425: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 489: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £2,690: poor rates in 1838, £272. 13s.

COMB-MARTEN, DEVON; a parish, and nominally a market town, in the hund<sup>d</sup> of Braunton, union of Barnstaple: 220 miles from London (coach road 201), 4 from Ilfracombe, 9 from Barnstaple. Gt. West. Rail. through Bristol to Tiverton, thence 36 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Bristol to Tiverton, &c., 234 miles. Money orders issued at Ilfracombe: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 10 a.m.: post closes 4 p.m. In Westcott's manuscripts, we read that Comb-Marten dyriveth its name from the situation, being a lowe and deepe valley, surrounded with very high hills (towards the sea excepted), with the addition of Martin, from Le Sieur Martin de Turon, a man of much worth, and assistant to William, Duke of Normandy, when he conquered this land, of whom he had this with other great possessions given him. The houses extend, along the dale, upwards of a mile from the seashore. Dr. Maton, speaking of the scenery of the latter, observes, that it is really magnificent; its more prominent parts are singularly striking, and have the happiest accompaniments imaginable. There was formerly much silver found in the lead mines near Comb-Marten. Of these we read, in Wescott's manuscripts—Of the first fynding and working the siloer mynes, ther are no certain records remayninge. In the tyme of Edward the First they were wrought; but in the tumultuous raime of his son, they might chance to be forgotten, until his nephew, Edward the Third, who, in his French conquest, made good use of them, and so did Henry the Fifth; and lately, in our age, in the tyme of Queen Elizabeth, ther was found a new lode in the land of Richard Roberts, gentleman, first begann to be wrought by Adrian Gil- bert, Esq., and afterwards by Sir Beavis Bulmer, Knt., by whoes mynerall skill great quantitie of siloer was landed and refined, of which he gave a rich and fayer cupp to the Right Honorable William Earle of Bathe, whereon was engraven, as I remember, this polsie:—

VOL. I.

*"In Martins-Combe long lay I hyd, Obscur'd, depress'd with grescat soyle,
Debaas'd much with mixed load,
Till Bulmer came, whoes skill and toyle
Refined me so pure and cleene,
As rycher no wher els is seene.
And adding yet a farder grace,
By fashion he did inable
Me worthy for to take a place
To serve at any prince's table.
Combe-Martin gave the use alone,
Bulmer fynyng and fashion.*

Anno nostrae salutis, 1593.

Reginae Virginiae, 35.

*Nobilissimo Viro Willielmo Comiti Barthon Locum-tenenti.
Devoniae at Oxon.*

The veins of metal about Comb-Marten have a direction (like most of those in Cornwall) nearly from east to west, underlying towards the south. They appear just below the surface of the ground, and have, therefore, been worked with little trouble, and at trifling expense. In 1813, the mines were again worked, but after four years, in which 280 tons of silver had been extracted, they were discontinued. The town is romantically situated, opening into a small cove of the Bristol Channel, which forms a commodious port for shipping the mineral produce, and receiving other merchandise in exchange. The market is discontinued, and the market-house is rapidly decaying. The church is a handsome edifice. A petty session is held for the division by the county magistrates, on the first Monday in every month, at a small inn. The Wesleyan Methodists have a chapel here. In 1733, George Ley, Esq., endowed a school for instructing forty children, and his grandson has lately rebuilt the school, which is conducted on the national system. This is the birth-place of Thomas Harding, a learned Roman Catholic divine and controversialist; but for some time conformed to the protestant religion, and was tutor to Lady Jane Grey. In 1554 he took his doctor's degree, and was made prebendary of Winchester, and treasurer of Salisbury. On the accession of Elizabeth he went to Louvain, where he carried on a long polemical controversy with Bishop Jewel. His death took place in 1572. The living (St. Peter), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Barnstaple, and diocese of Exeter, is valued at £39. 8s. 9d.: pres. net income, £387: patron, Rev. William Toms: pres. incumbent, H. W. Toms, 1842: contains 4,730 acres: 228 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,309: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,609: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £2,446: poor rates in 1837, £258. 18s.

COMB-MONCTON (or MONCTON-COMB), SOMERSET, a parish in the hund<sup>d</sup> of Bath-Forum, union of Bath, intersected by the Bath Canal: 108 miles from London, 2 from Bath, 9 from Frome. Gt. West. Rail. to Bath, thence 2 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Bristol, to Bath, &c., 140 miles. Money orders issued at Bath: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m. In this parish there are large quarries of excellent freestone, with which the principal portion of the city of Bath has been constructed. The living (St. Michael) is a curacy annexed to the vicarage of South Stoke:

47

contains 720 acres: 189 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,107: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,273: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £2,363: poor rates in 1838, £221. 12s.

COMB-PYNE, DEVON, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> and union of Axminster: 196 miles from London (coach road 146), 3 from Lyme-Regis, 5 from Axminster. — Gt. West. Rail. to Taunton, thence 23 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Bristol to Taunton, &c., 201 miles. — Money orders issued at Lyme-Regis: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9½ a.m.: post closes 5 p.m. — The living, a disch<sup>d</sup> rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Exeter, is valued at £8. 11s. 8d.: pres. net income, £127: patrons, — Knight, — Cuff, and — Edwards, Esqrs.: pres. incumbent, Z. J. Edwards, 1840: contains 1,070 acres: 25 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 143: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £865: poor rates in 1838, £75. 11s.

COMB-RAWLEIGH, DEVON, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Axminster, union of Honiton: 191 miles from London (coach road 157), 2 from Honiton, 10 from Sidmouth. — Gt. West. Rail. through Bristol to Collumpton, thence 10 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Bristol to Collumpton, &c., 205 miles. — Money orders issued at Honiton: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 5 p.m. — The living (St. Nicholas), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Exeter, is valued at £20. 0s. 10d.: pres. net income, £272: patron, E. S. Drewe, Esq.: pres. incumbent, C. E. Band, 1827: contains 2,100 acres: 53 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 276: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £2,575: poor rates in 1838, £151. 15s. — Combe House.

COMBROOK, WARWICK, a chapelry in the parish of Kington—(which see for access, &c.): 85 miles from London, 2 from Kington, 7 from Stratford. — Money orders issued at Kington: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9½ a.m.: post closes 2½ p.m. — The living is a curacy to the vicarage of Kington: contains 1,270 acres: 55 houses: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,295: poor rates in 1838, £64. 8s. Tithes commuted in 1772.

COMBS, SUFFOLK, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> and union of Stow: 81 miles from London (coach road 80), 1 from Stowmarket, 9 from Debenham. — East. Co<sup>r</sup> Rail. to Stowmarket, thence 1 mile: from Derby, through Syston, Peterborough, and Norwich, to Stowmarket, &c., 202 miles. — Money orders issued at Stowmarket: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8½ a.m.: post closes 6 p.m. — There is a considerable tannery here. The charities amount to about £3. 0s. 8d. per annum. — The living (St. Mary), a rectory in the diocese of Norwich, is valued at £25. 17s. 8½d.: pres. net income, £680: patron, Earl of Ashburnham: pres. incumbent, R. Daniel, 1836: contains 3,060 acres: 177 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,064: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,223: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £3,653: poor rates in 1838, £516. 18s.

COMBWELL, KENT, a manor in the parish of Goudhurst: 3 miles from Goudhurst. — In the reign of Henry II., Robert de Turnham, or Thornam, founded here, at a place then named Henlie, a priory of the order of St. Augustine, endowed with £80. 17s. 5d. per annum. — Fair, St. Magdalene's day, and the day following.

COMMONDALE, NORTH RIDING, YORK, a township in the parish of Guisborough—(which see for access, &c.): 254 miles from London, 6 from Guisborough, 8 from Whitby. — Money orders issued at Guisborough: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 1½ p.m.: post closes 11 a.m. — Commondale is a corruption from Colman Dale, so called from Colman, bishop of Lindisfarne, who had a hermitage here. — Contains 2,630 acres: 14 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 79: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £551: poor rates in 1838, £69. 18s.

COMPSTALL, CHESTER, a manufacturing village in the parish of Stockport: 199 miles from London, 5 from Stockport. — Nor. West. Rail. through Rugby, Leicester, and Burton, to Stockport, thence 5 miles: from Derby, through Burton, &c., 79 miles. — Compstall, about thirty years ago, contained only a few straggling cottages, but since the cotton manufacture has been established, it has been gradually improving. About 1,200 of the inhabitants are employed in spinning, power-loom weaving, bleaching, and printing, and the remainder at the extensive coal works in the vicinity. The Wesleyan Methodists here have a place of worship. — (Returns with the parish.)

COMPTON, BERKS, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Compton, union of Wantage: 50 miles from London (coach road 52), 2 from East Halsey, 8 from Wallingford. — Gt. West. Rail. to Goring station, thence 6 miles: from Derby, through Rugby, Oxford, and Didcot, to Goring, &c., 121 miles. — Money orders issued at Newbury: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 11 a.m.: post closes 3½ p.m. — The living (St. Nicholas), a disch<sup>d</sup> vicarage, formerly in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Berks, and diocese of Salisbury, now in the diocese of Oxford, is valued at £11. 14s. 4½d.: pres. net income, £330: patron, J. T. Wasey, Esq.: pres. incumbent, R. P. Jones, 1829: contains 4,050 acres: 103 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 544: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 625: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £4,120: poor rates in 1838, £269. 3s.

COMPTON, GLOUCESTER, a tithing in the parish of Newent—(which see for access, &c.): 110 miles from London, 2 from Newent, 6 from Gloucester. — Money orders issued at Gloucester: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 7½ a.m.: post closes 4½ p.m. — Contains 95 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 460: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 529. — (Other returns with the parish.)

COMPTON, GLOUCESTER, a tithing in the parish of Henbury—(which see for access, &c.): 6 from Bristol. — Money orders issued at Bristol: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8½ a.m.: post closes 7½ p.m. — Contains 1,610 acres: 26 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 44.

COMPTON, HANTS, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Baddlesgate, union of Winchester: 69 miles from London (coach road 64), 2 from Winchester, 8 from Romsey. — Sou. West. Rail. to Winchester, thence 2 miles: from Derby, through Rugby, Oxford, and Reading, to Winchester, &c., 156 miles. — Money orders issued at Winchester: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 7½ a.m.: post closes 9 p.m. — The living (All Saints), a rectory in the diocese of Winchester, exempt from visitation, is valued at £23. 6s. 8d.: pres. net income, £329: patron, Bishop of Winchester: pres. incumbent, J. O. Zillwood, 1831: contains 1,800 acres: 46 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 304: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 349: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,418: poor rates in 1838, £164. 13s.

COMPTON, SURREY, a parish in the first division of the hund<sup>d</sup> of Godalming, union of Guildford: 45 miles from London (coach road 32), 3 from Guildford, 8 from Farnham. — Sou. West. Rail. to Guildford, thence 3 miles: from Derby, through London, &c., 177 miles. — Money orders issued at Guildford: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 9 p.m. — The annual amount of charities is about £12. 10s. — The living (St. Nicholas), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Surrey, and diocese of Winchester, is valued at £15. 4s. 9d.: pres. net income, £380: patron, J. M. Molyneux, Esq.: pres. incumbent, G. M. Molyneux, 1823: contains 1,790 acres: 88 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 522: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 600: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £2,067: poor rates in 1838, £218. 7s.

COMPTON, SUSSEX, a parish in the hund<sup>d</sup> of Westbourn and Singleton, rape of Chichester, union of Westbourn: 88 miles from London (coach road 59), 5 from Petersfield, 9 from Chichester. — Brighton and Sou. Coast Rail. to Chichester, thence 9 miles: from Derby, through London, &c., 220 miles. — Money orders issued at Petersfield: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8½ a.m.: post closes 7 p.m. — There is a free grammar-school endowed with £28 per annum, besides other charities to the annual amount of about £13. 4s. 10d. — The living (St. Mary), a vicarage with the curacy of Up-Marden, in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Chester, is valued at £13. 6s. 8d.: pres. net income, £580: patron, M. R. Langdale, Esq.: pres. incumbent, William Tyner, 1806: contains 1,750 acres: 51 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 274: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,047: poor rates in 1838, £134. 3s.

COMPTON (FENNY), WARWICK, a parish in the Burton-Dasset division of the hund<sup>d</sup> of Kington, union of Southam: 95 miles from London (coach road 76), 9 from Banbury, 18 from Warwick. — Gt. West. Rail. through Oxford and Banbury to Fenny Compton station: from Derby, through Rugby to Fenny Compton, 61 miles. — Money orders issued at Banbury: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 10½ a.m.: post closes 3½ p.m. — The charities amount to about £1. 5s. 6d. per annum. This is the birth-place of Sir Henry Bate Dudley, a comic writer of some celebrity, who was born in 1745. He was educated for the church, and took orders, but was engaged in several duels, and established the Morning Post and Morning Herald daily papers, and was the author of several dramatic pieces. His political connections afterwards procured him a baronetcy and valuable church preferment. He died in 1824. — The living (St. Peter), a rectory, formerly in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Coventry, and diocese of Lichfield, now in the diocese of Worcester, is valued at £15. 8s. 4d.: pres. net income, £417: patron, Corpus Christi College, Oxford: pres. incumbent, C. A. Heurtley, 1840: contains 2,330 acres: 120 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 615: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 707: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £4,362: poor rates in 1838, £230. 15s.

COMPTON (LITTLE), GLOUCESTER, a parish, formerly in the upper division of the hund<sup>d</sup> of Deerhurst, union of Chipping-Norton, now annexed to the northern division of Worcestershire: 91 miles from London (coach road 87), 5 from Chipping-Norton, 3 from Stow. — Gt. West. Rail. through Oxford to Stow-on-the-Wold, thence 3 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Worcester to Stow, &c., 104 miles. — Money orders issued at Chipping-Norton: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 7 p.m. — The charities amount to about £40. 3s. 2d. per annum. There is here an ancient mansion, once the residence of Bishop Juxon, chaplain to Charles I. — The living (St. Denis) is a perpetual curacy in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Gloucester, and diocese of Gloucester and Bristol: pres. net income, £66: patron, Christ Church, Oxford: pres. incumbent, T. S. Hellier, 1842: contains 1,670 acres: 65 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 301: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 346: poor rates in 1837, £199. 16s. Tithes commuted in 1794.

COMPTON (LONG), WARWICK, a parish in the Brilles division of the hund<sup>d</sup> of Kington, union of Chipping-Norton: 95 miles from London (coach road 76), 6 from Shipton-on-Stow, 12 from Kington. — Gt. West. Rail. through Oxford to Stow-on-the-Wold, thence 7 miles: from Derby, through Worcester to Stow, &c., 108 miles. — Money orders issued at Shipton-on-Stow: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 10 a.m.: post closes 2½ p.m. — The living (St. Peter and St. Paul), a disch<sup>d</sup> vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Worcester, is valued at £12. 15s. 7½d.: pres. net income, £191: patron, Eton College: pres. incumbent, F. Ellis Jervoise, 1824: contains 3,530 acres: 174 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 829: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 953: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £7,073: poor rates in 1838, £539. 19s.

COMPTON-ABBAS, DORSET, a parish in the hund<sup>d</sup> of Sixpenny-Handley, Shaston division, union of Shaftesbury: 118 miles from London (coach road 101), 3 from Shaftesbury, 6 from Gillingham. — Sou. West. Rail. through Bishopstoke to Salisbury, thence 22 miles: from Derby, through Rugby, Oxford, and Reading, to Salisbury, &c., 205 miles. — Money orders issued at Shaftesbury: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 5 p.m. — The village derives its name from being situated in a combe or vale, and its adjunct from having formerly belonged to Shaston Abbey. — The living (St. Mary), a rectory, formerly in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Dorset, and diocese of Bristol, now in the diocese of Salisbury, is valued at £9. 10s. 2½d.: pres. net income, £267: patron, Sir R. C. Glyn, Bart.: pres. incumbent, John Baskett, 1827: contains 1,330 acres: 85 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 439: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 505: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,814: poor rates in 1838, £188. 6s.

COMPTON-ABDALE, GLOUCESTER, a parish in the hund<sup>d</sup> of Bradley, union of Northleach: 102 miles from London (coach road 86), 3 from Northleach, 9 from Cheltenham. — Gt. West. Rail. through Oxford to Stow-on-the-Wold, thence 14 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Worcester to Stow, &c., 115 miles. — Money orders issued at Northleach: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m. — This parish is intersected by the river Colne, and is well wooded. There is a small endowed school here. — The living (St. Oswald) is a perpetual curacy in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Bristol, and diocese of Gloucester and Bristol: pres. net income, £81: patron, Dean and Chapter of Bristol: pres. incumbent, E. W. Garrow, 1847: contains 2,040 acres: 39 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 260: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £2,695: poor rates in 1838, £175. 2s. — Compton House.

COMPTON-BASSET, WILTS, a parish in the hund<sup>d</sup> and union of Calne: 102 miles from London (coach road 88), 2 from Calne, 7 from Devizes. —Gt. West. Rail. to Chippenham, thence 8 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Bristol to Chippenham, &c., 163 miles. —Money orders issued at Calne: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 7½ a.m.: post closes 9 p.m. —There are charities here, amounting to about £7. 5s. per annum. —The living (St. Swithin), a rectory, a peculiar of the prebendary of Combe and Hornham, in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Wilts, and diocese of Sarum, is valued at £13. 6s. 10½d.: pres. net income, £497: patron, Bishop of Salisbury: pres. incumbent, W. Dalby, 1841: contains 1,980 acres: 98 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 498: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 573: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £4,364: poor rates in 1838, £295. 18s.

COMPTON-BEAUCHAMP, BERKS, a parish in the hund<sup>d</sup> of Shrivenham, union of Farringdon: 65 miles from London (coach road 71), 6 from Farringdon, 8 from Wantage. —Gt. West. Rail. to Farringdon Road station, thence 1 mile: from Derby, through Rugby, Oxford, Didcote, Farringdon Road, &c., 116 miles. —Money orders issued at Farringdon: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8½ a.m.: post closes 7½ p.m. —The charities amount to about £3. 10s. 6d. per annum. There is here a large double-trenched encampment, supposed to be Roman. —The living (St. Swithin), a rectory, formerly in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Berks, and diocese of Salisbury, now in the diocese of Oxford, is valued at £9. 18s. 9d.: pres. net income, £337: patron, Earl Craven: pres. incumbent, George Carter, 1848: contains 1,890 acres: 28 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 157: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £2,000: poor rates in 1837, £117. 9s.

COMPTON-BISHOP, SOMERSET, a parish in the hund<sup>d</sup> of Winter, union of Axbridge, north of the river Axe: 141 miles from London (coach road 132), 1 from Axbridge, 14 from Bristol. —Gt. West. Rail. through Bristol to Weston junction, thence 5 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham, Bristol, &c., 155 miles. —Money orders issued at Wells, Somerset: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 7½ a.m.: post closes 5 p.m. —The village is pleasantly situated in a hollow, near the Mendip hills. There is a day and Sunday national school here, with an endowment. The other charities amount to about £18 per annum. There is a spacious natural cave in the neighbourhood, well worthy of attention. —The living (St. Andrew), a disch<sup>d</sup> vicarage in the diocese of Bath and Wells, a peculiar of the prebendary of Compton-Bishop, is valued at £11: pres. net income, £185: patron, Prebendary thereof: pres. incumbent, W. Littlehalea, 1848: contains 2,510 acres: 94 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 802: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 922: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £4,245: poor rates in 1838, £252. 19s. Tithes commuted in 1777.

COMPTON-CHAMBERLAIN, WILTS, a parish in the hund<sup>d</sup> of South Damerham, locally situated in the hund<sup>d</sup> of Cawdon and Cadworth, union of Wilts: 104 miles from London (coach road 89), 8 from Salisbury, 4 from Wilton. —Sou. West. Rail. through Bishopstoke to Salisbury, thence 8 miles: from Derby, through Rugby, Oxford, and Reading, to Salisbury, &c., 191 miles. —Money orders issued at Salisbury: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>

9 a.m.: post closes 7½ p.m. —Colonel Penruddock, executed at Exeter in 1655, for attempting to restore Charles II., resided here. —The living (St. Michael), a disch<sup>d</sup> vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Sarum, is valued at £13: patron, J. H. Penruddock: contains 2,130 acres: 60 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 350: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 402: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £1,687: poor rates in 1837, £235. 15s.

COMPTON-DANDO, SOMERSET, a parish in the hund<sup>d</sup> and union of Keynsham: 125 miles from London (coach road 112), 2 from Pensford, 7 from Bristol. —Gt. West. Rail. to Bristol, thence 7 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham to Bristol, &c., 138 miles. —Money orders issued at Bristol: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8½ a.m.: post closes 3½ p.m. —The annual parochial charities amount to £66. 15s. 8d., and there are other charities to the annual amount of £8. The Wesleyan Methodists have a chapel here. —The living (St. Mary), a disch<sup>d</sup> vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Bath, and diocese of Bath and Wells, is valued at £5. 10s. 5d.: pres. net income, £180: patron, Bishop of Bath and Wells: pres. incumbent, Wilson Pedder, 1847: contains 1,210 acres: 64 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 359: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 412: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £2,610: poor rates in 1837, £192. 1s.

COMPTON-DUNDON, SOMERSET, a parish in the hund<sup>d</sup> of Whitley, union of Langport, north of the river Carey: 164 miles from London (coach road 125), 3 from Somerton, 5 from Glastonbury. —Gt. West. Rail. through Bristol to Bridgewater, thence 13 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Bristol to Bridgewater, &c., 178 miles. —Money orders issued at Somerton: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 4½ p.m. —The charities amount to about £4. 10s. per annum. Adjoining the churchyard, there are the ruins of a mansion formerly belonging to the Beauchamp family. There is a neighbouring hill called Dundon Beacon, in consequence of a beacon having once been erected there. —The living (St. Andrew), a disch<sup>d</sup> vicarage in the diocese of Bath and Wells, a peculiar, is valued at £9. 6s. 10d.: pres. net income, £201: patron, Bishop of Bath and Wells: pres. incumbent, J. Dickenson, 1829: contains 1,210 acres: 64 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 679: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 780: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £2,610: poor rates in 1837, £192. 1s.

COMPTON-DURVILLE, SOMERSET, a tithing in the parish of South Petherton—(which see for access, &c.): 136 miles from London, 6 from Ilminster, 4 from Chard. —Money orders issued at Ilminster: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8½ a.m.: post closes 5 p.m.

COMPTON-GIFFORD, DEVON, a parish in the parish of Charles-the-Martyr—(which see for access, &c.): 219 miles from London, 1 from Plymouth, 6 from Bere Alston. —Money orders issued at Plymouth: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8½ a.m.: post closes 4½ p.m. —The living is a curacy annexed to the vicarage of Charles-the-Martyr, in the diocese of Exeter: pres. net income, £612: patron, Sir C. Bishop, Bart.: pres. incumbent, H. A. Greaves, 1846: contains 1,510 acres: 44 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 271: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £3,505: poor rates in 1837, £95. 11s.

COMPTON-GREENFIELD, GLOUCESTER, a parish in the upper division of the hun<sup>d</sup> of Henbury, union of Clifton, at the mouth of the Severn: 125 miles from London (coach road 130), 6 from Bristol, 9 from Chepstow. —Gt. West. Rail. to Bristol, thence 6 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham to Bristol, &c., 137 miles. —Money orders issued at Bristol: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8½ a.m.: post closes 7½ p.m. —The living, a disch<sup>d</sup> rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Bristol, and diocese of Gloucester and Bristol, is valued at £7: pres. net income, £144: patron, R. C. Lippincott: pres. incumbent, J. T. Ludlow, 1846: contains 640 acres: 8 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 65: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £2,497: poor rates in 1838, £57. 7s.

COMPTON-MARTIN, SOMERSET, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Chewton, union of Clutton: 138 miles from London (coach road 122), 12 from Bristol, 7 from Axbridge. —Gt. West. Rail. through Bristol to Yatton, thence 8 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Bristol, &c., 151 miles. —Money orders issued at Bristol: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 10 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m. —The village is situated at the edge of a large valley, on the north ridge of the Mendip, and derives its adjunct from the name of its former proprietors. The charities amount to about £10 per annum. —The living (St. Michael), a rectory, with the curacy of Nempnet, in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Bath, and diocese of Bath and Wells, is valued at £10. 6s. 8d.: pres. net income, £494: patron, Rev. W. H. Cartwright: pres. incumbent, Richard Barber, 1848: contains 2,260 acres: 98 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 601: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 691: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,743: poor rates in 1838, £237. 10s.

COMPTON-NETHER, DORSET, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> and union of Sherborne: 140 miles from London (coach road 119), 3 from Sherborne, 4 from Yeovil. —Gt. West. Rail. through Chippenham to Westbury, thence 30 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Bristol to Westbury, &c., 201 miles. —Money orders issued at Sherborne: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8½ a.m.: post closes 5 p.m. —There is a daily school here with a small endowment. —The living (St. Nicholas), a disch<sup>d</sup> rectory, a peculiar of the Dean of Salisbury, united to the rectory of Over-Compton, is valued at £7. 18s.: pres. net income, £300: patron, John Goodden, Esq.: pres. incumbent, W. J. Goodden, 1824: contains 1,390 acres: 76 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, £456: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 524: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £2,960: poor rates in 1838, £216. 7s.

COMPTON-OVER, DORSET, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> and union of Sherborne. —(For access and postal arrangements, see above.) —The living (St. Michael), united as above, is valued at £11. 9s. 4d.: contains 1,520 acres: 15 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 151: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,762: poor rates in 1838, £69. 5s.

COMPTON-PAUNCEFOOT, SOMERSET, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Catsash, union of Wincanton: 135 miles from London (coach road 113), 5 from Wincanton, 6 from Sherborne. —Gt. West. Rail. to Westbury, thence 25 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Bristol to Westbury, &c., 195 miles. —Money orders issued at Wincanton: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9½ a.m.: post closes 3½ p.m. —The living (St. Mary), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Wells, and diocese of Bath and Wells, is valued at £8. 10s. 10d.: pres. net income, £140: patron, Heirs of John H. Hunt, Esq.: pres. incumbent, James Senior, 1838: contains 870 acres: 40 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 256: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,333: poor rates in 1838, £156. 14s. Tithes commuted in 1839.

COMPTON-SCORPION, WARWICK, a hamlet in the parish of Honington—(which see for access, &c.): 85 miles from London, 3 from Shipston-on-Stour, 10 from Stratford. —Money orders issued at Shipston-on-Stour: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9½ a.m.: post closes 3 p.m. —This is the birth-place of Sir Thomas Overbury.

COMPTON-VALLANCE, DORSET, a parish in the liberty of Frampton, union of Dorchester: 148 miles from London (coach road 126), 7 from Dorchester, 12 from Beaminster. —Sou. West. Rail. through Southampton to Dorchester, thence 7 miles: from Derby, through Rugby, Oxford, and Reading, to Dorchester, &c., 237 miles. —Money orders issued at Dorchester: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 10 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m. —The village is situated on the bank of a small stream. —The living (St. Thomas à Becket), a rectory, formerly in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Dorset, and diocese of Bristol, now in the diocese of Sarum, is valued at £12. 5s. 2½d.: pres. net income, £300: patron, R. Williams, Esq.: pres. incumbent, William P. Ward, 1838: contains 2,310 acres: 17 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 116: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,200: poor rates in 1838, £53. 3s. Tithes commuted in 1839.

COMPTON-VERNEY, WARWICK, an extra-parochial liberty in the Kington division of the hun<sup>d</sup> of Kington—(which see for access, &c.): 85 miles from London, 2 from Kington, 8 from Stratford. —Money orders issued at Kington: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8½ a.m.: post closes 3 p.m. —Contains 1,740 acres: 10 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 34: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,072: poor rates in 1837, £31. 6s.

COMPTON-WYNIATES, WARWICK, an extra-parochial liberty in the Brilles division of the above hun<sup>d</sup>: 84 miles from London, 5 from Shipston-on-Stour, 7 from Kington. —Money orders issued at Shipston-on-Stour: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 10 a.m.: post closes 2½ p.m. —The adjunct Wyniates was probably derived from a vineyard once cultivated here. Compton-Wyniates House was erected in the reign of Henry VIII. by Sir William Compton, from the ruins of the adjacent castle of Fulbroke. He also commenced a surrounding park. The house and estate are now the property of Charles, Earl of Northampton, but his lordship does not use it as a residence. It is an extensive but irregular edifice, formerly surrounded by a moat, and contains an ancient chapel. In 1646, Compton House was garrisoned by the parliamentary army, when they destroyed the neighbouring church, which, however, was afterwards rebuilt, and in which the members of the Compton family are interred—(for the genealogy and history of this family, see CASTLE-ASHBY, Northampton.) —The living, a rectory united with the vicarage of Tysoe, in the diocese of Worcester, and having jointly a pres. net income of £266: patron, Marquis of Northampton: pres. incumbent, S. Y. Sograve: contains 930 acres: 5 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 46: poor rates in 1838, £60. 5s.

COMPYNE, RADNOR, a hamlet in the parish of Llandegley—(which see for access, &c.): 3 miles from Llandegley. In 1143 an abbey was founded here, but from some cause never finished.

CONDERTON, WORCESTER, a hamlet in the parish of Overbury—(which see for access, &c.): 105 miles from London, 3 from Pershore, 7 from Tewkesbury. Money orders issued at Pershore: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 6½ p.m. Contains 27 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 131: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,058: poor rates in 1837, £36. 4s.

CONDICOTE, GLOUCESTER, a parish, partly in the upper division of the hun<sup>d</sup> of Kiftsgate, and partly in the upper division of the hun<sup>d</sup> of Slaughtert, union of Stow-on-the-Wold: 91 miles from London (coach road 88), 3 from Stow-on-the-Wold, 9 from Campden. Gt. West. Rail. through Oxford to Stow-on-the-Wold, thence 3 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Worcester to Stow, &c., 104 miles. Money orders issued at Stow-on-the-Wold: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 5½ p.m. There is a school here, with a small endowment; and five acres of land are allotted for fuel to the poor. The living (St. Nicholas), a disch<sup>d</sup> rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Gloucester, and diocese of Gloucester and Bristol, is valued at £7. 1s. ½d.: pres. net income, £158: patron, Rev. W. Bishop, and others: pres. incumbent, W. B. Pole, 1840: contains 890 acres: 30 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 165: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £831: poor rates in 1838, £57. 17s. Tithes commuted in 1777.

CONDOVER, SALOP, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Condovery, union of A'cham, on a branch of the Severn: 167 miles from London (coach road 155), 5 from Shrewsbury, 11 from Wellington. Nor. West. Rail. through Stafford to Shrewsbury, thence 5 miles: from Derby, through Burton to Shrewsbury, &c., 77 miles. Money orders issued at Shrewsbury: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9½ a.m.: post closes 4 p.m. There is a mine of coal in this parish. There is a daily school, endowed by Mr. Price, which, together with other charities, amounts to about £33 per annum, besides £31 arising from church estate, and used for parochial purposes. The living (St. Andrew), a disch<sup>d</sup> vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Salop, and diocese of Lichfield, is valued at £4. 14s.: pres. net income, £258: patron, E. W. S. Owen, Esq.: pres. incumbent, J. W. Harden, 1841: contains 10,540 acres: 282 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,550: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,782: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £10,314: poor rates in 1838, £641. 8s. Tithes commuted in 1839. Condovery Hall is the seat of W. Smythe Owen, Esq.

CONEYSTHORPE, NORTH RIDING, YORK, a township in the parish of Barton-in-the-Street—(which see for access, &c.): 223 miles from London, 2 from Pickering, 5 from New Malton. Money orders issued at Pickering: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 10 a.m.: post closes 3½ p.m. Contains 1,150 acres: 84 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 170: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £2962.

CONEYTHORPE, WEST RIDING, YORK, a township in the parish of Goldsborough—(which see for access, &c.): 206 miles from London, 4 from Knaresborough, 6 from Ripley. Money orders issued at Knaresborough: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 11 a.m.: post closes 3 p.m. Contains 800 acres:

21 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 104: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £889: poor rates in 1838, £49.

CONGERSTON, LEICESTER, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Sparkenhoe, union of Market-Bosworth, on a branch of the river Anker, and close upon the Ashby-de-la-Zouch Canal: 100 miles from London (coach road 108), 9 from Atherstone, 3 from Market-Bosworth. Nor. West. Rail. through Rugby to Market-Bosworth, thence 3 miles: from Derby, through Rugby, &c., 68 miles. Money orders issued at Atherstone: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9½ a.m.: post closes 5 p.m. There is a daily school here, endowed with £16 per annum by C. Jennings, Esq. The other charities amount to about £13. 4s. 6d. per annum, of which £10. 14s. 6d. is applied to parochial purposes. The living (St. Mary), a rectory, formerly in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Leicester, and diocese of Lincoln, now in the diocese of Peterborough, is valued at £5. 3s. 6½d.: pres. net income, £218: patron, Earl Howe: pres. incumbent, R. E. Hall, 1842: contains 1,020 acres: 42 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 267: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £991: poor rates in 1838, £105. 10s. Tithes commuted in 1823.

CONGHAM, NORFOLK, a parish in the Lynn division of the hun<sup>d</sup> of Freebridge, union of Freebridge Lynn: 121 miles from London (coach road 97), 3 from Castle-Rising, 6 from Lynn. Nor. and East. Co<sup>t</sup> Rail. through Ely to Lynn, thence 6 miles: from Derby, through Syston and Peterborough to Lynn, &c., 128 miles. Money orders issued at Lynn: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 5 p.m. This is the birth-place of the learned antiquarian and historian, Sir Henry Spelman; he was born in 1562, and was knighted by James I. He wrote many valuable works, amongst which are his Glossarium Archaeologicum and Villare Anglicanum. He was sheriff for the county in 1605, and died in 1641. The living (St. Andrew), a rectory, consolidated in 1684 with that of Congham-St.-Mary, in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Norwich, is valued at £12. 10s.: pres. net income, £453: patron, John Roper, Esq.: pres. incumbent, J. Wright, 1841: contains 3,260 acres: 54 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 326: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 375: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £2,604: poor rates in 1838, £106. 2s.

CONGLETON, CHESTER, a market town and small municipal borough, in the parish of Astbury, union of Congleton: 176 miles from London (coach road 162), 7 from Macclesfield. Gt. West. Rail. through Rugby, Leicester, and Burton, to Congleton: from Derby, through Burton, &c., 54 miles. Money orders issued here: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 7 a.m. and 5.10 p.m.: post closes 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. Congleton is by some writers considered to be on the site of Condane, an aboriginal settlement of the Cornavii; but Whitaker refutes that opinion, and fixes that station at Kinderton. Its appellation in Domesday-book is Cogleton. In the beginning of the fourteenth century, Herbert de Lacy, Earl of Lincoln, gave it a charter, and obtained a grant of a weekly market for it. An inundation having much injured the town in the reign of Henry VI., the inhabitants got permission to divert the course of the river, and afterwards a grant of the king's mills on its banks. The town is pleasantly situated in a valley, surrounded by richly-wooded hills, on the south bank of the river

Daven, or Dane, over which, in 1782, a handsome bridge was constructed. Congleton consists of narrow streets. The houses are irregularly built. Those in the eastern part are old—principally built of timber and brick-work; those in the western part are handsome, modern erections. The town is lighted with gas, and obtains an ample supply of water from springs, and from the rivulet Howley, which flows through it. There is some beautiful and picturesque scenery in the neighbourhood, with several noble mansions and villas on the banks of the river. The chapel is a brick building, standing on an eminence, and commanding an extensive view. On the opposite side of the Dane there was anciently another chapel, which was pulled down in 1810, and a larger one erected at Congleton Moss. In the market-house there are periodical assemblies. The chief trade was formerly in gloves, and leather laces, called Congleton points; but the principal occupation of the inhabitants is now in the throwing of silk, and spinning of cotton, for which, since 1752, fifty mills have been built. The first one was erected by Mr. Pattison of London, and had five stories of rooms, each 240 feet long, and proportionably wide. It is still conducted by his descendants. There is a canal from Marple, to join the Grand Junction Canal at Lawton, within a quarter of a mile. The market-house, built, in 1822, at the expense of Sir Edmund Antrobus, Bart., is a neat building, containing handsome assembly-rooms. In 1625, James I. granted a charter of incorporation, by which the government is vested in a mayor, high steward, eight aldermen, and sixteen capital burgesses, with a town-clerk, and other officers. The corporation holds quarterly courts of session, for trying criminals charged with offences not capital, and courts of record for the recovery of debts to any amount, in which they have the privilege (though not exercised) of proceeding according to the law of Acton-Burnell, or the law of statute-merchant. The high steward, or his deputy, holds a court-leet every August. The Guildhall is a neat building of brick, with a piazza in front, with supports of four stone pillars. It was rebuilt in 1805; and, besides the court-rooms, contains a room for debtors, and cells for criminals. The Independents, Primitive and Wesleyan Methodists, Unitarians, and Roman Catholics, have chapels here. There is a free grammar-school and a Sunday school. At Buglawton, a township in this parish, is a mineral spring; but the breaking in of the banks has much weakened its power. John Bradshaw, chief justice of Cheshire, and president of the tribunal which condemned Charles I., was articled to an attorney in this town, of which he was chosen mayor in 1637, and was afterwards high steward. This is the birth-place of John Whitehurst, a famous mechanic, and author of a 'Treatise on the Theory of the Earth,' who was born in 1713, and died 1788.—The living is valued at £41. 15s.: contains 2,500 acres: 1,719 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 9,222: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 10,605: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £11,189: poor rates in 1838, £2,259. 9s.—Market day, Saturday. Fairs: Thursday before Shrovetide; May 12; July 10; November 22, cattle.—Banker: Fitz-Adams—draw on Rogers, Olding, & Co.

—Inns: Bull's Head, Corporation Arms, Lion and Swan.

CONGRESBURY, SOMERSET, a large parish in the hund<sup>d</sup> of Winterstoke, union of Axbridge, on the river Yeo: 130 miles from London (coach road 127), 12 from Bristol, 6 from Axbridge.—Gt. West. Rail. to Bristol, thence 12 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham to Bristol, &c., 143 miles.—Money orders issued at Bristol: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 10 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m.—There is a legend which states that the name of this parish is derived from the son of an eastern monarch, named St. Congar, who fled from his father's court in 711, in order to avoid a marriage to which he did not consent, and settled here, and built an oratory; and Ina, king of the West Saxons, granted him some land, on which he founded an establishment for twelve canons. He then made a pilgrimage to Jerusalem, where he died, but was brought back here and buried. The annual charities amount to about £3. 10s. 5d., beside £5 per annum chargeable on the manor of Congressbury, belonging to Queen Elizabeth's Hospital, Bristol, and a right of admission for one poor boy from the manor to that hospital.—The living (St. Andrew), a vicarage, with the curacy of Wick-St.-Lawrence annexed, in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Wells, and diocese of Bath and Wells, is valued at £42. 1s. 8d.: pres. net income, £800: patron, R. Hunt, Esq.: pres. incumbent, J. Haythorne, 1825: contains 4,280 acres: 247 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,380: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,587: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £10,088: poor rates in 1838, £535. 11s. Tithes commuted in 1839.

CONHOPE, HEREFORD, a township in the parish of Amestrey, bounded on the east by the river Lug —(which see for access, &c.): 145 miles from London, 6 from Presteign, 6 from Woobly.—Money orders issued at Presteign: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. at noon: post closes 11½ a.m.—Pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 72.—(Other returns with the parish.)

CONINGSBY (corruptly written and pronounced CONESBY), LINCOLN, a parish in the soke and union of Horncastle, parts of Lindsey, bounded on the west by the river Witham, and intersected by the Horncastle Canal: 149 miles from London (coach road 127), 8 from Horncastle, 1 from Tattershall.—Nor. and East. Co<sup>s</sup> Rail. through Peterborough to Tattershall, thence 1 mile: from Derby, through Nottingham and Lincoln to Tattershall, &c., 71 miles.—Money orders issued at Horncastle: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 11 a.m.: post closes 2 p.m.—There is a bequest of £3 per annum for a free school. The General Baptists, and Primitive and Wesleyan Methodists, have chapels here.—The living (St. Michael), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Lincoln, is valued at £39. 10s. 2½d.: pres. net income, £614: patron, Sir Gilbert Heathcote, Bart., M.P.: pres. incumbent, T. K. Bonney, 1814: contains 5,560 acres: 335 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,959: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 2,252: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £6,541: poor rates in 1838, £996. 4s. Tithes commuted in 1802.

CONINGSHEAD, LANCASTER, in the parish of Ulverstone, hund<sup>d</sup> of Lonsdale, north of the Sands: 2 miles from Ulverstone.—In the reign of Henry II., Gabriel Pennington here built a hospital and priory of black canons, to the honour of the Virgin Mary. It was at first valued at £97. Os. 2d., but, on a second valuation, at £161. 5s. 9d.

CONINGTON, CAMBRIDGE, a parish in the hund<sup>d</sup> of Papworth, union of St. Ives: 75 miles from London (coach road 52), 3 from St. Ives, 6 from Huntingdon. — Nor. and East. Co<sup>r</sup> Rail. through Cambridge to St. Ives, thence 3 miles: from Derby, through Syston and Peterborough to St. Ives, &c., 115 miles. — Money orders issued at St. Ives: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 10 a.m.: post closes 5 p.m. — The annual amount expended in charities is about £18. 18s. — The living (St. Mary), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Ely, is valued at £9. 15s. 10d.: pres. net income, £238: patron, Bishop of Ely: pres. incumbent, J. Tillard, 1841: contains 1,477 acres: 28 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 196: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £1,743: poor rates in 1838, £124. 10s. Tithes commuted in 1799 and 1800.

CONINGTON WITH HUNTS, HUNTINGDON, a parish in the hund<sup>d</sup> of Normancross, union of Huntingdon: 68 miles from London (coach road 58), 3 from Stilton, 6 from Huntingdon. — Gt. Nor. Rail. to Woodwulton, thence 3 miles: from Derby, through Peterborough to Holme, &c., 89, thence 2 miles. — Money orders issued at Stilton: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 9 a.m.: post closes 7½ p.m. — There are endowments for education of about £15 per annum. — The living (All Saints), a rectory, formerly in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Huntingdon, and diocese of Lincoln, now in the diocese of Ely, is valued at £19. 6s. 8d.: pres. net income, £508: patron, J. Heathcote, Esq.: pres. incumbent, G. Heathcote: contains 3,000 acres: 37 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 219: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £3,461: poor rates in 1838, £59. 1s. — Conington Castle, the seat of J. M. Heathcote, Esq., was the residence of Robert Cotton, Esq., who left that valuable collection of books and papers known as the Cottonian Library. Camden says, speaking of a castle in this place, that there, within a square ditch, are traces of an ancient castle, the seat, as also Saltrey, by gift of Camote, of Turkill, the Dane. Several persons subsequently possessed it, and it afterwards passed to the Cotton family by marriage, and belonged to Sir Robert Cotton, the famous antiquary, who, from his descent from the Bruses, claimed relationship with the blood-royal both of England and Scotland. The grounds attached<sup>d</sup> are pleasant though not large, and are intersected by a small stream.

CONISBROUGH (or CONINGSBURGH), WEST RIDING, YORK, a parish and town in the south division of the wapentake of Strafforth and Tickhill, union of Doncaster, on the southern bank of the river Don: 209 miles from London (coach road 160), 2 from Doncaster, 6 from Rotherham. — Nor. and East. Co<sup>r</sup> Rail. through Peterborough and Lincoln to Doncaster, thence 2 miles: from Derby, through Swinton to Doncaster, &c., 56 miles. — Money orders issued at Doncaster: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 9½ a.m.: post closes 5½ p.m. — Conisbrough is a very ancient town: it was called by the Britons Caer Conan, and by the Saxons, Cyning or Conan Burgh, both which names signify a royal town. The remains of the castle are situated on an eminence overlooking the river Don. Some are of opinion that it was built by Queen Cartismandua, others by the Romans; and Geoffrey of Monmouth thinks that Hengist, the first Saxon invader, after a defeat by the Britons, under Aurelius Ambrosius, in 487, took refuge in the castle, and was afterwards killed before its walls. In speaking of this, Tanner observes—The name of Hengist has been surrounded with terror, and all his steps with victory. But when, from these hyperboles, we turn to the simple and authentic facts, that all the battles particularized by the Saxons were fought in Kent, it does not appear, from any good evidence, that he ever penetrated far beyond the region which he transmitted to his posterity. It is probable that a fort was in existence here prior to the Conquest; but the castle, the ruins of which are still visible, was most likely erected by William, Earl of Warren, to whom the Conqueror granted the manor. It afterwards belonged to Richard, Earl of Cambridge, called Richard de Coningsburgh, because he was born in the castle. He was beheaded for a conspiracy against Henry V. It now belongs to his Grace the Duke of Leeds. Numerous human skeletons have been discovered here. The keep or round tower is perfect, but the rest is in ruins. The church is an ancient Norman structure, containing several monuments of the Bosville family, to whom one of its members, the Rev. Thomas Bosville, has erected a cenotaph. A chantry was founded here in the reign of Edward II. The Wesleyan Methodists have a chapel here, and there is a school with an endowment of £7. 10s. per annum. The parochial charities produce about £40 a year. — The living (St. Peter), a disch<sup>d</sup>. vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of York, is valued at £8. 12s. 8½d.: pres. net income, £206: patron, Archbishop of York: pres. incumbent, G. Wright, 1844: contains 4,000 acres: 275 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,445: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,661: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £6,113: poor rates in 1837, £327. 10s.

CONISCLIFFE, DURHAM, a parish in the south-east division of Darlington ward, union of Darlington: 269 miles from London (coach road 245), 4 from Darlington, 13 from Sedgfield. — Nor. West. Rail. through Rugby, Derby, and York, to Darlington, thence 4 miles: from Derby, through York, &c., 137 miles. — Money orders issued at Darlington: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 9½ a.m.: post closes 3½ p.m. — This parish is divided into two townships, namely, High or Church Coniscliffe, in which the church stands, and Low Coniscliffe, both on the northern bank of the Tees. — The living (St. Edwin), a vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Durham, is valued at £7. 18s. 1½d.: pres. net income, £216: patron, Bishop of Durham: pres. incumbent, James Cundill, 1832: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 422: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 485.

CONISHOLM, LINCOLN, a parish in the Marsh division of the hund<sup>d</sup> of Louth-Eske, parts of Lindsey, union of Louth: 181 miles from London (coach road 154), 8 from Louth, 12 from Alford. — Nor. and East. Co<sup>r</sup> Rail. through Peterborough to Louth, thence 8 miles: from Derby, through Lincoln and Boston to Louth, &c., 125 miles. — Money orders issued at Louth: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 11 a.m.: post closes 2½ p.m. — The living (St. Peter), a disch<sup>d</sup>. rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Lincoln, is valued at £9. 13s. 6½d.: pres. net income, £250: patron, Earl of Ripon: pres. incumbent, George D. Kent, 1819:

contains 1,680 acres: 30 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 146: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £1,542: poor rates in 1838, £28. 13s. — The tithes were commuted in 1839.

CONISTON, EAST RIDING, YORK, a township in the parish of Swine—(which see for access, &c.): 180 miles from London, 5 from Hull, 8 from Beverley. — Money orders issued at Hull: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 9½ a.m.: post closes 8 p.m. — Contains 600 acres: 24 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 110: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £913: poor rates in 1838, £19. 6s. Tithes commuted in 1789.

CONISTON WITH KILNSAY, WEST RIDING, YORK, a chapelry in the parish of Burnsall, on the river Warfe—(which see for access, &c.): 230 miles from London, 10 from Settle, 4 from Burnsall. — Money orders issued at Settle: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 1½ p.m.: post closes at noon. — Contains 5,380 acres: 33 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 172: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £2,824: poor rates in 1838, £153. 6s.

CONISTON (MONK) AND SKELLWITH, LANCASTER, a township in the parish of Hawkshead—(which see for access, &c.): 266 miles from London, 3 from Hawkshead, 7 from Ambleside. — Money orders issued at Ambleside: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 1 p.m.: post closes 5½ p.m. — Contains 5,420 acres: 78 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 470: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 540: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £2,010.

CONISTON (CHURCH). See CHURCH CONISTON.

CONISTONE (COLD), WEST RIDING, YORK, a township in the parish of Gargrave, on the river Aire, and near the Leeds and Liverpool Canal—(which see for access, &c.): 224 miles from London, 6 from Skipton, 3 from Broughton. — Money orders issued at Skipton: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 12½ p.m.: post closes 2 p.m. — The living is a perpetual curacy in the diocese of Ripon: patron, J. B. Garforth, Esq.: pres. incumbent, John Stansfeld: contains 1,710 acres: 55 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 242: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £1,832: poor rates in 1838, £118. 10s.

CONOCK, WILTS, a tithing in the parish of Churton—(which see for access, &c.): 86 miles from London, 4 from Devizes, 10 from Marlborough. — Money orders issued at Devizes: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 8 a.m.: post closes 7½ p.m. — Contains 29 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 160. — (Other returns with the parish.) — Conock House is the seat of Ernle Warriner, Esq., who now resides at Cheltenham. The family of this gentleman derives its name from the village of Earnley, or Ernle, in Sussex, so called from the Saxon words erne and lege, signifying 'the habitation of eagles.' In the reign of Henry III., Richard de Earnley was seated at Earnley. From him lineally descended Michael Ernle, Esq. of Bourton, high sheriff of Wilts. His lineal descendant, Sir Walter Ernle, was created a baronet in Feb., 1660–61. The second grandson of that gentleman, Walter Ernle, Esq. of Conock, in Wilts, from whom the present family is descended, was high sheriff of Wilts in 1710. The baronetcy afterwards passed to Sir Michael Ernle, who left an only daughter and heir, Elizabeth, who married her cousin, Gifford Warriner, Esq. (son of Isaac Warriner, Esq., and Gertrude, his wife, daughter of Walter Ernle, Esq. of Conock.) Her son, Gifford Warriner, Esq. of Conock, died in 1820, leaving two sons, Gifford and Ernle, of Conock House. 'Ernle Warriner, Esq., is a magistrate and deputy-lieutenant for Wiltshire, and served the office of high sheriff in 1823.

VOL. 7.

CONONLEY. See FARNHILL WITH CONONLEY. — Cononley House is the seat of the Rev. John Swire, A.M., University College, Oxford, and vicar of Manfield. The Rev. John Swire is a descendant of an ancient family in Craven, which has been seated at Cononley for two centuries at least. The earliest descendant of whom we have any record is Roger Swyer. From him descended Roger Swire, Esq., who, dying unmarried in 1792, the estates devolved upon his brother, John Swire, Esq., who died in 1796, leaving a posthumous son, the present Rev. John Swire, who is an acting magistrate for the county of Durham, and for the north riding of Yorkshire.

CONSIDE (or CONSET WITH KNITSLEY), DURHAM, a township in the parish of Lanchester—(which see for access, &c.): 260 miles from London, 4 from Wolsingham. — Money orders issued at Darlington: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 11 a.m.: post closes 2 p.m. — Contains 3,440 acres: 20 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 195: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £1,784: poor rates in 1838, £69. 15s.

CONSTANTINE, CORNWALL, a parish in the east division of the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Kerrier, union of Falmouth: 304 miles from London (coach road 270), 5 from Falmouth, 5 from Penrhyn. — Gt. West. Rail. through Bristol and Exeter to Plymouth, thence 58 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham, Bristol, &c., 318 miles. — Money orders issued at Falmouth: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 8½ a.m.: post closes 9 p.m. — The petty sessions for the division are held here. — The living (St. Constantine), a disch<sup>d</sup>. vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup>. of Cornwall, and diocese of Exeter, is valued at £19. 3s. 10½d.: pres. net income, £450: patron, Dean and Chapter of Exeter: pres. incumbent, Edward Rogers, 1817: contains 8,470 acres: 344 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 2,042: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 2,348: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £6,503: poor rates in 1838, £718. 2s.

CONSTARD, SUSSEX, a manor in the parish of Brede: 50 miles from London, 5 from Battle, 10 from Rye.

CONVIL-IN-ELVET, CARMARTHEN, a chapelry in the parish of Abernant—(which see for access, &c.): 225 miles from London, 7 from Carmarthen, 8 from Newcastle. — Money orders issued at Carmarthen: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 4½ p.m.: post closes 9 p.m. — The living is a vicarage, annexed to that of Abernant: contains 300 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,651: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,898: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £2,755: poor rates in 1838, £498. 7s.

CONWY (CONWAY, or ABERCONWAY), CARMARTHEN. See ABERCONWAY.

COOKBURY, DEVON, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Black Torrington, union of Holsworthy, south of the Torridge river: 225 miles from London (coach road 210), 4 from Holsworthy, 10 from Torrington. — Gt. West. Rail. through Bristol and Exeter to Crediton, thence 31 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham, Bristol, &c., 239 miles. — Money orders issued at Holsworthy: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 12½ a.m.: post closes at noon. — The parochial charities produce about £2 a year. — The living (St. John the Baptist) is a perpetual curacy to the rectory of Milton-Damerell, in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Totness, and diocese of Exeter: pres. net income, £378: patron, Earl of Devon: pres. incumbent, Thomas Clark, 1801: contains 2,340 acres: 55 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 301: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 346: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £924: poor rates in 1838, £9. 11s.

42

COOKHAM, BERKS, a parish in the above hun<sup>d</sup>, union of Cookham, bounded on the north and east by the river Thames: 25 miles from London (coach road 29), 3 from Maidenhead, 4 from Great Marlow. —Gt. West. Rail. to Maidenhead, thence 3 miles: from Derby, through London, &c., 157 miles. —Money orders issued at Maidenhead: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 8 p.m. —This village, which was once a market town, is seated on the west bank of the Thames, on the opposite side of which are the picturesque and richly cultivated domains of Clifden, Hedsor, and Taplow, and for the beauty of its scenery and prospects it is rarely surpassed. One of the most extensive boot and shoe manufactories in the kingdom is carried on here; and it, with a paper-mill, gives employment to large numbers of the inhabitants. Malting is also carried on here to some extent. There is a Wesleyan Methodist chapel here. At Cookham Dean, a hamlet of the parish, a chapel of ease has been erected within these few years, which will accommodate 600 or 700 parishioners. It has an endowment of £75 per annum, and the patronage is in the gift of the vicar for the time being. —The living (the Holy Trinity), a vicarage, formerly in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Berks, and diocese of Salisbury, now in the diocese of Oxford, is valued at £14. 14s. 2d.: pres. net income, £480: patron, J. Rogers, Esq.: pres. incumbent, J. F. Grantham, 1837: contains 6,710 acres: 635 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 3,676: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 4,227: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £15,243: poor rates in 1838, £750. 7s.

COOKLEY, SUFFOLK, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> and union of Blything: 111 miles from London (coach road 97), 2 from Halesworth, 10 from Framlingham. —East. Co<sup>t</sup>. Rail. to Diss, thence 14 miles: from Derby, through Syston, Peterborough, and Norwich, to Diss, &c., 198 miles. —Money orders issued at Halesworth: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m. —The living (St. Michael), a disch<sup>d</sup> rectory annexed to that of Huntingfield: contains 1,210 acres: 53 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 324: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 373: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,719: poor rates in 1838, £213. 19s.

COOLING, KENT, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Shamwell, union of Hoo: 35 miles from London (coach road 29), 4 from Rochester, 7 from Gravesend: Gravesend Rail. to Rochester, thence 4 miles: from Derby, through London, &c., 167 miles. —Money orders issued at Rochester: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 8 p.m. —The poor of this parish have a right to one place in Cobham College. —The living (St. James), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Rochester, is valued at £14: pres. net income, £600: patron, J. Alliston, Esq.: pres. incumbent, J. S. Sergrove, 1818: contains 2,000 acres: 20 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 144: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £2,173: poor rates in 1838, £106. 18s. Tithes commuted.

COOL-PILATE, CHESTER, a township in the parish of Acton—(which see for access, &c.): 4 miles from Nantwich. —Money orders issued at Nantwich: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 7 p.m. —Contains 620 acres: 6 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 59: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £811: poor rates in 1838, £28. 8s.

COOMBE, HEREFORD, a township in the parish of Presteign, on the river Lug—(which see for access, &c.): 149 miles from London, 2 from Presteign, 5 from Kington. —Money orders issued at Presteigne: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 11 a.m.: post closes 12½ p.m. —Contains 20 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 121: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £697: poor rates in 1838, £67. 19s.

COOMBE. See EAST MBOX.

COOMBE-BISSET, WILTS, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Cawden and Cudworth, union of Alderbury, on a branch of the Avon: 100 miles from London (coach road 84), 4 from Salisbury, 4 from Wilton. —Sou. West. Rail. to Salisbury, thence 4 miles: from Derby, through Rugby, Oxford, and Reading, to Salisbury, &c., 193 miles. —Money orders issued at Salisbury: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 8½ p.m. —The charities produce about £7 a year. —The living (St. Michael), a disch<sup>d</sup> vicarage, with the curacy of West Harnham, in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Sarum, is valued at £7: pres. net income, £220: patron, Prebendary of Coombe and West Harnham: pres. incumbent, W. Biscoe, 1843: contains 3,110 acres: 73 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 406: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 467: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £2,042: poor rates in 1838, £120. 9s. Tithes commuted in 1839.

COOMBE-KEYNES, DORSET, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Winfrith, union of Wareham and Purbeck: 132 miles from London (coach road 118), 6 from Wareham, 8 from Corfe Castle. —Sou. West. Rail. through Southampton to Wareham station, thence 6 miles: from Derby, through Rugby, Oxford, Reading, Southampton, &c., 221 miles. —Money orders issued at Wareham: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8½ a.m.: post closes 7½ p.m. —The living (Holy Rood), a disch<sup>d</sup> vicarage, with the perpetual curacy of Wool, formerly in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Dorset, and diocese of Bristol, now in the diocese of Sarum, is valued at £13. 18s. 11½d.: pres. net income, £95: patron, J. Weld, Esq.: pres. incumbent, J. U. Cooke, 1835: contains 1,470 acres: 22 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 135: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £739: poor rates in 1838, £58. 11s. The tithes were commuted in 1839. —S. 2 m. Lulworth Castle, the seat of Joseph Weld, Esq.—(for which, see EAST LULWORTH.)

COOMBS, SUSSEX, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> and union of Steyning, rape of Bramber, bounded on the east by the river Adur: 59 miles from London (coach road 53), 3 from North Shoreham, 10 from Arundel. —Brighton and Sou. Coast Rail. to Shoreham, thence 3 miles: from Derby, through London, &c., 191 miles. —Money orders issued at Shoreham: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 7½ p.m. —The living, a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Chichester, is valued at £10. 0s. 2½d.: pres. net income, £201: patron, Col. Wyndham: pres. incumbent, John Thornton, 1824: contains 1,270 acres: 6 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 80.

COOMBS-EDGE, DERBY, a township in the parish of Chapel-en-le-Frith,—(which see for access, &c.): 165 miles from London, 2 from Chapel-en-le-Frith: 7 from Tideswell.—Money orders issued at Buxton: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 11½ a.m.: post closes 1 p.m.—Contains 69 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 328: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 377.—(Other returns with the parish.)

COPDOCK, SUFFOLK, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup>. and union of Sampford: 72 miles from London (coach road 68), 4 from Ipswich, 6 from Hadleigh.—East. Co<sup>a</sup>. Rail. to Ipswich, thence 4 miles: from Derby, through London, &c., 204 miles.—Money orders issued at Ipswich: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 9 p.m.—The living (St. Peter), a disch<sup>d</sup>. rectory, united with the vicarage of Washbrook, in the archd<sup>y</sup>. of Suffolk, diocese of Norwich, is valued at £9. 12s. 8½d.: pres. net income, £483: patron, Lord Walsingham: pres. incumbent, Hon. F. De Grey, 1837: contains 610 acres: 61 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 299: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £1,759: poor rates in 1838, £173. 7s.

COPFORD, ESSEX, a parish in the Witham division of the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Lexden, union of Lexden and Winstree, on the Roman river: 55 miles from London (coach road 46), 4 from Colchester, 12 from Malden.—East Co<sup>a</sup>. Rail. to Colchester, thence 4 miles: from Derby, through London, &c., 187 miles.—Money orders issued at Colchester: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 9 a.m.—The parochial charities consist of three tenements and a garden.—The living, a rectory in the diocese of Rochester, is valued at £15. 3s. 4d.: pres. net income, £495: patron, Lord Chancellor: pres. incumbent, K. C. Bayley, 1845: contains 2,350 acres: 83 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 645: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 741: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £3,539: poor rates in 1838, £470. The tithes were commuted in 1839.—Copford Hall is the seat of Fiske Goodere Fiske Harrison, Esq. It is a handsome building, said to have been once the residence of Bonner, Bishop of London, by which see the manor had been held prior to the Conquest. It has some pleasant grounds attached to it, diversified with several pieces of ornamental water. F. G. Fiske Harrison, Esq., the present proprietor, is the grandson of the Rev. John Harrison of Copford Hall, incumbent of Faulkbourne and East Hanningfield, in Essex. His son, John Haynes Harrison, Esq. of Copford Hall, married Sarah Thomas, only child and heiress of the Rev. John Fiske of Thorpe Morieux, Suffolk, and granddaughter and heiress of Samuel Thomas, Esq. of Lavenham. Mr. Harrison died in December, 1839, and was succeeded in his own estates, and also in those acquired by marriage, by his eldest son, the present Fiske Goodere Fiske Harrison, Esq. of Copford Hall, who, on succeeding to his maternal property, assumed his mother's surname of Fiske, in addition to, and before his patronymic of Harrison. Mr. Harrison is a magistrate for the county, and has served as high sheriff.

COPGROVE, WEST RIDING, YORK, a parish in the lower division of the wapentake of Claro: 228 miles from London (coach road 205), 3 from Boroughbridge, 4 from Ripon.—Nor. West. Rail. through Rugby, Derby, and Leeds, to Won-nald Green station, thence 3 miles: from Derby, through Leeds, &c., 96 miles.—Money orders issued at Boroughbridge: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8½ a.m.: post closes 4 p.m.—The parochial charities produce about £2. 16s. per annum.—The living (St. Michael), a disch<sup>d</sup>. rectory, formerly in the archd<sup>y</sup>. of Richmond, and diocese of Chester, now in the diocese of Ripon, is valued at £5. 9s. 7d.: pres. net income, £200: patron, T. Duncombe, Esq.: pres. incumbent, John Charge, 1813: contains 1,050 acres: 19 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 103: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £955: poor rates in 1838, £54. 15s.—Copgrove is the seat of Thomas Duncombe, Esq. It is a handsome building, pleasantly situated on an eminence. The south façade is 30 yards long, and four square pilasters support the pediment above the entrance. The apartments are all elegantly fitted up, and contain an admirable collection of pictures, busts, and other productions of the fine arts. In the drawing-room there is a remarkably fine inlaid table, exhibiting almost every kind of marble, with a beautiful bust of one of the daughters of Niobe. The house commands a good view of the lawn, and a handsome piece of water, bordered with wood. Copgrove, prior to the Conquest, was one of the manors of Earl Gospatric, and at the time of the Norman survey belonged to Erneis de Buren, a Norman follower of the Conqueror. Mr. Duncombe is younger brother of the first Lord Feversham. His eldest son, Thomas Slingsby Duncombe, Esq., has sat in parliament since 1834, and has ever been distinguished for his eloquent and manly advocacy of the political principles which he adopted.

COPLE, BEDFORD, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Wixamtree, union of Bedford, on a branch of the river Ouse: 66 miles from London (coach road 47), 3 from Bedford, 2 from Cardington.—Nor. West. Rail. to Bedford, thence 3 miles: from Derby, through Rugby to Bedford, &c., 105 miles.—Money orders issued at Bedford: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 8½ p.m.—The parochial charities produce about £3 a year.—The living (All Saints), a disch<sup>d</sup>. vicarage, formerly in the archd<sup>y</sup>. of Bedford, and diocese of Lincoln, now in the diocese of Ely, is valued at £7. 17s.: pres. net income, £215: patron, Christ Church, Oxford: pres. incumbent, H. E. Havergal, 1847: contains 2,170 acres: 107 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 551: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 633: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £2,583: poor rates in 1838, £342. 9s.

COPLESTONE, DEVON, a hamlet in the parish of Colebrook—(which see for access, &c.)

COPMANFORD. See COPPINGFORD.

COPMANTHORPE, YORK, a chapelry in that part of the parish of St. Mary, Bishopshill-Junior, which is in the ainsty of the city of York—(which see for access, &c.): 185 miles from London, 5 from York, 8 from Selby.—Money orders issued at York: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9½ a.m.: post closes 4½ p.m.—The living is a perpetual curacy in the diocese of York: pres. net income, £96: patron, Vicar of St. Mary, Bishopshill-Junior: pres. incumbent, E. Greenhow, 1846: contains 1,610 acres: 61 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 284: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £2,415: poor rates in 1838, £92. 12s.

COPPENHALL, CHESTER, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup>. and union of Nantwich, comprising the two townships of Coppenhall-Church and Coppenhall-Monks: 158 miles from London (coach road 169), 1 from Crewe, 5 from Nantwich. — Nor. West. Rail. to Crewe, thence 1 mile: from Derby, through Burton to Crewe, &c., 57 miles. — Money orders issued at Crewe: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 8½ a.m.: post closes 8½ p.m. — The living, a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup>. and diocese of Chester, is valued at £6. 10s.: patron, Bishop of Lichfield: pres. incumbent, John Cooper, 1838. Tithes commuted for £275.

COPPENHALL, STAFFORD, a chapelry in the parish of Penkridge—(which see for access, &c.): 131 miles from London, 3 from Penkridge, 3 from Stafford. — Money orders issued at Penkridge: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 9 a.m.: post closes 8 p.m. — Several curious fossil remains of pachydermatous animals have been found in this parish. — The living, a perpetual curacy annexed to Penkridge, in the archd<sup>y</sup>. of Stafford, and diocese of Lichfield, is valued at £4: pres. net income, £85: patron, Lord Hatherton: pres. incumbent, Evan Price, 1847: contains 2,040 acres: 16 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 119: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>y</sup>. £1,238: poor rates in 1838, £24. 14s.

COPPINGFORD (or COPMANFORD), HUNTINGDON, a parish in the hund<sup>d</sup>. of Leightonstone, union of Huntingdon: 66 miles from London, 5 from Stilton, 6 from Huntingdon. — Gt. Nor. Rail. through Huntingdon to Woodwalton, thence 1 mile: from Derby, through Syston and Peterborough to Woodwalton, &c., 94 miles. — Money orders issued at Stilton: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 9½ a.m.: post closes 7 p.m. — The living (All Saints) is a rectory united with that of Upton: contains 1,030 acres: 11 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 45: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>y</sup>. £805: poor rates in 1838, £37. 15s.

COPPULL, LANCASTER, a chapelry in the parish of Standish—(which see for access, &c.): 205 miles from London, 3 from Chorley, 4 from Wigan. — Money orders issued at Chorley: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 8½ a.m.: post closes 6 p.m. — The living is a perpetual curacy in the diocese of Manchester: pres. net income, £120: patron, Rector of Standish: pres. incumbent, H. W. Jackson, 1839: contains 2,180 acres: 154 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,031: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>y</sup>. £1,815: poor rates in 1838, £194. 17s.

COPSTON (MAGNA), WARWICK, a hamlet in the parish of Monks-Kirby—(which see for access, &c.): 98 miles from London, 4 from Hinckley, 10 from Coventry. — Money orders issued at Hinckley: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 8 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m. — Contains 18 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 113: poor rates in 1838, £58. 15s.

CORBRIDGE, NORTHUMBERLAND, a parish and township, formerly also a borough and market town, in the east division of Tyndale ward, union of Hexham, on the northern bank of the Tyne: this parish, besides the township of Corbridge, comprises those of Aydon, Aydoncastle, Clarewood, Dilston, Halton, Halton-Shields, Thornborough, Whittington Great, and Whittington Little: 329 miles from London, 5 from Hexham. — Nor. West. Rail. through Rugby, Derby, York, and Newcastle, to Hexham, thence 5 miles: from Derby, through York, &c., 197 miles. — Money orders issued at Hexham: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 8½ a.m.: post closes 4½ p.m. — There is a school here with a small endowment. The other benefactions, which produce about £35 a year, are expended in distributions to the poor, and in apprenticing children. Corbridge formerly sent members to parliament; but the privilege had been long declined prior to the remodelling of the franchise by the Reform Act. The fairs for stock are very largely attended, and held in much account. The Independents, Wesleyan Methodists, and Roman Catholics, have chapels here. — The living (St. Andrew), a vicarage, with the curacy of Halton, in the archd<sup>y</sup>. of Northumberland, and diocese of Durham, is valued at £11. 11s. 8d.: pres. net income, £482: patron, Dean and Chapter of Carlisle: pres. incumbent, Henry Gipps, 1830: contains 13,130 acres: 301 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 2,103: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 2,418: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>y</sup>. £19,154: poor rates in 1838, £731. 5s. Tithes commuted in 1839. — Fairs: Whitsun-Eve and July 4, for live stock.

CORBRIDGE, NORTHUMBERLAND, a township in the above parish—(which see for access, &c.) — Contains 248 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,486: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,709: poor rates in 1838, £474. 16s.

CORBY, LINCOLN, a parish and market town in the wapentake of Beltisloe, parts of Kesteven, union of Bourn, on the river Glen: 105 miles from London, 9 from Grantham. — Nor. and East. Co<sup>t</sup>. Rail. through Peterborough to Corby station: from Derby, through Nottingham and Grantham to Corby, 46 miles. — Money orders issued at Corby: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 9 a.m.: post closes 8 p.m. — The living (St. John the Evangelist) is a vicarage annexed to the rectory of Irnham: contains 3,790 acres: 125 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 714: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 821: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>y</sup>. £2,216: poor rates in 1838, £225. 19s. Tithes commuted in 1797. — Market day, Thursday. Fairs: August 26, and the Monday immediately preceding October 11. — N. 1 m., Irnham Park — (for which, see IRNHAM.)

CORBY, NORTHAMPTON, a parish in the hund<sup>d</sup>. of Corby, union of Kettering: 99 miles from London (coach road 80), 3 from Rockingham, 8 from Kettering. — Nor. West. Rail. through Northampton to Thrapston, thence 10 miles: from Derby, through Rugby to Great Easton station, 75, thence 4 miles. — Money orders issued at Rockingham: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 8 a.m.: post closes 5 p.m. — The living (St. John the Baptist), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup>. of Northampton, diocese of Peterborough, is valued at £13. 16s. 3d.: patron, Earl of Cardigan: pres. incumbent, P. B. Harris, 1834: contains 2,800 acres: 131 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 791: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 910: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>y</sup>. £1,115: poor rates in 1838, £509. 8s. The tithes were commuted in 1835.

CORBY (GREAT), CUMBERLAND, a township in the parish of Wetheral—(which see for access, &c.): 299 miles from London, 6 from Carlisle, 6 from Brampton. — Money orders issued at Carlisle: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 11 a.m.: post closes 2 p.m. — Contains 2,960 acres: 236 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 806: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 927. — Corby Castle is the seat of Philip Henry Howard, Esq., M.P. It is an elegant building, situated on a lofty cliff above the river Eden, which, with its wooded and rocky banks, forms a picturesque feature in the surrounding scenery. The castle is irregularly built; and although the owners of the manor have for several centuries resided in it, it has been so much altered at various times, that it now seems a comparatively modern erection. The grounds are beautifully laid out, principally under the direction of Thomas Howard, great-grandfather of the present proprietor. Regarding the caves called St. Constantine's Cells, or Wetheral Safeguard; there is a tradition that it was formed by a younger son of a Scottish king, named Constantino, as a hermitage, and that he lived there, and is supposed to have died at Melrose. In these grounds there are temples, also excavated caverns, with steps leading from them, hewn in the rock. P. H. Howard, Esq., is a descendant of Lord William Howard, second son of Thomas, fourth Duke of Norfolk, who deduced his parentage, through three descents, from Edward I., King of England, who, by an act passed in 1603, was restored in blood. His lordship was warden of the West Marches, and is well known in border history as Belled Will, the dread of the moss-troopers, and the civilizer of our borders. Charles, the grandson of his eldest son Philip, was elevated to the peerage as Earl of Carlisle, the ancestor of the present earl. His second son, Sir Francis Howard, Knt. of Corby Castle, espoused, in the parliamentary war, the cause of Charles I., in whose service he raised a regiment of horse; and to support his cause, sold two of his estates. His eldest son, Francis Howard, Esq. of Corby Castle, succeeded him; he was captain in the army, and governor of the city of Carlisle. From him descended Henry Howard, Esq. of Corby Castle, high sheriff of Cumberland in 1832, who was distinguished for his piety, his virtues, and his patriotic feeling, no less than for his courtesy, affability, literary acquirements, and refined taste. Mr. Howard died in 1842, and was succeeded by his son, the present proprietor, who sits for Carlisle in the House of Commons, for which place he was first elected in 1830.

CORBY (LITTLE), CUMBERLAND, a township in the parish of Warwick, at the confluence of the Eden and the Irthing: 302 miles from London. (For access and postal arrangements, see above.) Contains 380 acres: 56 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 283.

CORELEY, SALOP, a parish in the hund<sup>d</sup>. of Stottesden, union of Cleobury Mortimer: 158 miles from London (coach road 142), 3 from Tenbury, 8 from Ludlow. Gt. West. Rail. through Oxford to Kidderminster, thence 25 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham to Kidderminster, &c., 86 miles. Money orders issued at Tenbury: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 10 a.m.: post closes 2 p.m. The living (St. Peter), a disch<sup>d</sup> rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Salop, and diocese of Hereford, is valued at £5. 5s. 10d.: pres. net income, £280: patron, A. F. Haliburton, Esq.: pres. incumbent, W. Haliburton, 1846: contains 1,340 acres: 121 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 525: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 604: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £4,222: poor rates in 1838, £158. 13s.

CORFE, SOMERSET, a parish in the hund<sup>d</sup>. of Taunton and Taunton-Dean, union of Taunton: 166 miles from London (coach road 144), 3 from Taunton, 9 from Chard. Gt. West. Rail. through Bristol to Taunton, thence 3 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Bristol to Taunton, &c., 179 miles. Money orders issued at Taunton: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 7½ p.m. The charities produce about £4 a year. The living, a perpetual curacy in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Taunton, and diocese of Bath and Wells, is valued at £11. 18s. 8d.: pres. net income, £66: patron, Francis Wheat Newton, Esq.: pres. incumbent, G. H. West, 1842: contains 1,050 acres: 51 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 279: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,300: poor rates in 1838, £126.

CORFE-CASTLE, DORSET, a parish and borough, formerly also a market town, in the hund<sup>d</sup>. of Corfe-Castle, union of Wareham and Purbeck, Blandford division: it includes the tithings of the north and south divisions: 230 miles from London (coach road 116), 23 from Dorchester. Sou. West. Rail. through Southampton to Wareham station, thence 4 miles: from Derby, through Rugby, Oxford, and Southampton, to Wareham, &c., 219 miles. Money orders issued at Wareham: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 7 a.m.: post closes 8 p.m. The Saxon appellation of Corfe-Castle is Corve, or Corves-geate, and it evidently owes its origin to a strong fortified castle, erected here previous to 980. In the reign of Richard II. the manor and castle were held by Thomas Holland, Earl of Kent, jointly with Alicia, his wife. They then passed through various hands, until the time of Elizabeth, when they were granted, with the Isle of Purbeck, to Sir Christopher Hatton, whose descendant, Sir William Hatton, gave them to his lady, Elizabeth, daughter of Thomas, Earl of Exeter, who afterwards married Lord Chief-Justice Coke, by whom they were sold, in 1635, to Sir John Bankes, attorney-general to Charles I., and afterwards Chief-Justice of the King's Bench, in whose family they still remain. The town is situated on a rising ground in the centre of the Isle of Purbeck, and chiefly consists of two streets, leading from the market-place, in the midst of which is an ancient stone cross. The houses, mostly built of stone from the quarries in the vicinity, are well supplied with water. The river Corfe flows by the east of the town, and there is an ancient stone bridge over it at the entrance to the town from the London road. Most of the inhabitants are employed in the neighbouring quarries and clay-pits. From one of them, called Norden, a railway has been constructed to Poole harbour, from whence the clay is shipped to Staffordshire and other potteries. Some of the female inhabitants are occupied in knitting stockings. The church is a large, ancient Norman building, with a nave, chancel, two aisles, and a lofty square embattled tower. It contains some ancient monuments and altar-tombs of Purbeck marble. Corfe-Castle is situated on a steep lofty hill to the north of the town, situated so as to command the whole island, and is separated from the town by a bridge of strong narrow arches across a moat, now dry. This fortress was most probably erected by King Edgar, and was the residence of his widow, Elfida, soon after his death. It was at this period that the barbarous murder of King Edward, son of King Edgar, was committed. That prince, whilst hunting, paid a visit to his mother-in-law and her son at Corfe-Castle, when Elfida, seeing him without attendants, stabbed him in the back whilst drinking a cup of wine. The king set spurs to his horse, but sinking from loss of blood, was dragged along the ground by the stirrups, and left dead at Corfe Gate. Elfrida afterwards founded two nunneries, in one of which she took the veil, and there died. In the reign of Stephen, the castle was held against the king by Baldwin de Rivers, Earl of Devon. King John frequently resided in it; and by his orders, twenty-two prisoners, some of them of the principal nobility of Poitiers, were starved to death in its dungeons. Edward II. was removed here from Kenilworth, when imprisoned by the order of the queen and Mortimer; and Richard II., after he was deposed, was a prisoner here for a short time previous to his murder at Pontefract. Henry VII. repaired it, as also did Sir Christopher Hatton. In the civil war, Lord Chief-Justice Bankes, who then possessed it, being at York with Charles I., the parliamentary forces, under the command of Sir Walter Erle and Sir Thomas Trenchard, besieged it; but Lady Bankes, assisted only by her domestics, and a few of her tenants, defended it, until, when the king approached Blandford, Captain Lawrence was sent to her relief. The parliamentary forces again laid close siege to it; but Lady Bankes and Captain Lawrence, with about eighty soldiers, defended it with the loss of only two men, until Sir Walter Erle, hearing of the approach of the king's forces, retired. In 1645, the parliamentary troops, under Fairfax, blockaded it, and at last gained possession of it, through the treachery of Lieutenant-Colonel Pitman, an officer of the garrison. It was then demolished. The ruins, which still exist, prove the former extent and strength of this once magnificent edifice. The entrance was between two large and strong circular towers. Some of the towers by which the walls were defended, are considerably inclined from the perpendicular, in consequence of the attempts that have been made to undermine them; and large fragments of the walls and towers have fallen into the vale beneath. In a more elevated position stand the remains of the keep or citadel, from which extensive views may be obtained to the north and west. In the inner ward are the ruins of the king's and queen's towers, and beneath them the ruins of the chapel. There are dungeons still remaining in some of the towers, and, altogether, the ruins, which are in some parts overgrown with ivy, are peculiarly stupendous and majestic. The lord of the manor of Corfe was formerly lord-licutenant of the Isle of Purbeck, with the power of appointing all officers, and determining all suits. He was also lord admiral of the isle, and was entitled to all wrecks, and had power to array the militia; but these privileges ceased in 1757, as Mr. Bankes did not then enforce his claims. The town was incorporated in the time of Queen Elizabeth, who granted it all the privileges enjoyed by the Cinque Ports. By the charter of Charles II., the corporation consists of a mayor, annually elected at Michaelmas at the court-leet of the lord of the manor, and eight barons, who have previously been mayors. The mayor and late mayor are justices of the peace. Since the time of Elizabeth, the borough returned two members to parliament; but it has lately been disfranchised. There is a chapel here for the Independents. The educational institutions are numerous. There is an endowed almshouse for six aged persons. At Nine Barrow Down, about two miles east of the town, are sixteen barrows, nine in a straight line; they are situated on an eminence, commanding a beautiful view of Swanage, the British Channel, and the Isle of Wight. The living (St. Edward the Martyr), a rectory in the diocese of Sarum, exempt from visitation, is valued at £40. 14s. 7d.: pres. net income, £685: patron, William Bankes, Esq.: pres. incumbent, Edward Bankes, 1820: contains 9,860 acres: 292 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,946: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 2,238: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £6,596: poor rates in 1838, £768. 8s. Market day, Thursday. Fairs: May 12, and Oct. 29. Inns: Greyhound and Ship.

CORFE-MULLEN, Dorset, a parish in the hund<sup>d</sup> of Cogdean, union of Wimborne and Cranborne: 119 miles from London (coach road 105), 7 from Poole, 4 from Wimborne Minster. Sou. West. Rail. through Southampton to Wimborne, thence 4 miles: from Derby, through Rugby, Oxford, Reading, and Southampton, to Wimborne, &c., 208 miles. Money orders issued at Poole: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 7½ p.m. There are two schools here, which have endowments. The only other parochial charity is a rent of £60 a year, out of which £10 is to be paid to the curate, provided the vicar also made him an allowance. The remainder is expended in providing bread and cheese every Sunday for ten poor children, and beef at Christmas, and apprentice fees when required. The living is a curacy to the vicarage of Sturminster-Marshall: contains 2,890 acres: 136 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 758: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 871: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £2,056: poor rates in 1838, £134. 19s.

CORFTON. See CROFTON.

CORHAMPTON, HANTS, a parish in the hund<sup>d</sup> of Meon-Stoke, union of Droxford, Portadown division of the county: 84 miles from London (coach road 61), 4 from Bishop's Waltham, 10 from Winchester. Sou. West. Rail. to Bishopstoke station, thence 10 miles: from Derby, through Rugby, Oxford, and Reading, to Bishopstoke, &c., 171 miles. Money orders issued at Bishop's Waltham: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 7 p.m. There is a school here, endowed with £12 a year, for the education of eight boys of this and other parishes. The other benefactions produce £22 a year. The living is a perpetual curacy in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Winchester: pres. net income, £39: patron, W. Wyndham, Esq.: pres. incumbent, Charles Walters, jun.: contains 2,410 acres: 16 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 181: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £1,293: poor rates in 1838, £122. 17s. Corhampton House is the seat of J. H. C. Wyndham, Esq.

CORLEY, WARWICK, a parish in the Atherstone division of the hund<sup>d</sup> of Hemlingford, union of Meriden: 98 miles from London (coach road 95), 4 from Coventry, 12 from Warwick. Nor. West. Rail. to Coventry, thence 4 miles: from Derby, through Rugby to Coventry, &c., 66 miles. Money orders issued at Coventry: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 9 p.m. The parochial charities produce about £12. 14s. a year. The living is a vicarage, formerly in the

archd<sup>y</sup> of Coventry, and diocese of Lichfield and Coventry, now in the diocese of Worcester: pres. net income, £400: patron, A. F. Gregory, Esq.: pfes. incumbent, A. W. Gregory, 1824: contains 1,280 acres: 53 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 288: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,792: poor rates in 1838, £68. 3s.

CORNARD (GREAT), SUFFOLK, a parish in the hund<sup>d</sup> of Babergh, union of Sudbury, bounded on the west by the river Stour: 58 miles from London (coach road 56), 1 from Sudbury, 11 from Hadleigh. —East. Co<sup>a</sup> Rail. to Marks Tey station, thence 12 miles: from Derby, through London, &c., 190 miles. —Money orders issued at Sudbury: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 8 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m. —The parochial benefactions yield about £2. 10s. per annum. —The living (St. Andrew), a disch<sup>d</sup> vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Sudbury, and diocese of Norwich, is valued at £9: pres. net income, £155: patron, H. Sparrow, Esq.: pres. incumbent, P. Pering, 1844: contains 1,610 acres: 167 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 938: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,079: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £2,191: poor rates in 1838, £365. 9s. The tithes were commuted in 1839. —Fair, first Monday in October.

CORNARD (LITTLE), SUFFOLK, a parish in the hund<sup>d</sup> of Babergh, union of Sudbury: 57 miles from London. —(For access and postal arrangements, see above.) —The living (All Saints), a rectory, formerly in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Sudbury, and diocese of Norwich, now in the diocese of Ely, is valued at £8. 2s. 8<sup>d</sup>.: pres. net income, £509: patrons, Bishop of Norwich, and G. M. Hawkins, Esq., alternately: pres. incumbent, Edwin Sidney, 1847: contains 1,480 acres: 67 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 396: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 455: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,811: poor rates in 1838, £312. 5s.

CORNBROUGH, NORTH RIDING, YORK, a township in the parish of Sheriff-Hutton—(which see for access, &c.): 194 miles from London, 2 from Pocklington, 11 from York. —Money orders issued at Pocklington: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 9<sup>1</sup>/<sub>2</sub> a.m.: post closes 3<sup>1</sup>/<sub>2</sub> p.m. —Contains 920 acres: 9 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 63.—(Other returns with the parish.)

CORNELLY, CORNWALL, a parish in the west division of the hund<sup>d</sup> of Powder, union of Truro: 284 miles from London (coach road 253), 1 from Tregony, 4 from Truro. —Gt. West. Rail. through Bristol and Exeter to Plymouth, thence 40 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Bristol to Plymouth, &c., 298 miles. —Money orders issued at St. Austle: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 5<sup>1</sup>/<sub>2</sub> p.m.: post closes 9 p.m. —The living (St. Cornelius) is a perpetual curacy in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Cornwall, and diocese of Exeter: pres. net income, £47: patron, Vicar of Probus: pres. incumbent, L. M. Peter, 1847: contains 1,480 acres: 22 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 119: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,704: poor rates in 1838, £111. 2s.

CORNEY, CUMBERLAND, a parish in Allerdale ward, above Derwent, union of Bootle: 279 miles from London (coach road 293), 3 from Ravenglass, 3 from Bootle. —Nor. West. Rail. through Crewe and Lancaster to Bowness, thence 20 miles: from Derby, through Crewe and Lancaster, &c., 179 miles. —Money orders issued at Ravenglass: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 8 a.m.: post closes 2 p.m. —The living (St. John the Baptist), a disch<sup>d</sup>

rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Richmond, and diocese of Chester, is valued at £9. 17s. 1d.: pres. net income, £140: patron, Earl of Lonsdale: pres. incumbent, C. Abbot, 1848: contains 3,890 acres: 47 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 273: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £3,196: poor rates in 1838, £91. 16s.

CORNFORTH, DURHAM, a township in the parish of Bishop's Middleham—(which see for access, &c.): 253 miles from London, 6 from Durham, 4 from Sedgfield. —Money orders issued at Durham: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 8<sup>1</sup>/<sub>2</sub> a.m.: post closes 9 p.m. —Contains 1,570 acres: 79 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 700: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 805: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,298: poor rates in 1838, £67. 5s. Tithes commuted in 1839.

CORNHILL, DURHAM, a chapelry in the parish of Norham, bounded on the west by the river Tweed—(which see for access, &c.): 332 miles from London, 2 from Coldstream, 12 from Berwick. —Money orders issued at Berwick: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 2 p.m.: post closes 12<sup>1</sup>/<sub>2</sub> p.m. —The living is a perpetual curacy in the diocese of Durham: pres. net income, £240: patron, Dean and Chapter of Durham: pres. incumbent, S. A. Fyler, 1834: contains 4,430 acres: 148 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 823: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 946: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £8,210: poor rates in 1838, £251. 11s. —Fair, December 6. —Cornhill House is the seat of John Collingwood, Esq., late of Lilburn Tower, Northumberland. The family of this gentleman is a branch of the ancient Northumbrian family of Collingwood. He is the grandson of John Collingwood, Esq. of Lilburn Tower and Cornhill House, who died in 1827, and was succeeded by his son, Henry John William Collingwood, who died in 1840, and was followed in the estates by his son, the present John Collingwood, Esq., born in December, 1826. Lilburn Tower was sold by the trustees, in 1842, to Edward Collingwood, Esq. of Chirton.

CORNSAY, DURHAM, a township in the parish of Lanchester—(which see for access, &c.): 267 miles from London, 8 from Durham, 6 from Walsingham. —Money orders issued at Durham: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 9 a.m.: post closes 7<sup>1</sup>/<sub>2</sub> p.m. —Contains 2,370 acres: 60 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 201: poor rates in 1838, £32. 16s. Tithes commuted in 1839.

CORNWELL, OXFORD, a parish in the hund<sup>d</sup> of Chadlington, union of Chipping-Norton: 91 miles from London (coach road 80), 3 from Chipping-Norton, 6 from Shipton. —Gt. West. Rail. through Oxford to Stow-on-the-Wold, thence 3 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Worcester to Stow, &c., 104 miles. —Money orders issued at Chipping-Norton: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 8<sup>1</sup>/<sub>2</sub> a.m.: post closes 7<sup>1</sup>/<sub>2</sub> p.m. —The living, a disch<sup>d</sup> rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Oxford, is valued at £7. 4s. 2d.: pres. net income, £140: patron, Lord Chancellor: pres. incumbent, C. Barter, 1829: contains 820 acres: 23 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 97: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,223: poor rates in 1838, £79. 16s. —Cornwell House.

CORNWOOD, DEVON, a parish in the hund<sup>d</sup> of Ermington, union of Plympton St. Mary: 238 miles from London (coach road 214), 3 from Ivy Bridge, 11 from Saltash. —Gt. West. Rail. through Bristol and Exeter to Ivy Bridge station, thence 3 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham, Bristol, &c., 252 miles. — Money orders issued at Ivy Bridge: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 5 p.m. — The river Yealm runs through this parish, which is also separated from the adjoining parish of Harford by the river Erme. The surrounding country is hilly, and is intersected by several mountain streams. The church is an ancient building, with three stone stalls and a piscina. The late vicar, the Rev. Duke Yonge, bequeathed £23 per annum for medical assistance to the poor not relieved by the parish. The Rook charity produces a rent of £44, which is divided among the poor. Within the parish is Bachwood, a handsome mansion, in a good situation, the seat of Sir Frederick Leman Rogers, Bart. This gentleman traces his descent from John Rogers (supposed to be a descendant of the Rev. John Rogers, prebendary of St. Paul's, who, under the name of Thomas Matthew, translated the Bible, and was the first person who suffered as a martyr under Queen Mary), a merchant of Plymouth, who, having made a large fortune, sat in parliament for that borough, was created a baronet in 1698, and was sheriff of Devonshire in 1706. His son, Sir John, was M.P. for, and recorder of, Plymouth, and his grandson, Sir John, was colonel of the South Devon Militia, and also sat for Plymouth. The late Sir Frederick Rogers was also recorder of Plymouth, and M.P. for that borough. The present baronet succeeded to the title and estates on the death of his elder brother, the late Sir John Rogers, in 1847. — The living (St. Michael), a vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Totness, and diocese of Exeter, is valued at £33. 4s. 7d.: pres. net income, £405: patron, Bishop of Exeter: pres. incumbent, H. G. Adams, 1844: contains 10,680 acres: 188 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,080: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,242: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £5,544: poor rates in 1838, £509. 1s.

CORNWORTHY, DEVON, a parish in the hund<sup>d</sup> of Coleridge, union of Totness, at the mouth of the river Dart: 226 miles from London (coach road 200), 3 from Totness, 4 from Dartmouth. — Gt. West. Rail. through Bristol and Exeter to Totness, thence 3 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham, Bristol, &c., 239 miles. — Money orders issued at Totness: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9½ a.m.: post closes 5 p.m. — This parish, noticed in old records as a borough, consists chiefly of productive orchard ground. The river Harborne flows past it on the north, and separates it from Ashprington, turning into the Dart, by which it is separated from Stoke-Gabriel, thus forming a kind of peninsula. There is a manufactory for flax at Tuckerhay, a hamlet in this parish. In 1609, Dame Elizabeth Harris here founded and endowed a school for poor children of both sexes, now conducted on the national plan. There is a small bequest from the great tithes of the parish, by Sir John Peters, for poor people not relieved by the parish. The ancestors of the Edgcombe family founded a priory for seven Augustine nuns, which anciently stood here, but of which two arched gateways now alone remain. At the dissolution its revenue was £63 per annum. There is a school here, endowed with £20 a year; the other charities produce about £7. 15s. per annum, besides a church house, which is inhabited by paupers. — The living (St. Peter), a disch<sup>d</sup> vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Totness, and diocese of Exeter, is valued at £10: pres. net income, £210: patron, Rev. Charles Barter: pres. incumbent, W. K. Sweetland, 1846: contains 2,600 acres: 105 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 554: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 636: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £3,602: poor rates in 1837, £239. 1s.

CORPUSTY, NORFOLK, a parish in the hund<sup>d</sup> of South Erpingham, union of Aylsham, on the southern bank of the river Bure: 129 miles from London (coach road 114), 6 from Reepham, 6 from Aylsham. — East. Co<sup>t</sup> Rail. to Norwich, thence 15 miles: from Derby, through Syston and Peterborough to Norwich, &c., 183 miles. — Money orders issued at Aylsham: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 12 a.m.: post closes 2 p.m. — The living (St. Peter), a disch<sup>d</sup> vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Norwich, is valued at £4. 12s. 8½d.: pres. net income, £62: patron, J. R. Joes, Esq.: pres. incumbent, S. Ashby, 1844: contains 1,018 acres: 98 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 449: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 516: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £1,079: poor rates in 1838, £157. 2s. — N.E., Armingland Hall.

CORPHAM-CASTLE, SALOP, in the parish of Diddlebury, east of the river Corve: 8 miles from Ludlow.

CORRIDGE, NORTHUMBERLAND, a township in the parish of Hartburn—(which see for access, &c.): 292 miles from London: 11 from Morpeth, 11 from Rothbury. — Money orders issued at Morpeth: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 2 p.m.: post closes 11½ a.m. — Contains 4 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 21: poor rates in 1838, £1. 13s.

CORRINGHAM, ESSEX, a parish in the hund<sup>d</sup> of Barstable, union of Orsett: 26 miles from London (coach road 28), 14 from Romford, 8 from Billericay. — East. Co<sup>t</sup> Rail. to Romford, thence 14 miles: from Derby, through London, &c., 158 miles. — Money orders issued at Romford: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9½ a.m.: post closes 4½ p.m. — Coringham was the name of this parish at the time of the Norman survey. It comprises the villages of Great and Little Corringham, together with the hamlets of Aisby, Dunstale, Gilby, Somerby, and Yewthorpe, and is the head of a deanery, which, according to documents in the office of the Dean and Chapter of Lincoln, must have been established prior to 1100. The village of Great and Little Corringham consists of two parallel streets, with a third street joining it at right angles, the northern one of which, called Little Corringham, is a separate constablewick. The church is an ancient Norman structure, built of stone, formerly belonging to the knights-templars. There is a richly ornamented arch above the south doorway. It has a nave and chancel, with a transept and aisle. There are ancient oak stalls, with carved seats, in the chancel. It contains several monuments, amongst them two of marble—one on the north, and the other on the south side of the chancel: one to the memory of Sir John Beckett, Bart., and the other to that of his son, who was killed at the head of his regiment at the battle of Talavera. The Wesleyan Methodists have a chapel here. Somerby Park was called, in the survey, by the Saxon name of Sumerdabi, signifying the habitation or encampment of an army, and is supposed to have derived its name from an ancient Roman camp at this place, where there formerly stood a chapel, noticed by Bacon, in his Liber Regis, as being annexed to Corringham.---The living (St. Mary), a rectory in the diocese of Rochester, is valued at £22. 13s. 4d.: pres. net income, £866: patron, Rev. J. H. Stevenson: pres. incumbent, J. H. Stevenson, 1841: contains 2,590 acres: 32 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 256: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £3,123: poor rates in 1838, £160. 6s. Tithes commuted in 1839.---Somerby Hall is the seat of Sir Thomas Beckett, Bart., who is one of the largest landowners in the parish, and to whom the great tithes belong. This mansion has witnessed the performance of many military exploits, especially in the parliamentary war, when it was the seat of the Fairfax family. Sir Thos. Beckett is descended from John Beckett, Esq. of Leeds, county of York, and of Somerby Hall, county of Lincoln, and was created a baronet in November, 1813. He died in 1826, and was succeeded by his eldest son, the Right Hon. Sir John Beckett, F.R.S., M.P., who, dying without issue, in May, 1847, was succeeded by his next surviving brother, the present Sir Thomas Beckett, as third baronet.

CORRINGHAM (GREAT AND LITTLE), LINCOLN, a parish in the south division of the wapentake of Corringham, parts of Lindsey, union of Gainsborough: 189 miles from London (coach road 150), 4 from Gainsborough, 6 from Spittal.---Nor. and East. Co<sup>r</sup> Rail. through Peterborough and Lincoln to Gainsborough, thence 4 miles: from Derby, through Lincoln to Gainsborough, &c., 71 miles.---Money orders issued at Gainsborough: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 5 p.m.---The living (St. Lawrence), a vicarage, exempt from visitation, in the diocese of Lincoln, is valued at £12: pres. net income, £200: patron, Bishop of Lincoln: pres. incumbent, G. Dodds, 1831: contains 6,270 acres: 110 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 564: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 648: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £6,388: poor rates in 1838, £172. 2s.

CORSCOMBE, DORSET, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Beaminster-Forum and Redhorne, union of Beaminster, Bridport division of the county: 156 miles from London (coach road 133), 10 from Yeovil, 3 from Beaminster.---Sou. West. Rail. through Southampton to Dorchester, thence 15 miles: from Derby, through Rugby, Oxford, and Reading, to Dorchester, &c., 245 miles.---Money orders issued at Yeovil: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 11½ a.m.: post closes 3 p.m.---The living (St. Michael), a rectory, formerly in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Dorset, and diocese of Bristol, now in the diocese of Sarum, is valued at £21. 3s. 4d.: pres. net income, £514: patron, R. Nicholson, Esq.: pres. incumbent, William Nicholson, 1843: contains 4,170 acres: 140 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 810: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 931: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £4,618: poor rates in 1838, £252. 18s.

CORSE, GLOUCESTER, a parish in the lower division of the hun<sup>d</sup> of Westminster, union of Newent: 129 miles from London (coach road 108), 4 from Newent, 7 from Tewkesbury.---Gt. West. Rail. to Cheltenham, thence 8 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham to Cheltenham, &c., 93 miles.---Money orders issued at Gloucester: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 4 p.m.---The parochial charities produce about £24 a year.---The living (St. Margaret), a disch<sup>d</sup> vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Gloucester, and diocese of Gloucester and Bristol, is valued at £6. 2s. 9d.: pres. net income, £443: patron, Lord Chancellor: pres. incumbent, H. K. Creed, 1828: contains 2,190 acres: 105 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 482: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 554: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £3,164: poor rates in 1838, £357. 16s. Tithes commuted in 1794, and vicarial in 1797.

CORSENSIDE, NORTHUMBERLAND, a parish in the north-east division of Tindale ward, union of Bellingham, west of the river Reed: 342 miles from London, 18 from Hexham.---Nor. West. Rail. through Rugby, Derby, and York, to Hexham, thence 18 miles: from Derby, through York, &c., 210 miles.---Money orders issued at Hexham: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 4½ p.m.: post closes 9 a.m.---The living, a disch<sup>d</sup> vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Northumberland, and diocese of Durham, is valued at £3. 1s. 3d.: pres. net income, £228: patron, Messrs. Tweddell: pres. incumbent, Wm. Kell, 1843: contains 9,710 acres: 102 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,108: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,274: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £4,357: poor rates in 1838, £153. 17s. The tithes were commuted in 1839.

CORSHAM, WILTS, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> and union of Chippenham: 98 miles from London (coach road 97), 4 from Chippenham, 5 from Melksham.---Gt. West. Rail. to Chippenham, thence 4 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Bristol to Chippenham, &c., 159 miles.---Money orders issued at Chippenham: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 9 p.m.---Corsham Regis, or Cosham, is a place of great antiquity, for in the Saxon chronicles we read, that in 1015, King Ethelred lay sick at Cosham, and Alderman Edric collected an army there. Tosti, Earl of Northumberland, held it according to the Norman survey, and at the Conquest it became the property of the Crown. In the time of Henry III., Richard, Earl of Cornwall, held it, and procured many privileges for this place, granting the royal manor to the tenants, as farmers in fee, on an annual payment of 110 marks. Corsham is in a flat, dry, and healthy situation; and the town principally consists of one long street, containing neat houses, most of them built of freestone. The inhabitants are engaged in agricultural pursuits, or are employed in the numerous stone quarries in the neighbourhood. The church is a large ancient fabric. It has a tower in the centre, but the spire which surmounted it was taken down in 1812. The Baptists and Independents have chapels here. There is a free school for ten boys, and an almshouse for six aged poor, both built and endowed by Lady Margaret Hungerford in 1668. The late Paul Cobb Methuen, Esq., in 1816, erected a handsome parochial school-house. There are numerous charities for the relief of the poor, and some bequests for repairing the church and the bridges. Bishop Tanner states that there was formerly an alien priory here, which was granted by the Conqueror to the Abbey of Caen, in Normandy, and was given by Henry VI. to King's College, Cambridge. But, says he, I am at present at a loss to reconcile this with the grant of the church, and some other things in the town, made by King Henry II. to the Benedictine monks, 'De majori monasterio,' or of Marmouster in Townhouse, who had here a cell. This alien priory, which seems, during the war with France, to have been in the custody of the bishop and church of Exeter, was given, 1 Edward IV., towards the endowment of the monastery of Tyon, and, as parcel of the same, granted 6 Jac. to Philip Moore. It was valued at £22. 18s. 4d. There was formerly a friary here, now the parsonage: and a nunnery, on the site of which now stands the Methuen Arms Inn. The first master appointed to her charity by Lady Hungerford, was the Rev. Edward Wells, vicar of the parish, and father of the learned author of "Sacred Geography;" and the late master was Edward Hasted, F.R.S. and F.S.A., the historian of the county of Kent, who died here in 1812. He was born at Hawley, in Kent; his father, Edward Hasted, was descended from the noble family of Clifford, and his mother was of the ancient family of the Dingleys of Woolverton, Isle of Wight. For upwards of forty years he was engaged on his history of Kent, during which time he was in affluent circumstances; but in the later portion of his life, he was forced by adversity to accept the mastership of Corsham Hospital. About the same time, he regained his estates in Kent (of which he had unjustly been deprived), by a decree of the Court of Chancery, and thus passed the remainder of his days in affluence. His "History and Topographical Survey of the County of Kent" may rank with the works of Dugdale, Thoresby, or any of the eminent writers of the same kind. Corsham was the birth-place of Sir Richard Blackmore, an eminent physician, and a voluminous writer. King William appointed him one of his physicians in ordinary, and knighted him in 1697. He resigned his situation as a royal physician soon after the accession of Queen Anne, and died at an advanced age in 1729. He left behind him an immense quantity of productions in verse and prose, the best of which was considered to be his "Creation, a Philosophical Poem," for the excellence of which he never appealed to the opinion of Dr. Blair.---The living (St. Bartholomew), a vicarage in the diocese of Gloucester and Bristol, is valued at £10. 16s.: pres. net income, £200: patron, Lord Methuen: pres. incumbent, W. C. Bennett, 1832: contains 6,710 acres: 586 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 8,842: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 4,418: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £14,652: poor rates in 1838, £1,315. 9s.---Fairs: March 7, and Sept. 4.---George and Swan Hotels.---N.E. is Corsham Court, the seat and property of Lord Methuen. The original part of the present building was erected, in 1582, by William Halliday, Esq., who then possessed the lordship, and was lord mayor, alderman, and sheriff of London, and was the first lord mayor who drained Moorfields. There is after this no mention of it until it was purchased early in the last century by Paul Methuen, Esq., who engaged Launcelot Browne to improve and add to the house. This mansion contains a choice collection of pictures, including that of Sir Paul Methuen. In the breakfast-room there is a very singular cornice, consisting of small heads, in basso relievo, supporting the points of groins. They are 160 in number, and though every head is expressive of bearing weight, yet they all are so ingeniously devised, that there are no two coun- tenances alike. The north side of the house has been lately finished in the Elizabethan style, by Charles Bellemey, Esq., architect, and presents one of the most magnificent fronts in Great Britain. The Methuen collection contains several portraits, and comprises pictures by the most celebrated masters. The family of Lord Methuen, the present proprietor, derives its name from the barony of Methuen, in Perthshire, which Malcolm Canmore, King of Scotland, granted to a German of distinction, who accompanied Queen Margaret, the sister of Edgar Atheling, from Hungary, about 1070. From him descended Sir Paul Methuen, who was born in 1672, and was a minister of Queen Anne and George I., was one of the secretaries of state, a knight of the Bath, ambassador to the courts of Vienna, Morocco, Lisbon, Madrid, and Sardinia, and comptroller of the household. Voltaire speaks of him as one of the best ministers employed in any embassy by England. He had a most distinguished taste in the fine arts, as is evident by the above-mentioned pictures, most of which were collected by himself. He never married, assigning as a reason that the blessing of wedlock was too great for him to enjoy. He died in 1757, and was buried in Westminster Abbey. The present proprietor succeeded to the estates in 1849; the late peer having sat in several parliaments for the county of Wilts, was, in July, 1838, raised to the peerage as Baron Methuen of Corsham, in the county of Wilts.

CORSLEY (GREAT AND LITTLE), WILTS, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> and union of Warminster: 114 miles from London (coach road 100), 3 from Warminster, 3 from Frome.---Gt. West. Rail. through Chippenham to Westbury, thence 4 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Bristol to Westbury, &c., 174 miles.---Money orders issued at Warminster: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 6½ p.m.---The living (St. Margaret), a disch<sup>d</sup> rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Sarum, is valued at £11. 0s. 10d.: pres. net income, £215: patron, Marquis of Bath: pres. incumbent, James H. Waugh, 1845: contains 2,712 acres: 379 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,621: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,649: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £4,345: poor rates in 1838, £1,049. 4s. Tithes commuted in 1780.

CORSTON, SOMERSET, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Wellow, union of Keynsham: 110 miles from London (coach road 111), 4 from Bath, 8 from Bristol.---Gt. West. Rail. to Bristol, thence 8 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Bristol, &c., 139 miles.---Money orders issued at Bath: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 9 p.m.---The living (All Saints), a disch<sup>d</sup> vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Bath, and diocese of Bath and Wells, is valued at £6. 3s. 9d.: pres. net income, £150: patron, Bishop of Bath and Wells: pres. incumbent, G. P. Simpson, 1843: contains 1,210 acres: 120 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 604: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 695: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £2,259: poor rates in 1838, £110. 17s.

CORSTON, WILTS, a tithing and chapelry in the borough of Malmesbury---(which see for access, &c.): 95 miles from London, 2 from Malmesbury, 7 from Chippenham.---Money orders issued at Malmesbury: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 7½ a.m.: post closes 6 p.m.---The living is a curacy to the vicarage of St. Paul, Malmesbury: contains 46 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 273.—(Other returns with the parish.)

CORSTONE-HACKET (or CORRON), Worcesters, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Halfshire, union of Bromsgrove: 92 miles from London, 5 from Bromsgrove, 10 from Birmingham.—Gt. West. Rail. through Oxford and Worcester, to Burnt-Green station, thence 1 mile: from Derby, through Birmingham to Burnt-Green, &c., 53 miles.—Money orders issued at Bromsgrove: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8½ a.m.: post closes 7½ p.m.—The living is a curacy united with the rectory of Northfield: contains 1,400 acres: 35 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 211: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £2,517: poor rates in 1838, £141. 19s.—Corstone House.

CORTON, Suffolk, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> and union of Mutford and Lothingland: 139 miles from London (coach road 117), 8 from Lowestoft, 7 from Yarmouth.—East. Co<sup>r</sup>. Rail. through Norwich to Lowestoft, thence 3 miles: from Derby, through Syston, Peterborough, Norwich, &c., 191 miles.—Money orders issued at Lowestoft: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 4½ p.m.—The parochial charities produce about £17 a year.—The living (St. Bartholomew), a disch<sup>d</sup> vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Suffolk, and diocese of Norwich, is valued at £10: pres. net income, £119: patron, Lord Chancellor: pres. incumbent, F. C. Fowler, 1837: contains 1,430 acres: 69 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 442: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 508: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £1,594: poor rates in 1838, £88. 4s. Tithes commuted in 1839.

CORTON (or CORRINGTON), Wilts, a tithing in the parish of Boyton—(which see for access, &c.): 91 miles from London, 5 from Warminster, 5 from Hindon.—(Returns with the parish.)

CORTON-DENHAM, Somerset, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Horethorne, union of Wincanton: 129 miles from London (coach road 113), 3 from Sherborne, 7 from Yeovil.—Gt. West. Rail. to Westbury, thence 19 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Bristol to Westbury, &c., 189 miles.—Money orders issued at Sherborne: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 5 p.m.—Corton ridge, an elevated tract in the neighbourhood, is a valuable sheep-walk, and exhibits traces of an ancient fortification.—The living (St. Andrew), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Wells, and diocese of Bath and Wells, is valued at £13. 9s. 4½d.: pres. net income, £320: patron, Lord Portman: pres. incumbent, J. H. Wyndham, 1813: contains 1,340 acres: 64 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 480: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 552: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £2,534: poor rates in 1838, £289. 7s.

CORVE. See SALOP.

CORWEN, MERIONETH, a parish, partly in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Edernion, union of Corwen, in the above county, and partly in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Isaled, county of Denbigh: it includes the seaport of Barmouth, and the extra-parochial liberty of Gwern-Howel: 187 miles from London (coach road 194), 10 from Bala.—Nor. West. Rail. through Crewe and Chester to Wrexham-Regis, thence 17 miles: from Derby, through Crewe, &c., 87 miles.—Money orders issued here: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 3 p.m.—Corwen is a pretty town, situated on an eminence on the south bank of the river Dee. The church is a neat cruciform edifice, situated directly under a lofty rocky cliff. It is dedicated to St. Julian, Archbishop of St. David's, who was considered the godliest man and greatest clerk of all Wales. He died in 1009. On the south side of the church there is a cross, vulgarly called the sword of Glendwyr; it now measures four feet eight inches, but in its original state it probably measured six feet. As Owon Glendwyr's place of burial is uncertain, it is not unlikely that this is his real sepulchre. On the same side of the churchyard stands six dwellings, founded and endowed by William Eyton, Esq., of Plas Warren, Shropshire, for the support of six widows of beneficed clergymen of the Church of England. In 1837, its annual income was £107. 12s.; but there were then no widows in the college, the last one having died in 1833, and the income was distributed to out-pensioners. The Calvinistic Methodists have a chapel here. The parochial charities produce about £56. 15s., distributed to the poor in alms and clothing. The Corwen poor-law union comprehends 15 parishes, with a population, in 1841, of 14,034. There is a British post, called Caer-Drewyn, fronting Corwen. It is situated on the top of a steep hill, about a mile and a half in circumference, and consists of a circular wall, with the remains of a habitation within. The celebrated Owen Glyndwyr made this the place of his retreat, and some of the ruins of his private palace may still be seen at Sychnant, about three miles from Corwen. It is vulgarly believed that the most extraordinary prodigies and signs marked his birth, and Owen wisely encouraged this belief, to secure the enthusiasm of the people; and very probably, while endeavouring to persuade others, he worked himself into a belief of the reality. This part of his character has been finely delineated by Shakspeare, when he makes Owen himself say—

"At my birth

The front of heaven was full of fiery shapes;
The goat ran from the mountains, and the herds
Were strongly clamorous in the frightened fields;
These signs have marked me extraordinary;
And all the courses of my life do show,
I am not found in the roll of common men."

—The living is a rectory (a sinecure) and vicarage in the diocese of St. Asaph: the rectory is valued at £15. 13s.: pres. net income, £373: the vicarage is valued at £7. 1s. 3d.: pres. net income, £390: patron, Bishop of St. Asaph: pres. incumbents, J. F. Clever, 1812, and M. Hughes, 1830: contains 409 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 2,129: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 2,448: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £6,884: poor rates in 1838, £1,111. 7s.—Market days, Tuesday and Friday. Fairs: March 12, April 16, May 21, July 1, August 19, October 7, and December 29.—Hotels: Capel Curig, Owen Glyndwyr, and Voelas Arms.

CORYTON, Devon, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Lifton, union of Tavistock, on the northern bank of the river Lyd: 264 miles from London (coach road 205), 8 from Tavistock, 6 from Lannceston.—Gt. West. Rail. through Bristol and Exeter to Plymouth, thence 20 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham, Bristol, &c., 278 miles.—Money orders issued at Tavistock: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 11 a.m.: post closes 1½ p.m.—The living (St. Andrew), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Totness, and diocese of Exeter, is valued at £8. 13s. 9d.: pres. net income, £208: patron, Sir R. Newman, Bart.: pres. incumbent, R. Newman, 1830: contains 1,710 acres: 57 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 374: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 430: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £1,401: poor rates in 1838, £96. 5s. --- Coryton Park, in the parish of Kilmington, near Axminster, is the seat of William Tucker, Esq. His grandfather was Benedictus Maxwood Tucker, Esq., third son of William Tucker, Esq., high sheriff for Devon in 1742. Mr. Tucker succeeded, on the death of his father, William Tucker, Esq., and is a justice of the peace for the counties of Devon, Somerset, and Dorset, and provincial grand-master of freemasons in Dorset.

COSBY WITH LITTLE THORPE, LEICESTER, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Guthlaxton, union of Blaby, on a branch of the river Soar: 108 miles from London (coach road 94), 7 from Leicester, 7 from Hinckley. --- Nor. West. Rail. to Leicester, thence 6 miles: from Derby to Leicester, &c., 35 miles. --- Money orders issued at Leicester: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8½ a.m.: post closes 8½ p.m. --- The living (St. Michael), a disch<sup>d</sup> vicarage, formerly in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Leicester, and diocese of Lincoln, now in the diocese of Peterborough, is valued at £4. 15s.: pres. net income, £125: patron, J. Pares, Esq.: pres. incumbent, T. A. Rickards, 1816: contains 2,550 acres: 197 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,013: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,165: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £3,591: poor rates in 1837, £471. 19s. Tithes commuted in 1767.

COSFORD, WARWICK, a hamlet in the parish of Newbold-upon-Avon—(which see for access, &c.): 85 miles from London, 3 from Rugby, 10 from Coventry. --- Money orders issued at Rugby: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 8½ p.m. --- Contains 8 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 82: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £834: poor rates in 1838, £14. 19s.

COSGROVE (or COVESGRAVE), NORTHAMPTON, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Cleley, union of Pottersbury: 59 miles from London (coach road 53), 1 from Stony-Stratford, 8 from Towcester. --- Nor. West. Rail. to Wolverton, thence 2 miles: from Derby, through Rugby, &c., 77 miles. --- Money orders issued at Stony-Stratford: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 7½ a.m.: post closes 8 p.m. --- The living (St. Peter), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Northampton, and diocese of Peterborough, is valued at £14. 11s. 8d.: pres. net income, £363: patron, Mrs. H. Mansel: pres. incumbent, John Graham, 1835: contains 1,760 acres: 121 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 701: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 806: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £3,662: poor rates in 1838, £286. 3s. --- The tithes were commuted in 1767. --- Cosgrove Hall is the seat of John Christopher Mansel, Esq., a descendant of John Maunsell, Esq. of Haversham, Bucks, whose descendant, John Mansel, Esq. of Cosgrove, lieutenant-colonel in the third dragoon guards, a gallant and distinguished officer, was killed at the battle of Coteau, in April, 1794. His eldest son, John Christopher Mansel, Esq., major in the army, and aide-de-camp to his father, dying without issue, was succeeded in the representation of the family, on the death of his widow in 1843, by his nephew, the son of his eldest brother, Robert, an admiral of the R.N., the present John Christopher Mansel, Esq.

COSHESTON, PEMBROKE, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Castle-Martin, union of Pembroke, South Wales: 228 miles from London (coach road 271), 2 from Pembroke, 5 from Milford. --- Gt. West. Rail. to Stonehouse, thence 125 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham to Stonehouse, &c., 228 miles. --- Money orders issued at Pembroke: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 7½ a.m.: post closes 9½ p.m. --- The charities amount to about £30 a year, which are distributed to paupers. --- The living is a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of St. David: pres. net income, £160: patron, George Bowling: pres. incumbent, W. Bowling, 1844: contains 99 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 513: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 590: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £1,418: poor rates in 1838, £96. 4s.

COSMUS (St.) AND DAMIAN. See BLIRNIE.

COSSAL, NOTTINGHAM, a parish in the south division of the wapentake of Broxtow, union of Basford: 136 miles from London (coach road 130), 6 from Nottingham, 12 from Mansfield. --- Nor. West. Rail. through Rugby to Nottingham, thence 6 miles: from Derby to Nottingham, &c., 22 miles. --- Money orders issued at Nottingham: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8½ a.m.: post closes 7 p.m. --- The living (Cossal) is a perpetual curacy, united to the rectory of Wollaton, in the diocese of Lincoln, and having jointly a pres. net income of £792: patron, Lord Middleton: pres. incumbent, C. J. Wiloughby, 1846: contains 720 acres: 66 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 334: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 384: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £1,322: poor rates in 1838, £71. 5s.

COSSINGTON, LEICESTER, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of East Goscote, union of Barrow-upon-Soar, intersected by the Malton Canal, and bounded on the west by the river Soar, and on the south by the Wreak: 109 miles from London (coach road 103), 2 from Mount Sorrel, 3 from Thurmaston. --- Nor. West. Rail. through Rugby to Syston, thence 2 miles: from Derby to Syston, &c., 26 miles. --- Money orders issued at Mount Sorrel: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 10½ a.m.: post closes 7½ p.m. --- The public benefactions produce £108 a year, of which £55 is applied to parochial purposes. --- The living (All Saints), a rectory, formerly in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Leicester and diocese of Lincoln, now in the diocese of Peterborough, is valued at £17. 17s. 6d.: pres. net income, £448: patron, Rev. J. Babington: pres. incumbent, J. Babington, 1820: contains 1,810 acres: 62 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 310: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 356: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £3,473: poor rates in 1838, £169. 3s. Tithes commuted in 1777. --- Cossington is the seat of R. Fisher, Esq.

COSSINGTON, SOMERSET, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Whitley, union of Bridgewater: 155 miles from London (coach road 132), 4 from Bridgewater, 9 from Axbridge. --- Gt. West. Rail. through Bristol to Bridgewater, thence 4 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Bristol, to Bridgewater, &c., 169 miles. --- Money orders issued at Bridgewater: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 8½ p.m. --- The living (St. Mary) is a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Wells, and diocese of Bath and Wells: pres. net income, £254: patron, Rev. J. S. Broderip: pres. incumbent, J. S. Broderip, 1844: contains 1,400 acres: 47 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841,

248: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £3,259: poor rates in 1838, £67. 16s.

COSTESSY (or COSEY), NORFOLK, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> and union of Forehoe, on the northern bank of the Yare: 119 miles from London (coach road 114), 5 from Norwich, 8 from Reepham. —East. Co<sup>r</sup> Rail. to Norwich, thence 6 miles: from Derby, through Syston and Peterborough to Norwich, &c., 171 miles. —Money orders issued at Norwich: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8½ a.m.: post closes 8 p.m. —The living, a perpetual curacy in the archd<sup>r</sup> of Norfolk, diocese of Norwich, is valued at £40: patron, Mayor and Corporation of Norwich: pres. incumbent, J. W. Evans, 1845: contains 3,150 acres: 136 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,074: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,235: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £3,191: poor rates in 1838, £455. 9s. —Cossey or Costessy Hall is the seat of Lord Stafford. It is pleasantly situated in the midst of scenery, beautifully diversified by hill and dale. Some part of the house is ancient and some modern, and contains several noble apartments, also a well-stocked library. There is a chapel near the house. It is a beautiful modern structure, in the Gothic style, built under the direction of Edward Jerningham, Esq. The paternal line of Lord Stafford is supposed to have been originally Danish, the name Jernegan, instead of Jerningham, being that of one of the followers that King Canute brought with him from Denmark, and to whom he gave certain manors in Norfolk. In the reign of Stephen, Jernegan or Jerningham was settled at Horham-Jernegan, Suffolk, from whence his descendant, Sir Hugh Jernegan, removed to Stonham-Jernegan. From him, passing over a long line of distinguished ancestors, descended Sir Henry Jerningham of Huntingdon and Wingfield, Suffolk. He was the first of the Suffolk and Norfolk knights that openly declared for Queen Mary, in the year 1555, on the death of Edward VI., who, soon after her accession, rewarded him by several appointments; and also granted him several extensive manors in Norfolk, Suffolk, Hereford, and Gloucester, particularly those of Costessy in Norfolk, and Wingfield in Suffolk. The former was his principal residence, and it has continued that of the family to the present time. He there entertained Queen Elizabeth in her progress to Norfolk. His grandson, Henry Jerningham, Esq. of Costessy, was created a baronet in October, 1621. Sir Henry was a great sufferer in the parliamentary wars. During the Protectorate, much injury was done to the house and domains, which were let to a farmer. His descendant, Sir George, married, in 1733, Mary, eldest daughter and subsequent heiress of Francis Plowden, Esq., by Mary, daughter of the Hon. John Stafford Howard, younger son of the unfortunate Sir William Howard, Viscount Stafford (and sister and heiress of John Paul Stafford Howard, fourth and last Earl of Stafford, who died in 1762, when the earldom, created in 1688, expired). Sir George died in 1774, and was succeeded by his eldest son, Sir William, who, dying in 1809, was succeeded in the baronetcy by his eldest son, George William Stafford Jerningham, the present Baron Stafford, which dignity he inherits through his great-grandmother, grand-daughter of the iniquitously attainted Viscount Stafford, and mother of Mary, wife of Sir George Jerningham, fifth baronet; the attainder of Sir William Howard, Viscount Stafford, having been reversed by the House of Lords in 1824. The House resolving, on the 6th July, 1825, that Sir George Jerningham had made out his claim to the title, dignity, and honour of Baron Stafford, bearing date 12th September, in the 16th year of the reign of King Charles I., his lordship, by sign-manual in 1826, assumed the additional surnames and arms of Stafford. Lord Stafford also claims the original barony of 1299, but forfeited by Edward de Stafford, Duke of Buckingham, lord high constable, and T.L.G., beheaded in 1521, but this claim has not yet been decided. His lordship was born in April, 1771, and has twice married.

COSTOCK (or CORTLINGSTOCK), NOTTINGHAM, a parish in the south division of the wapentake of Ritschell, union of Loughborough, on a branch of the Sour: 119 miles from London (coach road 115), 9 from Nottingham, 6 from Loughborough. —Nor. West. Rail. through Rugby to Loughborough, thence 6 miles: from Derby, to Loughborough, &c., 23 miles. —Money orders issued at Loughborough: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9½ a.m.: post closes 6 p.m. —The living (St. Giles), a rectory in the archd<sup>r</sup> of Nottingham, and formerly in the diocese of York, now in the diocese of Lincoln: pres. net income, £895: patron, W. S. Milward, Esq., as guardian of his son, in whom is vested the advowson: pres. incumbent, Edward Wilson: contains 1,506 acres: 86 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 470: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 540: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £2,250: poor rates in 1838, £126. 2s.

COSTON, LEICESTER, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Framland, union of Melton-Mowbray, on a branch of the Wreak: 129 miles from London (coach road 112), 7 from Melton-Mowbray, 3 from Waltham. —Nor. West. Rail. through Rugby and Syston to Melton-Mowbray, thence 7 miles: from Derby, through Syston, &c., 52 miles. —Money orders issued at Melton-Mowbray: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9½ a.m.: post closes 5½ p.m. —The living (St. Andrew), a rectory, formerly in the archd<sup>r</sup> of Leicester, and diocese of Lincoln, now in the diocese of Peterborough, is valued at £16. 6s. 3d.: pres. net income, £334: patron, Lord Chancellor: pres. incumbent, Hon. J. Sandilands, 1841: contains 1,680 acres: 81 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 147: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £2,959: poor rates in 1838, £122. 10s.

GOSTON, NORFOLK, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> and union of Forehoe, on the Blackwater river: 120 miles from London (coach road 106), 5 from Wyomondham, 11 from Norwich. —East. Co<sup>r</sup> Rail. through Ely to Hardingham station, thence 1 mile: from Derby, through Syston and Peterborough to Hardingham, &c., 161 miles. —Money orders issued at Oakham: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9½ a.m.: post closes 6½ p.m. —The living (St. Michael) is a rectory in the archd<sup>r</sup> of Norfolk, and diocese of Norwich: pres. net income, £240: united to the Archdeaconry of Norfolk: pres. incumbent, P. Jeannings, 1847: contains 800 acres: 7 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 48: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £355: poor rates in 1838, £54. 10s.

COTE. See ASTON, Oxford. —Cote, county of Gloucester, is the seat of George Daubeney, Esq., a descendant of James Daubeney, younger brother of Giles, Lord Daubeney, K.G., constable of the castle of Bristol, and master of the mint, in the reign of Henry VII. From him descended Andrew, the second son of George Daubeney, Esq., who was high sheriff of Somerset, 2 Geo. II. His great-grandson, George Daubeney, Esq. of Redland, in Gloucestershire, was M.P. for Bristol, and in the commission of the peace for the counties of Somerset and Gloucester. He died in 1806, and was succeeded by his son, the present George Daubeney, Esq., born January, 1775, and twice married.

COTES, STAFFORD, a township in the parish of Eccleshall—(which see for access, &c.): 150 miles from London, 2 from Eccleshall, 7 from Stafford. —Money orders issued at Eccleshall: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 8½ a.m.: post closes 8½ p.m. —Contains 820 acres: 56 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 328: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 377. —(Other returns with the parish.)

COTES DE VAL, LEICESTER, a hamlet in the parish of Kimcote—(which see for access, &c.) —Contains 1 house: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 6. —(Other returns with the parish.)

COTGRAVE, NOTTINGHAM, a parish in the south division of the wapentake of Bingham, union of Bingham, close on the Grantham Canal: 136 miles from London (coach road 144), 6 from Nottingham. —Nor. West. Rail. through Rugby to Nottingham, thence 6 miles: from Derby, to Nottingham, &c., 22 miles. —Money orders issued at Nottingham: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 9 a.m.: post closes 5 p.m. —The living (All Saints) is a rectory, formerly in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Nottingham, and diocese of York, now in the diocese of Lincoln: pres. net income, £628: patron, Earl Manvers: pres. incumbent, J. H. Browne, 1811: contains 3,350 acres: 160 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 850: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 977: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>y</sup> £5,341: poor rates in 1837, £246. 1s. Tithes commuted in 1790.

COTHAM, LINCOLN, a hamlet in the parish of Kestby—(which see for access, &c.): 9 miles from Great Grimsby.

COTHAM, NOTTINGHAM, a parish in the south division of the wapentake of Newark, union of Newark, on the eastern bank of the Devon: 125 miles from London, 4 from Newark, 6 from Southwell. —Nor. West. Rail. through Rugby and Nottingham to Newark, &c., 151 miles: from Derby, through Nottingham, &c., 38 miles. —Money orders issued at Newark: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 8 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m. —The living (St. Michael), a donative curacy, formerly in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Nottingham, and diocese of York, now in the diocese of Lincoln, is valued at £7. 18s.: pres. net income, £35: patron, Duke of Portland: pres. incumbent, J. J. Maltby, 1837: contains 1,210 acres: 11 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 87: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>y</sup> £1,154: poor rates in 1838, £61. 2s.

COTHELSTONE, SOMERSET, a parish in the hund<sup>d</sup> of Taunton and Taunton-Dean, union of Taunton: 169 miles from London (coach road 147), 6 from Taunton, 9 from Wiveliscombe. —Gt. West. Rail. through Bristol to Taunton, thence 6 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Bristol to Taunton, 183 miles. —Money orders issued at Taunton: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 8½ a.m.: post closes 7 p.m. —The living is a perpetual curacy in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Taunton, and diocese of Bath and Wells: pres. net income, £58: patron, Vicar of Kingston: pres. incumbent, R. B. Bradley, 1835: contains 1,240 acres: 15 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 104: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>y</sup> 1,546: poor rates in 1838, £60. 19s. —Cothelstone House, is the seat of Edward Jeffries Esdaile, Esq. This gentleman is the descendant of the Baron d'Estaille, a French protestant, who, at the revocation of the edict of Nantes, fled to England, where, his property being confiscated, he died in obscurity. His son, d'Estaille, afterwards Anglicized into Esdaile, engaged in commerce, and was grandfather to Sir James Esdaile, who became a wealthy citizen of London, of which place he was lord mayor in 1778. Sir James married twice, and the third son of his second marriage was William Esdaile, Esq., an eminent London banker, whose eldest son, having succeeded to the estates of his maternal grandfather, is the present Edward Jeffries Esdaile, Esq. of Cothelstone House. Mr. Esdaile is in the commission of the peace for Somersetshire, and was sheriff for that county in 1825.

COTHERIDGE (or COTHOROUGH), WORCESTER, a parish in the upper division of the hund<sup>d</sup> of Doddingtree, union of Martley: 121 miles from London (coach road 114), 3 from Worcester, 9 from Droitwich. —Gt. West. Rail. through Oxford to Worcester, thence 3 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham to Worcester, &c., 74 miles. —Money orders issued at Worcester: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 8 a.m.: post closes 6½ p.m. —The parochial charities produce about £8 a year. —The living (St. Leonard), a perpetual curacy in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Worcester, is valued at £5. 16s. 8d.: patron, Rev. R. Berkeley: pres. incumbent, J. R. Berkeley, 1841: contains 1,900 acres: 44 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 228: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>y</sup> £2,751: poor rates in 1838, £188. 10s. —Cotheridge Court is the seat of the Rev. Richard Berkeley, rector of Great Horwood, Bucks. It is a modern erection, on a slight elevation, but assimilates with the surrounding scenery, which is laid out in the antique style. There is a splendid avenue of trees, nearly a mile in length, and the grounds are intersected by the picturesque stream of the Teme. The Rev. Richard Berkeley is a member of the family that traces its descent from William Berkeley, Esq. of Cotheridge, who died in 1658, leaving a son, Sir Rowland Berkeley, Knt., who succeeded him. He was succeeded by his grandson, Rowland Green, Esq., who assumed the surname of Berkeley. At the death of his great-grandson, the Rev. Henry Rowland Berkeley, D.C.L., a fellow of Winchester College, who died in 1832, the estates passed to his nephew, the Rev. Richard Tomkyns, who assumed the surname and arms of Berkeley.

COTHERSTON, NORTH RIDING, YORK, a township in the parish of Romald-Kirk, on the river Tees—(which see for access, &c.): 250 miles from London, 4 from Barnard-Castle, 3 from Bowes. —Money orders issued at Darlington: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. at noon: post closes 1 p.m. —Contains 8,120 acres: 123 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 566: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 651: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>y</sup> £9,129: poor rates in 1838, £141. The tithes were commuted in 1839.

COTLEIGH, DEVON, a parish in the hund<sup>d</sup> of Colyton, union of Honiton: 195 miles from London (coach road 153), 3 from Honiton, 6 from Axminster. —Gt. West. Rail. through Bristol to Collumpton, thence 14 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Bristol to Collumpton, &c., 208 miles. —Money orders issued at Honiton: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 5½ p.m. —The living, a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Exeter, is valued at £9: pres. net income, £229: patron, Rev Wm. Michell, 1827: contains 1,040 acres: 47 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 269: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £1,838: poor rates in 1838, £94. 18s.

COTNESS, EAST RIDING, YORK, a township in the parish of Howden —(which see for access, &c.): 176 miles from London, 5 from Howden, 9 from Thorne. —Money orders issued at Howden: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9½ a.m.: post closes 4½ p.m. —Contains 240 acres: 6 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 38: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £1,060: poor rates in 1838, £21. 11s.

COTON, CAMBRIDGE, a parish in the hund<sup>d</sup> of Wetherley, union of Chesterton: 60 miles from London (coach road 48), 3 from Cambridge, 14 from Huntingdon. —Nor. and East. Co<sup>r</sup> Rail. to Cambridge, thence 3 miles: from Derby, through Syston and Peterborough to Cambridge, &c., 129 miles. —Money orders issued at Cambridge: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8½ a.m.: post closes 9 p.m. —The charities produce about £37 a year. —The living (St. Peter), a disch<sup>d</sup> rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Ely, is valued at £6. 12s. 11d.: pres. net income, £213: patron, Catherine Hall, Cambridge: pres. incumbent, S. S. Rusby, 1827: contains 1,180 acres: 80 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 307: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 353: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £1,072: poor rates in 1838, £76. 6s. Tithes commuted in 1799.

COTON. See CROFREY.

COTON, STAFFORD, a township in the parish of Hanbury, on the southern bank of the Dove —(which see for access, &c.): 145 miles from London, 7 from Uttoxeter, 7 from Cheadle. —Money orders issued at Uttoxeter: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 11 a.m.: post closes 4½ p.m. —Contains 770 acres: 6 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 64. —(Other returns with the parish.)

COTON. See HORTON WITH COTON.

COTON-IN-THE-ELMS, DERBY, a township in the parish of Lullington —(which see for access, &c.): 119 miles from London, 5 from Burton, 6 from Ashby-de-la-Zouch. —Money orders issued at Burton-on-Trent: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9½ a.m.: post closes 7 p.m. —Contains 58 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 351: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 403: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £2,255: poor rates in 1838, £102. 15s.

COTON-CLAY. See COATON-CLAY.

COTTENHAM, CAMBRIDGE, a parish in the hund<sup>d</sup> and union of Chesterton: 64 miles from London (coach road 58), 7 from Cambridge, 13 from Ely. —Nor. and East. Co<sup>r</sup> Rail. to Cambridge, thence 7 miles: from Derby, through Syston and Peterborough to Cambridge, &c., 183 miles. —Money orders issued at Cambridge: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 4 p.m. —This village is situated near a branch of the old Ouse, which joins the river Cam, near Streatham. The dairies in this parish and the neighbourhood adjacent, are famous for excellent cheeses, the pasture-land near the Ouse being remarkably rich, having formerly been much subject to inundations, an evil which has latterly been in a great measure prevented. It was to this place, in 1109, that Geoffrey, abbot of Crowland, sent his monks, who established the public lectures to students, from which, afterwards, arose an academical course of education at Cambridge. In 1676, a conflagration destroyed two-thirds of the village. The Baptists have two chapels here. There is a free school here, founded and endowed by Catherine Pepys in 1703, which was afterwards further benefited by other donations. The income is about £48 a year, and there is a school-house, built for it in 1634, out of the funds of Moreton's charity, half of which, amounting to £148. 10s., is applied to various charitable purposes in this parish. There are other munificent charities, distributed among the poor in donations of from £1 to £10, and with which several children are apprenticed. Cottenham was the birth-place of Thomas Teanison, Archbishop of Canterbury, who was born in 1636. He was presented by Charles II. with the vicarage of St. Martin's-in-the-Fields, London, where he founded a parochial school and library: he was made Bishop of Lincoln, and afterwards promoted to the see of Canterbury. He placed the crown on the heads both of Queen Anne and of George I., and died in December, 1715, aged seventy-nine. He wrote several theological works of great merit. One of the most distinguished of the rectors of this parish was Dr. John Fitzwilliam, who filled the incumbency from 1674 to 1691, and who was the intimate friend and correspondent of Lady Rachel Russell, widow of Lord William Russell. Cottenham is also celebrated as the title-place of Lord Cottenham, the present Lord High Chancellor of England, who is a descendant of the ancient family of Pepys, originally seated at Dies, in Norfolk, and which is represented to have settled at Cottenham, Cambridge, in the early part of the 16th century. The earliest ancestor of whom we have any record, is William Pepys of Cottenham, father of John Pepys, who married Edith, daughter and heir of Sir Edmund Talbot. His eldest son, John Pepys, Esq., had four sons, the youngest of whom, Samuel, died in 1665, and was the grandfather of Samuel Pepys, secretary of the Admiralty under Charles II. and James II. On the accession of William and Mary, he resigned his secretaryship of the Admiralty, which he had enjoyed in the two previous reigns, and published his memoirs relating to the navy. He was well informed in history, painting, &c., so much so, indeed, that in 1684 he was elected president of the Royal Society. He is, however, best known as the author of the Diary lately published, which affords a curious and interesting picture of the court, and the manners and customs of the people in the time of Charles II. Mr. Pepys died at the close of the 17th century. From him, in direct line, descended Charles Christopher Pepys, D.C.L., now Baron Cottenham of Cottenham, who was appointed solicitor-general in 1830, attorney-general in 1833, master of the Rolls in 1834, lord high-commissioner of the Great Seal in 1835, and lord high chancellor of England in 1836 and 1846, having risen through every grade of honour till he has attained the summit of his profession, respected by all parties in the state for the profundity of his learning, and the dignity of his character.---The living (All Saints), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Ely, is valued at £36. 15s.: pres. net income, £770: patron, Bishop of Ely: pres. incumbent, John Frere, 1839: contains 7,037 acres: 229 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,833: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 2,108: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>y</sup> £7,767: poor rates in 1838, £509. 17s.

COTTERED (HARTFORD), a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Odsey, union of Buntingford: 40 miles from London (coach road 84), 3 from Buntingford, 8 from Royston.---Gt. Nor. Rail. to Stevenage, thence 8 miles: from Derby, through London, &c., 172 miles.---Money orders issued at Buntingford: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 8½ p.m.---There are schools here, endowed by Mr. H. Soames with £40 per annum. The other charities produce about £72 a year, £56 of which are applied to parochial purposes, and the rest is expended in clothing and other necessities for the poor.---The living (St. Mary), a rectory in the diocese of Rochester, is valued at £20. 8s. 6½d.: pres. net income, £348: patron, W. Brown, Esq.: pres. incumbent, John Walker, 1806: contains 1,760 acres: 94 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 465: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 534: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>y</sup> £2,480: poor rates in 1838, £159. 14s. Tithes commuted in 1806.

COTTERSTOCK, NORTHAMPTON, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Wilbybrook, union of Oundle, on the river Nen: 99 miles from London (coach road 80), 2 from Oundle, 4 from Kingcliffe.---Nor. West. Rail. through Blisworth and Northampton to Oundle, thence 2 miles: from Derby, through Weedon, &c., 111 miles.---Money orders issued at Oundle: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 7½ a.m.: post closes 9 p.m.---The annual rent-charge of Belamy's charity in this parish is £28, of which £8 are applied to the sustenance of two poor scholarships at Cambridge; the rest is applied to the apprenticing of children, and the general relief of the poor. It was at Cotterstock Hall, now the residence of the Dowager Countess of Westmoreland, that Dryden wrote his fables, and spent the two last summers of his life. Several tessellated pavements have been discovered in the neighbourhood.---The living (St. Andrew), a disch<sup>d</sup> vicarage with that of Glapthorne, in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Northampton, and diocese of Peterborough, is valued at £37. 19s.: pres. net income, £91: patron, Earl of Westmoreland: pres. incumbent, A. Macdonall, 1831: contains 690 acres: 37 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 204: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>y</sup> £1,199: poor rates in 1838, £30. 9s. Tithes commuted in 1813.

COTTESBATCH, LEICESTER, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Guthlaxton, union of Lutterworth: 87 miles from London (coach road 88), 2 from Lutterworth, 14 from Market-Harborough.---Nor. West. Rail. to Rugby, thence 7 miles: from Derby, through Rugby, Uilesthorpe, &c., 55 miles.---Money orders issued at Lutterworth: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 7½ a.m.: post closes 8 p.m.---The living (St. Mary) is a rectory, in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Leicester, formerly in the diocese of Lincoln, now in the diocese of Peterborough: pres. net income, £293:

patron and pres. incumbent, Rev. J. P. Marriott, 1844: contains 1,220 acres: 21 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 82: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>y</sup> £2,210: poor rates in 1849, £57.

COTTESBROOK, NORTHAMPTON, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Gillsborough, union of Brixworth: 76 miles from London (coach road 75), 9 from Northampton, 9 from Market-Harborough.---Nor. West. Rail. through Blisworth to Northampton, thence 9 miles: from Derby, through Weedon to Northampton, &c., 88 miles.---Money orders issued at Northampton: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9½ a.m.: post closes 7½ p.m.---An hospital was established here in 1665, by Mr. John Langham, for two men and six women, the revenues of which amount to about £53 a year. The other charities produce about £7 per annum.---The living (All Saints), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Northampton, diocese of Peterborough, is valued at £26. 0s. 10d.: pres. net income, £646. 12s.: patron, Sir J. Langham: pres. incumbent, Hon. P. A. Irby, 1814: contains 2,747 acres: 51 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 252: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>y</sup> £5,810: poor rates in 1838, £259. 16s.---Cottesbrook Park is the seat of Sir James Hay Langham, Bart. The mansion is a fine building, erected in 1712, consisting of a body and two detached wings. The family of Sir James derives its descent from William, the son of Henry de Langham, who, in the reign of Edward I., held three carucates of land in Langham, Rutland, and one of the family was Archbishop of Canterbury in the time of Wickliffe. From him descended Sir John Langham, Knt., alderman and sheriff of London in 1642, who was twice committed to the Tower, with the lord mayor and other aldermen, for his refusal to publish an act for the abolition of royalty, for which, however, he was rewarded at the Restoration, by being created a baronet, having refused a peerage, saying, "it was too high a title for a humble citizen like himself," and accepted the baronetage only. Sir John became possessed of great wealth as a Turkey merchant, and, in 1654, represented London in parliament, and afterwards, in 1660, sat for the borough of Southwark. His son, Sir William of Walgrave, was sheriff of Northamptonshire in 1672, and M.P. for the same county. His grandson, Sir John, gave £6,000 to the corporation of London to found a society for the relief of distressed soldiers and sailors, and their families, who, dying without issue in 1766, was succeeded by his nephew, Sir James, whose grandson, Sir William Henry, dying unmarried, in May, 1812, the title reverted to his uncle, Sir James, who was succeeded by his son, the present, as eleventh baronet, in 1833.

COTTESFORD, OXFORD, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Ploughley, union of Bicester: 83 miles from London (coach road 68), 6 from Bicester, 8 from Dreddington.---Gt. West. Rail. through Oxford to Somerton, thence 5 miles: from Derby, through Rugby and Banbury to Somerton, &c., 85 miles.---Money orders issued at Bicester: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8½ a.m.: post closes 6 p.m.---The living (St. Mary), a disch<sup>d</sup> rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Oxford, is valued at £6. 13s. 4d.: pres. net income, £344: patron, Eton College: pres. incumbent, F. Hodgson, 1842: contains 1,520 acres: 30 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841,

187: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,374: poor rates in 1838, £72. 7s.

COTTESMORE, RUTLAND, a parish in the hund<sup>d</sup> of Alstoe, union of Oakham: it includes the hamlet of Barrow: 132 miles from London (coach road 97), 11 from Stamford, 4 from Oakham.---Nor. and East. Co<sup>r</sup> Rail. through Peterborough and Oakham to Ashwell station, thence 2½ miles: from Derby, through Syston to Oakham, &c., 60 miles.---Money orders issued at Oakham: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 10 a.m.: post closes 4 p.m.---Cottesmore has been celebrated for its hunting establishment for more than 120 years. This fine country has been hunted by the late Earl of Lonsdale, Sir Richard Sutton, and now by Henley George Graves, Esq. (a subscription pack), who resides at Cottesmore Park, an ancient but modernized building. In the reign of John, the Earl of Warwick was lord of the manor. Afterwards it passed to the Beauchamps, Durants (who built the mansion), Harringtons, Crookes, Heath, Fanshawe, the heiress of the latter of whom carried it in marriage to the Gainsborough family, the present possessors. The church (St. Nicholas) is a fine Gothic structure. There are National, Sunday, and Infant schools here. Lady Harrington's charity (1614), Durant's charity (1593), and Byrch's (1580), are annually distributed.---The living, a rectory, with the curacy of Barrow, in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Peterborough, is valued at £25. 16s. 1d.: pres. net income, £928: patron, Earl of Gainsborough: pres. incumbent, A. G. Stuart, 1844: contains 3,435 acres: 121 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 670: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 770: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £4,684: poor rates in 1838, £94. 12s. The tithes were commuted in 1802.---Richard Westbrook Baker, Esq., has an excellent residence here. He is descended from a northern family of property (Bakere), and settled about the year 1650, at or near Ailesbury, Bucks, when most of them became the followers of the famous George Fox the Quaker, when William and Richard Baker suffered imprisonment by order of Cromwell. Of the Ailesbury branch of this family was William Baker, Esq. of Waltham Abbey, who died in 1727; Francis Baker, who died at Ware in 1741; William Baker, M.D., who died in 1789; and Richard Baker, who died in 1816, of whom Richard Westbrook Baker is the second son. In 1830 and following years, Mr. Baker established the small allotment system in various parts of the county, which has been submitted to an annual examination, and prizes awarded, with unprecedented success for twenty years. He may be considered as the founder of the Rutland Friendly Society, now numbering 460 members, and possessing an available fund of £1,644. He also established and carried on public ploughing meetings for twenty years, affording 1,055 trials, and distributing £818 in prizes; and at the 20th anniversary, in 1847, was presented with a silver plough, being the model of the Rutland plough, invented by himself, and now in general use. Mr. Baker is a life-governor of the Royal Agricultural Society of England, life-member of the Smithfield Club, a vice-president of the Rutland Agricultural Society, was high sheriff of the county in 1842-3, and is a commissioner of Land Tax, &c.

VOL. I.

COTTINGHAM, NORTHAMPTON, a parish in the hund<sup>d</sup> of Corby, union of Kettering, south of the river Welland: it includes the township of Middleton: 105 miles from London (coach road 86); 2 from Rockingham, 7 from Rothwell.---Nor. West. Rail. through Rugby to Market-Harborough, thence 7 miles: from Derby, through Rugby, &c., 72 miles.---Money orders issued at Rockingham: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 7½ a.m.: post closes 5½ p.m.---This village is large and pleasantly situated, containing several respectable dwelling-houses. Most of the land in this parish is used for the cultivation of vegetables and other horticultural produce, which is taken to the market at Hull, to which place also much milk and butter is conveyed from this neighbourhood. According to Leland, King John was entertained here by William d'Estoteville, or Stuteville, then sheriff of Yorkshire, who obtained from him, in the year 1200, permission to hold a market and fair, and to fortify and embattle his residence, Baynard Castle, which for centuries remained a splendid monument of feudal grandeur, but was burnt down in 1541, and the ramparts and ditches are now all that remain of it. In the reign of Edward II., Thomas Lord Wake here founded a monastery of Augustine canons, which, in 1324, was removed to the parochial liberty of Newton, or Howdenprice. At the dissolution, its revenue was estimated at £178. 0s. 10d. There are now no traces of it. The church was founded in 1272, by Nicholas de Stuteville, to whom there is an ancient tombstone in the chancel. It is a spacious handsome structure, with a light tower in the centre, and contains many interesting monuments, most of them to the family of Burton. The Independents and Wesleyan Methodists have chapels here. There are two breweries and a carpet manufactory. There is a free school, endowed with £20 per annum by Mark Kirby, in 1712, for the instruction of twenty children; and there are several minor charities for the relief of the poor. In 1819, twelve acres of land were assigned, by the parish officers, to twelve poor men, on each acre of which a cottage has been erected, for which they each pay 2s. annually, the proceeds being applied to the repair of the church. There are some intermittent springs adjoining the ancient road, near Keldgate, which sometimes flow copiously, after remaining for many years in a state of quiescence.---The living (St. Mary Magdalene), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Northampton, and diocese of Peterborough, is valued at £23. 7s. 3½d.: pres. net income, £426: patron, Brazenose College, Oxford: pres. incumbent, T. Clayton, 1815: contains 3,220 acres: 186 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,033: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,188: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £2,426: poor rates in 1837, £585. 1s.

COTTINGHAM, EAST RIDING, YORK, a parish in the Hunsley-Beacon division of the wapentake of Harthill, union of Sculcoates: it contains part of Willerby township: 212 miles from London (coach road 176), 4 from Hull, 5 from Beverley.---Nor. and East. Co<sup>r</sup> Rail. to Hull, thence 4 miles: from Derby, through Swinton to Hull, &c., 115 miles.---Money orders issued at Hull: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 8½ p.m.---The living (St. Mary the Virgin), a vicarage, with the perpetual curacy of Skidby and Newland, in the archd<sup>y</sup> of the East Riding and diocese of York, is valued at £42: pres. net income, £124: patron, Bishop of Chester: pres. incumbent, C. Overton: contains 8,530 acres: 550 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 2,618: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 2,493: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £24,261: poor rates in 1838, £1,815. Tithes commuted in 1791.

5 B

COTTINGWITH (EAST), EAST RIDING, YORK, a township in the parish of Aughton—(which see for access, &c.): 191 miles from London, 7 from York, 7 from Selby. Money orders issued at York: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 10 a.m.: post closes 8 p.m. Contains 1,140 acres: 67 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 308: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 354: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,249: poor rates in 1837, £24. 16s.

COTTINGWITH. See THORGAFFY WITH COTTINGWITH.

COTTLES, WILTS, an extra-parochial liberty, with Little Chalfield: 97 miles from London, 3 from Melksham, 6 from Bath. Money orders issued at Melksham: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 7½ p.m.

COTTON. See ALIENDALE.

COTTON, CHESTER, a township in the parish of Sandbach, on the southern bank of the river Dane—(which see for access, &c.): 168 miles from London, 3 from Middlewich, 7 from Northwich. Money orders issued at Middlewich: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 6½ p.m. Contains 350 acres: 15 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 101: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £498: poor rates in 1838, £40. 1s.

COTTON, SALOP, a township in the parish of Wem—(which see for access, &c.): 147 miles from London, 5 from Drayton, 9 from Wem. Money orders issued at Market-Drayton: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8½ a.m.: post closes 7 p.m. Contains 93 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 504: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 580.—(Other returns with the parish.)

COTTON, STAFFORD, a township in the parish of Alveton, in the vicinity of the Uttoxeter Canal—(which see for access, &c.): 150 miles from London, 5 from Cheadle, 8 from Leek. Money orders issued at Manchester: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 10 a.m.: post closes 4 p.m. The living is a perpetual curacy in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Stafford, and diocese of Lichfield and Coventry: pres. net income, £44: patron, T. Gilbert, Esq.: pres. incumbent, W. Hendrickson, 1841: contains 84 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 519: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 597: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,719: poor rates in 1838, £253. 13s.

COTTON, SUFFOLK, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> and union of Hartismere: 86 miles from London (coach road 86), 6 from Stowmarket, 7 from Bottesdale. East. Co<sup>r</sup>. Rail. to Stowmarket, thence 6 miles: from Derby, through London, &c., 217 miles. Money orders issued at Stowmarket: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9½ a.m.: post closes 7½ p.m. The living (St. Andrew), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Sudbury, and diocese of Norwich, is valued at £15. 10s. 2½d.: pres. net income, £355: patron, M. Turner, Esq.: pres. incumbent, M. Turner, 1847: contains 1,820 acres: 70 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 545: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 600: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £425: poor rates in 1838, £434. 11s.

COTTON (or COTTAM), EAST RIDING, YORK, a township in the parish of Langtoft—(which see for access, &c.): 5 miles from Great Driffield.

Money orders issued at Driffield: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 11½ a.m.: post closes 1 p.m. The living is a perpetual curacy, a peculiar of the prebendary of Langtoft, in the diocese of York, and having jointly a pres. net income of £354: patron, Archbishop of York: pres. incumbent, E. Truman, 1827: contains 2,760 acres: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 41: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,417.

COTTON, NORTH RIDING, YORK, a township in the parish of Hovingham—(which see for access, &c.): 8 miles from Helmsley. Money orders issued at York: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 1 p.m.: post closes at noon. Contains 930 acres: 25 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 158: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £918: poor rates in 1838, £22. 12s.

COTTON-ABBOTS, CHESTER, a township in the parish of Christleton—(which see for access, &c.): 179 miles from London, 4 from Chester, 6 from Tarporley. Money orders issued at Chester: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 7 p.m. Contains 290 acres: 2 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 15: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £540: poor rates in 1838, £25. 14s.

COTTON-EDMUNDS, CHESTER, a township in the parish of Christleton: 180 miles from London. (For access and postal arrangements, see above.) Contains 430 acres: 13 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 77: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £836: poor rates in 1838, £33. 4s.

COTTON-END, BEDFORD, a hamlet in the parish of Cardington—(which see for access, &c.): 46 miles from London, 4 from Bedford, 6 from Shefford. Money orders issued at Bedford: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 8½ p.m.

COUGHALL (or CONGHALL), CHESTER, a township in the parish of Backford—(which see for access, &c.): 181 miles from London, 3 from Chester, 8 from Frodsham. Money orders issued at Chester: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 7 p.m. Contains 340 acres: 2 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 16: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £594: poor rates in 1838, £19. 14s.

COUGHTON, WARWICK, a parish in the Alcester division of the hun<sup>d</sup> of Barlichway, union of Alcester: it includes the hamlet of Sambourne: 105 miles from London, 2 from Alcester, 6 from Henley. (For access, &c., see ALCESTER.) Money orders issued at Alcester: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 4 p.m. The living (St. Peter), a disch<sup>d</sup> vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Worcester, is valued at £9. 10s. 7½d.: pres. net income, £161: patron, Sir R. Throckmorton, Bart.: pres. incumbent, Robert Tones, 1831: contains 3,070 acres: 187 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 956: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,098: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £4,653: poor rates in 1838, £291. 9s. The tithes were commuted in 1839. Coughton Court is the seat of Sir Robert George Throckmorton, Bart. It is a spacious and ancient mansion, originally built in a quadrangular form, which being found inconvenient, one side of it was taken down some years ago, and the house now commands a view of the diversified scenery in the neighbourhood, which is intersected by the windings of the river Arrow. The manor of Coughton came into the possession of the ancient family of Throckmorton by the marriage of one of that family with the daughter of William Spine, temp. Henry IV. According to Dugdale, John de Throckmorton possessed the manor of Throckmorton about sixty years after the Conquest. Under the Plantagenets and Tudors, many members of the family attained distinction. During the religious troubles subsequently, Thomas Throckmorton, Esq., the then head of the family, passed his life in one series of difficulties, in consequence of his opinions on religion, his estate being frequently sequestered, and his person sometimes imprisoned. His manor of Ravenstone he entirely lost. He was succeeded by his grandson, Robert Throckmorton, Esq., who was created a baronet in 1642, and whose son, Sir Francis, rebuilt the mansion-house at Coughton. Sir George, the sixth baronet, in 1792, assumed the additional surname and arms of Courtenay, when he inherited, through his mother, the estates of the Courtenays of Molland, in Devonshire; but dying without issue, the title devolved upon his brother, Sir Charles; who also dying without issue in 1840, the title devolved on his nephew, Sir Robert George Throckmorton, the present baronet.

COULDSNOUTH AND THOMPSON'S WALLS, NORTHUMBERLAND, a township in the parish of Kirknewton, east of the river Beaumont—(which see for access, &c.): 8 from Wooler. Money orders issued at Belford: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 4 p.m.: post closes 9 p.m.—Contains 7 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 38: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £643: poor rates in 1838, £8. 19s.

COULDSON, SURREY, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Wallington, union of Croydon: 15 miles from London (coach road 14), 5 from Croydon, 6 from Ryegate. Croydon Rail. to Croydon, thence 5 miles: from Derby, through London, &c., 147 miles. Money orders issued at Croydon: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> once each way daily. The parochial charities produce about £13 a year. The living (St. John the Evangelist), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Surrey, and diocese of Winchester, is valued at £21. 16s. 5d.: pres. net income, £636: patron, Archbishop of Canterbury: pres. incumbent, G. Randolph, 1841: contains 4,200 acres: 105 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,041: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,750: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> in 1838, £3,837: poor rates in 1838, £689. 12s. The gentlemen's seats in this parish are those of, Thomas Byron, Esq., Hartley, at present occupied by Thomas F. Marson, Esq.; and Purley Lodge, the residence of Tanqueray Willaume, Esq.

COULSTON (EAST), WILTS, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Whorwelsdown, union of Westbury and Whorwelsdown: 116 miles from London (coach road 93), 6 from Westbury, 5 from Devizes. Gt. West. Rail. through Chippenham to Westbury, thence 5 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Bristol to Westbury, &c., 176 miles. Money orders issued at Shrewsbury: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9½ a.m.: post closes 5 p.m.—The living (St. Thomas à Becket), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Wilts, and diocese of Sarum, is valued at £7. 14s. 2d.: pres. net income, £168: patron, Lord Chancellor: pres. incumbent, J. C. Clapp, 1824: contains 868 acres: 18 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 105: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £958. 12s. 10d.: poor rates in 1848, £82. 16s. 5d.

COULSTON (WEST) AND BAYNTUN. See EDINGTON.

COULTON, LANCASTER, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Lonsdale, union of Ulverston: 256 miles from London (coach road 267), 14 from Milnthorpe, 5 from Ulverston. Nor. West. Rail. through Crewe and Lancaster to Milnthorpe, thence 13 miles: from Derby, through Crewe, &c., 156 miles. Money orders issued at Milnthorpe: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 11½ a.m.: post closes 6½ p.m.—There are three chapels of ease in this parish, besides a meeting-house for the Society of Friends. There is a school here, endowed with £62 a year. The other parochial charities produce about £20 per annum. The living (Holy Trinity), a perpetual curacy in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Richmond, and diocese of Chester, is valued at £18. 6s. 8d.: pres. net income, £84: patron, the Landowners: pres. incumbent, S. T. Clarke, 1848: contains 13,330 acres: 313 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,983: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,726: poor rates in 1838, £764. 12s.

COUND, SALOP, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Condover, union of Atcham: it includes the chapelry of Cressage: 158 miles from London (coach road 147), 6 from Shrewsbury, 8 from Wellington. Nor. West. Rail. through Stafford to Shrewsbury, thence 6 miles: from Derby, through Burton and Stafford to Shrewsbury, &c., 78 miles. Money orders issued at Shrewsbury: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9½ a.m.: post closes 4 p.m.—The parochial charities produce about £12. 8s. a year. The living (St. Peter), a rectory, with the curacy of Cressage, in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Salop, and diocese of Lichfield, is valued at £89: pres. net income, £906: patron, Mrs. F. Thursby: pres. incumbent, H. Thursby, 1839: contains 5,890 acres: 147 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 808: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 929: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £5,972: poor rates in 1838, £260. 9s. Cound Hall is the residence of Mrs. Thursby.

COUNDON, DURHAM, a township in the parish of St. Andrew-Auckland—(which see for access, &c.): 250 miles from London, 2 from Bishop's Auckland, 8 from Sedgfield. Money orders issued at Bishop's Auckland: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 10 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m.—The living is a perpetual curacy in the diocese of Durham: pres. net income, £250: patron, Bishop of Durham: pres. incumbent, C. Duberly, 1844: contains 680 acres: 84 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 990: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,188: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,076: poor rates in 1837, £97. 16s.

COUNDON-GRANGE, DURHAM, a township in the parish of St. Andrew-Auckland—(which see for access, &c.): 248 miles from London. Contains 630 acres: 9 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 313: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 360: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £637: poor rates in 1838, £12. 8s.

COUNDON, WARWICK, a hamlet in the parish of Holy Trinity—(which see for access, &c.): 92 miles from London, 1 from Coventry, 6 from Bedworth. Money orders issued at Coventry: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 7½ a.m.: post closes 9 p.m.—Contains 880 acres: 43 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 181: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £2,043: poor rates in 1838, £58. 16s.

COUNTESBURY, DEVON, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Shirwell, union of Barnstaple, on the Bristol Channel: 198 miles from London (coach road 186), 15 from Ilfracombe, 15 from Barnstaple. Gt.

West. Rail. through Bristol to Taunton, thence 35 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Bristol to Taunton, &c., 212 miles. Money orders issued at Lynton: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 11 a.m.: post closes 1 p.m. The living (St. John the Baptist), a perpetual curacy, conjoined with that of Lynton, in the diocese of Exeter, and having jointly a pres. net income of £120: patron, Archdeacon of Barnstaple: pres. incumbent, Matthew Mundy, 1832: contains 3,290 acres: 31 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 185: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £639: poor rates in 1838, £45. 9s. Tithes commuted in 1839. Glenthorne is the seat of the Rev. W. S. Halliday, the principal proprietor of the parish. The mansion is placed in a singularly picturesque glen, overlooking the ocean, on an eminence of about 80 feet above the sea, with hills at the back rising to the height of 1,300 feet.

COUNTSTHORPE, LEICESTER, a chapelry in the parish of Blaby, on a branch of the river Soar (which see for access, &c.): 90 miles from London, 6 from Leicester, 2 from Blaby. Money orders issued at Leicester: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 9 a.m.: post closes 8½ p.m. The only charities belonging to the parish consist of various buildings, left by Mr. Edward Stokes in 1753, for the convenience of the rector, curate, and other persons connected with the parish. The living is a curacy, annexed to the rectory of Blaby, in the diocese of Peterborough: contains 1,920 acres: 167 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 815: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 937: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £2,291: poor rates in 1837, £461. 11s. The tithes were commuted in 1776.

COUNTHORPE, LINCOLN, a hamlet in the parish of Bytham-Castle, on the river Glen—(which see for access, &c.): 103 miles from London, 9 from Bourne, 10 from Folkingham. Money orders issued at Bourne: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 9½ a.m.: post closes 6 p.m. Contains 1,450 acres: 10 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 85: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £989: poor rates in 1838, £57. 16s.

COUPE-LENCHE-NEWHALLHEY, AND HALLCARR, LANCASTER, a township in the parish of Bury, east of the river Irwell—(which see for access, &c.): 202 miles from London, 7 from Bury, 4 from Haslingden. Money orders issued at Bury: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 11½ a.m.: post closes 6 p.m. Contains 1,260 acres: 263 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,716: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,973: poor rates in 1838, £250. 11s.

COUPLAND, NORTHUMBRIA, a township in the parish of Kirknewton, on the northern bank of the river Glen—(which see for access, &c.): 316 miles from London, 4 from Wooler, 12 from Belford. Money orders issued at Belford: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 3 p.m.: post closes 7½ p.m. Contains 16 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 109: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,290: poor rates in 1837, £37. 16s.

COURTEENHALL, NORTHAMPTON, a parish in the hund<sup>d</sup> of Wymersley, union of Hardingstone: 72 miles from London (coach road 61), 6 from Northampton, 5 from Towcester. Nor. West. Rail. through Blisworth to Northampton, thence 5 miles: from Derby, through Weedon to Northampton, &c., 84 miles. Money orders issued at Northampton: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 8½ a.m.: post closes 8½ p.m. There is an endowed school here, free to boys from any parish within four miles of Courteenhall. The living (St. Peter and St. Paul), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Northampton, and diocese of Peterborough, is valued at £12. 10s. 10d.: pres. net income, £305: patron, Lord Chancellor: pres. incumbent, R. W. Wake: contains 1,510 acres: 26 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 143: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £2,363: poor rates in 1838, £103. 13s. Courteenhall House.

COVE, HANTS, a tithing in the parish of Yatley—(which see for access, &c.): 35 miles from London, 7 from Odibam, 4 from Yatley. Money orders issued at Bagshot: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 9 a.m.: post closes 4½ p.m. The living is a propriety, a district for the church having been taken out of Yatley, in the diocese of Winchester: patron, Bishop of Winchester: pres. incumbent, John Lawrell, 1845: contains 178 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 433: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 884: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,194: poor rates in 1838, £179. 3s.

COVE (NORTH), SUFFOLK, a parish in the hund<sup>d</sup> and union of Wangford, south of the river Waveney: 139 miles from London (coach road 110), 3 from Beccles, 9 from Bungay. East. Co<sup>r</sup> Rail. through Norwich to Lowestoft, thence 4 miles: from Derby, through Syston, Peterborough, and Norwich, to Lowestoft, &c., 193 miles. Money orders issued at Beccles: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 8 a.m.: post closes 4½ p.m. The parochial charities produce about £4. 10s. per annum. The living (St. Botolph), a disch<sup>d</sup> rectory, with that of Willingham, in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Suffolk, and diocese of Norwich, is valued at £10: pres. net income, £353: patron, Lord Chancellor: pres. incumbent, R. Gooch, 1810: contains 1,910 acres: 47 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 219: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,074: poor rates in 1838, £96. 3s. N., Cove Hall.

COVE (SOUTH), SUFFOLK, a parish in the hund<sup>d</sup> and union of Blything: 104 miles from London, 4 from Southwold, 8 from Beccles. (For access, &c., see preceding article.) Money orders issued at Wangford: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 8 a.m.: post closes 4½ p.m. The parochial charities produce about £13. 13s. per annum. The living (St. Lawrence), a disch<sup>d</sup> rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Suffolk, diocese of Norwich, is valued at £6. 2s. 11d.: pres. net income, £274: patron, Sir T. Gooch, Bart.: pres. incumbent, C. J. Gooch, 1828: contains 1,520 acres: 25 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 194: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £814: poor rates in 1837, £136. 9d.

COVE-HYTHE (or NORTH HALES), SUFFOLK, a parish in the hund<sup>d</sup> and union of Blything: 143 miles from London (coach road 110), 8 from Lowestoft, 5 from Southwold. East. Co<sup>r</sup> Rail. through Norwich to Lowestoft, thence 8 miles: from Derby, through Syston, Peterborough, and Norwich, &c., 197 miles. Money orders issued at Lowestoft: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 10 a.m.: post closes 3½ p.m. The parochial charities produce about £27. 10s. a year. The living is a disch<sup>d</sup> vicarage, annexed to the rectory of Benacre. Contains 1,900 acres: 22 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 186: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £808: poor rates in 1838, £96. 8s.

COVEN. See BREWOOD.

COVENEY, CAMBRIDGE, a parish and township in the south division of the hund<sup>d</sup> of Witchford, union of Ely: it includes the chapelry of Mania: 75 miles from London (coach road 69), 3 from Ely, 11 from St. Ives.---Nor. and East. Co<sup>h</sup> Rail. to Ely, thence 3 miles: from Derby, through Syston and Peterborough to Ely, &c., 115 miles.---Money orders issued at Ely: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 8 p.m.---The charities of this parish produce £45. 6s. per annum, besides which there are six tenements inhabited by poor families.---The living (St. Peter), a rectory, with the curacy of Mania, in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Ely, is valued at £5: pres. net income, £809: pres. incumbent, Robert Evans, 1847: contains 8,420 acres: 204 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,523: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,751: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £9,670: poor rates in 1838, £246. 9s.

COVENHAM, LINCOLN, a parish in the wapentake of Ludborough, parts of Lindsey, union of Louth: 177 miles from London (coach road 153), 5 from Louth, 15 from Great Grimsby.---Nor. and East. Co<sup>h</sup> Rail. through Peterborough to Louth, thence 5 miles: from Derby, through Lincoln and Boston to Louth, &c., 181 miles.---Money orders issued at Louth: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 10½ a.m.: post closes 6½ p.m.---The living (St. Bartholomew), a disch<sup>d</sup> rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Lincoln, is valued at £17. 12s. 8d.: pres. net income, £287: patron, Heirs of S. Harrold, Esq.: pres. incumbent, J. Mossop, 1830: contains 1,340 acres: 44 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 277: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £1,424: poor rates in 1838, £112. 6s. The tithes were commuted in 1793.

COVENHAM (St. Mary), LINCOLN, a parish in the wapentake of Ludborough, parts of Lindsey, union of Louth: 154 miles from London.---(For access and postal arrangements, see above.)---The living (St. Mary), a disch<sup>d</sup> rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Lincoln, is valued at £10: pres. net income, £197: patron, Lord Chancellor: pres. incumbent, J. E. Rudd, 1848: contains 950 acres: 25 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 169: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £1,032: poor rates in 1838, £78. 18s. The tithes were commuted in 1793.

COVENTRY, WARWICK, a city and county of itself, locally situated in the above county: 89 miles from London (coach road 91), 10 from Warwick.---Nor. West. Rail. through Rugby to Coventry station: from Derby, through Rugby to Coventry station, 57 miles.---Money orders issued here: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 7 a.m. and 2 p.m.: post closes 9 a.m. and 10 p.m.---The city of Coventry is of very remote antiquity, as its final syllable is derived from the British word tre, a town. In early history, and ancient records, it was generally written Conventre, Conventrey, or Conventria, probably from a monastery founded there at a very early period. The more ancient town is supposed to have been situated to the north of the present city, from the spacious foundations that have been traced in that direction. Coventry is agreeably situated on a rising ground, with the river Shirburn and the Radford brook flowing at its north-east, and running from north to south, uniting within the town, while the scenery in the neighbourhood is very pleasingly diversified. According to Leland, King Canute founded a nunnery here; and the next notice we have of the place, is the celebrated legend of Godiva, which arose out of the way in which the citizens obtained relief from the tolls and services due to

Earl Leofric (who lived in the time of Edward the Confessor, and was fifth Earl of Mercia), and which, at this time, sensibly affected their welfare. It is thus related by Sir William Dugdale:—*The Countess Godiva, bearing an extraordinary affection to this place, often and earnestly besought her husband, that for the love of God and the Blessed Virgin he would free it from that grievous servitude wherewith it was subject; but he, rebuking her for importuning him in a manner so inconsistent with his profit, commanded that she should henceforth forbear to move therein; yet she, out of her womanish pertinacity, continued to solicit him, insomuch that he told her if she would ride on horseback naked, from one end of the town to the other, in the sight of all the people, he would grant her request. Whereunto she returned, But will you give me leave so to do? and he replying Yes; the noble lady, upon an appointed day, got on horseback naked, with her hair loose, so that it covered all her body but the legs, and thus performing the journey, returned with joy to her husband, who thereupon granted to the inhabitants a charter of freedom. Rapin further says—that the Countess, previous to her riding, commanded all persons to keep within doors, and from their windows, on pain of death; but, notwithstanding this severe penalty, there was one person who could not forbear giving a look, out of curiosity; but it cost him his life. Whether the above legend be true or not, it is certain that Coventry owed much of its early importance to the Countess and her husband. Soon after the Norman Conquest, the lordship of Coventry became vested in the Earls of Chester, by the marriage of Ralph, Earl of Chester, with Lucia, granddaughter of Leofric. In 1355, the erection of the city walls was commenced. Extending for three miles in diameter, they were thick and lofty, strengthened with thirty-two towers, and had twelve principal gates. In 1404, Henry IV. held a parliament in the great chamber of the priory here, which, from the exclusion of all lawyers, was called Parliamentum Indoctorum. Henry VI., in 1451, granted the town a charter, erecting it into a county by itself, separate from Warwickshire, by the name of the City and County of the City of Coventry. That monarch and his queen frequently visited it, and in 1459 held a parliament in it, called by the Yorkists Parliamentum Diabolicum, from the number of attainders passed in it against the Duke of York and his adherents; but all the acts of it were afterwards annulled. During the wars of the Roses, Edward imposed a fine of 500 marks upon the city. Henry VII., on his return from the field of Bosworth, was received with congratulation by the inhabitants; and in his reign the city contributed £1,100 towards the expedition into France in 1490. At the dissolution, Coventry suffered considerably from the destruction of its monastic establishments. During the parliamentary war, Charles I. having taken Leicester, sent orders to the mayor and sheriffs of Coventry, upon which he had levied £266 for ship-money, to attend him there. Most of the inhabitants, however, embraced the cause of the parliament, and held the town for Lord Brooke, even women assisting in its defence, being employed to fill up the quarries in the park, in order that they might not shelter the royal troops; they were assembled by beat* of drum, and marched to work in military order. In 1662, the king sent against it the Earl of Northampton, with many of the neighbouring gentry; and for three weeks and three days, nearly 500 men were employed in the work of destruction, which was so effectually performed that only a few fragments of the fortifications remained. The ecclesiastical history of Coventry commences shortly after the Mercian kingdom was divided into five bishoprics, when, in 1102, Robert de Limesie, bishop of Lichfield, removed the see from Chester to Coventry. His five successors also sat at Coventry, and styled themselves Coventrici Episcopi only. In 1188, Hugh Novant, archdeacon of Oxford, restored the see to Lichfield; but, in the time of Henry III., disputes having arisen between the sees of Coventry and Lichfield, certain regulations concerning the elections were made, and the prelate was styled Bishop of Coventry and Lichfield. In the reign of Henry VIII. it was ordained that the Dean and Chapter of Lichfield should be for ever the entire and sole chapter of the bishopric of Coventry and Lichfield. On the Restoration, when Hacket was appointed to this see, he made Lichfield take the precedence of Coventry; and so it has remained to this day. The town has lately been considerably improved, many of the old houses having been taken down, and rebuilt in a more modern style, while several new streets have been erected, which contain ranges of fine houses. Coventry is well paved, lighted with gas, and well supplied with water. In 1436 the principal trade was in cap-making; but the manufacture of woollen and broadcloths, afterwards established, continued to flourish until the end of the sixteenth century, when Coventry became famous for a superior permanent blue-dye, called Coventry true-blue. At the commencement of the eighteenth century, striped and mixed tammies, shalloons, &c., were the principal articles of manufacture, which, however, now consists chiefly of the weaving of ribbons, employing upwards of 16,000 persons. The watch manufacture, for which Coventry has long been famous, has lately been much improved. The commemoration of Lady Godiva's procession is sometimes revived; and a wooden figure, called Peeping Tom, placed in an opening at the corner of a house in High Street, is still preserved in memory of the event. There are three churches: that of St. Michael is a fine edifice. The steeple is lofty and well proportioned, and its height is exactly equal to the length of the church—300 feet. Trinity Church, a cruciform structure, with a square tower, surmounted by a lofty spire, contains a few monuments; one, with a Latin inscription, to the well-known Philemon Holland, who translated Camden's 'Britannia' with one pen, on which occasion he wrote the following lines:

With one sole pen I wrote this book,
Made of a grey goose quill;
A pen it was when I it took,
A pen I leave it still.

He was born at Chelmsford, was educated as a physician, and settled at Coventry early in life; but his later days were passed in poverty and dependence. St. John's Church is a cruciform stone building. This city was first incorporated by Edward III. in 1344, but is now divided into ten wards, and comprises thirteen fraternities or trading companies. Coventry first returned members to parliament in the reign of Edward I., and since the time of Henry VI. has returned two. It is a polling-place for the northern division of Warwickshire. There are quarterly courts of session, which are held on the last Friday in every month. They have power to try capital offenders, but it is always delegated to the judge on circuit. The mayor, recorder, and aldermen, are justices of the peace, with exclusive jurisdiction in the city and county of the city. The sessions and other courts are held in the County Hall, a handsome building with a stone façade, with a cornice in the centre. The larger meetings and civic entertainments are held in St. Mary's Hall, a beautiful and magnificent edifice, built in the fourteenth century, and subsequently enlarged and improved; it contains many interesting inscriptions and portraits. The Drapers' Hall, opened in 1832, is an elegant edifice. There is also a house of industry, anciently the White Friars' monastery, several parts of which are in good preservation. On the south of the city stood the monastery of Grey Friars, founded in 1234, and the church built in 1358. At the dissolution, the monastery and church were entirely destroyed, except the handsome steeple of the latter, to which the inhabitants have lately subscribed to erect a body. It was opened in 1832, and dedicated to Our Blessed Saviour. There are also the remains of Cheylesmore Castle, in which Earl Leofric resided; and some traces of the episcopal palace. The Baptists, Society of Friends, Independents, Wesleyan Methodists, Unitarians, and Roman Catholics, all have chapels here. The charities are ancient, numerous, and richly endowed, amounting altogether to about £10,360 per annum, including schools, one of them endowed by Sir John Hales, in the reign of Henry VIII., with £1,070. 9s. 10d., at which the famous antiquary, Dugdale, received his education,—hospitals, almshouses, and bequests for distribution among the poor, &c. At Allesley, about a mile distant, there is a petrifying spring. Coventry was the birth-place of the celebrated early historian, Walter of Coventry; of Humphrey Wanley, the antiquary; of Nehemia Grew, the botanist, and many other distinguished persons. Coventry gives the title of Earl to the family of the same name. Near Coventry is the seat of Sir Atwell King Lake, Bart., a descendant of Edward Lake, Esq., chancellor of the diocese of Lincoln, who, as a reward for his loyalty in the civil wars, was created a baronet, but no patent was at that time taken out. He died without issue in 1674, and was succeeded by his grand-nephew, Sir Bibye Lake, sub-governor of the African Company, who was created a baronet in 1711. From him descended Sir James Samuel, fifth baronet, who, dying in December, 1846, was succeeded by his son, Sir Atwell King Lake, of Edmonton, Middlesex, the present baronet.—Pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 10,664: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 12,263.—Market days, Wednesday and Friday. Fairs: March 1, May 2, Aug. 30, and Nov. 1, cattle; show fair in June.—Bankers: Little & Woodcock—draw on Smith, Payne, & Smith; Coventry Union Banking Co.—draw on Glynn, Halifax, & Co.; Coven-try and Warwickshire Banking Co.—draw on Jones, Loyd, & Co.—Inns: Castle, Craven Arms, and King's Head.

COVERHAM, NORTH RIDING, YORK, a parish in the west division of the wapentake of Hang, union of Leyburn: 257 miles from London (coach road 231), 2 from Middleham, 10 from Bedale.—Nor. West. Rail. through Rugby, Derby, York, and Northallerton, to Bedale, thence 7 miles: from Derby, through York, &c., 125 miles.—Money orders issued at Middleham: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 11 a.m.: post closes 2 p.m.—There is a school here, endowed with £23. 6s. 9d. per annum. The other charities produce about £66. 13s. a year.—The living (Holy Trinity) is a perpetual curacy, with that of Horsehouse, formerly in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Richmond, and diocese of Chester, now in the diocese of Ripon: pres. net income, £180: patron, Tomlinson family: pres. incumbent, G. C. Tomlinson, 1842: contains 22,120 acres: 231 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,254: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,442: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £7,154: poor rates in 1838, £564. 13s.

COVINGTON, HUNTINGDON, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Leightonstone, union of Thrapstone: 93 miles from London (coach road 67), 4 from Thrapstone, 3 from Kimbolton.—Nor. West. Rail. through Blisworth to Thrapstone, thence 4 miles: from Derby, through Weedon and Northampton, to Thrapstone, &c., 105 miles.—Money orders issued at Kimbolton: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 7 a.m.: post closes 7 p.m.—The living (All Saints), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Huntingdon, and diocese of Ely, is valued at £10. 0s. 8d.: patron, Earl Fitzwilliam: pres. incumbent, C. A. Binns, 1838: contains 1,290 acres: 28 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 142: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,535: poor rates in 1838, £92. 15s. Tithes commuted in 1801.

COW-HONEYBORNE, GLOUCESTER, a parish in the upper division of the hun<sup>d</sup> of Kiftgate, union of Evesham: 99 miles from London (coach road 95), 4 from Evesham, 16 from Tewkesbury.—Gt. West. Rail. through Oxford to Chipping-Camden, thence 4 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Worcester to Chipping-Camden, &c., 98 miles.—Money orders issued at Evesham: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 8 a.m.: post closes 4½ p.m.—The living is a curacy annexed to the vicarage of Church Honeybourn: contains 1,080 acres: 78 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 327: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 376: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,998: poor rates in 1838, £181. 15s. The tithes were commuted in 1801.

COWARNE (MUCH), HEREFORD, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Broxash, union of Bromyard: 136 miles from London (coach road 130), 5 from Bromyard, 10 from Hereford.—Gt. West. Rail. through Oxford to Worcester, thence 18 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham to Worcester, &c., 89 miles.—Money orders issued at Bromyard: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 9½ a.m.: post closes 3¼ p.m.—The spire of the church was destroyed by lightning in 1840, but the chancel escaped. The parochial charities comprise fifty-one threepenny loaves given annually to the poor.—The living is a disch<sup>d</sup> vicarage, in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Hereford, valued at £14. 19s. 7d.: patron, Bishop of Gloucester and Bristol: pres. incumbent, J. R. Berkeley, 1813: contains 2,970 acres: 108 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 557: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 640: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £4,240: poor rates in 1838, £282. 16s.

COWARNE (LITTLE), HEREFORD, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Broxash, union of Bromyard: 129 miles from London.—(For access and postal arrangements, see above.)—The living is a curacy to the rectory of Ullingswick: contains 830 acres: 38 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 187: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £739: poor rates in 1838, £30. 11s.

COWBIT, LANCASHIRE, a parish in the wapentake of Elloe, parts of Holland, union of Spalding, bounded on the west by the river Welland: 126 miles from London (coach road 95), 4 from Spalding, 8 from Holbeach.—Nor. and East. Co<sup>t</sup> Rail. through Peterborough to Spalding, thence 4 miles: from Derby, through Syston and Peterborough, &c., 86 miles.—Money orders issued at Spalding: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 8 a.m.: post closes 7 p.m.—The living (St. Mary), a perpetual curacy in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Lincoln, is valued at £39. 6s. 6d.: pres. net income, £460: patron, Certain Feoffees: pres. incumbent, John Steel, 1828: contains 4,590 acres: 104 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 664: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 763: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £2,668: poor rates in 1838, £47. 18s.

COWBRIDGE, GLAMORGAN, a market town, or borough and parish, in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Cowbridge, union of Bridgend and Cowbridge, South Wales: 163 miles from London, 12 from Cardiff.—Gt. West. Rail. through Bristol to Weston-super-Mare, thence across the channel to Penarth, &c., 25 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Bristol, &c., 177 miles.—Money orders issued here: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 10½ a.m.: post closes 1½ p.m.—The Welsh appellation of this place is Pont-faen, the stone bridge, corrupted from Pont-y-fon, signifying Cowbridge. It is situated on the small river Ddau, over which there is a stone bridge. The Welsh chronicle asserts, that it was walled round, in 1091, by Robert St. Quintin, one of Fitzhamon's knights, and a gate on the south side is still standing. The town consists of one broad and long street, in the centre of which stand the town-hall and market-house. An assembly of bards was formerly held here. Cowbridge sends one member to parliament, in conjunction with Cardiff and Llantrisant. There is a female school here, held in high estimation throughout the greater part of Wales; also, a free classical school, founded and endowed by Sir Llewelyn Jenkins in 1685. It has five pensioners or monitors, who have a pension of £30 amongst them, for four years from the term of their admission; they have also at the university the exclusive benefit of one exhibition, two scholarships, and two fellowships at Jesus College. The schoolmaster teaches these five pensioners and ten other boys for £20, out of an income of £70 per annum, paid by the Society of Jesus College, the trustees or guardians of the charity. The other charities produce about £80 per annum, part given in alms to the poor; and £40 every fourth year for apprentice fees.—The living is a curacy to the vicarage of Llanhlethian: contains 33 acres: 205 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,080: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,242: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,792: poor rates in 1838, £306. 6s.—Market day, Tuesday. Fairs: first Tuesday in February; Tuesday before March 25; May 4; June 24; first Tuesday in August; September 29; first Tuesday in December—cattle, sheep, &c. —Bankers: Sub-Branch of National Provincial Bank of England—draw on London and Westminster Bank. —Inns: Bear, and Horse and Groom.

COWBROW, WESTMORELAND, a hamlet in the parish of Kirkby-Lonsdale, on the northern bank of the river Beetha—(which see for access, &c.)

COWDEN, KENT, a parish in the hund<sup>d</sup> of Somerden, union of Seven Oaks: one of the principal heads of the Medway separates this parish on the south from the county of Sussex: 36 miles from London (coach road 30), 8 from Tunbridge, 9 from Seven Oaks. —Sou. East. Rail. to Edenbridge, thence 4 miles: from Derby, through London, &c., 181 miles. —Money orders issued at East Grinstead: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 3½ p.m. —The living (St. Mary Magdalene), a rectory in the diocese of Canterbury, is valued at £9. 18s. 11d.: pres. net income, £442: patron, Rev. T. Harvey: pres. incumbent, T. Harvey, 1836: contains 3,232 acres: 96 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 695: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 696: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>y</sup> £2,747: poor rates in 1838, £482. 9s. —Fair, August 2, for cattle, pedlery, &c. —Ochdeane, the residence of Colonel William Ross; Falconhurst, of Francis Woodgate, Esq.; Mapletrease, of the Hon. J. C. Talbot.

COWDON, EAST RIDING, YORK, a township in the parish of Mappleton—(which see for access, &c.): 196 miles from London, 12 from Hull, 1 from Hornsea. —Money orders issued at Hull: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 11 a.m.: post closes 6½ p.m. —The living is valued at £2. 15s. 4d.: contains 1,750 acres: 29 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 151: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>y</sup> £1,688: poor rates in 1838, £189. 13s. Tithes commuted in 1770.

COWES (WEST), HANTS, a seaport and chapelry in the parish of Northwood, Isle of Wight division of the county: 91 miles from London (coach road 83), 11 from Southampton, 4 from Newport. —Sou. West. Rail. to Southampton, thence 11 miles: from Derby, through Rugby, Oxford, and Reading, to Southampton, &c., 178 miles. —West Cowes, as well as East Cowes, owes its origin to the small fort erected on this side of the river Medina by Henry VIII., when, according to Hall—his majestie, in his own personne, toke very laborious and painfull journeys towards the sea coastes, and in all doubtfull places his highness caused dyverse and many bulwarkes and fortifications to be made. But although one was erected on each side, that on the west alone remains. Cowes owes its importance and its prosperous condition to the excellence of its harbour, which affords shelter in the severest weather, and from which vessels may sail out either to the east or to the west, as the wind serves. The town is beautifully situated on the acclivity of an eminence above the mouth of the Medina, which separates it from East Cowes. The streets are narrow, and most of the houses badly built, but rise above each other from the edge of the water to the summit of the cliff, in a manner that has a very pleasing effect when viewed from the sea. Some of the houses in the upper part of the town, however, are handsome, and much fashionable company has lately resorted here, in consequence of its excellent beach and salubrious air. Cowes is also a place of considerable trade. The chapel stands on the summit of the eminence on which the town is situated; it was erected in 1657, and has since been added to. A neat church or chapel of white brick, ornamented with stone, and dedicated to the Holy Trinity, has been built on the west cliff. The Royal Yacht Squadron meet here, and their annual regatta is celebrated generally in August or September. The club-house is a handsome building, situated on the Parade, with a large viranda in front. There is a private dock here, in which several ships of war have been constructed. There are chapels here for the Independents and the Wesleyan Methodists. —The living is a perpetual curacy in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Winchester: pres. net income, £256: patron, Vicar of Carisbrooke: pres. incumbent, J. B. Atkinson, 1827. —(Returns with the parish.) —Fair, Thursday in Whitsun-week, for toys. —Bankers, National Provident Bank of England—draw on London and Westminster Bank. —Inns: Globe, and George. Hotels: Medina, and Marine.

COWES (EAST), HANTS, a hamlet in the parish of Whippingham, Isle of Wight division of the county: 82 miles from London, 1 from Cowes, 9 from Portsmouth. —(For access, &c., see above.) —Money orders issued at Cowes: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 7½ a.m.: post closes 5½ p.m. —This village is separated from West Cowes by the river Medina, on the eastern side of the mouth of which it is situated. Henry VIII. here erected a fort, or blockhouse, of which there is now no trace, but to which the town owes its origin. Her present Majesty, then the Princess Victoria, in September, 1831, laid the foundation-stone of a new chapel of ease to Whippingham church, which was finished and consecrated in 1833. The town contains many good houses, and there is a custom-house, besides bonded warehouses for all goods, except tobacco and East India goods. It has a considerable trade, in consequence of being so near to West Cowes. —Norris Castle is the seat of the Right Hon. Henry Lord Seymour. It is a noble structure, said to be built in imitation of an ancient castle, standing on a steep descent of the most northern part of the island. The grounds are spacious and well laid out. —East Cowes Castle stands on a hill in the neighbourhood, and commands a prospect of the Solent sea, more beautiful than any other in the island, comprising, to the east, Portsmouth, full of shipping, and a long line of coast, richly wooded; and on the north, Southampton river, with the town in the distance. The castle is a light, elegant building. The west front opens upon a bowling-green terrace, with a beautiful and extended view of Cowes harbour, and the interior of the island. It is the property of John Nash, Esq. —Osborne is situated to the east of the Newport road, by which its grounds are separated from those of Norris and East Cowes Castle. It is a noble building, pleasantly situated at the summit of a spacious lawn, sloping to a gentle valley, opening on the sea, and commanding a beautiful marine prospect. It was formerly the property of the Blackford family, but it has recently been purchased for her Majesty the Queen, who frequently resides in it. It has been much altered and beautified, under the superintendence of Mr. Barry.

COWFOLD, SUSSEX, a parish in the hund. of Windham and Ewhurst, rape of Bramber, union of Cuckfield: 43 miles from London (coach road 45), 6 from Horsham, 6 from Cuckfield. — Brighton Rail. to Horsham, thence 6 miles: from Derby, through London, &c., 175 miles. — Money orders issued at Horsham: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 8½ a.m.: post closes 4½ p.m. — This is a polling-place for New Shoreham and the rape of Bramber. — The living, a vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup>. of Lewes, and diocese of Chichester, is valued at £10. 6s. 8d.: pres. net income, £452: patron, Bishop of Chichester: pres. incumbent, W. Bruere Otter, 1839: contains 4,640 acres: 145 houses: pop<sup>n</sup>. in 1841, 943: probable pop<sup>n</sup>. in 1849, 1,000: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>y</sup>. £2,121: poor rates in 1838, £641. 10s. Tithes commuted in 1839.

COWGROVE (or KINSON), DORSET, a tithing in the parish of Wimborne-Minster—(which see for access, &c.): 98 miles from London, 7 from Poole, 6 from Wimborne-Minster. — Money orders issued at Poole: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 9 a.m.: post closes 7½ p.m. — Contains 149 houses: pop<sup>n</sup>. in 1841, 762: probable pop<sup>n</sup>. in 1849, £864. — (Other returns with the parish.)

COWICK, WEST RIDING, YORK, a township in the parish of Snaith—(which see for access, &c.): 175 miles from London, 7 from Selby. — Money orders issued at Selby: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 9½ a.m.: post closes 4½ p.m. — Contains 8,970 acres: 203 houses: pop<sup>n</sup>. in 1841, 882: probable pop<sup>n</sup>. in 1849, 1,014: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>y</sup>. £3,431: poor rates in 1838, £406. 2s. — Cowick Hall is the seat of Viscount Downe, of the county Down, in the peerage of Ireland. Lord Downe traces his descent from Sir Payan Dawney, of Dawney Castle, Normandy, who accompanied the Conqueror to England. His descendant, Sir William Dawney, was made a general at Acon by Richard I., where, having slain a Saracen prince, and afterwards a lion, he cut off the paw and presented it to Richard, who instantly took the ring from his finger and presented it to Dawney, at the same time ordering him to bear, as a crest, a demi-Saracen with a lion's paw in one hand, and a ring in the other. From him descended Sir Nicholas Dawney, summoned to parliament among the barons in the reign of Edward III., but who afterwards went and engaged in the holy war against the infidels, whence he brought a rich and curious medal. Both the ring and the medal are still in the possession of the family. From Sir Nicholas descended Sir John Dawney, Knt. of Cowick, sheriff of Yorkshire, in the 35th Henry VIII., whose descendant, Christopher Dawney, Esq. of Cowick, was created a baronet by Charles I. in 1642. Sir Christopher dying without issue, the title devolved, according to the limitation that had been made, to his brother, Sir John Dawney of Cowick, M.P. for the county of York, who, in February, 1680, was raised to the peerage of Ireland as Viscount Downe, and in 1689 sat in James's Irish parliament. His son Henry, M.P. for the county of York, succeeded him. The viscount died in May, 1741, and was succeeded by his grandson, Henry Pleydell, third viscount, F.R.S., M.P. for the county of York in 1749 and 1751, lord of the bedchamber to H.R.H. the Prince of Wales, and colonel of the 25th regiment of foot, which he commanded at the battle of Minden, in 1759. His lordship was mortally wounded while commanding the same regiment at the battle of Camper, near Wesel, on the 16th October, 1760, and, dying in the December following, he was succeeded by his brother John, fourth viscount, who died in 1780, and was succeeded by his eldest son John Christopher, fifth viscount, who, in June, 1796, was raised to the peerage of Great Britain as Baron Dawney of Cowick, York, but dying without issue, the barony of Dawney expired, while that of Downe, with the baronetcy, devolved upon his brother, William Henry, who, dying in May, 1846, was succeeded by his eldest son, the present peer.

COWLAM, EAST RIDING, YORK, a parish in the wapentake of Buckrose, union of Driffield: 246 miles from London (coach road 193), 6 from Great Driffield, 14 from New Malton. — Nor. and East. Co<sup>t</sup>. Rail. through Peterborough, Hull, and Driffield, to Burton Agnes station, thence 10 miles: from Derby, through Normanton, Hull, Driffield, &c., 149 miles. — Money orders issued at Driffield: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 11½ a.m.: post closes 1 p.m. — The living, a disch<sup>d</sup>. rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup>. of the east riding and diocese of York, is valued at £11. 11s. 3d.: pres. net income, £300: patron, Rev. T. F. Foord Bowes: pres. incumbent, T. F. Foord Bowes, 1802: contains 1,930 acres: 2 houses: pop<sup>n</sup>. in 1841, 44: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>y</sup>. £2,200.

COWLEY, GLOUCESTER, a parish in the hund. of Rapsigate, union of Cheltenham: 127 miles from London (coach road 94), 6 from Cheltenham, 10 from Gloucester. — Gt. West. Rail. through Swindon to Cheltenham, thence 6 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham to Cheltenham, &c., 109 miles. — Money orders issued at Cheltenham: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 8½ a.m.: post closes 7½ p.m. — The living (St. Mary), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup>. of Gloucester, and diocese of Gloucester and Bristol, is valued at £9. 1s. 10½d.: pres. net income, £322: patron, Lord Chancellor: pres. incumbent, R. Smith: contains 1,600 acres: 66 houses: pop<sup>n</sup>. in 1841, 317: probable pop<sup>n</sup>. in 1849, 364: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>y</sup>. £1,835: poor rates in 1838, £176.

COWLEY, MIDDLESEX, a parish in the hund. of Elthorne, union of Uxbridge: 16 miles from London (coach road 14), 1 from Uxbridge, 7 from Staines. — Gt. West. Rail. to Uxbridge station: from Derby, through London, &c., 148 miles. — Money orders issued at Uxbridge: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 7½ a.m.: post closes 8½ p.m. — The living (St. Lawrence), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup>. of Middlesex, and diocese of London, is valued at £11: pres. net income, £230: patron, J. Hilliard, Esq.: pres. incumbent, J. Hilliard, 1807: contains 300 acres: 58 houses: pop<sup>n</sup>. in 1841, 392: probable pop<sup>n</sup>. in 1849, 451: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>y</sup>. £1,699: poor rates in 1838, £103. 6s. — Cowley Grove is the seat of Thomas Williams, Esq., whose other residence is Coate Court, Oxford. This gentleman traces his descent from John Williams, who, in the reign of Charles I., came from Brecknockshire, and purchased land at Coate, Oxfordshire, and at Longworth, Berkshire. From him descended Samuel Williams, Esq., of Bampton-in-the-Bush, Oxford, father of the present proprietor of Cowley.

COWLEY, OXFORD, a parish in the hund<sup>d</sup> of Bullington, union of Headington, east of the river Isis: 65 miles from London (coach road 52), 2 from Oxford, 5 from Abingdon. — Gt. West. Rail. to Oxford, thence 2 miles: from Derby, through Rugby and Banbury to Oxford, &c., 97 miles. — Money orders issued at Oxford: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 7½ a.m.: post closes 9 p.m. — The living (St. James), a perpetual curacy in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Oxford, is valued at £11: pres. net income, £64: patron, Christ Church, Oxford: pres. incumbent, David Royce, 1845: contains 940 acres: 98 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 606: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 697: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £1,828: poor rates in 1838, £156. 12s.

COWLEY, STAFFORD, a quarter in the parish of Gnosall—(which see for access, &c.): 135 miles from London, 7 from Stafford, 7 from Penkridge. — Money orders issued at Stafford: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 8½ p.m. — Pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 558: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 641.

COWLING, SUFFOLK, a parish in the hund<sup>d</sup> and union of Risbridge: 74 miles from London (coach road 63), 7 from Clare, 8 from Newmarket. — Nor. and East. Co<sup>r</sup> Rail. to Newmarket, thence 8 miles: from Derby, through Syston, Peterborough, and Cambridge, 154 miles. — Money orders issued at Clare: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9½ a.m.: post closes 8 p.m. — The parochial charities produce about £20 a year. — The living (St. Margaret) is a perpetual curacy in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Sudbury, and diocese of Norwich: pres. net income, £100: patron, Trinity Hall, Cambridge: pres. incumbent, S. H. Banks, 1829: contains 2,820 acres: 92 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 882: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,014: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £3,593: poor rates in 1838, £826. 14s. — Fairs: July 31, October 16, for sheep, other cattle, and pedlery.

COWLING. See BURREL WITH COWLING.

COWLING, WEST RIDING, YORK, a township in the parish of Kildwick—(which see for access, &c.): 221 miles from London, 5 from Skipton, 2 from Bedale. — Money orders issued at Skipton: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 12½ p.m.: post closes 2½ p.m. — The living is a perpetual curacy in the diocese of Ripon: pres. net income, £150: patron, Crown and Bishop alternately: pres. incumbent, B. Worledge, 1844: contains 5,140 acres: 398 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 2,458: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 2,826: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £4,196: poor rates in 1838, £729. 16s. — Cowling Hall is the seat of Sir John Croft, Bart., a descendant of the ancient family of Croft, a member of which, Ralph Croft, of East Wilton, in Yorkshire, was grandfather of Sir Christopher Croft, Knt., of the city of York, of which he was sheriff in 1618, and lord mayor in 1629. In 1641, he entertained Charles I. in his own house, and was knighted by that monarch. From him descended John Croft, who, in June 1775, married Henrietta Maria, daughter and co-heir of the Rev. James Tunstall, D.D., and was father of the present Sir John Croft, Knt., commander of the Tower and Sword, D.C.L., F.R.S., who was created a baronet in 1818. Sir John, in 1811, was appointed commissioner, in conjunction with a Portuguese judge, to distribute the parliamentary grant to the Portuguese sufferers; and in 1815, was made charge d'affaires at Lisbon.

COWPEN, NORTHUMBERLAND, a township in the parish of Horton, on the southern bank of the river Blyth, at its mouth—(which see for access, &c.): 286 miles from London, 7 from Morpeth, 11 from North Shields. — Money orders issued at Morpeth: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 1 p.m.: post closes 12½ p.m. — In this township are several extensive collieries. — Contains 363 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 2,464: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 2,833. — (Other returns with the parish.)

COWPEN-BEWLEY, DURHAM, a township in the parish of Billingham, close upon the Clarence and Hartlepool Canal—(which see for access, &c.): 249 miles from London, 3 from Stockton, 8 from Sedgefield. — Money orders issued at Stockton: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 11½ a.m.: post closes 2 p.m. — Contains 2,590 acres: 30 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 196: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £4,088: poor rates in 1838, £102. 3s.

COWSBY, NORTH RIDING, YORK, a parish in the wapentake of Birdforth, union of Thirsk: 249 miles from London (coach road 223), 5 from Thirsk, 5 from North Allerton. — East. Co<sup>r</sup> Rail. through Rugby, Derby, and Thirsk, to Otterington station, thence 2 miles: from Derby, through Thirsk, &c., 117 miles. — Money orders issued at Thirsk: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9½ a.m.: post closes 4½ p.m. — There is an hospital here for decayed tenants, supposed to have been founded by Lord Crewe; also, an almshouse with an annual endowment of £10. — The living, a disch<sup>d</sup> rectory, a peculiar in the diocese of York, is valued at £5. 11s. ¾d.: pres. net income, £146: patron, Mrs. E. H. Lloyd: pres. incumbent, J. Vere Alston: contains 1,220 acres: 16 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 108: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £596.

COWTHORN, NORTH RIDING, YORK, a township in the parish of Middleton, east of the river Severn—(which see for access, &c.): 4 miles from Pickering. — Money orders issued at Pickering: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 10½ a.m.: post closes 3 p.m. — Contains 1,540 acres: 3 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 20: poor rates in 1838, £2. 12s.

COWTHORPE, WEST RIDING, YORK, a parish in the upper division of the wapentake of Claro, on the river Nidd: 229 miles from London (coach road 197), 4 from Wetherby, 11 from York. — Nor. West. Rail. through Rugby, Derby, and Leeds, to Wetherby, thence 3 miles: from Derby, through Leeds, &c., 97 miles. — Money orders issued at Wetherby: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 4 p.m. — There is here, on the estate of Andrew Montague, Esq., an immense oak, larger than the famous Greendale oak at Welbeck, Notts. It now measures 60 feet in diameter close to the ground, and the boughs extend 45 feet from the trunk. — The living (St. Michael), a disch<sup>d</sup> rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Craven, and diocese of Ripon, is valued at £4. 15s. 10d.: pres. net income, £130: patron, Andrew Montague, Esq.: pres. incumbent, W. C. Fenton, 1824: contains 1,280 acres: 26 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 115: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £1,139: poor rates in 1838, £69. 16s.

COWTON (EAST), NORTH RIDING, YORK, a parish in the wapentake of Gilling-east, union of Northallerton: it includes the townships of North and South Cowton: 258 miles from London (coach road 234), 7 from Northallerton, 7 from Darlington.---Nor. West. Rail. through Rugby, Derby, and York, to Cowton station: from Derby, through York, &c., 126 miles.---Money orders issued at Northallerton: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 10 a.m.: post closes 3½ p.m.---There is a free school here, with an annuity of £27 per annum from Thirley Ravensworth School Fund, and endowed also with a bequest of £20 per annum. The other charities produce about £7 per annum.---The living (St. Mary), a disch<sup>d</sup> vicarage, formerly in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Richmond, and diocese of Chester, now in the diocese of Ripon, is valued at £4. 6s. 10½d.: pres. net income, £202: patron, Kirby Ravensworth Hospital: pres. incumbent, Thomas Holme, 1843: contains 3,150 acres; 77 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 454: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 522: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>y</sup>. £3,773: poor rates in 1837, £270. 13s.

COWTON (NORTH), NORTH RIDING, YORK, a township in the same parish—(which see for access, &c.): 229 miles from London.---Contains 1,030 acres: 73 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 273: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>y</sup>. £1,519.

COWTON (SOUTH), NORTH RIDING, YORK, a township and chapelry in the same parish—(which see for access, &c.): 228 miles from London, 1 from Scorton, 8 from Richmond.---Money orders issued at Catterick: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 10½ a.m.: post closes 2½ p.m.---In 1138, the famous battle of the Standard was fought on the moor between this place and North Cowton, by the English and the Scotch, when the latter were defeated, and lost 11,000 men. The scene of the conflict is still called Standard Hill; and the holes into which the slain were thrown, the Scots' Pit.---The living, a perpetual curacy in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Richmond, and diocese of Chester, now in the diocese of Ripon, is valued at £39. 4s.; pres. net income, £53: patron, Vicar of Gilling: pres. incumbent, John Todd, 1840: contains 1,530 acres: 30 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 152: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>y</sup>. £2,107: poor rates in 1838, £88. 13s.

COXHALL. See BUXTON AND COXHALL.

COXHOE, DURHAM, a township in the parish of Kelloe—(which see for access, &c.): 254 miles from London, 5 from Durham, 5 from Sedgfield.---Money orders issued at Durham: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 11 a.m.: post closes 2½ p.m.---A large quantity of coal is found in this neighbourhood. There are also limestone quarries, and a good seam of clay, from which earthenware is made.---Contains 870 acres: 29 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 3,904: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 4,490: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>y</sup>. £884: poor rates in 1838, £71. 16s.

COXLIDGE, NORTHUMBRIA, a township in the parish of Gosforth—(which see for access, &c.): 276 miles from London, 2 from Newcastle, 8 from North Shields.---Money orders issued at Newcastle-on-Tyne: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 11 a.m.: post closes 3 p.m.---The township contains several collieries. The grand-stand for the Newcastle race-course was constructed here in 1800, and near it is a reservoir for supplying that town with water. The Wesleyan Methodists have a place of worship here.---Contains 142 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 924:

probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,063: poor rates in 1838, £84. 4s.

COXWELL (GREAT), BERKS, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> and union of Farringdon: 69 miles from London (coach road 70), 2 from Farringdon, 2 from Coleshill.---Gt. West. Rail. to Farringdon Road station, thence 5 miles: from Derby, through Rugby, Oxford, and Dudcote, to Farringdon Road, &c., 121 miles.---Money orders issued at Farringdon: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 7½ a.m.: post closes 8½ p.m.---There is a daily school here, with a small endowment; and this parish, conjointly with Coleshill, has a rent-charge of £73. 6s., bequeathed by the Earl of Radnor and the Rev. John Pinsant, for apprenticing children of the two parishes. In this parish are the remains of a religious institution, built by the abbots of Beaulieu, to whom King John granted the manor in 1204: they have been converted into a farmhouse. On Badbury hill there is a Danish circular encampment.---The living (St. Giles), a disch<sup>d</sup> vicarage, formerly in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Berks, and diocese of Salisbury, now in the diocese of Oxford, is valued at £7. 7s. 11d.: pres. net income, £211: patron, Bishop of Salisbury: pres. incumbent, J. F. Cleaver, 1815: contains 1,440 acres: 68 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 351: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 403: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>y</sup>. £1,227: poor rates in 1838, £192. 14s.

COXWELL (LITTLE), BERKS, a township and chapelry in the parish of Great Farringdon—(which see for access, &c.): 71 miles from London.---There are the remains of a square camp visible here, the double ditch on the western side being almost entire; and in a field of about 14 acres are 273 pits, called Cole's Pits, excavated in the sand, very probably believed to be the habitations or hiding-places of the ancient Britons.---The living is a curacy to the vicarage of Great Farringdon: contains 63 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 315: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 362: poor rates in 1838, £141. 12s. Tithes commuted in 1801.

COXWOLD, NORTH RIDING, YORK, a parish in the wapentake of Birdforth, union of Easingwold: it includes the townships of Angram-Grange, Byland cum Membris, Coxwold, Newborough, Oulston, Thornton with Baxley, Wildon-Grange, and Yearsley, and the chapelry of Birdforth: 242 miles from London (coach road 217), 4 from Easingwold, 12 from Ripon.---Nor. West. Rail. through Rugby, Derby, and York, to Pillinore junction, thence 5 miles: from Derby, through York, &c., 110 miles.---Money orders issued at York: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 10½ a.m.: post closes 2½ p.m.---The church is a small structure of great antiquity, said to have been built in 700, with an octagonal tower and chancel, rebuilt in 1777, and contains several handsome monuments of the Belasyse family. The charities amount to about £52, which is distributed to the poor. Near this place is Shandy Hall, where Sterne, once the curate of this parish, resided for about seven years, and wrote his Tristram Shandy, and other works.---The living (St. Michael) is a perpetual curacy in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Cleveland, and diocese of York: pres. net income, £351: patron, Trinity College, Cambridge: pres. incumbent, G. Scott, 1843: contains 14,590 acres: 267 houses: pop<sup>n</sup>

chased land at Coate, Oxfordshire, and at Longworth, Berkshire. From him descended Samuel Williams, Esq., of Bampton-in-the-Bush, Oxford, father of the present proprietor of Cowley.

COWLEY, OXFORD, a parish in the hund of Bullington, union of Headington, east of the river Isis: 65 miles from London (coach road 52), 2 from Oxford, 5 from Abingdon. —Gt. West. Rail. to Oxford, thence 2 miles: from Derby, through Rugby and Banbury to Oxford, &c., 97 miles. —Money orders issued at Oxford: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 7½ a.m.: post closes 9 p.m. —The living (St. James), a perpetual curacy in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Oxford, is valued at £11: pres. net income, £64: patron, Christ Church, Oxford: pres. incumbent, David Royce, 1845: contains 940 acres: 98 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 606: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 697: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £1,828: poor rates in 1838, £156. 12s.

COWLEY, STAFFORD, a quarter in the parish of Gnosall—(which see for access, &c.): 135 miles from London, 7 from Stafford, 7 from Penkridge. —Money orders issued at Stafford: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 8½ p.m. —Pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 558: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 641.

COWLING, SUFFOLK, a parish in the hund and union of Risbridge: 74 miles from London (coach road 63), 7 from Clare, 8 from Newmarket. —Nor. and East. Co<sup>a</sup> Rail. to Newmarket, thence 8 miles: from Derby, through Syston, Peterborough, and Cambridge, 154 miles. —Money orders issued at Clare: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9½ a.m.: post closes 8 p.m. —The parochial charities produce about £20 a year. —The living (St. Margaret) is a perpetual curacy in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Sudbury, and diocese of Norwich: pres. net income, £100: patron, Trinity Hall, Cambridge: pres. incumbent, S. H. Banks, 1829: contains 2,820 acres: 92 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 882: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,014: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £3,593: poor rates in 1838, £826. 14s. —Fairs: July 31, October 16, for sheep, other cattle, and pedlery.

COWLING. See BURREL WITH COWLING.

COWLING, WEST RIDING, YORK, a township in the parish of Kildwick—(which see for access, &c.): 221 miles from London, 5 from Skipton, 2 from Bedale. —Money orders issued at Skipton: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 12½ p.m.: post closes 2½ p.m. —The living is a perpetual curacy in the diocese of Ripon: pres. net income, £150: patron, Crown and Bishop alternately: pres. incumbent, B. Worledge, 1844: contains 5,140 acres: 398 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 2,458: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 2,826: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £4,196: poor rates in 1838, £729. 16s. —Cowling Hall is the seat of Sir John Croft, Bart., a descendant of the ancient family of Croft, a member of which, Ralph Croft, of East Wilton, in Yorkshire, was grandfather of Sir Christopher Croft, Knt., of the city of York, of which he was sheriff in 1618, and lord mayor in 1629. In 1641, he entertained Charles I. in his own house, and was knighted by that monarch. From him descended John Croft, who, in June 1775, married Henrietta Maria, daughter and co-heir of the Rev. James Tunstall, D.D., and was father of the present Sir John Croft, Knt., commander of the Tower and Sword, D.C.L., F.R.S., who was created a baronet in 1818. Sir John, in 1811, was appointed commissioner, in conjunction with a Portuguese judge, to distribute the parliamentary grant to the Portuguese sufferers; and in 1815, was made charge d'affaires at Lisbon.

COWPEN, NORTHUMBERLAND, a township in the parish of Horton, on the southern bank of the river Blyth, at its mouth—(which see for access, &c.): 286 miles from London, 7 from Morpeth, 11 from North Shields. —Money orders issued at Morpeth: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 1 p.m.: post closes 12½ p.m. —In this township are several extensive collieries. —Contains 363 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 2,464: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 2,833. —(Other returns with the parish.)

COWPEN-BEWLEY, DURHAM, a township in the parish of Billingham, close upon the Clarence and Hartlepool Canal—(which see for access, &c.): 249 miles from London, 3 from Stockton, 8 from Sedgefield. —Money orders issued at Stockton: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 11½ a.m.: post closes 2 p.m. —Contains 2,590 acres: 30 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 196: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £4,088: poor rates in 1838, £102. 3s.

COWSBY, NORTH RIDING, YORK, a parish in the wapentake of Birdforth, union of Thirsk: 249 miles from London (coach road 223), 5 from Thirsk, 5 from North Allerton. —East. Co<sup>a</sup> Rail. through Rugby, Derby, and Thirsk, to Otterington station, thence 2 miles: from Derby, through Thirsk, &c., 117 miles. —Money orders issued at Thirsk: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9½ a.m.: post closes 4½ p.m. —There is an hospital here for decayed tenants, supposed to have been founded by Lord Crewe; also, an almshouse with an annual endowment of £10. —The living, a disch<sup>d</sup> rectory, a peculiar in the diocese of York, is valued at £5. 11s. 4d.: pres. net income, £146: patron, Mrs. E. H. Lloyd: pres. incumbent, J. Vere Alston: contains 1,220 acres: 16 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 108: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £596.

COWTHORN, NORTH RIDING, YORK, a township in the parish of Middleton, east of the river Severn—(which see for access, &c.): 4 miles from Pickering. —Money orders issued at Pickering: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 10½ a.m.: post closes 3 p.m. —Contains 1,540 acres: 3 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 20: poor rates in 1838, £2. 12s.

COWTHORPE, WEST RIDING, YORK, a parish in the upper division of the wapentake of Claro, on the river Nidd: 229 miles from London (coach road 197), 4 from Wetherby, 11 from York. —Nor. West. Rail. through Rugby, Derby, and Leeds, to Wetherby, thence 3 miles: from Derby, through Leeds, &c., 97 miles. —Money orders issued at Wetherby: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 4 p.m. —There is here, on the estate of Andrew Montague, Esq., an immense oak, larger than the famous Greendale oak at Welbeck, Notts. It now measures 60 feet in diameter close to the ground, and the boughs extend 45 feet from the trunk. —The living (St. Michael), a disch<sup>d</sup> rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Craven, and diocese of Ripon, is valued at £4. 15s. 10d.: pres. net income, £130: patron, Andrew Montague, Esq.: pres. incumbent, W. C. Fenton, 1824: contains 1,280 acres: 26 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 115: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £1,139: poor rates in 1838, £69. 16s.

COWTON (EAST), NORTH RIDING, YORK, a parish in the wapentake of Gilling-east, union of Northallerton: it includes the townships of North and South Cowton: 258 miles from London (coach road 234), 7 from Northallerton, 7 from Darlington. — Nor. West. Rail. through Rugby, Derby, and York, to Cowton station: from Derby, through York, &c., 126 miles. — Money orders issued at Northallerton: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 10 a.m.: post closes 3½ p.m. — There is a free school here, with an annuity of £27 per annum from Thirley Ravensworth School Fund, and endowed also with a bequest of £20 per annum. The other charities produce about £7 per annum. — The living (St. Mary), a disch<sup>d</sup> vicarage, formerly in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Richmond, and diocese of Chester, now in the diocese of Ripon, is valued at £4. 6s. 10½d.: pres. net income, £202: patron, Kirby Ravensworth Hospital: pres. incumbent, Thomas Holme, 1843: contains 3,150 acres; 77 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 454: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 522: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £3,773: poor rates in 1837, £270. 13s.

COWTON (NORTH), NORTH RIDING, YORK, a township in the same parish—(which see for access, &c.): 229 miles from London. — Contains 1,030 acres: 73 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 273: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £1,519.

COWTON (SOUTH), NORTH RIDING, YORK, a township and chapelry in the same parish—(which see for access, &c.): 228 miles from London, 1 from Scorton, 8 from Richmond. — Money orders issued at Catterick: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 10½ a.m.: post closes 2½ p.m. — In 1138, the famous battle of the Standard was fought on the moor between this place and North Cowton, by the English and the Scotch, when the latter were defeated, and lost 11,000 men. The scene of the conflict is still called Standard Hill; and the holes into which the slain were thrown, the Scots' Pit. — The living, a perpetual curacy in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Richmond, and diocese of Chester, now in the diocese of Ripon, is valued at £39. 4s.; pres. net income, £53: patron, Vicar of Gilling: pres. incumbent, John Todd, 1840: contains 1,530 acres: 30 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 152: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £2,107: poor rates in 1838, £88. 13s.

COXHALL. See BUXTON AND COXHALL.

COXHOE, DURHAM, a township in the parish of Kelloe—(which see for access, &c.): 254 miles from London, 5 from Durham, 5 from Sedgefield. — Money orders issued at Durham: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 11 a.m.: post closes 2½ p.m. — A large quantity of coal is found in this neighbourhood. There are also limestone quarries, and a good seam of clay, from which earthenware is made. — Contains 870 acres: 29 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 3,904: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 4,490: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £884: poor rates in 1838, £71. 16s.

COXLIDGE, NORTHUMBRIA, a township in the parish of Gosforth—(which see for access, &c.): 276 miles from London, 2 from Newcastle, 8 from North Shields. — Money orders issued at Newcastle-on-Tyne: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 11 a.m.: post closes 3 p.m. — The township contains several collieries. The grand-stand for the Newcastle race-course was constructed here in 1800, and near it is a reservoir for supplying that town with water. The Wesleyan Methodists have a place of worship here. — Contains 142 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 924:

probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,063: poor rates in 1838, £84. 4s.

COXWELL (GREAT), BERKS, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> and union of Farringdon: 69 miles from London (coach road 70), 2 from Farringdon, 2 from Coleshill. — Gt. West. Rail. to Farringdon Road station, thence 5 miles: from Derby, through Rugby, Oxford, and Dudcote, to Farringdon Road, &c., 121 miles. — Money orders issued at Farringdon: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 7½ a.m.: post closes 8½ p.m. — There is a daily school here, with a small endowment; and this parish, conjointly with Coleshill, has a rent-charge of £73. 6s., bequeathed by the Earl of Radnor and the Rev. John Pinsant, for apprenticing children of the two parishes. In this parish are the remains of a religious institution, built by the abbots of Beaulieu, to whom King John granted the manor in 1204: they have been converted into a farmhouse. On Badbury hill there is a Danish circular encampment. — The living (St. Giles), a disch<sup>d</sup> vicarage, formerly in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Berks, and diocese of Salisbury, now in the diocese of Oxford, is valued at £7. 7s. 11d.: pres. net income, £211: patron, Bishop of Salisbury: pres. incumbent, J. F. Cleaver, 1815: contains 1,440 acres: 68 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 351: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 403: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £1,227: poor rates in 1838, £192. 14s.

COXWELL (LITTLE), BERKS, a township and chapelry in the parish of Great Farringdon—(which see for access, &c.): 71 miles from London. — There are the remains of a square camp visible here, the double ditch on the western side being almost entire; and in a field of about 14 acres are 273 pits, called Cole's Pits, excavated in the sand, very probably believed to be the habitations or hiding-places of the ancient Britons. — The living is a curacy to the vicarage of Great Farringdon: contains 63 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 315: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 362: poor rates in 1838, £141. 12s. Tithes commuted in 1801.

COXWOLD, NORTH RIDING, YORK, a parish in the wapentake of Birdforth, union of Easingwold: it includes the townships of Angram-Grange, Byland cum Membris, Coxwold, Newborough, Oulston, Thornton with Baxley, Wildon-Grange, and Yearsley, and the chapelry of Birdforth: 242 miles from London (coach road 217), 4 from Easingwold, 12 from Ripon. — Nor. West. Rail. through Rugby, Derby, and York, to Pillinore junction, thence 5 miles: from Derby, through York, &c., 110 miles. — Money orders issued at York: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 10½ a.m.: post closes 2½ p.m. — The church is a small structure of great antiquity, said to have been built in 700, with an octagonal tower and chancel, rebuilt in 1777, and contains several handsome monuments of the Belasyse family. The charities amount to about £52, which is distributed to the poor. Near this place is Shandy Hall, where Sterne, once the curate of this parish, resided for about seven years, and wrote his Tristram Shandy, and other works. — The living (St. Michael) is a perpetual curacy in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Cleaveland, and diocese of York: pres. net income, £351: patron, Trinity College, Cambridge: pres. incumbent, G. Scott, 1843: contains 14,590 acres: 267 houses: pop<sup>n</sup>

in 1841, 1,076: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,237: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £11,819: poor rates in 1838, £426. 15s. Tithes commuted in 1839.

COXWOLD, NORTH RIDING, YORK, a township in the above parish—(which see for access, &c.)—Contains 1,250 acres: 72 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 431: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 496: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £1,699: poor rates in 1838, £127. 13s.

COY-CHURCH. See COED-DHU-CHURCH.

COYTY, GLAMORGAN, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Newcastle, union of Bridgend and Cowbridge, South Wales: it includes the hamlets of Higher and Lower Coyty: 171 miles from London (coach road 178), 2 from Bridgend, 1 from Coy-church. Gt. West. Rail. to Bristol, thence to Penarth, 35 miles, by rail to Porto Bello station, thence 13 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Bristol to Penarth, &c., 185 miles. Money orders issued at Bridgend: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 11½ a.m.: post closes 1 p.m. The living, a rectory, with the curacy of Nolton, in the archd<sup>r</sup>. and diocese of Llandaff, is valued at £21. 12s. 3½d.: pres. net income, £416: patron, Earl of Dunraven: pres. incumbent, John Harding, 1819: contains 351 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, £1,764: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 2,028: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £5,877: poor rates in 1838, £513. 10s.

COZENLEY. See AZERLEY.

CRABHALL. See BLACON WITH CRABHALL.

CRACOE, WEST RIDING, YORK, a township in the parish of Burnsall—(which see for access, &c.): 226 miles from London, 12 from Settle, 1 from Burnsall. Money orders issued at Settle: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 2 p.m.: post closes 11½ a.m. Contains 1,310 acres: 35 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 153: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £1,393: poor rates in 1838, £80.

CRADLEY, WORCESTER, a chapelry in the parish of Hales Owen—(which see for access, &c.): 126 miles from London, 4 from Stourbridge, 7 from Birmingham. Money orders issued at Stourbridge: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 8 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m. This place is pleasantly situated on the river Stour, which separates it on the north and north-west from the county of Stafford; the country is hilly, and the town is surrounded with diversified and picturesque scenery. A large number of traces, with nails, and other articles in iron, are manufactured here, and some mines of coal are supposed to be in the township, though none are now worked. There are vestiges of a moat in a large wood, called Cradley Park. There are here places of worship for the Presbyterians and the Baptists. The living is a perpetual curacy in the archd<sup>r</sup>. and diocese of Worcester: pres. net income, £116: patron, Trustees: pres. incumbent, John Jones, 1822: contains 401 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 2,686: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 3,089: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £2,143: poor rates in 1838, £468. 2s.

CRADLEY (EAST), HEREFORD, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Radlow, union of Bromyard: 128 miles from London (coach road 118), 2 from Malvern, 17 from Hereford. Gt. West. Rail. through Oxford to Worcester, thence 10 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham to Worcester, &c., 82 miles. Money orders issued at Malvern: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 8½ a.m.: post closes 5 p.m. Hops are cultivated here to a large extent. There is a school here, endowed with £20 per annum. The poor's lands produce rents to the annual amount of about £50. 10s., distributed in clothing, &c., to the poor. Other charities produce about £5 per annum. The living (St. James), a rectory in the archd<sup>r</sup>. and diocese of Hereford, is valued at £18: pres. net income, £957: patron, Bishop of Hereford. pres. incumbent, C. S. Luxmoore, 1816: contains 6,460 acres: 163 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,504: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,730: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £3,672: poor rates in 1838, £534. 4s.

CRADLEY (WEST), HEREFORD, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Radlow, union of Bromyard: 117 miles from London. (For access and postal arrangements, see above.) The living is united with the above: contains 152 houses: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £4,091.

CRAIGHOW. See CAROO.

CRAKEHALL. See ELMER WITH CRAKEHALL.

CRAKEHALL, NORTH RIDING, YORK, a township of Bedale—(which see for access, &c.): 225 miles from London, 2 from Bedale, 6 from Richmond. Money orders issued at Bedale: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 9½ a.m.: post closes 3½ p.m. This village is built in the form of a quadrangle, enclosing a spacious green, on which there are several noble forest trees. Contains 1,920 acres: 133 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 576: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 662: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £3,005: poor rates in 1838, £133. 3s.

CRAKEMARSH (or CROKEMARSH). See URTOXETER.

CRAKENTHORPE, WESTMORELAND, a township in the parish of Bongate, bounded on the west by the river Eden—(which see for access, &c.): 273 miles from London, 3 from Appleby, 11 from Penrith. Money orders issued at Appleby: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. at noon: post closes 1 p.m. Contains 22 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 104. (Other returns with the parish.)

CRAIKE, NORTH RIDING, YORK, a parish, formerly in the south-west division of Stockton ward, county of Durham, now in the union of Easingwold, and annexed to the North Riding of the county of York, being locally situated in the wapentake of Bulmer: 237 miles from London (coach road 212), 3 from Easingwold, 8 from Helmsley. Nor. West. Rail. through Rugby, Derby, and York, to Alue station, thence 5 miles: from Derby, through York, &c., 105 miles. The charities amount to about £27. 12s. per annum. In 685, Egfrid, King of Northumberland, gave this place, with land for three miles round it, to St. Cuthbert, who founded a monastery here, of which no trace has for ages been visible; but there are the remains of an ancient castle, now used as a farm-house. The living (St. Cuthbert), a rectory in the diocese of York, is valued at £10: pres. net income, £672: patron, Bishop of Ripon: pres. incumbent, Edward Churton: contains 3,300 acres: 110 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 579: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 665: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £4,880: poor rates in 1838, £174. 18s. Tithes commuted in 1839. There are here the remains of an ancient structure, supposed by Drake to have been a castrum exploratorium of the Romans. It is situated on the south-western extremity of the Hambleton hills, on a projecting promontory. Its occupant, Mr. Pulleine, is descended from Richard Pulleine, of Killing Hall, York, whose descendant, Thomas Pulleine, Esq., master of the stud to William III., and high sheriff of Yorkshire in 1698 and 1703, purchased Carleton Hall. From him descended Henry Percy Pulleine, Esq., a magistrate for the county of York, who sold Carleton Hall, and purchased Craike Hall in 1810. He died in May, 1833, and was succeeded by his son, the present proprietor, who is a barrister-at-law, a magistrate and deputy-lieutenant of the North Riding, and chairman of the quarter sessions.

CRAMBE, NORTH RIDING, YORK, a parish in the wapentake of Bulmer, union of Malton: it includes the townships of Barton-le-Willows, Crambe, and Whitwell-on-the-Hill: 227 miles from London (coach road 210), 10 from New Malton, 8 from York. — Nor. West. Rail. through Rugby and Derby to York, thence 8 miles: from Derby, through York, &c., 95 miles. — Money orders issued at Malton: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 10½ a.m.: post closes 4 p.m. — The living (St. Michael), a disch<sup>d</sup>. vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup>. of Cleveland, and diocese of York, is valued at £9. 1s. 8d.: pres. net income, £180: patron, Archbishop of York: pres. incumbent, H. Fendall, 1839: contains 3,710 acres: 89 houses: pop<sup>n</sup>. in 1841, 610: probable pop<sup>n</sup>. in 1849, 701: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>y</sup>. £5,798: poor rates in 1838, £151. 19s. — Aldley Park.

CRAMLINGTON, NORTHUMBERLAND, a chapelry in the parish of St. Andrew—(which see for access, &c.): 281 miles from London, 9 from Newcastle, 8 from Morpeth. — Money orders issued at Newcastle-on-Tyne: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 1 p.m.: post closes 1 p.m. — The village is pleasantly situated on a slope, commanding a fine sea view, and has lately much improved from the opening of some collieries in the neighbourhood. — The living is a perpetual curacy in the archd<sup>y</sup>. and diocese of Durham: pres. net income, £66: patron, Sir M. W. Ridley: pres. incumbent, R. Greenwood, 1839: contains 720 acres: 144 houses: pop<sup>n</sup>. in 1841, 2,634: probable pop<sup>n</sup>. in 1849, 3,029: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>y</sup>. £4,858: poor rates in 1838, £223. 12s. Tithes commuted in 1839.

CRANAGE, CHESTER, a township in the parish of Sandbach, north of the river Dane—(which see for access, &c.): 165 miles from London, 3 from Middlewich, 5 from Sandbach. — Money orders issued at Middlewich: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 8 a.m.: post closes 6½ p.m. — In the reign of Henry VI. Sir John Needham erected a bridge of stone across the river Dane, but some years ago the present wooden one was built in its stead. There is a place of worship here for the Wesleyan Methodists. — Contains 2,040 acres: 85 houses: pop<sup>n</sup>. in 1841, 512: probable pop<sup>n</sup>. in 1849, 589: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>y</sup>. £2,456: poor rates in 1838, £243. 4s.

CRANBORNE, DORSET, a market town and parish in the above hun<sup>d</sup>, union of Wimborne and Cranborne: 108 miles from London (coach road 93), 12 from Salisbury. — South Western Rail. through Bishopstoke to Salisbury, thence 12 miles: from Derby, through Rugby, Oxford, and Reading, to Salisbury, &c., 201 miles. — Money orders issued here: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 8 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m. — This ancient town derives its name from the Saxon gren, a crane, and burn, a river: it is pleasantly situated in the midst of a fine champaign country. Most of the houses are well built, and have a plentiful supply of water. A Benedictine monastery was founded here in 980 by Ailward de Meau, who then possessed the manor. In 1102, the abbot, with his brethren, retired to Tewkesbury, where a magnificent abbey had been founded by Robert Fitz-Hamon, to which the first establishment became a cell. The priory was pulled down in 1703, with the exception of the church, which is now the parish church, and is one of the most ancient in the county. There is an old chase here, which, in ancient times, was a vast tract of unenclosed woodlands, without roads. It was afterwards cut into ridings, planted with evergreens, and subsequently divided into eight district walks. It still contains at least 10,000 head of deer, and packs of hounds have always been kept in the neighbourhood. The old manor-house was embattled, and called the castle, and in it the chase courts were regularly held. It contains a room, called the dungeon, in which offenders against the chase laws were confined. Cranborne is divided into three liberties—the tithing, the priory, and the borough, each of which has a tithing-man and a bailiff. The weaving of ribbons was formerly carried on here to a considerable extent, but the trade has now much declined. The charities amount to about £16. 10s. per annum, besides church lands of the annual value of about £37, and the Boveridge almshouse for five paupers: disbursements about £86. 10s. per annum. This is the birth-place of Bishop Stillingfleet, who was born in 1635, and was famous for his learning and piety. He was educated at St. John's College, Cambridge, was made archdeacon of London and dean of St. Paul's, and at the Revolution was raised to the see of Worcester. His principal works are the Origines Sacrae, an account of natural and revealed religion; and his Origines Britannicae. He died in 1699. The Marquis of Salisbury derives his title of viscount from Cranborne. — The living (St. Bartholomew), a disch<sup>d</sup>. vicarage, with the curacies of Boveridge and Verwood, formerly in the archd<sup>y</sup>. of Dorset, and diocese of Bristol, now in the diocese of Sarum, is valued at £6. 13s. 4d.: pres. net income, £151: patron, Marquis of Salisbury: pres. incumbent, J. H. Carnegie, 1842: contains 13,730 acres: 410 houses: pop<sup>n</sup>. in 1841, 2,551: probable pop<sup>n</sup>. in 1849, 2,933: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>y</sup>. £3,973: poor rates in 1838, £1,050. — Fairs: December 6, August 24, for cheese and sheep. — Inns: Cross Keys, Fleur-de-lis. — Cranborne Lodge is the seat of John Tregonwell, Esq., a younger son, by a second marriage, of the late Lewis Dimoke-Grosvenor Tregonwell, Esq., of Auderston, a descendant of the ancient family of Tregonwell.

CRANBROOKE, KENT, a market town and parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> and union of Cranbrooke, lathe of Scray: 61 miles from London (coach road 49), 14 from Maidstone. — Sou. East. Rail. to Staplehurst station, thence 8 miles: from Derby, through London, &c. 193 miles. — Money orders issued here: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 7 a.m. and 5½ p.m.: post closes 9½ a.m. and 10 p.m. — Cranbrooke, formerly spelt Cranebroke, is situated on a small brook called the Crane, from which it derives its name. The town principally consists of one wide street, about three quarters of a mile in length, from which a smaller one diverges at right angles. It is well paved and lighted with gas, containing some well-built houses, which have an ample supply of water. The church, a spacious, well-proportioned edifice, contains several monuments of the Roberts family. When Edward III. introduced the manufacture of woollen cloth, the first manufactory was erected here; and it continued the centre of that manufacture, till it was removed to the counties of Gloucester and Somerset. The principal trade of the town is now in hops. The market-house is a neat octagonal edifice, surmounted by a cupola. This town is a polling-place for the western division of the county. The Calvinistic Baptists, Huntingdonians, Independents, Wesleyan Methodists, and Unitarians, have chapels here. There is a free grammar-school, endowed with £135 per annum, another with £5 per annum, and a school-house. William Huntington, a religious enthusiast, and founder of a sect called Huntingtonians, was a native of this parish. He was born in 1744; his father was a farmer's labourer, and he passed the earlier part of his life in humble occupations. After several years spent in vice and dissipation, he, according to his own statement, became converted, and preached among the Calvinistic Methodists. When his first wife died, he married the opulent widow of Sir James Sanderson, a London merchant. He died in 1813, and was buried at Lewes, in Sussex. Sir Richard Baker, author of a 'Chronicle of the Kings of England,' also a native of this parish, was born in 1568, at Sissinghurst Castle. He died in 1645. There are several mineral springs in the vicinity of the town. — The living (St Dunstan), a vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Maidstone, and diocese of Canterbury, is valued at £19. 19s. 4½d.: pres. net income, £163: patron, Archbishop of Canterbury: pres. incumbent, F. Barrow, 1841: contains 10,460 acres: 639 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 3,996: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 4,595: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £13,102: poor rates in 1838, £2,102. 7s. The tithes were commuted in 1839. — Market days for live stock, hops, and corn, every alternate Wednesday. Fairs: May 30, and September 29, cattle. — Bankers: Branch of London and County Joint Stock Banking Company—draw on Head Office, 21 Lombard Street. — Inns: Bull, and George. — W., Angley House is the residence of the Hon. Mrs. King.

CRANFIELD, BEDFORD, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Redborne-Stoke, union of Ampthill: 59 miles from London (coach road 51), 6 from Newport-Pagnell, 9 from Bedford. — Nor. West. Rail. through Bletchley to Woburn, thence 3 miles: from Derby, through Rugby and Bletchley to Woburn, &c., 98 miles. — Money orders issued at Newport-Pagnell: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8½ a.m.: post closes 7½ p.m. — There is a daily school here, with an annual endowment of £18. The Baptists have a place of worship here, licensed under the new marriage act. There is a mineral spring in this parish. Cranfield gives the title of baron to the Duke of Dorset. — The living (St. Peter and St. Paul), a rectory, formerly in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Bedford, and diocese of Lincoln, now in the diocese of Ely, is valued at £33. 2s. 1d.: pres. net income, £376: patron, James C. Harter: pres. incumbent, G. G. Harter, 1845: contains 3,500 acres: 248 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,371: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,576: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £4,256: poor rates in 1838, £516. 6s.

CRANFORD, NORTHAMPTON, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Huxloe, union of Kettering: 94 miles from London (coach road 74), 4 from Kettering, 5 from Thrapstone. — Nor. West. Rail. through Northampton to Thrapstone, thence 5 miles: from Derby, through Weedon and Northampton, &c., 106 miles. — Money orders issued at Kettering: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9½ a.m.: post closes 4½ p.m. — The living (St. Andrew and St. John), two united rectories in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Peterborough, are valued at £9. 9s. 7d. and £12: pres. net income, £150 and £198: patron, Sir J. Robinson: pres. incumbent, Sir G. Robinson, Bart., 1822: contains 2,420 acres: 105 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 598: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 688: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £2,541: poor rates in 1837, £109. 7s. — Tithes, of Cranford St. Andrew, commuted in 1775, and Cranford St. John in 1805. — Cranford Hall, the seat of the Rev. Sir George Stamp Robinson, Bart., is a modern building, surrounded by a spacious lawn and pleasure-grounds. Sir George is descended from Alderman Sir John Robinson, Knt., lord mayor of the city of London, who, in 1660, was created a baronet as a reward for his efforts to forward the Restoration. Sir George, his descendant, M.P. for Northampton, dying without issue in 1833, was succeeded by his nephew, the present Rev. Sir George Stamp Robinson, as fifth baronet.

CRANFORD, MIDDLESEX, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Elthorne: 12 miles from London. — There is a bridge here across the river Colne, which flows through the parish. — The living (St. Dunstan), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Middlesex, and diocese of London, is valued at £16: pres. net income, £258: patron, Earl Fitzhardinge: pres. incumbent, H. W. Hickey, 1837: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 377: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, same.

CRANHAM, ESSEX, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Chafford, union of Romford, bounded on the west by the river Ingerburn: 16 miles from London, 4 from Romford, 6 from Barking. — East. Co<sup>r</sup> Rail. to Romford, thence 4 miles: from Derby, through London, &c., 248 miles. — London letters—three posts each way daily. — This place was formerly known as Bishop's Ockendon, otherwise Wokendon. — The living (All Saints), a rectory in the diocese of Rochester, is valued at £13. 13s. 4d.: pres. net income, £560: patron, St. John's College, Oxford: pres. incumbent, T. Ludbey, 1818: contains 1,880 acres: 53 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 280: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £2,808: poor rates in 1838, £107. 9s. Tithes commuted in 1839.

CRANHAM, GLOUCESTER, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Rapsgate, union of Stroud: 108 miles from London (coach road 106), 2 from Painswick, 7 from Gloucester. — Gt. West. Rail. through Swindon to Stroud, thence 6 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham to Gloucester, 85 miles. — Money orders issued at Gloucester: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 4½ p.m. — There is a manufactory of earthenware here. — The living (St. James) is a disch<sup>d</sup> rectory, united with that of Brimpsfield: contains 1,970 acres: 75 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 428: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 492: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,389: poor rates in 1838, £38. 14s.

CRANLEY, SURREY, a parish in the second division of the hun<sup>d</sup> of Blackheath, union of Hubbleton, in the vicinity of the Arun and Wey Canal: 42 miles from London (coach road 32), 7 from Godalming, 9 from Dorking.---Sou. West. Rail. to Gomshall station, thence 8 miles: from Derby, through London, &c., 174 miles.---Money orders issued at Guildford: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 4 p.m.---The church is a large handsome structure, with a richly-ornamented chapel. At Vacherie is a moat surrounding the foundations of the ancient baronial residence of the earls of Surrey. Cranley gives the title of viscount to the Earl of Onslow.---The living (St. Nicholas), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Surrey, and diocese of Winchester, is valued at £20. 18s. 1½d.: pres. net income, £1,195: patron, Rev. J. H. Sapse, Esq.: pres. incumbent, J. H. Sapse, 1847: contains 7,420 acres: 202 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,357: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,500: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £5,721: poor rates in 1837, £806. 6s.---Fair, Whit-Tuesday.

CRANMORE (WEST), SOMERSET, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Wells-Forum, union of Shepton-Mallet: 125 miles from London (coach road 113), 3 from Shepton-Mallet, 7 from Frome.---Gt. West. Rail. through Chippenham to Westbury, thence 15 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Bristol to Westbury, &c., 185 miles.---Money orders issued at Shepton-Mallet: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 6½ p.m.---The living (St. Bartholomew) is a curacy, united to the vicarage of Doultling: contains 2,160 acres: 58 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 319: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 367: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £3,040: poor rates in 1838, £105. 9s.---S., Hill House.

CRANMORE (EAST), SOMERSET, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Frome, union of Shepton-Mallet: 112 miles from London.---(For access and postal arrangements, see above.)---The district, comprising East and West Cranmore, was exempted from all suit and service to the hundred courts, and made into a liberty by Henry I. West Cranmore is the place of interment of the inhabitants.---The living (St. James) is a curacy to the vicarage of Doultling: contains 980 acres: 10 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 66: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,605: poor rates in 1838, £45. 11s.---Cranmore Hall is the seat of John Moore Paget, Esq., a descendant of the Rev. John Paget, born in 1664, said to have been the grandson of the fourth brother of one of the Lords Paget. He possessed an estate in Northampton, where he resided, till presented by Lord Willoughby de Broke to the rectory of Pointington, Somerset, which manor he purchased of his lordship. From that gentleman, Mr. Paget of Cranmore is the fourth in descent.

CRANOE, LEICESTER, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Gartree, union of Market-Harborough: 103 miles from London (coach road 86), 6 from Market-Harborough, 3 from Tugby.---Nor. West. Rail. through Rugby to Market-Harborough, thence 6 miles: from Derby, through Rugby, &c., 71 miles.---Money orders issued at Market-Harborough: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9½ a.m.: post closes 5 p.m.---The annual amount expended in charities is about £10. 11s. per annum.---The living (St. Michael), a rectory, formerly in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Leicester, and diocese of Lincoln, now in the diocese of Peterborough, is valued at £8. 16s. 8d.: pres. net income, £250: patron, Earl of Cardigan: pres. incumbent, J. H. Hill, 1837: contains 990 acres: 22 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 137: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £945: poor rates in 1838, £52. 13s. Tithes commuted in 1805.

CRANSFORD, SUFFOLK, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> and union of Plomesgate, west of the river Adde: 98 miles from London (coach road 85), 2 from Framlingham, 6 from Saxmundham.---East. Co<sup>r</sup> Rail. to Stowmarket, thence 20 miles: from Derby, through London, &c., 230 miles.---Money orders issued at Framlingham: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8½ a.m.: post closes 6½ p.m.---The living (St. Peter), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Suffolk, and diocese of Norwich, is valued at £6. 13s. 4d.: pres. net income, £430: patron, G. W. Pooley, Esq.: pres. incumbent, G. F. Pooley, 1846: contains 2,180 acres: 64 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 303: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 348: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,523: poor rates in 1838, £210. 14s. Tithes commuted in 1839.---Cransford Hall, the residence of Thomas Borrett, Esq., who is lord of the manor.

CRANSLEY, NORTHAMPTON, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Orlingbury, union of Kettering: 107 miles from London, 3 from Kettering, 10 from Market-Harborough.---Nor. West. Rail. through Rugby to Market-Harborough, thence 10 miles: from Derby, through Rugby, &c., 75 miles.---Money orders issued at Kettering: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9½ a.m.: post closes 4½ p.m.---There is a daily school here, with an endowment of £26 per annum. Other charities amount to about £1 per annum.---The living (St. Andrew), a disch<sup>d</sup> vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Northampton, and diocese of Peterborough, is valued at £8. 5s.: pres. net income, £78: patron, W. St. Rose, Esq.: pres. incumbent, J. Routledge, 1831: contains 2,510 acres: 54 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 319: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 327: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £3,705: poor rates in 1838, £148. 10s.---Cransley Lodge.

CRANTOCK, CORNWALL, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Pyder, union of St. Columb Major: 314 miles from London (coach road 261), 7 from St. Michael, 7 from Camborne.---Gt. West. Rail. through Bristol and Exeter to Plymouth, thence 70 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham, Bristol, &c., 328 miles.---Money orders issued at St. Michael: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 4 p.m.: post closes 8 p.m.---The parish is bounded on the north by the Bristol Channel, and at the mouth of the river Gannel it has a small harbour. In the time of Edward the Confessor, the church was made collegiate for secular canons, and at the dissolution had a revenue of £89. 15s. 8d. The charities amount to about £1 per annum, besides the dues of one-sixteenth of some tin-bands in St. Agnes for the support of poor widows, but the mine has long been unproductive.---The living (St. Cadock) is a perpetual curacy in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Cornwall, and diocese of Exeter: pres. net income, £78: patron, Sir J. B. Y. Buller, Bart.: pres. incumbent, W. B. Bennet, 1842: contains 2,480 acres: 80 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 450: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 517: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £3,244: poor rates in 1838, £188. 5s.

CRANWELL, LINCOLN, a parish in the hund<sup>d</sup> of Flaxwell, parts of Kesteven, union of Sleaford: 162 miles from London (coach road 119), 4 from Sleaford, 14 from Lincoln. — Nor. West. Rail. through Rugby and Nottingham to Newark, thence 15 miles: from Derby, through Newark, &c., 49 miles. — Money orders issued at Sleaford: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 4½ p.m. — The living (St. Andrew) is a disch<sup>d</sup> vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Lincoln: pres. net income, £199: patron, Bishop of Lincoln: pres. incumbent, R. A. Scott, 1846: contains 2,480 acres: 38 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 230: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £1,801: poor rates in 1838, £156. 5s.

CRANWICK, NORFOLK, a parish in the hund<sup>d</sup> of Grianshoe, union of Thetford, on the southern bank of the Wissey: 94 miles from London (coach road 80), 6 from Stoke-Ferry, 3 from Methwold. — Nor. and East. Co<sup>a</sup> Rail. through Ely to Brandon, thence 6 miles: from Derby, through Syston, Peterborough, and Ely, to Brandon, &c., 132 miles. — Money orders issued at Brandon: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8½ a.m.: post closes 5½ p.m. — The church is a small edifice, with a tower, built of flint, supposed to have been erected by King Harold, by one of whose freemen the place was possessed in the time of Edward the Confessor. — The living (St. Mary), a disch<sup>d</sup> rectory, with the vicarage of Methwold, in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Norfolk, and diocese of Norwich, is valued at £8. 9s. 7d.: pres. net income, £450: patron, Lord Berners: pres. incumbent, V. E. Eyre, 1833: contains 1,550 acres: 15 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 108: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £949: poor rates in 1838, £88. Tithes commuted in 1839.

CRANWORTH, SUFFOLK, a parish in the hund<sup>d</sup> of Mitford, union of Mitford and Launditch, on the Blackwater river: 124 miles from London (coach road 95), 3 from Shipdham, 5 from Watton. — Nor. and East. Co<sup>a</sup> Rail. through Ely and Wymondham to Hardingham station, thence 3 miles: from Derby, through Syston, Peterborough, and Dereham, to Hardingham, &c., 156 miles. — Money orders issued at Thetford: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9½ a.m.: post closes 6 p.m. — The parochial charities produce about £9, besides four chaldrons of coals, and a joint interest in £14 per annum, to the poor of the hundred. — The living (St. Mary), a rectory, united with that of Letton, in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Norfolk, and diocese of Norwich, is valued at £5. 18s. 6½d.: pres. net income, £307: patron, Rev. P. Gurdon: pres. incumbent, P. Gurdon, 1832: contains 1,100 acres: 59 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 340: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 391: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £1,458: poor rates in 1838, £71.

CRASTER, NORTHUMBERLAND, a township in the parish of Embleton—(which see for access, &c.): 313 miles from London, 6 from Alnwick, 12 from Belford. — Money orders issued at Alnwick: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 1½ a.m.: post closes noon. — The village, situated on the coast of the North Sea, is called Craster Sea Houses. — Contains 36 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 247: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £900: poor rates in 1838, £43. 11s. — Craster Tower is the seat of Thomas Wood Craster, Esq. It is built of basalt, and stands in a grove of forest trees, commanding beautiful sea views through the chasms of a bold chain of rocks running between it and the shore. It has some neat grounds attached. The manor of Crawcestre, or Craucestre, was a portion of the barony of Emildon, granted by Henry I. to the house of Visconti, to be holden for three knights' fees; but since the forfeiture of Simon de Montfort, Earl of Leicester, who possessed the barony from Ranetta, a daughter of John le Visconti, the manor of Craucestre has been held by the crown in capite. Descended thus from a long line of ancestry, from almost the time of the Conquest, was William Craster, Esq. of Craster, lieutenant-colonel to William, first Lord Widdrington, and governor of Morpeth Castle, which he defended for Charles I. His son Edmund was twice high sheriff of Northumberland under Charles II.; and his descendant, George Craster, Esq. of Craster, an officer of the second troop of Horse Grenadier Guards, dying without issue in 1772, the estates devolved on his kinsman in 1772, Daniel Craster, Esq., great-grandson of Daniel, his third son, whose son, Shafto Craster, Esq. of Craster, high sheriff in 1803, left an only daughter in 1837, when, according to the will of George Craster, Esq., the estates devolved on the present possessor, Thomas Wood, Esq., who, on inheriting the property, assumed, by sign-manual, the surname of Craster. Mr. Craster is a magistrate and deputy-lieutenant of Northumberland.

CRASWELL (LOWER AND UPPER), HEREFORD, a township in the parish of Clodock—(which see for access, &c.): 151 miles from London, 6 from Hay, 16 from Hereford. — Money orders issued at Hay: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 11 a.m.: post closes noon. — Walter de Lacy founded a monastery here at the close of the reign of King John, for a prior and ten religious of the order of Grandmont in Normandy, and at the seizure of alien priories it was valued at 40s. per annum, and granted temp. Edward IV. to God's house, now Christ's College, Cambridge. In the neighbourhood is a quarry of excellent stone. — The living is a perpetual curacy in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Brecon, and diocese of St. David's: pres. net income, £47: patron, Vicar of Clodock: pres. incumbent, T. Thoresby, 1830: contains 75 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 374: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 429: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £1,896: poor rates in 1838, £126. 5s.

CRATFIELD, SUFFOLK, a parish in the hund<sup>d</sup> and union of Blything: 104 miles from London (coach road 95), 5 from Halesworth, 9 from Framlingham. — East. Co<sup>a</sup> Rail. to Mellis station, thence 10 miles: from Derby, through Syston, Peterborough, and Norwich, to Mellis, &c., 197 miles. — Money orders issued at Halesworth: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 5 p.m. — The parochial charities amount to about £150 per annum. — The living (St. Mary), a disch<sup>d</sup> vicarage, with that of Laxfield, in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Suffolk, diocese of Norwich, is valued at £5. 7s. 11d.: pres. net income, £290: patron, Rev. E. Holland: pres. incumbent, J. L. Farrer, 1804: contains 1,930 acres: 75 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 720: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 828: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £2,418: poor rates in 1838, £277. 19s.

CRATHORNE, NORTH RIDING, YORK, a parish in the west division of the liberty of Langbaugh, union of Stokesley, on a branch of the Tees: 280 miles from London (coach road 244), 4 from Yarm, 12 from North Allerton.---Nor. West. Rail. through Rugby, Derby, and York, to Yarm station, thence 4 miles: from Derby, through York, &c., 147 miles.---Money orders issued at Yarm: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 4 p.m.---The church is an ancient edifice, containing the figure of an armed knight, lying cross-legged, with the arms of Crathorne on his shield. Linen was extensively manufactured in this parish. There is a place of worship here for Roman Catholics, and a daily school with a small endowment. Near the village there is a mineral spring.---The living (All Saints), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Cleveland, and diocese of York, is valued at £10. 11s. 10<sup>d</sup>.: pres. net income, £205: patron, Representatives of Misses Cockayne: pres. incumbent, R. Grenside, 1827: contains 2,460 acres: 68 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 294: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £2,822: poor rates in 1838, £156. 13s.

CRAWCROOK, DURHAM, a township in the parish of Ryton, south of the river Tyne---(which see for access, &c.): 269 miles from London, 8 from Gateshead, 8 from Newcastle.---Money orders issued at Newcastle: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 11<sup>1</sup>/<sub>2</sub> a.m.: post closes 1<sup>1</sup>/<sub>2</sub> p.m.---There is a school here, endowed with £25 per annum.---Contains 1,390 acres: 62 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 290: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £2,147: poor rates in 1838, £93. 18s.

CRAWFORD-TARRANT WITH PRESTON (or LITTLE CRAWFORD), DORSET, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Badbury, union of Blandford, Shaston division of the county: 122 miles from London (coach road 104), 3 from Blandford-Forum, 8 from Bere-Regis.---Sou. West. Rail. through Southampton to Wimborne, thence 7 miles: from Derby, through Rugby, Oxford, Reading, and Southampton, to Wimborne, &c., 211 miles.---Money orders issued at Blandford: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 7 p.m.---In 1230, Richard Poor, successively Bishop of Chichester, Salisbury, and Durham, founded an abbey of Cistercian nuns, which at the dissolution had a revenue of £239. 11s. 10<sup>d</sup>.---The living (St. Mary) is a donative, formerly in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Dorset, and diocese of Bristol, now in the diocese of Sarum: pres. net income, £50: patron, J. S. W. S. E. Drax, Esq.: pres. incumbent, R. R. Knott, 1849: contains 600 acres: 16 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 67: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,056: poor rates in 1838, £40.

CRAWLEY, NORTHUMBERLAND, a township in the parish of Eglingham, south of the river Breamish---(which see for access, &c.): 315 miles from London, 8 from Alnwick, 10 from Wooler.---Money orders issued at Alnwick: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 2 p.m.: post closes 11<sup>1</sup>/<sub>2</sub> a.m.---This was anciently called Crawlawe, from Caer-law, a fortified hill. Crawley tower, a Roman edifice, is situated on an eminence near an ancient strong intrenchment, supposed by some to be the Alauna Amnis of Richard of Cirencester, and commands a beautiful view of the vale of Whittingham, with the river Breamish, from its source to Alnwick Castle. Within four miles of this spot are the remains of seven British and Saxon fortifications.---Contains 5 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 20: poor rates in 1838, £47. 2s. The tithes were commuted in 1839.

CRAWLEY, OXFORD, a hamlet in the parish of Witney, on the northern bank of the river Windrush---(which see for access, &c.): 67 miles from London, 2 from Witney, 5 from Bampton.---Money orders issued at Witney: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8<sup>1</sup>/<sub>2</sub> a.m.: post closes 8<sup>1</sup>/<sub>2</sub> p.m.---Contains 910 acres: 52 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 252: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,122: poor rates in 1838, £471. 4s.

CRAWLEY, HAMPSHIRE, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Buddlesgate, union of Winchester: it includes the chapelry of Hunton: 72 miles from London (coach road 61), 5 from Winchester, 8 from Andover.---Sou. West. Rail. to Winchester, thence 5 miles: from Derby, through Rugby, Oxford, and Reading, to Winchester, &c., 159 miles.---Money orders issued at Winchester: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8<sup>1</sup>/<sub>2</sub> a.m.: post closes 7<sup>1</sup>/<sub>2</sub> p.m.---The living (St. Mary), a rectory, with the curacy of Hunton, a peculiar in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Winchester, is valued at £35. 13s. 4<sup>d</sup>.: pres. net income, £690: patron, Bishop of Winchester: pres. incumbent, Philip Jacob, 1831: contains 4,170 acres: 84 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 483: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 555: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £3,292: poor rates in 1838, £355. 15s.

CRAWLEY, SUSSEX, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Buthinghill, Lewes rape, union of East Grinstead: 31 miles from London (coach road 22), 9 from Cuckfield, 9 from Horsham.---Brighton Rail. to Crawley: from Derby, through London, &c., 163 miles.---Money orders issued at Cuckfield: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 10<sup>1</sup>/<sub>2</sub> a.m.: post closes 7 p.m.---The living (St. John the Baptist), a disch<sup>d</sup> rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Lewes, and diocese of Chichester, is valued at £6. 15s.: pres. net income, £116: patron, Mrs. Clitherow: pres. incumbent, C. A. Fowler, 1848: contains 820 acres: 66 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 449: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 516: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,645: poor rates in 1838, £131. 13s.---Fairs: May 8, and September 9.

CRAWLEY (HUSBORNE), BEDFORD, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Manshead, union of Woburn: 51 miles from London (coach road 47), 2 from Woburn, 5 from Ampthill.---Nor. West. Rail. through Bletchley to Woburn station, thence 2 miles: from Derby, through Rugby and Bletchley to Woburn, &c., 89 miles.---Money orders issued at Woburn: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 7<sup>1</sup>/<sub>2</sub> a.m.: post closes 6<sup>1</sup>/<sub>2</sub> p.m.---The living, a disch<sup>d</sup> vicarage, formerly in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Bedford, and diocese of Lincoln, now in the diocese of Ely, is valued at £9: pres. net income, £46: patron, Duke of Bedford: pres. incumbent, T. Farmer, 1813: contains 1,520 acres: 118 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 656: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 754: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £2,074: poor rates in 1838, £342. 2s. Tithes commuted in 1795.

CRAY, BRECON, a hamlet in the parish of Devynock, South Wales---(which see for access, &c.): 9 miles from Brecknock.---Money orders issued at Brecknock: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 2<sup>1</sup>/<sub>2</sub> p.m.: post closes 1 p.m.---A chapel has been erected at Llanllid for the inhabitants of this hamlet.---Contains 99 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 502: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 577: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £2,428: poor rates in 1838, £270. 9s.

CRAY-FOOTS, KENT, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Ruxley, lathes of Sutton-at-Hone, union of Bromley: 12 miles from Foot's Cray, 5 from Dartford.---(For access, &c., see NORTH CRAY.)

London letters: two posts each way daily.---The parish derives its name from Fot or Vot, who owned it in the reign of Edward the Confessor, and the river Cray, which runs on the east of the village. There is a school here, endowed with the interest of £200 (5 per cents.), for the children of this place and Chiselhurst. The school-house is also a benefaction.---The living (All Saints), a rectory in the diocese of Canterbury, is valued at £8. 3s. 4d.: pres. net income, £251: patron, Lord Chancellor: pres. incumbent, E. H. Warriner, 1823: contains 620 acres: 52 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 358: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 411: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £2,661: poor rates in 1837, £151. 1s.---Foot's Cray Place is the seat of Lord Bexley, a descendant of the German family of Vansittart, who have been settled in this country about a century and a half. Peter Vansittart, the first settler in England, was an eminent Russian merchant, and father of Arthur Vansittart, Esq., verderer of Windsor Forest, who died in 1760, and whose third son, Henry Vansittart, Esq., was governor of Bengal, and one of the committee of three appointed, by the directors of the East India Company, supervisors of their affairs in the East, who were lost in the Aurora frigate in 1770. His son, Nicholas Vansittart, F.R.S. and S.A., succeeded him. He was born in 1766, and filled the office of chancellor of the exchequer from 1812 to the commencement of 1823, when, upon his retirement, he was created Baron Bexley. His lordship is a commissioner of the land-tax and of the Royal Military College, a director of Greenwich Hospital, and a privy councillor.

CRAY (St. Mary's), KENT, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Ruxley, lathe of Sutton-at-Hone, union of Bromley: 13 miles from London, 2 from Foot's Cray, 8 from Woolwich.---(For access and postal arrangements, see NORTH CRA.)---"The Crays," so named from the river Cray which flows through it, is a beautiful tract, producing large quantities of birch. There is a school here, partly supported from the rent of a farm at Edenbridge, producing £64 per annum, for this and the adjacent parish of Orpington. The other charities amount to about £6, besides three almshouses.---The living (St. Mary), a curacy, annexed to the vicarage of Orpington, in the diocese of Canterbury, is valued at £8. 3s. 4d., having jointly a pres. net income of £341: patron, the Rector: pres. incumbent, G. F. Dawson, 1848: contains 2,017 acres: 52 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 997: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,147: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £2,661: poor rates in 1848, £250.---Fairs: Feb. 2, and Sept. 10.

CRAY (NORTH), KENT, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Ruxley, lathe of Sutton-at-Hone, union of Bromley: 20 miles from London (coach road 13), 1 from Bexley, 6 from Bromley.---Gravesend Rail. to Dartford, thence 3 miles: from Derby, through London, &c., 152 miles.---London letters: three posts each way daily.---This parish is beautifully diversified with villas and cultivated domains, and in the grounds of Vale Maccall is a picturesque cascade. In 1723, a subterraneous fire broke out, which was not quenched for several days. There is a school here, endowed with about £21 per annum, and an almshouse for five paupers. Other charities amount to about £12. 10s., of which £10. 10s. is a donation from the Goldsmiths' Company, London.---The living (St. James), a rectory in the diocese of Canterbury, is valued at £13. 9s. 9d.: pres. net income, £396: patron, Lord Bexley: pres. incumbent, E. Wyatt Edgell, 1834: contains 1,160 acres: 56 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 517: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 594: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £2,919: poor rates in 1838, £192.---N., Baldwins.

CRAY (St. Paul's), KENT, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Ruxley, lathe of Sutton-at-Hone, union of Bromley: 13 miles from London, 2 from Foot's Cray.---(For access, see NORTH CRA.)---London letters: two posts each way daily.---The charities are about £3. 10s. per annum, with which six children are taught.---The living (St. Paulinus), a rectory in the diocese of Canterbury, is valued at £12. 13s. 4d.: pres. net income, £483: patron, Viscount Sidney: pres. incumbent, R. B. Bourne, 1837: contains 630 acres: 81 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 564: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 648: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £2,722: poor rates in 1838, £150. 7s.

CRAYFORD, KENT, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Lessness, lathe of Sutton-at-Hone, union of Dartford: 18 miles from London (coach road 13), 2 from Dartford.---Gravesend Rail. to Dartford, thence 1 mile: from Derby, through London, &c., 150 miles.---London letters: three posts each way daily.---Crayford derives its name from Crecomford, an ancient ford on the river Crecon, now called Cray, which has two streams, both of which flow through this place, and on the banks there are several extensive bleaching grounds and establishments for printing silk and calico; also, until recently, a large mill for the construction of iron hoops. The latter is now simply a flour-mill. The commerce and importance of Crayford has lately increased so considerably, that a ship canal has been projected to connect it with Dartford and the Thames. The village consists of an irregular street, diverging from the left of the road from London to Dartford, on an eminence at the upper end of which stands the church, a neat building. In this parish there are numerous caverns from fifteen to twenty fathoms deep, containing rooms, one within the other, supported on chalk pillars, and supposed by some to have been used as a refuge by the Saxons, but by others to have been merely pits whence chalk was taken. The manor-house, erected and resided in by Sir Cloudesley Shovel, is moated, and is now occupied by a farmer. There is a Baptist chapel here, also a national school with a small endowment. Other charities amount to about £33 per annum. It is supposed by antiquaries, that near Crayford was the great Roman station Noviomagus, in the neighbourhood of which a decisive battle was fought in 457, between Hengist the Saxon, and the British King Vortimer, in which the latter was entirely routed, and most of his followers slain.---The living (St. Paulinus), a rectory, formerly a peculiar, but now a portion of the diocese of Canterbury, is valued at £35. 13s. 4d.: pres. net income, £369: patron, T. Austen, Esq.: pres. incumbent, A. Onslow, 1813: contains 238 acres: 338 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 2,408: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 2,769: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £6,248: poor rates in 1838, £604. 12s.---Fair, September 8.---May Place is the residence of John Fasset Burnett, Esq.

CREACOMBE, DEVON, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Witheridge, union of South Molton, on the river Sturcomb: 194 miles from London (coach road 171), 7 from South Molton, 8 from Dulverton.---Gt. West. Rail. through Bristol to Tiverton, thence 10 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Bristol to Tiverton, &c., 217 miles.---Money orders issued at South Molton: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 10½ a.m.: post closes 5 p.m.---The charities amount to about 16s.---The living (St. Michael), a disch<sup>d</sup> rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Barnstaple, and diocese of Exeter, is valued at £4. 18s. 9d.: pres. net income, £153: patron, Rev. W. Karslake: pres. incumbent, W. H. Karslake, 1832: contains 1,190 acres: 7 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, £58: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £372: poor rates in 1838, £21. Tithes commuted in 1839.

CREAKE, or CREYK (NORTH), NORFOLK, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Brothercross, union of Docking: 146 miles from London (coach road 115), 8 from Burnham-Westgate, 6 from Wells.---Nor. and East. Co<sup>r</sup>. Rail. through Ely to Fakenham, thence 7 miles: from Derby, through Syston and Peterborough to Fakenham, &c., 165 miles.---Money orders issued at Lynn: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 11 a.m.: post closes 5 p.m.---There is a school here, endowed by the late Mr. Herod with £10 per annum. The other charities amount to about £5. 8s. per annum, besides Mansaur almshouses, and a contingent fund, the bequest of Mr. Herod, of £616. 11s., to be applied to charitable purposes on the death of an annuitant. In ancient times there was a monastery here, founded by Sir Robert de Hereford. In the reign of Henry VII. it was dissolved, and its possessions became the property of Christ's College, Cambridge.---The living (St. Mary), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Norfolk, and diocese of Norwich, is valued at £33. 6s. 8d.: pres. net income, £1,077: patrons, Earl Spencer and the Bishop of Norwich alternately: pres. incumbent, Hon. T. R. Keppel, 1844: contains 3,460 acres: 134 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 648: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 745: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £3,816: poor rates in 1838, £592. 5s. Tithes commuted in 1839.

CREAKE (SOUTH), NORFOLK, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Brothercross, union of Docking: 114 miles from London (coach road 115), 6 from Fakenham, 7 from Wells.---Nor. and East. Co<sup>r</sup>. Rail. through Wymondham to Fakenham, thence 6 miles: from Derby, through Syston and Peterborough to Fakenham, &c., 163 miles.---Money orders issued at Fakenham: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 3 p.m.---The Independents have a place of worship here. The charities amount to about £100 per annum, chiefly divided among the poor, in coal, bread, alms, &c., besides an almshouse, occupied by a pauper. In the neighbourhood there is a Saxon fortification, near which a battle was fought between the Saxons and the Danes.---The living (St. Mary), a disch<sup>d</sup> vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Norfolk, and diocese of Norwich, is valued at £22: pres. net income, £375: patron, Lord C. Townsend: pres. incumbent, H. Goggs, 1824: contains 3,820 acres: 187 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 940: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,081: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £3,587: poor rates in 1838, £402. 18s.

CREATON (GREAT), NORTHAMPTON, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Guilsborough, union of Brixworth: 74 miles from London (coach road 73), 7 from Northampton, 7 from Welford.---Nor. West. Rail. to Northampton, thence 7 miles: from Derby, through Weedon to Northampton, &c., 86 miles.---Money orders issued at Northampton: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 8 p.m.---The charities amount to about £1 per annum. The Independents have a place of worship here. In this parish are the remains of Holmby House, in which Charles I. was confined.---The living (St. Michael), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Northampton, and diocese of Peterborough, is valued at £11. 1s. 8d.: pres. net income, £210: patron, Rev. E. T. Beynon: pres. incumbent, J. M'Cormick, 1843: contains 790 acres: 113 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 505: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 581: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £2,186: poor rates in 1838, £295. 6s. Tithes commuted in 1782.

CREATON (LITTLE), NORTHAMPTON, a hamlet in the parish of Spratton: 72 miles from London.---(For access and postal arrangements, see above.)---Contains 19 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 77: poor rates in 1838, £57. 12s. Tithes commuted in 1782.

CREDENHILL, HEREFORD, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Grimsworth, union of Hereford: 146 miles from London (coach road 140), 5 from Hereford, 11 from Leominster.---Gt. West. Rail. through Oxford to Worcester, thence 28 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham to Worcester, &c., 99 miles.---Money orders issued at Hereford: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8½ a.m.: post closes 4 p.m.---The charities amount to about 7s. On the summit of a lofty hill are the remains of a strong ancient camp, enclosing an area of nearly 40 acres, supposed to have been constructed by the Romans, and commanding a beautiful and extensive prospect.---The living (St. Mary), a disch<sup>d</sup> rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Hereford, is valued at £17. 19s. 4d.: pres. net income, £297: patron, Rev. J. Eckley: pres. incumbent, John Eckley, 1835: contains 1,170 acres: 41 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 192: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £1,784: poor rates in 1838, £127. 18s.---Credenhill is the seat of John Eckley, Esq., grandson of Richard, second son of Edmund Eckley, Esq. Mr. Eckley is a magistrate of the county of Hereford, for which he served as high sheriff in 1842.

CREDITON, DEVON, a market town, or borough and parish, in the above hun<sup>d</sup>, union of Crediton: 199 miles from London (coach road 180), 7 from Exeter.---Gt. West. Rail. through Bristol and Exeter to Crediton, &c.: from Derby, through Birmingham and Bristol, &c., to Crediton, 213 miles.---Money orders issued here: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 7½ a.m.: post closes 6.45 p.m.---Crediton, commonly pronounced Kirton, derives its name from its situation near the river Creedy, which joins the Exe between this place and Exeter. It is pleasantly situated between two hills, looking to the north and to the south, and is divided into two parts, the east and the west: in the latter of which a large fire, in the year 1743, destroyed 450 houses, and a second fire, in May, 1769, consumed many that had been rebuilt. The latter is still the most extensive, although the former is the most ancient. It consists principally of one main street, nearly a mile long, partially paved, with low cottages at each extremity, and some good houses in the centre (where there is also a range of shambles), with a good supply of water. Crediton was a place of great importance in the time of the Saxons, when it was the seat of a diocese, of which a collegiate church, founded here in 905, was the cathedral. In the reign of Canute, the see of St. Germans was annexed to that of Crediton; and, in 1050, the united see was removed to Exeter by Edward the Confessor. There still continued a Chapter, under the jurisdiction of the Bishop of Exeter, in the old collegiate church, the revenue of which, at the dissolution, was £332. 17s. 5d. The site of the church, and lands belonging to it, were given by Edward VI. to the master and governors of the free grammar-school, and there are now no remains of this church visible. This borough sent members to a parliament held at Carlisle, under Edward I.; and, in 1310, Bishop Stapleton obtained a grant for it of a weekly market and three annual fairs. In the middle of the 16th century, a force was assembled at Crediton by those who opposed the Reformation, but Sir Peter Carew compelled them to withdraw. The church, a fine cruciform edifice, with a square embattled tower, was rebuilt in the reign of Henry VIII. There is a grammar-school, founded and endowed by Edward VI., and subsequently endowed by Queen Elizabeth. The school is free to the children of all the inhabitants of Crediton, and the adjacent hamlet of Sandford. There are belonging to it three exhibitions of £6. 13s. 4d. each, to either university, tenable for five years. There is a blue-coat school here, with an annual income of £116. 12s., besides other schools, almshouses, and minor charities, amounting altogether to about £465 per annum. The town is within the jurisdiction of the county magistrates, by whom a petty session is held every month, the local affairs being under the control of a portreeve, bailiff, and constables, annually chosen at the court-leet of the lord of the manor, the bailiff of the preceding year being always appointed to the office of portreeve. Crediton is a polling-place for the northern division of the county. There is an assembly-room, in which assemblies and concerts sometimes take place during winter. The principal manufacture is that of serge; a small quantity of dowlas, long ells, and flannel, is also manufactured here. The Baptists, Independents, Wesleyan Methodists, and Unitarians, have places of worship here. Near the church are some remains of the ancient episcopal palace. Part of a chapel dedicated to St. Lawrence, and anciently connected with a prebend of the collegiate church, is still in existence. This is the birth-place of Winifred Boniface, Archbishop of Mentz, and legate of several of the popes, who converted many of the Mercians, besides several German tribes, to Christianity, and was at last murdered by the Frisians, and buried in Fulda Abbey, of which he was the founder. The living (Holy Cross), a vicarage or a peculiar of the Bishop of Exeter, is valued at £30: pres. net income, £425: patrons, Twelve Governors of the Church: pres. incumbent, Samuel Rowe: contains 11,440 acres: 1,217 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 5,947: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 6,839: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £19,011:

poor rates in 1838, £3,445. 2s. The tithes were commuted in 1839. Market day: Saturday. Fairs: May 11, July 29, August 21, and September 21; great cattle market, last Saturday in April. Inns: Cornish Arms, Ship, and White Hart.

GREECH (EAST), DORSET, a tithing in the parish of Church-Knowle—(which see for access, &c.): 2 miles from Wareham. Money orders issued at Wareham: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 7½ a.m.: post closes 8½ p.m. Contains 39 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 183.—(Other returns with the parish.)

GREECH (ST. MICHAEL), SOMERSET, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Andersfield, union of Taunton: 166 miles from London (coach road 139), 3 from Taunton, 9 from Ilminster. Gt. West. Rail. through Bristol to Taunton, thence 3 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Bristol to Taunton, &c., 181 miles. Money orders issued at Taunton: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 7 p.m. The charities amount to about £3 per annum. The living (St. Michael), a vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Taunton, and diocese of Bath and Wells, is valued at £16. 18s. 9d.: pres. net income, £463: patron, Rev. H. Creswell: pres. incumbent, H. Creswell, 1813: contains 2,150 acres: 227 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,296: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,490: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £4,921: poor rates in 1838, £363. 2s.

CREED, CORNWALL, a parish in the west division of the hun<sup>d</sup> of Powder, union of St. Austel: 284 miles from London (coach road 250), 1 from Gram-pound, 3 from Tregony. Gt. West. Rail. through Bristol and Exeter to Plymouth, thence 40 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Bristol to Plymouth, &c., 299 miles. Money orders issued at St. Austel: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 4½ p.m.: post closes 9 p.m. At the west of this parish flows the river Fal. There is a small chapel of ease at Gram-pound, now in ruins. There are vestiges of two ancient intrenchments on the estate of Nantellon. The living (St. Creed), a rectory, with the curacy of Gram-pound, in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Cornwall, and diocese of Exeter, is valued at £13. 6s. 8d.: pres. net income, £351: patron, C. H. T. Hawkins: pres. incumbent, John Daubus, 1829: contains 2,710 acres: 148 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 758: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 871: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £3,296: poor rates in 1838, £295. 2s.

CREEKSEA (or CAIXETH), ESSEX, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Dengie, union of Maldon, bounded on the south by the river Crouch: 52 miles from London (coach road 45), 2 from Burnham, 8 from Maldon. East. Co<sup>r</sup> Rail. to Maldon, thence 5 miles: from Derby, through London, &c., 184 miles. Money orders issued at Lynn: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 11½ a.m.: post closes 2½ p.m. There is a ferry here across the river Crouch to Wallasea Island, where embankments, about nine feet high, protect the marshes from inundations. The living (All Saints), a disch<sup>d</sup> rectory, with the vicarage of Althorne, in the diocese of Rochester, is valued at £9. 8s. 10d.: pres. net income, £400: patron, J. H. Caudy, Esq.: pres. incumbent, John Bruce, 1831: contains 690 acres: 17 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 199: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,768: poor rates in 1838, £28. 9s.

CREETING (ALL SAINTS), SUFFOLK, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> and union of Bosmere and Claydon: 82 miles from London (coach road 76), 1 from Needham, 9 from Ipswich.---East. Co<sup>r</sup>. Rail. to Stowmarket, thence 2 miles: from Derby, through London, &c., 214 miles.---Money orders issued at Ipswich: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8½ a.m.: post closes 6½ p.m.---The charities of this parish, in conjunction with those of Creeting (St. Mary), and Creeting (St. Olave), amount to about £56. 6s. per annum.---The living (All Saints), a disch<sup>d</sup> rectory, united with the rectories of Creeting (St. Mary), and Creeting (St. Olave), in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Sudbury, and diocese of Norwich, is valued at £10. 0s. 5d.: pres. net income, £663: patron, Eton College: pres. incumbent, G. J. Dupuis, 1840: contains 1,780 acres: 57 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 286: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £1,927: poor rates in 1838, £186. 3s.

CREETING (St. MARY), SUFFOLK, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> and union of Bosmere and Claydon: 77 miles from London.---(For access and postal arrangements, see above.)---The charities here amount to about £1. 10s., besides an interest in those of the above parish. There was anciently a cell here to the abbey of Bernay, in Normandy.---The living (St. Mary), a disch<sup>d</sup> rectory, united as above, is valued at £7. 14s. 2d.: contains 2,080 acres: 23 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 196: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £2,010: poor rates in 1838, £216. 1s.

CREETING (St. OLAVE), SUFFOLK, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> and union of Bosmere and Claydon: 79 miles from London.---(For access and postal arrangements, see above.)---The church is in a ruinous condition.---The living (St. Olave), a disch<sup>d</sup> rectory, united as above, is valued at £4. 17s. 8½d.: contains 6 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 80: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £472: poor rates in 1838, £43. 13s.

CREETING (St. PETER), or WEST CREETING, SUFFOLK, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> and union of Stow: 78 miles from London.---(For access and postal arrangements, see above.)---The living (St. Peter), a disch<sup>d</sup> rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Sudbury, and diocese of Norwich, is valued at £10. 2s. 6d.: pres. net income, £401: patron, Rev. E. Paske: pres. incumbent, Edward Paske, 1818: contains 37 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 213: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £1,655: poor rates in 1838, £160. 17s.

CREETON, LINCOLN, a parish in the wapentake of Beltisloe, parts of Kesteven, union of Bourn, on the river Glen: 124 miles from London (coach road 99), 3 from Corby, 12 from Grantham.---Nor. and East. Co<sup>r</sup>. Rail. through Peterborough to Stamford, thence 8 miles: from Derby, through Nottingham to Grantham, 40 miles, thence 12.---Money orders issued at Carlisle: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 10 a.m.: post closes 7 p.m.---The living (St. Peter), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Lincoln, is valued at £4. 15s. 10d.: pres. net income, £161: patron, Lord Chancellor: pres. incumbent, R. Spranger, 1820: contains 490 acres: 14 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 64: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £991: poor rates in 1837, £29. 10s.---N. E., Grimes-thorpe Park---(for which, see EDENHAM.)

CREGRINA (or CRIGRINA), RADNOR, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Colwyn, union of Builth, South Wales, on the western bank of the Eddw: 173 miles from London (coach road 167), 6 from Builth, 12 from Kington.---Gt. West. Rail. through Oxford to Worcester, thence 55 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham to Worcester, &c., 126 miles.---Money orders issued at Builth: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 3½ p.m.: post closes 6 p.m.---This parish has an interest in Powell's charity to the counties of Radnor and Brecon for apprenticeship, and the foundation of two exhibitions in Jesus College, Oxford.---The living, a rectory, with the perpetual curacy of Llanbadarn-y-Garreg, in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Brecon, and diocese of St. David's, is valued at £9. 6s. 2d.: pres. net income, £190: patron, Bishop of St. David's: pres. incumbent, Thomas Thomas, 1838: contains 20 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 112: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £824: poor rates in 1848, £120.

GREIGHTON. See UTTOKETER.

CREIGIOG ISYLAN AND UWCHLAN. See LLAN-ARMON, DENBIGH.

CRENDON (LONG), BUCKINGHAM, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Ashendon, union of Thame: 57 miles from London (coach road 48), 2 from Thame, 8 from Aylesbury.---Nor. West. Rail. to Aylesbury, thence 8 miles: from Derby, through Rugby to Aylesbury, &c., 106 miles.---Money orders issued at Thame: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 7½ a.m.: post closes 7 p.m.---The Baptists have a place of worship here. The charities amount to about £44. 7s. per annum. In 1824 an ancient cemetery was discovered here, near the supposed site of the castle of the Giffords, in which, when opened, some curious and interesting relics of Roman pottery were found, with specimens of various modes of interment of different periods at the same place. Walter Gifford, Earl of Buckingham, and his countess, in 1162, built and endowed the magnificent abbey of Nuttley, which, at the dissolution, had a revenue of £495. 18s. 5d.; the remains are now converted into a farm-house.---The living (St. Mary) is a perpetual curacy, in the diocese of Oxford: pres. net income, £150: patron, Lord Churchill: pres. incumbent, Thomas Hayton: contains 3,120 acres: 258 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,656: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,750: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £4,423: poor rates in 1838, £282. 16s. Tithes commuted in 1824.

CRESLOW, BUCKINGHAM, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Cottesloe, union of Aylesbury: 49 miles from London (coach road 45), 6 from Aylesbury, 10 from Buckingham.---Nor. West. Rail. to Leighton, thence 8 miles: from Derby, through Rugby to Leighton, &c., 99 miles.---Money orders issued at Aylesbury: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8½ a.m.: post closes 6 p.m.---The inhabitants attend divine service at Whitechurch.---The living (Holy Trinity), a rectory in the diocese of Oxford (no church), is valued at £3: contains 620 acres: 1 house: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 7: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £1,461: poor rates in 1838, £35.

CRESSAGE. See COUNDE.

CRESSING, ESSEX, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Witham, union of Braintree: 46 miles from London (coach road 41), 3 from Braintree, 3 from Coggleshall.---East. Co<sup>r</sup>. Rail. through Witham to Bulford station, thence 1 mile: from Derby, through London, &c., 178 miles.---Money orders issued at Braintree: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 6½ p.m.---The living (All Saints), a disch<sup>d</sup> vicarage in the diocese of Rochester, is valued at £7. 15s. 6d.: pres. net income, £220: patron, Vicar of Witham: pres. incumbent, Sir J. P. Wood, Bart.: contains 2,960 acres: 98 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 560: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 644: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £2,782: poor rates in 1838, £391. 6s.

CRESSINGHAM (GREAT), NORFOLK, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of South Greenhoe, union of Swaffham: 105 miles from London (coach road 94), 11 from Brandon, 6 from Swaffham. ---Nor. and East. Co<sup>r</sup> Rail, through Ely to Brandon, thence 11 miles: from Derby, through Syston and Peterborough to Brandon, &c., 147 miles. ---Money orders issued at Thetford: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9½ a.m.: post closes 5 p.m. ---The name of this parish is derived from a small river or creek, called by the Saxons Grecca, and, in the Norman survey, was the property of William, Bishop of Thetford, before the see was removed to Norwich. In the reign of Stephen it was separated from the bishopric, but again annexed to it in the reign of John. When the cathedral church was re-established by Edward VI., the king invested himself with the patronage, which he regranted to successive incumbents, the bishop instituting. The church is a handsome building, with a finely proportioned tower at the west end, and the chancel seems to have been anciently the body of an older church, to which the nave and the tower were added towards the close of the fifteenth, or beginning of the sixteenth century. In a field called Stone Close, about a mile from the village, is the site of an old parochial chapel, dedicated to St. George, once belonging to a hermit, in right of which the rector holds an annual fair. ---The living (St. Michael), a rectory, with that of Bodney, a peculiar in the archd<sup>r</sup> of Norfolk, and diocese of Norwich, is valued at £17. 18s. 1½d.: pres. net income, £607: patron, Lord Chancellor: pres. incumbent, Benjamin Philpott, 1839: contains 2,490 acres: 89 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 475: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 546: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £2,367: poor rates in 1838, £263. 11s. Tithes commuted in 1839.

CRESSINGHAM (LITTLE), NORFOLK, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of South Greenhoe, union of Swaffham, on the southern bank of the Wissey---(for access, &c., see above): 93 miles from London, 3 from Watton, 6 from Swaffham. ---Money orders issued at Thetford: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9½ a.m.: post closes 6 p.m. ---The living (St. Andrew), a disch<sup>d</sup> rectory in the archd<sup>r</sup> of Norfolk, and diocese of Norwich, is valued at £13. 12s. 6d.: pres. net income, £284: patron, Mrs. Ann Baker: pres. incumbent, S. B. Warner, 1848: contains 1,690 acres: 41 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 244: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,776: poor rates in 1838, £167. 6s.

CRESSING-TEMPLE, a manor in the above parish, once belonging to the knights-templars, to whom it was given by King Stephen, and reverted to the crown at the dissolution.

CRESSWELL, NORTHUMBERLAND, a township in the parish of Woodhorn---(which see for access, &c.): 296 miles from London, 8 from Morpeth, 13 from Alnwick. ---Money orders issued at Morpeth: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 11 a.m.: post closes 12½ p.m. ---The living is a perpetual curacy, in the diocese of Durham: pres. net income, £100: patron, A. J. C. Baker, Esq.: pres. incumbent, E.

Goldsmith, 1886: contains 51 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 253: poor rates in 1837, £118. 11s.

CRESSWELL, STAFFORD, an extra-parochial liberty, south division of the hun<sup>d</sup> of Firehill---(which see for access, &c.): 143 miles from London, 3 from Cheadle, 9 from Newcastle. ---Money orders issued at Cheadle: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8½ a.m.: post closes 6 p.m. ---The living is a sinecure rectory, in the diocese of Lichfield: pres. net income, £20: patrons, Rev. E. Whitby and W. Whitby, Esq.: pres. incumbent, Edward Whitby, 1806: contains 460 acres: 1 house: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 16. ---Cresswell Hall is the seat of the Rev. Edward Whitby, a descendant of the ancient family of this name, variously written Whitbie, Whitby, Whitbye, and Whitby, supposed to have been originally seated at Whitby, in Yorkshire, whence they migrated to Stafford, where a William Whitbie was seated, in the reign of Henry VII. In 1530, Thomas Whitbie held the manor of Haywood, by a grant from Elizabeth, at an annual rent of £100, afterwards reduced to £40. In 1603, he served on the jury that condemned Sir Walter Raleigh as armiger. His descendant, Thomas Whitby, Esq., was high sheriff of Stafford in the 4th George I., and by marriage acquired a portion of the Cresswell estate. His grandson, Thomas Whitby, Esq., bought the remainder of the Cresswell estate, and was high sheriff of Stafford, 14th George III. Late in life he took holy orders, died in 1828, and was succeeded by his son, the present Rev. Edward Whitby, formerly minister of the Protestant chapel at Nice, and vicar of Leighford, Stafford, of which county he is a magistrate.

CRETINGHAM, SURREY, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Loes, union of Plumstead, on the river Deben: 92 miles from London (coach road 81), 5 from Framlingham, 6 from Woodbridge. ---East. Co<sup>r</sup> Rail, to Stowmarket, thence 12 miles: from Derby, through London, &c., 224 miles. ---Money orders issued at Woodbridge: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9½ a.m.: post closes 5½ p.m. ---The living (St. Andrew), a disch<sup>d</sup> vicarage in the archd<sup>r</sup> of Suffolk, and diocese of Norwich, is valued at £9. 10s. 10d.: pres. net income, £173: patron, Lord Chancellor: pres. incumbent, R. B. Exton, 1827: contains 1,700 acres: 60 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 411: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 478: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £2,637: poor rates in 1838, £199. 14s.

CREWE, CHESHIRE, a township in the parish of Farndon---(which see for access, &c.): 173 miles from London, 10 from Chester, 6 from Tarporley. ---Money orders issued at Chester: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9½ a.m.: post closes 5½ p.m. ---Contains 400 acres: 12 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 58: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £609: poor rates in 1837, £14. 19s.

CREWE, CHESHIRE, a township in the parish of Barthomley---(which see for access, &c.): 169 miles from London, 5 from Nantwich. ---Money orders issued here: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 9 p.m. ---Crewe is remarkable as being one of the chief stations on the North Western Railway, several important portions of the main lines of the kingdom meeting there. ---Contains 2,190 acres: 55 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 396: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 455: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,983: poor rates in 1838, £92. 17s. Tithes commuted in 1839. ---Crewe Hall is the seat of Lord Crewe. It is a fine building, built from a design by Inigo Jones, and was much injured during the civil wars, during which it twice suffered an assault. The gardens, with the plantations, are tastefully laid out. The mansion was built about 1610, by Sir Randal Crewe, serjeant-at-law, who purchased the manor of Crewe from the heirs of Sir Christopher Hutton, and continued to be the residence of his descendants till the death of John Crewe, Esq., in 1684, when his elder daughter, and subsequently sole heir, Anne Crewe, succeeded him, and married John Offley, Esq., when her eldest son, on succeeding to his maternal estates, assumed the name of Crewe, and was M.P. for Chester, in 1734, 1741, and 1747. On his death, in 1752, he was succeeded by his eldest son, John Crewe, Esq. of Crewe Hall, who sat for the county of Chester in 1768, and for the same shire in 1806, when he was raised to the peerage as Baron Crewe, of Crewe, in Cheshire. The present Baron Crewe succeeded his father, John Crewe, a general officer in the army, as third lord, in 1835.

CREWKEERNE, SOMERSET, a market town and parish in the above hun<sup>d</sup>, union of Chard: 179 miles from London (coach road 132), 7 from Ilminster.---Gt. West. Rail. through Bristol to Taunton, thence 16 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Bristol to Taunton, &c., 193 miles.---Money orders issued here: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 8 a.m.: post closes 4.40 p.m.---This town is pleasantly situated in a fertile valley, with the rivers Parret and Axe intersecting it, and sheltered by richly-planted hills, commanding beautiful and spacious prospects. Its Saxon name signifies the 'Cottage of the Cross,' and, according to Leland, a neat building of this description formerly stood here. It consists chiefly of five streets, branching from a spacious market-place, with a large commodious market-house in the centre. Most of the houses are handsome and well built, and are well supplied with water. The principal manufactures are of sail-cloth, stockings, and dowlas. In ancient times it was a royal manor, endowed with many privileges. The church is a fine, cruciform edifice, with a lofty tower above the intersection, crowned with small turrets. Behind the altar is a small room, the ancient confessional, with a door at each end. There is a free grammar-school, endowed in 1449, by John de Combe, with land which now produces £300 per annum, and which has four exhibitions of £5 each to any college in Oxford; besides two almshouses endowed with £133. 13s., and a charity school, and other minor charities, producing about £45 per annum. To the west of Crewkerne is Rana Hill, on which there was once a chapel dedicated to St. Rannus, and containing his bones; and at a short distance, at Hasilburgh, was the place of residence of Wulfic, a saint, hermit, and prophet, born at Compton, in this county. He was clothed in iron, and led a severe eremitical life, living in a small cell, where several exalted personages visited him—amongst them the two kings, Stephen and Henry. He lived to a great age, and died in 1154, and was buried in the church aisle of Hasilborough, where, for many ages, numerous pilgrims resorted to his tomb.---

The living (St. Bartholomew) is a perpetual curacy in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Taunton, and diocese of Bath and Wells: pres. net income, £158: patron, Dean and Chapter of Winchester: pres. incumbent, Richard Lowe, 1826: contains 5,810 acres: 709 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 4,414: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 5,076: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>y</sup>. £16,777: poor rates in 1838, £1,089. 15s.---Market day, Saturday. Fair: Sept. 4, cattle and cheese.---Bankers: Stuckey's Banking Company—draw on Roberts, Curtis, & Co.---Hotels: George, and Swan.

CRICH, DERBY, a parish, partly in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Morleston and Litchurch, partly in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Scarsdale, and partly in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Wirksworth, union of Belper: it includes the township of Westington: 144 miles from London, 5 from Wirksworth, 10 from Alfreton.---Nor. West. Rail. through Rugby and Derby to Cromford, 147 miles: from Derby, through Ambergate to Cromford, &c., 15 miles.---Money orders issued at Wirksworth: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 9½ a.m.: post closes 4½ p.m.---Crich is pleasantly situated on a rising ground, commanding extensive and varied prospects. It is a very ancient place, for coins of Adrian and Dioclesian have been found in a neighbouring lead mine; and we read, in the Norman survey, that Leoric had a lead mine at Cric. This mine is still wrought, though to a small extent. In this parish is the manor of Wakebridge, which is still exempt from the king's duty on lead ore, and the mine of which is looked upon as the most productive in the county. Crich first rose to importance in 1793, when a cotton manufactory was established at Fritchly. The adjacent quarries produce a superior kind of limestone, and furnish occupation to most of the inhabitants; but a small quantity of stockings is manufactured. The church, which has a tower, surmounted by a spire, contains several monuments of the Dixie family. Cromford Canal passes through a tunnel at the north-western and southern extremities of the parish. The Wesleyan Methodists have a place of worship at Crich, and another at Sarsley. Crich cliff is a lofty hill, about one mile north of the village, principally composed of limestone, and containing mines of lead ore, once more productive than at present. In 1789, an observatory was erected upon its summit.---The living (St. Mary), a disch<sup>d</sup> vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Derby, and diocese of Lichfield, is valued at £6. 10s. 10d.: pres. net income, £98: patron, Sir W. W. Dixie, Bart.: contains 6,180 acres: 532 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 3,698: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 4,253: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>y</sup>. £4,381: poor rates in 1837, £735. 6s.---Fairs: Old Lady-day, Old Michaelmas-day.

CRICK, MONMOUTH, a hamlet in the parish of Caerwent—(which see for access, &c.): 4 miles from Chepstow.---Money orders issued at Chepstow: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 9 a.m.: post closes 5 p.m.---Contains 24 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 148: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>y</sup>. £1,480.

CRICK (or CREEK), NORTHAMPTON, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Guilsborough, union of Rugby: 77 miles from London (coach road 80), 7 from Daventry, 6 from Rugby.---Nor. West. Rail. to Crick station, thence 2 miles: from Derby, through Rugby to Crick, &c., 59 miles.---Money orders issued at Daventry: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 9 a.m.:--- post closes 4½ p.m.---There is an Independent chapel here. The charities produce about £97 a year, of which about a third is applied to the education of the poor.---The living (St. Margaret), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Northampton, diocese of Peterborough, is valued at £32. 13s. 1½d.: pres. net income, £890: patron, St. John's College, Oxford: pres. incumbent, C. L. Swainson, 1836: contains 3,725 acres: 225 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,006: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,157: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £5,273: poor rates in 1838, £414.

CRICKADARN, BRECON, a parish in the hund<sup>d</sup> of Talgarth, union of Builth: it is divided into North and South Crickadarn: 176 miles from London (coach road 172), 10 from Brecon, 7 from Talgarth.---Gt. West. Rail. through Oxford to Worcester, thence 58 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham to Worcester, &c., 129 miles.---Money orders issued at Brecon: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 2½ p.m.: post closes 2 p.m.---The living, a vicarage, with that of Llandeulley, in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Brecon, and diocese of St. David's, is valued at £14: pres. net income, £686: patron, Geo. P. Watkins, Esq.: pres. incumbent, Charles Vaughan, 1842: contains 81 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 441: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 507: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £1,677: poor rates in 1838, £203. 6s.

CRICKELITH (or CRICKETH), CARNARVON, a parish, borough, and market town, in the hund<sup>d</sup> of Evionydd, union of Pwllheli, North Wales: 263 miles from London (coach road 234), 9 from Pwllheli, 6 from Carnarvon.---Nor. West. Rail. through Crewe and Chester to Bangor, thence 25 miles: from Derby, through Crewe, &c., 163 miles.---Money orders issued at Pwllheli: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 1 p.m.: post closes at noon.---The government of the town is vested in two bailiffs. There is a large herring fishery here, though there is no harbour. The imports are chiefly for domestic use and agricultural tillage.---The living is a disch<sup>d</sup> rectory, with the curacies of Treflys and Ynys Cynhaiarn: pres. net income, £349: patron, Bishop of Bangor: pres. incumbent, John Jones, 1827: contains 146 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 811: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 933: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £1,306: poor rates in 1837, £156. 2s.---The tithes were commuted in 1839.---Market day, Wednesday. Fairs: May 23, July 1, October 18, for cattle.

CRICKET-MALHERBIE, SOMERSET, a parish in the hund<sup>d</sup> of Abdick and Bulstone, union of Chard, near the Chard Canal: 178 miles from London (coach road 137), 2 from Ilminster, 3 from Chard.---Gt. West. Rail. through Bristol to Taunton, thence 15 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Bristol to Taunton, &c., 192 miles.---Money orders issued at Ilminster: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 7½ a.m.: post closes 6 p.m.---The living (St. Mary Magdalene), a disch<sup>d</sup> rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Taunton, and diocese of Bath and Wells: pres. net income, £77: patron, Stephen Pitt, Esq.: pres. incumbent, H. Palmer, 1842: contains 350 acres: 4 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 36: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £1,033: poor rates in 1837, £45. 4s.

CRICKET (St. THOMAS), SOMERSET, a parish in the hund<sup>d</sup> of South Petherton, union of Chard: 178 miles from London (coach road 132), 6 from Crewkerne, 4 from Chard.---Gt. West. Rail.

through Bristol to Taunton, thence 15 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham, Bristol, &c., 192 miles.---Money orders issued at Chard: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 3½ p.m.---The living (St. Thomas), a disch<sup>d</sup> rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Taunton, and diocese of Bath and Wells, is valued at £9. 17s. 6d.: pres. net income, £106: patron, Lord Bridport: pres. incumbent, C. J. Shaw, 1846: contains 860 acres: 18 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 78: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £1,273: poor rates in 1838, £26. 1s.---Cricket St. Thomas is the seat of Lord Bridport, a younger son of Viscount Hood, and great-nephew of Alexander Hood, brother of Samuel, first Viscount Hood: an eminent naval officer, who, having served at the relief of Gibraltar in 1782, as rear-admiral, under Lord Howe, was invested with the military order of the Bath, and having been second in command on the 1st June, 1794, was created Baron Bridport, of Cricket St. Thomas, in Ireland, in the following August. In 1795, his lordship gained a splendid victory over the French fleet, and in June, 1796, was raised to the peerage of Great Britain, as Baron Bridport, of Cricket St. Thomas, Somerset. On 10th June, 1801, he was further advanced to the dignity of Viscount Bridport, and was then vice-admiral of Great Britain, and general of marines. The viscount was twice married, but dying without issue in 1814, the English honours ceased, but the Irish barony devolved, according to the limitation, upon his grand-nephew, the present peer, who succeeded as second baron, on the death of his uncle.---Windwhistle Park.

CRICKHOWELL, BRECON, a parish and market town or borough in the hund<sup>d</sup> and union of Crickhowell, close upon the Brecon and Newport Canal: 145 miles from London (coach road 157), 16 from Brecon.---Gt. West. Rail. to Stonehouse, thence 42 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham to Stonehouse, &c., 145 miles.---Money orders issued here: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 7 a.m.: post closes 5½ p.m.---This town is pleasantly and romantically situated on a slight eminence, on the eastern bank of the Usk, over which, at a small distance, is a bridge of fourteen arches. The town is well built, and is an agreeable and salubrious residence, much frequented by invalids, by reason of the fine air, and excellent milk from the goats kept near to it. In the vicinity is some beautiful and picturesque scenery, also numerous troutling streams. There are places of worship here for the Calvinistic and the Wesleyan Methodists. The charities amount to about £3 per annum. The poor-law commissioners have erected a workhouse here for the union of Crickhowell, comprising ten parishes, with a population of about 11,305. It is a borough by prescription. The bailiff is nominated by the Duke of Beaufort, the lord of the manor. Petty sessions for the hundred are held here. There are some ruins, overgrown with ivy, of an ancient castle erected here, temp. Henry VI., by one of the Pauncesfoots, which family held the manor for a considerable period.---The living is a disch<sup>d</sup> vicarage and sinecure rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Brecon, and diocese of St. David's: pres. net income, £120: patron, Rector of Crickhowell: pres. incumbent, John Evans, 1837: contains 204 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,257: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,445: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £4,106. — Market days, Thursday and Saturday. Fairs: Jan. 1, Feb. 1, April 13, May 12, Sept. 24, for horses. — Inns: Bear, and Cambrian.

CRICKLADE, WILTS, a borough and market town in the hund<sup>d</sup> of Highworth, Cricklade, and Staple, union of Cricklade and Wootton-Bassett, on the south bank of the Thames, at the junction with it of two small streams, the Churn and the Key: 85 miles from London (coach road 84), 7 from Highworth. — Gt. West. Rail. through Swindon to Purton station, thence 4 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Stonehouse to Purton, &c., 129 miles. — Money orders issued here: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 7 a.m.: post closes 7½ p.m. — This town is situated in a level tract of country, on the south bank of the river Isis or Thames, which rises in the vicinity. It is a very ancient place, supposed by some antiquaries to derive its name from the British Cerigulad, which means 'a country abounding with stones,' and by others from the Saxon Cirecca, a brook, and Lædian, to empty, as the small rivers, Churn and Key, here flow into the Thames. Cricklade was most probably a Roman station, as it was situated on the road connecting Corinium (Cirencester) with Spina (Spene). In 905, Ethelwald, opposing the election of Edward the Elder to the throne, advanced to Cricklade on a predatory excursion, from which he retreated on the advance of Edward. In 1016, Canute the Dane plundered the town. The lordship of the town was first possessed by Philippa, the widow of Edward, Duke of York, who, in the reign of Henry IV., left it to Richard, Earl of Cambridge, her husband's heir. It afterwards passed through various hands, and came into the possession of Joseph Pitt, Esq., who represented the borough in parliament till after the passing of the Reform Bill. The present lord of the manor is Joseph Neeld, Esq., M.P. The town consists principally of one long street, paved, but ill supplied with water. The church of St. Sampson is a large cruciform edifice, with a handsome square tower, crowned with a pierced parapet and pinnacles. The south porch was once a chapel, built by the Hungerford family. It contains several escutcheons. The church of St. Mary is an ancient structure, with a handsome stone cross of one shaft on a flight of steps in the churchyard. To the north of the town is the Thames and Severn Canal. On the first Saturday in every month, there is a meeting held here by the county magistrates; a bailiff and other officers are appointed by a jury at the court-leet of the lord of the manor, who holds a court every third week for the recovery of debts under 40s. Cricklade is a borough by prescription, which returned two members to parliament from the time of Henry VI. till 1782, when, in consequence of notorious bribery, the elective franchise was extended to the four adjoining hundreds of Highworth, Staple, Kingsbridge, and Malmesbury, except that part of the latter now included in the borough of Malmesbury. Cricklade, Brinkworth, and Swindon are the polling-places. The constituency numbers about 1,500. The Independents and Wesleyan Methodists have places of worship here. The charities amount to about £293. 10s. per annum, £104 of which, the annual rent of a hundred acres, were a moiety, is applied to apprenticing children, and the rest to aged poor. There is a national school for boys and girls. The school was originally endowed with £20, but the endowment has been lost. The poor-law commissioners have erected a workhouse at Purton for the union of Cricklade and Wootton-Bassett, comprising fourteen parishes, extending over an area of sixty-nine miles, with a population of about 11,000. The town of Cricklade is divided into two parishes, that of St. Sampson and that of St. Mary. — The living of St. Sampson is a vicarage, the pres. net income of which is about £400: it is in the gift of the Dean and Chapter of Salisbury: pres. incumbent, Rev. Francis Dyson, 1849. The living of St. Mary is a small rectory, the pres. net income being only £83: it is in the gift of the Bishop of Salisbury: pres. incumbent, Hugh Allan, 1834. The two parishes contain 5,840 acres: 331 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 2,128: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £11,230. — Market day, third Tuesday of every month, cattle. — Inns: White Hart, and White Horse.

VOL. I.

CRIDLING-STUBBS, WEST RIDING, YORK, a township, partly in the parish of Darrington, and partly in the parish of Womersley, close on the Egborough and Goole Canal—(which see for access, &c.): 182 miles from London, 4 from Pontefract, 6 from Selby. — Money orders issued at Pontefract: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8½ a.m.: post closes 5½ p.m. — Contains 1,380 acres: 23 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 136: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,013: poor rates in 1838, £38. 1s.

CRIGGLESTONE, WEST RIDING, YORK, a township in the parish of Great Sandall, on the southern bank of the Aire—(which see for access, &c.): 176 miles from London, 4 from Wakefield, 4 from Barnsley. — Money orders issued at Wakefield: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8½ a.m.: post closes 6 p.m. — There is a Baptist chapel here. — Contains 2,950 acres: 265 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,479: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,700: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £4,888: poor rates in 1837, £524. 4s.

CRIMPLESHAM, NORFOLK, a parish in the hund<sup>d</sup> of Clackclose, union of Downham: 91 miles from London (coach road 87), 3 from Downham-Market, 10 from Swaffham. — Nor. and East. Co<sup>t</sup> Rail. through Ely to Downham-Market, thence 3 miles: from Derby, through Syston, Peterborough, and Ely, to Downham, &c., thence 131 miles. — Money orders issued at Ely: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 5 p.m. — The parochial charities amount to about £23 a year. — The living (St. Mary), a perpetual curacy in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Norfolk, and diocese of Norwich, is valued at £8: pres. net income, £69: patron, Bishop of Ely: pres. incumbent, H. Spencer, 1829: contains 1,680 acres: 58 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 358: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 411: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £2,258: poor rates in 1837, £183. 15s.

CRINGLEFORD, NORFOLK, a parish in the hund<sup>d</sup> of Humbleyard, union of Henstead: 117 miles from London (coach road 106), 3 from Norwich, 7 from Wymondham. — East. Co<sup>t</sup> Rail. to Norwich, thence 3 miles: from Derby, through Syston and Peterborough to Norwich, &c., 169 miles. — Money orders issued at Norwich: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 8½ p.m. — The living (St. Abert) is a perpetual curacy in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Norfolk, and diocese of Norwich: pres.

5 z

net income, £100: patrons, certain Charity Trustees, Norwich: pres. incumbent, Edward Priest, 1848: contains 1,080 acres: 32 houses: pop<sup>n</sup>. in 1841, 191: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £1,270: poor rates in 1838, £147. 7s.

CRINOW, PEMAROCK, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Dungleddy, union of Narberth, South Wales: 241 miles from London (coach road 253), 1 from Narberth, 10 from Tenby. — Gt. West. Rail. to Stonehouse, thence 120 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham to Stonehouse, &c., 243 miles. — Money orders issued at Narberth: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 6 p.m.: post closes 9 p.m. — The living, a disch<sup>d</sup>. rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup>. and diocese of St. David's: pres. net income, £86: patron, Lord Chancellor: pres. incumbent, David Jones, 1830: contains 13 houses: pop<sup>n</sup>. in 1841, 53: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £263: poor rates in 1838, £13. 8s. — Parkglas is the residence of Mrs. Eaton, widow of Roger Eaton, Esq.

CRIPTON, DORSET, a tithing in the parish of Winterbourne-Came—(which see for access, &c.): 4 miles from Dorchester. — Money orders issued at Dorchester: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 9 a.m.: post closes 7½ p.m. — Contains 900 acres: 2 houses: pop<sup>n</sup>. in 1841, 17. — (Other returns with the parish.)

CRITCHELL (LOKE), DORSET, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Knowlton, union of Wimborne and Cranborne, Shaaton (East) division of the county: this parish is divided into two tithings and manors, called Critchell-Gonia, and Critchell-Lucy: 122 miles from London (coach road 98), 8 from Blandford, 6 from Cranborne. — Sou. West. Rail. through Southampton to Wimborne station, thence 7 miles: from Derby, through Rugby, Oxford, Reading, Southampton, &c., 211 miles. — Money orders issued at Blandford: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 9 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m. — The living (St. Mary), united in 1774 to that of Critchell-Moore: contains 2,310 acres: 21 houses: pop<sup>n</sup>. in 1841, 120: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £976: poor rates in 1838, £55. 8s.

CRITCHELL-MOORE, DORSET, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Badbury, union of Wimborne and Cranborne, Shaaton (East) division of the county: 97 miles from London. — (For access and postal arrangements, see above.) — The living (All Saints), a rectory, with that of Long Critchell, formerly in the archd<sup>y</sup>. of Dorset, and diocese of Bristol, now in the diocese of Sarum, is valued at £12. 13s. 8½d.: pres. net income, £371: patron, H. C. Sturt, Esq.: pres. incumbent, Moss King, 1820: contains 2,020 acres: 66 houses: pop<sup>n</sup>. in 1841, 316: probable pop<sup>n</sup>. in 1849, 363: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £1,721: poor rates in 1838, £86. 7s. — Critchell House is the seat of Henry Charles Sturt, Esq., a descendant of Humphrey Sturt, Esq., of Horton, son of Sir Anthony Sturt, Knt., of London. His son, Humphrey Sturt, Esq., of Horton, on the death of his first cousin, Sir Gerard Napier, Bart., in 1765, inherited the estates of his maternal ancestors, and sat in parliament for Dorset, from 1754, until his death in 1786. His second son, Charles Sturt, Esq., of Critchell, married, in 1788, Lady Mary Anne Ashley Cooper, sister of the present Earl of Shaftesbury, and dying in 1812, was succeeded by his son, the present representative of the family. This gentleman has served as sheriff of Dorsetshire, and sat for the county in parliament.

CROCK-STREET, SOMERSET, a hamlet, partly in the parish of Donyatt, and partly in the parish of Combe St. Nicholas—(which see for access, &c.): 138 miles from London, 3 from Ilminster, 6 from Crewkerne. — (Returns with the respective parishes.)

CROCKERNE-PILL, SOMERSET, a hamlet in the parish of Easton in Gordano, on the southern bank of the Avon, near its confluence with the Severn—(which see for access, &c.): 122 miles from London, 3 from Bristol, 9 from Pensford. — (Returns with the parish.)

CROCKERNE-WELL, DEVON, a hamlet in the parish of Bishop-Cheriton—(which see for access, &c.): 7 from Crediton. — (Returns with the parish.)

CROFT, HEREFORD, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Wolphy, union of Leominster: 146 miles from London (coach road 143), 6 from Leominster, 10 from Presteign. — Gt. West. Rail. through Oxford to Worcester, thence 28 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham to Worcester, &c., 99 miles. — Money orders issued at Leominster: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 11 a.m.: post closes 4 p.m. — The living (St. Michael), a disch<sup>d</sup>. rectory, with the vicarage of Yarpole, in the archd<sup>y</sup>. and diocese of Hereford, is valued at £7. 11s. 3d.: pres. net income, £283: patron, E. H. K. Davies, Esq.: pres. incumbent, Joseph Edwards, 1839: contains 1,980 acres: 22 houses: pop<sup>n</sup>. in 1841, 144: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £1,722. — Croft Castle was the seat of the ancient Saxon family of Croft, one of whom, Bernard de Croft, is spoken of in Doomsday-book as holding the lands of Croft, inherited by his descendants until the close of the 18th century. Sir John Croft, Knt., of Croft Castle, descended from an almost uninterrupted line of knights, eminent in the council and the field, was captain of Merk Castle, near Calais, and married Janet, daughter and presumed coheir of the renowned Owen Glendower. His son, Sir Richard Croft, Knt., was high sheriff of Hereford, and the captor of Prince Edward, son of Henry VI., at the battle of Tewkesbury, in 1471, and, in 1487, was honoured by being made a knight-banneret at the battle of Stoke. Sir Herbert Croft was created a baronet in 1671. The third baronet, Sir Archer, disposed of Croft Castle, and dying without male issue, the title devolved to his brother, Sir John, who also dying without issue, the title reverted to his kinsman, Sir Herbert, who was in holy orders, who also dying without issue, the title devolved upon his brother, Sir Richard, who, in 1789, married Margaret, daughter of the late Thomas Denman, M.D., and sister to Lord Denman. Sir Richard died in 1818, and was succeeded by his eldest son, Sir Thomas Elmsley, F.S.A., and, dying without male issue in 1835, was succeeded by his brother, the present Sir Archer Denman Croft, as eighth baronet. Croft Castle is now destroyed. — Highwood House.

CROFT. See SOUTHWORTH AND CROFT.

CROFT, LEICESTER, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Sparkenhoe, union of Blaby, bounded on the east by the river Soar: 99 miles from London (coach road 97), 6 from Hinckley, 7 from Leicester. — Nor. West. Rail. through Rugby to Countesthorpe station, thence 2 miles: from Derby, through Leicester to Countesthorpe, &c., 37 miles.---Money orders issued at Hinckley: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8½ a.m.: post closes 5½ p.m.---The living, a rectory, formerly in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Leicester, and diocese of Lincoln, now in the diocese of Peterborough, is valued at £12. 3s. 4d.: pres. net income, £582: patron, Rev. R. T. Adnutt: pres. incumbent, R. T. Adnutt, 1826: contains 1,010 acres: 52 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 321: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 369: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £1,553: poor rates in 1837, £103. 9s.

CROFT, LINCOLN, a parish in the Marsh division of the wapentake of Candleshoe, parts of Lindsey, union of Spilsby, on the river Steeping: 156 miles from London (coach road 133), 8 from Spilsby, 2 from Wainfleet.---Nor. and East. Co<sup>t</sup> Rail. through Peterborough and Boston to Firsby station, thence 3 miles: from Derby, through Syston, Peterborough, and Boston, &c., 101 miles.---Money orders issued at Spilsby: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 6½ p.m.---The living (All Saints), a vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Lincoln, is valued at £23. 7s. 3½d.: pres. net income, £338: patron, Lord Monson: pres. incumbent, W. Williams, 1837: contains 5,840 acres: 87 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 649: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £9,156: poor rates in 1837, £229. 8s.

CROFT, NORTH RIDING, YORK, a parish in the wapentake of Gilling-East, union of Darlington: 262 miles from London (coach road 238), 3 from Darlington, 8 from Richmond.---Nor. West. Rail. through Rugby, Derby, and York, to Croft station: from Derby, through York, &c., 130 miles.---Money orders issued at Darlington: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9½ a.m.: post closes 9 p.m.---The living (St. Peter), a rectory, formerly in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Richmond, diocese of Chester, now in the diocese of Ripon, is valued at £21. 8s. 4d.: pres. net income, £825: patron, The Crown: pres. incumbent, C. Dodgson, 1843: contains 7,060 acres: 117 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 744: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 855: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £910: poor rates in 1838, £302. 6s.---Croft Hall is the seat of Sir William Richard Carter Chaytor, Bart., a descendant of Elizabeth Clervaux, only daughter of William Clervaux, and subsequently heir to her brother, Richard Clervaux, whose estates she conveyed to her husband, Christopher Chaytor, Esq., of Butterley, Durham, surveyor-general to Queen Elizabeth for Durham and Northumberland, to which office his son, Thomas Chaytor, Esq., succeeded, and was father of Nicholas Chaytor, Esq., lieutenant-colonel in the royal army, under the Marquis of Newcastle, in the time of Charles I. His grandson, Henry Chaytor, Esq., succeeded on the death of his uncle, Sir William Chaytor, Bart., to the estates and representation of the family, and became of Croft, and was the father of William Chaytor, Esq., M.P., whose eldest son, Sir William Chaytor, was created a baronet in September, 1831, and died in January, 1847, when he was succeeded by his eldest son, the present Sir William Richard Carter Chaytor, as second baronet.

CROFT, NORTH RIDING, YORK, a township in the above parish, on the southern bank of the Tees.---(For access and postal arrangements, see above.)---Contains 4,700 acres: 61 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 422: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 485:

ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £5,135: poor rates in 1838, £222. 18s.

CROFTON, KENT, a manor in the parish of Orpington: 3 miles from Foot's Cray.

CROFTON. See DIDDLEBURY.

CROFTON, WEST RIDING, YORK, a parish in the lower division of the wapentake of Agbrigg: 192 miles from London (coach road 179), 3 from Wakefield, 5 from Pontefract.---Nor. West. Rail. through Rugby and Derby to Notton station, thence 3 miles: from Derby, through Sheffield to Notton, &c., 61 miles.---Money orders issued at Wakefield: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8½ a.m.: post closes 6 p.m.---The living (All Saints), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of York, is valued at £10. 0s. 2½d.: pres. net income, £334: patron, Duchy of Lancaster: pres. incumbent, J. P. Simpson, 1843: contains 970 acres: 67 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 389: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 447: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £2,405: poor rates in 1838, £172. 15s.

CROFTON-QUARTER, CUMBERLAND, a township in the parish of Thursby, on the northern bank of the river Wampool---(which see for access, &c.): 311 miles from London, 3 from Wigton, 9 from Carlisle.---Money orders issued at Wigton: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 6½ p.m.: post closes 6 p.m.---Contains 14 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 80.---Crofton Hall is the seat of Sir Wastell Brisco, Bart. It is a commodious structure, agreeably situated in a pleasing park. At a short distance is a conical artificial mount, probably the tumulus of some ancient chieftain, now planted with trees. Some years ago a number of old coins were found on the estate. The surname of the Brisco family was originally De Birkskeugh, so called from the name of their residence. Isold Brisco obtained the manors of Crofton, Winhow, and Dundraw, by marriage with Margaret, daughter and heir of Sir John Crofton of Crofton, Knt., and was succeeded by his son, Christopher Brisco of Crofton. He kept fourteen soldiers at Briscothorn-upon-Eak, and was taken prisoner at the burning of Wigton, when he was obliged to mortgage a large portion of his estate. From him descended the Rev. John Brisco, D.D., of Crofton Hall, Cumberland, rector of Orton, and vicar of Aspabrie, who was father of John Brisco, Esq., of Crofton Hall, and who was created a baronet in July, 1782. He died in 1806, and was succeeded by his son, the present Sir Wastell Brisco, as second baronet, born in 1778, married in 1806, and has children.

CROGDEAN, NORTHUMBERLAND, a township in the parish of Kirkwhelpington---(which see for access, &c.): 296 miles from London, 15 from Morpeth, 12 from Rothbury.---Money orders issued at Morpeth: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 3 p.m.: post closes 10½ a.m.---Contains 2 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 9.---(Other returns with the parish.)

CROGLIN, CUMBERLAND, a parish in Leath ward, union of Penrith, on the northern bank of the Croglin: 301 miles from London (coach road 297), 12 from Penrith, 13 from Carlisle.---Nor. West. Rail. through Crewe and Lancaster to Southwaite station, thence 8 miles: from Derby, through Crewe and Lancaster, &c., 201 miles.---Money orders issued at Penrith: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> at noon: post closes 1 p.m.---There is a school here, endowed with £24 a year; the other charities produce about £1 per annum.—The living (St. John the Baptist), a disch<sup>d</sup> rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Carlisle, is valued at £8: pres. net income, £223: patron, Rev. E. Bowman: pres. incumbent, E. Bowman, 1848: contains 9,180 acres: 69 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 336: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 386: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £1,461: poor rates in 1838, £48. 9s. The tithes were commuted in 1808.

CROMER, NORFOLK, a parish, formerly a market town, in the hun<sup>d</sup> of North Erpingham, union of Erpingham: 134 miles from London (coach road 129), 20 from Norwich.—East. Co<sup>y</sup> Rail. to Norwich, thence 20 miles: from Derby, through Syston, Peterborough, and Norwich, &c., 186 miles.—Money orders issued here: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 10½ a.m.: post closes 3 p.m.—This town is situated upon a high cliff, commanding a beautiful view of Cromer Bay, called by seamen the Devil's Throat, from its dangerous navigation. Cromer was originally much larger than it is, including the old town of Shipdon, which, with its church and a considerable number of houses, was entirely swept away by the sea. Life-boats are stationed here. Most of the inhabitants are fishermen, who take large quantities of lobsters and herrings, which abound here; and the place is also the resort of numerous visitors for bathing, as it is noted for its salubrity, excellent beach, and beautiful scenery. Some of the houses are badly built, but those near the sea are commodious and pleasant. The old town was walled, and some remains of the fortifications are still visible. The church, erected in the reign of Henry IV., is a handsome building of freestone and flint. There are four lighthouses between Cromer and Yarmouth: one called the Foulness lighthouse was taken down in 1832, and a new one built further inland, as the surf had swept away a portion of the cliff on which it stood. There is no harbour, but vessels from 60 to 100 tons burden unload at ebb-tide into carts driven alongside. The Wesleyan Methodists have a place of worship here. In 1505, Sir B. Read founded a school, with £10 per annum; and it was further endowed by the Goldsmiths' Company, in 1821, with a contribution of £75 per annum. Town lands about £18. 6s. per annum. The chief imports are coal, and the exports corn.—The living (St. Peter and St. Paul), a disch<sup>d</sup> vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Norfolk, and diocese of Norwich, is valued at £9. 4s. 9d.: pres. net income, £99: patron, Bishop of Ely: pres. incumbent, William Sharpe, 1831: contains 800 acres: 244 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,240: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £1,678.—Fairs: Aug. 1st and 2d; Whit-Monday, Tuesday.

CROMFORD (or CRUMBIFORD), DERBY, a township and market town in the parish of Wirksworth—(which see for access, &c.): 142 miles from London, 2 from Matlock, 9 from Alfreton.—Money orders issued at Matlock: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9½ a.m.: post closes 6½ p.m.—The Cromford Canal joins the Enwash Canal at Langley Bridge. Cromford is pleasantly situated on the river Derwent, and first rose to importance in 1771, when Sir Richard Arkwright, the chief originator of the cotton manufacture, erected and established here the first cotton-mills ever either built or worked by water power. They are supplied by a neverfluctuating stream of warm water, drained from the mines on Cromford moor, which, in the winter, not only never freezes itself, but prevents the freezing of the adjoining canal. The mills and houses for the workpeople are built of gritstone; they give employment to about 612 hands. These, together with the lead mines, the manufacture of red lead, the preparing of calaminaris, its canal, railroads, hat manufactory, and smelting-mills, make Cromford a place of considerable commercial importance. There are several wharfs and warehouses on the banks of the canal. The chapel, begun by Sir Richard Arkwright, and completed by his son, is a small, neat building, endowed by the founders with £50 per annum in perpetuity, and consecrated in 1797. By the administrators of Queen Anne's bounty, and a grant from parliament, it was still further added to. In 1651, Lady Armyne founded an almshouse for six poor widows; income about £16. 10s. The Wesleyan Methodists have a place of worship here. Two hundred Roman coins were found some years ago in the hole of a rock near Cromford. There is a curious association here for insuring the lives of cows.—The living is a perpetual curacy in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Derby, and diocese of Lincoln: pres. net income, £180: patron, R. Arkwright, Esq.: pres. incumbent, Robert Jones, 1840: contains 233 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,407: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,618: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £2,409.—Rock House, the property of the Arkwright family, is situated on a high limestone rock, commanding a beautiful view of the Derwent vale.

CROMHALL-ABBOTS WITH CROMHALL-LYDON, GLOUCESTER, a parish in the upper division of the hun<sup>d</sup> of Berkeley, union of Thornbury: 138 miles from London (coach road 113), 2 from Wickwar, 4 from Thornbury.—Gt. West. Rail. through Stonehouse to Wickwar, thence 4 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham to Wickwar, &c., 120 miles.—Money orders issued at Wotton-under-Edge: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 7½ a.m.: post closes 4½ p.m.—The living (St. Andrew), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Bristol, and diocese of Gloucester and Bristol, is valued at £16. 19s. 2d.: pres. net income, £468: patron, Oriel College, Oxford: pres. incumbent, W. J. Copleston, 1839: contains 2,500 acres: 157 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 732: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 780: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £4,544: poor rates in 1838, £181. 17s. The tithes were commuted in 1839.

CROMPTON, LANCASTER, a township in the parish of Oldham-cum-Prestwich—(which see for access, &c.): 200 miles from London, 3 from Oldham, 4 from Rochdale.—Money orders issued at Oldham: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9½ a.m.: post closes 4 p.m.—The living is a perpetual curacy, in the diocese of Manchester: pres. net income, £150: patron, Crown and Bishop alternately: pres. incumbent, Josh. Littler, 1845: contains 2,290 acres: 1,158 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 6,729: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 7,738: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £11,263: poor rates in 1838, £898. 18s.—Crompton is the seat of Lord Lyttleton, whose principal residence is Hagley Park, Worcester, which see for genealogy and family history.

CROMWELL, NOTTINGHAM, a parish in the north division of Thurgarton, union of Southwell, on the western bank of the Trent: 152 miles from London (coach road 129), 5 from Newark, 10 from Southwell.—Nor. West. Rail. through Rugby and Nottingham to Newark, thence 5 miles: from Derby, through Nottingham and Newark, &c., 39 miles.—Money orders issued at Newark: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9½ a.m.: post closes 4 p.m.—The living (St. Giles), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Nottingham, formerly in the diocese of York, now in the diocese of Lincoln, is valued at £13. 2s. 3½d.: pres. net income, £420: patron, Duke of Newcastle: pres. incumbent, C. J. Fynes Clinton, 1828: contains 1,170 acres: 80 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 203: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £2,105: poor rates in 1838, £108. 3s. Tithes commuted in 1773.

CRONDALL, HANTS, a parish in the hund<sup>d</sup> of Crondall, union of Hartley Wintney, Basingstoke: 51 miles from London (coach road 40), 3 from Farnham, 11 from Basingstoke.—Sou. West. Rail. to Winchfield station, thence 5 miles: from Derby, through London, &c., 183 miles.—Money orders issued at Basingstoke: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 10 a.m.: post closes 5½ p.m.—The Independents have a chapel here, and there is a school here endowed with about £37 a year.—The living (All Saints), a vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Winchester, is valued at £22. 5s. 7½d.: pres. net income, £441: patron, Hospital of St. Cross, Winchester: pres. incumbent, W. D. Harrison, 1833: contains 9,540 acres: 283 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 2,199: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 2,529: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £8,783: poor rates in 1838, £1,297. 10s.

CRONDALL AND SWANTHORPE, HANTS, a tithing in the parish of Crondall—(which see for access, &c.)—Contains 72 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 495: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 569.—(Other returns with the parish.)

CRONTON, LANCASTER, a township in the parish of Prescott—(which see for access, &c.): 190 miles from London, 2 from Prescott, 9 from Liverpool.—Money orders issued at Prescott: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 7½ a.m.: post closes 6½ p.m.—Contains 1,000 acres: 69 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 402: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 462: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,916: poor rates in 1838, £193. 13s.

CROOK AND BILLY-ROW, DURHAM, a township in the parish of Brancepeth, on a branch of the river Wear—(which see for access, &c.): 255 miles from London, 10 from Durham, 5 from Bishop-Auckland.—Money orders issued at Durham: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 10½ a.m.: post closes 3 p.m.—The living is a perpetual curacy, in the diocese of Durham: patron, Rector of Brancepeth: pres. incumbent, William Sandford, 1845: contains 4,310 acres: 400 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 538: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 2,000: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £2,210: poor rates in 1838, £112. 4s.

CROOK, WESTMORELAND, a chapelry in the parish of Kendal—(which see for access, &c.): 267 miles from London, 5 from Kendal, 8 from Ambleside.—Money orders issued at Kendal: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9½ a.m.: post closes 3½ p.m.—The living, a perpetual curacy in the diocese of Chester, is valued at £7. 5s.: pres. net income, £77: patron, Vicar of Kendal: pres. incumbent, John Sedgwick, 1840: contains 46 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 257: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,109: poor rates in 1838, £71. 13s.

CROOKDALE. See BROMFIELD, CUMBERLAND.

CROOKHAM, HANTS, a tithing in the parish of Crondall, close on the Basingstoke Canal—(which see for access, &c.)—The living is a perpetual curacy, in the diocese of Winchester: pres. net income, £100: patron, Vicar of Crondall: pres. incumbent, A. C. Lefroy, 1844: contains 87 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 728: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 837.—(Other returns with the parish.)

CROOKHOUSE, NORTHUMBERLAND, a township in the parish of Kirk-Newton, on the northern bank of the river Glen—(which see for access, &c.): 328 miles from London, 5 from Wooler, 11 from Belford.—Money orders issued at Belford: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8½ p.m.: post closes 9 p.m.—Contains 2 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 18: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £307: poor rates in 1838, £3. 15s.

CROOM. See SLEDMORE WITH CROOM.

CROOME-D'ABITOT (or CROOME-OSBORN), WORCESTER, a parish in the lower division of the hund<sup>d</sup> of Oswaldslow, union of Upton-upon-Severn—(for access, see EARLS CROOME): 111 miles from London, 5 from Pershore, 7 from Worcester.—Money orders issued at Pershore: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8½ a.m.: post closes 6 p.m.—The living (St. James), a rectory, united to that of Pirtion, in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Worcester, is valued at £7: pres. net income, £500: patron, Earl of Coventry: pres. incumbent, Wm. L. Isaac, 1833: contains 1,510 acres: 25 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 119: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,599: poor rates in 1838, £85.—Croome is the seat of the Earl of Coventry. The mansion is a noble structure, in the Italian style of architecture, with a portico of four Ionic pillars, supported on pediments, rebuilt on the site of an older edifice, and contains several noble apartments, sumptuously furnished and embellished with paintings and portraits, particularly one in the saloon of the lord-keeper, the first baron. The gardens are tastefully laid out, and beautifully diversified with wood and water, and embellished with many interesting works of art, laid out under the direction of George William, the noble Earl, who died in 1809, and to whose memory an urn has been placed on a pedestal, inscribed with the following verses, supposed to have been the composition of one of the younger ladies of the family:—

"Sacred to him, the genius of the place,
Who reared these shades, and formed these sweet retreats,
With every incense-breathing shrub adorn'd,
And flow'r of fairest hue! His cultur'd taste
And native fancy bade the scene around
Rise perfect; and the muse, whom much he lov'd,
Still joys to haunt it. Crown'd with length of days
He liv'd—one wish alone unsated—much
His loyal heart had cherish'd a fond hope
To hail this day of Jubilee, and close
His earthly course in Britain's hour of joy."

The lines were written in 1809, the Royal Jubilee, held when George III. had reigned fifty years. From this place we reach the church by a winding pathway. It is situated on an eminence, and commands extensive views. The grounds are laid out with great taste, and are admirably embellished with works of art. Through an extensive shrubbery we come to the greenhouse, with a large collection of exotics and statues of Roman figures. The Earl of Coventry traces his descent from John Coventry, who gained great wealth in the city of London, of which he was sheriff and lord mayor in 1416 and 1425. He was one of the executors of the famous Sir Richard Whittington, and was the lineal ancestor of Thomas Coventry, a great lawyer, appointed lord chief justice of the Court of Common Pleas in 1606, whose eldest son, Thomas, pursuing the same profession, in 1621, was appointed attorney-general, and in 1625, was raised to the office of lord-keeper of the great seal. In 1628 he was raised to the peerage as Baron Coventry of Aylesborough, Worcester. John, the fourth lord, died unmarried, when the title reverted to his uncle, Thomas, of Snitfield, Warwick, who was advanced by King William, in 1697, to the dignity of Viscount Deerhurst and Earl of Coventry. His grandson, Thomas, dying in his ninth year, the honours reverted to his uncle, Gilbert, who, dying in 1719, the barony became extinct, while the other honours, and most of the estates, devolved upon William Coventry, the lineal descendant of Walter Coventry, brother to the first lord, then one of the clerks of the green cloth, and M.P. for Bridport, who succeeded as fifth earl. The present, the ninth earl, who is a minor, succeeded to the title and estates in 1843.

CROOME (EARLS), or CROMPSIMON, WORCESTER, a parish in the lower division of the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Oswaldslow, union of Upton-upon-Severn: 135 miles from London (coach road 109), 2 from Upton-upon-Severn, 6 from Tewkesbury.---Gt. West. Rail. through Stonehouse to Defford station, thence 3 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham to Defford, &c., 77 miles.---Money orders issued at Upton-on-Severn: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 8 a.m.: post closes 5 p.m.---The parochial charities produce about £17 a year, beside five tenements inhabited by paupers.---The living (St. Nicholas), a disch<sup>d</sup>. rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup>. and diocese of Worcester, is valued at £7. 8s. 1<sup>d</sup>.: pres. net income, £200: patron, Rev. Charles Dunne: pres. incumbent, Charles Dunne, 1807: contains 1,650 acres: 40 houses: pop<sup>n</sup>. in 1841, 194: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>y</sup>. £1,904: poor rates in 1838, £50.---Earls Croome Court is the seat of the Hon. William Coventry, and Lovant Lodge, of Benjamin Golden, Esq.

CROOME-HILL (or HULL-CROME), WORCESTER, a parish in the lower division of the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Oswaldslow, union of Upton-upon-Severn: 108 miles from London, 3 from Upton-on-Severn, 12 from Worcester.---(For access and postal arrangements, see above.)---The parochial charities produce about £18 a year.---The living (St. Mary), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup>. and diocese of Worcester, is valued at £7. 10s. 5<sup>d</sup>.: pres. net income, £200: patron, Lord Chancellor: pres. incumbent, T. H. Coventry, 1826: contains 840 acres: 40 houses: pop<sup>n</sup>. in 1841, 201: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>y</sup>. £1,722: poor rates in 1838, £80. Tithes commuted in 1771.

CROPREDY, OXFORD, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup>. and union of Banbury, intersected by the Oxford Canal: 93 miles from London (coach road 75), 4 from Banbury, 2 from Mollington.---Gt. West. Rail. through Oxford and Banbury to Mollington, thence 2 miles: from Derby, through Rugby to Mollington, &c., 69 miles.---Money orders issued at Banbury: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 9 a.m.: post closes 5 p.m.---The living (St. Mary), a vicarage, with the curacies of Wardington, Mollington, and Claydon, in the diocese of Oxford, a peculiar of the Dean and Chapter of Lincoln, is valued at £26. 10s. 10<sup>d</sup>.: pres. net income, £592: patron, Bishop of Oxford: pres. incumbent, J. Ballard, 1811: contains 8,460 acres: 553 houses: pop<sup>n</sup>. in 1841, 2,765: probable pop<sup>n</sup>. in 1849, 3,179: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>y</sup>. £17,513: poor rates in 1837, £1,489. 4s. The tithes were commuted in 1774.---Cropredy is the seat of Sir Brooke William Robert Boothby, also of Ashbourne Hall---(which see for genealogy and family history.)

CROPSTON, LEICESTER, a township in the parish of Thurmaston---(which see for access, &c.): 100 miles from London, 4 from Leicester, 5 from Mount-Sorrell.---Money orders issued at Leicester: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 8<sup>1</sup>/<sub>2</sub> a.m.: post closes 9 p.m.---Contains 880 acres: 26 houses: pop<sup>n</sup>. in 1841, 111: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>y</sup>. £827: poor rates in 1838, £38. 8s. Tithes commuted in 1781.

CROPTHORNE, WORCESTER, a parish in the middle division of the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Oswaldslow, union of Pershore, on the southern bank of the Avon: 109 miles from London (coach road 103), 4 from Pershore, 3 from Evesham.---Gt. West. Rail. through Oxford to Evesham, thence 3 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Worcester to Evesham, &c., 86 miles.---Money orders issued at Pershore: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 8 a.m.: post closes 6<sup>1</sup>/<sub>2</sub> p.m.---The living (St. Michael), a vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup>. and diocese of Worcester, is valued at £14. 17s. 3<sup>d</sup>.: patron, Dean and Chapter of Worcester: pres. incumbent, G. Faussett, 1840: contains 3,520 acres: 156 houses: pop<sup>n</sup>. in 1841, 732: probable pop<sup>n</sup>. in 1849, 842: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>y</sup>. £7,255: poor rates in 1838, £193. 18s. Tithes of Charlton commuted in 1776.

CROPTON, NORTH RIDING, YORK, a township in the parish of Middleton, on the eastern bank of the Severn---(which see for access, &c.): 229 miles from London, 4 from Pickering, 9 from Helmsley.---Money orders issued at Pickering: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 10<sup>1</sup>/<sub>2</sub> a.m.: post closes 3 p.m.---Contains 3,810 acres: 64 houses: pop<sup>n</sup>. in 1841, 335: probable pop<sup>n</sup>. in 1849, 385: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>y</sup>. £1,718: poor rates in 1838, £73. 10s. Tithes of manor commuted in 1765.

CROPWELL-BISHOP (or GREAT CROPWELL), NOTTS, a parish in the south division of the wapentake of Bingham, union of Bingham, bounded on the east by the river Smithe, and close on the Grant-ham Canal: 143 miles from London (coach road 120), 8 from Nottingham, 4 from Bingham.---Nor. West. Rail. through Rugby and Nottingham to Bingham, thence 4 miles: from Derby, through Nottingham, &c., 29 miles.---Money orders issued at Nottingham: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 10<sup>1</sup>/<sub>2</sub> a.m.: post closes 4 p.m.---The living (St. Giles), a disch<sup>d</sup>. vicarage, a peculiar of the collegiate church of Southwell, in the diocese of Lincoln, is valued at £5. 3s. 4<sup>d</sup>.: pres. net income, £170: patron, Bishop of Ripon: pres. incumbent, George Gould, 1840: contains 1,380 acres: 94 houses: pop<sup>n</sup>. in 1841, 533: probable pop<sup>n</sup>. in 1849, 613: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>y</sup>. £1,706: poor rates in 1838, £132. 11s. Tithes commuted in 1802.

CROPWELL-BUTLER (or LITTLE CROPWELL), NOTTS, a hamlet in the parish of Tythby---(which see for access, &c.): 120 miles from London.---Contains 2,080 acres: 107 houses: pop<sup>n</sup>. in 1841, 678: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 779: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £2,592: poor rates in 1838, £106. 6s. The tithes of the lordship were commuted in 1787.

CROSBY, CUMBERLAND, a township in the parish of Cross-Canonby—(which see for access, &c.): 3 miles from Maryport. Money orders issued at Maryport: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9½ a.m.: post closes 12½ p.m.—Contains 40 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 272: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,520.

CROSBY, LINCOLN, a township in the parish of Bottesford, parts of Lindsey—(which see for access, &c.): 163 miles from London, 10 from Glandford-Brigg, 5 from Burton. Money orders issued at Brigg: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 11 a.m.: post closes 3 p.m.—Contains 740 acres: 40 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 199: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,859: poor rates in 1838, £94.

CROSBY, NORTH RIDING, YORK, a township in the parish of Leak—(which see for access, &c.): 221 miles from London, 3 from Bedale, 6 from Thirsk. Money orders issued at Bedale: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 10 a.m.: post closes 3 p.m.—Contains 1,430 acres: 5 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 37: poor rates in 1838, £26. 13s.

CROSBY-UPON-EDEN, CUMBERLAND, a parish in Eskdale ward, union of Carlisle: 304 miles from London (coach road 807), 4 from Carlisle, 5 from Brampton. Nor. West. Rail. through Crewe and Lancaster to Carlisle, thence 4 miles: from Derby, through Crewe, &c., 204 miles. Money orders issued at Carlisle: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 11 a.m.: post closes 2½ p.m.—The living, a disch<sup>d</sup> vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Carlisle, is valued at £3. 11s. 5½d.: pres. net income, £90: patron, Bishop of Carlisle: pres. incumbent, J. Thomlinson, 1838: contains 3,590 acres: 85 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 403: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 463: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £2,161: poor rates in 1838, £137. 3s.

CROSBY (HIGN), CUMBERLAND, a township in the same parish: 305 miles from London, 5 from Carlisle, 11 from Longtown. (For access and postal arrangements, see above.)—Contains 24 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 146.—(Other returns with the parish.)

CROSBY (LOW), CUMBERLAND, a township in the above parish—(which see for access, &c.)—Contains 37 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 133.—(Other returns with the parish.)

CROSBY-GARRET (or GERARD), WESTMORELAND, a township and parish in East ward—(which see for access, &c.)—union of East ward, on the north-east by the river Eden, and on the south-west by Crosby-Fell. This parish consists of two detached townships, Crosby-Garret and Little Musgrave, having the chapelry of Soulby, a part of the parish of Kirby-Stephen, interposed between them: 268 miles from London, 6 from Brough, 7 from Orton. Money orders issued at Brough: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 1½ p.m.: post closes 7½ a.m.—The living (St. Andrew), a disch<sup>d</sup> rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Carlisle, is valued at £19. 4s. 4½d.: pres. net income, £130: patron, W. Crawford, Esq.: pres. incumbent, Mark Newby, 1832: contains 4,580 acres: 53 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 274: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,795: poor rates in 1838, £41. 8s.

CROSBY-GARRET (or GERARD), WESTMORELAND, a township in the above parish.—(For access and postal arrangements, see above.)—Contains 3,470 acres: 42 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 243: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,117: poor rates in 1838, £25. 15s.

CROSBY (GREAT), LANCASTER, a chapelry in the parish of Sefton—(which see for access, &c.): 206 miles from London, 6 from Liverpool, 10 from Prescott. Money orders issued at Liverpool: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9½ a.m.: post closes 5 p.m.—The living is a perpetual curacy in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Chester: pres. net income, £119: patron, Rector of Sefton: pres. incumbent, R. Walker, 1844: contains 1,900 acres: 216 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,946: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 2,238: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £3,237: poor rates in 1838, £169. 11s.—Crosby Hall is the seat of William Blundell, Esq., a descendent of Sir Robert Blundell de Crosby, grandson of Osbertus de Aynsdale, who, in the time of Edward I., made over to his son, Nicholas, all his lands in Annosdale, now called Ainsdale, reserving to himself Shipnreck, and all his rents in Ravensmeales and Liverpoole. From Nicholas descended William Blundell, Esq., of Crosby, whose thigh was broken at the siege of Lathom House while fighting with the royalists. His grandson, Nicholas Blundell, Esq., had two daughters, one of whom, Frances, married Henry Peppard, Esq., and, dying in 1773, was succeeded by her son, Nicholas Peppard, Esq. of Crosby, who, in 1772, assumed the surname and arms of Blundell. He died in 1795, and was succeeded by his son, the present William Blundell, Esq., who is a magistrate and deputy-lieutenant for Lancashire.

CROSBY (LITTLE), LANCASTER, a township in the parish of Sefton: 207 miles from London.—(For access and postal arrangements, see above.)—Contains 1,750 acres: 56 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 394: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 453: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £2,408: poor rates in 1838, £200. 14s.

CROSBY-RAVENSWORTH, WESTMORELAND, a parish in West ward, union of West ward, comprising the townships of Crosby-Ravensthorpe, Mauld's Meaburn, Reagill, and Birbeck-Fells, the two former of which are watered by the Lyvennet, a tributary of the river Eden: 272 miles from London (coach road 280), 13 from Penrith, 5 from Appleby. Nor. West. Rail. through Crewe and Lancaster to Shap station, thence 4 miles: from Derby, through Crewe, &c., 172 miles. Money orders issued at Penrith: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> at noon: post closes 1 p.m.—There are extensive limestone beds in this parish; and Shap Fells, the celebrated mountain range, is comprised in the parochial boundaries.—The living (St. Lawrence), a disch<sup>d</sup> vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Carlisle, is valued at £7. 13s. 4d.: pres. net income, £150: patron, Hon. Mary G. Howard: pres. incumbent, G. F. Weston, 1848: contains 15,460 acres: 159 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 909: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,045: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £7,313: poor rates in 1838, £388. 6s.—Flas is the seat of Wilkinson Dent, Esq.; and Holes Foot, of William Thwaytes, Esq.

CROSCOMBE, SOMERSET, a parish in the hundred of Whitestone, union of Shepton-Mallet, on the river Brae: 124 miles from London (coach road 118), 2 from Shepton-Mallet, 4 from Wells.—Gt. West. Rail. to Bath, thence 18 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Bristol to Bath, &c., 161 miles.---Money orders issued at Bristol: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 7½ p.m.---The living (St. Mary), a disch<sup>d</sup> rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Wells, and diocese of Bath and Wells, is valued at £12. 6s. 10½d.: pres. net income, £222: patron, Miss Elizabeth Wylie: pres. incumbent, W. P. Purvis, 1837: contains 1,420 acres: 182 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 804: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 925: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £2,771: poor rates in 1838, £272. 13s.---Fair, on Lady Day.

CROSS (Str.) (HOSPITAL OF). See WINCHESTER.

CROSS (Str.), HANTS, in the parish of Carisbrook, Isle of Wight: before A.D. 1155, here was a priory or hospital dedicated to the Holy Cross.

CROSS (Str.), SOUTH ELMHAM OR SANDCROFT, SUFFOLK, a parish in the hund<sup>d</sup> and union of Wangford, bounded on the west by the river Waveney: 109 miles from London (coach road 94), 5 from Bungay, 4 from Harleston.---East. Co. Rail. to Diss, thence 12 miles: from Derby, through Syston, Peterborough, and Norwich, to Diss, &c., 196 miles.---Money orders issued at Bungay: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 5 p.m.---The living is a disch<sup>d</sup> rectory, annexed to that of Homersfield: contains 1,110 acres: 28 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 258: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £1,331: poor rates in 1837, £188. 9s.

CROSS-CANNONBY. See CANNONBY CROSS.

CROSSLAND (South), WEST RIDING, YORK, a township in the parish of Almondbury, east of the river Colne---(which see for access, &c.): 188 miles from London, 4 from Huddersfield, 10 from Rochdale.---Money orders issued at Huddersfield: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 10 a.m.: post closes 5 p.m.---The living is a perpetual curacy, in the diocese of Ripon: pres. net income, £150: patron, Vicar of Almondbury: pres. incumbent, George Hough, 1829: contains 1,560 acres: 409 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 2,705: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 3,111: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £4,732: poor rates in 1848, £595. 7s.

CROSTHWAITE AND LYTH, WESTMORELAND, a chapelry in the parish of Heversham, on a branch of the river Kent---(which see for access, &c.): 266 miles from London, 5 from Kendal, 7 from Milnthorpe.---Money orders issued at Kendal: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9½ a.m.: post closes 3½ p.m.---The living is a perpetual curacy in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Richmond, and diocese of Chester: pres. net income, £113: patrons, Landowners: pres. incumbent, J. Dixon, 1830: contains 7,880 acres: 119 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 717: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 760: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £5,218: poor rates in 1838, £219. 16s.---High Birks is the residence of James Cartmell, Esq.; Spring Cottage, of Roger Fleming, Esq.; Church Town, of William Garnett, Esq.; Broad Oak, of John Cartmell, Esq.; and Border Side, of William Pearson, Esq.

CROSTHWAITE, CUMBERLAND, a parish, partly in Allerdale ward, below Derwent, and partly in Allerdale ward, above Derwent, union of Cockermouth: this extensive parish comprises the townships of Braithwaite, Coledale, or Portingale, Keswick, and Under Skiddaw, and the chapelries of Borrowdale, Newland, Thornwaite, St. John's, Castlerigg, and Wythburn: 293 miles from London (coach road 291), 1 from Keswick, 8 from Cockermouth.---Nor. West. Rail. through Crowe and Lancaster to Penrith, thence 17 miles: from Derby, through Crowe, &c., 193 miles.---Money orders issued at Keswick: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 12½ p.m.: post closes 12½ p.m.---This extensive parish comprehends the beautiful vale of Keswick, with its handsome villas and hamlets, and the lakes of Derwentwater, Thirlmere, or Leatheswater. The neighbouring mountains contain abundance of copper and lead ores, with a large quantity of plumbago. There are woollen mills here, which give employment to about 200 hands. A free grammar-school is endowed with about £99. 5s. per annum. The other parochial charities amount to about £222, besides other charities amounting to about £85; an unendowed school-house in St. John's chapelry, and grazings in the parish for fourteen cows. The church is an ancient fabric, roofed with slate. There are two saline springs near the source of the Derwent.---The living (St. Kentigern), a vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Carlisle, is valued at £50. 8s. 11½d.: pres. net income, £430: patron, Bishop of Carlisle: pres. incumbent, James Lynn, 1820: contains 58,330 acres: 839 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 4,759: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 5,472: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £15,821: poor rates in 1838, £952. 12s.---Crosthwaite House.

CROSTON, LANCASTER, a parish in the hund<sup>d</sup> of Leyland, union of Chorley, on the river Yarrow, and bounded on the west by the Douglas: 220 miles from London (coach road 214), 6 from Chorley, 9 from Preston.---Nor. West. Rail. through Crowe and Wigan to Farrington station, thence 5 miles: from Derby, through Crowe, &c., 120 miles.---Money orders issued at Chorley: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 5½ p.m.---In ancient times, Croston was one of the most valuable benefices in the country, but it has at various periods been divided by parliament into six distinct parishes, namely, Croston, Hoole, separated in 1642, Chorley and Rufford, in 1793, and Tarleton and Hesketh with Becconsall, in 1821. The church, situated in a valley, on the bank of the river Yarrow, was rebuilt in 1743, at an expense of £1,834, defrayed by a brief. There is a free school, endowed in 1660, by the Rev. James Hiet, with about £15 per annum, and a school of industry, endowed with £14 a year.---The living, a rectory in the diocese of Manchester, is valued at £31. 11s. 10½d.: pres. net income, £1,050: patron, Rev. R. M. Master: pres. incumbent, S. Master, 1798: contains 17,840 acres: 1,103 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 3,939: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 4,530: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £30,997: poor rates in 1838, £2,002. 19s.---Fair, Monday preceding Shrove-Tuesday.

CROSTON (or CROSS-STON), WEST RIDING, YORK, a chapelry in the parish of Halifax---(which see for access, &c.): 195 miles from London, 1 from Halifax, 6 from Huddersfield.---Money orders issued at Halifax: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9½ a.m.: post closes 5 p.m.---The living is a perpetual curacy, formerly in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of York, now in the diocese of Ripon: pres. net income, £150: patron, Vicar of Halifax: pres. incumbent, W. Mallinson, 1845.

CROSTWICK, NORFOLK, a parish in the hund<sup>d</sup> of Taverham, union of St. Faith's, near a branch of the Bure: 119 miles from London (coach road 114), 5 from Norwich, 11 from Reepham.---East. Co<sup>r</sup> Rail. to Norwich, thence 5 miles: from Derby, through Syston and Peterborough to Norwich, &c., 171 miles.---Money orders issued at Norwich: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8½ a.m.: post closes 8 p.m.---The Hving (St. Peter), a disch<sup>d</sup> rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Norwich, is valued at £2. 17s. 6d.: pres. net income, £66: patron, Bishop of Norwich: pres. incumbent, Edward John Bell, 1848: contains 550 acres: 27 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 147: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £263: poor rates in 1838, £35. 17s.

CROSTWIGHT, NORFOLK, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Tunstead, union of Tunstead and Happing: 129 miles from London (coach road 127), 4 from North Walsham, 11 from Cromer.---East. Co<sup>r</sup> Rail. to Norwich, thence 15 miles: from Derby, through Syston and Peterborough to Norwich, &c., 181 miles.---Money orders issued at North Walsham: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 10½ a.m.: post closes 3¼ p.m.---The living, a disch<sup>d</sup> rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Norwich, is valued at £5. 6s. 8d.: pres. net income, £66: patron, M. Shephard, Esq.: pres. incumbent, T. Beckwith, 1846: contains 710 acres: 11 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 69: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £516: poor rates in 1838, £64. 6s.

CROUGHTON, CHESTER, a township in the parish of St. Oswald, near the Mersey Canal---(which see for access, &c.): 185 miles from London, 4 from Chester, 10 from Nestor.---Money orders issued at Chester: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 7 p.m.---Contains 310 acres: 4 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 27: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £399: poor rates in 1838, £23. 12s.

CROUGHTON, NORTHAMPTON, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of King's Sutton, union of Brackley: 83 miles from London (coach road 62), 4 from Brackley, 6 from Deddington.---Gt. West. Rail. through Oxford to Aynho, thence 2 miles: from Derby, through Rugby and Banbury to Aynho, &c., 79 miles.---Money orders issued at Brackley: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 5 p.m.---The living, a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Northampton, and diocese of Peterborough, is valued at £15. 3s. 6½d.: pres. net income, £324: patron, Viscount Ashbrook: pres. incumbent, H. L. Bennett, 1819: contains 2,620 acres: 100 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 472: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 542: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £2,703: poor rates in 1838, £43. 10s.

CROWAN, CORNWALL, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Penwith, union of Helstone: 309 miles from London (coach road 274), 5 from Helstone, 5 from Camborne.---Gt. West. Rail. through Bristol and Exeter to Plymouth, thence 65 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Bristol, &c., 323 miles.---Money orders issued at Helstone: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 6½ p.m.: post closes 6 p.m.---This parish is situated in the midst of the mining district, and comprises several villages; the surrounding country is beautifully diversified. The church contains several handsome monuments of the St. Aubyn family. The principal copper mine contains four steam-engines for pumping water, and four rotation-engines for drawing the ores to the surface; the deepest part of the workings being 180 fathoms. Sir John St. Aubyn erected a handsome and spacious school-room, at an expence of £1,000, for the instruction of all the boys in the parish, and by him the school is entirely supported. Fine views of the surrounding country may be obtained from Crowan Beacon, an ancient conical heap of stones, which is most probably a cairn; and near the farms of Tregear and Dym, there are traces of an ancient encampment, and also of an ancient chapel at Burneston.---The living (St. Crewenne), a vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Cornwall, and diocese of Exeter, is valued at £11. 9s. 2d.: pres. net income, £451: patron, Rev. H. M. St. Aubyn: pres. incumbent, J. W. Johns, 1844: contains 7,340 acres: 773 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 4,638: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 5,334: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £13,176: poor rates in 1838, £361. 15s.---Clowance is the seat of Sir John St. Aubyn, Bart.

CROWBOROUGH. See BLACKWOOD and CROWBOROUGH.

CROWCOMBE, SOMERSET, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Williton and Freemanners, union of Williton: 171 miles from London (coach road 150), 8 from Taunton, 6 from Wiveliscombe.---Gt. West. Rail. through Bristol to Taunton, thence 8 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Bristol to Taunton, &c., 185 miles.---Money orders issued at Taunton: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 6½ p.m.---This place was anciently of much more importance than at present; it was an incorporated borough, enjoying various privileges, and a portreeve is still annually chosen at the court-leet of the lord of the manor. The church is an ancient building of hewn stone, with a tower, the spire surmounting which was struck down by lightning in 1725. In 1534, the interior was neatly fitted up with carved oak, and the north aisle built by the Carews, to several members of whose family there are some fine monuments. At the entrance to the village there is a well-preserved cross, and the remains of another in the churchyard. There is a school for clothing and educating fifteen boys, endowed, in 1733, with £41 per annum; and there is a school for eighteen girls, endowed with £10 per annum. Near the court-house there is a spring, ebbing and flowing with the tide, and at the sides of the Quantock hills, some veins of copper have been found.---The living (the Holy Trinity), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Taunton, and diocese of Bath and Wells, is valued at £32. 14s. 4½d.: patron, R. Harvey, Esq.: pres. incumbent, D. Campbell, 1827: contains 3,220 acres: 91 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 673: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 773: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £3,553: poor rates in 1838, £306. 9s.---Market day, Tuesday. Fairs: first Friday in May, Monday after August 1, October 31.

CROWDON. See CROYDON WITH CLAPTON.

CROWELL, OXFORD, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Lewknor, union of Thame: 42 miles from London (coach road 39), 4 from Tetworth, 15 from Oxford.---Gt. West. Rail. to High-Wycombe, thence 9 miles: from Derby, through London, &c., 174 miles.---Money orders issued at Tetworth: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 8 p.m.---The living (St. Mary), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Oxford, is valued at £7. 9s. 9½d.: pres. net income, £190: patron, Miss Wykeham: pres. incumbent, J. Beauchamp, 1831: contains

1,160 acres: 90 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 169: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,013: poor rates in 1837, £58. 2s. Tithes commuted in 1839.

CROWFIELD, SUFFOLK, a parochial chapelry connected with the parish of Coddanham—(which see for access, &c.): 78 miles from London, 9 from Ipswich, 5 from Debenham.—Money orders issued at Ipswich: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9½ a.m.: post closes 7½ p.m.—The living is a curacy annexed to the vicarage of Coddanham: contains 2,280 acres: 73 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 385: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 448: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,350: poor rates in 1838, £243.

CROWHURST, SURREY, a parish in the lower division of the hun<sup>d</sup> of Tandridge, union of Godstone, west of the Broad Mead water: 31 miles from London (coach road 18), 4 from Godstone, 5 from Betchingley.—Sou. East. Rail. to Godstone, thence 4 miles: from Derby, through London, &c., 163 miles.—Money orders issued at Reigate: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m.—The living (St. George), a perpetual curacy in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Surrey, and diocese of Winchester, is valued at £34: pres. net income, £65: patron, George Rush, Esq.: pres. incumbent, R. F. Fuller, 1819: contains 2,250 acres: 36 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 350: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 402: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,865: poor rates in 1838, £188. 3s.

CROWHURST, SUSSEX, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Baldalew, rape of Hastings, union of Battle: 79 miles from London (coach road 58), 2 from Battle, 4 from Hastings.—Brighton and Sou. Coast Rail. to Hastings, thence 4 miles: from Derby, through London, &c., 211 miles.—Money orders issued at Battle: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 7½ a.m.: post closes 8½ p.m.—The living (St. George), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Lewes, and diocese of Chichester, is valued at £10: pres. net income, £177: patron, T. Papillon, Esq.: pres. incumbent, Sir C. Hardinge, Bart., 1804: contains 2,190 acres: 51 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 326: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 375: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,645: poor rates in 1838, £172. 11s.

CROWLAND. See CROYLAND.

CROWLE, LINCOLN, a small market town and parish in the west division of the wapentake of Manley, union of Thorne, bounded on the west by the river Don, and on the east by the river Trent: the Stainforth and Keadley Canal is in the vicinity: it includes the township of Eastoft: 222 miles from London (coach road 167), 7 from Burton.—Nor. and East. Co<sup>t</sup> Rail. through Peterborough and Lincoln to Doncaster, thence 15 miles: from Derby, through Swinton to Doncaster, &c., 69 miles.—Money orders issued at Bawtry: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 10.25 a.m.: post closes 2 p.m.—The Independents and Wesleyan Methodists have chapels here, and there is a school with a small endowment.—The living (St. Oswald), a vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Stow, and diocese of Lincoln, is valued at £14. 10s.: pres. net income, £777: patron, W. Duncombe, Esq.: pres. incumbent, W. Duncombe, 1844: contains 7,350 acres: 412 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 2,544: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 2,925: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £8,320: poor rates in 1838, £505. 10s.—Market day, Saturday. Fairs: every alternate Monday from March to May, for sheep and cattle; last Monday in May, Sept. 4, Nov. 22, cattle.

CROWLE, WORCESTER, a parish, partly in the middle division of the hun<sup>d</sup> of Oswaldslow, and partly in the upper division of the hun<sup>d</sup> of Halfshire, union of Droitwich, near a branch of the Avon: 123 miles from London (coach road 112), 5 from Worcester, 5 from Droitwich.—Gt. West. Rail. through Oxford to Worcester, thence 5 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham to Worcester, &c., 76 miles.—Money orders issued at Worcester: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8½ a.m.: post closes 6 p.m.—The living (St. Peter), a vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Worcester, is valued at £16: pres. net income, £281: patron, Rev. Edwin Crane: pres. incumbent, Edwin Crane, 1835: contains 1,640 acres: 117 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 526: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 605: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £2,267: poor rates in 1838, £85. 8s. The tithes were commuted in 1806.

CROWLEY, CHESTER, a township in the parish of Great Budworth—(which see for access, &c.): 178 miles from London, 5 from Northwich, 8 from Altrincham.—Money orders issued at Northwich: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8½ a.m.: post closes 7 p.m.—By the Reform Act, the parish is included in the parliamentary boundaries of Wallingford.—Contains 1,440 acres: 22 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 175: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,775: poor rates in 1837, £110. 5s.

CROWMARSH-GIFFORD, OXFORD, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Langtree, union of Wallingford: 51 miles from London (coach road 45), 2 from Wallingford, 10 from Henley.—Gt. West. Rail. to Wallingford Road, thence 3 miles: from Derby, through Rugby, Oxford, and Dudsote, to Wallingford Road, 114 miles.—Money orders issued at Wallingford: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 7½ a.m.: post closes 9 p.m.—The living (St. Mary Magdalene), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Oxford, is valued at 12s. 6d.: pres. net income, £187: pres. incumbent, John Trollope, 1844: contains 480 acres: 56 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 330: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 380: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £867: poor rates in 1838, £140. 8s.

CROWNTHORPE, NORFOLK, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> and union of Forehoe, on the river Yare: 118 miles from London (coach road 102), 2 from Wymondham, 4 from Hingham.—Nor. and East. Co<sup>t</sup> Rail. to Wymondham, thence 2 miles: from Derby, through Syston and Peterborough to Wymondham, &c., 157 miles.—Money orders issued at Oakham: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8½ a.m.: post closes 7½ p.m.—The living (St. James), a disch<sup>d</sup> rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Norfolk, and diocese of Norwich, is valued at £4. 12s. 6d.: pres. net income, £133: patron, Lord Wodehouse: pres. incumbent, R. Raikes, 1848: contains 520 acres: 13 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 111: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £626: poor rates in 1838, £96. 13s.

CROWTON, CHESTER, a township in the parish of Weaverham—(which see for access, &c.): 179 miles from London, 5 from Northwich, 5 from Warrington.—Money orders issued at Northwich: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8½ a.m.: post closes 7 p.m.—Contains 1,260 acres: 77 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 454: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 522: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,970: poor rates in 1838, £148. 3s.

CROXBY, LINCOLN, a parish in the south division of the wapentake of Walshcroft, union of Caistor: 188 miles from London (coach road 156), 6 from Caistor, 10 from Great Grimsby.---Nor. and East. Co<sup>r</sup>. Rail. through Peterborough and Lincoln to Ulceby station, thence 2 miles: from Derby, through Nottingham and Lincoln, &c., 79 miles.---Money orders issued at Caistor: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 10½ a.m.: post closes 5½ p.m.---The living (All Saints), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup>. and diocese of Lincoln, is valued at £6. 4s. 2d.: pres. net income, £320: patron, Lord Chancellor: pres. incumbent, J. Alington, 1832: contains 1,690 acres: 6 houses: pop<sup>n</sup>. in 1841, 106: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £905.

CROXDALE, DURHAM, a chapelry in that part of the parish of St. Oswald which is in the south division of Easington ward---(which see for access, &c.): 256 miles from London, 3 from Durham, 7 from Bishop-Auckland.---Money orders issued at Durham: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 10 a.m.: post closes 4 p.m.---The living is a perpetual curacy, in the diocese of Durham: pres. net income, £120: patron, Dean and Chapter of Durham: pres. incumbent, H. Chaytor, 1841: pop<sup>n</sup>. in 1841, 262.---Croxdale Hall, the seat of Gerard Salvin, Esq., is situated on an eminence, commanding a beautiful view to the south-west. There are beautifully laid out pleasure-grounds, with wood and plantations adjoining. A small rivulet flows round the western extremity of the pleasure-grounds, named Croxdale Beek; its channel is a picturesque dell, so deep that the sun's rays cannot penetrate it; and in ancient times it was believed to be the abode of evil spirits, for which reason a cross was erected, which subsequently gave the name of Croxdale to the surrounding lands. A neighbouring cliff, called Croxdale Scar, commands a beautiful prospect to the west, comprising the valley intersected by the small river and the vale of Butterby, surrounded by the waters of the Weir. Mr. Salvin derives his descent from Jocus le Flemangh, who came to England with the Conqueror, and held the third part of a knight's fee in Cuckney, Notts, ancestor of Gerard Salvayn of North Duffield, Herswell, ambassador to the court of France, in the reigns of Edward I. and II., escheator north of Trent, and sheriff of Yorkshire, in the latter reign, and grandfather of Sir Gerard Salvayn, Knt., high sheriff of Yorkshire under Edward III., and some time escheator to the king, south of Trent. He obtained the manor of Belles-ter and Twedale, York, from the crown, and also an exemplification of the pardon and restitution in blood granted to his mother, by patent, for the treason of her father the Lord Ross. His son, Sir Gerard Salvayn, Knt. of Herswell and Duffield, sheriff of Yorkshire, had five sons, the fourth of whom, Gerard, married Agnes, Lady of Croxdale, in whose right he became "of Croxdale," in the county of Durham, having had livery of his wife's inheritance in October, 1402, since when their descendants have possessed the manor of Croxdale, the present possessor, Gerard Salvin, Esq., being their lineal descendant.

CROXDEN, STAFFORD, a parish in the south division of the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Totmonskow, union of Uttoxeter, in the neighbourhood of the Uttoxeter Canal: 152 miles from London (coach road 139), 4 from Uttoxeter, 4 from Cheadle.---Nor. West. Rail. through Rugby and Leicester to Uttoxeter, thence 4 miles: from Derby, through Burton and Uttoxeter, &c., 31 miles.---Money orders issued at Uttoxeter: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 9½ a.m.: post closes 5½ p.m.---There was a Cistercian monastery here, founded in 1176, the yearly revenues of which, at the dissolution, were £90. 5s. 11d. The remains of this once stately edifice are still very imposing.---The living (St. Giles) is a perpetual curacy in the archd<sup>y</sup>. of Stafford, and diocese of Lichfield: pres. net income, £92: patron, Earl of Macclesfield: pres. incumbent, William Higton, 1818: contains 2,400 acres: 44 houses: pop<sup>n</sup>. in 1841, 268: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £2,645: poor rates in 1838, £162. 12s.

CROXHALL WITH EDINGHALL, STAFFORD, a parish, partly in the north division of the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Offlow, in the above county, and partly in the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Repton and Gresley, union of Tamworth, on the river Meese: 140 miles from London (coach road 124), 8 from Burton-on-Trent, 18 from Derby.---Nor. West. Rail. through Rugby and Leicester to Burton-on-Trent, thence 8 miles: from Derby, through Burton-on-Trent, &c., 18 miles.---Money orders issued at Burton-on-Trent: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 10 a.m.: post closes 6½ p.m.---The living (St. John the Baptist), a vicarage, in the archd<sup>y</sup>. of Derby, and diocese of Lichfield, is valued at £5: pres. net income, £489: patron, Lord Chancellor: pres. incumbent, James Gisborne, 1838: contains 3,160 acres: 40 houses: pop<sup>n</sup>. in 1841, 258: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £5,968: poor rates in 1838, £124. 16s. Tithes commuted in 1791.

CROXTETH-PARK, LANCASTER, an extra-parochial liberty in the hun<sup>d</sup>. of West Derby: 201 miles from London, 4 from Prescot, 6 from Liverpool.---Money orders issued at Prescot: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 8 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m.---Contains 710 acres: 5 houses: pop<sup>n</sup>. in 1841, 57: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £1,291.---Croxtheth Hall is the seat of the Earl of Sefton, a descendant of William de Mollines, a Norman noble, who came to England with the Conqueror, and whose name is the eighteenth on the roll of Battle Abbey. He obtained the manor of Sephton, or Sefton, where he resided, with those of Thornton and Thirerdon, by grant from Roger de Poytiers, Lord of Lancaster. His descendant, Sir William Molyneux, was made a banneret in Gascony, in 1286, and his great-grandson, also Sir William, was made a banneret in 1367, after the battle of Navarret, by Edward the Black Prince. His son, Sir Richard, distinguished himself in the French wars of Henry V., especially at the battle of Agincourt, as a recompense for which Henry VI. granted him, and his son Richard, the chief forestership of the royal forest and parks in the wapentake of West Derbyshire, and other offices. Concerning his eldest son, the above-mentioned Sir Richard Molyneux, we find the following provisional clause in the act of resumption, passed 36 Henry VI.:--Provided always, that this act extend not, nor in anywise be prejudicial unto Richard Molyneux, Esq. of Sefton, one of our ushers of our privy chamber, &c., &c. He was killed at Bloreheath, fighting for the Lancas-rians. His grandson, Sir William, distinguished himself at the battle of Flodden Field in 1513, where he took, with his own hand, two standards, still preserved in the family. His grandson, Sir Richard, was amongst the first elevated to the dignity of baronet on the institution of that order in 1611, and his son, also Sir Richard, was advanced to the peerage of Ireland, in December, 1628, by the title of Viscount Molyneux of Maryborough, and was succeeded by his son, Sir Richard, who fought in the battle of Worcester on the side of royalty. Dying without issue, his brother, Caryll, succeeded to the honours, and was outlawed by parliament for his zeal for the cause of Charles I. Richard, his descendant, seventh viscount, was a clergyman of the Church of Rome, whose brother, William, dying without issue, was succeeded by his nephew, Charles William, ninth viscount, who conformed to the Church of England in 1768, and in November, 1771, was advanced to the dignity of Earl of Sefton, in the peerage of Ireland. His son, William Philip, second earl, was created a peer of the united kingdom, as Baron Sefton of Croxteth, in June, 1831. He was succeeded by his son, the present peer, Charles William Molyneux, Earl of Sefton, Viscount Molyneux of Maryborough, in the peerage of Ireland, Baron Sefton of Croxteth, Lancaster, in that of the united kingdom, and a baronet of England.

CROXTON, CAMBRIDGE, a parish in the hund<sup>d</sup> of Longstow, union of Caxton and Arrington: 58 miles from London (coach road 52), 2 from Caxton, 7 from Huntingdon. — Gt. Nor. Rail. to St. Neot's, thence 6 miles: from Derby, through Syston and Peterborough to St. Neot's, thence 6 miles. — Money orders issued at Caxton: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 7½ a.m.: post closes 7 p.m. — The living (St. James), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Ely, is valued at £14. 8s. 6½d.: pres. net income, £185: patron, S. Newton, Esq.: pres. incumbent, Thomas Kidd, 1813: contains 1,901 acres: 39 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 264: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £1,425: poor rates in 1838, £189. 3s. Tithes commuted in 1811. — Croxtton Park is the seat of Sir Joseph Edward Leeds, Bart., the son of George William Leeds, Esq. of Croxtton Park (descended from Dr. Leeds, master of Clare Hall in the University of Cambridge, by whom the manor of Croxtton was purchased about the middle of the 16th century), who was created a baronet, and was succeeded in 1838 by his son, as second baronet.

CROXTON, CHESTER, a township in the parish of Middlewich, bounded on the south and west by the river Dane—(which see for access, &c.): 167 miles from London, 1 from Middlewich, 5 from Northwich. — Money orders issued at Middlewich: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 7½ a.m.: post closes 7 p.m. — Contains 430 acres: 4 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 48: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £1,540: poor rates in 1838, £103.

CROXTON, LINCOLN, a parish in the east division of the wapentake of Yarnborough, parts of Lindsey, union of Glandford-Brigg: 202 miles from London (coach road 164), 8 from Glandford-Brigg, 8 from Barton. — Nor. and East. Co<sup>t</sup> Rail. through Peterborough and Lincoln to Croxtton station: from Derby, through Nottingham and Lincoln, &c., 87 miles. — Money orders issued at Brigg: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 11 a.m.:

post closes 3 p.m. — The living (St. John the Evangelist), a disch<sup>d</sup> rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Lincoln, is valued at £8. 14s. 2d.: pres. net income, £358: patron, Lord Chancellor: pres. incumbent, J. Morgan, 1831: contains 1,630 acres.

CROXTON. See FULMOTESTON WITH CROXTON.

CROXTON, NORFOLK, a parish in the hund<sup>d</sup> of Grimshoe, union of Thetford: 97 miles from London (coach road 82), 2 from Thetford, 6 from Brandon. — Nor. and East. Co<sup>t</sup> Rail. through Ely to Thetford, thence 2 miles: from Derby, through Syston and Peterborough to Thetford, &c., 137 miles. — Money orders issued at Thetford: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 7½ a.m.: post closes 9 p.m. — The living (All Saints), a disch<sup>d</sup> vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Norfolk, and diocese of Norwich, is valued at £6. 13s. 4d.: pres. net income, £98: patron, Christ's College, Cambridge: pres. incumbent, H. S. M. Hubert, 1840: contains 4,581 acres: 52 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 330: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 380: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £1,625: poor rates in 1838, £157. 7s.

CROXTON, STAFFORD, a township in the parish of Eccleshall, on the river Sow—(which see for access, &c.): 150 miles from London, 3 from Eccleshall, 8 from Drayton. — Money orders issued at Eccleshall: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 8 p.m. — Contains 3,790 acres: 166 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 887: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,020.

CROXTON-KEYRIAL, LEICESTER, a parish in the hund<sup>d</sup> of Framland, union of Grantham: 131 miles from London (coach road 113), 7 from Grantham, 9 from Melton-Mowbray. — Nor. West. Rail. through Rugby and Syston to Melton-Mowbray, thence 9 miles: from Derby, through Syston, &c., 54 miles. — Money orders issued at Grantham: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 10 a.m.: post closes 3 p.m. — The parochial charities produce about £70 a year. There was formerly a Premonstratentian Abbey here, the funds of which were £385 per annum at the dissolution. — The living (St. John), a disch<sup>d</sup> vicarage, in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Leicester, formerly in the diocese of Lincoln, now in that of Peterborough, is valued at £7. 14s. 7d.: pres. net income, £206: patron, Duke of Rutland: pres. incumbent, M. O. Norman, 1846: contains 3,500 acres: 123 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 650: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 659: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £4,200: poor rates in 1838, £286. 5s.

CROXTON (SOUTH), LEICESTER, a parish in the hund<sup>d</sup> of East Goscote, union of Barrow-on-Soar, on a branch of the river Wreak: 112 miles from London (coach road 103), 8 from Leicester, 8 from Melton-Mowbray. — Nor. West. Rail. through Rugby to Syston, thence 5 miles: from Derby, through Syston, &c., 29 miles. — Money orders issued at Leicester: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9½ a.m.: post closes 5½ p.m. — The living (St. John the Baptist), a rectory, formerly in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Leicester, and diocese of Lincoln, now in the diocese of Peterborough, is valued at £8. 3s. 4d.: pres. net income, £130: patron, Duke of Rutland: pres. incumbent, G. F. Wilkinson, 1828: contains 1,760 acres: 61 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 297: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £2,394: poor rates in 1838, £169. 1s. The tithes of the lordship were commuted in 1794.

CROYDON (or CRAWDEN WITH CLOFTON), CAMBRIDGE, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Armingford, union of Caxton and Arrington: 51 miles from London (coach road 45), 1 from Arrington, 7 from Royston. —Gt. Nor. Rail. to Biggleswade, thence 10 miles: from Derby, by Syston and Peterborough, &c., 107 miles. —Money orders issued at Arrington: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8½ a.m.: post closes 8½ p.m. —The living (All Saints) is a vicarage, with the rectory of Clopton, in the archd<sup>y</sup>. and diocese of Ely: pres. net income, £449: patron, T. F. Gape, Esq.: pres. incumbent, R. S. B. Sandilands, 1845: contains 2,655 acres: 81 houses: pop<sup>n</sup>. in 1841, 441: probable pop<sup>n</sup>. in 1849, 507: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>y</sup>. £2,274: poor rates in 1837, £375. 9s. Tithes commuted in 1839.

CROYDON, SURREY, a market town and parish in the first division of the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Wallington, now invariably denominated the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Croydon, union of Croydon: 11 miles from London (coach road 9), 7 from Ewell. —Croydon Rail. to station: from Derby, through London, &c., 143 miles. —London letters: four posts each way daily. —This town, named by Camden Crawdēden, and formerly called Croindene and Croiden, derives its present appellation from croie, chalk, and dune, a hill, from its situation on the summit of a large basin of chalk. It is supposed to have been the ancient Noviomagus of Antonine, and the Roman road from Arundel to London intersected it. It is by some supposed to have been a royal residence, and at the Conquest was given to Lanfranc, Archbishop of Canterbury, whose successors in that see have ever since been lords of the manor. The chapel is used as a school of industry. In 1264, during the wars between Henry III. and the barons, the citizens of London retreated to this town, but were attacked by the royal army, and defeated with great slaughter. The town, pleasantly situated at the edge of the Bansted downs, near the source of the river Wandle (a small stream abounding with trout, which falls into the Thames at Wandsworth), chiefly consists of one long street, well paved and lighted with gas, and well supplied with water. The houses are most of them modern, some elegant, and all substantial and well built. The church, an elegant, spacious fabric of freestone and flint, was begun by Archbishop Courteney, and finished by Archbishop Chicheley. Two new chapels, All Saints and St. James, have recently been erected. The air of Croydon is salubrious, and the place is at a convenient distance from London. There is a theatre, and there are barracks, with accommodation for numerous troops, with hospital, infirmary, stabling, &c. About a mile to the north-east of Croydon is Addiscombe House, the seat of the first Lord Liverpool, but purchased by the Hon. the East India Company, as a military college for educating cadets—(for account of which, see ADDISCOMBE.) Croydon is within the jurisdiction of the county magistrates, who hold petty sessions here every week. A handsome, commodious town-hall was erected some years ago, at which, alternately with Guildford, the summer assizes are held. The trade is considerable—principally in oats, for the supply of London. The Baptists, Independents, Wesleyan Methodists, and the Society of Friends, have places of worship here. There are eight almshouses, founded by Elias Davy in the reign of Henry VI., for eight poor people, one of whom is tutor or master, and one supernumerary, called the reliever, endowed with an income of about £189. There are smaller almshouses, endowed with £10 per annum; also, an hospital, that of the Holy Trinity, founded here in the reign of Elizabeth, by John Whitgift, the Archbishop of Canterbury, at an expense of £2,700, and consisting of a warden, a schoolmaster, and thirty, or any number under forty, poor brethren and sisters. The rental of property belonging to this hospital amounts to about £2,000, besides smaller sources of revenue. The Archbishop of Canterbury, who is the special visitor, appoints persons to the establishment. They must be above sixty years of age, and half of them belonging to the parish of Croydon, and half to that of Lambeth, although the archbishop may nominate from his household. Henry Smith's charities for the indigent poor of the parish, produce about £213 per annum. The other charities amount to about £275 per annum, £121 of which arise from Archbishop Tennison's endowment of a free school, founded by him in 1714. This is the principal place of election for the members for East Surrey. The Croydon poor-law union comprehends eleven parishes, extending over forty-nine square miles, with a population of about 22,000. —The living is a vicarage in the diocese of Canterbury: net income, £587: patron, Archbishop of Canterbury: pres. incumbent, J. G. Hodgson, 1846. All Saints, Norwood, is a perpetual curacy in the diocese of Canterbury: net income, £350: patron, Vicar of Croydon: pres. incumbent, Edmund Harden. St. James, Croydon Common, is a perpetual curacy also in the diocese of Canterbury: net income, £300: patron, Vicar of Croydon: pres. incumbent, George Coles. Contains 9,840 acres: 2,229 houses: pop<sup>n</sup>. in 1841, 16,712: probable pop<sup>n</sup>. in 1849, 19,250: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>y</sup>. £47,017: poor rates in 1838, £12,447. —Market day, Saturday. Fairs: July 5, October 2, horses. —Bankers: Branch of London and County Joint Stock Banking Co.—draw on Head Office, 21 Lombard Street; Sutherland & Co. (Union Bank)—draw on Union Bank of London. —Greyhound Inn, and Crown Hotel. —Addington Park, with its magnificent mansion, about three miles distant, was purchased for £25,000, as a suitable residence for the Archbishop of Canterbury. It was built by the late Alderman Trecothick, on the site of a more ancient edifice. —There are several other mansions, with parks and pleasure-grounds, in the vicinity.

CROYLAND (or CROWLAND), LINCOLN, an ancient town and parish in the wapentake of Elloe, parts of Holland, union of Peterborough, on the eastern bank of the Welland: 115 miles from London (coach road 87), 9 from Spalding. —Nor. and East. Co<sup>t</sup>. Rail. through Peterborough to Peakirk station, thence 4 miles: from Derby, through Syston and Peterborough to Peakirk, &c., 95 miles. —Money orders issued at Peterborough: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 9½ a.m.: post closes 4½ p.m. —This ancient town is supposed by some antiquarians to have been a Roman station, from some remains that have been found here. During the heptarchy, St. Guthlac retired to this place from the persecution of the pagan Britons; and in 716, Ethelbald, king of Mercia, founded a Benedictine monastery near his hermitage, dedicated it to St. Mary, St. Bartholomew, and St. Guthlac, and endowed it with a considerable sum of money, and, as appears from his charter, with lands, comprehending the whole island of Croyland, formed by the four waters of Sepishee on the east, Nene on the west, Southes on the south, and Asendyk on the north, in length four leagues, in breadth three, with the marshes adjoining on both sides the Welland, and fishery in the waters of Nene and Welland. The monastery, being in a marshy soil, was built on foundations of oak and ash. In 870, the abbey was destroyed, and the monks massacred by the Danes; but, in 948, King Ethelred, at the wish of his favourite and chancellor, Turketyl, or Turketule, rebuilt the abbey, and restored the alienated lands. In 1091, an accidental fire, says Ingulphus, cruelly laid waste the habitations of the servants of God. In 1112, Abbot Joffred rebuilt it by obtaining of the archbishops and bishops remission of a third part of the penance enjoined for sins to every one who assisted in the undertaking. About 40 years afterwards it was again destroyed by fire, but was again rebuilt, and flourished and increased in wealth and splendour until the dissolution, when its annual revenues were estimated at £1,217. 5s. 11d. The site was granted to Edward, Lord Clinton. The conventual buildings, rapidly decaying, were almost destroyed in the parliamentary war, when it was occupied as a garrison; but there are still some interesting remains. The church consists of an adaptation of the north aisle of the nave of a partly ruinous old abbey church, but is a commodious, handsome building, with several statues of kings and abbots on the west front, particularly of St. Guthlac, who was buried in a small stone building near the abbey. The town chiefly consists of four streets, separated by water-courses, with willows on their margin, and connected by a triangular bridge, consisting of three segments of a circle, meeting in a triangular point, across the Welland, the Nen, and a large drain, called Catwater, the workmanship of which, of the age of Edward II., may be considered the greatest curiosity of the kind in Britain. A Saxon statue of King Ethelwald, supposed to be of the ninth century, stands on one of the wings. The town was anciently surrounded by impassable marshes, now drained, and made into rich meadows and corn fields. The Wesleyan Methodists have a place of worship here. At Croyland was founded the first great school established in England after the Norman Conquest. Most of the inhabitants of Croyland are occupied in dairying and rearing geese, and fowling and fishing; for the privilege of the two latter they formerly paid to the abbey, but now to the crown, £300 per annum. The living (St. Bartholomew and St. Guthlac) is a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Lincoln: pres. net income, £200: patrons, Marquis of Exeter, and J. Whitwed, alternately: pres. incumbent, John Bates, 1834: contains 13,000 acres: 546 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 3,513: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 4,040: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £17,339: poor rates in 1838, £1,045. 16s.

CRUCKTON, SALOP, a quarter in the parish of Pontesbury: 155 miles from London, 3 from Shrewsbury, 8 from Church-Stretton. Money orders issued at Shrewsbury: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 4½ p.m. For living, see PORTRESLEY. (Returns with the parish.) Cruckton is the seat of Thomas Harries, Esq., descended from John Harries, Esq. of Cruckton, Salop, (whose ancestor, John Harries of Cruckton, was living in 1463.) who had four sons, the third of whom, Arthur Harries, Esq. of Prescott, near Baschurch, was grandfather of Thomas Harries, Esq. of Weston Lizard, high sheriff of Shropshire in 1730, and father of the Rev. Edward Harries of Cruckton, whose son is the present proprietor of Cruckton.

CRUDWELL, WILTS, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> and union of Malmesbury: 95 miles from London (coach road 100), 4 from Malmesbury, 4 from Tetbury. Gt. West. Rail. through Swindon to Tetbury Road, thence 4 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Stonehouse, &c., 119 miles. Money orders issued at Malmesbury: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m. The living (All Saints), a rectory in the diocese of Gloucester and Bristol, is valued at £19. 5s. 2½d.: pres. net income, £487: patron, Rev. W. Maskelyne: pres. incumbent, W. Maskelyne, 1839: contains 4,820 acres: 128 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 681: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 783: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £5,032: poor rates in 1837, £326. 19s.

CRUGGION, MONTGOMERYSHIRE, a township in the parish of Abberbury, North Wales, bounded on the north and west by the Severn—(which see for access, &c.): 178 miles from London, 8 from Welchpool, 1 from Llandrino. Money orders issued at Welchpool: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> at noon: post closes at noon. Contains 32 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 171: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £1,955: poor rates in 1838, £145. 11s. Tithes commuted in 1839.

CRUMSALL (or CRUMPSALL), LANCASTER, a township in the parish of Manchester, on the river Irk—(which see for access, &c.): 185 miles from London, 3 from Manchester, 8 from Rochdale. Money orders issued at Manchester: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m. Contains 660 acres: 347 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 2,745: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 3,156: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £2,910: poor rates in 1838, £184.

CRUNDALE, KENT, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Wye, lathe of Scray, union of East Ashford, east of the river Stour: 75 miles from London (coach road 56), 9 from Canterbury, 12 from Faversham. Sou. East. Rail. to Wye, thence 3 miles: from Derby, through London, &c., 220 miles. Money orders issued at Canterbury: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 7 p.m. The living (St. Mary), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Canterbury, is valued at £11. 10s. 10d.: patron, Sir E. Filmer, Bart.: pres. incumbent, H. Smith, 1828: contains 1,572 acres: 37 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 272: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £1,481. Tithes commuted in 1839.

CRUNWEAR, PEMBROKE, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> and union of Narberth, South Wales: 218 miles from London (coach road 251), 5 from Narberth, 14 from Pembroke. Gt. West. Rail. to Stonehouse, thence 115 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham to Stonehouse, &c., 218 miles.

Money orders issued at Narberth: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9½ a.m.: post closes 8 p.m. Contains 54 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 282: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £896: poor rates in 1838, £55. 11s.

CRUTCH, WORCESTER, an extra-parochial district in the upper division of the hun<sup>d</sup> of Halfshire: 2 miles from Droitwich.

CRUWYS-MORCHARD, DEVON, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Witheridge, union of Tiverton: 189 miles from London (coach road 168), 5 from Tiverton, 7 from Bampton. Gt. West. Rail. through Bristol to Tiverton, thence 5 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Bristol to Tiverton, &c., 203 miles. Money orders issued at Tiverton: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8½ a.m.: post closes 5½ p.m. The living (the Holy Cross), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Barnstaple, and diocese of Exeter, is valued at £21. 11s. 8d.: pres. net income, £455: patron, Rev. G. S. Cruwys: pres. incumbent, G. S. Cruwys, 1835: contains 6,290 acres: 116 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 670: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 770: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £3,485: poor rates in 1838, £292. 6s. The tithes were commuted in 1839.

CRUX-EASTON, HANTS, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Pastrow, union of Kingsclere, Kingsclere division of the county: 60 miles from London (coach road 61), 7 from Newbury, 7 from Andover. Gt. West. Rail. to Newbury, thence 7 miles: from Derby, through Rugby, Oxford, and Reading, to Newbury, &c., 153 miles. Money orders issued at Newbury: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 8 p.m. The living (St. Michael), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Winchester, is valued at £12. 12s. 6d.: pres. net income, £180: patron, Rev. James Bagge: pres. incumbent, James Bagge, 1843: contains 950 acres: 17 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 102: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £767: poor rates in 1838, £60.

CUBBERLY (or COBERLY), GLOUCESTER, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Rapegate, union of Cheltenham: 116 miles from London (coach road 97), 4 from Cheltenham, 10 from Gloucester. Gt. West. Rail. through Stonehouse to Cheltenham, thence 4 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham to Cheltenham, &c., 98 miles. Money orders issued at Cheltenham: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 8 p.m. The living (St. Giles), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Gloucester, and diocese of Gloucester and Bristol, is valued at £10: pres. net income, £420: patron, Henry Elwes, Esq.: pres. incumbent, William Hicks, 1815: contains 3,421 acres: 34 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 231: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £3,536: poor rates in 1838, £280.

CUBBINGTON, WARWICK, a parish in Kenilworth division of the hun<sup>d</sup> of Knightlow, union of Warwick, south-east of the river Avon: 106 miles from London (coach road 88), 5 from Warwick, 7 from Coventry. Nor. West. Rail. through Rugby and Coventry to Leamington, thence 3 miles: from Derby, through Rugby, Coventry, &c., 73 miles. Money orders issued at Warwick: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 7 p.m. There is a school here, endowed with £17 per annum. The other benefactions produce about £38 a year. The living (St. Mary), a disch<sup>d</sup> vicarage, formerly in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Coventry, and diocese of Lichfield and Coventry, now in the diocese of Worcester, is valued at £6. 6s. 8d.: pres. net income, £207: patron, Lord Leigh: pres. incumbent, Geo. L. Cooke, 1820: contains 1,780 acres: 133 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 830: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 955: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,672: poor rates in 1838, £241. 13s.

CUBERT, CORNWALL, a parish in that part of the hun<sup>d</sup> of Pyder, which is included in the western division of the above county, union of St. Columb Major, near Holywell Bay: 292 miles from London (coach road 260), 9 from Truro, 9 from St. Columb Major. Gt. West. Rail. through Bristol and Exeter to Plymouth, thence 48 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham, Bristol, &c., 306 miles. Money orders issued at Truro: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 11 a.m.: post closes 4 p.m. The living (St. Cuthbert), a disch<sup>d</sup> vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Cornwall, and diocese of Exeter, is valued at £3. 6s. 8d.: pres. net income, £186: patron, Rev. T. Stabback: pres. incumbent, T. Stabback, 1809: contains 2,320 acres: 76 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 368: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 423: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £2,552: poor rates in 1838, £174. 5s.

CUBLEY, DERBY, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Apple-tree, on a branch of the river Dove: 154 miles from London (coach road 138), 6 from Ashbourne, 12 from Derby. Nor. West. Rail. through Rugby, Leicester, and Burton, to Uttoxeter, thence 6 miles: from Derby, through Burton, &c., 32 miles. Money orders issued at Ashbourne: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9½ a.m.: post closes 5 p.m. The living (St. Andrew), a rectory with that of Marston Montgomery, in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Derby, and diocese of Lichfield, is valued at £13. 16s. 3d.: pres. net income, £523: patron, Earl of Chesterfield: pres. incumbent, R. W. Ververs, 1832: contains 2,410 acres: 78 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 425: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 489: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £3,735: poor rates in 1838, £159. 9s. Fair, Nov. 30.

CUBLINGTON, BUCKINGHAM, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Cottesloe, union of Aylesbury: 50 miles from London (coach road 45), 6 from Aylesbury, 6 from Winslow. Nor. West. Rail. through Cheddington to Aylesbury, thence 6 miles: from Derby, through Rugby and Cheddington to Aylesbury, &c., 110 miles. Money orders issued at Aylesbury: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9½ a.m.: post closes 5 p.m. The living (St. Nicholas), a rectory in the diocese of Oxford, is valued at £9. 16s. 3d.: pres. net income, £289: patron, Lincoln College, Oxford: pres. incumbent, James Thompson, 1845: contains 1,290 acres: 63 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 290: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £2,361: poor rates in 1838, £183. 2s.

CUBY, CORNWALL, a parish in the west division of the hun<sup>d</sup> of Powder, union of Truro: it includes the borough of Tregony: 282 miles from London (coach road 251), 1 from Tregony, 6 from Truro. Gt. West. Rail. through Bristol and Exeter, to Plymouth, thence 38 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham, Bristol, &c., 296 miles. Money orders issued at Tregony: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 11 a.m.: post closes 4 p.m. The living (St. Keby), a vicarage, annexed to that of Tregony, in the diocese of Exeter, and having jointly a pres. net income of £311: patron, J. Gurney, Esq.:

remains that have been found here. During the heptarchy, St. Guthlac retired to this place from the persecution of the pagan Britons; and in 716, Ethelbald, king of Mercia, founded a Benedictine monastery near his hermitage, dedicated it to St. Mary, St. Bartholomew, and St. Guthlac, and endowed it with a considerable sum of money, and, as appears from his charter, with lands, comprehending the whole island of Croyland, formed by the four waters of Sepishee on the east, Nene on the west, Southes on the south, and Asendyk on the north, in length four leagues, in breadth three, with the marshes adjoining on both sides the Welland, and fishery in the waters of Nene and Welland. The monastery, being in a marshy soil, was built on foundations of oak and ash. In 870, the abbey was destroyed, and the monks massacred by the Danes; but, in 948, King Ethelred, at the wish of his favourite and chancellor, Turketyl, or Turketule, rebuilt the abbey, and restored the alienated lands. In 1091, an accidental fire, says Ingulphus, cruelly laid waste the habitations of the servants of God. In 1112, Abbot Joffred rebuilt it by obtaining of the archbishops and bishops remission of a third part of the penance enjoined for sins to every one who assisted in the undertaking. About 40 years afterwards it was again destroyed by fire, but was again rebuilt, and flourished and increased in wealth and splendour until the dissolution, when its annual revenues were estimated at £1,217. 5s. 11d. The site was granted to Edward, Lord Clinton. The conventual buildings, rapidly decaying, were almost destroyed in the parliamentary war, when it was occupied as a garrison; but there are still some interesting remains. The church consists of an adaptation of the north aisle of the nave of a partly ruinous old abbey church, but is a commodious, handsome building, with several statues of kings and abbots on the west front, particularly of St. Guthlac, who was buried in a small stone building near the abbey. The town chiefly consists of four streets, separated by water-courses, with willows on their margin, and connected by a triangular bridge, consisting of three segments of a circle, meeting in a triangular point, across the Welland, the Nen, and a large drain, called Catwater, the workmanship of which, of the age of Edward II., may be considered the greatest curiosity of the kind in Britain. A Saxon statue of King Ethelwald, supposed to be of the ninth century, stands on one of the wings. The town was anciently surrounded by impassable marshes, now drained, and made into rich meadows and corn fields. The Wesleyan Methodists have a place of worship here. At Croyland was founded the first great school established in England after the Norman Conquest. Most of the inhabitants of Croyland are occupied in dairying and rearing geese, and fowling and fishing; for the privilege of the two latter they formerly paid to the abbey, but now to the crown, £300 per annum. The living (St. Bartholomew and St. Guthlac) is a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Lincoln: pres. net income, £200: patrons, Marquis of Exeter, and J. Whitshed, alternately: pres. incumbent, John Bates, 1834: contains 13,000 acres: 546 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 3,513: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 4,040: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>y</sup> £17,339: poor rates in 1838, £1,045. 16s.

CRUCKTON, SALOP, a quarter in the parish of Pontesbury: 155 miles from London, 3 from Shrewsbury, 8 from Church-Stretton. Money orders issued at Shrewsbury: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 4½ p.m. For living, see PONTESBURY. (Returns with the parish.) Cruckton is the seat of Thomas Harries, Esq., descended from John Harries, Esq. of Cruckton, Salop, (whose ancestor, John Harries of Cruckton, was living in 1463,) who had four sons, the third of whom, Arthur Harries, Esq. of Prescott, near Baschurch, was grandfather of Thomas Harries, Esq. of Weston Lizard, high sheriff of Shropshire in 1730, and father of the Rev. Edward Harries of Cruckton, whose son is the present proprietor of Cruckton.

CRUDWELL, WILTS, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup>. and union of Malmesbury: 95 miles from London (coach road 100), 4 from Malmesbury, 4 from Tetbury. Gt. West. Rail. through Swindon to Tetbury Road, thence 4 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Stonehouse, &c., 119 miles. Money orders issued at Malmesbury: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m. The living (All Saints), a rectory in the diocese of Gloucester and Bristol, is valued at £19. 5s. 2½d.: pres. net income, £487: patron, Rev. W. Maskelyne: pres. incumbent, W. Maskelyne, 1839: contains 4,820 acres: 128 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 681: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 783: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>y</sup> £5,032: poor rates in 1837, £326. 19s.

CRUGGION, MONTGOMERYSHIRE, a township in the parish of Abberbury, North Wales, bounded on the north and west by the Severn—(which see for access, &c.): 178 miles from London, 8 from Welchpool, 1 from Llandrino. Money orders issued at Welchpool: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> at noon: post closes at noon. Contains 32 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 171: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>y</sup> £1,955: poor rates in 1838, £145. 11s. Tithes commuted in 1839.

CRUMSALL (or CRUMPSALL), LANCASTER, a township in the parish of Manchester, on the river Irk—(which see for access, &c.): 185 miles from London, 3 from Manchester, 8 from Rochdale. Money orders issued at Manchester: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m. Contains 660 acres: 347 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 2,745: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 3,156: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>y</sup> £2,910: poor rates in 1838, £184.

CRUNDALE, KENT, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Wye, lathe of Scray, union of East Ashford, east of the river Stour: 75 miles from London (coach road 56), 9 from Canterbury, 12 from Faversham. Sou. East. Rail. to Wye, thence 3 miles: from Derby, through London, &c., 220 miles. Money orders issued at Canterbury: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 7 p.m. The living (St. Mary), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Canterbury, is valued at £11. 10s. 10d.: patron, Sir E. Filmer, Bart.: pres. incumbent, H. Smith, 1828: contains 1,572 acres: 37 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 272: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>y</sup> £1,481. Tithes commuted in 1839.

CRUNWEAR, PEMBROKE, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> and union of Narberth, South Wales: 218 miles from London (coach road 251), 5 from Narberth, 14 from Pembroke. Gt. West. Rail. to Stonehouse, thence 115 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham to Stonehouse, &c., 218 miles.

Money orders issued at Narberth: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9½ a.m.: post closes 8 p.m.---Contains 54 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 282: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £896: poor rates in 1838, £55. 11s.

CRUTCH, WORCESTER, an extra-parochial district in the upper division of the hun<sup>d</sup> of Halfshire: 2 miles from Droitwich.

CRUWYS-MORCHARD, DEVON, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Witheridge, union of Tiverton: 189 miles from London (coach road 168), 5 from Tiverton, 7 from Bampton.---Gt. West. Rail. through Bristol to Tiverton, thence 5 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Bristol to Tiverton, &c., 203 miles.---Money orders issued at Tiverton: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8½ a.m.: post closes 5½ p.m.---The living (the Holy Cross), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Barnstaple, and diocese of Exeter, is valued at £21. 11s. 8d.: pres. net income, £455: patron, Rev. G. S. Cruwys: pres. incumbent, G. S. Cruwys, 1835: contains 6,290 acres: 116 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 670: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 770: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £3,485: poor rates in 1838, £292. 6s. The tithes were commuted in 1839.

CRUX-EASTON, HANTS, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Pastrow, union of Kingsclere, Kingsclere division of the county: 60 miles from London (coach road 61), 7 from Newbury, 7 from Andover.---Gt. West. Rail. to Newbury, thence 7 miles: from Derby, through Rugby, Oxford, and Reading, to Newbury, &c., 153 miles.---Money orders issued at Newbury: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 8 p.m.---The living (St. Michael), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Winchester, is valued at £12. 12s. 6d.: pres. net income, £180: patron, Rev. James Bagge: pres. incumbent, James Bagge, 1843: contains 950 acres: 17 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 102: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £767: poor rates in 1838, £60.

CUBBERLY (or COBERLY), GLOUCESTER, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Rapsgate, union of Cheltenham: 116 miles from London (coach road 97), 4 from Cheltenham, 10 from Gloucester.---Gt. West. Rail. through Stonehouse to Cheltenham, thence 4 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham to Cheltenham, &c., 98 miles.---Money orders issued at Cheltenham: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 8 p.m.---The living (St. Giles), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Gloucester, and diocese of Gloucester and Bristol, is valued at £10: pres. net income, £420: patron, Henry Elwes, Esq.: pres. incumbent, William Hicks, 1815: contains 3,421 acres: 34 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 231: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £3,536: poor rates in 1838, £280.

CUBBINGTON, WARWICK, a parish in Kenilworth division of the hun<sup>d</sup> of Knightlow, union of Warwick, south-east of the river Avon: 106 miles from London (coach road 88), 5 from Warwick, 7 from Coventry.---Nor. West. Rail. through Rugby and Coventry to Leamington, thence 3 miles: from Derby, through Rugby, Coventry, &c., 73 miles.---Money orders issued at Warwick: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 7 p.m.---There is a school here, endowed with £17 per annum. The other benefactions produce about £38 a year.---The living (St. Mary), a disch<sup>d</sup> vicarage, formerly in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Coventry, and diocese of Lichfield and Coventry, now in the diocese of Worcester, is valued at £6. 6s. 8d.: pres. net income, £207: patron, Lord Leigh: pres. incumbent, Geo. L. Cooke, 1820: contains 1,780 acres: 133 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 830: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 955: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,672: poor rates in 1838, £241. 13s.

CUBERT, CORNWALL, a parish in that part of the hun<sup>d</sup> of Pyder, which is included in the western division of the above county, union of St. Columb Major, near Holywell Bay: 292 miles from London (coach road 260), 9 from Truro, 9 from St. Columb Major.---Gt. West. Rail. through Bristol and Exeter to Plymouth, thence 48 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham, Bristol, &c., 306 miles.---Money orders issued at Truro: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 11 a.m.: post closes 4 p.m.---The living (St. Cuthbert), a disch<sup>d</sup> vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Cornwall, and diocese of Exeter, is valued at £3. 6s. 8d.: pres. net income, £186: patron, Rev. T. Stabback: pres. incumbent, T. Stabback, 1809: contains 2,320 acres: 76 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 368: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 423: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £2,552: poor rates in 1838, £174. 5s.

CUBLEY, DEKBY, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Apple-tree, on a branch of the river Dove: 154 miles from London (coach road 138), 6 from Ashbourne, 12 from Derby.---Nor. West. Rail. through Rugby, Leicester, and Burton, to Uttoxeter, thence 6 miles: from Derby, through Burton, &c., 32 miles.---Money orders issued at Ashbourne: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9½ a.m.: post closes 5 p.m.---The living (St. Andrew), a rectory with that of Marston Montgomery, in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Derby, and diocese of Lichfield, is valued at £13. 16s. 3d.: pres. net income, £523: patron, Earl of Chesterfield: pres. incumbent, R. W. VEVERS, 1832: contains 2,410 acres: 78 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 425: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 489: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £3,735: poor rates in 1838, £159. 9s.---Fair, Nov. 30.

CUBLINGTON, BUCKINGHAM, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Cottesloe, union of Aylesbury: 50 miles from London (coach road 45), 6 from Aylesbury, 6 from Winslow.---Nor. West. Rail. through Cheddington to Aylesbury, thence 6 miles: from Derby, through Rugby and Cheddington to Aylesbury, &c., 110 miles.---Money orders issued at Aylesbury: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9½ a.m.: post closes 5 p.m.---The living (St. Nicholas), a rectory in the diocese of Oxford, is valued at £9. 16s. 3d.: pres. net income, £289: patron, Lincoln College, Oxford: pres. incumbent, James Thompson, 1845: contains 1,290 acres: 63 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 290: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £2,361: poor rates in 1838, £183. 2s.

CUBY, CORNWALL, a parish in the west division of the hun<sup>d</sup> of Powder, union of Truro: it includes the borough of Tregony: 282 miles from London (coach road 251), 1 from Tregony, 6 from Truro.---Gt. West. Rail. through Bristol and Exeter, to Plymouth, thence 38 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham, Bristol, &c., 296 miles.---Money orders issued at Tregony: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 11 a.m.: post closes 4 p.m.---The living (St. Keby), a vicarage, annexed to that of Tregony, in the diocese of Exeter, and having jointly a pres. net income of £311: patron, J. Gurney, Esq.:

pres. incumbent, R. P. Warren, 1847: contains 2,410 acres: 242 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,156: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,329: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £3,243: poor rates in 1838, £179. 7s.

CUCKFIELD, SUSSEX, a market town and parish in the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Buttinghill, union of Cuckfield, rape of Lewes: 40 miles from London, 10 from Horsham. — Brighton Rail. to Hayward's Heath station, thence 2 miles: from Derby, through London, &c., 171 miles. — Money orders issued here: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m. and 1 p.m.: post closes 10 a.m. and 9½ p.m. — This town is pleasantly situated on an eminence, nearly in the centre of the county, and is handsomely built of brick, but there are some good quarries of freestone in the vicinity; the pathways are laid with bricks of red clay, found within four miles, where there are also strata of a peculiarly white pipe-clay. The water is supplied from springs. The church is a large and handsome edifice, with a square tower, surmounted by a spire covered with shingles. The county magistrates hold petty sessions for the division at the Talbot Inn. The Baptists and Independents have places of worship here. There is a free grammar-school, founded and endowed in 1528, by Edward Flower, Esq. of London, and the Rev. William Spicer of Balcombe. The poor-law commissioners have erected a workhouse for Cuckfield poor-law union, which comprehends fifteen parishes, extending over 92 square miles, with a population of about 12,000. — The living (the Holy Trinity), a vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Lewes, and diocese of Chichester, is valued at £20. 14s. 2d.; pres. net income, £414: patron, Bishop of Chichester: pres. incumbent, T. A. Maberly, 1841: contains 11,167 acres: 376 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 3,444: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 3,960: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £7,679: poor rates in 1838, £1,297. 12s. — Market day, Friday. Fairs: May 25, Thursday in Whitsun-week, Sept. 16, Nov. 29, for horses and cattle. — Inns: King's Head, Red Lion, and Talbot. — Oaklands is the seat of the Hon. Ernest Curzon; Cuckfield Park, of Warden Sergison, Esq.; Nymans, of George Harrington, Esq.; Borde Hill, of Captain Preston, R.N.; Pilatye, of J. P. Cherry, Esq.; Mytten, of Joseph Maberly, Esq.; Bolnore, of the Misses Dealtry; Butler's Green, of C. Peel, Esq.; Staplefield Place, of the Rev. C. L. Roysds; and Mill Hall, of E. Ludlow, Esq.

CUCKLINGTON WITH CLAPTON-FORMS, SOMERSET, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Norton-Ferris, union of Wincanton: 129 miles from London (coach road 104), 3 from Wincanton: 11 from Sherborne. — Gt. West Rail. to Westbury, thence 19 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Bristol to Westbury, &c., 189 miles. — Money orders issued at Wincanton: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 5 p.m. — The living (St. Lawrence), a rectory, with that of Stoke Frister and Bayford, in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Wells, and diocese of Bath and Wells, is valued at £12. 19s. 4½d.: pres. net income, £609: patron, William Phelps, Esq.: pres. incumbent, R. C. Phelps, 1833: contains 1,780 acres: 55 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 339: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 390: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,732: poor rates in 1838, £201. 4s.

CUCKNEY, NOTTINGHAM, a parish in the Hatfield division of the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Bassetlaw, union of Worksop: 150 miles from London (coach road 144), 6 from Mansfield, 5 from Worksop. — Nor. West. Rail. through Rugby and Nottingham to Mansfield, thence 6 miles: from Derby, through Nottingham, &c., 36 miles. — Money orders issued at Mansfield: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 10 a.m.: post closes 3½ p.m. — The living (St. Mary), a disch<sup>d</sup> vicarage, in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Nottingham, formerly in the diocese of York, now in the diocese of Lincoln, is valued at £9. 8s. 6½d.: pres. net income, £193: patron, Earl Manvers: pres. incumbent, Taylor White, 1843: contains 5,510 acres: 266 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,697: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,490: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £4,677: poor rates in 1838, £332. 8s. Tithes commuted in 1839. — N. 1 m., Welbeck Abbey, the seat of the Duke of Portland.

CUDDESDON, OXFORD, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Bullington, union of Headington: 70 miles from London (coach road 48), 2 from Wheatley, 7 from Oxford. — Gt. West. Rail. to Oxford, thence 7 miles: from Derby, through Rugby and Banbury to Oxford, &c., 102 miles. — Money orders issued at Wheatley: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m. — The Wheatley school here is endowed with £45 per annum. The other charities produce about £49 a year. — The living, a rectory annexed to the bishopric of Oxford, in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Oxford, is valued at £17. 0s. 5d.: pres. net income, £440: held ex officio by the Bishop of Oxford, 1845: contains, with Wheatley, 2,700 acres: 292 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,483, of whom about 1,000 belong to Wheatley: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,705: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £6,506: poor rates in 1838, £579. 18s. — Cuddesdon Palace is the seat of the Bishop of Oxford. It is a commodious mansion, situated on the southern limb of Shotover, and stands high over the valley of the Thame. After the Crown resumed possession of Gloucester Hall, the first residence appropriated to the bishops, there was no palace for the prelate, until Dr. Bancroft, at the instigation of Laud, Archbishop of Canterbury, erected an episcopal seat, to the building of which the king contributed a large quantity of timber. The palace was finished in 1635. When the king resided in Oxford during the civil war, Colonel William Legg, the then governor, feared that the bishop's palace might be garrisoned by the parliamentary forces, and it was therefore burnt to the ground. The palace remained in ruins, until Dr. Fell, Bishop of Oxford, rebuilt it on its former foundations.

CUDDINGTON, BUCKINGHAM, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup>. and union of Aylesbury: 47 miles from London (coach road 41), 3 from Aylesbury, 6 from Thame. — Nor. West. Rail. through Cheddington to Aylesbury, thence 3 miles: from Derby, through Rugby and Cheddington, &c., 107 miles. — Money orders issued at Aylesbury: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 5 p.m. — The living (St. Nicholas) is a curacy annexed to the vicarage of Haddenham: contains 980 acres: 123 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 626: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 720: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £4,293: poor rates in 1838, £342. 3s.

CUDDINGTON, CHESTER, a township in the parish of Malpas—(which see for access, &c.): 166

miles from London, 3 from Malpas, 12 from Chester. — Money orders issued at Chester: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 8½ a.m.: post closes 4 p.m. — Contains 1,260 acres: 47 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 240: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £1,855: poor rates in 1838, £146. 15s.

CUDDINGTON, CHESTER, a township in the parish of Waverham—(which see for access, &c.): 177 miles from London, 4 from Northwich, 2 from Waverham. — Money orders issued at Chester: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 8½ a.m.: post closes 4 p.m. — Contains 990 acres: 40 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 253: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £1,932: poor rates in 1838, £75. 13s.

CUDDINGTON, SURREY, a parish in the second division of the hun<sup>d</sup> of Cophthorne, union of Epsom: 15 miles from London (coach road 12), 1 from Ewell, 6 from Croydon. — Croydon Rail. to Ewell, thence 1 mile: from Derby, through London, &c., 147 miles. — Money orders issued at Ewell: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 9 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m. — There was once a magnificent palace here, which was destroyed during the civil wars. — The living (St. Mary), a vicarage in the diocese of Winchester: no church or incumbent: contains 1,850 acres: 24 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 158: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. with Ewell: poor rates in 1838, £238. 1s. Tithes commuted in 1839.

CUDHAM, KENT, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Ruxley, lathe of Sutton-at-Hone, union of Bromley: 19 miles from London (coach road 16), 6 from Bromley, 4 from Westerham. — Croydon Rail. to Croydon, thence 8 miles: from Derby, through London, &c., 151 miles. — Money orders issued at Bromley: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 9½ a.m.: post closes 6 p.m. — The parochial charities produce about £5 a year. — The living (St. Peter and St. Paul), a disch<sup>d</sup>. vicarage in the archd<sup>r</sup>. and diocese of Rochester, is valued at £13. 2s. 2d.: patron, Lord Chancellor: pres. incumbent, H. Sampson, 1830: contains 5,930 acres: 125 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 776: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 892: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £4,506: poor rates in 1838, £351. 6s.

CUDWORTH, SOMERSET, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of South Petherton, union of Chard: 177 miles from London (coach road 136), 3 from Ilminster, 4 from Chard. — Gt. West. Rail. through Bristol to Taunton, thence 14 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Bristol to Taunton, &c., 191 miles. — Money orders issued at Ilminster: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 9 a.m.: post closes 5 p.m. — The living (St. Michael), a perpetual curacy, a peculiar in the diocese of Bath and Wells, is valued at £12. 10s.: pres. net income, £63: patron, Bishop of Bath and Wells: pres. incumbent, John Cabell, 1808: contains 1,070 acres: 31 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 155: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £1,067: poor rates in 1838, £33. 18s.

CUDWORTH, WEST RIDING, YORK, a township in the parish of Royston—(which see for access, &c.): 176 miles from London, 4 from Barnsley, 7 from Wakefield. — Money orders issued at Barnsley: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 9 a.m.: post closes 5 p.m. — Contains 1,520 acres: 94 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 552: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 634: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £3,046: poor rates in 1838, £252. 17s.

CUERDALE, LANCASTER, a township in the parish of Blackburn, on the eastern bank of the river Ribble, and west of the Derwent—(which see for access, &c.): 213 miles from London, 3 from Preston, 7 from Blackburn. — Money orders issued at Preston: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 10 a.m.: post closes 4½ p.m. — Contains 500 acres: 20 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 106: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £1,286: poor rates in 1838, £95.

CUERDEN, LANCASTER, a township in the parish of Leyland, on the river Lostock: 213 miles from London, 5 from Chorley, 10 from Blackburn. — (For access and postal arrangements, see above.) — Contains 930 acres: 96 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 573: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 658: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £1,583: poor rates in 1838, £170. 18s. — Cuerden Hall is the seat of Robert Townley Parker, Esq., who traces his descent from William le Parker, who obtained lands in Extwistle, county of Lancaster, from the monastery of Kirkeatul, in the time of Richard II., and was styled de Monk Hall in that township, in the time of Henry IV.; he was the ancestor of John Parker, Esq., high sheriff of Lancashire in 1653. In 1719, Banastre Parker, Esq., transferred the family seat from Extwistle to Cuerden Hall, which he inherited from his mother, coheirress of Christopher Banastre, Esq. of Bank, county of Lancaster. His grandson, Banastre Parker, Esq., dying without issue, was succeeded by his brother, Thomas Townley Parker, sheriff of Lancashire in 1793, who died in the same year, and was succeeded by his only son, the present representative of the family. Mr. Parker was high sheriff in 1817, and sat as M.P. for Preston in the first parliament of Queen Victoria.

CUERDLEY (or CUERDLEY), LANCASTER, a township in the parish of Prescott, north of the river Mersey, and near the Sankey Canal—(which see for access, &c.): 190 miles from London, 4 from Warrington, 6 from Prescott. — Money orders issued at Warrington: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 8 a.m.: post closes 6½ p.m. — Contains 1,420 acres: 55 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 221: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £3,208: poor rates in 1838, £147. 5s.

CULBORNE (or KITNOR), SOMERSET, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Carhampton, union of Williton: 186 miles from London (coach road 173), 9 from Minehead, 12 from Dulverton. — Gt. West. Rail. through Bristol to Bridgewater, thence 35 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Bristol to Bridgewater, &c., 199 miles. — Money orders issued at Minehead: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 10 a.m.: post closes 4 p.m. — This parish, otherwise called Kitnor, is famous for the romantic beauty of its scenery. The surrounding hills are so steep, that, till within the last few years, it was scarcely approachable except on foot. A rapid rivulet intersects the valley in a rocky bed, flowing into the Bristol Channel. Warner says that the Lilliputian church of Culborne is situated in as extraordinary a spot, as man, in his whimsicality, ever fixed on as a place of worship. It is built at the bottom of a secluded dell (two or three acres in extent), containing about half an acre of tolerably level ground, surrounded by almost perpendicular cliffs, from 1,200 to 1,300 feet high. — The living (St. Culborne), a disch<sup>d</sup>. rectory in the archd<sup>r</sup>. of Taunton, and diocese of Bath and Wells, is valued at £3. 18s. 11½d.: patron, Earl of Lovelace: pres. incumbent, A. Anderson, 1848: contains 1,560 acres: 7 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 34: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> 1,582: poor rates in 1837, £12. 18s.

CULCHETH, LANCASTER, a township in the parish of Winwick—(which see for access, &c.): 194 miles from London, 7 from Warrington, 5 from Newton. Money orders issued at Warrington: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 5½ p.m. Contains 5,330 acres: 372 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 2,193: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 2,522: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £7,475: poor rates in 1838, £906. 17s.

CULFORD, SUFFOLK, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Blackbourn, union of Thingoe: 99 miles from London (coach road 76), 5 from Bury St. Edmund's, 10 from Thetford. East. Co<sup>r</sup> Rail. to Bury St. Edmund's, thence 5 miles: from Derby, through London, &c., 231 miles. Money orders issued at Bury St. Edmund's: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9½ a.m.: post closes 4½ p.m. The living (St. Mary), a disch<sup>d</sup> rectory, annexed to that of Ingham: contains 2,490 acres: 55 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 352: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 404: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,674: poor rates in 1838, £286.

CULGAITH, CUMBERLAND, a chapelry in the parish of Kirkland, bounded on the west by the river Eden, and on the south by the Tees—(which see for access, &c.): 282 miles from London, 7 from Penrith, 3 from Kirkland. Money orders issued at Penrith: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 11½ a.m.: post closes 3 p.m. The living is a perpetual curacy to the vicarage of Kirkland, in the archd<sup>r</sup> and diocese of Carlisle: pres. net income, £80: patron, Vicar of Kirkland: contains 51 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 361: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 415: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £2,419: poor rates in 1838, £58. 15s.

CULHAM, OXFORD, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Dorchester, union of Abingdon, bounded on the south, west, and north-west, by the Thames: 58 miles from London (coach road 52), 1½ from Abingdon, 8 from Wallingford. Gt. West. Rail. to Abingdon Road station, thence 1½ miles: from Derby, through Rugby and Oxford to Abingdon Road, &c., 104 miles. Money orders issued at Abingdon: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m. The charities amount to about £58 per annum. The living is a vicarage in the archd<sup>r</sup> and diocese of Oxford: pres. gross income, £100: patron, Bishop of Oxford: pres. incumbent, Robert Walker, 1848: contains 1,680 acres: 85 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 396: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 405: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £4,794: poor rates in 1837, £248. 3s. Culham House, the seat of J. Shawe Phillips, Esq.

CULLERCOAT'S, NORTHUMBERLAND, a township in the parish, and now enclosed within the boundaries of the borough of Tynemouth—(which see for access, &c.): 284 miles from London, 1 from Tynemouth, 10 from Newcastle. Money orders issued at North Shields: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 11½ a.m.: post closes 1 p.m. The village is much frequented for sea-bathing, and a terrace has been erected upon a cliff on the coast for the accommodation of visitors. Contains 89 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 730: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 839: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,472: poor rates in 1838, £80. 3s.

CULMINGTON, SALOP, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Munslow, union of Ludlow, on the river Corve: 156 miles from London (coach road 147), 5 from Ludlow, 10 from Bishop's Castle. Gt. West. Rail. through Oxford and Worcester to Kidderminster, thence 23 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham to Kidderminster, &c., 94 miles. Money orders issued at Ludlow: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9½ a.m.: post closes 4½ p.m. The living (All Saints), a rectory in the archd<sup>r</sup> of Salop, and diocese of Hereford, is valued at £18. 9s. 2d.: pres. net income, £605: patron, Rev. W. Johnstone: pres. incumbent, W. Johnstone, 1814: contains 3,160 acres: 95 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 541: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 622: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £3,444: poor rates in 1838, £275. 3s.

CULMSTOCK, DEVON, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Hemyock, union of Wellington, on the river Calm: 183 miles from London (coach road 154), 6 from Wellington, 7 from Collumpton. Gt. West. Rail. through Bristol to Tiverton junction, thence 4 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Bristol to Tiverton junction, &c., 197 miles. Money orders issued at Wellington: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 10 a.m.: post closes 12½ p.m. The living, a disch<sup>d</sup> vicarage, a peculiar of the Dean and Chapter of Exeter, is valued at £16: pres. net income, £250: patron, Dean and Chapter of Exeter: pres. incumbent, J. W. Karslake, 1841: contains 4,530 acres: 312 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,446: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,663: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £4,778: poor rates in 1838, £1,103. 13s. Fairs: May 22, October 1, for cattle.

CULOMBTON (or COLUMSTON). See COLLUMPTON.

CULPHO, SUFFOLK, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Carlford, union of Woodbridge: 73 miles from London (coach road 74), 5 from Ipswich, 4 from Woodbridge. East. Co<sup>r</sup> Rail. to Ipswich, thence 5 miles: from Derby, through London, &c., 205 miles. Money orders issued at Ipswich: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m. The living (St. Botolph), a perpetual curacy in the archd<sup>r</sup> of Suffolk, and diocese of Norwich, is valued at £5. 7s. 11d.: pres. net income, £55: patron, —Gurdon, Esq.: pres. incumbent, T. Mason, 1840: contains 1,620 acres: 12 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 70: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £559: poor rates in 1838, £136. 3s.

CULVERLANDS AND TELFORD, SURREY, a tithing in the parish and hun<sup>d</sup> of Farnham, on the river Wey—(which see for access, &c.): 3 miles from Farnham. Contains 83 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 509: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 585.—(Other returns with the parish.)

CULVERTHORPE, LINCOLN, a township and chapelry in the parish of Haydon—(which see for access, &c.): 116 miles from London, 5 from Sleaford, 6 from Grantham. The living is a curacy to the vicarage of Haydon: contains 860 acres: 9 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 139. Culverthorpe Hall is the seat of Henry Handley, Esq.

CULWORTH, NORTHAMPTON, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of King's Sutton, union of Brackley: 96 miles from London (coach road 72), 8 from Banbury, 9 from Daventry. Gt. West. Rail. through Oxford to Cropredy, thence 5 miles: from Derby, through Rugby to Cropredy, &c., 72 miles. Money orders issued at Banbury: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 10 a.m.: post closes 4½ p.m. The living (St. Mary), a rectory and vicarage in the archd<sup>r</sup> of Northampton, and diocese of Peterborough, is valued at £10: pres. net income, £528: patron, S. Spence, Esq.: pres. incumbent, T. Spence, 1829: contains 2,060 acres: 144 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 713: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 820: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £4,073: poor rates in 1838, £383. 18s.

CUMBERSDALE (or COMMERSDALE), CUMBERLAND, a township in the parish of St. Mary, city of Carlisle—(which see for access, &c.): 302 miles from London, 3 from Carlisle, 9 from Newmarket.—Money orders issued at Carlisle: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> noon: post closes 2 p.m.—Contains 2,000 acres: 83 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 620: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 713: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £2,957: poor rates in 1838, £63.

CUMBERWORTH, LINCOLN, a parish in the Marsh division of the hund<sup>d</sup> of Calceworth, union of Spilsby: 165 miles from London (coach road 141), 4 from Alford, 15 from Horncastle.—Nor. and East. Co<sup>t</sup> Rail. through Peterborough to Alford, thence 4 miles: from Derby, through Nottingham, Lincoln, and Boston, to Alford, &c., 109 miles.—Money orders issued at Alford: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m.—The living (St. Helen) is a disch<sup>d</sup> rectory, annexed in 1733 to the rectory of Anderby: contains 950 acres: 34 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 183: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £1,312: poor rates in 1838, £50. 6s.

CUMBERWORTH (HALF), WEST RIDING, YORK, a township in the parish of Kirk-Burton—(which see for access, &c.)—Contains 250 acres: 222 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,298: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,493: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £2,190: poor rates in 1838, £189. 3s.

CUMBERWORTH, WEST RIDING, YORK, a chapelry in the parish of Silkstone—(which see for access, &c.): 178 miles from London, 6 from Huddersfield, 7 from Barnsley.—Money orders issued at Huddersfield: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 10 p.m.: post closes 5 p.m.—There is a chapel here for the Wesleyan Methodists.—The living, a donative in the diocese of Ripon, is valued at £18. 15s.: pres. net income, £148: patron, T. W. Beaumont: pres. incumbent, John Farrand, 1842: contains 980 acres: 259 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,867: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 2,147: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £2,468: poor rates in 1837, £240. 5s.

CUMDEVOCK, CUMBERLAND, a township in the parish of Dalston: 297 miles from London, 6 from Carlisle, 7 from Wigton.—Money orders issued at Carlisle: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> at noon: post closes 2 p.m.—Contains 63 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 361: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 415.—(Other returns with the parish.)

CUMNOR, BERKS, a parish in the hund<sup>d</sup> of Hormer, union of Abingdon: 67 miles from London (coach road 59), 5 from Abingdon, 4 from Oxford.—Gt. West. Rail. to Oxford, thence 4 miles: from Derby, through Rugby to Oxford, &c., 99 miles.—Money orders issued at Abingdon: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 10 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m.—This place is built on the brow of a hill, commanding extensive views over the counties of Oxford and Gloucester. The abbots of Abingdon formerly had a residence here, called Cumnor Hall, noted as the scene of the murder of the Countess of Leicester, by direction of her husband, the favourite of Queen Elizabeth; but it is now entirely demolished. There is a school here with a small endowment. Other charities produce about £77. 5s. per annum.—The living (St. Michael), a vicarage, formerly in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Berks, and diocese of Salisbury, now in the diocese of Oxford, is valued at £27. 17s.: patron, Earl of Abingdon: pres. incumbent, Hon. Charles Octavius Spenser: contains 7,730 acres: 265 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,058: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,216: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £2,900: poor rates in 1838, £769. 16s.

CUMNOR, BERKS, a township in the above parish—(which see for access, &c.)—Contains 100 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 592: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 681.

CUMREW, CUMBERLAND, a parish in Eskdale ward, union of Brampton: it includes the townships of Cumrew Inside and Cumrew Outside: 312 miles from London (coach road 292), 12 from Carlisle, 7 from Kirkewold.—Nor. West. Rail. through Crewe and Lancaster to Carlisle, thence 12 miles: from Derby, through Crewe, &c., 212 miles.—Money orders issued at Carlisle: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> at noon: post closes 2 p.m.—This parish contains the ruins of a castle, the ancient seat of the Dacres.—The living is a perpetual curacy in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Carlisle: pres. net income, £81: patron, Dean and Chapter of Carlisle: pres. incumbent, John Watson, 1828: contains 2,494 acres: 40 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 183: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £218: poor rates in 1838, £59. 10s.

CUMWHINTON AND COATHILL, CUMBERLAND, a township in the parish of Wetheral: 4 miles from Carlisle.—(For access and postal arrangements, see above.)—Contains 100 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 339: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 390.

CUMWHITTON, CUMBERLAND, a parish in Eskdale ward, union of Brampton, east of the river Eden: it includes the townships of Cumwhitton, Moorthwaite, and Northscaugh: 300 miles from London, 9 from Carlisle, 6 from Brampton.—(For access and postal arrangements, see above.)—The living (St. Mary), a perpetual curacy in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Carlisle: pres. net income, £102: patron, Dean and Chapter of Carlisle: pres. incumbent, R. Robinson, 1844: contains 5,670 acres: 103 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 533: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 613: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>y</sup> £2,951.

CUNDALL AND LECKBY, NORTH RIDING, YORK, a parish in the wapentake of Hallikeld, on the western bank of the Swale: it includes the townships of Cundall and Leckby, Norton-le-Clay, and Fawdington: 239 miles from London (coach road 210), 4 from Boroughbridge, 6 from Ripon.—Nor. West. Rail. through Rugby, Derby, and Leeds, to Ripon, thence 6 miles: from Derby, through Leeds, &c., 107 miles.—Money orders issued at Boroughbridge: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 10 a.m.: post closes 5 p.m.—The charities amount to about £34 per annum.—The living (All Saints), a perpetual curacy, formerly in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Richmond, and diocese of Chester, now in the diocese of Ripon, is valued at £3. 6s. 8d.: pres. net income, £59: patron, Bishop of Ripon: pres. incumbent, John Owen, 1843: contains 3,150 acres: 68 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 378: probable remains that have been found here. During the heptarchy, St. Guthlac retired to this place from the persecution of the pagan Britons; and in 716, Ethelbald, king of Mercia, founded a Benedictine monastery near his hermitage, dedicated it to St. Mary, St. Bartholomew, and St. Guthlac, and endowed it with a considerable sum of money, and, as appears from his charter, with lands, comprehending the whole island of Croyland, formed by the four waters of Sepiskee on the east, Nene on the west, Southes on the south, and Asendyk on the north, in length four leagues, in breadth three, with the marshes adjoining on both sides the Welland, and fishery in the waters of Nene and Welland. The monastery, being in a marshy soil, was built on foundations of oak and ash. In 870, the abbey was destroyed, and the monks massacred by the Danes; but, in 948, King Ethelred, at the wish of his favourite and chancellor, Turketyl, or Turketule, rebuilt the abbey, and restored the alienated lands. In 1091, an accidental fire, says Ingulphus, cruelly laid waste the habitations of the servants of God. In 1112, Abbot Joffred rebuilt it by obtaining of the archbishops and bishops remission of a third part of the penance enjoined for sins to every one who assisted in the undertaking. About 40 years afterwards it was again destroyed by fire, but was again rebuilt, and flourished and increased in wealth and splendour until the dissolution, when its annual revenues were estimated at £1,217. 5s. 11d. The site was granted to Edward, Lord Clinton. The conventual buildings, rapidly decaying, were almost destroyed in the parliamentary war, when it was occupied as a garrison; but there are still some interesting remains. The church consists of an adaptation of the north aisle of the nave of a partly ruinous old abbey church, but is a commodious, handsome building, with several statues of kings and abbots on the west front, particularly of St. Guthlac, who was buried in a small stone building near the abbey. The town chiefly consists of four streets, separated by water-courses, with willows on their margin, and connected by a triangular bridge, consisting of three segments of a circle, meeting in a triangular point, across the Welland, the Nen, and a large drain, called Catwater, the workmanship of which, of the age of Edward II., may be considered the greatest curiosity of the kind in Britain. A Saxon statue of King Ethelwald, supposed to be of the ninth century, stands on one of the wings. The town was anciently surrounded by impassable marshes, now drained, and made into rich meadows and corn fields. The Wesleyan Methodists have a place of worship here. At Croyland was founded the first great school established in England after the Norman Conquest. Most of the inhabitants of Croyland are occupied in dairying and rearing geese, and fowling and fishing; for the privilege of the two latter they formerly paid to the abbey, but now to the crown, £300 per annum. The living (St. Bartholomew and St. Guthlac) is a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Lincoln: pres. net income, £200: patrons, Marquis of Exeter, and J. Whitson, alternately: pres. incumbent, John Bates, 1834: contains 13,000 acres: 546 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 3,513: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 4,040: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>y</sup> £17,339: poor rates in 1838, £1,045. 16s.

CRUCKTON, SALOP, a quarter in the parish of Pontesbury: 155 miles from London, 3 from Shrewsbury, 8 from Church-Stretton. Money orders issued at Shrewsbury: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 4½ p.m. For living, see PONTESBURY. (Returns with the parish.) Cruckton is the seat of Thomas Harries, Esq., descended from John Harries, Esq. of Cruckton, Salop, (whose ancestor, John Harries of Cruckton, was living in 1463,) who had four sons, the third of whom, Arthur Harries, Esq. of Prescott, near Baschurch, was grandfather of Thomas Harries, Esq. of Weston Lizard, high sheriff of Shropshire in 1730, and father of the Rev. Edward Harries of Cruckton, whose son is the present proprietor of Cruckton.

CRUDWELL, WILTS, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> and union of Malmesbury: 95 miles from London (coach road 100), 4 from Malmesbury, 4 from Tetbury. Gt. West. Rail. through Swindon to Tetbury Road, thence 4 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Stonehouse, &c., 119 miles. Money orders issued at Malmesbury: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m. The living (All Saints), a rectory in the diocese of Gloucester and Bristol, is valued at £19. 5s. 2½d.: pres. net income, £487: patron, Rev. W. Maskelyne: pres. incumbent, W. Maskelyne, 1839: contains 4,820 acres: 128 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 681: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 783: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>y</sup> £5,032: poor rates in 1837, £326. 19s.

CRUGGION, MONTGOMERYSHIRE, a township in the parish of Abberbury, North Wales, bounded on the north and west by the Severn—(which see for access, &c.): 178 miles from London, 8 from Welchpool, 1 from Llandrino. Money orders issued at Welchpool: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> at noon: post closes at noon. Contains 32 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 171: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>y</sup> £1,955: poor rates in 1838, £145. 11s. Tithes commuted in 1839.

CRUMSALL (or CRUMPSALL), LANCASTER, a township in the parish of Manchester, on the river Irk—(which see for access, &c.): 185 miles from London, 3 from Manchester, 8 from Rochdale. Money orders issued at Manchester: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 6 p.m. Contains 660 acres: 347 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 2,745: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 3,156: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>y</sup> £2,910: poor rates in 1838, £184.

CRUNDALE, KENT, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Wye, lathe of Scray, union of East Ashford, east of the river Stour: 75 miles from London (coach road 56), 9 from Canterbury, 12 from Feversham. Sou. East. Rail. to Wye, thence 3 miles: from Derby, through London, &c., 220 miles. Money orders issued at Canterbury: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 7 p.m. The living (St. Mary), a rectory in the archd<sup>y</sup> and diocese of Canterbury, is valued at £11. 10s. 10d.: patron, Sir E. Filmer, Bart.: pres. incumbent, H. Smith, 1828: contains 1,572 acres: 37 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 272: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>y</sup> £1,481. Tithes commuted in 1839.

CRUNWEAR, PEMBROKE, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> and union of Narberth, South Wales: 218 miles from London (coach road 251), 5 from Narberth, 14 from Pembroke. Gt. West. Rail. to Stonehouse, thence 115 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham to Stonehouse, &c., 218 miles.

Money orders issued at Narberth: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9½ a.m.: post closes 8 p.m.---Contains 54 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 282: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £896: poor rates in 1838, £55. 11s.

CRUTCH, WORCESTER, an extra-parochial district in the upper division of the hun<sup>d</sup> of Halfshire: 2 miles from Droitwich.

CRUWYS-MORCHARD, DEVON, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Witheridge, union of Tiverton: 189 miles from London (coach road 168), 5 from Tiverton, 7 from Bampton.---Gt. West. Rail. through Bristol to Tiverton, thence 5 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham and Bristol to Tiverton, &c., 203 miles.---Money orders issued at Tiverton: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8½ a.m.: post closes 5½ p.m.---The living (the Holy Cross), a rectory in the archd<sup>r</sup> of Barnstaple, and diocese of Exeter, is valued at £21. 11s. 8d.: pres. net income, £455: patron, Rev. G. S. Cruwys: pres. incumbent, G. S. Cruwys, 1835: contains 6,290 acres: 116 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 670: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 770: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £3,485: poor rates in 1838, £292. 6s. The tithes were commuted in 1839.

CRUX-EASTON, HANTS, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Pastrow, union of Kingsclere, Kingsclere division of the county: 60 miles from London (coach road 61), 7 from Newbury, 7 from Andover.---Gt. West. Rail. to Newbury, thence 7 miles: from Derby, through Rugby, Oxford, and Reading, to Newbury, &c., 153 miles.---Money orders issued at Newbury: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 8 p.m.---The living (St. Michael), a rectory in the archd<sup>r</sup> and diocese of Winchester, is valued at £12. 12s. 6d.: pres. net income, £180: patron, Rev. James Bagge: pres. incumbent, James Bagge, 1843: contains 950 acres: 17 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 102: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £767: poor rates in 1838, £60.

CUBBERLY (or COBERLY), GLOUCESTER, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Rapsgate, union of Cheltenham: 116 miles from London (coach road 97), 4 from Cheltenham, 10 from Gloucester.---Gt. West. Rail. through Stonehouse to Cheltenham, thence 4 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham to Cheltenham, &c., 98 miles.---Money orders issued at Cheltenham: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 8 a.m.: post closes 8 p.m.---The living (St. Giles), a rectory in the archd<sup>r</sup> of Gloucester, and diocese of Gloucester and Bristol, is valued at £10: pres. net income, £420: patron, Henry Elwes, Esq.: pres. incumbent, William Hicks, 1815: contains 3,421 acres: 34 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 231: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £3,536: poor rates in 1838, £280.

CUBBINGTON, WARWICK, a parish in Kenilworth division of the hun<sup>d</sup> of Knightlow, union of Warwick, south-east of the river Avon: 106 miles from London (coach road 88), 5 from Warwick, 7 from Coventry.---Nor. West. Rail. through Rugby and Coventry to Leamington, thence 3 miles: from Derby, through Rugby, Coventry, &c., 73 miles.---Money orders issued at Warwick: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9 a.m.: post closes 7 p.m.---There is a school here, endowed with £17 per annum. The other benefactions produce about £38 a year.---The living (St. Mary), a disch<sup>d</sup> vicarage, formerly in the archd<sup>r</sup> of Coventry, and diocese of Lichfield and Coventry, now in the diocese of Worcester, is valued at £6. 6s. 8d.: pres. net income, £207: patron, Lord Leigh: pres. incumbent, Geo. L. Cooke, 1820: contains 1,780 acres: 133 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 830: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 955: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £1,672: poor rates in 1838, £241. 13s.

CUBERT, CORNWALL, a parish in that part of the hun<sup>d</sup> of Pyder, which is included in the western division of the above county, union of St. Columb Major, near Holywell Bay: 292 miles from London (coach road 260), 9 from Truro, 9 from St. Columb Major.---Gt. West. Rail. through Bristol and Exeter to Plymouth, thence 48 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham, Bristol, &c., 306 miles.---Money orders issued at Truro: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 11 a.m.: post closes 4 p.m.---The living (St. Cuthbert), a disch<sup>d</sup> vicarage in the archd<sup>r</sup> of Cornwall, and diocese of Exeter, is valued at £3. 6s. 8d.: pres. net income, £186: patron, Rev. T. Stabback: pres. incumbent, T. Stabback, 1809: contains 2,320 acres: 76 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 368: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 423: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £2,552: poor rates in 1838, £174. 5s.

CUBLEY, DERBY, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Apple-tree, on a branch of the river Dove: 154 miles from London (coach road 138), 6 from Ashbourne, 12 from Derby.---Nor. West. Rail. through Rugby, Leicester, and Burton, to Uttoxeter, thence 6 miles: from Derby, through Burton, &c., 32 miles.---Money orders issued at Ashbourne: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9½ a.m.: post closes 5 p.m.---The living (St. Andrew), a rectory with that of Marston Montgomery, in the archd<sup>r</sup> of Derby, and diocese of Lichfield, is valued at £13. 16s. 3d.: pres. net income, £523: patron, Earl of Chesterfield: pres. incumbent, R. W. Ververs, 1832: contains 2,410 acres: 78 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 425: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 489: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £3,735: poor rates in 1838, £159. 9s.---Fair, Nov. 30.

CUBLINGTON, BUCKINGHAM, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Cottesloe, union of Aylesbury: 50 miles from London (coach road 45), 6 from Aylesbury, 6 from Winslow.---Nor. West. Rail. through Cheddington to Aylesbury, thence 6 miles: from Derby, through Rugby and Cheddington to Aylesbury, &c., 110 miles.---Money orders issued at Aylesbury: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 9½ a.m.: post closes 5 p.m.---The living (St. Nicholas), a rectory in the diocese of Oxford, is valued at £9. 16s. 3d.: pres. net income, £289: patron, Lincoln College, Oxford: pres. incumbent, James Thompson, 1845: contains 1,290 acres: 63 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 290: ass<sup>d</sup> prop<sup>r</sup> £2,361: poor rates in 1838, £183. 2s.

CUBY, CORNWALL, a parish in the west division of the hun<sup>d</sup> of Powder, union of Truro: it includes the borough of Tregony: 282 miles from London (coach road 251), 1 from Tregony, 6 from Truro.---Gt. West. Rail. through Bristol and Exeter, to Plymouth, thence 38 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham, Bristol, &c., 296 miles.---Money orders issued at Tregony: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup> 11 a.m.: post closes 4 p.m.---The living (St. Keby), a vicarage, annexed to that of Tregony, in the diocese of Exeter, and having jointly a pres. net income of £311: patron, J. Gurney, Esq.:

orange, purple, and blue. The gas escapes from the water by more than twelve apertures, besides others on the banks, the flame from one of them burning about 2 feet in length, and 1½ feet in width, and sometimes larger. The soil is chiefly argillaceous schist, or fire-clay, hot enough to burn the hand. Fish caught in the stream have been boiled upon it. (Returns with the parish.)

CWMDU, GLAMORGAN, a hamlet in the parish of Llangynydd, South Wales—(which see for access, &c.): 177 miles from London, 6 from Bridgend, 10 from Cowbridge. Money orders issued at Bridgend: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 12½ p.m.: post closes at noon. Contains 163 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 2,880: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 3,312: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £904: poor rates in 1838, £116. 7s.

CWMGILLA. See FARRINGTON WITH CWMGILLA.

CWMRHEIDOL, CARDIGAN, a township in the parish of Llanbadarn-Fawr, South Wales—(which see for access, &c.): 210 miles from London, 1 from Aberystwith, 14 from Tregaron. Money orders issued at Aberystwith: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 4½ a.m.: post closes 9 p.m. Contains 122 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 758: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 871: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £1,041: poor rates in 1838, £162. 15s.

CWM-TOYDDWR, RADNOR, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup> and union of Rhayadar, South Wales: 183 miles from London (coach road 184), 3 from Rhayadar, 3 from St. Harmon's. Gt. West. Rail. through Oxford to Worcester, thence 65 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham to Worcester, &c., 136 miles. Money orders issued at Rhayadar: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 1 p.m.: post closes 11 a.m. There is a school here, endowed with about £50 per annum. There are other charities to the annual amount of about £19. The living is a vicarage in the archd<sup>r</sup>. of Brecon, and diocese of St. David's: pres. net income, £95: patron, Bishop of St. David's: pres. incumbent, W. Evans, 1841: contains 138 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 883: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,015: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £2,227.

CWMYOY, MONMOUTH, a parish, partly in the hun<sup>d</sup> of Ewyslacy, county of Hereford, and partly in the lower division of the hun<sup>d</sup> of Abergavenny, union of Abergavenny, in the above county, on the river Honthy, near a branch of the river Monnow, on the borders of Herefordshire: the parish is separated into upper and lower divisions, and contains the townships of Bwlch and Foothog: 138 miles from London (coach road 158), 8 from Abergavenny, 5 from Crickhowel. Gt. West. Rail. to Stonehouse, thence 35 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham to Stonehouse, &c., 138 miles. Money orders issued at Abergavenny: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 9½ a.m.: post closes 3 p.m. Soon after 1108, Hugh Lacy founded a priory here, dedicated to St. John the Baptist, afterwards called Llantony Abbey, for canons regular of the order of St. Augustine, most of whom afterwards removed from it. The revenue of the few brethren at the original settlement at Llantony, was estimated at the dissolution at about £100. The ruins, nearly in the centre of the parish, are in a tolerable state of preservation. The living (St. Michael) is a perpetual curacy in the archd<sup>r</sup>. of Brecon, and diocese of St. David's: pres. net income, £68: patron, R. Powell, Esq.: pres. incumbent, P. J. Lewis, 1827: contains 9,870 acres: 140 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 718: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 826: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £4,254: poor rates in 1837, £393. 1s.

CYFOETH-Y-BRENNIN, CARDIGAN, a township in the parish of Llanfihangel-Genur-Glynn—(which see for access, &c.): 205 miles from London, 5 from Aberystwith, 4 from Eskynald. Money orders issued at Aberystwith: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 5½ p.m.: post closes 9 p.m. There is a school here, supported by the trustees of the late Mrs. Bevan's charity. Contains 220 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,191: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,370: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £1,633: poor rates in 1838, £168. 8s.

CYFRONYDD, MONTGOMERY, a township in the parish of Welchpool, North Wales—(which see for access, &c.): 181 miles from London, 5 from Welchpool, 3 from Llanfair. Money orders issued at Welchpool: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 11½ a.m.: post closes 12½ p.m. Contains 7 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 77: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £341: poor rates in 1837, £47. 10s.

CYLCH-BYCHAN, PEMBROKE, a hamlet in the parish of St. David's, South Wales, north of St. Bride's Bay, near the Bristol Channel—(which see for access, &c.): 280 miles from London, 1 from St. David's, 2 from Whitechurch. Money orders issued at Haverfordwest: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 9 a.m.: post closes 3 p.m. Contains 82 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 364: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 418.

CYLCH-GWYLOD-Y-WLAD, PEMBROKE, a hamlet in the parish of St. David's—(which see for access, &c.) Contains 89 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 467: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 537. (Other returns with the parish.)

CYLCH-MAWR, PEMBROKE, a hamlet in the parish of St. David's—(which see for access, &c.) Contains 94 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 528: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 607. (Other returns with the parish.)

CYLCH-Y-DEE, PEMBROKE, a township in the parish of St. David's—(which see for access, &c.) Contains 238 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,086: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,249. (Other returns with the parish.)

CYLY-CUM (LOWER AND UPPER), CARMARTHEN, a parish in the hun<sup>d</sup>. of Cayo, union of Llandovery, South Wales: 178 miles from London, 6 from Llandovery. Gt. West. Rail. to Stonehouse, thence 75 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham to Stonehouse, &c., 178 miles. Money orders issued at Llandovery: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 1 p.m.: post closes 11 a.m. Contains 272 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 1,481: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849, 1,704: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £4,523: poor rates in 1837, £587. 12s.

CYNILL-MAWR, CARDIGAN, a township in the parish of Llanfihangel-Genur-Glynn, South Wales—(which see for access, &c.): 206 miles from London, 6 from Aberystwith, 2 from Llanfihangel. Money orders issued at Aberystwith: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 5½ p.m.: post closes 9 p.m. There is a school here, endowed with £5 per annum, for the instruction of poor children. Contains 118 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 641: probable pop<sup>n</sup> in 1849,

737: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £1,840: poor rates in 1838, £224. 5s.

CYNWYL-GAIO, CARMARTHEN, a parish in the hund<sup>d</sup> of Cayo, union of Llandovery, South Wales: 183 miles from London (coach road 198), 7 from Llandovery, 7 from Lampeter. — Gt. West. Rail. to Stonehouse, thence 80 miles: from Derby, through Birmingham to Stonehouse, &c., 183 miles. — Money orders issued at Llandovery: London letters deliv<sup>d</sup>. 1½ p.m.: post closes 10½ a.m. —

There is a Calvinistic Methodist chapel here. —

The living, a vicarage in the archd<sup>y</sup> of Carmarthen, and diocese of St. David's, to which is annexed the chapelry of Llan-Sawel, is valued at £5: pres. net income, £224: patron, the Crown: pres. incumbent, G. Howell, 1845: contains 409 houses: pop<sup>n</sup> in 1841, 2,108: ass<sup>d</sup>. prop<sup>r</sup>. £6,365: poor rates in 1838, £838. 15s. The tithes were commuted in 1839. — Fairs: August 21, and October 6, for cattle, horses, and pedlery.

END OF VOL. I.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

.

